<sup>12</sup>Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people stood in awe of the LORD. <sup>13</sup>So Haggai, the messenger of the LORD, spoke to the people with the LORD's message: I am with you, says the LORD. <sup>14</sup>The LORD also stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people. They came and worked on the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, <sup>15</sup>on the twenty-fourth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.<sup>d</sup>

Judah, to the high priest, Joshua son of Jehozadak, and to the remnant of the people: <sup>3</sup>Who is there left among you who saw this house in its former glory?<sup>a</sup> And how do you see it now? Is it not in your eyes nothing when compared with it? <sup>4</sup>Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, says the LORD, and be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all you people of the land, says the LORD, and work; for I am with you, says the LORD of hosts, <sup>5</sup>according to the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt. My spirit abides among you; fear not. <sup>6</sup>For thus says the LORD of hosts: Once more, in a little while, I will shake the heavens and the earth and the sea and the dry land; <sup>7</sup>and I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come,<sup>f</sup> and I will fill this house with glory, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>8</sup>Mine is the silver and Mine is the gold, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>9</sup>The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, says the LORD of hosts; and in this place I will give peace, says the LORD of hosts.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>10</sup>On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Haggai the prophet, saying, <sup>11</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: Ask now the priests for instruction concerning the law, <sup>12</sup>"If one carries holy flesh in the skirt of his garment and if his skirt touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any food, will it become holy?" The priests answered, "No." <sup>13</sup>Then Haggai said, "If one who is unclean because of contact with a dead body, touches any of these, will it be unclean?" The priests answered, "It will be unclean." <sup>14</sup>Then Haggai responded, So is this people, and so is this nation before Me, says the LORD, and so is every work of their hands, and what they offer there is unclean.<sup>h</sup> <sup>15</sup>And now, please call to mind days now past, before a stone had been laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD. <sup>16</sup>Through all that time, when one came to a heap of twenty bushels, there were only ten; when one came to the winevat to draw out fifty barrels, there were only twenty. <sup>17</sup>I smote you and all the work of your hands with blight, and with mildew and with hail; yet you turned not to Me, says the LORD. <sup>18</sup>Please, think back from this day, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of the temple of the LORD was laid, consider it. <sup>19</sup>Is the seed yet in the barn? Do the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree still bear nothing? From this day I am blessing you.<sup>i</sup>

<sup>20</sup>The word of the LORD came a second time to Haggai on the twenty-fourth day of the month: <sup>21</sup>Say to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah: I will shake the heavens and the earth; <sup>22</sup>I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations. I will overthrow the chariots and their drivers; the horses and their riders shall go down, every one, by the sword of another. <sup>23</sup>In that day, says the LORD of hosts, I will take you, Zerubbabel, My servant, the son of Shealtiel, says the LORD, and make you as a signet ring; for I have chosen you, says the LORD of hosts.<sup>j</sup>

e) The first temple was destroyed in 586 B.C.

f) This probably means, as translated in the Greek Old Testament, "the riches [or the wealth] of all nations," as the noun is singular. I Sam. 9:20 has the same noun, when Saul is told by Samuel that his people wanted a king. The verb is plural, so together the meaning seems to be — desirable things, which culminate in Christ who is our supreme wealth, and who came to this second temple.

g) The prophecy is designed to provide the comfort of divine promises amid possible discouragement at the sight of the smaller new temple.

h) Legally holiness is not communicable, but unholiness is [cf. I Cor. 5:6]. But in the realm of grace, holy influences are being communicated [see I Cor. 7:14].

j) Zerubbabel, viewed as the representative of the Davidic line, inherits the royal promises. The glorious future and stability of the Davidic throne is assured [cf. Matt. 1:13].

THE PROPHECY OF ZECHARIAH

1 IN THE EIGHTH MONTH OF THE second year of Darius,<sup>a</sup> the word of the LORD came to Zechariah<sup>b</sup> the son of Berechiah the son of Iddo the prophet: <sup>2</sup>The LORD was very angry with your fathers. <sup>3</sup>Now you shall say to them, Thus says the LORD of hosts: Return to Me — it has been declared by the LORD of hosts — and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts.<sup>c</sup> <sup>4</sup>Be not like your fathers to whom the former prophets<sup>d</sup> cried, "Thus says the LORD of hosts: Turn back from your evil ways and your evil habits!" But they neither heard nor paid attention to Me — it has been declared by the LORD! <sup>5</sup>Your fathers — where are they? And the prophets — do they live forever? <sup>6</sup>But My words and My decrees which I gave as command to My servants the prophets — did they not overtake your fathers? They repented and said, "Even as the LORD of hosts determined to do to us on account of our conduct and habits, even so He has done to us."<sup>e</sup>

<sup>7</sup>On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, the month Shebat, in Darius' second year, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, the prophet, the son of Berechiah the son of Iddo. <sup>8</sup>I had a vision at night: a man riding a red horse. He was waiting among the myrtle trees in the hollow; and behind him were bay, sorrel, and white<sup>f</sup> horses. <sup>9</sup>I said, "What are these, my master?" The angel who was speaking with me said to me, "I will show you what these are." <sup>10</sup>And the man who was standing among the myrtle trees replied, "These are those whom the LORD sent to patrol the earth." <sup>11</sup>Then they answered the Angel of the LORD who was standing among the myrtle trees, "We have patrolled the earth, and the whole earth is dwelling quietly."

<sup>12</sup>The Angel of the LORD said: O LORD of hosts, how long wilt Thou have no compassion on Jerusalem and the cities of Judah which have been under Thy indignation now for seventy years? <sup>13</sup>The LORD replied to the angel who was speaking with me in good words, comforting words. <sup>14</sup>Then the angel who was speaking with me said, "Proclaim, Thus says the LORD of hosts: I am extremely jealous for Jerusalem and Zion, <sup>15</sup>and I am exceedingly displeased with the arrogant Gentiles. For while I was only a little displeased,<sup>g</sup> the Gentiles helped to worsen the disaster.<sup>h</sup> <sup>16</sup>Therefore thus says the LORD: I have returned<sup>i</sup> to Jerusalem with compassion. My house shall be built there, it has been declared by the LORD, and a line<sup>j</sup> shall be stretched over Jerusalem. <sup>17</sup>Proclaim further: Thus says the LORD of hosts: My cities shall again overflow with prosperity; and the LORD shall once more comfort Zion and once more take pleasure in Jerusalem."

<sup>18</sup>Then I raised my eyes and saw four horns, <sup>19</sup>and I said to the angel who was speaking with me, "What are these?" He said to me, "These are the horns<sup>k</sup> that scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem."

<sup>20</sup>Then the LORD showed me four craftsmen, <sup>21</sup>and I said, "What are these coming to do?" He said, "These are the horns that scattered Judah to such extent that no one could lift up his head, but these [craftsmen] have come to rout them and to cast down the horns of the Gentiles, who are lifting a horn against the land of Judah to scatter it."

2 THEN I RAISED MY EYES AND SAW a man with a measuring line in his hand; <sup>2</sup>and I said to him, "Where are you going?" He said to me, "To measure Jerusalem to find out its length and width."

<sup>3</sup>And see, the angel who was speaking with me was going out, and another angel was going out to meet him, <sup>4</sup>and said to him, "Run and tell the young man that Jerusalem shall be like unwallled villages for the number of men and cattle in it, <sup>5</sup>and I shall be for it — it has been declared by the LORD — a wall of fire around it, and for glory I shall be in its midst."<sup>l</sup>

<sup>6</sup>Flee from the land of the north — it has been declared by the LORD — for I have scattered you like the four winds of heaven; it has been declared by the LORD. <sup>7</sup>Be saved, O Zion, you who are dwelling with the daughter of Babylon! <sup>8</sup>For thus says the LORD of hosts: Afterwards glory! He sent me to the Gentiles who plundered you, for he who touches you touches the pupil of His eye.<sup>m</sup> <sup>9</sup>Sec, I am shaking my hand at them; they shall be plunder for their servants, and you shall know that the LORD of hosts sent me.

<sup>10</sup>Shout and rejoice, daughter of Zion, for I am coming, and I will dwell among you — it has been declared by the LORD. <sup>11</sup>Many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and they shall become My people.<sup>n</sup> I will dwell among you, <sup>12</sup>and you shall know that the LORD of hosts sent me to you. The LORD shall possess Judah as His portion upon the holy land, and He shall again take pleasure in Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>Hush, mortals, in the presence of the LORD; for He has roused Himself from His holy habitation!

3 THEN HE SHOWED ME JOSHUA THE high priest standing before the Angel of the LORD and the Adversary<sup>o</sup> standing at his right hand to oppose him. <sup>2</sup>But the LORD said to Satan: The LORD will rebuke you, Satan; the LORD who delights in Jerusalem will rebuke you. Is not this a smoking firebrand plucked from the fire?<sup>p</sup> <sup>3</sup>Now Joshua was dressed in soiled garments, and he was standing before the Angel. <sup>4</sup>So He<sup>q</sup> said to those standing before Him; Take off his soiled garments. Then He<sup>r</sup> said, "See I have removed from you your iniquity and clothed you with honorable garments."<sup>s</sup> He further said, "Let them put a clean turban on his head." So they put the clean turban on his head and dressed him in festive garments, while the Angel of the LORD was standing by.

of hosts: If you will walk in My ways and keep My precepts, you shall also govern My house and guard My courts, and I will give you access among these who stand here. <sup>8</sup>Pay attention, O high priest Joshua, you and your friends sitting before you — for they are significant men; look, I am bringing in My servant the Branch. <sup>9</sup>See the stone which I have set before Joshua, upon one stone seven eyes. Observe that I am engraving its inscription — it has been declared by the LORD of hosts — and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. <sup>10</sup>In that day, it has been declared by the LORD of hosts, each one of you shall invite his neighbor under his vine and under his fig tree.”<sup>a</sup>

4 THEN THE ANGEL WHO TALKED with me returned and awoke me, as a man is awakened from his sleep, <sup>2</sup>and said to me: “What do you see?”<sup>t</sup> I said, “I see a lampstand all of gold with a bowl upon its top, and seven lights upon it with seven ducts, one for each light upon it. <sup>3</sup>Also there are two olive trees upon it, one to the right of the bowl and the other to its left.”

<sup>4</sup>Then I asked the angel who was speaking with me, “What are these, my master?” <sup>5</sup>The angel who was speaking with me said to me, “Do you not know what they are?” And I said, “No, my master.” <sup>6</sup>So he said to me, “This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel: Not by might and not by power, but by My Spirit, says the LORD of hosts.” <sup>7</sup>Who are you, great mountain, before Zerubbabel? A plain! Then bring forth<sup>v</sup> the capstone! Shoutings of “Grace, grace be to it!”

completed it; so you shall know that the LORD of hosts sent me to you. <sup>10</sup>For who has despised the day of little things?<sup>w</sup> And they shall rejoice when they see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, these seven, [for] they are the eyes of Jehovah traveling throughout the earth.

5 ONCE AGAIN I LIFTED UP MY EYES, and I saw a flying scroll. <sup>2</sup>And he said to me, “What do you see?” I said, “I see a flying scroll. It is ten yards long and five yards wide.” <sup>3</sup>Then he said to me, “This is the judgment which is going forth on the face of all the earth. If anyone be stealing, shall one like him be cleared of it? And if anyone be swearing, shall one like him be declared innocent? <sup>4</sup>I sent it out,<sup>z</sup> it was declared by the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter the house of the thief and the house of the one who swore by My name to falsehood, and it shall lodge in the midst of his house and destroy it and its trees and its stones.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>5</sup>The angel who was speaking with me came forward and said to me, “Raise your eyes now, and look at what is moving to the front.” <sup>6</sup>I asked, “What is it?” He said, “What emerges is a bushel measure.” and he added, “This is their appearance in all the earth.” <sup>7</sup>As I saw the leaden cover raised, [he said]: “This is a woman sit-

They had wings like a stork's wings, and they lifted up the bushel between earth and heaven. <sup>10</sup>So I asked the angel who was speaking to me, "Where are they taking the bushel?" <sup>11</sup>He said to me, "To build a house for it in the land of Shinar.<sup>c</sup> And when it is established, it shall be placed there upon its own base."

6 ONCE AGAIN I RAISED MY EYES and saw four chariots coming forward from between two mountains,<sup>d</sup> and those mountains were of brass. <sup>2</sup>The first chariot had red horses, the second had black horses, <sup>3</sup>the third white horses, and the fourth strong dappled horses. <sup>4</sup>I inquired of the angel who was speaking with me, "What are these, my master?" <sup>5</sup>The angel answered, "These are the four winds<sup>e</sup> of heaven that go forth from standing before the LORD of all the earth. <sup>6</sup>[The chariot] that has the black horses is going to the land of the north,<sup>f</sup> and the white ones are going after them. Those dappled are going to the land of the south,<sup>g</sup> and the powerful ones<sup>h</sup> went forth intent on walking back and forth in the earth." [The LORD] said to them: <sup>1</sup>Go, walk back and forth in the earth. So they walked about in the earth. <sup>8</sup>Then He summoned me and said: See the ones going out into the north country; they have quieted My Spirit in the land of the north.

<sup>9</sup>Then the word of the LORD came to me: <sup>10</sup>Accept donations from the captivity, from Heldai, from Tobijah, and from Jedaiah, and go today and enter the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, where they have come from Babylon. <sup>11</sup>Accept silver and gold, and make a crown, which you shall put on the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest. <sup>12</sup>Then you shall say to him, "Thus says the LORD of hosts: Behold the man whose name is Branch! He shall branch out from His place and build the temple of the LORD. <sup>13</sup>He shall build the temple of the LORD, and He shall fill it with splendor; He shall sit and rule upon His throne, and He shall be priest on His throne, and a perfect union will reign between the two (offices)."<sup>i</sup> <sup>14</sup>The crown shall belong to Helem and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the LORD. <sup>15</sup>Those at a great distance<sup>k</sup> shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. This shall take place if you diligently obey the LORD your God.

7 IN THE FOURTH YEAR OF DARIUS the king the word of the LORD was sent to Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month which is Kislev.<sup>1</sup> <sup>2</sup>Now they had sent Sharezer and Regemmelech with their men to the house of God to seek favor from the LORD, <sup>3</sup>and to ask the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts and the prophets, "Should I weep in the fifth month,<sup>m</sup> fasting as I have done these many years?"

<sup>4</sup>Then the word of the LORD of hosts came to me: <sup>5</sup>Say to all the people of the land and to the priests: When you have fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh months even these seventy years, did you really fast for Me — for Me? <sup>6</sup>And when you eat and drink, is it not you who are eating and you who are drinking? <sup>7</sup>Are these not the words which the LORD announced by the former prophets when Jerusalem was inhabited and prosperous and the cities around her, and when the Negeb<sup>a</sup> and the Shephelah<sup>o</sup> were inhabited?

<sup>8</sup>Then the word of the LORD came to Zechariah; <sup>9</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: Render true judgment; let every one show loving-kindness and compassion to his brother, <sup>10</sup>and do not oppress the widow, the orphan, the immigrant, or the poor. Let a man not think evil in his heart against his brother.<sup>p</sup> <sup>11</sup>But they refused to listen; they turned a rebellious shoulder; they made their ears too heavy to hear. <sup>12</sup>Their hearts they made hard as diamond,<sup>q</sup> so as not to hear the law and the word which the LORD of hosts sent by His Spirit through the former prophets. So there developed great indignation from the LORD of hosts. <sup>13</sup>And just as He called out and they did not hear, so they will call out and I will not hear, says the LORD of hosts.<sup>r</sup> <sup>14</sup>I will scatter them among all the Gentiles whom they have not known,<sup>s</sup> and the land shall be desolate behind them without one to pass by or to return; for they have appointed a desirable land to desolation.

came, saying: <sup>2</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy; with glowing jealousy I am burning for her. <sup>3</sup>Thus says the LORD: I have returned to Zion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem. Jerusalem shall be called the city of truth, and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, the holy mountain.

of boys and girls playing in its streets.<sup>u</sup>

<sup>6</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: Because it will be marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, will it also be marvelous in My eyes? says the LORD of hosts.

<sup>7</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: Notice that I am saving My people from the land of the sunrise and from the land of the sunset; <sup>8</sup>I will bring them home, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; they shall be My people, and I will be their God in truth and in righteousness.

<sup>9</sup>Thus says the LORD of hosts: Let your hands be strong, you who in these days hear these words from the mouth of the prophets, of the day when the house of the LORD of hosts was founded, the temple that was to be rebuilt. <sup>10</sup>For before those days there were no wages for man and no hire for cattle, and for any one going out or coming in, there was no peace because of the enemy; I had set every man against his neighbor. <sup>11</sup>But now I am not as in the former days to the remnant of this people, it is affirmed by the LORD of hosts. <sup>12</sup>For I am sowing the seed of peace; the vine shall give its fruit; the earth shall give its produce; the heavens shall give dew and the remnant of this people I will cause to inherit all these things. <sup>13</sup>So it shall be that as you were a curse among the Gentiles, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and you shall be a blessing.<sup>v</sup> Fear not, let your hands be strong.

<sup>14</sup>For thus says the LORD of hosts: Just as I determined to do evil to you when your fathers angered Me, says the LORD of hosts, and I did not relent, <sup>15</sup>so I have resolved to do good in these days to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Do not fear. <sup>16</sup>These are the things which you shall do: Let every

a) Fulfilment seen in our Lord's triumphant entry [Matt. 21:1-9; Mark 11:1-10; Luke 19:29-38; John 12:12-15]. b) Usually the Euphrates; the complete phrase means "the whole earth."

c) Historically this looks back to Ex. 24:8, and prophetically it looks forward to the blood of the new Covenant. d) The prisoner of sin and Satan need never hope in vain.

e) As a bow is bent. f) Ephraim to serve God effectively as an arrow shot from a bow.

filled like a bowl, like the corners of an altar.<sup>g</sup> <sup>16</sup>The LORD their God shall save them in that day like the flock of His people; yes, they are the stones of a crown brilliant in His land. <sup>17</sup>For how good it is and how fair! Grain will make the young men flourish and new wine the young women.

shall be many even as they were many. <sup>9</sup>Although I sow<sup>p</sup> them among the nations and among those afar off, they shall remember Me; they shall live with their sons and then return. <sup>10</sup>I will bring them back from the land of Egypt; from Assyria I will gather them; to the land of Gilead and to Lebanon I will bring them, and there will not be room for them. <sup>11</sup>They shall pass through the sea of trouble; He shall strike the sea waves; all the deeps of the Nile shall dry up; the pride of Assyria shall be brought low, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart. <sup>12</sup>Then I will make them strong in the LORD, and in His name they shall walk back and forth — it is affirmed by the LORD.

11 <sup>1</sup>OPEN YOUR DOORS, O LEBANON, that fire may consume your cedars! <sup>2</sup>Wail, O cypress, because the cedar has fallen; the glory of the trees is ruined! Wail, oaks of Bashan, because the impenetrable forests have come down! <sup>3</sup>Hear the cries of the shepherds because their glory is devastated; hear the roaring of young lions because the pride of the Jordan<sup>q</sup> is laid waste.

'Cords of Unity,' and I shepherded the flock <sup>8</sup>and wiped out three shepherds in one month.<sup>t</sup> My soul was impatient with them, and also their soul felt loathing against me. <sup>9</sup>So I said: I will no longer shepherd you. You shall die the death, and you shall be wiped out — completely obliterated;<sup>u</sup> those who remain shall eat each other's flesh.<sup>10</sup> Then I took the stick, Pleasantness, and I hacked it apart to break the covenant which I had made with all the people. <sup>11</sup>It was broken in that day.<sup>v</sup> And they knew, the wretched among the sheep, who were watching me, that it was the word of the LORD. <sup>12</sup>I said to them, "If it is good in your eyes, give me my wages; if not, let it go." So they weighed my wages, thirty (dollars) of silver. <sup>13</sup>Then the LORD said to me: Throw it to the potter — the magnificent value at which I was valued by them! So I took the thirty (dollars) of silver, and I threw it in the house of the LORD to the potter.<sup>w</sup> <sup>14</sup>Then I hacked apart the second stick, Binders, to break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

<sup>15</sup>The LORD said to me: Take again the equipment of a foolish shepherd, <sup>16</sup>for I am raising up a shepherd in the land who will not visit the perishing, or seek the scattered, or heal the wounded; even the healthy<sup>x</sup> he will not sustain; but the flesh of the fat ones he will eat — even their hoofs he will tear off. <sup>17</sup>Woe to My worthless shepherd, who forsakes the flock! A sword be upon his arm and his right eye. May his arm be totally withered and his right eye completely dimmed.<sup>y</sup>

12 THE ORACLE OF THE LORD's word regarding Israel. It is affirmed by the LORD, who stretches out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth, who fashions the spirit of man within him: <sup>2</sup>Behold, I shall make Jerusalem as a cup that causes reeling for all the nations around it, and also against Judah will it go in the siege against Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>In that day I will make Jerusalem a burdensome boulder<sup>z</sup> for all people; all those who lift it shall be severely injured. All the nations of the earth shall be gathered against her. <sup>4</sup>In that day — it is affirmed by the LORD — I will smite every horse with bewilderment and its rider with madness; on behalf of the house of Judah I will keep My eyes open; but every horse of the nations I will strike with blindness. <sup>5</sup>The chiefs of Judah will say in their hearts, "The inhabitants are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God." <sup>6</sup>In that day I will make the chiefs of Judah like a fire pot with wood and like a torch of fire in a row of fallen grain; they shall devour on the right and on the left all the peoples around them, and Jerusalem shall dwell again on its own site, at Jerusalem. <sup>7</sup>The LORD will save the tents of Judah first, in order that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not exalted over Judah.<sup>a</sup>

like the mourning of Hadad-rimmon in the valley of Megiddo.<sup>a</sup> <sup>12</sup>The land shall mourn, each family by itself; the family of the house of David by itself and their wives by themselves; the family of the house of Nathan by itself and their wives by themselves; <sup>13</sup>the family of the house of Levi by itself and their wives by themselves; the family of Shimeites by itself and their wives by themselves; <sup>14</sup>all of the families that remain, each family by itself and their wives by themselves.<sup>a</sup>

13 IN THAT DAY A FOUNTAIN SHALL be opened to the house of David and to the dwellers of Jerusalem for cleansing from sin and uncleanness.<sup>f</sup> <sup>2</sup>Also in that day — it is affirmed by the LORD of hosts — I will cause the names of the idols to be effaced from the earth, so they shall no longer be remembered; also the prophets<sup>g</sup> and the spirit of uncleanness I will cause to pass away from the earth. <sup>3</sup>If one of them prophesies again, his father — even his mother who bore him — will say to him, “You shall not live, because you have spoken a lie in the name of the LORD.” His father and the mother that bore him will thrust him through when he prophesies. <sup>4</sup>In that day every prophet will be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies, and he will not put on a mantle of hair<sup>h</sup> in order to deceive. <sup>5</sup>Each one will say, “I am not a prophet; I am a man who cultivates the ground, for the soil has held me down from my youth.” <sup>6</sup>And if anyone says to him, “What are these wounds<sup>i</sup> between your hands?”<sup>j</sup> he will say, “Those I got being beaten in the house of my friends.”

<sup>7</sup>O sword, arise against My shepherd and against the man who is My associate! — it is affirmed by the LORD of hosts. Smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered;<sup>k</sup> but I will cause My hand to return upon the little ones. <sup>8</sup>So shall it be in all the land, it has been affirmed by the LORD, two parts in it<sup>l</sup> shall be cut off, shall perish, and the third shall be left in it. <sup>9</sup>But I will bring the third in with fire; I will refine them as the refining of silver, and I will test them as the testing of gold. They shall call on My name, and I will answer them. I have said: This is My people, and they shall say, “The LORD is my God.”<sup>m</sup>

14 BEHOLD, A DAY IS COMING which is the LORD’s, when plunder shall be taken from your midst; <sup>2</sup>for I will gather all the nations to Jerusalem to wage war. The city shall be captured, the houses plundered, the women ravished; half of the city shall go into captivity; but the rest of the people will not be cut off from the city. <sup>3</sup>Then the LORD will go forth and wage war against those nations as He fights in a day of war. <sup>4</sup>His feet shall stand in that day upon the Mount of Olives, which is on the east side of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives shall be split in the middle eastward and westward by a very great valley; half the mountain shall move northward and half southward. <sup>5</sup>You shall flee [from] the valley of My mountain, for the valley of My mountain shall touch Azal;<sup>n</sup> you shall flee as you fled before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah, king of Judah.<sup>o</sup> Then the LORD my God shall come and all the holy ones with Him.<sup>p</sup>

<sup>6</sup>In that day there shall be no light; but cold and freezing.<sup>q</sup> <sup>7</sup>It will be a unique day known to the LORD, neither day nor night, but at evening time there will be light. <sup>8</sup>In that day living waters<sup>r</sup> shall flow out from Jerusalem, half of them to the former sea and half of them to the latter<sup>s</sup> sea; so shall it be both in summer and in winter.<sup>t</sup>

the same time a plague like the preceding plague will strike the horse, the mule, the camel, the donkey, and all the cattle which are in those camps.

THE BOOK OF MALACHI

1 THE BURDEN OF THE WORD OF THE LORD to Israel by Malachi.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>6</sup>A son honors his father, and a servant his master; if then I am a father, where is My honor? And if I am a master, where is My reverence?, says the LORD of hosts to you,<sup>d</sup> O priests, who despised My name. And you say, "How have we despised Thy name?" <sup>7</sup>You are bringing polluted food to My altar. And you say, "How have we polluted Thee?" In that you say, "The table of the LORD is contemptible."<sup>e</sup>

<sup>8</sup>When you offer blind animals for sacrifice, is not that wrong? And when you offer the lame and the sick, is not that bad? Present it to your governor (and see) if he will be pleased with you or show you favor? says the LORD of hosts. <sup>9</sup>Now then, entreat God's favor, that He may be gracious to us. With such a gift from your hand, will He show favor to any of you? says the LORD of hosts.

<sup>10</sup>Oh, that there were one among you who would shut the doors, that you might not kindle fire upon My altar in vain!<sup>f</sup> I have no pleasure in you, says the LORD of hosts, and I will not accept an offering from your hand. <sup>11</sup>For from the rising of the sun to its setting, My name shall be great among the nations, and in every place incense shall be offered to My name, and a pure offering; for My name shall be great among the nations, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>12</sup>But you profane it in that you say, "The LORD's table is polluted, and its produce, that is its food, is contemptible." <sup>13</sup>You say, "See, what a weariness it is," and you have sniffed at it, says the LORD of hosts. You have brought what has been taken by vio-

a) "Malachi" means, My messenger, probably a proper name; possibly a noun descriptive of the prophet. He brings from God a series of charges: ch. 1:6 to 2:9, that the people dishonor God and that the priests have broken God's covenant with Levi; ch. 2:10-16, that the peoples are unfair to each other and to God by marrying Gentiles; ch. 2:17-4:6, that priests and offerings need purifying; criminals and sinners must be dealt with seriously, and tithing should be fully restored.

b) One of the key words of the book [cf. 1:2, 6, 7; 2:17; 3:7, 8, 13] which expresses the nation's incredulous astonishment at the charges God makes against them.

c) The message of rebuke is preceded by a revelation of God's loving choice of Israel. Everything that follows is set in this light.

d) God was both their Father and their Master; but they were impolite to Him.

e) If not in words, certainly in behavior, they said so.

f) Hypocritical offerings are worse than none; they should be abandoned.

lence and the lame and the sick; thus you bring the offering! Shall I accept it from your hand? says the LORD.

<sup>14</sup>But cursed be the deceiver who has a male in his flock and vows it, then sacrifices something blemished to the LORD; for I am a great King, says the LORD of hosts, and My name is held in awe among the Gentiles.<sup>5</sup>

2 AND NOW, O PRIESTS, THIS COMMANDMENT is for you. <sup>2</sup>If you will not hear and if you will not lay it to heart to give glory to My name, says the LORD of hosts, then I will send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings; indeed I have cursed them already, because you do not lay it to heart. <sup>3</sup>Look! I will denounce your offspring and will spread filth on your faces, the offal of your feasts, and you shall be taken away with it. <sup>4</sup>Then shall you know that I have sent this order to you, that My covenant might be with Levi, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>5</sup>My covenant with him was a covenant of life and peace, and I gave them to him,<sup>6</sup> that he might stand in awe; and he stood in awe of Me and regarded My name with reverence. <sup>6</sup>The law of truth was in his mouth and unrighteousness was not found in his lips. He walked with Me in peace and uprightness, and he turned many from iniquity. <sup>7</sup>For the lips of a priest should keep knowledge, and men should seek the law from his mouth, because he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>8</sup>But you have turned aside from the way; you have caused many to stumble in the law; you have corrupted the covenant of Levi, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>9</sup>So I have made you despised and abased before all the people, just as you have not kept My ways, but you have shown partiality in (the execution of) the law.

<sup>10</sup>Have we not all one Father?<sup>1</sup> Has not one God created us? Why are we faithless to one another, profaning the covenant of our fathers? <sup>11</sup>Judah has been faithless, and an abomination has been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah has profaned the LORD's sanctuary, which He loves, and has married the daughter of a strange god. <sup>12</sup>May the LORD cut off, to the man who does this, any to call or answer out of the tents of Jacob, or to offer an offering to the LORD of hosts.

<sup>13</sup>And this, too, you do: You cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping and with sighing, because He no longer regards the offering, or accepts it with favor from your hand. <sup>14</sup>Yet you say, "Why?" Because the LORD has been witness between you and the wife of your youth, to whom you have been faithless, although she is your companion and your wife by covenant. <sup>15</sup>Any one with any intelligence does not act that way; for what did that one do, who was seeking offspring from God?<sup>2</sup> So watch out for your feelings lest you be unfaithful to the wife of your youth. <sup>16</sup>For I hate divorce, says the LORD the God of Israel, and the one who covers his clothing with cruelty,<sup>1</sup> says the LORD of hosts. So take heed to your spirit, and be not unfaithful.

<sup>17</sup>You have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet you say, "How have we wearied Him?" In that you say, "Everyone who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and He delights in them"; or, "Where is the God of justice?"<sup>3</sup>

g) Pagans held God in awe when His people failed to serve and worship Him. Because of Israel's hypocritical formalism, God's love cannot gain sway over those to whom the divinely instituted ritual has become a hollow form. Paul put it, "Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof" [II Tim. 3:5]. This chapter anticipates the Pharisaism and Sadduceism our Lord rebuked. h) Life and peace.

i) The first part of the prophecy closes on the note of judgment. Because Israel had despised [1:6] His name, God has made them despised [2:9], not only before Him, but also before the people. Apostasy, manifesting itself in hypocritical formalism, leads to the world's ridicule. j) This could mean Abraham or Jacob, but it is certainly true of God.

k) By His covenant with Abraham, the LORD accepted Abraham's offspring as His children, and so they consciously remained through life, presuming they worshiped and served God. Malachi warns Jews who were tempted to get rid of the wives they had married young, so as to marry young girls likely pagans.

l) Divorce was cruel to the wife, who had cared for her husband, even keeping him clothed. m) The second section of the book ends here, the prophet having now finished his denunciation of Israel's impiety in mixed marriages. New Testament parallels are II Cor. 6:14-18; Matt. 19:3-12. The remainder of Malachi is a reply to the question, "Where is the God of justice?"

3 BEHOLD, I SEND MY MESSENGER, and he shall prepare the way before Me, and the LORD whom you seek, will suddenly come to His temple, and the Messenger of the Covenant, in whom you delight, look, He is coming, says the LORD of hosts. <sup>2</sup>But who can endure the day of His coming, and who will be able to stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap. <sup>3</sup>He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; He will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, so they will present offerings in righteousness to the LORD. <sup>4</sup>Then the offering of Judah and of Jerusalem shall be pleasing to the LORD as in the days of old and as in former years. <sup>5</sup>I will draw near to you for judgment; I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, against the adulterers, against the false swearers and against those who oppress the wage earner in his wages, the widow and the orphan, and those who turn aside the foreigner, and do not revere Me, says the LORD of hosts.

<sup>6</sup>For I the LORD do not change; therefore you, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed." <sup>7</sup>From the days of your fathers you have turned aside from My statutes and have not kept them. Return to Me, and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts. But you say, "How shall we return?"

<sup>8</sup>Will a man rob God? Yet you are robbing Me. But you say, "How have we robbed Thee?" In tithes and offerings.<sup>n</sup> <sup>9</sup>You are cursed with a curse, for you are robbing Me, the whole nation of you. <sup>10</sup>Bring the whole tithe<sup>p</sup> into the storehouse, so there may be food in My house, and by this put Me to the test, says the LORD of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven for you and pour out for you a more than sufficient blessing. <sup>11</sup>And I will rebuke the devouring locust for you, and it shall not destroy the fruit of your ground; your vine in the field shall not fail to ripen, says the LORD of hosts, <sup>12</sup>and all nations shall call you blessed, for you shall be a delightful land, says the LORD of hosts.

<sup>13</sup>Your words have been obstinate against Me, says the LORD. Yet you say, "How have we spoken against Thee?" <sup>14</sup>You have said, "It is vain to serve God"; and, "What profit is it that we have kept His charge, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts?" <sup>15</sup>And now we call the arrogant happy; yes, evildoers prosper; yes, they put God to the test and escape."

<sup>16</sup>Then those who revered the LORD conversed with one another; and the LORD listened and heard, and a memorandum book was written before Him, for those who revered the LORD and thought on His name. <sup>17</sup>And they shall be Mine, says the LORD of hosts in the day on which I prepare My special possession; and I will spare them as a man spares his son who serves him. <sup>18</sup>Then you shall once more distinguish between the righteous and the wicked, between one who serves God and one who does not serve Him.<sup>q</sup>

4 FOR BEHOLD, THE DAY IS COMING, burning like a furnace; then all the arrogant and all evildoers shall be stubble, and the day that is coming shall burn them up, says the LORD of hosts, so that it will not leave them root or branch. <sup>2</sup>But for you, who revere My name, the sun of righteousness<sup>r</sup> will arise with healing in its beams, and you will go forth and leap like calves from the stall. <sup>3</sup>You will trample down the wicked, for they shall

n) The question of ch. 2:17, "Where is the God of justice?" is answered in this section in the revelation of the coming of the Messenger of the Covenant in judgment. This messenger is the Lord Jesus Christ, who is not only a Savior but also a Judge. Only those who revere God [vs. 5] may expect to welcome His coming.

o) The heave offering, an annual contribution to the priest [cf. Num. 18:11-20].

p) From Israel's earliest days, national tithing had been a distinct element in their worship, to sustain the true relationship between God and them, and to support the spiritual ministries they needed to remain intelligently loyal.

q) Worshipers need fellowship of purpose and program, encouragement and reminders.

r) There is no fulfillment of this prophecy in any person or event as complete and satisfying as in the coming of Jesus Christ, who is for us "the righteousness of God."

be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day which I shall prepare, says the LORD of hosts.

<sup>4</sup>Remember the law of Moses, My servant, which I commanded him at Horeb for all Israel, its statutes and ordinances.

<sup>5</sup>Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and terrible day of the LORD. <sup>6</sup>He will turn the hearts of the fathers to their children and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.<sup>s</sup>

s) Fittingly the Old Testament ends with the mention of a "curse," suggesting the need of man for the coming Messiah. Verse five is repeated after verse six when read in the synagogues, since it is contrary to Jewish custom to conclude a book of Scripture on the note of doom. Our New Testament ends with, "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ."

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

5 B.C.

1 THIS IS THE GENEALOGY OF JESUS Christ, son of David, son of Abraham: <sup>2</sup>Abraham was the father of Isaac, Isaac of Jacob, Jacob of Judah and his brothers, <sup>3</sup>Judah of Phares and Zara by Thamar, Phares of Esrom, Esrom of Aram, <sup>4</sup>Aram of Aminadab, Aminadab of Naasson and Naasson of Salmon.

Mary, of whom Jesus was born who was surnamed Christ.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>17</sup>There are then altogether fourteen generations from Abraham to David; also fourteen generations from David to the Babylonian exile, and fourteen generations from the Babylonian exile until the Christ.<sup>b</sup>

<sup>18</sup>The birth of Jesus Christ came about this way: When His mother Mary was engaged to Joseph, before they lived together, she was found to be with child through the Holy Spirit.

a) Christos, Anointed, was used in the Old Testament not in noun but in adjective form when referring to priests and kings, but when referring to the prophesied Messiah it was used as a noun. In the New Testament it is applied to Jesus as the Messiah, first by way of title and later as His name.

b) To confine the list of Jesus' ancestors in each of the three periods to twice seven, and in the second period to stress the royalty of Christ's human ancestors, a number of them are purposely omitted. It should be observed, too, that fathers and mothers of clans may be mentioned as of but one preceding generation. Rahab lived at least a century before Boaz. Among the kings, Ahaziah, Joash, and Amaziah are omitted.

c) Mosaic law prescribed public accusation and death. d) Imparting the life growth. e) Isa. 7:14.

he carried out the angel's command from the Lord. He took to him his wife <sup>25</sup>but conserved her virginity until she had given birth to a son whom he called Jesus.

2 AFTER JESUS HAD BEEN BORN AT Bethlehem in Judea during the reign of King Herod,<sup>f</sup> there arrived wise men<sup>g</sup> at Jerusalem from the east, <sup>21</sup>inquiring, "Where is the newborn king of the Jews? For we saw his star in the east and we have come to worship him."

<sup>3</sup>On hearing this, King Herod felt disturbed and with him all Jerusalem, <sup>4</sup>so he called together all the chief priests and scribes of the people and demanded of them where the Christ should be born. <sup>5</sup>They told him, "In Bethlehem of Judea, for so it is written by the prophet,<sup>h</sup> <sup>6</sup>'And you, Bethlehem in the land of Judah, are by no means insignificant among Judah's rulers, for out of you a leader shall arise who will shepherd My people Israel.'"

<sup>7</sup>Herod then summoned the wise men for a private interview and ascertained from them just when the star appeared. <sup>8</sup>As he sent them to Bethlehem he said, "Go and find out every particular about the child and when you have learned this, report to me so that I too may go and do him honor."

ing in a dream not to return to Herod, they went back to their own country by a different route.

<sup>13</sup>After they had left, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, "Rise! Take the Baby and His mother and escape to Egypt. Stay there until I tell you, for Herod is about to search for the Child in order to murder Him." <sup>14</sup>So he got up at night, took along the Baby and His mother and departed into Egypt <sup>15</sup>where he remained until Herod's death, so that the Lord's word through the prophet became fulfilled, "Out of Egypt I called My Son."<sup>j</sup>

<sup>16</sup>When Herod grew aware that he had been outwitted by the wise men he was furious and sent a detachment to murder all the boy babies in Bethlehem and its environs, those of two years and under, in view of the time he had ascertained from the wise men. <sup>17</sup>Then the saying of Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled,<sup>k</sup> <sup>18</sup>"A voice was heard in Rama, weeping and great mourning; Rachel bewailing her children and refusing consolation because they are gone."

<sup>19</sup>But upon Herod's demise the angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, <sup>20</sup>saying, "Rise! Take the Child and His mother and cross over into the land of Israel, for those who were seeking the Child's life are dead." <sup>21</sup>So he arose, took the Child and His mother and came into the land of Israel. <sup>22</sup>But when he heard that Archelaus<sup>l</sup> had succeeded his father Herod as ruler of Judea he was afraid to go there. However, by divine warning in a dream he moved on to the Galilean region <sup>23</sup>where he arrived and settled in a town called Nazareth, so that the prophetic utterance,<sup>m</sup> "He shall be called a Nazarene," might find fulfillment.

f) Herod I, father or ancestor of later Herods; ruled 37 to 4 B.C.

g) Magus, great; Persian title for teachers or wise men, in this case astrologers. h) Micah 5:2.

i) Joseph is not mentioned, but he must have been out working. Mary and the Babe were in a house, not in the stable. When on the 40th day the parents took the Babe to the temple they offered the smallest allowable living thing. The Magi arrived after that, bringing rich gifts. Herod died in March, 4 B.C. Jesus was born at least two months previously.

j) Hos. 11:1, referring first to Israel and the Exodus and now to Jesus.

k) Jer. 31:15. See also Gen. 35:19.

l) Archelaus reigned from 4 B.C. until 6 A.D. when he was deposed. Hebrew fashion, the fact that Mary and Joseph had previously lived at Nazareth is not mentioned.

m) Nazareth, from the Hebrew nezer, a shoot or branch. Christ is named Nezer, the Branch. Isa. 11:1; Jer. 23:5; Zech. 3:8; 6:12.

Summer of 26 A.D.

3 IN THOSE DAYS JOHN THE BAPTIST made his appearance, proclaiming in the Judean desert, <sup>2</sup>"Repent, for the kingdom of heaven has come near!" <sup>3</sup>He is the one mentioned by the prophet Isaiah,<sup>a</sup> "The voice of one shouting in the desert, Make ready the way of the Lord; straighten His paths!"

<sup>10</sup>"The ax is already laid at the root of the trees; so every tree that fails to yield good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire. <sup>11</sup>While I baptize you with water for repentance, the One who comes after me is so far superior to me I am not fit to carry His sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. <sup>12</sup>The winnower is in His hand and He will thoroughly clean His threshing floor. His wheat He will store in the granary but the chaff He will burn with fire that cannot be put out."

Late 26 or early 27 A.D.

<sup>13</sup>Then Jesus came from Galilee to John at the Jordan to be baptized<sup>o</sup> by him, <sup>14</sup>but John checking Him, said, "I need to be baptized by You and why should You come to me?" <sup>15</sup>Jesus replied to him, Allow Me now, for so it behooves us to fulfill all divine requirements.<sup>p</sup> Then he allowed Him.

<sup>16</sup>At once after His baptism Jesus came up out of the water and, behold, the heavens were opened and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and lighting upon Him. <sup>17</sup>And a voice from heaven said, This is My Son, the Beloved in whom I delight.

4 THEN JESUS WAS LED BY THE SPIR- it into the desert<sup>q</sup> to be tempted by the devil <sup>2</sup>and after fasting forty days and forty nights He finally grew hungry. <sup>3</sup>The tempter approached Him and said to Him, "If you are the Son of God, command these stones to turn into loaves." <sup>4</sup>But He replied, It is written, Man shall not live on bread alone but on every command that issues forth from the mouth of God.<sup>r</sup>

<sup>5</sup>The devil then conducted Him to the holy city and had Him stand on the loftiest point of the temple, <sup>6</sup>suggesting to Him, "If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, for it is written, He will charge His angels concerning you and they will carry you on their hands so you may at no time stub your foot against a stone."<sup>s</sup> <sup>7</sup>Jesus replied to him, Furthermore it is written, You shall not test the Lord your God.<sup>t</sup>

<sup>8</sup>Next the devil took Him to a very high mountain and showed Him all the world's kingdoms and their splendor, <sup>9</sup>suggesting to Him, "All these I will give you if you will kneel and do me homage." <sup>10</sup>Then Jesus said to him, Be gone, Satan, for it is written, You shall worship the Lord your God and serve Him alone.<sup>u</sup> <sup>11</sup>Then the devil left Him and, see, angels came forward and waited on Him.

Early 28 A.D.

Zebulon and Naphtali country, <sup>14</sup>so that Isaiah's prophecy might be fulfilled, <sup>15</sup>"Land of Zebulon and land of Naphtali, the way of the sea beyond Jordan, Galilee of the nations; <sup>16</sup>the people who sat in darkness saw a great light and on those who dwelt in the land of the shadow of death a light has dawned."<sup>w</sup>

<sup>17</sup>From then on Jesus began to preach: Repent, for the kingdom of heaven has drawn near. <sup>18</sup>And as He was walking by the Galilean sea, Jesus noticed two brothers, Simon, surnamed Peter, and his brother Andrew, casting a dragnet into the sea, for they were fishermen. <sup>19</sup>He said to them, Come! Follow Me and I will make you fishers of men! <sup>20</sup>And at once they abandoned their nets and followed Him.

<sup>23</sup>Jesus traversed all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, announcing the good news of the kingdom and healing all kinds of disease and illness among the people. <sup>24</sup>Rumor about Him spread to all Syria and they brought to Him all who suffered from various ailments and pains—demoniacs, epileptics and paralytics. And He healed them.

who mourn, for they shall be comforted. <sup>5</sup>Blessed are the gentle, for they shall inherit the earth. <sup>6</sup>Blessed are the hungry and thirsty for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied. <sup>7</sup>Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy. <sup>8</sup>Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. <sup>9</sup>Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called God's sons. <sup>10</sup>Blessed are those persecuted on account of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. <sup>11</sup>Blessed are you when they slander and persecute you and falsely accuse you of every wrong because of Me. <sup>12</sup>Be glad and supremely joyful because in heaven your reward is rich; for they persecuted previous prophets the same way.

<sup>13</sup>You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt has lost its quality, with what shall it be salted? It is thereafter good for nothing but to be thrown out and walked on by the people.<sup>y</sup>

<sup>14</sup>You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill cannot be hid. <sup>15</sup>Neither do they light a lamp and place it under a peck measure, but on a stand; then it shines for everyone in the house. <sup>16</sup>Similarly let your light shine among the people so that they may observe your lofty actions and give glory to your heavenly Father.<sup>z</sup>

<sup>y</sup>) As salt has preserving power, keeping meat from utterly spoiling, so do Christians keep the world from becoming too wicked to exist and human life too unhappy to enjoy.

<sup>z</sup>) The Christian characteristics suggested by Christ will, when practiced, distinguish disciples as lights amid darkness and will serve to illumine the darkness.

Pharisees, you shall not at all enter into the kingdom of heaven.

<sup>21</sup>You have heard how the ancients were told, "Do not murder!" and, "Whoever murders is liable before the court."<sup>22</sup>But I tell you that anyone who is angry at his brother without cause is liable before the court, and whoever calls his brother a simpleton is liable before the Sanhedrin.<sup>b</sup> And whoever says "You fool!" is liable to the fires of hell.<sup>23</sup>So, when you are offering your gift at the altar and remember that your brother holds something against you, <sup>24</sup>leave your gift there at the altar and go, first come to an understanding with your brother; then come and offer your gift.

<sup>25</sup>Come to terms with your opponent quickly while you are on the way with him, else the opponent may hand you over to the judge and the judge to the attendant and you will be thrown into prison. <sup>26</sup>I assure you that you will not get out until you have paid the last penny.

<sup>31</sup>It was also said, "Whoever would divorce his wife should give her a divorce certificate."<sup>32</sup>But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife, except for unfaithfulness, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorcee commits adultery.

<sup>43</sup>You have heard that it was said, "Love your neighbor and hate your enemy."<sup>j</sup> <sup>44</sup>But I say to you, Love your enemy and pray for your persecutors. <sup>45</sup>In this way you may become sons of your heavenly Father,<sup>k</sup> for He makes His sun to rise on the evil and the good and He pours rain upon the just and the unjust. <sup>46</sup>For if you love those who love you, what is your merit? Do not the tax collectors as much? <sup>47</sup>And if you greet only your kin, how does your conduct excel? Do not even the pagans do the same? <sup>48</sup>You then are to be perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect.<sup>1</sup>

6 BE CAREFUL NOT TO PERFORM your good works publicly to be noticed by the people; else you forfeit your reward with your heavenly Father. <sup>2</sup>So, when you do benevolence, do not blow a trumpet ahead of you as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets to gain glory from men. I assure you, they have their reward.

<sup>3</sup>But when you practice charity, your left hand must not know what your right is doing,<sup>m</sup> <sup>4</sup>so your charity will be in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

<sup>5</sup>And when you pray, be not like the hypocrites, for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the important street corners to be seen by the people. I assure you, they have been paid in full. <sup>6</sup>But you, when you pray, enter your inner room and with your door closed pray to your Father, the Invisible, and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

<sup>7</sup>When you pray do not repeat and repeat as the pagans do,<sup>n</sup> for they imagine that for their much talking they will secure a hearing. <sup>8</sup>Be not like them, for your Father knows your need before you ask Him. <sup>9</sup>This then is the way you should pray:

Our Father who art in heaven, Thy name be kept holy. <sup>10</sup>Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as in heaven.

<sup>14</sup>For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will forgive you, too; <sup>15</sup>but if you do not forgive people, neither will your heavenly Father forgive your trespasses.

getting fully paid. <sup>17</sup>But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, <sup>18</sup>so that no one except your heavenly Father, the Invisible, may notice your fasting. And your Father who sees in secret, will reward you.

<sup>19</sup>Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth where moth and rust destroy and where thieves dig through and steal. <sup>20</sup>But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven where no moth or rust destroy and where thieves do not dig through and steal. <sup>21</sup>For where your treasure is there will your heart be also.

<sup>22</sup>The eye is the body's lamp. If then, your eye is sound, your whole body is illumined, <sup>23</sup>but if your eye is defective, your whole body is in the dark. If then the light within you grows dark,—how dense a darkness!

<sup>24</sup>No one can serve two masters,<sup>q</sup> for he will either hate the one and love the other or support the one and frown on the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.<sup>r</sup>

<sup>25</sup>I tell you therefore, do not worry about your living,—what you are to eat (or drink), or about your body, what you are to wear. Is not the life more important than its nourishment and the body than its clothing? <sup>26</sup>Look at the birds of the air, how they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns; but your heavenly Father supports them. Are not you more valuable than they?

m) We must not feel elated over our own nobleness.

n) Which applies to the words of this prayer. Too often they are not prayed but repeated. Leaders even say: "Let us repeat the Lord's prayer."

o) Our falling short in meeting divine requirements; our being in every way in debt.

p) We pray, if we know ourselves, to be divinely led where no temptation lurks, for it weakens and its source is evil. Testing is like wrestling but tempting is like poison gas; it hurts.

q) Our Lord has in mind two who are against each other. We cannot take orders from both.

r) Whatever is trusted in aside from God, usually wealth, is here intended. So trusted it becomes opposed to God.

day and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will He not more surely clothe you, faint believers?

<sup>31</sup>Do not then feel anxious, saying, "What shall we eat?" or "What shall we drink?" or "What are we to wear?"

<sup>32</sup>For on all these things pagans center their interest while your heavenly Father knows that you need them all. <sup>33</sup>But you, seek first His kingdom and His righteousness and all these things will be added on for you. <sup>34</sup>Do not fret therefore in view of tomorrow for tomorrow will have its own anxieties. The day's peculiar troubles suffice for that day.<sup>t</sup>

7 DO NOT PASS JUDGMENT, SO YOU may not be judged;<sup>u</sup> <sup>2</sup>for the way you judge you will be judged and with what yardstick you measure you will be measured. <sup>3</sup>But why notice the splinter in your brother's eye without minding the beam in your own eye? <sup>4</sup>Or how can you say to your brother, "Let me extract that splinter from your eye," when there is a beam in your own eye? <sup>5</sup>You hypocrite! First get rid of that beam in your eye, then you will see clearly to extract the splinter from your brother's eye.

<sup>6</sup>Do not give what is sacred to the dogs, neither throw your pearls before the hogs, so they may not sooner or later trample them under their feet and, turning around, lacerate you.

<sup>7</sup>Ask and it will be given you; seek and you will find; knock and it will be opened to you. <sup>8</sup>For every supplicant receives and the seeker finds and to him who knocks it is opened.<sup>v</sup> <sup>9</sup>Who of you men whose son asks for bread, will give him a stone; <sup>10</sup>or if he asks for fish, will give him a snake? <sup>11</sup>If you then, mean as you are, know enough to give your children what is good, how much more surely will your heavenly Father give what is good to those who ask Him! <sup>12</sup>Accordingly, whatever you would have people do for you, do the same for them, for this covers the Law and the Prophets.<sup>w</sup>

<sup>13</sup>Enter through the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and spacious the road that leads on to destruction and many are those entering through it. <sup>14</sup>Because narrow is the gate and contracted the road that leads on to life and few are its discoverers.

<sup>15</sup>Be wary of the false prophets who come to you in the guise of sheep while at heart they are voracious wolves. <sup>16</sup>You will know them by their output. Do people gather grapes from thorns or figs from thistles? <sup>17</sup>So every sound tree bears good fruit, but a decaying tree bears defective fruit. <sup>18</sup>A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a bad tree bear sound fruit. <sup>19</sup>Every tree that fails to bear good fruit is felled and thrown into the fire. <sup>20</sup>Similarly you will know people from their productions.

<sup>21</sup>Not everyone who says to Me, "Lord, Lord!" shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father in heaven. <sup>22</sup>Many will say to Me on that Day, "Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in Thy name and in Thy name cast out demons and in Thy name do many wonderful works?" <sup>23</sup>Then I will frankly say to them, I never knew you! Get away from Me, you mischief workers!

<sup>24</sup>Everyone then who listens to these sayings of Mine and puts them into practice will be like a thoughtful man who built his house on the rock. <sup>25</sup>The rains came down, the floods rose, the winds blew and beat upon that house but it never collapsed, for it was based on the rock. <sup>26</sup>And everyone who hears these sayings of Mine and fails to practice them shall be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand. <sup>27</sup>The rains came down, the floods rose, the winds blew and beat upon that house and it collapsed. And the wreck of it was complete.

finished these sayings, the crowds were amazed at His teaching, <sup>29</sup>for He taught them as an authority and not like their scribes.<sup>x</sup>

8 AS HE CAME DOWN FROM THE mountain,<sup>y</sup> great crowds followed Him. <sup>2</sup>And a leper came up and knelt before Him saying: "Lord, if you are willing you are able to cleanse me." <sup>3</sup>Reaching out His hand He touched him saying, I am willing. Be cleansed! And instantly his leprosy was cleared away. <sup>4</sup>Jesus told him, See that you speak to no one, but go, show yourself to the priest and offer the gift which Moses prescribed to notify others.<sup>z</sup>

<sup>10</sup>As Jesus listened, He marveled and said to those with Him, I assure you, I have not found anyone in Israel with so much faith. <sup>11</sup>And I tell you that many shall come from east and west and will be reclining with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven, <sup>12</sup>while the sons of the kingdom shall be expelled into the outside darkness. There shall be weeping and grinding of teeth.

<sup>13</sup>Then Jesus said to the centurion, Go home! As you have believed so shall it be for you. And at that exact moment the boy was cured.

Wider Influence; More People Drawn to Him

Early summer, 28 A.D.

<sup>16</sup>At eventide they brought to Him many demoniacs and with a word He cast out the spirits, and He healed all who had diseases, <sup>17</sup>so that the word spoken through the prophet Isaiah became fulfilled, "He Himself took our weaknesses and carried off our diseases."<sup>c</sup>

<sup>18</sup>Seeing great crowds around Him, Jesus gave orders to cross to the other side,<sup>d</sup> <sup>19</sup>when a certain scribe approached and said to Him, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you may go." <sup>20</sup>Jesus told him, The foxes have lairs and the wild birds have roosts but the Son of Man owns no place to lay His head.

<sup>21</sup>Another of the disciples said to Him, "Lord, permit me first to go and bury my father." <sup>22</sup>But Jesus told him, Follow Me and leave the dead to bury their own dead.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>23</sup>As He embarked, His disciples came along with Him. <sup>24</sup>And presently a severe storm came up on the sea,<sup>f</sup> so that the ship was hidden by the waves; but He lay sleeping. <sup>25</sup>So they went to Him and roused Him, saying, "Lord, save us; we are lost!" <sup>26</sup>He said to them, Faint believers, why are you afraid? Then standing up He rebuked the winds and the sea and there was a great calm. <sup>27</sup>Amazed, the men exclaimed, "What kind of man is this that even the winds and the sea obey him?"

<sup>28</sup>When He reached the other side, the Gadarene country, two demoniacs coming out of the tombs, met Him. So ferocious were they that no one could travel on that road. <sup>29</sup>They shouted: "Son of God, what have You to do with us? Have You come here to torture us ahead of time?"

<sup>30</sup>Now at some distance from them a large drove of hogs was feeding, <sup>31</sup>so the demons begged of Him, "If you expel us, send us into the drove of hogs."

<sup>32</sup>He said to them, Begone! And they, coming out, entered into the hogs and the whole drove rushed down the precipice into the sea and perished in the waters.

<sup>33</sup>The herdsmen fled; went off to town and reported everything, including the affair of the demoniacs. <sup>34</sup>Then the whole town came out to meet Jesus and when they saw Him they begged of Him to move out of their district.

Late March, 28 A.D.

9 SO HE EMBARKED, CROSSED OVER and reached His own city.<sup>e</sup> <sup>2</sup>There they carried to Him a paralytic on a mat. And seeing their faith<sup>h</sup> Jesus said to the paralytic, Cheer up, son! your sins are forgiven! <sup>3</sup>Some of the scribes then said to themselves, "This man blasphemeth." <sup>4</sup>Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, Why do you think evil in your hearts? <sup>5</sup>For which is easier to say, Your sins are forgiven, or to say, Rise and walk? <sup>6</sup>But to let you see that the Son of Man has authority to forgive sins on the earth,—He then said to the paralytic, Rise, pick up your mat and go home! <sup>7</sup>Arising, he did go home, <sup>8</sup>and when the crowds saw it they were awed and they praised God who had granted such power to men.

<sup>9</sup>As Jesus passed on from there, He saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax office and said to him, Follow Me! So he arose and followed Him. <sup>10</sup>And as Jesus was reclining at the table in the house,<sup>i</sup> numerous tax collectors and sinners came to join Jesus and His disciples. <sup>11</sup>The Pharisees who noticed it, said to His disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collec-

Autumn, 28 A.D.

<sup>14</sup>Then John's disciples came up to Him and said, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast, and your disciples do not fast?" <sup>15</sup>Jesus answered them, Can wedding guests mourn while the bridegroom is with them?<sup>l</sup> But days are coming when the bridegroom is taken from them and then they will fast. <sup>16</sup>But no one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old coat, for the patch would tear away from the coat and the tear become worse. <sup>17</sup>Neither do they pour new wine into old wineskins, else the wineskins burst, the wine is spilled and the skins are ruined. Instead, they put new wine into new skins and both are preserved.

<sup>18</sup>While He was still speaking to them about this, a ruler<sup>m</sup> came and knelt before Him saying, "My daughter has just died; but come, place your hand on her and she will live!" <sup>19</sup>Jesus rose and with His disciples followed him. <sup>20</sup>Also a woman, who had for twelve years suffered from hemorrhages, came up behind Him and touched the fringe of His robe; <sup>21</sup>for she said to herself, "If I can only touch His robe I shall recover."<sup>n</sup> <sup>22</sup>Jesus, turning and seeing her, said, Courage, daughter, your faith has healed you! And the woman was well from that hour.

<sup>23</sup>On reaching the ruler's house and seeing the flute players and the noisy crowd, <sup>24</sup>Jesus said, Move out, for the girl is not dead but asleep! They laughed derisively at Him, <sup>25</sup>but after the crowd had been expelled, He went in and took her hand and the girl rose up. <sup>26</sup>The fame of it spread over all that country.

MATTHEW 9, 10

Autumn, 28 A.D.

<sup>27</sup>While Jesus was walking away, two blind men followed Him, crying out, "Son of David, pity us!" <sup>28</sup>Then as He was entering the house, the blind men came up to Him and Jesus said to them, Do you believe I can do this? They answered Him, "Yes, Lord!" <sup>29</sup>He then touched their eyes and said, To the measure of your faith it shall be to you. <sup>30</sup>And their eyes were opened. Jesus charged them strictly, See that no one learns of this.<sup>o</sup> <sup>31</sup>But they went out and spread His fame over that whole country.

<sup>32</sup>As they were leaving, a dumb man was brought to Him, who was demon-possessed <sup>33</sup>and when the demon had been expelled, the dumb spoke. Then the crowds marveled; they said, "The like was never seen in Israel." <sup>34</sup>But the Pharisees said, "Through the prince of the demons he casts out the demons."

Summer, 28 A.D.

<sup>35</sup>Jesus went among all the towns and the villages teaching in their synagogues,<sup>p</sup> announcing the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease and every illness. <sup>36</sup>But as He looked at the multitudes He was filled with pity over them because they were like shepherdless sheep that are mangled and thrown to the ground. <sup>37</sup>Then He said to His disciples, The harvest is indeed abundant but the workers are few; <sup>38</sup>therefore pray the LORD of the harvest that He may draft workers into His harvest.

<sup>11</sup>Whatever town or village you enter, inquire who in it is deserving and stay there until you leave the community. <sup>12</sup>And as you enter the home, give your greetings, <sup>13</sup>and if the home is deserving, let your peace come upon it; but if it is undeserving your peace will return to you. <sup>14</sup>And where no one welcomes you or listens to your message, leave that house or town and shake the dust off your feet. <sup>15</sup>I assure you, the land of Sodom and Gomorrah shall fare better in the judgment day than that town.

<sup>16</sup>Mind you, I am sending you out as sheep among wolves; therefore, be as subtle as serpents and as guileless as doves. <sup>17</sup>So be cautious with men, for they will deliver you to councils and in their synagogues they will flog you, <sup>18</sup>and you will be haled before governors and kings on My account, to testify to them and to the Gentiles. <sup>19</sup>But when they hand you over, have no anxiety how or what to say, for it will be given you in that hour what to say; <sup>20</sup>because not you are the speakers but

11 WHEN JESUS HAD FINISHED INSTRUCTING His twelve disciples He left there to teach and preach in their towns.

then did you go out? To see a prophet? Yes, I tell you and far more than a prophet. <sup>10</sup>This is the one about whom it is written, "See, I send My messenger before your face who shall prepare the road ahead of you."<sup>v</sup> <sup>11</sup>I assure you, none has arisen among those born of women greater than John the Baptist; yet the least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.<sup>z</sup> <sup>12</sup>But from the time of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven has been rushed, and the impetuous seize it by force.<sup>a</sup> <sup>13</sup>For until John all the Prophets and the Law foretold it. <sup>14</sup>If you care to accept it, he himself is Elijah who was to come. <sup>15</sup>Whoever has ears let him listen.

<sup>16</sup>But to what shall I compare this generation? It is like children sitting in the market places and calling out to their playmates, <sup>17</sup>"We have played the flute for you and you have not danced; we have sung dirges (to you) and you did not beat the breast." <sup>18</sup>For John came neither eating nor drinking<sup>b</sup> and they say, "He has a demon." <sup>19</sup>The Son of Man came eating and drinking and they say, "Look at a glutton and wine drinker, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!" And still, wisdom is vindicated by her effects.

<sup>20</sup>Then He began to reproach the towns in which most of His wonders had been wrought, because they did not repent: <sup>21</sup>Alas for you, Chorazin! Alas for you, Bethsaida! Because if in Tyre and Sidon the wonders had been wrought that were done in you, they would long ago have repented in sackcloth and ashes. <sup>22</sup>I tell you further: it will be more endurable in the judgment day for Tyre and Sidon than for you.<sup>c</sup>

the miracles had been wrought that were done in you, it would have remained to this day. <sup>24</sup>I tell you further, that for the land of Sodom it will be more endurable in the judgment day than for you.

<sup>25</sup>About that time Jesus reacted by saying: I thank Thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, for hiding all this from the learned and intelligent and revealing it to babes.<sup>e</sup> <sup>26</sup>Yes, Father, for thus it was pleasing in Thy sight. <sup>27</sup>Everything has been handed over to Me from My Father, and no one understands the Son except the Father, nor does anyone understand the Father except the Son and he to whom the Son wishes to reveal Him.

<sup>28</sup>Come to Me all you who labor and are heavily burdened and I will rest you. <sup>29</sup>Take My yoke on you and learn of Me, for I am gentle and humble of heart, and you will find rest for your souls; <sup>30</sup>for My yoke is easy and My burden is light.

Early Summer, 28 A.D.

12 ABOUT THAT TIME JESUS walked one Sabbath through the grain fields. His disciples were hungry and began to pluck heads and to eat. <sup>2</sup>As the Pharisees observed it they said to Him, "Look! Your disciples are doing what is not lawful to be done on the Sabbath!" <sup>3</sup>But He replied, Have you not read what David did when he and his men were hungry, <sup>4</sup>how he entered the house of God and ate the loaves of presentation which neither he nor his men but only the priests were allowed to eat?<sup>f</sup> <sup>5</sup>Or have you never read in the Law how on the Sabbath days the priests in the temple break the Sabbath and are blameless?<sup>g</sup> <sup>6</sup>But I tell you that One greater than the temple is here. <sup>7</sup>And had you known what this means, "I want mercy and not sacrifice,"<sup>h</sup> you would not have condemned the innocent. <sup>8</sup>For the Son of Man is Lord (even) of the Sabbath.

<sup>9</sup>Leaving there He went into their synagogue <sup>10</sup>and a man with a paralyzed hand was there; so, to incriminate Him, they asked Him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?" <sup>11</sup>But He said to them, Is there one of you with a single sheep who will not take hold of it and pull it out if on the Sabbath it falls into a pit? <sup>12</sup>How much more value then has a man above a sheep! So that it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath. <sup>13</sup>He then said to the man, Hold out your hand! He held it out and it was restored as sound as the other. <sup>14</sup>But the Pharisees went away and concocted a plot against Him so they might destroy Him.

<sup>15</sup>Jesus, knowing this, withdrew from that place. Many followed Him and He healed them all <sup>16</sup>and charged them not to advertise Him, <sup>17</sup>so that the saying of Isaiah the prophet was fulfilled, <sup>18</sup>"Behold My Servant whom I have chosen, My Beloved in whom My soul delights; I will invest Him with My Spirit and He will announce justice to the Gentiles. <sup>19</sup>He will not quarrel or shout, nor shall anyone hear His voice in the streets. <sup>20</sup>He will not break a bruised reed; He will not extinguish a smoldering wick until He carries justice to victory. <sup>21</sup>And the nations shall hope in His name."<sup>1</sup>

Summer, 28 A.D.

<sup>22</sup>Then there was led to Him a blind and dumb demoniac and He healed him, so that the dumb both spoke and saw. <sup>23</sup>And all the crowds were amazed and said, "May not this be the Son of David?" <sup>24</sup>But when the Pharisees heard it they said, "This fellow does not expel demons except through Beelzebub, the prince of demons."

<sup>25</sup>Reading their thoughts, He said to them, Any kingdom that is divided against itself goes to ruin and any city or home that is divided against itself cannot stand. <sup>26</sup>If Satan expels Satan, he is divided against himself. How then shall his kingdom stand? <sup>27</sup>Besides, if I cast out demons through Beelzebub, through whom do your sons cast them out? On this score they will be your judges. <sup>28</sup>But if I expel demons through the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has unexpectedly overtaken you.

earth's heart. <sup>41</sup>Ninevite men shall arise at the judgment along with this generation and shall condemn it, for they repented at Jonah's preaching and indeed One greater than Jonah is here. <sup>42</sup>The southern queen shall rise at the judgment with this generation and condemn it, for she came from the ends of the earth to listen to Solomon's wisdom and indeed One greater than Solomon is here.

<sup>43</sup>When the unclean spirit goes out of a person he roams through dry places looking for rest and does not find it. <sup>44</sup>Then he says, "I will go back to the house I left," and comes and finds it vacant, cleaned and orderly. <sup>45</sup>He then goes out to bring along with him seven other spirits worse than himself and they enter and live there. And the final condition of that person is worse than the first. So it will be with this wicked generation.<sup>m</sup>

<sup>46</sup>While He was still speaking to the crowds His mother and brothers stood outside wanting to talk with Him <sup>47</sup>(so someone told Him, "Your mother and your brothers stand outside, wanting to speak to you"). <sup>48</sup>But He rejoined to the one who told Him, Who is My mother and who are My brothers? <sup>49</sup>And stretching out His hand to His disciples, He said, Here are My mother and My brothers; <sup>50</sup>for whoever does the will of My heavenly Father is My brother and sister and mother.<sup>n</sup>

13 THAT SAME DAY JESUS, LEAVING the house, sat by the seaside <sup>2</sup>and such great crowds gathered around Him that He stepped into a boat and sat down while the whole multitude stood on the beach. <sup>3</sup>And He told them much in parables, saying:

A sower went out to sow, <sup>4</sup>and in his sowing some seeds fell on the footpath and the birds came and ate them. <sup>5</sup>Some fell on rocky soil where they had little earth and sprang up quickly because the soil was shallow; <sup>6</sup>but with the rising sun they were scorched and, having no root, withered. <sup>7</sup>Some fell among the thorns and the thorns grew up and choked them. <sup>8</sup>But the rest fell on the good earth and bore a crop—some a hundred, some sixty and some thirty-fold. <sup>9</sup>Whoever has ears let him listen.

<sup>10</sup>The disciples came up and said to Him, "Why do you speak to them in parables?" <sup>11</sup>He answered, Because it is granted you to know the secrets of the heavenly kingdom, but it is not granted them.<sup>o</sup> <sup>12</sup>For whoever has shall receive superabundantly, but whoever has not shall be deprived of whatever he has. <sup>13</sup>For this reason I speak to them in parables, because they look and see nothing; they listen and neither hear nor understand. <sup>14</sup>On their part Isaiah's prophecy is fulfilled, "You will listen and listen but not at all understand; you will look and look but never see at all. <sup>15</sup>For this people's heart has grown dull and with their ears they hear poorly; they have their eyes shut so they may not see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their hearts and return and I would heal them."<sup>p</sup> <sup>16</sup>But blessed are your eyes for they see and your ears for they hear. <sup>17</sup>For I assure you that many prophets and upright men have longed to see what you see and did not, and to hear what you are hearing and did not. <sup>18</sup>Listen, then, to the parable of the sower.

<sup>19</sup>When anyone hears the message of the kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what is sown in his heart. This represents the sowing on the footpath. <sup>20</sup>But what was sown on rocky soil refers to the one who hears the message and at once accepts it gladly; <sup>21</sup>but it takes no root in him; it does not last. Trouble or persecution arises on account of the message and at once he feels scandalized. <sup>22</sup>And what was sown among thorns means one who listens to the message, but worldly worries and the enjoyment of wealth choke the word and it becomes unproductive. <sup>23</sup>But what was sown in good ground means one who listens and understands the message; he bears fruit and yields, one a hundred, one sixty and one thirty-fold.

<sup>24</sup>He put before them another parable: The kingdom of heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field, <sup>25</sup>but while the men were asleep his enemy came and sowed darnel among the wheat and got away. <sup>26</sup>When the blade shot up and the wheat headed, the darnel appeared, too. <sup>27</sup>The owner's servants went to him and said, "Was not that good seed, sir, that you sowed in your field? Where then did the weeds come from?" <sup>28</sup>He said to them, "An enemy has done this." They asked him, "Would you like then to have us go and weed them out?" <sup>29</sup>But he said, "No, for in gathering up the darnel you might uproot the wheat along with them." <sup>30</sup>Let them grow side by side until harvest time and at harvest time I shall direct the reapers to collect the weeds first, to bundle them up and to burn them, but to bring the grain into my barn."

<sup>31</sup>Another parable He presented to them: The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field. <sup>32</sup>It is the smallest of all seeds but when grown up it is bigger than any plant and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and roost in its branches.

<sup>33</sup>He told them another parable: The kingdom of heaven is like yeast which a woman took and buried in three portions of flour until it was all raised.

<sup>34</sup>Jesus said all this to the crowds in parables and never spoke to them except by comparisons, <sup>35</sup>so that the saying of the prophet was fulfilled: "I will open my mouth in parables; I will express what has been hidden since the world's foundations."<sup>r</sup>

Summer, 28 A.D.

<sup>44</sup>The kingdom of heaven is like a treasure hid in the field, which a man secretes after finding it. Then out of sheer gladness he goes out and sells everything he has and buys that field.

<sup>47</sup>Once more, the kingdom of heaven is like a seine, cast into the sea and collecting every kind. <sup>48</sup>When it was full they drew it to shore and, sitting down, they put the good ones into baskets and threw out the bad ones.

<sup>49</sup>So shall it be at the end of time. The angels shall come out and separate the wicked from the righteous <sup>50</sup>and shall cast them into the fiery furnace; there shall be wailing and grinding of teeth. <sup>51</sup>Have you understood all this?

They answered Him, "Yes." <sup>52</sup>So He said to them, Every teacher, therefore, who is versed in the kingdom of heaven

Late, 28 A.D.

<sup>53</sup>When Jesus had finished these parables He went away <sup>54</sup>and, after arriving in His own country, He taught them in the synagogues in such a way, they were amazed and said, "From where this wisdom and this power of his? <sup>55</sup>Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary, and his brothers James, Joses, Simon, and Judas? <sup>56</sup>And his sisters, are they not all with us? Where did he get all this?" <sup>57</sup>And they felt offended in Him. But Jesus said to them, A prophet is not without honor except in his own land and home. <sup>58</sup>And because of their unbelief He wrought not many mighty works there.

Late, 28 A.D.

<sup>13</sup>When Jesus heard it, He left by boat privately for a desert place, and as the throngs found that out, they followed Him afoot from the cities. <sup>14</sup>On disembarking He saw a great mass of people and felt deep sympathy for them and healed their sick.

<sup>15</sup>With approach of evening the disciples came to Him, suggesting, "The place is solitary and the time is now advanced. Dismiss the crowds, so they can enter the villages and buy food for themselves." <sup>16</sup>But Jesus said to them, "They do not need to go away; you give them to eat." <sup>17</sup>They rejoined, "We have nothing here except five loaves and two fishes." <sup>18</sup>He, however, said, "Bring those here to Me!" <sup>19</sup>and ordered the people to sit down on the grass. Taking the five loaves and two fishes and looking up toward heaven, He blessed and broke and handed the loaves to His disciples and the disciples to the people. <sup>20</sup>They all ate to satisfaction and they picked up the remainder of fragments — twelve full baskets. <sup>21</sup>Not including the women and children there were 5,000 persons who ate.

April, 29 A.D.

<sup>22</sup>He then urged the disciples to embark and to sail ahead of Him to the other side while He dismissed the crowd. <sup>23</sup>And after He had dismissed the people He climbed the mountain for private worship. Evening had fallen and He was there alone. <sup>24</sup>But the boat was by that time a good distance from shore and was tossed by the waves, for the wind was contrary. <sup>25</sup>In the fourth watch of the night<sup>x</sup> He approached them, walking on the sea. <sup>26</sup>And when the disciples saw Him walking on the sea, they exclaimed in terror, "It is a ghost!" and cried out from fear. <sup>27</sup>But He at once addressed them, "Cheer up! It is I; have no fear." <sup>28</sup>Peter answered Him, "Lord, if it is Thou, order me to come to Thee on the water!" <sup>29</sup>He said, "Come!" Peter, climbing down the boat, walked on the water and came to Jesus; <sup>30</sup>but looking at the wind he was afraid and, starting to sink, he cried, "Lord, save me!" <sup>31</sup>Instantly Jesus reached out His hand and took hold of him, saying, "You faint believer, why did you doubt?" <sup>32</sup>After they had climbed into the boat, the wind quieted. <sup>33</sup>Then those in the boat knelt before Him, saying, "Truly, Thou art the Son of God!"

15 THEN PHARISEES AND SCRIBES from Jerusalem approached Jesus with the remark, <sup>24</sup>"Why do your disciples transgress the tradition of the ancients? For they do not wash their hands before eating!" <sup>3</sup>But He replied to them, "Why do you transgress the command of God through your tradition? <sup>4</sup>For God has commanded, 'Honor your father and mother,' and 'He who curses father or mother must suffer death.' <sup>5</sup>But you say, 'Whoever says to his father or mother, 'What you might get from me I make an offering,' <sup>6</sup>he need not honor his father and his mother.'"<sup>z</sup> So you have made God's command spineless through your tradition. <sup>7</sup>You hypocrites, Isaiah rightly prophesied about you, <sup>8</sup>"This people honor me with their lips, but the heart they keep far away from Me. <sup>9</sup>Uselessly they worship Me with their teaching of human commands."<sup>a</sup>

said to Him, "Are you aware that the Pharisees were shocked at hearing you say this?"<sup>b</sup> <sup>13</sup>He replied, "Every plant My heavenly Father has not planted shall be uprooted. <sup>14</sup>Leave them alone; they are blind guides of the blind. But if one blind person leads another, they will both fall into a pit.

<sup>29</sup>Moving away from there, Jesus went along the sea of Galilee, climbed the hill and sat there. <sup>30</sup>Great throngs came to Him, that brought along lame, blind, dumb, maimed and many others whom they laid at His feet, and He healed them; <sup>31</sup>so that the crowd wondered to see the dumb talking, the maimed sound, the lame walking, and the blind seeing. And they glorified the God of Israel.

<sup>32</sup>But Jesus called His disciples and said, I feel deeply moved for the multitude because they have now stayed with Me three days and they have nothing to eat. I am not willing to send them away hungry, for they may faint on the road. <sup>33</sup>The disciples said to Him, "Where are we to get loaves enough in the desert to satisfy such a crowd?" <sup>34</sup>Jesus asked them, How many loaves do you have? They said, "Seven and a few small fish." <sup>35</sup>He ordered the masses to recline on the ground, <sup>36</sup>took the seven loaves and the fish, gave thanks, broke them and handed them to the disciples and the disciples to the crowds. <sup>37</sup>They all ate and were satisfied, and the leftovers filled seven hampers. <sup>38</sup>Four thousand men shared the eating, aside from women and children. <sup>39</sup>Then dismissing the crowds He embarked and sailed to the Magadan region.<sup>d</sup>

16 THE PHARISEES AND SADDUCEES approached and, to tempt Him, asked Him to show them a sign from heaven; <sup>2</sup>but He replied (At eventide you say, "Fair weather, for the sky is red," <sup>3</sup>and in the morning, "A stormy day, for the sky is red and cloudy." the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. <sup>7</sup>They argued among themselves, "Because we brought no food." <sup>8</sup>But Jesus, aware of it, said, Why these discussions among yourselves, faint believers? Because you brought no food? <sup>9</sup>Do you not understand even yet, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand and how many baskets you took up, <sup>10</sup>nor the seven loaves of the four thousand and how many baskets you took up? <sup>11</sup>How is it you do not see that I was not talking to you about food; but that you should be careful about the ferment of the Pharisees and Sadducees? <sup>12</sup>Then they realized that He did not tell them to beware of the bread fermentation, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

Midsummer, 29 A.D.

<sup>13</sup>When Jesus entered the region of Caesarea Philippi,<sup>f</sup> He asked His disciples, Who do people say the Son of Man is? <sup>14</sup>They said, "Some say, John the Baptist; others, Elijah; others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets." <sup>15</sup>He asked them, But you, who do you say I am? <sup>16</sup>Simon Peter answered, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." <sup>17</sup>Jesus answered him, Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah, because it was not flesh and blood that revealed this to you, but My heavenly Father. <sup>18</sup>I also tell you that you are Peter, and on this rock I will build My church, and the gates of hell shall not hold out against her.<sup>g</sup> <sup>19</sup>I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven; whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven and whatever you liberate on earth shall be freed in heaven.<sup>h</sup> <sup>20</sup>Then He forbade the disciples to say to anyone, He is the Christ.

<sup>21</sup>From then on Jesus began to show His disciples that He must leave for Jerusalem and suffer much from the elders, priests and scribes, and be killed, and raised again on the third day. <sup>22</sup>Then Peter, leading Him aside, undertook to remonstrate with Him: "Mercy on You, Lord; this must never happen to You!" <sup>23</sup>But, turning around, He said to Peter, You get behind me, Satan, you are a snare<sup>i</sup> to Me; for you are not minding things divine, but things human. <sup>24</sup>Then Jesus said to His disciples, If anyone wishes to walk behind Me, he must deny himself, take up his cross and follow Me, <sup>25</sup>for whoever wants to save his life shall lose it, but whoever loses his life for Me shall find it.

<sup>26</sup>For what advantage shall a man have if he acquires the whole world and forfeits his own life, or what shall a man offer in exchange for his life? <sup>27</sup>For the Son of Man is about to come in the glory of the Father with His angels, and then He shall reward each according to his behavior. <sup>28</sup>I assure you, there are some of those standing here who shall not taste death until they see the Son of Man coming into His kingdom.

17 SIX DAYS LATER JESUS TOOK along Peter, James, and his brother John, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. <sup>2</sup>In view of them He was transfigured: His face shone like the sun and His clothes became white as the light. <sup>3</sup>Moses and Elijah also appeared to them as they conversed with Him. <sup>4</sup>Then Peter addressed Jesus, "Lord, it is well that we are here. If you approve, I will make here three booths, one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah."

<sup>5</sup>While he was still talking, a bright cloud overshadowed them and a voice from the cloud said, This is My beloved Son in whom I am delighted; listen to Him. <sup>6</sup>As the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces in great fear; <sup>7</sup>but Jesus, coming forward, touched them and said, Stand up and have no fear. <sup>8</sup>And, raising their eyes, they saw no one except Jesus alone.

<sup>9</sup>While coming down from the mountain, Jesus gave them orders, Do not mention the vision to anyone until the Son of Man is risen from the dead. <sup>10</sup>The disciples asked Him, "Why then do the scribes say that Elijah must first come?" <sup>11</sup>He replied, Elijah comes indeed and restores all things. <sup>12</sup>But I tell you that Elijah has already come and they did not recognize him, but have done to him as they pleased, and in similar way the Son of Man is about to suffer at their hands. <sup>13</sup>Then the disciples realized that He was speaking to them of John the Baptist.<sup>j</sup>

<sup>14</sup>When they approached the crowd, a man came forward and knelt to Him, saying, <sup>15</sup>"Lord, take pity on my son, for he is an epileptic and suffers badly; he often falls into the fire and often into the water. <sup>16</sup>I brought him to your disciples; but they had no power to cure him." <sup>17</sup>Jesus replied, O unbelieving and rebellious generation, how long shall I remain with you? How long shall I put up with you? Bring him here to Me! <sup>18</sup>So Jesus rebuked the demon and it came out of him, and from that exact moment the boy was cured.

<sup>19</sup>Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, "Why did not we have power to expel it?" <sup>20</sup>He said to them, Because of your little faith; for I assure you, if you have faith the size of a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move.<sup>k</sup> And nothing shall be impossible for you. <sup>21</sup>(But this kind does not go out except through prayer and fasting.)

Late summer, 29 A.D.

<sup>22</sup>While they were gathering in Galilee, Jesus said to them, The Son of Man is about to be betrayed into the hands of men, <sup>23</sup>and they will kill Him, and on the third day He shall be resurrected. And they felt deeply distressed.

<sup>24</sup>As they arrived at Capernaum, the tax collectors came to Peter and said, "Does not your teacher pay the tax?"

<sup>25</sup>He said, "Yes." And as he entered the house, Jesus forestalled him with: What is your idea, Simon, from whom do the kings of the earth collect customs or taxes, from their sons or from the strangers? <sup>26</sup>When he said, "From strangers," Jesus declared to him, Then the sons are exempt. <sup>27</sup>However, not to offend them, betake yourself to the sea, cast a hook and take the first fish you bring up, open its mouth and you will find a coin. Take it and pay them for Me and for yourself.

18 AT THAT TIME THE DISCIPLES came and asked Jesus, "Who really excels in the kingdom of heaven?" <sup>2</sup>Calling in a little child, He set it in the center <sup>3</sup>and said, I assure you, unless you be converted and become as the little children, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven. <sup>4</sup>Whoever, then, humbles himself like this little child, he excels in the kingdom of heaven, <sup>5</sup>and whoever receives one such child in My name, receives Me. <sup>6</sup>But whoever is an occasion for stumbling to one of these little ones that believe in Me, it were better for him to have a millstone hung around his neck and to be sunk in the depth of the sea.

<sup>7</sup>Alas for the world because of the occasions of stumbling. The occasions have to come, but woe to the person on whose account the tripping up occurs. <sup>8</sup>If your hand or your foot hinders you, cut it off and throw it from you; better for you to enter life maimed or crippled, than to keep both hands or feet and to be thrown into eternal fire.<sup>1</sup> <sup>9</sup>If your eye hinders you, pluck it out and throw it from you; better for you to enter life one-eyed, than having two eyes to be cast into the hell of fire.

<sup>10</sup>See that you underestimate none of these little ones, for I tell you, that their angels<sup>m</sup> in heaven are forever looking at the face of My heavenly Father.

<sup>11</sup>(The Son of Man has come to save the lost.) <sup>12</sup>How does this seem to you? If a man has a hundred sheep and one of them strays, does he not leave the ninety-nine on the mountains to go out in search of the stray one? <sup>13</sup>And if he manages to find it, I assure you that he is happier over that one than over the ninety-nine that did not stray. <sup>14</sup>So it is not your heavenly Father's will that one of these little ones should be lost.

<sup>15</sup>If your brother should act amiss toward you, go and show him his fault privately; in case he listens, you have won your brother. <sup>16</sup>In case he does not listen, take one or two along,<sup>n</sup> so that "From the testimony of two or three witnesses the whole dispute may be settled." <sup>17</sup>If he refuses to listen to them, tell the church, and if he will not listen to the church, treat him like a pagan and a tax gatherer. <sup>18</sup>I assure you, whatever you shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you liberate on earth shall be free in heaven.<sup>o</sup> <sup>19</sup>Once more I assure you that if two of you are agreed on earth about anything for which you pray, it will be done for you by My heavenly Father. <sup>20</sup>For where two or three have gathered in My name, I am there with them.

<sup>21</sup>Then Peter approached and said to Him, "Lord, how often shall my brother act amiss toward me and I forgive him? Up to seven times?" <sup>22</sup>Jesus said to him, I do not say, up to seven, but up to seventy times seven.

to pay, his master ordered him to be sold, as well as his wife and children and everything he had, and to pay. <sup>26</sup>Then the agent fell down and implored him, "Have patience with me and I will pay you everything!" <sup>27</sup>So, in pity for that agent his master released him and canceled his debt.

<sup>28</sup>But as that agent was leaving, he met one of his fellow agents, who owed him a hundred denarii. Grabbing him by the throat, he said, "Pay me what you owe!" <sup>29</sup>Then his fellow agent fell down and implored him, "Have patience with me and I will pay you." <sup>30</sup>But he refused, went off and threw him into prison until he should pay the debt.

<sup>31</sup>When his fellow servants saw what was done, they were greatly distressed; they went and told their master everything that had occurred.

<sup>32</sup>Then his master summoned him and said to him: "You contemptible slave! I canceled all that debt for you, because you begged me. <sup>33</sup>Should not you have had pity on your fellow servant as I had pity on you?" <sup>34</sup>And angrily his master handed him over to the scourgers, until he should pay everything he owed him. <sup>35</sup>And so shall My heavenly Father do to you, if each of you does not heartily forgive his brother.

Autumn, 29 A.D.

19 WHEN JESUS HAD COMPLETED these teachings, He left Galilee and entered the Judean territory across the Jordan.<sup>a</sup> <sup>2</sup>Large crowds followed Him and there He healed them.

<sup>3</sup>Then the Pharisees approached to test Him. They asked, "Is it right to divorce one's wife for every given reason?" <sup>4</sup>He replied, Have you not read that the Creator made them from the beginning male and female <sup>5</sup>and said, On this account a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife and the two shall be one flesh? <sup>6</sup>So they are no longer two but one flesh. What God, then, has joined, man must not separate. <sup>7</sup>They said to Him, "Why then did Moses decree to give a divorce certificate and to dismiss her?" <sup>8</sup>He answered them, Due to your hard-heartedness Moses permitted you to divorce your wives; but it was not that way from the beginning. <sup>9</sup>I tell you that whoever divorces his wife, except for unfaithfulness, and marries another, commits adultery.

<sup>10</sup>The disciples said to Him, "If such is the case of a man with his wife, it is preferable not to marry." <sup>11</sup>But He rejoined, Not all people understand this saying; only those to whom it is given; <sup>12</sup>for some eunuchs are such from birth; some were made eunuchs by men, and some have made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. Whoever is able to get practical hold of it, let him get hold.

<sup>13</sup>Then little children were brought to Him so that He might lay His hands on them and pray, and the disciples held them back; <sup>14</sup>but Jesus said, Allow the little ones and do not stop them from coming to Me, for of this kind the kingdom of heaven is composed. <sup>15</sup>And after laying His hands on them He moved away from there.

Early 30 A.D.

<sup>16</sup>Someone approached Him and said, "Teacher, what good deed shall I do to secure eternal life?" <sup>17</sup>He said to him, Why do you ask Me about goodness? Only One is Good. But if you wish to enter into life, keep the commandments. <sup>18</sup>He inquired of Him, "Which?" Then Jesus said, This: Do not kill; do not commit adultery; do not steal; do not witness falsely; <sup>19</sup>honor your father and mother, and love your neighbor as yourself.

<sup>20</sup>The young man said to Him, "All these things I have observed. How do I still fall behind?" <sup>21</sup>Jesus replied, If you want to be complete, go and sell what you have and donate it to the needy, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come and follow Me.

<sup>22</sup>But the young man, on hearing that, went sadly away; for he had much property.

<sup>23</sup>Jesus remarked to His disciples, I assure you, it will be difficult for a rich person to enter the kingdom of heaven.

<sup>24</sup>I say to you again, it is easier for a camel to pass through a needle's eye than for a wealthy person to enter the kingdom of God. <sup>25</sup>When the disciples heard this, they were utterly dumb-founded and said, "Who then can be saved?" <sup>26</sup>But Jesus looked at them and said, With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

<sup>27</sup>Then Peter replied to Him, "Sec, we have left everything and have followed You; what then is there for us?"

<sup>28</sup>But Jesus told them: I assure you that you followers of Mine, in the new age, when the Son of Man shall sit upon the throne of His glory, you too shall sit on twelve thrones passing judgment on the twelve tribes of Israel. <sup>29</sup>Also everyone, who has let go of houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or children or fields on account of My name, shall be refunded a hundred times and shall inherit eternal life. <sup>30</sup>But many now first shall be last and many last shall be first.

20 FOR THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN resembles an estate manager, who went out early in the morning to hire workmen for his vineyard, <sup>2</sup>and after agreeing with the workmen on a quarter a day,<sup>a</sup> he sent them into his vineyard. <sup>3</sup>About nine o'clock he went out and saw other workmen standing in the bazaar without employment <sup>4</sup>and said to them, "You go into the vineyard, too, and I will pay you whatever is 'air.'" So they went in. <sup>5</sup>Going out again at twelve and at three, he did the same thing. <sup>6</sup>When at five o'clock he went out, he found others standing there and said to them, "Why do you stand here idle all day?" <sup>7</sup>They answered, "Because nobody has hired us." He told them, "You go out into the vineyard, too, (and you will get whatever is fair)."

<sup>8</sup>As evening fell, the owner of the vineyard said to his manager, "Call the workmen and pay their wages, starting with the latest and on to the earliest."

<sup>11</sup>On receiving it, they grumbled against the manager <sup>12</sup>and said, "These last have worked one hour and you have ranked them equal with us who endured the arduous toil and the scorching heat of the day." <sup>13</sup>But he answered one of them,<sup>t</sup> "Friend, I am not wronging you. Did you not agree with me on a quarter? <sup>14</sup>Take what is yours and begone. I choose to pay this last one the same as you. <sup>15</sup>Have I no right to do with my belongings as I please? Or do you look resentful because I am generous?" <sup>16</sup>So shall the last be first and the first last.

<sup>17</sup>As Jesus was at the point of going up to Jerusalem, He took the twelve aside and on the road said to them, <sup>18</sup>Take notice! We are going up to Jerusalem and the Son of Man shall be betrayed to the chief priests and scribes; they will sentence Him to death <sup>19</sup>and hand Him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and scourged and crucified, and on the third day He shall be raised.

at My right and My left is not Mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by My Father.

<sup>24</sup>When the ten heard it, they were indignant at the two brothers; <sup>25</sup>but Jesus called them and said, You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their superiors oppress them, <sup>26</sup>but with you it is different: Whoever among you wants to be great must be your minister <sup>27</sup>and whoever would be first shall be your servant; <sup>28</sup>just as the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many.

Late March, 30 A.D.

<sup>29</sup>As they were leaving Jericho, a great throng followed Him <sup>30</sup>and when two blind men, who were sitting by the road, heard that Jesus was passing, they shouted, "Lord, son of David, take pity on us!" <sup>31</sup>The crowd berated them, demanding silence, but they shouted the louder, "Lord, take pity on us, O Son of David." <sup>32</sup>Then Jesus stopped, called them and said, What do you want Me to do for you? <sup>33</sup>They said, "Lord, we would have our eyes opened." <sup>34</sup>So Jesus took pity on them and touched their eyes and at once they saw and followed Him.

Sunday, April 2, 30 A.D.

21 WHEN JESUS CAME NEAR Jerusalem and reached Bethphage<sup>v</sup> at the Mount of Olives, He sent out two disciples <sup>2</sup>with the injunction, Go to the opposite village and then and there you will find a donkey hitched and a colt with her; unhitch and bring them to Me. <sup>3</sup>Should anyone make remarks to you, you reply, "The Lord needs them," and without delay he will let them go.

<sup>6</sup>The disciples went and did as Jesus had directed them; <sup>7</sup>they brought the donkey and its colt and placed their coats on them and He seated Himself on the garments. <sup>8</sup>Many of the multitude, too, spread their clothes on the road, while others cut branches from the trees and strewed them on the road. <sup>9</sup>And the crowds, some marching ahead<sup>x</sup> and some in the rear, shouted,<sup>y</sup> "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest."

<sup>10</sup>When He entered Jerusalem, the whole city was agitated. "Who is this?" <sup>11</sup>they said; to which the crowd replied, "This is the prophet Jesus from Nazareth in Galilee."

Monday, April 3, 30 A.D.

<sup>12</sup>Jesus entered the temple and expelled all who were buying and selling in its courts. He overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of the dove sellers, <sup>13</sup>and told them, It is written,<sup>z</sup> "My house shall be called a house of prayer," but you are making it a robbers' den.

<sup>14</sup>The blind and the lame came to Him in the temple and He healed them. <sup>15</sup>But when the chief priests and the scribes noticed the wonderful things He did, and the children shouting in the temple, "Hosanna to the Son of David!" they were chagrined <sup>16</sup>and said to Him, "Do you hear what they are saying?" Jesus answered, Yes. Did you never read,<sup>a</sup> "From the mouth of babes and nurslings Thou hast perfected praise"? <sup>17</sup>And leaving them, He went outside the city to Bethany,<sup>b</sup> and there He spent the night.

<sup>18</sup>In the early morning,<sup>c</sup> as He returned to the city, He felt hungry <sup>19</sup>and, noticing a single fig tree by the roadside, He walked to it and found on it nothing but leaves. So He said to it, Let there be no fruit from you any more forever. And instantly the fig tree withered. <sup>20</sup>As the disciples observed it, they marveled and said, "How the fig-tree withered instantly!" <sup>21</sup>Jesus answered them, I assure you, if you have faith and do not doubt, you shall not merely do what happened to the fig tree, but if you say to this mountain, "Be lifted and thrown into the sea!" it will happen. <sup>22</sup>And everything you may ask in prayer you will obtain, if you believe.

<sup>23</sup>Upon His entering the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people stepped up to Him during His teaching and said, "By what authority are you doing these things and who gave you this authority?" <sup>24</sup>Jesus answered them, Let Me ask you one question, too, and if you answer Me, then I will tell you by what authority I do these things: <sup>25</sup>Whence was John's baptism derived, from heaven or from men? But they argued among themselves, "If we say 'From heaven,' he will say to us, 'Then why did you not believe him?'" <sup>26</sup>But if we say, 'From men,' we are afraid of the people, for they all consider John a prophet." <sup>27</sup>So they answered Jesus, "We do not know." He said to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

<sup>28</sup>But how does this seem to you: A man had two sons and, going to the first, he said, "Son, go out and work today in the vineyard." <sup>29</sup>He replied, "I will, Sir!" and did not go. <sup>30</sup>Going to the second, he said the same to him; but he answered, "I do not want to." Afterward he felt sorry and went out. <sup>31</sup>Which of the two did the father's will? They said, "The latter." Jesus said to them, Truly I tell you, the tax-gatherers and the prostitutes shall enter the kingdom of heaven ahead of you. <sup>32</sup>For John came to you on a mission of righteousness and you did not believe him; but the tax gatherers and the prostitutes believed him, and although you saw that, yet you did not afterward repent and believe him.

<sup>33</sup>Hear another parable:<sup>d</sup> There was a proprietor who planted a vineyard, hedged it in, dug out a wine press in it, built a watchtower and leased it to tillers, then went abroad. <sup>34</sup>When vintage time approached, he sent his agents to the tillers to collect his share; <sup>35</sup>but the tillers took his agents and beat up one, killed another, and stoned a third. <sup>36</sup>Subsequently he sent other agents more numerous than the first, whom they treated in the same way. <sup>37</sup>Finally he sent them his son, saying, "They will respect my son." <sup>38</sup>But when the workers saw his son, they said among themselves, "This is the heir! Come on, let us kill him and get hold of his inheritance." <sup>39</sup>So they seized him, put him out of the vineyard, and killed him. <sup>40</sup>When therefore the owner of the vineyard arrives, what will he do to those tillers?

<sup>41</sup>They answered, "He will put the wretches to a miserable death and will lease the vineyard to other workmen, who will pay him his share each season." <sup>42</sup>Jesus said to them, Did you never read in the Scriptures,<sup>e</sup> "The stone which the builders rejected has become the corner stone; this is the Lord's doing and it fills our eyes with wonder"? <sup>43</sup>I tell you, therefore, that the kingdom of God shall be taken from you and will be given to a people that produces its fruits. <sup>44</sup>Whoever falls on that stone will be smashed, and on whom it falls, he shall be pulverized.

<sup>45</sup>When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard His parables, they knew He was talking about them, <sup>46</sup>and tried to have Him arrested; but they were afraid of the crowds, since they considered Him a prophet.

22 JESUS AGAIN ADDRESSED THEM in parables, saying:<sup>f</sup> <sup>2</sup>The kingdom of heaven is similar to a king who prepared a wedding banquet for his son <sup>3</sup>and sent out his servants to notify those invited to the wedding; and they would not come. <sup>4</sup>Once more he sent other servants, saying, "Tell those invited, Look here! I have gotten my dinner ready, my steers and fatted beasts are killed and everything is prepared: come to the wedding.”<sup>5</sup> But without paying attention to it, they went off, this one to the field he owned, that one to his trade,<sup>6</sup> and the rest, taking hold of his servants, ill-treated and killed them.

<sup>7</sup>The king was infuriated; he dispatched his troops, destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. <sup>8</sup>He then told his servants, “True, the banquet is ready; but the invited guests proved undeserving, <sup>9</sup>so you go to the road crossings and invite to the wedding everyone you find.” <sup>10</sup>Those servants, as they went out on the roads, got together all they came across, both bad and good, and the wedding was fully supplied with guests.

<sup>11</sup>But when the king came in to look the guests over, he noticed there a man not dressed in a wedding robe;<sup>5</sup> <sup>12</sup>to whom he said, “Friend, how did you enter here without a wedding robe?” But he was speechless. <sup>13</sup>Then the king said to his domestics, “Bind him hand and foot and throw him out into the outside darkness; there shall be weeping and grinding of teeth.” <sup>14</sup>For many are called, but few are chosen.

Tuesday, April 4, 30 A.D.

<sup>15</sup>The Pharisees then went and plotted how they might entangle Him in argument. <sup>16</sup>So they dispatched their disciples to Him, with the Herodians,<sup>h</sup> who said, “Teacher, we know that you are sincere and that you teach the way of God honestly; you are afraid of none and you court no one’s favor. <sup>17</sup>Give us therefore your opinion: Is it right to pay tax to Caesar or not?” <sup>18</sup>But Jesus saw through their malice and said, Why do you try Me, you hypocrites? <sup>19</sup>Show me the legal coin! And they brought him a denarius. <sup>20</sup>Whose is this likeness and signature? He asked them. <sup>21</sup>They said, “Caesar’s.” He told them, Then pay Caesar what is due to Caesar, and God what is due to God. <sup>22</sup>As they listened, they marveled, and went off and left Him.

<sup>23</sup>That same day Sadducees approached Him, who say there is no resurrection, and asked Him, <sup>24</sup>“Teacher! Moses says,<sup>i</sup> If someone dies childless, his brother shall marry his widow and raise descendants for his brother. <sup>25</sup>Now there were seven brothers in our community, the first of whom married and died and, having no children, he left his widow to his brother. <sup>26</sup>So the second, and the third, down to the seventh <sup>27</sup>and, following them all, the woman died. <sup>28</sup>At the resurrection, then, whose wife will she be of the seven? For they all had her.”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus answered them, You are mistaken; you understand neither the Scriptures nor the power of God; <sup>30</sup>for in the resurrected state they neither marry nor are being married, but are like angels in heaven. <sup>31</sup>And about the rising of the dead, have you never read what God said to you,<sup>j</sup> <sup>32</sup>“I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob”? He is God, not of dead, but of living beings.

<sup>41</sup>While the Pharisees were still together, Jesus questioned them, <sup>42</sup>What is your idea about the Christ? Whose Son is He? They said to Him, “David's." <sup>43</sup>He asked them, How then does David in the Spirit call Him Lord, saying, <sup>44</sup>"The LORD said to my Lord, 'Sit at my right until I put your enemies under your feet'?" <sup>45</sup>If then David calls Him Lord, how is He his son? <sup>46</sup>No one was able to answer Him a word; neither from that day did anyone presume to question Him any more.

23 THEN JESUS REMARKED TO THE crowds and to His disciples: <sup>2</sup>The scribes and the Pharisees are occupying Moses' seat, <sup>3</sup>therefore do and observe whatever they tell you, but do not behave as they do; for they talk and do not practice. <sup>4</sup>They tie up heavy loads and place them on the people's shoulders, but they themselves do not care to move them with a finger. <sup>5</sup>They conduct all their activities to be noticed by men. For they broaden their embroidered prayers and enlarge their law-reminding tassels; <sup>6</sup>they cherish the chief place at dinners and the front seats in the synagogues, <sup>7</sup>the greetings in the markets and to be called "Rabbi" by men.

<sup>8</sup>But you must not be called "Rabbi," for One is your Teacher and you are all brothers. <sup>9</sup>And call no one on earth your father, <sup>m</sup>for One is your heavenly Father; <sup>10</sup>neither be called instructors, for Christ is your one Instructor. <sup>n</sup><sup>11</sup>But your greatest shall be your minister; <sup>12</sup>for whoever elevates himself shall be humbled, and whoever humbles himself shall be elevated.

<sup>13</sup>Alas for you, hypocritical scribes and Pharisees; because you shut the kingdom of heaven in people's faces; for neither do you enter, <sup>o</sup>nor do you allow those entering to go in. <sup>14</sup>(Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for, professing that you pray long, you become executives for widows' properties. For this you shall receive greater judgment.) <sup>15</sup>Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you traverse sea and land to make one proselyte and, when he becomes one, you make him a son of perdition twice worse than yourselves.

<sup>16</sup>Alas for you, blind leaders, who say, "If anyone swears by the temple, it means nothing; but if anyone swears by the temple's gold, he is obligated." <sup>17</sup>Blind fools! For what is greater, the gold, or the temple that renders the gold sacred? <sup>18</sup>Further, "If anyone swears by the altar, it means nothing; but if he swears by the offering upon it, he is obligated." <sup>19</sup>Blind ones, what is greater, the offering, or the altar that renders the offering sacred? <sup>20</sup>Then one who swears by the altar, swears by it and by everything on it, <sup>21</sup>and one who swears by the temple, swears by it and by Him who occupies it, <sup>22</sup>and one who swears by heaven, swears by the throne of God and by Him who sits upon it.

<sup>23</sup>Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you tithe mint, dill, and cummin, and you omit the weightier aspects of the Law — justice, mercy, and fidelity. These you ought to do, without omitting the others; <sup>24</sup>blind leaders, who strain out the gnat but swallow the camel!

<sup>25</sup>Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of extortion and intemperance. <sup>p</sup><sup>26</sup>Blind Pharisees, first clean the inside of the cup and the plate so that its outside may be clean as well. <sup>27</sup>Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you resemble white-washed tombs; they appear beautiful on the outside, but inside they are full of dead men's bones and every impurity. <sup>28</sup>So you seem to men outwardly upright, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

<sup>29</sup>Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for you build the tombs of the prophets and you decorate the monuments of the righteous, <sup>30</sup>and you say, "Had we lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have been their associates in the bloody death of the prophets." <sup>31</sup>Thus you testify against yourselves; for you are the sons of the prophets' murderers, <sup>32</sup>and you fill up the measure of your fathers. <sup>33</sup>Serpents! Brood of snakes! How will you escape the sentence of perdition?<sup>q</sup>

<sup>34</sup>Therefore, take notice, I will send you prophets and sages and scribes, some of whom you will kill and crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from town to town, <sup>35</sup>so that there may come upon you all the righteous blood that has been shed on the earth, from the blood of the righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah the son of Barachiah, whom you murdered between the temple and the altar. <sup>36</sup>I assure you that all this shall come upon this generation.

<sup>37</sup>Jerusalem! Jerusalem! murdering the prophets and stoning those sent to you! How often have I wanted to gather your children as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings; but you were unwilling. <sup>38</sup>See, your house is left forsaken to you; <sup>39</sup>for I tell you that you will no longer see Me at all until you say, "Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord."

Tuesday toward evening, April 4, 30 A.D.

24 LEAVING THE TEMPLE, JESUS went on His way, and His disciples came forward to point out to Him the temple buildings; <sup>2</sup>but He replied to them, Do you not see all this? I assure you, not one stone shall be left here on another, that shall not be thrown down.

<sup>3</sup>When He was seated on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately and said, "Tell us when this will happen and what will be the sign of Your coming and of the end of the age." <sup>4</sup>Jesus replied to them, "Look out that none mislead you; <sup>5</sup>for many shall come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and shall mislead many.

Tuesday, April 4, 30 A.D.

<sup>6</sup>You will be hearing of wars and rumors of wars; see that you be not troubled; for they have to come, but that is not yet the end. <sup>7</sup>For nation shall rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom and there shall be famines and earthquakes in various places; <sup>8</sup>all these are but the early pains of childbirth.

<sup>9</sup>Then they shall hand you over for persecution and they will kill you, and you will be hated by all the nations on account of My name. <sup>10</sup>Many then shall fall away and shall betray one another and hate one another, <sup>11</sup>and many false prophets shall arise and shall deceive many <sup>12</sup>and, due to excessive lawlessness, the love of many shall be chilled. <sup>13</sup>But he who perseveres to the end shall be saved. <sup>14</sup>And this Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached all over the world to testify to all the nations, and then the end will come.

<sup>15</sup>When you, therefore, see the desolating abomination mentioned by the prophet Daniel,<sup>s</sup> set up in the holy place — let the reader take note of this <sup>16</sup>— then those in Judea should flee to the mountains; <sup>17</sup>one on the roof must not go down to fetch things out of his house, <sup>18</sup>and one in the field should not turn back to pick up his coat. <sup>19</sup>But alas for the childbearing and the nursing women in those days!

<sup>20</sup>Pray that your flight may not be in winter or on a Sabbath, <sup>21</sup>for then there shall be such great suffering as has never been experienced from the world's beginning until now, nor ever shall be. <sup>22</sup>If those days were not shortened, not a mortal could survive. However, due to the elect, those days will be shortened.

<sup>23</sup>If someone then tells you, "Look! here is the Christ!" or, "There!" do not believe him, <sup>24</sup>for false Messiahs and false prophets shall be raised up and they will show great signs and wonders to mislead, if possible, even the elect. <sup>25</sup>Mind that I have foretold you. <sup>26</sup>So, if they say to you, "He is there in the desert!" do not go out; "In these rooms here!" do not believe it. <sup>27</sup>For like the lightning that flashes from the east and illumines to the west, so will the coming of the Son of Man be. <sup>28</sup>Wherever there is a corpse, the vultures will flock.

<sup>32</sup>Learn a lesson from the fig tree: As soon as her branch becomes tender and puts out leaves, you know that summer is near. <sup>33</sup>So when you observe all this, you know that He is so near, He is at the door. <sup>34</sup>I assure you, all this will happen before this present generation passes on.<sup>v</sup> <sup>35</sup>Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall never pass away. <sup>36</sup>But no one knows about that day and hour; neither the angels in heaven, nor the Son; only the Father.

Tuesday toward evening, April 4, 30 A.D.

<sup>37</sup>As were the days of Noah, so shall the coming of the Son of Man be; <sup>38</sup>for as in those days before the flood people ate and drank, married and were given in marriage until the day when Noah entered the ark, <sup>39</sup>and they did not understand until the deluge came and swept them all away, so shall the coming of the Son of Man be. <sup>40</sup>Then there shall be two in the field — one man shall be taken and one left; <sup>41</sup>two shall be grinding at the mill — one woman shall be taken and one left.

<sup>42</sup>Keep watch, therefore, because you do not know on what day your Lord will come. <sup>43</sup>But of this be sure, if the house manager had known in which watch period the thief was coming, he would have kept awake and would not have allowed his house to be broken into. <sup>44</sup>Therefore, be ready; for the Son of Man comes at an hour when you do not expect Him.

<sup>45</sup>Who, then, will be the faithful and prudent servant, whom the master has appointed in charge of his household to provide their sustenance on time? <sup>46</sup>Happy is that servant whom his master finds doing so when he arrives. <sup>47</sup>I assure you, he will put him in charge of all his property.

<sup>48</sup>But if that servant is wicked and says to himself, "My master is delaying," <sup>49</sup>and he starts to strike his fellow workers, and dines and drinks with the drunkards, <sup>50</sup>that servant's master will arrive on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know <sup>51</sup>and will scourge him till his flesh is cut and will put him with the hypocrites; there shall be wailing and grinding of teeth.

Tuesday toward evening, April 4, 30 A.D.

25 THEN THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN shall be comparable to ten virgins, who, taking their lamps, went out to meet the bridegroom; <sup>2</sup>but five of them were foolish and five were prudent. <sup>3</sup>The foolish ones took the lamps but took no oil along with them; <sup>4</sup>while the prudent ones took along oil in the containers with their lamps. <sup>5</sup>And as the bridegroom delayed, they all grew drowsy and fell asleep.

<sup>6</sup>But at midnight there came a shout, "Here is the bridegroom; go out to meet him!" <sup>7</sup>Then all those virgins got up and trimmed their lamps. <sup>8</sup>And the foolish said to the prudent, "Give us from your oil, for our lamps are going out." <sup>9</sup>But the prudent answered, "No, indeed, there would not be enough for you and us; go to the dealers and buy for yourselves!"

<sup>10</sup>Now while they were away buying, the bridegroom came<sup>w</sup> and those ready entered the banquet hall with him. And the door was shut. <sup>11</sup>Afterward the remaining virgins came and said, "Master, master, open up for us!" <sup>12</sup>But he replied, "I tell you truly, I do not know you!" <sup>13</sup>So keep watch, for you know neither the day nor the hour (when the Son of Man will come).

<sup>14</sup>The situation is like that of a man going abroad, who summoned his domestic servants and committed to them his belongings: <sup>15</sup>To one he gave five talents,<sup>x</sup> to another, two, and to a third, one — to each according to his personal ability; then he went abroad. <sup>16</sup>At once the one with the five talents went and did business with them and gained another five; <sup>17</sup>so did the one with two talents gain another two. <sup>18</sup>But the one with one talent went and dug in the earth and hid his master's money.

<sup>19</sup>After a long time the master of those servants came back and settled accounts with them. <sup>20</sup>The one who had five talents came forward and brought five more talents, saying, "Master, you entrusted to me five talents; look, I have gained these other five." <sup>21</sup>His master said to him, "Well done, good and faithful servant, you were trustworthy in a little, I will appoint you over much. Share the happiness of your master!" <sup>22</sup>Then the one with two talents came and said, "Master, you handed me two talents; see, I have gained two talents more." <sup>23</sup>The master said to him, "Well done, good and faithful servant; you were trustworthy in little, I will appoint you over much. Share the happiness of your master."

<sup>24</sup>But the one who had received one talent also came forward and said, "Master, knowing you that you are a harsh man, reaping where you never sowed and gathering where you did not winnow, <sup>25</sup>I was in fear, so I went and buried the talent in the ground; here you have yours." <sup>26</sup>His Master replied to him, "Despicable and lazy slave! You knew that I reap where I did not sow and gather where I did not winnow? <sup>27</sup>Then you should have placed my money with the bankers, and on my return I would have gotten my capital with interest. <sup>28</sup>So, take the talent away from him and give it to the one with the ten talents." <sup>29</sup>For to everyone who has, shall be given and he will have more than plenty; but from him who is wanting shall be taken what he has. <sup>30</sup>"Throw the useless servant into the outside darkness; there shall be mourning and grinding of teeth."

<sup>31</sup>When the Son of Man comes in His glory, and all the angels with Him, then He shall be seated on His glory throne, <sup>32</sup>and all nations shall be gathered before Him. And He shall separate them from one another as a shepherd parts the sheep from the goats, <sup>33</sup>and He shall place the sheep at His right and the goats at His left.

<sup>34</sup>The King will then say to those at His right, "Come, My Father's blessed ones, inherit the kingdom that has been prepared for you from the world's founding, <sup>35</sup>for I was hungry and you gave Me to eat; I was thirsty and you gave Me drink; I was a stranger and you entertained Me; <sup>36</sup>naked<sup>z</sup> and you clothed Me; sick and you looked after Me; in prison and you visited Me."

<sup>37</sup>Then the righteous will answer Him, "Lord, when did we see Thee hungry and nourished Thee, or thirsty and furnished drink? <sup>38</sup>When did we see Thee a stranger and entertained, or naked and furnished clothing? <sup>39</sup>When did we see Thee ill or in prison and visited Thee?" <sup>40</sup>And the King will answer, I assure you, so far as you did it to one of the least of these brothers of Mine, you did it to Me.

left, Begone from Me, accursed ones, to the everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels; <sup>42</sup>for I was hungry and you did not feed Me; thirsty and you gave Me no drink; <sup>43</sup>I was a stranger and you did not entertain Me; naked and you failed to clothe Me; ill and in prison and you did not come to see Me. <sup>44</sup>Then shall they, too, answer, "Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or ill or in prison and were of no service to you?" <sup>45</sup>He will then answer them, I assure you, so far as you failed to do it to one of these humblest, you failed to do it to Me. <sup>46</sup>And they shall go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.

26 WHEN JESUS HAD FINISHED ALL these teachings, He said to His disciples, <sup>2</sup>You know that after two days the Passover is celebrated and the Son of Man shall be handed over to be crucified. <sup>3</sup>At the same time the chief priests and the elders of the people met at the palace of the high priest, Caiaphas by name, <sup>4</sup>and plotted to arrest Jesus underhandedly and to kill Him. <sup>5</sup>But they said, "Not during the Feast, else there might be a riot among the people."

Saturday evening, April 1, 30 A.D.

that she has done shall be mentioned to her memory.

April 2-5, 30 A.D.

<sup>14</sup>Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests <sup>15</sup>and said, "What are you willing to give me and I will hand Him over to you?" And they weighed him out thirty pieces of silver.<sup>b</sup> <sup>16</sup>From then on he watched for a chance to betray Him.

Thursday evening, April 6, 30 A.D.

<sup>17</sup>On the first day of unleavened bread the disciples approached Jesus and said, "Where do You want us to prepare for You to eat the Passover?" <sup>18</sup>He said, Go into the city to so-and-so and tell him, The Teacher says, My time is near; I shall observe the Passover with My disciples at your house. <sup>19</sup>So the disciples did as Jesus directed them and prepared the Passover.

<sup>20</sup>As twilight was falling, He reclined with the twelve disciples <sup>21</sup>and during their eating He said, I tell you truly that one of you shall betray Me. <sup>22</sup>Greatly distressed, they began to say to Him one after the other, "It is not I, Lord?" <sup>23</sup>But He replied, One who dipped his hand with Me in the dish, he shall betray Me. <sup>24</sup>The Son of Man shall indeed go away as has been written of Him, but alas for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! Better for that man had he never been born. <sup>25</sup>Judas, who betrayed Him, responded, "It is not I, Rabbi?" He said to him, As you say!<sup>c</sup>

<sup>26</sup>As they were eating, Jesus took bread, blessed and broke it and gave it to the disciples, saying, Take, eat, this is My body. <sup>27</sup>He also took the cup and after giving thanks, He gave it to them, saying, All of you drink of it; <sup>28</sup>for this is My covenanted blood, poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. <sup>29</sup>I tell you, from now on I shall not drink of the product of the vine at all until that day when I shall drink it new with you in My Father's kingdom.

went out to the Mount of Olives.

<sup>31</sup>Then Jesus said to them, Tonight you will all find in Me occasion for stumbling, for it is written,<sup>d</sup> "I will strike the shepherd and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered."<sup>32</sup>But after My rising I will precede you to Galilee.

<sup>33</sup>Peter answered Him, "Though all the rest feel scandalized on your account, I never!" <sup>34</sup>Jesus said to him, I assure you, this night before a rooster crows, you will thrice disown Me. <sup>35</sup>Peter said to Him, "Even if I must die with you, never will I disown you!" And all the disciples spoke the same way.

<sup>36</sup>Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane,<sup>e</sup> and told the disciples, Sit down here, while I go yonder and pray. <sup>37</sup>Taking along Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, He began to feel grieved and deeply distressed. <sup>38</sup>Then He said to them, My soul is mortally grieved; stay here and keep watch with Me. <sup>39</sup>And, moving forward a little, He fell on His face, praying, My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass Me by; however, not as I will but as Thou wilt!<sup>f</sup>

<sup>40</sup>When He came to the disciples, He found them fast asleep and said to Peter: So you were not able to watch with Me for a single hour? <sup>41</sup>Watch and pray, so that you may not walk into temptation; the spirit is certainly willing, but the flesh is weak.

Thursday midnight, April 6, 30 A.D.

<sup>42</sup>For a second time He went away and prayed, My Father, if it cannot pass by Me without My drinking it, Thy will be done! <sup>43</sup>When He came back, He found them again asleep, for their eyes were heavy; so <sup>44</sup>He left them once more and went away the third time uttering again the same prayer.<sup>45</sup>Then He came to the disciples and said to them, Still sleeping and taking your rest? The hour has come, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.<sup>g</sup> <sup>46</sup>Arise! Let us be going! Look, My betrayer is nearing.

<sup>55</sup>At the same time Jesus said to the crowds, As against a robber you have come with swords and clubs to arrest Me. Daily I have sat in the temple, teaching, and you never seized Me. <sup>56</sup>But all this has occurred, so that the writings of the prophets are fulfilled. Then all the disciples deserted Him and fled.

Early Friday, April 7, 30 A.D.

<sup>57</sup>Those who had arrested Jesus led Him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders had met. <sup>58</sup>But from a distance Peter<sup>j</sup> followed Him as far as the high priest's courtyard and, stepping inside, he sat down with the attendants to see the end. <sup>59</sup>Now the chief priests and the entire Sanhedrin<sup>k</sup> looked for false testimony against Jesus,<sup>l</sup> so they might execute Him, <sup>60</sup>but though many false witnesses came forward, they found nothing. ## MATTHEW 26, 27 Peter's Denial; Jesus Facing Pilate, Who Surrenders Him

Early Friday, April 7, 30 A.D.

<sup>61</sup>who said, "This fellow says, 'I have power to destroy God's temple and to build it again in three days!'"

<sup>62</sup>So the high priest stood up and said to Him, "Have you nothing to reply? What about their evidence against you?" <sup>63</sup>But Jesus was silent. The high priest said to Him, "I charge you on oath by the living God that you tell us whether you are the Christ, the Son of God!" <sup>64</sup>Jesus said to him, As you say! Besides I tell you that shortly you shall see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Almighty and coming upon the clouds of heaven.

<sup>69</sup>Now Peter sat outside in the courtyard and one girl came up to him, saying, "And you were with Jesus of Galilee!" <sup>70</sup>But before them all he made denial, "I do not know what you mean!" <sup>71</sup>As he was going out into the vestibule, another girl noticed him and said to those near, "This fellow was with Jesus of Nazareth!" <sup>72</sup>Again he denied with an oath, "I do not know the man!" <sup>73</sup>A little later the bystanders came up and said to Peter, "You certainly are one of them, too, for your accent shows you up!" <sup>74</sup>Then he started to curse and to swear, "I do not know the man!"

That moment a rooster crowed <sup>75</sup>and Peter recollected the word Jesus had spoken, "You will disown Me thrice before a rooster crows." And going outside he cried bitterly.

27 AT DAWN ALL THE CHIEF priests and the elders of the people held consultation against Jesus in order to execute Him. <sup>2</sup>Having bound Him, they led Him away and handed Him over to Pilate the governor.

<sup>3</sup>When Judas, His betrayer, saw that He was doomed, he felt remorse and returned the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, <sup>4</sup>saying, "I sinned in betraying innocent blood."<sup>m</sup> But they said, "What is that to us? That is your lookout!" <sup>5</sup>He then flung down the silver into the temple, withdrew and, going off, hanged himself.

<sup>11</sup>But Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor questioned Him, "Are you the king of the Jews?" Jesus replied, As you say.<sup>o</sup> <sup>12</sup>And to the accusations of the chief priests and the elders against Him He made no reply. <sup>13</sup>Then Pilate said to Him, "Do you not hear how much they testify against you?" <sup>14</sup>But to the governor's great surprise He answered him never a word.

<sup>15</sup>Now it was customary for the governor to release at the feast one prisoner, selected by the populace, <sup>16</sup>and at that time they held a notorious convict called Barabbas. <sup>17</sup>So when they had assembled, Pilate said to them, "Whom do you want released to you, Barabbas or Jesus, who is called Christ?" — <sup>18</sup>for he knew that they<sup>p</sup> had delivered Him out of envy.

<sup>19</sup>While he was seated on the tribunal, his wife sent him a message that said, "Do nothing to that innocent man, for I was deeply affected today in dreaming about him." <sup>20</sup>But the chief priests and elders persuaded the masses to ask for Barabbas and to have Jesus destroyed. <sup>21</sup>The governor conferred with them, "Which of the two shall I release to you?" They said, "Barabbas!" <sup>22</sup>Pilate asked them, "Then what shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?" They all said, "Let him be crucified!" <sup>23</sup>"Why, what wrong has he done?" asked Pilate; but they shouted more loudly, "Let him be crucified!"

<sup>24</sup>When Pilate saw that he was getting nowhere, but that instead a riot was brewing, he took water and washed his hands over against the crowd, saying, "I am innocent of this good man's blood; it is your concern." <sup>25</sup>And all the people answered, "His blood be on us and on our children." <sup>26</sup>He then released Barabbas to them; but Jesus he flogged and handed over to be crucified.

Friday forenoon

<sup>38</sup>Two thieves were at that time crucified along with Him, one to the right and one to the left. <sup>39</sup>And those walking by scoffed at Him, wagging their heads and saying, <sup>40</sup>"You destroyer and reconstructor of the temple in three days, save yourself if you are the Son of God and come down from the cross!" <sup>41</sup>Similarly, the chief priests with the scribes and the elders twitted Him, <sup>42</sup>"He saved others; but he cannot save himself. Is he king of Israel? Let him now come down from the cross and we will believe in him. <sup>43</sup>He trusts in God? Let Him take him off now, if He loves him; for he said, 'I am God's Son.'" <sup>44</sup>The thieves, too, that were crucified with Him, leveled the same reproach at Him.

Friday afternoon

<sup>45</sup>From twelve o'clock until three, darkness lay on all the land, <sup>46</sup>and about three o'clock Jesus cried out with a loud voice,<sup>s</sup> Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?

<sup>47</sup>Some of the bystanders who heard it, said, "He calls for Elijah," <sup>48</sup>and at once one of them ran, took a sponge, dipped it in vinegar and, putting it on a reed, gave Him drink. <sup>49</sup>But the others said, "Hold on! Let us see if Elijah comes to save him."

<sup>54</sup>When the centurion and his men, who were watching Jesus, observed the earthquake and everything that happened, they were dreadfully frightened and said, "Truly, this was God's Son!" <sup>55</sup>There were also numerous women observing from a distance, those who had followed Jesus from Galilee rendering Him service, <sup>56</sup>including Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and

MATTHEW 27, 28 Burial, Resurrection; Meets Disciples; the Great Command

Friday afternoon

Joseph,<sup>t</sup> and the mother of Zebedee's sons.

Burial between 3 and 6 p.m.

<sup>57</sup>At the coming on of evening<sup>u</sup> there came a rich man from Arimathea,<sup>v</sup> called Joseph, who had himself been made a disciple of Jesus; <sup>58</sup>he personally went to Pilate and requested the body of Jesus. Then Pilate gave orders to have it relinquished. <sup>59</sup>When Joseph had obtained the body, he wrapped it in clean linen <sup>60</sup>and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had cut in the rock; then, rolling a large stone at the opening of the tomb, he went away. <sup>61</sup>But Mary Magdalene was there and the other Mary<sup>w</sup> sitting opposite the tomb.

Saturday

<sup>62</sup>Next day, that is the day after the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees resorted to Pilate <sup>63</sup>and said, "We remember, Sir, that this impostor said, while still alive,<sup>x</sup> 'After three days I will rise.'<sup>64</sup>Give orders, therefore, to have the tomb safeguarded until the third day, so his disciples may not come and steal him and then tell the people, 'He is risen from the dead,' and the final fraud will be worse than the first." <sup>65</sup>Pilate said to them, "The guard is yours; go on and make it as secure as you can." <sup>66</sup>So they went and safeguarded the tomb; they sealed the stone and set a guard.

Sunday morning, April 9, 30 A.D.

28 AFTER THE CLOSE OF THE Sabbath, with the dawning of the week's first day, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to look at the tomb. <sup>2</sup>A severe earthquake occurred; for an angel of the Lord came down from heaven and, approaching the stone, rolled it aside and sat on it. <sup>3</sup>His appearance was like lightning and his clothing white as snow. <sup>4</sup>The sentries shook from fear of him and became like corpses.

Sunday morning, April 9, 30 A.D.

"Have no fear! I know you are looking for Jesus who was crucified. <sup>6</sup>He is not here; for He is risen just as He said. Come, see the place where He lay. <sup>7</sup>And go, hasten to tell His disciples, 'He is risen from the dead and is preceding you into Galilee; there you will see Him.' See, I have told you."

<sup>8</sup>Hastily they left the tomb, in fear and with great joy, and ran to tell the news to His disciples. <sup>9</sup>And behold, Jesus met them, saying, Greeting! Going up to Him, they clasped His feet and knelt to Him. <sup>10</sup>Jesus then said to them, Have no fear! Go, take the message to My brothers to leave for Galilee; and they shall see Me there.

<sup>11</sup>While they were on their way, some of the guard entered the city and announced to the chief priests everything that had occurred. <sup>12</sup>They, deliberating in session with the elders, gave the soldiers considerable money, <sup>13</sup>telling them to say: "His disciples came by night and stole him while we were asleep!" <sup>14</sup>"And if this reaches the governor's ears, we will win him over and keep you out of trouble." <sup>15</sup>So the guards accepted the money and did as they were instructed, and this story has been current among the Jews until the present day.

Late April?

<sup>16</sup>But the eleven disciples went away to Galilee, to the mountain<sup>y</sup> where Jesus had made appointment with them, <sup>17</sup>and when they saw Him, they worshiped Him, but some were in doubt. <sup>18</sup>As Jesus approached them, He said, All authority in heaven and on earth has been given Me. <sup>19</sup>Go out, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, <sup>20</sup>and teaching them to observe everything that I have enjoined upon you. And, mind you, I am alongside you all the days until the end of the age.<sup>z</sup>

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO # MARK

1 THE BEGINNING OF THE GOSPEL OF Jesus Christ (the Son of God); <sup>2</sup>as it is written in the prophet Isaiah,<sup>a</sup> "Behold, I send My messenger ahead of you, who shall prepare your way; <sup>3</sup>a voice of one shouting in the desert, 'Make the Lord's way ready; level His paths!'"

Summer of 26 A.D.

<sup>4</sup>John the Baptist appeared in the desert, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins, <sup>5</sup>and all Judaea and all the Jerusalemites came out to him and were baptized by him in the Jordan river upon confessing their sins.

<sup>6</sup>John was dressed in camel's hair, with a leather belt around his waist, and he ate locusts and wild honey. <sup>7</sup>He proclaimed, "After me comes One stronger than I, whose sandal straps I am not fit to stoop down and untie. <sup>8</sup>I have baptized you with water, but He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."

Late 26 or early 27 A.D.

<sup>9</sup>In those days Jesus came from Nazareth in Galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan. <sup>10</sup>And the moment He came up from the water He saw the heavens parted and the Spirit, dove-like, coming down upon Him. <sup>11</sup>There also came a voice from heaven, 'Thou art My Son, My Beloved; in Thee I am delighted.

<sup>12</sup>Without delay the Spirit drove Him into the desert <sup>13</sup>where He remained forty days, being tempted by Satan. He was with the wild beasts, and the angels waited on Him.

January, 28 A.D.

<sup>14</sup>After John had been arrested, Jesus went to Galilee, preaching the Gospel of God, <sup>15</sup>saying: The time is completed and the kingdom of God is near; repent and believe in the good news!

<sup>16</sup>As he was passing along the sea of Galilee, He noticed Simon and his brother Andrew casting the net into the sea, for they were fishermen. <sup>17</sup>Jesus said to them, 'Come after Me and I will make you to become fishers of men.'

Early 28 A.D.

<sup>21</sup>They entered Capernaum<sup>c</sup> and, as soon as it was Sabbath, He went to the synagogue and taught.<sup>d</sup> <sup>22</sup>They marveled at His teaching, for He taught them as an authority and not as the scribes.

<sup>23</sup>There was in their synagogue just then a man with an unclean spirit who cried out, <sup>24</sup>"What dealings have we with you, Jesus Nazarene? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are, — the Holy One of God." <sup>25</sup>Jesus rebuked him: Silence, and get out of him! <sup>26</sup>The unclean spirit, throwing him into a spasm, cried out with a loud voice and came out of him. <sup>27</sup>They were all so amazed, they inquired among themselves, "What does this mean? New teaching with authority? He orders even the unclean spirits and they obey him!" <sup>28</sup>And rapidly His fame spread in every direction through that whole Galilean region.

<sup>32</sup>In the evening after sunset they brought to Him all the sick and the demon-possessed <sup>33</sup>until the whole city was gathered at the door. <sup>34</sup>Many who were ill with various diseases He cured and many demons He cast out; but since the demons knew Him, He did not permit them to speak.

but go and show yourself to the priest, and, to assure others, offer what Moses has prescribed<sup>e</sup> for your purification. <sup>45</sup>But he went off and started to publish it so much and to spread the report so widely, that Jesus could no longer enter a town openly, but stayed outside in lonely places. And from everywhere people came to Him.

Before April, 28 A.D.

2 SOME DAYS LATER HE RETURNED to Capernaum and it was learned that He was at home. <sup>2</sup>So many congregated that shortly there was no room at the door. He was bringing them His message, <sup>3</sup>when they came and brought a paralytic to Him, carried by four men. <sup>4</sup>And, being unable to get near Him on account of the crowd, they tore up the roof above Him and through the opening lowered the mat on which the paralytic was lying.

<sup>5</sup>Observing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, Son, your sins are forgiven (you). <sup>6</sup>But some of the scribes, sitting there, argued in their minds, <sup>7</sup>"Why does he talk this way? It is blasphemy. Who but God alone can forgive sins?" <sup>8</sup>Perceiving at once in His soul that they were reasoning that way to themselves, Jesus said to them, Why do you argue this way in your hearts? <sup>9</sup>Which is easier, to tell the paralytic, "Your sins are forgiven," or to say, "Rise, pick up your mat and walk off"? <sup>10</sup>But to let you know that the Son of Man has power to forgive sins on the earth, — He said to the paralytic, <sup>11</sup>I tell you, rise, pick up your mat and go home. <sup>12</sup>At once he arose, picked up his mat and went off in the presence of everyone, so that they were all amazed and glorified God, saying, "We never yet saw anything like it!" <sup>13</sup>Then He went out again by the seaside, where all the people came to Him, and He taught them.

<sup>14</sup>As He walked along, He noticed Levi,<sup>f</sup> the son of Alpheus, sitting at the tax office, and said to him, Follow Me! He arose and followed Him. <sup>15</sup>And so it was as he reclined at table at his house, that along with Jesus, many tax collectors and sinners were reclining; for many such were His followers. <sup>16</sup>The Pharisaic scribes,<sup>g</sup> who observed that He dined with sinners and tax collectors, remarked to His disciples, "Why does he eat with tax collectors and sinners?" <sup>17</sup>On hearing it, Jesus told them, Not the well but the sick have need of a physician; I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners (to repentance).

April–May, 28 A.D.

<sup>18</sup>Both the disciples of John and the Pharisees were observing a fast; so they<sup>h</sup> came and said to Him, "Why do John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not fast?" <sup>19</sup>Jesus replied to them, Can the wedding guests fast while the bridegroom is in their company? So long as the bridegroom is with them they cannot fast; <sup>20</sup>but a time will come when the bridegroom<sup>i</sup> shall be taken from them and then will be their day to fast. <sup>21</sup>No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old coat; for the new piece would tear away from the old and the tear becomes worse. <sup>22</sup>Neither does one pour new wine into old wineskins; for the wine would burst the skins, with both wine and skins ruined. But new wine goes into new skins.

<sup>23</sup>He happened on a Sabbath to pass through a wheat field and His disciples, while walking, started picking the heads of wheat. <sup>24</sup>The Pharisees said to Him, "See how they are doing what is not allowed on the Sabbath!" <sup>25</sup>He replied, Have you never read what David and his men did, when hunger drove him to it? <sup>26</sup>How in the days of Abiathar the high priest he went into the house of God and ate the presented loaves,<sup>j</sup> which none but the priests are allowed to eat, and shared with his companions? <sup>27</sup>He said further to them, The Sabbath came for man's sake; not man for the Sabbath, <sup>28</sup>so that the Son of Man is Lord also of the Sabbath.

3 AGAIN HE VISITED THE SYNAgogue, and a man with a withered hand was there. <sup>2</sup>They watched Him, whether He would heal him on the Sabbath, so they might accuse Him. <sup>3</sup>He told the man with the shrunken hand, Stand in the center! <sup>4</sup>then asked them, Is it right to help or to hurt on the Sabbath; to save a life or to kill? But they kept still. <sup>5</sup>Looking around at them angrily and vexed at their callousness of heart, He said to the man, Hold out your hand! He held it out and his hand was restored. <sup>6</sup>And at once the Pharisees went out to plot against Him with the Herodians for the purpose of destroying Him.

Summer, 28 A.D.

<sup>7</sup>With His disciples Jesus retired to the seaside and a great many followed Him from Galilee and from Judea, <sup>8</sup>from Jerusalem, from Idumea, from beyond Jordan, and from around Tyre and Sidon — a large number came to Him when they heard what He had done. <sup>9</sup>He told His disciples to have a little boat ready for Him, so the throng might not dangerously crowd Him; <sup>10</sup>for He healed so many that all who had complaints closed in on Him to touch Him. <sup>11</sup>And whenever the unclean spirits saw Him, they fell before Him, screaming, "Thou art the Son of God!" <sup>12</sup>But He charged them strictly not to make Him known.

<sup>13</sup>Then He went up the mountain, summoned those He wanted, and they came to Him. <sup>14</sup>He ordained twelve to be with Him that He might send them out to preach, <sup>15</sup>with power to (heal the sick and to) expel demons. He ordained these twelve: <sup>16</sup>Simon whom He surnamed Peter; <sup>17</sup>James the son of Zebedee and John the brother of James, whom He surnamed Boanerges—that is, Sons of Thunder; <sup>18</sup>Andrew and Philip; Bartholomew and Matthew; Thomas and James, the son of Alphaeus;<sup>k</sup> Thaddeus and Simon of told them what had happened to the demoniac; also about the swine. <sup>17</sup>Then they began to implore Him to leave their shores.

<sup>18</sup>As He was embarking, the former demoniac requested Him to stay with Him; but He gave no permission. <sup>19</sup>Instead He said to him, Go back to your family and friends and tell them everything the Lord has done for you and the mercy He showed you! <sup>20</sup>And he went off and started to announce throughout Decapolis<sup>q</sup> everything that Jesus had done for him, and all were astonished.

<sup>21</sup>When Jesus had recrossed by boat to the other side, a great multitude massed around Him. He was on the shore, <sup>22</sup>when one of the synagogue directors, named Jairus, came and at sight of Him fell at His feet <sup>23</sup>and strongly pleaded with Him, "My daughter is at the point of death. Come, place your hands on her, that she may recover and live." <sup>24</sup>And He went with him. A vast host followed Him and thronged Him.

<sup>25</sup>A woman, too, who for twelve years <sup>26</sup>had suffered hemorrhages and had been treated much by many physicians, spending all she had without improving but rather growing worse, <sup>27</sup>when she heard about Jesus, came in the crowd behind and touched His robe, <sup>28</sup>for she said, "If only I touch His robe, I shall be healed." <sup>29</sup>At once her hemorrhage stopped, and she felt in her body that she was healed of her affliction.

<sup>30</sup>Then and there Jesus, conscious that power had gone from Him,<sup>r</sup> turned around in the crowd and asked, Who touched My clothes? <sup>31</sup>His disciples remarked to Him, "You see the crowd pressing you on all sides and you say, 'Who touched me?'" <sup>32</sup>But He looked around to see her who had done it. <sup>33</sup>Then the woman, afraid and shaking and knowing what had happened to her, came and fell at His feet and told Him the whole truth. <sup>34</sup>And He said to her, Daughter, your faith has saved you; go in peace and be healed of your affliction.

<sup>35</sup>While He was still speaking, there arrived those from the ruler's house who told him, "Your daughter is dead. Why trouble the teacher further?" <sup>36</sup>But Jesus, overhearing the spoken message, said to the synagogue ruler, Have no fear; only believe!

Autumn, 28 A.D.

6 LEAVING THERE, HE CAME TO HIS home town,<sup>s</sup> accompanied by His disciples, <sup>2</sup>and at the opening of Sabbath He began to teach in the synagogue. Many listeners were utterly amazed. "Where did he get all this?" they remarked. "What wisdom has been given him and what miracles are these that happen by his hands? <sup>3</sup>Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary and the brother of James and Joses and Jude and Simon?<sup>t</sup> And do not his sisters live here with us?" And they felt scandalized on His account.

Rejected at Nazareth; The Baptist Beheaded; Commissions the Twelve MARK 6

Autumn, 28 A.D.

<sup>4</sup>Jesus told them, No prophet is without honor except in his own community and among his relatives and in his home. <sup>5</sup>And He could do no mighty work there, except that He laid hands on a few sick and healed them. <sup>6</sup>And He wondered at their unbelief.

So He went around the nearby villages teaching, <sup>7</sup>and called the twelve, whom He began to send out two by two, giving them authority over the unclean spirits <sup>8</sup>and directing them to take nothing for the trip except only a staff —no bread, no bag, not a penny in the belt, <sup>9</sup>but wearing sandals; and: Do not wear two undergarments.

<sup>10</sup>He further told them, Wherever you enter a house, remain there until you leave the place. <sup>11</sup>And whatever community will neither receive you nor listen to you, when you leave there, shake off the dust from under your feet for a witness to them. (Truly I tell you, it will be more endurable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the judgment day than for that city.) <sup>12</sup>So they went out and preached in order that men might repent; <sup>13</sup>they expelled many demons, and many sick they anointed with oil and healed.

Early 29 A.D.

<sup>14</sup>King Herod heard of it, for Jesus' name became well known, and he said, "John the Baptist is risen from the dead and therefore these powers are working in him." <sup>15</sup>Others said, "He is Elijah"; others again, "He is a prophet like one of the typical prophets." <sup>16</sup>But on hearing of Him, Herod asserted, "John whom I beheaded, he has been personally returned to life."

<sup>17</sup>For Herod himself had sent to arrest John, and had confined him chained in prison, due to Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, for he had married her. <sup>18</sup>Because John had told Herod, "You have no right to have your brother's wife." <sup>19</sup>So Herodias held a grudge against him and wanted him executed, but proved unable; <sup>20</sup>for Herod stood in awe of John, whom he knew to be a straight and holy man.<sup>u</sup> He protected him and, on hearing him, felt greatly perplexed, and he enjoyed listening to him.

<sup>21</sup>An opportune time came, when on Herod's birthday he gave a banquet to his nobles and commanders and Galilean chiefs, <sup>22</sup>at which Herodias' own daughter came in and danced. She pleased Herod and his guests, so the king said to the girl, "Ask whatever you want and I will give it to you." <sup>23</sup>Then he swore to her, "Whatever you ask me, I will give it to you up to half my kingdom." <sup>24</sup>She went out and asked her mother, "What shall I request?" "The head of John the Baptist," she replied. <sup>25</sup>At once she hastened to the king and made the request, "I want you to give me this moment on a plate the head of John the Baptist."

Near April, 29 A.D.

<sup>30</sup>The apostles gathered around Jesus and reported to Him everything they had wrought and taught. <sup>31</sup>Then He told them, Come away each of you to a private place in the desert<sup>v</sup> and rest awhile. For so many were coming and going, they could not conveniently eat. <sup>32</sup>So they left in a boat for a lonely spot by themselves. <sup>33</sup>But the people saw them leaving, and many recognized them, and from all the towns they ran there on foot and arrived ahead of them. <sup>34</sup>When Jesus disembarked, He saw a large crowd and was deeply moved over them; because they were like sheep without a shepherd.

u) "Hagios," to be revered; set apart for, dedicated to, consecrated to God; holy.

v) Not necessarily sandy and barren, but isolated, solitary, away from towns and villages.

"Deserted" is related to it. The twelve needed private preparation.

MARK 6, 7 Feeds the 5,000; Walks on the Water; Discards Ceremonial Rules

Near April, 29 A.D.

And He began to teach them many things.

<sup>35</sup>As the hour grew late, His disciples came to Him and said, "This is a lonely spot and now the hour is late; <sup>36</sup>dismiss them so they may go to surrounding farms and villages and buy themselves something to eat." <sup>37</sup>But He answered them, "You give them to eat! They rejoined, "Shall we go, buy fifty dollars worth of food and feed them?" <sup>38</sup>He asked them, "How many loaves do you have? Go and find out! On ascertaining, they reported, "Five, and two fishes."

<sup>39</sup>He then gave them orders to have them all recline on the green grass by groups, <sup>40</sup>and they sat grouped by hundreds and by fifties. <sup>41</sup>Taking the five loaves and the two fishes and looking up toward heaven, He blessed and broke the bread and gave it to the disciples for distribution. He also divided the two fishes for them all. <sup>42</sup>They all ate and were fully satisfied.<sup>w</sup> <sup>43</sup>Of the broken pieces they picked up twelve full baskets aside from the fish. <sup>44</sup>And there were five thousand men who partook of the food.

<sup>45</sup>Then without delay He urged His disciples to board the boat and to cross over to Bethsaida, <sup>46</sup>while He dismissed the crowd, and after He had told them goodbye, He resorted to the mountain to pray.

April-May, 29 A.D.

They were beside themselves with amazement; <sup>52</sup>for they failed to understand the meaning of the loaves—their hearts were dull.

<sup>53</sup>After crossing over to the land, they arrived at Gennesaret and docked. <sup>54</sup>But as soon as they disembarked, the people recognized Him <sup>55</sup>and circited that entire district and undertook to carry on their mats to Him wherever they heard He was, all who had ailments. <sup>56</sup>And wherever He went, be it village or town or country, they deposited their sick in the market place and begged of Him to let them touch if only the tassel of His robe. And as many as touched Him were healed.

7 THEN THE PHARISEES AND CERTAIN of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem, called on Him jointly, <sup>2</sup>having noticed some of His disciples eating their food with unclean, that is, unwashed hands. <sup>3</sup>For the Pharisees and all the Jews,<sup>y</sup> who observe the traditions of the elders, do not eat without washing hands up to the elbow, <sup>4</sup>and when they come from market they do not eat without washing. And there are numerous other things they traditionally observe, such as washing cups and pots and bronze utensils (and tables).

<sup>5</sup>So the Pharisees and the scribes questioned Him, "Why do your disciples behave contrary to the elders' tradition, but eat the meal with unclean hands?" <sup>6</sup>He told them, Suitably did Isaiah prophesy about you hypocrites as written,<sup>z</sup> "This people honor Me with their lips; but their hearts are estranged from Me. <sup>7</sup>But vainly they worship Me, when teaching human regulations as doctrines." <sup>8</sup>You let go of God's law to cling to human tradition.

<sup>9</sup>He added, Politely you frustrate the law of God to observe your own tradition; <sup>10</sup>for Moses said, "Honor your father and your mother" and,<sup>a</sup> "Whoever curses father or mother, let him be executed." <sup>11</sup>But since you say, "If a man says to his father or mother, 'This is Corban, consecrated, else you might be benefited from me,' he is exempt," <sup>12</sup>you no longer allow him to do anything for his father and mother; <sup>13</sup>you annul God's word through your tradition that you have handed down. And you do many things of that kind.

<sup>14</sup>Calling the people to Him again, Jesus told them, You all listen to Me and understand:<sup>b</sup> <sup>15</sup>Nothing entering a man from the outside can defile him; but the things that come out of the man render the person unclean. <sup>16</sup>(If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear.)

<sup>17</sup>When, away from the crowd, He had gone indoors, His disciples questioned Him about this lesson <sup>18</sup>and He said to them, Are you, too, so lacking in comprehension? Do you not perceive that whatever enters from the outside cannot defile a person, <sup>19</sup>because it does not enter his heart, but his stomach, and in the purging process passes away? <sup>20</sup>He said further, What comes out of the man defiles him; <sup>21</sup>for from within, out of a man's heart wicked reasonings proceed — unchastities, <sup>22</sup>thefts, murders, adulteries, covetings, wickednesses, falsehood, lewdness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, thoughtlessness. <sup>23</sup>All these wicked things come from the inside and defile the person.

Early summer, 29 A.D.

<sup>24</sup>Then He arose and left there for the Tyre (and Sidon) district,<sup>c</sup> where He entered a house, not wanting anyone to know it; but He could not remain hidden. <sup>25</sup>Instead, a woman whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, as soon as she heard of Him, came and threw herself at His feet. <sup>26</sup>She was a Gentile, a native Syro-Phoenician, and she begged Him to expel the demon from her daughter. <sup>27</sup>He said to her, First let the children be satisfied; for it is not fair to take the children's bread and to throw it to the little dogs.<sup>d</sup> <sup>28</sup>But she answered Him, "Yes, Lord, yet the pups under the table eat from the children's scraps." <sup>29</sup>He told her, For this thought go your way; the demon has gone out of your daughter. <sup>30</sup>And when she reached home, she found the child lying on the bed and the demon expelled.

<sup>31</sup>Returning from the Tyre district, He passed through Sidon on to the Galilean sea and up the center of the Decapolis region. <sup>32</sup>And they brought Him a deaf man, hard of speech, and begged Him to lay hands on him. <sup>33</sup>Taking him by himself away from the crowd, He thrust His fingers into his ears and touched his tongue with saliva. <sup>34</sup>Then, looking up toward heaven, He sighed and said to him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. <sup>35</sup>And his ears were opened, and at once the obstruction of his tongue loosed and he spoke clearly.

<sup>36</sup>He charged them to tell no one; but the more He charged them, the more widely they broadcast it. <sup>37</sup>They were immeasurably astonished, and exclaimed, "How well He has done everything! He even makes the deaf hear and the dumb speak."

8 IN THOSE DAYS THERE WAS AGAIN an immense crowd with nothing to eat, so, summoning the disciples, He told them, <sup>2</sup>I am deeply moved concerning the people, because they have stayed with Me now for three days and have nothing to eat. <sup>3</sup>If I should send them home hungry, they would faint on the way, and some of them are from considerable distance.

<sup>4</sup>His disciples answered Him, "Where in this desert can we secure bread to satisfy such a number?" <sup>5</sup>He asked them, How many loaves do you have? They said, "Seven." <sup>6</sup>So He suggested to the crowd that they sit down on the ground, and, taking the seven loaves, He gave the blessing, broke them, presented them to His disciples to distribute, and they handed them around to the people. <sup>7</sup>They also had a few small fishes, which He blessed and told them to distribute. <sup>8</sup>So they ate and were satisfied, and they picked up the leftovers, seven goodsized baskets full. <sup>9</sup>About four thousand had eaten. He then dismissed them <sup>10</sup>and immediately embarking with His disciples, reached the Dalmanutha district.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>11</sup>The Pharisees came out and began to dispute with Him. To test Him, they asked Him for a sign from heaven. <sup>12</sup>Deeply sighing in His very soul, He said, Why does this generation seek a sign? I assure you, no sign shall be shown this generation. <sup>13</sup>So He left them, embarked again, and crossed to the other side.

<sup>14</sup>They had forgotten to bring along bread, nor did they have more than a single loaf with them in the boat. <sup>15</sup>So, when He cautioned them, Look out! Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of Herod's leaven! <sup>16</sup>they remarked<sup>f</sup> to each other, "Because we have no bread!" <sup>17</sup>Aware of it, He said to them, Why are you talking about having no bread? Do you still neither grasp nor understand? Is your heart calloused? <sup>18</sup>Having eyes can you not see and having ears can you not hear? And do you not remember <sup>19</sup>when I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets you picked up full of leftovers? They said to Him, "Twelve." <sup>20</sup>When there were seven loaves for the four thousand, how many baskets of leftovers did you pick up? They said to Him, "Seven." <sup>21</sup>He remarked to them, You still do not understand?

Midsummer, 29 A.D.

<sup>22</sup>They reached Bethsaida,<sup>g</sup> where they brought a blind man to Him and appealed to Him to touch him. <sup>23</sup>So, taking hold of the blind man's hand, He led him out of the village; then after putting saliva on his eyes, He put

Midsummer, 29 A.D.

His hands on him and asked him, Do you see anything? <sup>24</sup>He looked up and said, "I see people; I see them moving like trees." <sup>25</sup>Then again Jesus placed His hands on his eyes, and he looked steadily. He was restored and saw everything distinctly. <sup>26</sup>So Jesus sent him home saying: Do not even enter the village (nor tell anyone there).

<sup>27</sup>Jesus and His disciples left for the villages around Caesarea Philippi, and on the way He asked His disciples, Who do the people assert Me to be? <sup>28</sup>They told Him, "John the Baptist; but others say, Elijah, and others, one of the prophets." <sup>29</sup>He asked them, But you, who do you say I am? Peter answered Him, "Thou art the Christ."<sup>h</sup> <sup>30</sup>And He charged them to tell this to no one about Him.

<sup>31</sup>He then began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer much, and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests and the scribes, and be executed, and after three days rise again. <sup>32</sup>He told them this without reservation. Then Peter, drawing Him forward, began to remonstrate with Him; <sup>33</sup>but turning round and looking at His disciples, He rebuked Peter saying, Get behind Me, Satan, for you are not considering God's ways, but those of men. <sup>34</sup>Then, summoning the crowd as well as His disciples, He said to them, If anyone wishes to come after Me, let him renounce himself and take up his cross and follow Me. <sup>35</sup>For whoever wishes to save his life shall lose it; but whoever loses his life on behalf of Me and the Gospel shall save it. <sup>36</sup>For what does it benefit a person to gain the whole world and forfeit his own life? <sup>37</sup>For what shall a person give in exchange for his life?

<sup>38</sup>Should anyone in this immoral and sinful generation be ashamed of Me and of My teaching, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed, too, when He comes in His Father's glory with the holy angels.

e) Near western shore of the Galilean lake, not far from Tiberias. f) Dialogued.

g) Fish-house, for Capernaum, and so near it the two are sometimes identified.

h) This marks the high point in His teaching ministry. Toward this conviction He had patiently trained the twelve.

Midsummer, 29 A.D.

9 HE SAID TO THEM FURTHER, I ASsure you, there are some of these standing here, who will not taste death until they have seen the kingdom of God come in power.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>2</sup>Six days later Jesus took with him
Peter, James, and John and led them up a high mountain<sup>j</sup> alone by themselves, and in their presence He was changed in appearance. <sup>3</sup>His clothes too became a brilliant white, whiter than any bleacher on earth could bleach them. <sup>4</sup>And there appeared to them Elijah and Moses, and they conversed with Jesus.

<sup>5</sup>Peter suggested to Jesus, "Rabbi, how suitable that we are here! Let us build three booths — for you one, for Moses one and for Elijah one." <sup>6</sup>For he did not know what to remark, because they were awed.

<sup>7</sup>Then there came a cloud overshadowing them, and a voice came out of the cloud, This is My Son, the Beloved; listen to Him! <sup>8</sup>Suddenly, as they looked around, they no longer saw anyone with them except Jesus only.
<sup>9</sup>And as they were descending from the mountain, He forbade them to divulge to anyone what they had seen — until the Son of Man be risen from the dead. <sup>10</sup>So they kept the matter secret among themselves, while discussing together what rising from the dead might mean.<sup>k</sup>

<sup>11</sup>They also asked Him, "Why do the scribes maintain that Elijah must first come?" <sup>12</sup>He answered them, Elijah is indeed to come first, to put everything in order; but how is it written of the Son of Man that He shall endure much suffering and be counted nothing? <sup>13</sup>I tell you, however, that Elijah<sup>l</sup> has not merely come, but they have treated him as they pleased, just as was written of him.<sup>m</sup>

<sup>14</sup>As they reached the disciples, they

noticed a large crowd around them and scribes disputing with them <sup>15</sup>and, on seeing Him, the whole multitude was awed and, running toward Him, they greeted Him. <sup>16</sup>He asked them, What are you discussing? <sup>17</sup>One of the crowd answered Him, "Teacher, I have brought you my son, who has a dumb spirit; <sup>18</sup>whenever it gets hold on him, it throws him—he foams at the mouth,
he grinds his teeth, and he pines away.
I spoke to your disciples to expel it, but they could not."

plied, How long shall I be with you?
How long shall I put up with you?
Bring him to Me! <sup>20</sup>So they brought him. The spirit, on seeing Him, instantly threw the boy into convulsions, so that he fell on the ground and rolled over, foaming at the mouth. <sup>21</sup>Then He asked the father, How long has this happened to him? He said: "From early childhood; <sup>22</sup>often it has thrown him into fire and into water to destroy him; but if you can do anything, help us; take pity on us!"

<sup>23</sup>Jesus said to him, "If you can do anything?" Everything is possible for a believer! <sup>24</sup>At once the father of the boy exclaimed, "(Lord,) I believe; support my lacking faith!"<sup>n</sup> <sup>25</sup>Jesus, noticing that a mob was collecting, rebuked the unclean spirit, to whom He said, Dumb and deaf spirit, I order you: Come out of him and never again enter into him! <sup>26</sup>And, shrieking and throwing fit after fit, he came out. The boy looked like a corpse, so that many declared he had died; <sup>27</sup>but Jesus, taking him by the hand, raised him and he stood up.

<sup>28</sup>As He got indoors, His disciples asked Him privately, "Why were we unable to expel it?" <sup>29</sup>He told them, This kind cannot be expelled, except through prayer.

had lacked faith, and they had not learned to pray.

MARK 9, 10 Who Is Greatest?; Miracles in His Name; Second Judean Ministry

Late summer, 29 A.D.

<sup>30</sup>Leaving there, they passed through Galilee and He did not want anyone to know, <sup>31</sup>because He was teaching His disciples: The Son of Man is delivered into human hands and they will execute Him and, when killed, He will rise again in three days. <sup>32</sup>But they did not understand the suggestion and were afraid to question Him.

<sup>33</sup>They reached Capernaum and, when He was home, He asked them, What were you arguing on the road? <sup>34</sup>But they kept still, for on the road they had argued with one another who was most important. <sup>35</sup>Seating Himself, He summoned the twelve and told them, If anyone wishes to be first, let him be last of all and servant of all. <sup>36</sup>Then taking a little child, He set him in the center of their circle, and putting His arm around him, said to them, <sup>37</sup>Whoever receives one of such children in My name, receives Me and whoever receives Me, does not so much receive Me as Him who sent Me.

<sup>38</sup>John said to Him, "Teacher, we saw someone not in our company expelling demons in Your name and we forbade him, because he does not come along with us." <sup>39</sup>Jesus told him, Do not forbid him; for there is no one who performs a miracle in My name who can presently speak evil of Me. <sup>40</sup>He who is not against us is for us; <sup>41</sup>for whoever gives you a cup of water to drink on the strength of My name, because you belong to Christ, I assure you that he will not miss his reward.

<sup>42</sup>Whoever shall occasion the stumbling of one of these little ones who believe (in Me), it would be better for him if, with a millstone hung around his neck, he had been cast into the sea. <sup>43</sup>Should your hand occasion you to do wrong, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life maimed than with both hands to be thrown into Gehenna<sup>o</sup> <sup>44</sup>into the fire that cannot be put out. <sup>45</sup>In case your foot occasions you to go wrong, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life crippled than with two feet to be thrown into hell <sup>46</sup>(where their worm never ceases and their fire is not put out). <sup>47</sup>So if your eye occasions you to stumble, tear it out; it is better for you to enter the kingdom of God one-eyed than with two eyes to be thrown into hell, <sup>48</sup>where "their worm<sup>a</sup> never ceases and the fire is not put out."

<sup>49</sup>For everyone shall be salted with fire. <sup>50</sup>Salt is beneficial; but if the salt loses its saltiness, with what shall it be seasoned? Have salt in yourselves and live together in peace.

Autumn, 29 A.D.

10 HE GOT UP FROM THERE AND reached the Judean territory on the farther side of Jordan. Again crowds flocked to Him and, as usual, He taught them. <sup>2</sup>And there came Pharisees questioning Him, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?" — trying Him out. <sup>3</sup>He answered them, What ruling did Moses give you? <sup>4</sup>They said, "Moses permitted to write a divorce certificate and to let her go." <sup>5</sup>Jesus told them, In view of your hardness of heart he wrote you this ruling, <sup>6</sup>but from the dawn of creation,<sup>a</sup> "male and female He made them; <sup>7</sup>therefore shall a man leave his father and mother (and shall cling to his wife) <sup>8</sup>and the two shall be one flesh"; so that they are no longer two, but one flesh. <sup>9</sup>What God, therefore, has joined, let not man divide.

<sup>13</sup>They brought children for Him to touch, but the disciples intervened. <sup>14</sup>When Jesus noticed that, He was indignant and told them, Allow the children to come to Me; do not hinder them, for to their kind belongs the kingdom of God. <sup>15</sup>I assure you, whoever fails to receive the kingdom of God like a little child, shall not enter it at all. <sup>16</sup>Then taking them in His arms, He kindly blessed them, while He laid His hands on them.

Early 30 A.D.

<sup>17</sup>As He was going out on the road, one came running to Him, who knelt before Him and asked, "Good Teacher, what shall I do to become heir to eternal life?" <sup>18</sup>Jesus said to him, Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One, even God. <sup>19</sup>You know the commands: Do not murder; Do not commit adultery; Do not steal; Do not witness falsely; Do not cheat; Honor your father and your mother.

<sup>20</sup>He replied, "Teacher, I have observed all these things from my boyhood." <sup>21</sup>Jesus, looking at him, prized him dearly and told him, One thing you lack. Go and sell all you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come and follow Me. <sup>22</sup>At this suggestion he felt stung and went away saddened, for he possessed great wealth.

<sup>23</sup>Looking around, Jesus said to His disciples, How difficult for those possessing wealth to enter the kingdom of God! <sup>24</sup>The disciples wondered at His remark; but Jesus spoke to them once more, Children, how difficult it is (for those who trust in wealth) to enter the kingdom of God. <sup>25</sup>It is easier for a camel to pass through a needle's eye than for a wealthy person to enter the kingdom of God.

<sup>26</sup>Astonished beyond words they said to Him, "Who then can be saved?"

<sup>28</sup>Peter started the conversation by saying to Him, "Look, we have given up everything and have followed You."

<sup>29</sup>Jesus said, I assure you, there is no one who has left home or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or fields on account of Me and the Gospel, <sup>30</sup>but will receive a hundred times over now in this life homes and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and fields — along with persecutions, and in the future age eternal life. <sup>31</sup>But many now first shall be last and the last first.

March, 30 A.D.

<sup>32</sup>They were on the road going up to Jerusalem, with Jesus leading them and as they followed, they were in amazement and in awe. Then summoning the twelve, He began once more to tell them what was about to happen to Him: <sup>33</sup>See, we are going up to Jerusalem and the Son of Man will be delivered to the chief priests and the scribes. They will condemn Him to death and will hand Him over to the Gentiles; <sup>34</sup>they will mock Him, spit on Him, flog Him and execute Him, and after three days He will rise again.

<sup>35</sup>Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, approached and said to Him, "Teacher, we want you to grant us what we may request." <sup>36</sup>But He rejoined, What do you wish Me to do for you? <sup>37</sup>They answered Him: "Grant us to be seated one at your right and one at your left in your glory." <sup>38</sup>But Jesus told them, You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, or to undergo the baptism I am baptized with? <sup>39</sup>They replied, "We are able." <sup>v</sup> Then Jesus told them, The cup I drink you will drink and with My baptism you will be baptized; <sup>40</sup>but the seating at My right or left is not Mine to grant; but it is for those for whom it is reserved.

<sup>41</sup>When the ten heard it, they began to feel indignant at James and John, <sup>42</sup>but Jesus summoned them and said to them, You know how those supposed to govern the Gentiles lord it over them, and their chiefs exert authority over them; but this is not your way. <sup>43</sup>Instead, whoever wants to be great among you, shall be your minister, <sup>44</sup>and whoever wants to be first among you, shall be everyone's servant. <sup>45</sup>For even the Son of Man did not come to be ministered to but to minister and to give His life a ransom for many.

Late in March, 30 A.D.

<sup>46</sup>They came to Jericho and, as He was leaving Jericho with His disciples and a great throng, Bartimaeus,<sup>w</sup> son of Timaeus, a blind beggar, was sitting by the roadside. <sup>47</sup>Hearing that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, "Son of David, Jesus, take pity on me!" <sup>48</sup>Many ordered him to keep still; but he shouted the louder, "Son of David, take pity on me!" <sup>49</sup>Jesus stopped and said, Call him! So they called to the blind man, "Cheer up! Get up! He calls you!" <sup>50</sup>Throwing off his coat and springing to his feet, he went to Jesus. <sup>51</sup>In response, Jesus accosted him, What do you wish Me to do for you? The blind man replied, "Dear Rabbi, I should like to see again." <sup>52</sup>Jesus told him, Go! your faith has restored you. And instantly he recovered his sight and followed Him on the way.

Sunday, April 2, 30 A.D.

11 WHEN THEY CAME NEAR JERUSALEM, at Bethphage and Bethany by the Mount of Olives, He dispatched two of His disciples, <sup>2</sup>to whom He said, Enter the opposite village and as soon as you reach there, you will find a hitched colt on which nobody ever sat; untie and fetch it. <sup>3</sup>If anyone says to you, "What are you doing there?" you say, "The Lord needs it, and He will send it back here without delay."

<sup>4</sup>They went away, found the colt hitched outside the door at the street-crossing and untied it. <sup>5</sup>Some of the bystanders there remarked to them, "What are you up to, untying the colt?" <sup>6</sup>So they answered just as Jesus had told them and they gave them permission. <sup>7</sup>Then they brought the colt to

Jesus, spread their clothes on it, and Jesus sat upon it. <sup>8</sup>Many also spread their garments on the road, and others leafy branches they cut from the fields. <sup>9</sup>Both those walking ahead and those behind shouted,<sup>x</sup> "Hosanna! Blessed be He who comes in the name of the Lord! <sup>10</sup>Blessed be the coming kingdom of our father David! Hosanna in the highest!"

<sup>11</sup>He entered Jerusalem and went to the temple, where He observed everything around and, as night was approaching, He went out to Bethany with the twelve.

Monday, April 3, 30 A.D.

<sup>12</sup>Next morning, as they were leaving Bethany, He felt hungry <sup>13</sup>and, noticing a leafy fig tree at a distance, He went to see whether He might find anything on it; but on reaching it, He found nothing but leaves; in fact, it was not the time for ripe figs.<sup>y</sup> <sup>14</sup>Jesus responded to it, May none eat fruit from you forevermore. And His disciples listened.

<sup>15</sup>They reached Jerusalem and, on entering the temple, He began to expel the sellers and the buyers, that were in the temple. He upset the tables of the money-changers and the stalls of those who sold doves <sup>16</sup>and did not allow anyone to carry an implement through the temple.<sup>z</sup> <sup>17</sup>He taught them, Is it not written,<sup>a</sup> "My house shall be called a house of prayer among all nations"? But you have made it a den of robbers.

<sup>18</sup>The scribes and chief priests heard it, and looked for ways to destroy Him; for they were afraid of Him, as all the people were amazed at His teaching.

thrown into the sea!" and entertains no inner doubt, but believes that what he says will happen, it shall be so for him.

<sup>24</sup>I tell you, therefore: Whatever you ask in prayer, believe that you received it and it shall be yours.<sup>c</sup> <sup>25</sup>And whenever you rise to pray and you have grievance against anyone, forgive, so that your Father in heaven may forgive you your trespasses. <sup>26</sup>(But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive your trespasses.)

<sup>27</sup>Once more they entered Jerusalem and, while He was walking around in the temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders came to Him <sup>28</sup>and asked Him, "By what authority are you doing these things or who gave you this authority to do them?" <sup>29</sup>Jesus said to them, I will ask you one question; you answer Me and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. <sup>30</sup>Was the baptism of John from heaven or from men? Answer Me!

<sup>31</sup>They argued among themselves, "If we say, 'from heaven,' he will say, 'Why then did you not believe him?' <sup>32</sup>But if we say, 'From men,'" — they were afraid of the people, for they considered John to be a prophet; <sup>33</sup>so they answered Jesus, "We do not know." Jesus replied to them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

12 HE STARTED OUT TO ADDRESS them in parables:<sup>d</sup> A man planted a vineyard, encircled it with a hedge, excavated a winepress, built a tower and leased it to tillers, then went abroad. <sup>2</sup>At the season he sent an agent to the workers to collect from them a share of the vineyard's yield; <sup>3</sup>but they took and flogged him and sent him off empty-handed. <sup>4</sup>Again he sent them another agent whom they wounded in the head and shamefully maltreated. <sup>5</sup>Once more he sent another, whom they killed, and many others — some they flogged and some they killed.

<sup>6</sup>Having still one, a son he dearly loved, he finally sent him to them, saying, "They will respect my son." <sup>7</sup>But those vinedressers said among themselves, "This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him and the inheritance will be ours." <sup>8</sup>So they took and killed him and threw him outside the vineyard. <sup>9</sup>Now what will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and put an end to the tenants and lease the vineyard to others.

<sup>10</sup>Have you never read this Scripture, "The stone which the builders rejected, it has become the head of the corner; <sup>11</sup>this happens from the Lord and it is wonderful to our eyes?" <sup>12</sup>Then they looked for ways to arrest Him, but they were afraid of the people. For they knew He spoke the parable against them.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>13</sup>So they left Him and went away; but they sent Him some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians to trap Him with a question. <sup>14</sup>Coming to Him, they said, "Teacher, we know that you are sincere and not partial to anyone; for you court no human favor, but you teach truly the way of God. Is it lawful to pay tax to Caesar or not? <sup>15</sup>Shall we pay or not pay?" But He fathomed their hypocrisy and He told them, Why do you test Me? Bring Me a coin,<sup>f</sup> so I may see it. <sup>16</sup>They brought one and He asked them, Whose image and inscription is this? They said "Caesar's." <sup>17</sup>Jesus told them, Pay Caesar what belongs to Caesar and God what belongs to God. And they greatly wondered at Him.

<sup>18</sup>Then the Sadducees, who maintain there is no resurrection, came to Him and asked, <sup>19</sup>"Teacher,<sup>g</sup> Moses wrote for us, that if a man's brother dies, leaving behind a wife but no child, his brother should take the widow and raise offspring for his brother. <sup>20</sup>Now there were seven brothers, the first of whom took a wife and died without offspring. <sup>21</sup>Then the second married her and died without leaving offspring. <sup>22</sup>So the third and all seven, without leaving offspring. the woman, too, died. <sup>23</sup>In the resurrection then, when they rise, whose wife shall she be? For the seven were married to her."

<sup>24</sup>Jesus said to them, Are you not mistaken in this, since you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God? <sup>25</sup>For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels in heaven. <sup>26</sup>But in regard to the raising of the dead, have you not read in the book of Moses<sup>h</sup> how at the bush God said to him, "I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob"? <sup>27</sup>He is not the God of corpses but of the living.<sup>i</sup> You are much mistaken.

<sup>28</sup>Then one of the scribes, having listened to the discussions and aware that He had answered them well, came forward to question Him, "Which is the chief commandment of all?" <sup>29</sup>Jesus answered him, The chief is<sup>j</sup> "Hear, O Israel! The Lord our God is one Lord, <sup>30</sup>and you shall love the Lord your God with your whole heart, with your whole soul, with your whole mind and with your whole strength."

<sup>31</sup>The second is this,<sup>k</sup> "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." There is no other commandment greater than these.

<sup>32</sup>The scribe said to him, "Right, teacher, you have said in truth that He is One and there is none beside Him, <sup>33</sup>and to love Him wholeheartedly with the whole consciousness, and whole-souledly and with all one's strength; also to love one's neighbor as oneself, is more than all burnt offerings and sacrifices." <sup>34</sup>Then Jesus, observing his intelligent response, said to him, You are not far from the kingdom of God. After that no one ventured any more to question Him.

<sup>35</sup>As Jesus was teaching in the temple, He came back at them with the question, How can the scribes say that the Christ is David's son? <sup>36</sup>For David himself said through the Holy Spirit,<sup>l</sup> "The Lord said to my Lord, 'Sit at My right hand until I place your enemies for a footstool of your feet.'" <sup>37</sup>David himself calls Him Lord; in what way then is He his son? And the great throng listened to Him with delight.

<sup>38</sup>In the course of His teaching He said to them: Beware of the scribes, who enjoy walking around in long robes, to be greeted in the market places, <sup>39</sup>to have the front seats in the synagogues and the choice places at the banquets; <sup>40</sup>who prey upon the properties of widows, and pray long prayers for show. They shall receive severer sentence.

13 AS HE WAS LEAVING THE TEMPLE, one of His disciples said to Him, "Teacher, notice of what quality these stones and buildings are!" <sup>2</sup>Jesus replied to him, You observe these great buildings? Not a stone shall be left on another, that shall not be torn down.

<sup>3</sup>As He sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter, James, John and Andrew asked Him privately, <sup>4</sup>"Tell us when this is to happen and what is the sign when all these things are to be accomplished!" <sup>5</sup>So Jesus began to tell them: Look out that no one misleads you; <sup>6</sup>for many shall come in My name saying, "I am He," and shall deceive many. <sup>7</sup>But when you hear about wars and rumors of wars, be not alarmed; for it must be so, but the end is not yet. <sup>8</sup>For nation shall revolt against nation and kingdom against kingdom; there shall be earthquakes at various places, also famines — these are the first pains of childbirth.

<sup>9</sup>Look out for yourselves; for they shall deliver you to councils and you will be flogged in synagogues; you will stand before governors and kings for My sake and for testimony to them.

<sup>10</sup>And the Gospel must first be preached to all the nations.

<sup>11</sup>And when they conduct you under arrest, do not worry what to say; but say whatever is given you in that hour; for you are not speaking; but the Holy Spirit.

<sup>12</sup>Brother shall hand over brother for death, and father shall betray son; children shall rise against their parents and kill them, <sup>13</sup>and you shall be hated by everyone, because of My name; but whoever perseveres to the finish shall be saved.

<sup>17</sup>Alas for the child-bearing and the nursing women in those days. <sup>18</sup>Do pray that your flight may not be in winter, <sup>19</sup>for the misery of those days shall be such as never was since the beginning of God's creation until now; neither shall be. <sup>20</sup>And unless the Lord shortened those days, not a human being would survive; but on behalf of the elect whom He has chosen He has shortened the days.

<sup>21</sup>If anyone then tells you, "Look, here is the Christ!" or, "Look, there!" put no faith in it, <sup>22</sup>for false Christs and false prophets shall spring up and perform signs and wonders to lead astray if possible even the elect. <sup>23</sup>Be on your guard! I am forewarning you of it all.

<sup>24</sup>But in those days, after that distress, the sun shall be darkened and the moon shall not shed her light, <sup>25</sup>the stars shall be fading from heaven and the heavenly hosts shall be shaken. <sup>26</sup>Then shall they see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. <sup>27</sup>And then shall He send out the angels and gather His chosen from the four winds, from the ends of the earth to the ends of heaven.

<sup>28</sup>Learn this parable from the fig tree: Whenever her branch grows tender and she puts out leaves, you know that summer is near. <sup>29</sup>Similarly, when you see these things happen, you will know that He is near, at the door. <sup>30</sup>I assure you, the present generation shall not pass on until all this takes place. <sup>31</sup>Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My sayings shall not pass away. <sup>32</sup>But about the exact date and hour no one knows except the Father; neither the angels in heaven nor the Son. <sup>33</sup>Be on guard; keep wide-awake and pray; for you do not know the time. <sup>34</sup>Like a man leaving his home to go abroad, who authorized his servants and assigned to each his work, with the sentinel appointed to watch. <sup>35</sup>You, therefore, watch; for you have no idea when the Lord of the house arrives—in the evening or at midnight or at the cockcrow-ing or in the morning. <sup>36</sup>Else, coming unexpectedly, He might find you sleeping. <sup>37</sup>And what I say to you, I say to everyone, Watch!

Tuesday

14 THE PASSOVER AND THE UN-leavened Bread were due two days later. The chief priests and the scribes plotted how they might arrest and execute Him through treachery, <sup>2</sup>for they said, "Not during the feast, else there will be a mob disturbance."

Saturday evening, April 1, 30 A.D.

this waste of ointment? <sup>5</sup>This could have been sold for over three hundred denarii<sup>p</sup> and given to the poor." And they chided her.

<sup>6</sup>But Jesus said, Leave her alone! Why do you embarrass her? She has treated Me nobly. <sup>7</sup>For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you wish, you can benefit them; but Me you will not always have. <sup>8</sup>She has done what she could; she has prepared My body with perfume for the burial. <sup>9</sup>I assure you, wherever this Gospel shall be preached over the whole wide world, what she has done shall be related for a memorial of her.

<sup>10</sup>Then Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went off to the chief priests to betray Him to them, <sup>11</sup>and when they learned of it, they were delighted and promised to pay him money. So he looked about how he might conveniently betray Him.

Thursday, April 6, 30 A.D.

<sup>12</sup>On the first day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover Lamb was annually sacrificed, His disciples asked Him, "Where do you want us to go and prepare, so that you may eat the Passover?" <sup>13</sup>Then He sent out two of His disciples<sup>q</sup> and told them, Go into the city and a man will meet you, carrying a water pitcher; follow him. <sup>14</sup>And wherever he enters, say to the proprietor, "The Teacher says: Where is My guest room where I am to eat the Passover with My disciples?" <sup>15</sup>He will show you a large upper room — table cushions and everything ready; there prepare for us.

<sup>16</sup>His disciples went off, came to the city, and found it as He had told them.

Thursday evening

They prepared the Passover <sup>17</sup>and as evening fell He arrived with the twelve. <sup>18</sup>As they were reclining and eating, Jesus said, I tell you with certainty that one of you, who is eating with Me, shall betray Me. <sup>19</sup>This disturbed them, and they said to Him, one after another, "Not I, is it?" <sup>20</sup>He answered them, One of the twelve, who is dipping with Me in the dish. <sup>21</sup>The Son of Man is going the way that has been written of Him, but alas for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed. It were better for that man never to have been born.

<sup>22</sup>As the meal proceeded, He took bread, blessed and broke it, gave it to them, and said, Take (it), This is My body. <sup>23</sup>Also taking the cup and giving thanks, He gave it to them and they all drank of it. <sup>24</sup>He said to them, This is My blood of the Covenant, which is poured out for many. <sup>25</sup>I assure you, I shall no more drink of the vintage until that day when I shall drink it new in the kingdom of God.

Thursday night, April 6, 30 A.D.

<sup>26</sup>With the singing of a hymn,<sup>r</sup> they went out to the Mount of Olives. <sup>27</sup>And Jesus said to them, (This night) you will all feel scandalized, for it is written,<sup>s</sup> "I will strike the shepherd and the sheep shall be widely scattered." <sup>28</sup>But after My resurrection I will precede you into Galilee.

<sup>29</sup>Peter said to Him, "Even if all feel scandalized, yet I, no never!" <sup>30</sup>Jesus told him, Truly I tell you, today during this night before the rooster crows twice, you will disown Me thrice. <sup>31</sup>But he asserted more insistently, "Even if I must die with you, never shall I disown you." And so they all said.

<sup>32</sup>They came to a place called Gethsemane, and He told His disciples, Be seated here while I shall pray. <sup>33</sup>But He took along with Him Peter, James and John, and as He began to feel deeply alarmed and distressed, <sup>34</sup>He said to them, My soul is mortally grieved; stay here and watch! <sup>35</sup>Going a little further, He fell on the ground and prayed that if possible the impending hour might pass from Him. <sup>36</sup>He said, Abba,<sup>t</sup> Father, all things are possible with Thee! Remove this cup from Me! Not, however, what I will; but what Thou wilt!

Thursday night, April 6, 30 A.D.

<sup>37</sup>He came and found them asleep, and said to Peter, Simon, are you sleeping? Were you not able to watch for one hour? <sup>38</sup>All of you watch and pray, so you may not enter into temptation. The spirit is willing enough, but the flesh is weak.

<sup>39</sup>He left again and prayed, uttering the same words, <sup>40</sup>then returned to find them asleep once more; for their eyes were heavy. And they did not know what excuse to give Him. <sup>41</sup>He then came for the third time and told them, Sleeping and resting still? It suffices; the hour has come. The Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. <sup>42</sup>Rise up; let us go! Look, My betrayer is on hand.

<sup>53</sup>They brought Jesus before the high priest, and all the chief priests and elders and scribes met with him. <sup>54</sup>And Peter followed Him from a distance until he was inside the high priest's courtyard, where he sat down with the attendants to get warm by the fire.

Thursday-Friday night

Again the high priest questioned Him; he said, "Are you the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?" <sup>62</sup>Jesus said, I am. And you shall see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Almighty, and coming on the clouds of heaven. <sup>63</sup>Then the high priest, tearing his clothes, said, "What further need do we have of witnesses? <sup>64</sup>You have heard the blasphemy; how does it seem to you?" And they all<sup>w</sup> condemned Him as deserving death. <sup>65</sup>Some also started to spit at Him and to blindfold Him and to hit Him with the fist and to tell Him, "Prophesy!" And the attendants slapped His face.

<sup>66</sup>As Peter was below in the courtyard, one of the high priest's maids came and saw Peter warming himself. <sup>67</sup>She looked at him and accosted him, "You were with the Nazarene Jesus, too." <sup>68</sup>But he denied it: "I do not know or at all understand what you are talking about." Then he went outside to the porch, and the rooster crowed. <sup>69</sup>Then the servant girl, who had noticed him, started again to tell the bystanders, "This fellow belongs to them." <sup>70</sup>Again he denied. In a little while the bystanders once more told Peter, "Surely, you are one of them; for you are a Galilean."

<sup>71</sup>Then he commenced invoking a curse on himself as he swore, "I do not know the man you mention." <sup>72</sup>And instantly for the second time the rooster crowed. Then Peter remembered how Jesus had told him, "Before the cock crows twice, you will disown Me thrice." As he considered that, he wept audibly.

Early Friday morning

15 AS SOON AS MORNING DAWNED, the chief priests formed a conference with the elders and scribes, including the entire Sanhedrin and, binding Jesus, they carried Him off and handed Him over to Pilate. <sup>2</sup>Pilate asked Him, "Are you the king of the Jews?" He answered him, It is as you say. <sup>3</sup>Then the chief priests strongly accused him, <sup>4</sup>but Pilate questioned again, "Have you no answer? Note what they are charging against you." <sup>5</sup>Still Jesus made no further reply, so that Pilate wondered.

<sup>6</sup>But at the feast he used to release to them one prisoner for whom they asked, <sup>7</sup>and there was one named Barabbas confined with the insurrectionists, who had committed murder in the uprising. <sup>8</sup>The shouting mob proceeded to request the usual privilege for them, <sup>9</sup>so Pilate replied to them, "Do you want me to release to you the king of the Jews?" <sup>10</sup>For he knew that out of envy the chief priests had delivered Him. <sup>11</sup>However, the chief priests stirred up the crowd to prefer that Barabbas be released for them. <sup>12</sup>Then Pilate came back at them again, "Then what shall I do with the one you call king of the Jews?" <sup>13</sup>But again they shouted, "Crucify him!" <sup>14</sup>Pilate asked them, "Why, what wrong did he commit?" But they cried out the more loudly, "Crucify him!"

Friday morning

<sup>15</sup>So Pilate, wishing to satisfy the crowd, released Barabbas for them and, after flogging Jesus, gave Him over to be crucified. <sup>16</sup>The soldiers conducted Him inside the hall, that is, the praetorium,<sup>x</sup> where they mustered the entire detachment. <sup>17</sup>They dressed Him in purple, and crowned Him with a thorn crown, which they had twisted; <sup>18</sup>then started to salute Him, "Hail, king of the Jews." <sup>19</sup>They further hit Him on the head with a reed, and spat at Him and with bended knees did Him homage. <sup>20</sup>After the mockery, they disrobed Him of the purple and put on His own clothes; then they led Him out to crucify Him.

Friday morning

<sup>33</sup>From twelve until three o'clock darkness settled over the whole country <sup>34</sup>and at three o'clock Jesus cried with a great voice, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani, which means, My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?

<sup>35</sup>Some of the bystanders, as they heard it, said, "Notice, he calls for Elijah!" <sup>36</sup>But one ran and soaked a sponge with vinegar, then fixed it to a reed and gave Him to drink, with the remark, "Hold on, let us see if Elijah comes to take him down."

<sup>37</sup>But having uttered a strong cry, Jesus expired. <sup>38</sup>The temple veil was torn in two from top to bottom, <sup>39</sup>and the centurion, who stood facing Him, seeing how He expired that way, exclaimed, "Truly this man was God's Son!" <sup>40</sup>There were women, too, looking on from a distance—among them Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James the younger and of Joses,<sup>a</sup> and Salome,<sup>a</sup>—<sup>41</sup>the women who steadily followed Him and helped Him when He was in Galilee, and many others who came up with Him to Jerusalem.

Friday afternoon, before six

<sup>42</sup>Evening had already come,<sup>b</sup> and since it was Preparation time or pre-Sabbath, <sup>43</sup>Joseph of Arimathea, an honorable member of the Sanhedrin, who was personally awaiting the kingdom of God, came and boldly approached Pilate to ask for the body of Jesus. <sup>44</sup>But Pilate wondered whether He might be dead so soon, so he summoned the centurion and asked him if He had been dead for some time; <sup>45</sup>then, getting information from the centurion, he granted Joseph the body.

<sup>46</sup>He bought a linen sheet in which he wrapped the body after taking it down; then laid Him in a tomb that was carved out of a rock. He also rolled a stone against the opening of the tomb, <sup>47</sup>and Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses<sup>c</sup> observed where He was laid.

Sunday, April 9, 30 A.D.

16 AFTER THE SABBATH, MARY Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought aromatics, so they might go and anoint Him. <sup>2</sup>And very early in the morning at sunrise on the first day of the week they came to the tomb. <sup>3</sup>They said among themselves, "Who will roll the stone from the mouth of the tomb for us?" <sup>4</sup>But as they looked up, they saw that the stone—a very heavy one—had been rolled away.

<sup>5</sup>They entered the tomb and saw a youth sitting to the right, dressed in a white robe, and they were struck with terror. <sup>6</sup>But he said to them, "Be not terrified! You are looking for Jesus the Nazarene, who was crucified. He is risen; He is not here; see the place where they laid Him. <sup>7</sup>But go, tell His disciples and Peter that He precedes you into Galilee; there you will see Him, just as He told you." <sup>8</sup>Hurriedly they fled from the tomb, trembling and alarmed, and they spoke to no one, for they were afraid.

<sup>9</sup>(After Jesus had risen early the first day of the week, He appeared first to Mary of Magdala, from whom He had expelled seven demons. <sup>10</sup>She went and told those who had accompanied Him, grieving and weeping as they were. <sup>11</sup>When they heard that He was alive and had been seen by her, they did not believe it. <sup>12</sup>But later on He appeared in a different form to two of them on their walk into the country. <sup>13</sup>They went and told the others; but neither did they believe them. <sup>14</sup>Afterward He appeared to the eleven as they reclined at the table, and chided their unbelief and hardheartedness, because they did not believe those who had seen Him risen.

<sup>15</sup>He also told them, Go into the whole world and preach the Gospel to every creature. <sup>16</sup>He who believes and is baptized shall be saved; but he who disbelieves shall be condemned. <sup>17</sup>And these signs shall follow the believers: In My name they shall expel demons; they shall speak with new tongues; <sup>18</sup>they shall pick up serpents, and if they drink anything fatal it shall not injure them in the least. They shall lay hands on the sick and they shall become well.

LUKE

1 NOW THAT MANY HAVE PUT THEIR hands to the composition of a narrative regarding the events that have certainly taken place among us, <sup>2</sup>transmitted as they are to us by those who were from the first eyewitnesses and attendants of the Word, <sup>3</sup>it seemed fitting for me as well, since I was accurately acquainted with everything from its inception, to write you in orderly fashion, most excellent Theophilus, <sup>4</sup>so that you may know the certainty of the instructions you have received.

Around September, 6 B.C.

<sup>11</sup>But an angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing to the right of the altar of incense, <sup>12</sup>and when Zacharias saw him, he felt troubled and fear got hold of him. <sup>13</sup>But the angel said to him, "Have no fear, Zacharias, because your prayer has been heard; your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, whom you will call John. <sup>14</sup>He will afford you joy and happiness and many shall be glad at his birth; <sup>15</sup>for he shall be great before the Lord. He shall drink no wine or liquor at all, and from his birth he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit. <sup>16</sup>Many of the sons of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God, <sup>17</sup>before whom he shall go forth in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children and the obstinate to the wisdom of the righteous, to prepare a people that is ready for the Lord."

<sup>18</sup>Then Zacharias said to the angel, "In what way can I be assured of this, for I am an old man and my wife is advanced in years?" <sup>19</sup>The angel answered him, "I am Gabriel, who stands in the presence of God, and I was sent to speak to you and to announce these glad tidings to you. <sup>20</sup>Observe! You will be silent and unable to speak until the day when these things take place, because you did not believe my words, which shall come true at the proper time."

<sup>21</sup>The people were waiting for Zacharias and wondering why he delayed in the temple, <sup>22</sup>but as he came out

a) David had arranged the priests by twenty-four clans, each clan to serve at the sanctuary for a week. The Abijah clan is mentioned eighth, I Chron. 24:10, and another, Abijah, Neh. 12:4, of whom Zacharias must have sprung.

and could not speak to them, they recognized that he had seen a vision in the temple, for he made signs to them and remained speechless. <sup>23</sup>And as soon as his time of service was over, he left for home.

<sup>24</sup>After those days his wife Elizabeth conceived and she hid herself five months, remarking, <sup>25</sup>"In this way has the Lord treated me when He favored me to remove my humiliation among men."

<sup>26</sup>In the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent of God to Nazareth, a town of Galilee, <sup>27</sup>to the virgin Mary who was engaged to Joseph, a descendant of David. <sup>28</sup>The angel, as he approached her, said, "Greeting, favored lady! The Lord is with you."

<sup>29</sup>But she was troubled at his message and reflected what sort of greeting this might be. <sup>30</sup>The angel said to her, "Have no fear, Mary, for you have found favor with God. <sup>31</sup>And observe, you will conceive in your womb and give birth to a son and you shall call Him Jesus. <sup>32</sup>He shall be great and shall be called Son of the Highest, and the Lord God shall give Him the throne of his father David. <sup>33</sup>He shall be King over the house of Jacob for ever; there shall be no end to His kingdom."

<sup>35</sup>The angel answered her, "The Holy Spirit shall come upon you, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow you and therefore that holy Offspring shall be called God's Son. <sup>36</sup>Also, your cousin Elizabeth is to be mother of a son in her old age, and this now the sixth month of her who was called sterile. <sup>37</sup>For nothing is ever impossible with God." <sup>38</sup>And Mary said, "Here I am, the Lord's servant girl. Let it be with me as you say." And the angel left her.

as Elizabeth listened to Mary's greeting, the babe leaped within her. Then, filled with the Holy Spirit, <sup>42</sup>Elizabeth spoke with a strong voice, "Blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb. <sup>43</sup>And how did this happen to me, that my Lord's mother should visit me! <sup>44</sup>Just think, when the voice of your greeting reached my ears, the babe leaped within me for joy! <sup>45</sup>And blessed is she who believed that the things told her by the Lord shall be accomplished."

Around June, 5 B.C.

tongue loosed and he spoke to praise God.

<sup>65</sup>A deep sense of awe was felt by the neighbors, and these happenings became matters of conversation in the entire hill country of Judea. <sup>66</sup>All who learned of it, took it to heart; they said, "What kind of child may this be?" For the Lord's hand was with him.

<sup>67</sup>His father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Spirit and prophesied, <sup>68</sup>"Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, for He has looked upon and has wrought redemption for His people! <sup>69</sup>He has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of David, His servant, <sup>70</sup>as he spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets from the beginning of time — <sup>71</sup>salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us: <sup>72</sup>To make true the mercy that was promised our ancestors, and to remember His holy covenant, <sup>73</sup>He swore an oath to our father Abraham; <sup>74</sup>to grant us, saved from our enemies, fearlessly to worship Him <sup>75</sup>in holiness and righteousness in His presence all our days.

<sup>80</sup>And the child grew and was spiritually strengthened, and was in the deserts until the time of his appearing to Israel.

areth to Judea, to the city of David, called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David, <sup>5</sup>to be registered with Mary his betrothed wife whose pregnancy was advanced.

<sup>6</sup>While they were there, her days were completed <sup>7</sup>to give birth and she bore her first-born Son, whom she wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

<sup>8</sup>There were in the same country shepherds, staying in the fields and keeping watch over their flock by night.<sup>e</sup> <sup>9</sup>And an angel of the Lord stood by them and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they feared with a great fear.

<sup>10</sup>And the angel said to them, "Have no fear, for behold, I announce to you the good news of great joy that shall be for all the people; <sup>11</sup>for today there was born for you in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. <sup>12</sup>And this is a token for you: You will find the Baby wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger."

<sup>15</sup>As the angels went from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go straight to Bethlehem and let us see what happened that the Lord has made known to us." <sup>16</sup>And hastily they arrived and found both Mary and Joseph, also the babe lying in the manger. <sup>17</sup>After seeing it, they made others know the remarks that had been made to them regarding the child, <sup>18</sup>and every one who heard it marveled at the things that were told them by the shepherds. <sup>19</sup>But Mary retained those reports and thought them over in her heart. <sup>20</sup>And the shepherds went back, glorifying and praising God for everything they had heard and seen, just as had been told them.

<sup>22</sup>When the days for their purification according to the Law of Moses<sup>f</sup> were completed, they brought Him to Jerusalem to present Him to the Lord, <sup>23</sup>as prescribed in the Lord's Law, "Every first-born male shall be called holy to the Lord,"<sup>g</sup> <sup>24</sup>and to offer a sacrifice as mentioned in the Lord's Law, "A pair of turtle doves or two young pigeons."<sup>h</sup>

<sup>25</sup>Now there lived a man in Jerusalem, Simeon by name, an upright and devout man, and expecting Israel's Consoler. On him was the Holy Spirit <sup>26</sup>and it was divinely communicated to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death before he had seen the Lord's Messiah. <sup>27</sup>Spirit-moved, he came into the temple and, as the parents brought in the child Jesus to perform the legal ritual for Him, <sup>28</sup>he took Him up in his arms and thanked God, <sup>29</sup>"Now Thou lettest Thy servant depart in peace, Lord, in agreement with Thy word, <sup>30</sup>for mine eyes have seen Thy salvation, <sup>31</sup>which Thou hast prepared before all the nations, <sup>32</sup>a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and a glory to Thy people Israel."

<sup>36</sup>There also was Anna, a daughter of Phanuel of the Asher tribe, a prophetess advanced in years, who had after her girlhood lived seven years with her husband <sup>37</sup>and was a widow of about eighty-four. She never left the temple, but worshiped night and day in fastings and intercessions. <sup>38</sup>She, too, came up that same hour and gave similar thanks to the Lord and talked about Him to all those looking for the redemption of Jerusalem.

<sup>39</sup>When they had finished everything according to the Lord's Law, they went back to Galilee to their own Nazareth city. <sup>40</sup>And the child grew and became (spiritually) strong, filled with wisdom, and the grace of God rested upon Him.

April, 8 or 9 A.D.

<sup>41</sup>Annually at the Passover feast His parents traveled to Jerusalem, <sup>42</sup>and when He was twelve they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast. <sup>43</sup>When the days were ended and they returned, the boy Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem without His parents being aware of it.<sup>i</sup> <sup>44</sup>Supposing that He was in the caravan, they traveled a day, then looked for Him among kin and acquaintances, <sup>45</sup>and not finding Him, they went back to Jerusalem in search of Him. <sup>46</sup>The third day<sup>j</sup> they found Him in the temple, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions. <sup>47</sup>And all who heard Him were astonished at His understanding and His answers.

<sup>48</sup>When His parents saw Him, they were amazed and His mother said to Him, "Child, why have you treated us this way? Your father and I have anxiously been looking for you." <sup>49</sup>He said to them, "Why were you seeking me? Did you not know that I ought to be about my Father's affairs?" <sup>50</sup>But they did not understand what He told them.

<sup>51</sup>He went down with them to Nazareth and submitted Himself to them, and His mother retained all these matters in her heart. <sup>52</sup>And Jesus advanced in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God and men.

Pilate was governor of Judea, Herod tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of Ituraea and of the Trachonitis region, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, <sup>2</sup>with Annas<sup>1</sup> and Caiaphas high priests, the word of God came to John, the son of Zacharias, in the desert.

<sup>7</sup>So he said to the crowds that came to be baptized by him, "Viper brood, who forewarned you to flee from the coming wrath? <sup>8</sup>Then produce fruits in harmony with your repentance, and do not begin to say within yourselves, 'We have Abraham for a father'; for I tell you that God can raise offspring to Abraham from these stones. <sup>9</sup>The ax is lying ready at the root of the trees, so that every tree that fails to produce good fruit will be felled and thrown into the fire."

<sup>10</sup>The crowds asked him, "Then what should we do?" <sup>11</sup>He answered them, "He who has two undergarments should share with the one who has none, and the owner of food should behave similarly."

<sup>12</sup>The tax collectors, too, came to be baptized and said to him, "Teacher, what shall we do?" <sup>13</sup>To them he said, "Do not collect more than your appointed rate." <sup>14</sup>And when the soldiers asked him, "What shall we do?" he told them, "Do not extort money by intimidating or informing, but be content with your pay."

and they were all debating in their minds about John, whether he might perhaps be the Christ, <sup>16</sup>John answered them all, "I, it is true, baptize you with water, but One mightier than I is coming after me, whose sandal strap I am not fit to unfasten; He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. <sup>17</sup>His winnowing fan is in His hand and He will thoroughly clean up His threshing floor, storing the wheat in His granary and burning the chaff in fire that cannot be put out."

<sup>18</sup>With many another appeal, too, he preached to the people; <sup>19</sup>but when Herod the tetrarch was taken to task by him regarding Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, as well as about all the evils he had practiced, <sup>20</sup>he crowned this all by confining John in prison.

<sup>21</sup>When all the people were being baptized, Jesus, too, was baptized and, while He was praying, heaven was opened <sup>22</sup>and the Holy Spirit came down on Him, dove-like in bodily shape, and a voice came from heaven, "Thou art My Son, the Beloved; in Thee I am well pleased!"

4 FILLED WITH THE HOLY SPIRIT, Jesus returned from the Jordan and for forty days He was guided by the Spirit in the desert, <sup>2</sup>while tempted by the devil. He did not eat at all those days, and on their completion He was hungry. <sup>3</sup>So the devil said to Him, "If you are God's Son, tell this stone to become bread." <sup>4</sup>Jesus answered him, It is written,<sup>p</sup> "Man shall not live on bread alone; (but on every expression of God)." <sup>5</sup>Then leading Him up (to a high mountain), the devil showed Him in an instant all the world's kingdoms and told Him, <sup>6</sup>"All the power and splendor of these will I give you, for it has been handed over to me and I bestow it on whomever I please; <sup>7</sup>so if you will kneel before me, it shall all be yours."<sup>q</sup> <sup>8</sup>Jesus answered him, It is written,<sup>r</sup> "You shall worship the Lord your God and serve Him alone."

<sup>9</sup>He then brought Him to Jerusalem and, stationing Him on the summit of the temple, told Him, "If you are God's Son, throw yourself down from here, <sup>10</sup>for it is written,<sup>s</sup> 'He will give orders to His angels on your behalf to protect you,' <sup>11</sup>and 'They shall carry you on their hands so that you may not stub your foot against a stone.'" <sup>12</sup>Jesus answered him, It has been said,<sup>t</sup> "You shall not test the Lord your God." <sup>13</sup>So the devil, after fully applying every kind of temptation, left Him for a time.

Early 28 A.D.

<sup>14</sup>Jesus returned to Galilee in the power of the Spirit, and His fame spread over all the surrounding country. <sup>15</sup>He taught in their synagogues and was lauded by everyone. <sup>16</sup>He also came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up and, in agreement with His custom, He went to the synagogue on the Sabbath and stood up to read. <sup>17</sup>The book of the prophet Isaiah was handed to Him and on opening the scroll He found the place where it was written,<sup>u</sup> <sup>18</sup>"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, for He has anointed Me to preach the Gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to announce release to the captives and restoration of sight to the blind, to set free the downtrodden and <sup>19</sup>to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor."<sup>v</sup>

<sup>20</sup>Rolling up the scroll, He handed it back to the custodian and sat down. The eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed on Him <sup>21</sup>and He began by telling them: Today this Scripture is fulfilled in your hearing. <sup>22</sup>They all remarked about Him and they wondered at the gracious sayings that flowed from His lips; they said, "Is not this Joseph's son?" <sup>23</sup>He said to them, You will doubtless quote Me this proverb, "Physician, heal yourself. Do in your own country what we hear you did in Capernaum." <sup>24</sup>But he continued, I assure you that no prophet is acceptable in his home town. <sup>25</sup>I tell you truly, in the days of Elijah there were many widows in Israel, when for three years and six months the sky was closed up and a severe famine visited all the land; <sup>26</sup>but to none of them was Elijah sent, except to a widow at Sarepta of Sidon. <sup>27</sup>There were many lepers in Israel, too, in Elisha the prophet's time, and none of them was cured but Naaman the Syrian.

<sup>28</sup>When the people in the synagogue heard this, they all felt deeply resentful; <sup>29</sup>they got up and expelled Him from the city and led Him to the brow of the hill on which the city was built, to hurl Him down; <sup>30</sup>but He made His way straight through their midst and went away.

<sup>31</sup>He came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the Sabbath. <sup>32</sup>They were enraptured at His teaching, for His message had authority. <sup>33</sup>And in the synagogue there was a man with an unclean demon's spirit, who cried out loudly, <sup>34</sup>"Oh, what do you want with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know you, who you are:

The Holy One of God." <sup>35</sup>But Jesus rebuked him: Be still and get out of him! Then hurling him in their midst but nowise hurting him, the demon came out of him.

<sup>36</sup>A sense of awe came over all of them and they remarked to one another, "What does this teaching mean? For with authority and power he gives orders to unclean spirits and they come out." <sup>37</sup>And report of Him reverberated to every part of the surrounding country.

<sup>38</sup>He then arose and went from the synagogue to Simon's home; but Simon's mother-in-law was suffering from a severe fever and they consulted Him about her. <sup>39</sup>Standing over her, He rebuked the fever and it left her. And at once she arose and waited on them.

<sup>40</sup>At sunset all who had those ill with various diseases, brought them to Him and He laid hands on each one of them and cured them. <sup>41</sup>Even demons came out of many people, shouting, "You are the Son of God." But he checked them and did not allow them to speak, because they knew Him as the Christ.<sup>w</sup>

<sup>42</sup>At break of day He went out to a lonely spot, but the crowds were looking for Him and came to where He was, then tried to keep Him from leaving them; <sup>43</sup>but He told them, I have to preach the Gospel of the kingdom of God to other towns as well, because for this purpose I was sent.

5 AND AS THE PEOPLE WERE CROWDing Him to hear God's message, He noticed, while standing by the lake of Gennesaret, <sup>2</sup>two boats moored near the shore; but the fishermen had disembarked and were washing their nets. <sup>3</sup>He boarded one of the boats, belonging to Simon, and asked him to push out a little from the shore; then seated Himself to teach the crowd from the boat.

Early 28 A.D.

<sup>4</sup>When He had finished speaking, He told Simon, Push out into the deep and lower your nets for a haul! <sup>5</sup>Simon replied, "Master, all night we were working hard without catching a thing; however, at your behest I will cast the net." <sup>6</sup>And when they did so, they enclosed such a shoal of fish that their nets started tearing. <sup>7</sup>They signaled their partners in the other boat to come and help them; which they did, and they filled both boats until they almost sank. <sup>8</sup>At sight of it, Simon Peter fell at Jesus' knees and said, "Leave me, Lord, for I am a sinful man."<sup>x</sup> <sup>9</sup>For amazement had gripped him and all his partners at the catch of fish they had made, — <sup>10</sup>James and John, the sons of Zebedee, partners with Simon reacted in the same way. And Jesus said to Simon: Have no fear; from now on you will be catching men! <sup>11</sup>Then running the boats to shore, they left everything and followed Him.

<sup>12</sup>While He was in one of the towns, a man covered with leprosy saw Jesus and, falling on his face, begged of Him, "Lord, if you will, you can cleanse me!" <sup>13</sup>Reaching out His hand, Jesus touched him, saying, I will; be cleansed! And at the instant the leprosy left him. <sup>14</sup>Jesus warned him to tell no one; but, Show yourself to the priest,<sup>y</sup> He said, and make offerings for your purification as Moses prescribed, to give people notice. <sup>15</sup>But report about Him spread even more, and large crowds gathered to listen and to be healed of their diseases. <sup>16</sup>Jesus, however, habitually withdrew into the desert for prayer.

<sup>17</sup>One of those days He was teaching, and Pharisees and law teachers, who had come from every village of Galilee and from Judea and Jerusalem, were sitting there, with the power of the Lord present so that He wrought healing. <sup>18</sup>Then some men came carrying a paralytic on a bed and tried to bring him in and lay him before Jesus, <sup>19</sup>but as they found no way to carry him in, due to the crowd, they went up on the roof and let him down through the tiles, mat and all, right in front of Jesus.

<sup>20</sup>Seeing their faith, He said (to him), Man, your sins are forgiven you!

<sup>21</sup>The scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, "Who is this, speaking blasphemies? Who is able to forgive sins except God alone?"<sup>22</sup> Jesus, aware of their reasonings, responded to them, What are you deliberating in your minds? <sup>23</sup>Which is easier, to say: "Your sins are forgiven," or to say, "Arise and walk?" <sup>24</sup>However, so that you may know that the Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins, He said to the paralytic, I tell you, rise, pick up your mat and walk home. <sup>25</sup>At once he was up in their presence, picked up what he had been lying on and, praising God, went home.

<sup>26</sup>Amazement gripped them all; they too praised God and, full of awe, they said, "We have seen astounding things today!"

<sup>33</sup>They further said to Him, "John's disciples fast and pray frequently, as do those of the Pharisees as well; but yours eat and drink right along." <sup>34</sup>But Jesus said to them, Can the wedding guests be made to fast while the bridegroom is with them? <sup>35</sup>But the time will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and in those days they will fast.

<sup>36</sup>He further spoke this parable to them: No one patches an old garment with a patch taken from a new one; else he will tear the new, and also the patch from the new will not match the old. <sup>37</sup>And no one pours new wine into old wineskins, else the new wine will burst the skins and run out and the skins will be ruined. <sup>38</sup>But new wine should be put into fresh wineskins. <sup>39</sup>And no one, used to drinking old wine, wants new wine right after, for he says, "The old is preferable!"<sup>a</sup>

6 ON A SABBATH, WHILE HE WAS passing through grainfields, it happened that His disciples picked the heads, rubbed them in their hands and ate them. <sup>2</sup>But some of the Pharisees said, "Why do you practice what is not allowed on the Sabbath?" <sup>3</sup>Jesus answered them, Have you never read what David did, when he and his companions were hungry; <sup>4</sup>how he entered the house of God and took and ate the loaves of presentation which none but the priests are allowed to eat, and he shared with his companions? <sup>5</sup>He said further, The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath.

<sup>6</sup>On another Sabbath, as He went into the synagogue and taught, a man was present whose right hand was withered, <sup>7</sup>and the scribes and the Pharisees were watching Him whether He would cure on the Sabbath, so they might trump up some charge against Him. <sup>8</sup>But He knew their thoughts and said to the man with the withered hand, Stand up and take the center! And he stood up.

<sup>9</sup>Then Jesus said to them, I want to ask you if it is allowed to do good or to do evil on the Sabbath; to save a life or to destroy it? <sup>10</sup>Then, looking around at all of them, He said to the patient, Hold out your hand! Which he did, and his hand was fully restored (like the other). <sup>11</sup>But, maddened with anger, they discussed together what they might do to Jesus.

Early summer, 28 A.D.

<sup>12</sup>In those days He went off to the mountain to pray and was spending the entire night in communion with God. <sup>13</sup>Upon daybreak He summoned His disciples and chose twelve of them whom He named apostles; <sup>14</sup>Simon whom He also called Peter, and his brother Andrew; James and John; Philip and Bartholomew; <sup>15</sup>Matthew and Thomas; James the son of Alphaeus and Simon called the Zealot; <sup>16</sup>Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who turned traitor.

<sup>17</sup>With them He came down and stood on a level spot with a large throng of His disciples and a vast crowd of people from all over Judea and from Jerusalem and from the Tyre and Sidon coast, who came to hear Him and to be cured of their diseases. <sup>18</sup>Those troubled with unclean spirits, too, were healed. <sup>19</sup>The whole concourse tried to touch Him because power issued from Him and healed every one.

<sup>20</sup>Fixing His eyes on His disciples, He spoke: <sup>c</sup>Blessed are you poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. <sup>21</sup>Blessed are you now hungry, for you shall be satisfied. Blessed are you now weeping, for you shall laugh. <sup>22</sup>Blessed are you when people hate you and exclude you and denounce and defame your name as wicked on account of the Son of Man. <sup>23</sup>Be glad at such a time and leap for joy; for in heaven your reward is rich. Their fathers treated the prophets just that way.

<sup>24</sup>Alas, however, for you who are wealthy, <sup>d</sup>for you have enjoyed your comfort! <sup>25</sup>Alas for you who are filled up now, for you will suffer hunger! Alas for you who laugh now, for you will mourn and weep. <sup>26</sup>Alas (for you) when everyone praises you, for their ancestors treated the false prophets just that way.

<sup>27</sup>But to you, listeners, I say: Love your enemies; treat well those who hate you; <sup>28</sup>bless those who curse you; pray for those who abuse you. <sup>29</sup>To him who hits you on the cheek, offer the other, and keep not back your undergarment from him who takes your coat. <sup>30</sup>Give to everyone who asks you, and do not request your belongings back from him who took them. <sup>31</sup>Treat others exactly as you would like to have them treat you.

<sup>32</sup>If you love merely those who love you, what grace do you practice? For sinners, too, love those who love them. <sup>33</sup>And if you treat well those who treat you well, what grace do you practice? Sinners do that much. <sup>34</sup>And if you lend to those from whom you expect returns, what grace do you practice? Sinners lend to sinners as well, to get back their dues.

<sup>35</sup>But you: love your enemies; do good and lend without prospect of returns. Then your return will be rich; you will be sons of the Most High, for He is kind to the ungrateful and wicked. <sup>36</sup>Be merciful, just as your Father is merciful. <sup>37</sup>Do not judge and you will not be judged; do not condemn and you will not be condemned; pardon and you will be pardoned; <sup>38</sup>give and it shall be given to you — good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over shall they pour into your lap. For with the yardstick you use for measuring, you in turn shall be measured.

<sup>41</sup>Why do you notice the splinter in your brother's eye without being at all aware of the beam in your own eye? <sup>42</sup>How can you say to your brother, "Brother, let me extract the splinter from your eye!" without noticing the beam in your eye? Hypocrites, first extract the beam from your eye and then you can distinctly see to extract the splinter from your brother's eye.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>46</sup>Why do you call Me, "Lord, Lord!" and do not what I suggest? <sup>47</sup>Whoever comes to Me and listens to My words so as to do them, I will show you whom he resembles. <sup>48</sup>He resembles a man who built a house; he dug and went down deep and set the foundation on a rock. When the flood rose, the river hurled against that house, but had no power to shake it, because it was securely built. <sup>49</sup>But one who listens and does not practice, resembles a man who built his house on the ground without foundation, against which the river hurled and at once it fell, and the wreck of that house was terrible.

Summer, 28 A.D.

7 WHEN HE HAD FINISHED ALL HIS messages to the listening people, He entered Capernaum. <sup>2</sup>There a captain's servant who meant much to him, was ill to the point of death, <sup>3</sup>but hearing about Jesus, he sent Jewish elders to Him who begged of Him to come and heal his servant. <sup>4</sup>On reaching Jesus they urged Him strongly with the plea, "He deserves to have this done for him, <sup>5</sup>for he loves our nation and has built us a synagogue." <sup>6</sup>So Jesus went with them.

However, they were not far from the house when the centurion sent friends to tell Him, "Lord, take no further trouble, for I am not fit to have you under my roof; and for this reason <sup>7</sup>I did not consider myself worthy of approaching you. Simply say the word and have my boy cured. <sup>8</sup>For I am also a man under orders and I have soldiers under me and say to this one, 'Go!' and he goes, and to that one, 'Come!' and he comes, and to my servant, 'Do this!' and he does it."

<sup>9</sup>Jesus marveled when He heard that, and turning to the crowd that followed Him said to them, I tell you I have found no such faith in Israel. <sup>10</sup>The messengers then went back to the house and found the servant healed (who had been sick).

<sup>11</sup>Shortly afterward He visited a town called Nain, accompanied by His disciples and a large crowd. <sup>12</sup>As He neared the city gate, there was being carried out a dead man — an only son and his mother was a widow — and a large gathering from that city was with her. <sup>13</sup>When the Lord saw her, He felt sympathy for her and spoke to her, Do not weep! <sup>14</sup>Then going forward He touched the bier. The pallbearers stopped and He said, Young man, I bid you rise! <sup>15</sup>The lifeless one sat up and began to speak, and He presented him to his mother. <sup>16</sup>Awe took hold of everyone; they gave God the glory and said, "A great prophet has arisen among us!" and "God has cared for His people." <sup>17</sup>This report about Jesus spread throughout Judea and all the surrounding country.

<sup>18</sup>John's disciples reported all this to him <sup>19</sup>and, summoning two of them, John sent to ask the Lord, "Are you the coming One, or should we look for someone else?" <sup>20</sup>When the men reached Him, they said, "John the Baptist has sent us to you with the question, 'Are you the coming One or should we look for someone else?'"

<sup>21</sup>Just then He was curing many of diseases and complaints and evil spirits; He also gave sight to many who were blind. <sup>22</sup>So He answered them: Go and tell John what you see and hear. The blind see; the lame walk; lepers are cleansed; the deaf hear; the dead are raised; the poor are evangelized, <sup>23</sup>and blessed is he who does not feel scandalized by Me.

<sup>24</sup>When John's messengers were gone, He began to address the throngs regarding John: What did you go out to see in the desert? A reed swayed by the wind? <sup>25</sup>Really, what did you go out to see? A man elegantly dressed? Of course, those stylishly dressed and living in luxury dwell in palaces. <sup>26</sup>Then what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you and far more than a prophet. <sup>27</sup>It is he of whom it is written,<sup>g</sup> "See, I send My messenger ahead of you, who shall prepare the road before you."

<sup>28</sup>I tell you, no person born of woman is greater than John, and yet, the least important in the kingdom of God is greater than he.<sup>h</sup> <sup>29</sup>All the people who heard him, even tax collectors, acknowledged God as just, when they accepted John's baptism; <sup>30</sup>but the Pharisees and the lawyers thwarted God's purpose for them by refusing baptism at his hand.

<sup>31</sup>To what then shall I compare the men of this generation? What do they resemble? <sup>32</sup>They are like children sitting in a bazaar and calling out to one another, "We have played the flute for you and you would not dance; we have sung you dirges and you would not weep." <sup>33</sup>For John the Baptist came neither dining nor wining and you say, "He has a demon." <sup>34</sup>The Son of Man came, eating and drinking, and you say, "Look at a man — a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners." <sup>35</sup>So is wisdom vindicated by all her children.<sup>i</sup>

tears, then wiped them with the hairs of her head, tenderly kissed them and anointed His feet with the perfume.<sup>j</sup>

<sup>39</sup>When His host, the Pharisee, observed it, he said to himself, "If this person were a prophet, he would know what kind of woman is touching him; for she is devoted to sin." <sup>40</sup>Jesus gave him answer, Simon, I have something to tell you! He said, "Teacher, speak up!" <sup>41</sup>Two men were in debt to a money-lender; one owed him five hundred dollars and the other fifty.<sup>k</sup> <sup>42</sup>As neither had anything to pay him, he generously canceled the debt of both. Which of them will love him more? <sup>43</sup>Simon replied, "I suppose the one for whom he canceled more."

He said to him, You have judged correctly. <sup>44</sup>Then turning to the woman, He said to Simon, You see this woman? As I entered your home, you supplied no water for My feet; but she has washed My feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. <sup>45</sup>You did not give Me a kiss, but she from the moment I came in, has not stopped tenderly kissing My feet. <sup>46</sup>You did not anoint My head with oil, but she has anointed My feet with perfume. <sup>47</sup>So I tell you, her sins, many as they are, are forgiven, for she has greatly loved.<sup>l</sup> But the person who is forgiven little, loves little. <sup>48</sup>And to her He said, Your sins are forgiven.

<sup>49</sup>Those at the table with Him began to say to themselves, "Who is this who even forgives sins?" <sup>50</sup>But He said to the woman, Your faith has saved you! Go in peace!

<sup>4</sup>When a great throng was gathering and people resorted to Him from every town, He told them in a parable: <sup>5</sup>A sower went out to sow his seed and as he sowed, some fell along the footpath and was walked on, and the birds of the air ate it. <sup>6</sup>Other seed fell on rock and sprouted, but then withered because it lacked moisture. <sup>7</sup>Other seed fell among the thorns and the thorns grew with it and choked it. <sup>8</sup>Other seed fell on the good soil and grew up and yielded a hundredfold crop. Upon telling this, He called out: He who has ears to hear, let him listen!

<sup>9</sup>But His disciples asked Him the meaning of this parable <sup>10</sup>and He said, It is granted you to know the secrets of the kingdom of God; but parables are for the rest so that, "Seeing they may not see and hearing they may not hear." <sup>11</sup>The parable's meaning is this: The seed is the word of God. <sup>12</sup>Those along the path are people who hear and then the devil comes and carries away the message from their hearts, so they may not believe and be saved. <sup>13</sup>Those on rock are people who hear the word and welcome it gladly, but they have no root; they believe for a while and in time of trial they fall away. <sup>14</sup>What falls among the thorns are people who listen, but as they go on, the message is choked by worries and wealth and pleasures of life, so that they never mature. <sup>15</sup>But the seed in the good soil are those who listen to the message and retain it in a good and well-disposed heart and steadily bear fruit.

how you listen; for whoever has, shall receive more, and from one who has nothing, what he fancies he possesses shall be taken away.

<sup>19</sup>His mother and His brothers came along toward Him, but could not get near Him, due to the crowd. <sup>20</sup>So it was told Him, "Your mother and your brothers are standing at the edge of the crowd, wanting to see you." <sup>21</sup>But He replied to them, My mother and My brothers are those who hear and practice the word of God.<sup>n</sup>

Late summer, 28 A.D.

<sup>22</sup>One day He and His disciples embarked, and He suggested to them, Let us cross to the other side of the lake, and they set sail. <sup>23</sup>But as they were sailing, He fell asleep. Then such a squall of wind came down on the lake, the boat was filling and in peril. <sup>24</sup>So they went and awakened Him, exclaiming, "Master, Master, we are lost!" But He, on awakening, disciplined the wind and the surging of the water, and they ceased and there was a calm. <sup>25</sup>But to them He said, Where is your faith? They, however, were awed and in amazement said to one another, "Who is He, anyway, to give orders to winds and water and they obey him?"

<sup>26</sup>They landed at the Gerasene country opposite Galilee <sup>27</sup>and as He disembarked, a demon-possessed man who came out of town, met Him. He had worn no clothes for a long time nor did he live in a house, but in the tombs. <sup>28</sup>Observing Jesus, he cried out, threw himself in front of Him and shouted loudly, "What do you want with me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg of you, do not torture me!" <sup>29</sup>For He was ordering the unclean spirit to leave the man. Often it had seized him and, though securely fastened in chains and fetters and guarded, he would snap the bonds and be driven by the demon into the deserts.

<sup>30</sup>Jesus asked him, What is your name? He said, "Legion," because many demons had entered him. <sup>31</sup>And they begged Him not to order them to leave for the bottomless pit. <sup>32</sup>But there was a huge drove of swine grazing on the mountainside, and they asked Him to give them permission to enter them; which He permitted them. <sup>33</sup>Then the demons left the man and entered the swine and the drove rushed down the steep bank into the lake and were drowned.<sup>o</sup>

<sup>34</sup>When the herders saw what had occurred, they ran away and reported it in town and country. <sup>35</sup>The people came out to see what had happened and, reaching Jesus, they found the man, cleansed of demons, sitting at Jesus' feet, dressed and sane — and they were in fear. <sup>36</sup>Those who had seen how the demoniac had been saved, then reported it to them; <sup>37</sup>and the whole population of the country around Geresá requested Him to leave them; for they felt thoroughly frightened. So He embarked and went back.

<sup>38</sup>The man whom the demons had left begged to accompany Him, but Jesus sent him away with the suggestion, <sup>39</sup>Go back to your home and broadcast all that God has done for you. So he went and published all over the town what Jesus had done for him.

<sup>40</sup>At His return the public welcomed Jesus, for they were all looking for Him. <sup>41</sup>And a man named Jairus, a director of the synagogue, came and fell at Jesus' feet and requested Him to come to his home <sup>42</sup>because his only daughter, about twelve, was dying. But as He was going, the throngs pressed Him closely, <sup>43</sup>and a woman who had suffered from hemorrhages for twelve years and had spent on doctors all she had, whom no one had been able to cure, <sup>44</sup>came up behind Him and touched the tassel of His robe. Immediately, her hemorrhage was over. <sup>45</sup>Jesus said, Who touched Me? When everyone denied it, Peter remarked, "Master, the crowds are all around and pressing you." <sup>46</sup>But Jesus said, Some one has touched Me, for I am conscious of power having gone out of Me.<sup>p</sup> <sup>47</sup>When the woman saw that she had not escaped notice, she came trembling, fell before Him and confessed in the presence of all the people why she had touched Him and how she had been instantly cured. <sup>48</sup>He spoke to her, Daughter, Cheer up! Your faith has healed you; go in peace!

<sup>49</sup>While He was still speaking, someone came to the synagogue director from his home and said, "Your daughter is dead. Why trouble the Teacher any further?" <sup>50</sup>But as Jesus heard it, He replied, Have no fear; simply believe and she will be healed.

<sup>51</sup>On reaching the home He allowed no one to enter with Him, except Peter, John, and James, and the child's father and mother. <sup>52</sup>Every one was wailing and beating the breast for her; but He remarked, Stop wailing! She is not dead, but asleep! And knowing that she was dead, <sup>53</sup>they laughed at Him. <sup>54</sup>(Then He turned them all out) and grasping her hand, He called out, Maiden, arise! <sup>55</sup>Her spirit returned and at once she arose, and He ordered to give her something to eat. <sup>56</sup>Her parents were amazed; but He enjoined them to tell no one what had happened.

9 CALLING THE TWELVE TOGETHER
He gave them power and authority over all the demons and to heal diseases. <sup>2</sup>He sent them out to announce the kingdom of God and to bring healing. <sup>3</sup>He said to them, Take nothing on the road, neither staff, nor bag, nor money, nor an extra undergarment. <sup>4</sup>Whatever home you enter, stay there until you leave the place. <sup>5</sup>Where they do not welcome you, quit that town and shake off the dust from your feet for a testimony against them.<sup>q</sup> <sup>6</sup>So they went out and traversed the villages, preaching and healing everywhere.

<sup>7</sup>But when the tetrarch Herod heard of all the events that were occurring, he was at a loss, because it was told by some that John had risen from the dead, <sup>8</sup>by others that Elijah had appeared, and by others still that one of the old prophets had come back to life. <sup>9</sup>But Herod said, "John I have beheaded; now who is this about whom I hear so much?" And he endeavored to see Him.

March, 29 A.D.

<sup>10</sup>The apostles came back and related to Jesus everything they had done. Then He took them along and withdrew into privacy near a town called Bethsaida; <sup>11</sup>but the crowds learned of it and followed Him. And, bidding them welcome, He spoke to them about the kingdom of God and healed those who needed healing.

<sup>12</sup>As the day began to decline, the twelve came to Him and said, "Dismiss the multitude, so they may go into the surrounding villages and hamlets to lodge and to find food, for here we are in an isolated place." <sup>13</sup>But He told them, "You give them to eat! They replied, "We have only five loaves and two fishes;" You don't expect us to go and buy food for all these people?" <sup>14</sup>For there were about five thousand men.

But He told His disciples, "Have them recline in rows of about fifty; <sup>15</sup>which they did; they had them all recline. <sup>16</sup>Then taking the five loaves and the two fishes and looking up toward heaven, He blessed<sup>a</sup> and broke them and gave them to the disciples to serve the crowd. <sup>17</sup>They all ate to satisfying and the leftovers were picked up—twelve baskets full.

Summer, 29 A.D.

<sup>18</sup>When in His season of private prayer the disciples joined Him, He asked them, "Who do the crowds say I am?" <sup>19</sup>They answered, "John the Baptist; but some say, Elijah, and others that one of the ancient prophets has risen." <sup>20</sup>Then He asked them, "But who do you say I am?" Peter answered, "The Christ of God." <sup>21</sup>Then He strictly forbade them to tell this to anyone <sup>22</sup>and remarked, "The Son of Man has to suffer much and will be rejected by the elders, chief priests and scribes and be executed, and be raised on the third day.

<sup>23</sup>He told them all, "If anyone wants to come after Me, he must deny himself, take up his cross day by day and follow Me, <sup>24</sup>for whoever wants to save his life shall lose it, but whoever loses his life on My account, he will save it. <sup>25</sup>For what will it benefit a person to gain the whole world and lose or damage himself? <sup>26</sup>Because whoever is ashamed of Me and My teachings, of him the Son of Man shall be ashamed when He comes in His glory and His Father's and of the holy angels. <sup>27</sup>However, I tell you truly, some of those standing here shall not at all taste death until they see the kingdom of God."

Midsummer, 29 A.D.

<sup>32</sup>Peter and his companions had been overcome by sleep, but when they awoke they saw His glory, also the two men standing by Him. <sup>33</sup>At the moment of their parting from Him, Peter remarked to Jesus, "Master, it is well that we are here. Let us construct three booths, one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah," not knowing what he was saying. <sup>34</sup>Even while he said it, a cloud came and overshadowed them and they felt awe-struck as they entered into the cloud. <sup>35</sup>Then a voice came out of the cloud, that said, "This is My Son, My Chosen One, listen to Him!" <sup>36</sup>And with the dying away of the voice Jesus was found alone. At that time they kept still and told no one what they had seen.

<sup>37</sup>Next day, when they came down from the mountain, a great crowd met them <sup>38</sup>and a man shouted from the crowd, "Teacher, I beg of you to take a look at my son, for he is my only child. <sup>39</sup>A spirit seizes him and suddenly he shrieks; it convulses him till he foams; in fact it hardly quits wounding him. <sup>40</sup>I entreated your disciples to expel him, but they were not able." <sup>41</sup>Jesus responded, O faithless and perverse generation, how long must I still be with you and endure you? Bring your son here! <sup>42</sup>And even while they were bringing him, the demon<sup>v</sup> threw him down and convulsed him; but Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and cured the lad and presented him to his father. <sup>43</sup>And how astonished they all were at the evidence of God's great power!

Late summer, 29 A.D.

While everyone was wondering at all His works, He said to His disciples, <sup>44</sup>Let these teachings sink into your ears: The Son of Man is to be delivered into human hands. <sup>45</sup>However, they did not understand this saying; it was kept hidden from them so they might not grasp it, and they were afraid to question Him about the suggestion.

<sup>46</sup>Then there came up a discussion between them, who of them might be greatest, <sup>47</sup>and Jesus, aware of the deliberations that occupied their minds, took a child, placed it by His side, <sup>48</sup>and told them, Whoever receives this child in My name receives Me, and whoever receives Me, receives Him who sent Me. For the lowliest among you all, he is truly great.

<sup>49</sup>John made the remark, "Master, we saw someone expelling demons in Your name and we forbade him, because he does not follow along with us." <sup>50</sup>Jesus told him, Do not forbid

Near October, 29 A.D.

Autumn, 29 A.D.

<sup>57</sup>As they were traveling along the road, someone said to Him, "I will follow you wherever you may go." <sup>58</sup>Jesus told him, The foxes have lairs and the wild birds have roosts, but the Son of Man owns not a spot to lay His head. <sup>59</sup>However, He spoke to another, Follow me! But he replied, "(Lord), allow me first to go and bury my father." <sup>60</sup>But He said to him, Let the dead bury their own dead; you go and preach the kingdom of God. <sup>61</sup>Another, too, said, "I will follow you, Sir, but first allow me to tell good-by to my folk at home." <sup>62</sup>Jesus told him, No one, who puts his hand to the plow and looks back, fits in with the kingdom of God.

10 AFTER THAT, THE LORD COMMISSIONED seventy others,* whom He sent ahead of Him two by two into every town and community where He planned to visit, <sup>2</sup>and told them, The harvest is rich, indeed, but the workmen are few; you therefore pray the Lord of the harvest to force out laborers into His harvest. <sup>3</sup>Go forth! Notice that I am sending you as lambs into the midst of wolves. <sup>4</sup>Carry no purse, or wallet, or sandals, neither stop to salute anyone along the road. <sup>5</sup>Whatever home you enter, first say, "Peace be to this house!" <sup>6</sup>If a peaceful person lives there, your peace will settle down on him; but if not, it will return to you. <sup>7</sup>Stay at the same house, eating and drinking what they provide — for the workman deserves his wages. Do not change from home to home.

<sup>8</sup>Whatever town you enter, if they welcome you, eat what is placed before you. <sup>9</sup>Heal those who are ill there, and tell them, "The kingdom of God has been approaching you." <sup>10</sup>But whatever town you enter and they fail to welcome you, go out into its streets and exclaim, <sup>11</sup>"The dust of your town that sticks to our feet, we wipe off in protest. Know this, however, that the kingdom of God has been nearing (you)." <sup>12</sup>I tell you, it will be more endurable on that day<sup>y</sup> for Sodom than for that town.

<sup>13</sup>Alas for you, Chorazin! Alas for you, Bethsaida! For if in Tyre and Sidon the miracles had occurred that were done in you, they would long since have been sitting repentant in sackcloth and ashes. <sup>14</sup>But it will be more endurable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you. <sup>15</sup>And you, Capernaum, will you be lifted up to heaven? No! You will sink to Hades.

<sup>16</sup>Whoever listens to you, listens to Me, and whoever rejects you, rejects Me. But whoever rejects Me, rejects Him who sent Me.

but cheer because your names are registered in heaven.

Late 29 A.D.

<sup>21</sup>At that time Jesus felt extremely glad in the Holy Spirit and said, I praise Thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because Thou hast concealed this from the learned and intelligent and hast revealed it to babes! Yes, Father, for thus it is pleasing in Thy presence!<sup>a</sup> <sup>22</sup>Everything has been handed over to Me by My Father and no one knows who the Son is except the Father, nor who the Father is, except the Son and he to whom the Son chooses to reveal Him.

<sup>23</sup>Turning to the disciples by themselves, He said, Blessed are the eyes that see what you see! <sup>24</sup>For I tell you that many prophets and kings have longed to see what you see but they did not see it, and to hear what you hear but they did not hear it.

<sup>25</sup>Now a certain lawyer got up to put Him to a thorough test. He asked, "Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" <sup>26</sup>Jesus asked him, What is written in the law? How do you recite it? <sup>27</sup>The lawyer answered, "You must love the Lord your God with your whole heart, your whole soul, your whole strength and your whole mind, and your neighbor as yourself." <sup>28</sup>Jesus told him, You have answered correctly, Practice this and you will live!

<sup>29</sup>But wishing to absolve himself, he asked Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?" <sup>30</sup>Following this up, Jesus said: A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among robbers, who stripped and pummeled him and ran off, leaving him half dead. <sup>31</sup>Coincidentally, a certain priest came down that road, who saw him and passed on the other side. <sup>32</sup>In the same way a Levite, too, arrived at the spot, looked, and passed on the other side. <sup>33</sup>Then a certain Samaritan came there as he traveled, who saw him and took pity. <sup>34</sup>Going to him, he bandaged his wounds, poured oil and wine into them, set him on his own donkey, conducted him to an inn and waited on him. <sup>35</sup>Next morning he took out and handed the innkeeper two dollars<sup>b</sup> with the suggestion, "Take care of him and whatever further expense you incur, I will refund when I come back."

<sup>36</sup>Which of these three, you think, was really neighbor to the one who fell among the robbers?

<sup>37</sup>He said, "The one who practiced mercy on him." Then Jesus told him, "You go and practice that same way!"

<sup>38</sup>During their travels they entered a certain village, where a woman named Martha welcomed Him to her home. <sup>39</sup>She had a sister called Mary, who took a seat at the Lord's feet and listened to His teaching. <sup>40</sup>But Martha got worried about much housework, so, demurring, she said, "Lord, do you not care that my sister is letting me do the work alone? Then tell her to take hold with me!" <sup>41</sup>But the Lord answered her, Martha, Martha, you are anxious and bustling about many matters, <sup>42</sup>when there is need of but few or of one thing. But Mary has selected the good portion of which she is not to be deprived.

11 AS HE WAS PRAYING IN A CERTAIN place and paused, one of His disciples said to Him, "Lord, teach us to pray as John, too, taught his disciples." <sup>2</sup>He told them, When you pray, say: (Our) Father, (who art in heaven) Thy name be held holy. Thy kingdom come. (Thy will be done as in heaven so in earth.) <sup>3</sup>Daily grant us our food for the coming day. <sup>4</sup>And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one indebted to us. And bring us not into temptation (but rescue us from evil.)<sup>c</sup> lend me three loaves, <sup>6</sup>since a friend of mine has come along to me from a trip and I have nothing to set before him," <sup>7</sup>and that the one inside should answer him, "Do not bother me. The door is already locked and my children are in bed with me. I cannot get up to supply you!"

<sup>5</sup>He further said to them, Let us say that one of you has a friend to whom he goes at midnight and says, "Friend,

<sup>8</sup>I tell you, if he does not get up to supply him because he is his friend, he will rise on account of his brazen insistence,<sup>d</sup> and give him as much as he needs. <sup>9</sup>So I suggest further: Ask and it will be given you; seek and you will find; rap and it will be opened to you, <sup>10</sup>for every asker receives, every seeker finds and to every one who raps the door will be opened. <sup>11</sup>What father among you whose son (asks bread will give him a stone, or if he) requests a fish will instead hand him a snake, <sup>12</sup>or if he requests an egg will hand him a scorpion? <sup>13</sup>If you then, evil-minded as you are, know enough to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him!

<sup>14</sup>He was expelling a speechless demon, and after the expulsion the dumb man spoke so that the people wondered; <sup>15</sup>but some of them said, "He expels demons through Beelzebub the prince of the demons." <sup>16</sup>Others by way of testing Him, asked Him for a sign from heaven. <sup>17</sup>Well aware what they were thinking, He told them, Every kingdom split up against itself comes to ruin; so does the quarreling home go down. <sup>18</sup>And if Satan is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand up? For you say that I expel demons through Beelzebub. <sup>19</sup>But if I expel demons through Beelzebub,<sup>e</sup> through whom do your sons cast them out? They therefore shall be your judges. <sup>20</sup>But if I expel demons by means of God's finger,<sup>f</sup> then the kingdom of God has already reached you.

LUKE 11 Greater than Solomon and Jonah; With or Against Him; Clear Vision

Teachings of late 28 A.D.

<sup>24</sup>When an unclean spirit leaves a person, it crosses dry places in search of temporary rest and, not finding it, says, "I will go back to the house I left!" <sup>25</sup>But on arrival he finds it swept and orderly. <sup>26</sup>He then goes and fetches seven other spirits, meaner than himself; they enter and dwell there and that person's final condition is worse than it was at first.

<sup>27</sup>In the course of His telling this, some woman in the crowd raised her voice to address Him, "Blessed be the womb that bore you and the breasts on which you nursed." <sup>28</sup>But He said, More blessed still are those who hear and observe the word of God.

<sup>29</sup>As the many people were crowding Him, He began with saying, This generation is an evil progeny; it desires a sign, but none shall be granted it except the sign of Jonah, <sup>30</sup>for as Jonah was a sign to the Ninevites so shall the Son of Man be to this generation. <sup>31</sup>The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this age and shall condemn them; for she came from the ends of the earth to listen to Solomon's wisdom, and, take note, One greater than Solomon is here. <sup>32</sup>The men of Nineveh shall rise in the judgment with this generation and shall condemn it; because they repented at Jonah's preaching, and, take note, One greater than Jonah is here.

<sup>33</sup>No one lights a lamp and puts it in hiding or under the grain measure, but on top of a stand, so that the arrivals may see the light. <sup>34</sup>Your eye is the body's lamp. When your eye is sound, your whole body is illumined; but in case it is defective, your body is darkened. <sup>35</sup>See to it, therefore, that the light in you is not dark. <sup>36</sup>If, however, your whole body is illumined, with no portion dark, then it is as perfectly lit as when a lamp illumines you with its beam.

<sup>37</sup>During His discourse a Pharisee invited Him home to dine, so He went in and reclined. <sup>38</sup>But the Pharisee noticed and wondered that He had performed no ablution before the meal. <sup>39</sup>The Lord said to him, Now you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the plate, but your own inside is full of robbery and wickedness. <sup>40</sup>Simpletons! Did not He who made the outside make the inside, too? <sup>41</sup>Better bestow in kindness what is inside and everything will be clean for you. <sup>42</sup>But alas for you Pharisees, because you tithe the mint and the rue and every vegetable, while disregarding the justice and the love of God. These things you should practice without omitting the other.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>43</sup>Alas for you Pharisees, for you cherish the prominent pews in the synagogues, and the salutations in the markets. <sup>44</sup>Alas for you, because you are like the unseen tombs over which people walk without being aware of them.

<sup>45</sup>One of the lawyers responded, "Teacher, when you say this, you insult us, too." <sup>46</sup>But He said, Alas for you lawyers as well, because you pack the people with loads that are hard to carry, while you do not personally touch those burdens with one of your fingers. <sup>47</sup>Alas for you, because you build the monuments for the prophets whom your fathers killed. <sup>48</sup>In that way you are consenting to your fathers' works; for they indeed killed them and you memorialize.

<sup>49</sup>The Wisdom of God therefore says, "I will send them prophets and apostles, some of whom they will kill and persecute," <sup>50</sup>so that the blood of all the prophets that has been shed from the founding of the world may be charged against this generation, <sup>51</sup>from Abel's blood to that of Zechariah<sup>h</sup> who was murdered between the altar and the temple. Yes, I tell you, it will be charged against this generation.

<sup>52</sup>Alas for you, lawyers, for you have taken away the key to knowledge; you have not personally entered and you have prevented those who were entering.

<sup>53</sup>Upon His leaving there, the scribes and Pharisees undertook to heckle Him fiercely and to draw Him out by cross-questioning on many points, secretly <sup>54</sup>watching Him for the purpose of trapping Him on something from His lips.

12 AS MEANWHILE COUNTLESS people were massed, so they stepped on one another, He began with saying, primarily to His disciples, Guard yourselves against the leaven of the Pharisees, that is, against hypocrisy. <sup>2</sup>But nothing is hidden that shall not be shown, or secret that shall not be brought to light. <sup>3</sup>So, whatever you say in the dark shall be heard in the light and what you whisper in the ear within a private room shall be published from the roofs.

<sup>4</sup>My friends, I tell you, have no fear of those who kill the body and afterward can do nothing more; <sup>5</sup>but I will show you whom to fear: Fear Him who, after taking the life, has power to cast into Gehenna. Yes, I say to you, fear Him.

<sup>6</sup>Are not five sparrows sold for two nickels?<sup>1</sup> Yet none of them is forgotten in God's presence. <sup>7</sup>And the very hairs of your head are all counted. Have no fear—you are worth more than flocks of sparrows.

<sup>8</sup>I tell you further: Whoever acknowledges Me in the presence of the people, the Son of Man will acknowledge him in the presence of God's angels. <sup>9</sup>But whoever denies Me before men, he shall be denied before the angels of God. <sup>10</sup>Whoever shall make a statement against the Son of Man, for him there is forgiveness; but for him who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit there shall be no forgiveness.<sup>1</sup>

Teachings of summer, 28 A.D.

<sup>11</sup>When they bring you to synagogues and rulers and authorities, do not worry how to defend yourself or what to say, <sup>12</sup>for the Holy Spirit will teach you at the very moment what you ought to say.

<sup>13</sup>One of the crowd said to Him, "Teacher, tell my brother to share the inheritance with me!" <sup>14</sup>But He told him, Man, who appointed Me judge or distributor over your goods? <sup>15</sup>He then said to the people, Look out and be on guard against all greed; for one's life is not made up of the abundance of his possessions.

<sup>16</sup>Then He told them a parable: The field of a certain rich man yielded abundantly, <sup>17</sup>so he considered within himself, "What shall I do; for I have no room to store my crops?" <sup>18</sup>He said, "I will do this—I will tear down my barns and build bigger ones and there I will store all my produce and my goods, <sup>19</sup>and I will say to my soul, 'Soul, you have much wealth laid up for many a year! Take it easy; eat, drink, enjoy yourself.'"

<sup>20</sup>But God said to him, "Simpleton, this night your soul will be demanded of you, and what you have gotten ready, whose is it to be?" <sup>21</sup>Thus fares the person who treasures up for himself and is not rich in relation to God.

Late 28 A.D.

<sup>22</sup>But to His disciples He said, For this reason I tell you: Do not worry about what you may eat, or about the body, what to wear; <sup>23</sup>for life is more than nourishment and the body more than clothes. <sup>24</sup>Observe the ravens, how they neither sow nor harvest, have neither barn nor granary, and God feeds them. How far more valuable are you than the birds!

<sup>25</sup>Who of you can add a foot<sup>k</sup> to his height by worrying? <sup>26</sup>So, if you cannot bring about that little, why be anxious about the rest? <sup>27</sup>Consider the lilies, how they do not toil wearily; neither do they spin; but I tell you that not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed like one of them. <sup>28</sup>But if God so attires the grass that is in the field today and is tomorrow thrown into the oven, how much more you, faint-believers!

<sup>29</sup>Do not be inquiring what to eat and what to drink, neither be anxious; <sup>30</sup>for the people of the world desire all these things; but your Father knows that you need them. <sup>31</sup>You, however, seek His kingdom, and these things will be supplied you besides. <sup>32</sup>Do not fear, little flock, for your Father is pleased to give you the kingdom.

<sup>33</sup>Sell what you have and practice benevolence; make purses for yourselves that never age — unfailing treasure in heaven where no thief reaches or moth ruins. <sup>34</sup>For where your treasure is, there will be your heart, too.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>45</sup>But if that servant says to himself, "My master is putting off his arrival," and starts to beat the servants and the maids, also to eat and to drink and to get drunk, <sup>46</sup>that servant's master will come on an unexpected day and at an hour of which he has no idea, and will discharge him and will make him share the fate of the unfaithful.

<sup>47</sup>The servant who knew his master's program and neither got ready for the program nor worked it out, shall be severely lashed; <sup>48</sup>while one ignorant of it, who does what deserves flogging, shall be punished lightly. For of every one to whom much is given, much shall be required, and of him to whom much has been entrusted, people will demand the more.

<sup>49</sup>I have come to cast fire on the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled! <sup>50</sup>I have an overwhelming baptism to undergo and how strained I feel until it is finished! <sup>51</sup>Do you suppose that I am here to bring peace on earth? Not at all, I tell you, but rather discord, <sup>52</sup>for from now on five shall be at odds in one home, three against two and two against three — <sup>53</sup>father hostile toward son and son toward father; mother against daughter and daughter against mother; mother-in-law against daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law.<sup>m</sup>

<sup>54</sup>And to the crowds He said, When you see a cloud coming up in the west, at once you remark, "A shower coming!" and so it is. <sup>55</sup>And when the south wind blows, you say, "It will be hot!" and it happens. <sup>56</sup>You hypocrites know how to interpret the looks of earth and sky; why then can you not estimate the meaning of this occasion? <sup>57</sup>Why do you not personally decide what is right?

<sup>58</sup>So when you go with your opponent to the magistrate, give him on the way there his earned profit so as to be freed from him, for fear he hales you before the judge, the judge hands you over to the jailor and the jailor throws you in prison. <sup>59</sup>I tell you, you will not

13 JUST THEN SOME WERE PRESENT who told Him about the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mixed with their sacrifices, <sup>2</sup>and He said to them in reply, Do you suppose, because they suffered this, that those Galileans were worse sinners than all their fellow Galileans? <sup>3</sup>Not at all, I tell you, but unless you repent you will all similarly perish. <sup>4</sup>Or those eighteen on whom the Siloam tower fell so that it killed them, do you suppose they fell short more badly than all other dwellers in Jerusalem? <sup>5</sup>Not at all, I tell you; but unless you repent you will all similarly perish.

Early 30 A.D.

<sup>6</sup>He related this parable: Someone had a fig tree planted in his orchard and came to look for fruit on it but did not find any; <sup>7</sup>so he said to the gardener, "Look here! For three years now I have come to look for fruit on this fig tree and do not find any. Cut it down! Why should it exhaust the soil?" <sup>8</sup>But he replied, "Master, leave it yet for this year, till I dig around it and put in fertilizer; <sup>9</sup>perhaps it will bear fruit next season — but if not, cut it down!"<sup>o</sup>

<sup>10</sup>While He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath, <sup>11a</sup>a woman attended who for eighteen years had suffered from a weakening spirit; she was bent double and could not straighten herself up at all. <sup>12</sup>As Jesus looked at her, He announced to her, Woman, you are liberated from your weakness. <sup>13</sup>He also laid hands on her, and instantly she was made erect, and she praised God.

<sup>14</sup>But the synagogue director, indignant because Jesus healed on the Sabbath, retorted to the crowd, "There are six workdays to be observed; so come to be healed on those and not on the Sabbath day." <sup>15</sup>But the Lord answered him, Hypocrites, does not every one of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or his donkey from the feeding trough and lead him away to drink? <sup>16</sup>Ought not then this woman, a daughter of Abraham whom Satan held tied up, mind you, these eighteen years, to be untied of her bond on the Sabbath day?

<sup>17</sup>At these remarks all His opponents felt ashamed, while all the people felt glad over all the wonderful things that were done by Him.

<sup>18</sup>He then said, What does the kingdom of God resemble and to what shall I compare it? <sup>19</sup>It resembles a mustard seed which a man took and planted in his garden. It grew up into a tree and the birds of the air made their homes in its branches. <sup>20</sup>He further said, To what shall I compare the kingdom of God? <sup>21</sup>It resembles yeast which a woman took and put out of sight in three portions of flour until it was all raised.

<sup>22</sup>Making His way to Jerusalem He went through towns and villages, teaching. <sup>23</sup>Someone asked Him, "Lord, are only a few saved?" But He told them, <sup>24</sup>Strive your utmost to enter through the narrow door; for many, I tell you, will try to enter and will not be able <sup>25</sup>after the house owner has gotten up and has shut the door. Standing outside, you will start knocking at the door, calling, "Lord, open for us!" But He will reply to you: "I neither know you, nor where you come from!" <sup>26</sup>Then you will begin to say, "We ate and we drank with you and you taught in our streets!" <sup>27</sup>But He will tell you, "I do not know from where you are. Get away from Me, all you evildoers."

<sup>28</sup>There shall be wailing and grinding of teeth when you see Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but yourselves thrown outside. <sup>29</sup>And from east and west, north and south they shall come and will be reclining at the table of the kingdom of God. <sup>30</sup>But, mind you, there are lowest who shall be first and there are first who shall be lowest.

LUKE 13, 14 God's Call Refused; More Sabbath Healing; The Grace of Humility

Early 30 A.D.

<sup>31</sup>At that time certain Pharisees arrived to tell Him, "Get out of this place, for Herod intends to kill you."

<sup>32</sup>He replied, You go and tell that fox how I expel demons and work healing today and tomorrow, and on the third day<sup>p</sup> I complete My work. <sup>33</sup>However, I must travel on today and tomorrow and the next day; for it would not do for a prophet to perish outside Jerusalem.

<sup>34</sup>O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that kills the prophets and stones those sent to you! How often did I want to gather your children as a bird gathers her brood under her wings; and you did not care. <sup>35</sup>Be aware that your home is left you destitute.<sup>q</sup> I tell you that you will not see Me at all until you say, "Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord."

14 AS HE ENTERED THE HOME OF a Pharisee ruler to eat a meal on the Sabbath, they watched Him closely, <sup>2</sup>for a man with dropsy faced Him. <sup>3</sup>So Jesus turned to the lawyers and Pharisees asking: Is it right to heal on the Sabbath or not? <sup>4</sup>But they kept still. He then took the patient, healed him, and let him go. <sup>5</sup>He said to them, Who of you has an ox or donkey that falls into a pit and you do not immediately pull him out on the Sabbath day? <sup>6</sup>And they could not contradict that.

January-March, 30 A.D.

<sup>7</sup>To the guests, whom He noticed selecting the choicest places, He spoke this lesson: <sup>8</sup>When you are invited by someone to a wedding banquet, do not recline in the most preferable place; for one more highly esteemed by your host than yourself may have been invited by him <sup>9</sup>and as your mutual host arrives, he may say to you, "Make room for him," and, feeling deeply embarrassed, you then proceed to take the lowliest place. Rather, <sup>10</sup>when you are invited, go and recline in the lowliest place so that, when your host arrives, he may say to you, "Friend, move up higher!" You will then enjoy honor before all your fellow guests. <sup>11</sup>For whoever makes himself prominent shall be humbled, and whoever humbles himself shall be set high.

<sup>12</sup>He further told His host, Whenever you give a dinner or supper, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or your well-to-do neighbors; for they may invite you in their turn and so repay you. <sup>13</sup>Instead, when you give a dinner, invite the poor, the maimed, the lame, and the blind; <sup>14</sup>then blessing shall be yours, for they have nothing to repay you, but you will be repaid at the resurrection of the just.

<sup>15</sup>One of the fellow guests who heard this, said to Him, "Blessed is he who shall eat bread in the kingdom of God." <sup>16</sup>But He told him, A man gave a great supper and invited many. <sup>17</sup>At the supper hour he sent his servant to tell those invited, "Come, for everything is now ready!" <sup>18</sup>But unani- mously they began making excuse. The first told him, "I have bought a field and I simply must go to see it; I beg of you, have me excused." <sup>19</sup>Another said, "I have bought five yoke of oxen and I am going to test them; I beg of you, have me excused." <sup>20</sup>Another said, "I have married a wife and on that account I cannot come."

<sup>21</sup>The servant presented himself and reported this to his master. Then, his anger aroused, the master of the house told his servant, "Hurry out into the streets and alleys of the city and bring in here the poor, the maimed, the blind, and the lame!" <sup>22</sup>When the servant said, "Master, what you ordered has been done and still there is room," <sup>23</sup>the master instructed the servant, "Go out to the roads and hedges and force them to come in, so my house may be filled; <sup>24</sup>for I tell you, none of those that were invited shall taste of my supper."

<sup>25</sup>Great crowds were traveling along with Him, so He turned and told them, <sup>26</sup>Whoever comes to Me without

prizing far less dearly his father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, even his own life, cannot be My disciple.<sup>r</sup> <sup>27</sup>Whoever does not carry his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

<sup>28</sup>For who of you, wanting to build a tower, does not first sit down to figure out the expense, whether he has enough to complete it? <sup>29</sup>Else, when the foundation has been laid and he cannot finish it, every spectator proceeds to say in ridicule, <sup>30</sup>"This man started to build and could not finish it!"

<sup>32</sup>For if not, he will send a delegation with request for peace while the other is still at a good distance.

<sup>33</sup>So with every one of you who will not part with all he has; he cannot be My disciple. <sup>34</sup>Salt is good; but when salt is tasteless, with what can it be seasoned? <sup>35</sup>It is fit neither for the soil nor for the manure pile; they throw it away. Whoever has ears to hear let him listen!<sup>a</sup>

15 ALL THE TAX COLLECTORS AND sinners were crowding close to Him to hear Him, <sup>2</sup>and the Pharisees and scribes complained, "This person welcomes sinners and eats with them." <sup>3</sup>So He told them this parable: <sup>4</sup>Who of you with a hundred sheep and losing one of them would not leave the ninety-nine alone where they are, to go after the lost one till he finds it? <sup>5</sup>And when he has found it, he is glad to lay it on his shoulders, <sup>6</sup>and when he gets home, he summons his friends and neighbors to whom he says, "Be glad with me, for I have found my lost sheep." <sup>7</sup>I tell you, in such fashion there will be joy in heaven over one repentant sinner more than over ninety-nine righteous persons who stand in no need of repentance.

<sup>8</sup>Or what woman with ten silver pieces<sup>t</sup> does not, at losing one of them, light a lamp and sweep the house and search carefully till she finds it? <sup>9</sup>And when she has found it, she summons her friends and neighbors, saying, "Be glad with me, for I have found the lost silver piece." <sup>10</sup>I tell you, in like fashion there is joy before God's angels over one repentant sinner.

<sup>11</sup>He further said, A certain man had two sons, <sup>12</sup>the younger of whom said to his father, "Father, give me the share of the property that is coming to me." So he apportioned to them his means of living. <sup>13</sup>After a few days the younger son collected all he had and traveled to a distant country, and there he squandered what he had in reckless living. <sup>14</sup>When all had been squandered, a terrible famine visited that whole land and he began to lack; <sup>15</sup>so he went and imposed himself upon a citizen of that country, who sent him into his fields to care for hogs. <sup>16</sup>He aimed to get his stomach filled with bean pods which the hogs were eating; but no one gave him any. <sup>17</sup>But when he came to himself, he said, "How many of my father's hired hands have more than they can eat and here I am starving! <sup>18</sup>I will rise and go to my father and say to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you <sup>19</sup>and I no longer deserve to be called your son; take me on as one of your hired hands!'"

<sup>20</sup>So he got up and went to his father; but when he was still a great way off, his father saw him and felt deeply moved (for him) and, running, fell on his neck and kissed him. <sup>21</sup>The son said to him, "Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you; I no longer deserve to be called your son!" <sup>22</sup>But the father told his servants, "Hurry! and sandals on his feet; <sup>23</sup>bring the fattened calf, too, and butcher it. Let us feast and be merry; <sup>24</sup>for this my son was dead and he lives again; he was lost and has been found." So they began to be merry.

<sup>25</sup>But his older son was in the field and as he came near home he heard music and dancing; so, <sup>26</sup>calling one of the boys, he asked what it was all about. <sup>27</sup>He told him, "Your brother has come: and, because he has come back safe and well, your father has butchered the fattened calf." <sup>28</sup>Stirred with anger, however, he would not even go in. His father came out to invite him; <sup>29</sup>but he replied to his father, "See here! I have worked for you all these years without ever neglecting an order of yours; but never yet did you give me so much as a kid, so that I might make merry with my friends. <sup>30</sup>But when this son of yours comes along after squandering your livelihood with prostitutes, you kill for him the fattened calf." <sup>31</sup>But he said to him, "Child, you are always with me and all I have is yours. <sup>32</sup>We just had to make merry and to be happy, for this your brother was dead and he has come to life; he was lost and has been found."

16 HE FURTHER TOLD THE DISCIPLES: There was a rich man who had a manager and this manager was reported to him as wasting his belongings. <sup>2</sup>So he called him in and asked him, "What is this I hear about you? Hand in an account of your management; for you can no longer be manager."

<sup>3</sup>The manager said to himself, "What shall I do, now that my employer deprives me of my manager-ship? I have not strength to dig; I am ashamed to beg, <sup>4</sup>I know what I will do so that, when I am discharged from my management, they may welcome me in their homes." <sup>5</sup>So, calling in each one of his master's debtors, he said to the first, "How much do you owe my chief?" <sup>6</sup>He replied, "A hundred barrels<sup>v</sup> of oil." The manager then suggested to him, "Take your bill, sit down quickly and write, fifty." <sup>7</sup>He then asked another, "How much do you owe?" To which he replied, "A hundred sacks<sup>w</sup> of wheat." To him he suggested, "Take your bill and write eighty."

<sup>8</sup>The master commended his dishonest manager for acting shrewdly; for the sons of this world practice more caution than do the sons of light in their own generation. <sup>9</sup>And I tell you so to use deceitful wealth that you win friends, who, when it fails, may welcome you into eternal dwellings.

<sup>10</sup>He who is faithful in the least is faithful also in the important, while he who is unreliable in the least is unreliable in the important, too. <sup>11</sup>So, if you have not been faithful in matters of deceitful riches, who will entrust with you the true riches? <sup>12</sup>And if you are not reliable with what belongs to another, who will give you anything for your personal possession?

<sup>13</sup>No domestic can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will support the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.<sup>x</sup>

his gate lay a beggar called Lazarus, covered with sores,<sup>21</sup> and hungering to be fed crumbs that fell from the rich man's table. Even the dogs, as they came along, licked his sores.

<sup>27</sup>He said, "Then I plead with you, Father, to send him to my father's house, <sup>28</sup>for I have five brothers; let him strongly warn them, so they may not come to this place of torment." <sup>29</sup>But Abraham said, "They have Moses and the prophets; they may listen to them." <sup>30</sup>He rejoined, "No, father Abraham; but should one risen from the dead go to them, they will repent." <sup>31</sup>Abraham told him, "If they will not listen to Moses and the prophets, they will not be convinced even if someone rises from the dead."

17 TO HIS DISCIPLES HE SAID, OBSTACLES must inevitably come, but alas for the person who causes them! <sup>2</sup>It were to his advantage to have a millstone hung around his neck and to be tossed into the sea, rather than to be an obstacle to one of these little ones.

pents, forgive him. <sup>4</sup>Even if he sins against you seven times a day and comes back to you seven times with the words, "I am sorry!" forgive him.

<sup>5</sup>The apostles said to the Lord, "Give us more faith!" <sup>6</sup>The Lord said, "If you had faith the size of a mustard seed, you might say to this mulberry tree, 'Be uprooted and planted in the sea!' and it would obey you."

<sup>7</sup>Who of you with a servant plowing or herding sheep, will say to him as he comes in from the field, "Come at once and recline at table," instead of telling him, <sup>8</sup>"Get something ready for my supper; put on your belt and wait on me while I eat and drink, and afterward you may eat and drink?" <sup>9</sup>Is he thankful to the servant for doing what he was assigned? <sup>10</sup>The same on your part; when you have done everything that was assigned you, say, "We are undeserving servants; we have simply done our duty."

<sup>15</sup>But one of them, noticing that he was healed, came back, loudly praising God. <sup>16</sup>He fell on his face at His feet, thanking Him. And he was a Samaritan. <sup>17</sup>Jesus said, "Were there not ten cleansed? But where are the nine?" <sup>18</sup>Was no one found to return and give thanks to God except this alien? <sup>19</sup>And to him He said, "Stand up and go! Your faith has saved you."

<sup>20</sup>Asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come, He answered them, "The kingdom of God does not come with eye appeal, <sup>21</sup>neither will they say, 'Look here!' or 'There it is!' for indeed the kingdom of God is in your midst."<sup>b</sup>

a) The realm of the dead.

b) The translation, "within you" is equally possible, but could hardly be our Lord's meaning regarding the Pharisees. More likely it means, "I am in your midst," for He was and is identical with God's kingdom.

LUKE 17, 18 The King Is Coming; Persistent Humble Prayer; The King's Children

January-March, 30 A.D.

<sup>22</sup>To His disciples He said, The time is coming when you will long to see one of the days of the Son of Man, but in vain. <sup>23</sup>They will say to you, "Look, here he is!" or "Look, there he is!" By no means go out or follow them; <sup>24</sup>for as the lightning flashes from one end of the sky to the other, so shall the Son of Man be in His own day. <sup>25</sup>But first He must undergo much suffering and be rejected by this generation.

<sup>26</sup>In the days of the Son of Man it will be just as it was in the days of Noah — <sup>27</sup>they ate, they drank, they married, and they were being married until the day when Noah entered the ark; and then came the deluge and destroyed them all. <sup>28</sup>It was similar, too, in Lot's days — they ate and drank, they bought and sold, they planted and built; <sup>29</sup>but on the day when Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven and destroyed them all.

<sup>30</sup>It will be similar on the day when the Son of Man shall be revealed. <sup>31</sup>A person on the roof that day, with his belongings inside the house, should not go down to fetch them, and equally a person in the field must not turn back.

<sup>37</sup>In response they asked Him, "Where, Lord?" But He told them, Where there is a corpse, there the vultures will flock.

18 HE ALSO TOLD THEM A PARABLE to show that they must always pray and not lose courage: <sup>2</sup>There was a judge in a certain city with no reverence for God and no regard for man, <sup>3</sup>and in that city there was a widow, who came to him with the appeal, "Do me justice toward my opponent." <sup>4</sup>For a while he would not; <sup>5</sup>but later on he said to himself, "Even though I have neither reverence for God nor regard for man, <sup>6</sup>still, because this widow bothers me, I will do her justice, so she may not finally wear me down<sup>d</sup> by her coming!"

<sup>6</sup>The Lord said, Listen to what the unfair judge says, <sup>7</sup>and shall not God do justice for His own chosen, who cry to Him day and night, while He is indulgent with the opponents? <sup>8</sup>I tell you, He will do them justice in short order. However, when the Son of Man comes, will He find faith on the earth?

<sup>9</sup>To those confiding in their own righteousness and looking down on the rest, He told this parable: <sup>10</sup>Two men went up to the temple for worship, the one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. <sup>11</sup>The Pharisee stood up and said this prayer for himself, "God, I thank Thee that I am not like the rest of men — thieves, cheats, adulterers; or even like this tax collector. <sup>12</sup>I fast twice a week; I pay tithes on everything I get." <sup>13</sup>But the tax collector, standing at a distance, did not even want to raise his eyes toward heaven, but struck his chest and said, "God, be merciful to me, the sinner." <sup>14</sup>I tell you, it was he who went home made righteous, rather than the other; for whoever exalts himself shall be humbled, but he who humbles himself shall be placed high.

<sup>15</sup>They brought Him infants to touch; but when the disciples noticed it, they reproved them. <sup>16</sup>So Jesus called them to Him and said, Allow the little ones to come to Me, and do not forbid them; for the kingdom of God belongs to their kind. <sup>17</sup>I assure you, unless one receives the kingdom of God like a child, he shall not enter it at all.

good except One — God. <sup>20</sup>You know the commandments, "Do not commit adultery; Do not kill; Do not steal; Do not witness falsely; Honor your father and mother." <sup>21</sup>He replied, "All these I have observed from childhood up." <sup>22</sup>Hearing this, Jesus told him, You still lack one thing. Sell everything you have and donate it to the poor, and you will have riches in heaven, and come, follow Me! <sup>23</sup>Hearing this, he grew distressed, for he was extremely rich. <sup>24</sup>Jesus looked at him and said, With what difficulty do those who have wealth enter the kingdom of God! <sup>25</sup>For it is easier for a camel<sup>e</sup> to pass through a needle's eye than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God.

<sup>26</sup>His listeners said, "Then who can be saved?" <sup>27</sup>But He said, The impossibles on man's part are possibles on God's part. <sup>28</sup>Peter said, "See, we have left our all and have followed Thee!" <sup>29</sup>He told them, I assure you, there is no one who has given up home or wife or brothers or parents or children on behalf of the kingdom of God, <sup>30</sup>who shall not receive many times more in this age, and in the coming age eternal life.

<sup>31</sup>Taking aside the twelve, He told them, See, we are going up to Jerusalem and all the writings of the prophets about the Son of Man will be fulfilled: <sup>32</sup>for He will be handed over to the Gentiles and ridiculed and insulted and spat on, <sup>33</sup>and they will flog and execute Him, and on the third day He will rise again. <sup>34</sup>But they did not understand a word of it; the information was obscure to them; they did not know what He was telling them.<sup>f</sup>

quiet; but he shouted the louder, "Son of David, take pity on me!" <sup>40</sup>So Jesus stopped and gave orders to bring him to Him. As he approached, <sup>41</sup>Jesus asked him, What do you want Me to do for you? He said, "Lord, let me get back my sight!" <sup>42</sup>Jesus told him, Regain your sight! Your faith has saved you! <sup>43</sup>Instantly he regained his sight and he followed Him, praising God. All the people saw it and gave God praise.

19 HE ENTERED JERICHO, AND AS He crossed it, <sup>2</sup>there was a man named Zacchaeus, a chief tax collector and wealthy, <sup>3</sup>who tried to see who Jesus was. But as he could not on account of the crowd and he was short, <sup>4</sup>he ran ahead and climbed a sycamore tree to see Him, for He was about to pass that way.

<sup>5</sup>As Jesus reached the spot, He looked up and said to him, Zacchaeus, come down quickly, for I am due to stay at your home today. <sup>6</sup>He hurried down and heartily welcomed Him. <sup>7</sup>And all who looked on, complained, "He has gone to be guest of a sinner!"

<sup>8</sup>But Zacchaeus paused, and said to the Lord, "See, Lord, I will give half of my belongings to the poor, and if I have defrauded anyone of anything I will pay it back fourfold." <sup>9</sup>Jesus said, pointing to him, Today salvation has come to this home, since this man, too, is a son of Abraham; <sup>10</sup>for the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost.

<sup>11</sup>Because they were near Jerusalem and supposed that the kingdom of God was to appear at once, He went on to tell a parable in their hearing; <sup>12</sup>so He said: A certain nobleman went to a distant land to acquire a kingdom for himself and to return. <sup>13</sup>Summoning ten of his servants, he gave them ten minas<sup>g</sup> and told them, "Trade with this till I come back." <sup>14</sup>But his townsmen hated him and sent a delegation after him to say, "We do not want him to be king over us."<sup>h</sup>

e) "Kamelos," camel; but Syriac versions have "kamilos," cable or rope, which seems more fitting here than camel. f) A threefold affirmation of their inability to understand Him.

g) "Mina," about seventeen dollars, reckoning in full value dollars; really equal to a hundred dollars now.

h) Archelaus, son of Herod, experienced this from the Jews as he went to Rome for his crown.

Late March, 30 A.D.

<sup>15</sup>On his return with appointment to the kingdom, he ordered those servants to whom he had given the money, to be summoned so that he might ascertain what business they had transacted. <sup>16</sup>Now the first one presented himself and said, "Master, your mina has made ten minas." <sup>17</sup>He said to him, "Well done, good servant; because you were trustworthy in little, you will be governor over ten cities."

<sup>18</sup>The second also came and said, "Master, your mina has made five minas." <sup>19</sup>Him, too, he told, "And you will have charge over five cities."

<sup>20</sup>Then another came and said, "Here is your mina, Sir, reserved in a napkin; <sup>21</sup>for I was in fear because you are a harsh man. You take up what you did not lay down and you reap what you did not sow." <sup>22</sup>He told him, "You good-for-nothing servant, I will convict you from your own mouth. You knew that I was a harsh man, taking up what I did not lay down and reaping what I did not sow? <sup>23</sup>Then why did you not put my money in the bank, so that when I came I might have gotten it with interest?" <sup>24</sup>Then he said to the bystanders, "Take the mina from him and give it to the one with ten minas." They said to him, <sup>25</sup>"Master, he has ten minas!" <sup>26</sup>I tell you, to the one who has shall be given, but from one who has not shall be taken what he has. <sup>27</sup>"Now for these enemies of mine, who did not want me for their king, fetch them here and execute them in my presence."

Sunday, April 2, 30 A.D.

<sup>28</sup>After this message He went on ahead of them, going up to Jerusalem. <sup>29</sup>And as they neared Bethphage and Bethany, at what is called the Mount of Olives, He dispatched two of His disciples <sup>30</sup>by saying to them, Go to the opposite village and as you enter it, you will find a colt hitched, on which no one ever yet rode; untie and bring it. <sup>31</sup>And if someone asks you, "Why do you untie it?" you say, "Because the Lord needs it!"

Sunday, April 2, 30 A.D.

<sup>32</sup>The messengers went off and found it exactly as He had told them. <sup>33</sup>As they were untying the colt, its owners asked them, "Why are you untying the colt?" <sup>34</sup>And they said, "Because the Lord needs it!" <sup>35</sup>Then they brought it to Jesus and, throwing their coats on the colt, they placed Jesus on it.

<sup>36</sup>As He went in the procession, they spread their garments on the road, <sup>37</sup>and as He now approached the point of descending the Mount of Olives, the whole throng of disciples began to be so joyful, they sang praise to God with loud acclaim for all the mighty works they had seen, <sup>38</sup>saying, "Blessed be the King who comes in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!"

<sup>39</sup>Some of the Pharisees in the crowd spoke to Him, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples!" <sup>40</sup>And He answered them, I tell you, if these kept silence the stones would cry out!

<sup>41</sup>When He came close to the city and viewed it, He wept over it! <sup>42</sup>and said, If you only knew personally even today how you might enjoy peace — but that is now hidden from your eyes. <sup>43</sup>For the time is coming to you, when your enemies shall throw up ramparts around you and shall encircle you and besiege you from every direction, <sup>44</sup>and shall level you and your children within you to the ground, and shall not leave you one stone on another; because you did not understand when you were divinely visited.

Monday, April 3, 30 A.D.

<sup>45</sup>Entering the temple, He proceeded to expel the traders to whom <sup>46</sup>He said, It is written, "My house shall be a house of prayer," but you have made it a den of robbers!

<sup>47</sup>Every day He was teaching in the temple, while the chief priests, the scribes, and the leaders of the people did their best to destroy Him; <sup>48</sup>but they discovered no way to do it, for all the people hung on His words.

i) Jesus' remark in between the body and the end of the story.

j) Note how weeping formed part of that joyous occasion. Luke alone reports it in this connection.

Monday-Tuesday

20 ONE DAY AS HE WAS INSTRUCTING the people in the temple and preaching the Gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came up with the elders <sup>2</sup>and said to Him, "Tell us by what authority you are doing these things, or who gave you this authority?" <sup>3</sup>He replied to them, I will ask you a question, too, and you tell Me: <sup>4</sup>Was John's baptism derived from heaven or from men?

<sup>5</sup>They argued among themselves, "If we say 'From heaven,' he will say, 'Why then did you not believe in him?'" <sup>6</sup>But if we say, 'From men,' all the people will stone us, for they are convinced that John was a prophet." <sup>7</sup>So they answered, they did not know from where it came. <sup>8</sup>Jesus told them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

<sup>9</sup>He began by telling the people this parable: A man planted a vineyard and leased it to tillers; then went abroad for a considerable period. <sup>10</sup>At the harvest season he sent the workers a servant, whom they should give a share of the vineyard crop; but the tenants beat him and sent him off empty-handed. <sup>11</sup>He then dispatched another servant, whom they beat and abused and sent off empty-handed. <sup>12</sup>Again he sent yet a third whom also they wounded and expelled. <sup>13</sup>Then the owner of the vineyard said, "What shall I do? I will send my son, my beloved; surely, they will respect him."

<sup>14</sup>But when the tillers saw him, they argued among each other, "This is the heir; let us kill him, so that the inheritance becomes ours." <sup>15</sup>Accordingly, they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. What then shall the owner of the vineyard do to them? <sup>16</sup>He will come and destroy those tenants and let others have the vineyard.

When they heard it they said, "May it never be!" <sup>17</sup>But He looked at them and said, What then does this Scripture mean, "The stone which the builders rejected, it has become the chief stone of the corner"? <sup>18</sup>Whoever falls on that stone shall be crushed and on whom it falls he shall be pulverized.

<sup>19</sup>The scribes and chief priests were eager to get their hands on Him right then; only they were afraid of the people. For they realized that He had told this parable with them in mind. <sup>20</sup>So they kept watching Him and sent spies, who pretended to be honest, in the hope of catching Him in some saying so they might hand Him over to the governor's control and jurisdiction.

<sup>21</sup>They asked Him, "Teacher, we know that you are straight in what you say and teach; you are partial to no one, but you teach the way of God sincerely. <sup>22</sup>Is it lawful for us to pay tribute to Caesar or not?" <sup>23</sup>Well aware of their trickery He told them, <sup>24</sup>Show me a coin! Whose likeness and inscription does it bear? They said, "Caesar's." <sup>25</sup>So He said to them, Then pay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God. <sup>26</sup>So they could not lay hold on what He said before the people and, marveling at His answer, kept quiet.

at the bush<sup>a</sup> where he calls the Lord "The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob." <sup>38</sup>He is not a God of the dead but of the living, for to Him they are all alive.

<sup>39</sup>Some of the scribes remarked, "Teacher, you spoke well." <sup>40</sup>For they did not dare to ask Him any more questions. <sup>41</sup>But He said to them, How can people say that Christ is David's son <sup>42</sup>when David himself says in the Book of Psalms, "The Lord said to my Lord, Be seated at My right <sup>43</sup>until I make Thine enemies a footstool for Thy feet."<sup>o</sup> <sup>44</sup>So David calls Him Lord; then how is He his son?

Tuesday, April 4, 30 A.D.

21 LOOKING UP, HE SAW THE wealthy dropping their donations into the treasury. <sup>2</sup>He also saw a poor widow put in two small coppers and remarked, <sup>3</sup>I tell you truly that this poor widow has put in more than all the rest; <sup>4</sup>for they all gave from their plenty, but she from her shortage has thrown in her entire livelihood.

Tuesday toward evening

<sup>5</sup>When some were talking about the temple, how it was adorned with beautiful stones and votive gifts, He said, <sup>6</sup>As for these things you see, the time is coming when not one stone shall be left on another without being torn down. <sup>7</sup>They asked Him, "Teacher, when will this happen, and what sign is there to indicate when it will happen?" <sup>8</sup>But He said, Be careful not to be misled; for many shall come under My name, saying, "I am He," and "The time is near." Do not go out after them. <sup>9</sup>And when you shall hear of wars and disturbances, be not alarmed; for these things must first occur, but the end will not come at once.

<sup>10</sup>He then told them: Nation shall rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom; <sup>11</sup>there shall be severe earthquakes and plagues and famines in various places; horrors, too, and great signs from heaven. <sup>12</sup>Previous to all that, they will arrest and persecute you, delivering you to synagogues and prisons and having you brought before kings and governors on account of My name, <sup>13</sup>which will give you opportunities for testifying. <sup>14</sup>So make up your mind not to premeditate your defense; <sup>15</sup>for I will grant you such eloquence and wisdom as none of your opponents shall be able to resist or refute.

<sup>16</sup>You will also be betrayed by parents and brothers, by kin and friends, and some of you will be executed. <sup>17</sup>You will be hated by everyone for confessing Me — <sup>18</sup>and not a hair of your head shall be lost.<sup>p</sup> <sup>19</sup>In your steadfastness you will gain possession of your souls.

<sup>20</sup>But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then be assured that her ruin is pending. <sup>21</sup>Then those in Judea should flee to the mountains, and those inside her<sup>q</sup> should escape, while those in the country must not enter her; <sup>22</sup>for those are the days of vengeance in fulfilment of all the Scriptures.

<sup>23</sup>Alas for those with child and for those nursing in those days, for terrible misery shall be on the land and anger shall visit this people. <sup>24</sup>They shall fall by the edge of the sword and shall be carried off as prisoners to all nations; Jerusalem shall be trampled down by the Gentiles until the period of the Gentiles is completed.

<sup>25</sup>There shall also be signs in sun, moon and stars, with distress on earth among the nations, bewilderment at the roaring of sea and waves; <sup>26</sup>men swooning from dread and apprehension about events that are taking place in the world; for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. <sup>27</sup>Then shall they see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with great power and glory. <sup>28</sup>But when these things occur, straighten up and lift your heads because your deliverance is near.

<sup>29</sup>He told them a parable: Observe the fig tree and all the trees! <sup>30</sup>When they are fully budding, you know by looking at them that summer is in the offing. <sup>31</sup>Similarly when you notice these things taking place, be assured that the kingdom of God is near. <sup>32</sup>I assure you that all this will happen before this generation passes away. <sup>33</sup>Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away.

<sup>34</sup>Fortify yourselves, so that your hearts be not overloaded with dissipation, drunkenness and worldly cares and that day takes you by surprise like a trap; <sup>35</sup>for it will come upon all the inhabitants of the globe. <sup>36</sup>But you be on guard and pray unceasingly so that you may have ability to escape all those impending events and to stand in the presence of the Son of Man.<sup>r</sup>

<sup>37</sup>During the day He taught in the temple, but at night He went out and stayed in the open at what is called the Mount of Olives. <sup>38</sup>Early in the morning all the people resorted to Him in the temple to listen to Him.

22 THE FEAST OF UNLEAVENED

Bread, called the Passover, was at hand, <sup>2</sup>and the chief priests and the scribes were looking for a chance to kill Him—for they were afraid of the Sunday-Wednesday people. <sup>3</sup>But Satan entered Judas, called Iscariot, who was counted among the twelve, <sup>4</sup>and he went off to confer with the chief priests and officers how he might deliver Him to them. <sup>5</sup>They were delighted, and agreed to give him money. <sup>6</sup>He gave his promise and looked for a chance to betray Him to them away from the crowd.

Thursday, April 6, 30 A.D.

<sup>7</sup>Then came the day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover must be sacrificed; <sup>8</sup>so He sent Peter and John with instructions, Go and get the Passover meal ready for us to eat. <sup>9</sup>But they asked Him, "Where do you want us to prepare it?" <sup>10</sup>To which He replied, See here! As you enter the city, a man will meet you, carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him into the house he enters, <sup>11</sup>and you will say to the owner of the house, "The Teacher sends you word: 'Where is the guest hall in which I may eat the Passover with My disciples?'" <sup>12</sup>He will show you a large upper room all furnished; there make ready.<sup>a</sup> <sup>13</sup>So they went and found everything just as He had told them, and they prepared the Passover meal.

Thursday evening, April 6, 30 A.D.

<sup>14</sup>When the hour came, He and His disciples reclined together <sup>15</sup>and He said to them, I have longingly desired to eat this Passover meal with you before I suffer; <sup>16</sup>for I tell you, I shall never eat it again until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

<sup>17</sup>Taking the cup in His hands, He gave thanks and said, Take this and divide it among yourselves; <sup>18</sup>for I tell you, I shall from now on never again drink the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes.

<sup>19</sup>And taking the bread, He gave thanks, broke and gave it to them, saying, This is My body, given up for your sakes; do this in My memory. <sup>20</sup>Similarly He gave the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new Covenant in My blood, poured out on your behalf. <sup>21</sup>However, the hand of My betrayer is with Me at the table; <sup>22</sup>for the Son of man goes, indeed, as was determined, but alas for that man by whom He is betrayed. <sup>23</sup>And they started to inquire among themselves who of them might possibly be going to do this.

<sup>24</sup>There also was controversy among them, who of them should be considered most important. <sup>25</sup>But He told them, The kings of the nations lord it over them and their authorities are called benefactors. <sup>26</sup>But you are not that way. Instead, the most prominent among you must be as the youngest, and the leader as one who serves. <sup>27</sup>For who is more important, the one who sits at the table or the waiter? Is it not the one who sits at the table? But I am among you as one who serves.<sup>u</sup>

<sup>28</sup>You have been standing by Me through My trials <sup>29</sup>and, just as My Father has assigned to Me a kingdom, so I assign to you <sup>30</sup>that you will eat and drink at My table in My kingdom, and you shall be seated on thrones to judge the twelve tribes of Israel.<sup>v</sup>

<sup>31</sup>Simon, Simon, Satan has asked permission to sift you all like wheat; <sup>32</sup>but I have prayed for you that your faith may not fail; and when you return to Me, strengthen your brothers. <sup>33</sup>Peter told Him, "Lord, I am ready to go to prison and to death for you!" <sup>34</sup>But He said, I tell you, Peter, the rooster will not crow today before you have thrice denied that you know Me.

<sup>35</sup>He said to them, When I sent you out without purse or bag or sandals, did you lack anything? They answered, "Nothing!" <sup>36</sup>Then He told them, But now, he who has a purse, take it, and a bag, too, and he who has no sword, sell your coat and buy one.<sup>w</sup> <sup>37</sup>For I tell you, what is written has to be accomplished in Me, "He was rated among the criminals," for what refers to Me is reaching a conclusion. <sup>38</sup>They said, "Lord, look, here are two swords!" He assured them, It is enough.

<sup>39</sup>He went and betook Himself as usual up the Mount of Olives, and the disciples followed Him. <sup>40</sup>When He reached the place, He told them, Pray that you may not enter into temptation; — <sup>41</sup>then He withdrew from them about a stone's throw, bent His knees and prayed, <sup>42</sup>Father, if Thou art willing, remove this cup from Me; nevertheless, not My will but Thine be done.

<sup>43</sup>But an angel from heaven appeared to Him to encourage Him <sup>44</sup>and in agony He prayed yet more intensely, and His sweat fell to the ground like great drops of blood.

<sup>45</sup>Arising from prayer and going to the disciples, He found them asleep from sorrow, <sup>46</sup>and said to them, Why are you sleeping? Rise up and pray that you may not enter into temptation.

Thursday night

<sup>47</sup>While He was still speaking, there was a mob headed by one of the twelve named Judas, who approached Jesus to kiss Him. <sup>48</sup>Jesus said to him, Judas, are you betraying the Son of Man with a kiss?<sup>x</sup> <sup>49</sup>When those with Him saw what was coming, they said, "Lord, shall we strike with the sword?" <sup>50</sup>And one of them<sup>y</sup> struck the servant of the high priest and cut off his right ear. <sup>51</sup>But Jesus remarked, Allow Me this much! and, touching the ear, He healed him.

<sup>52</sup>Then Jesus said to the chief priests, the temple officers and the elders who were jostling Him: Have you marched out with swords and clubs as against a robber? <sup>53</sup>When I was daily in the temple with you, you never put out a hand against Me. But this is your hour and the power of darkness.

for he is a Galilean, too." <sup>60</sup>But Peter <sup>Thursday night</sup> said, "Man, I cannot make out what you are talking about!" And instantly, while he was still speaking, the rooster crowed. <sup>61</sup>Then the Lord, turning round, looked at Peter and Peter remembered the Lord's warning, how He had said to him, Before the rooster crows today you will disown Me thrice. <sup>62</sup>And going clear outside, he wept bitterly.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>66</sup>With break of day the elders of the people, both chief priests and scribes, got together and had Him brought into their Sanhedrin. <sup>67</sup>They said, "If you are the Christ, tell us!" But He said to them, You will not believe if I tell you; <sup>68</sup>neither will you answer if I question you. <sup>69</sup>But from now on, the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of God Almighty. <sup>70</sup>They all said, "Are you then the Son of God?" He said to them, I am as you say! <sup>71</sup>They said, "What need do we still have of testimony? We have personally heard it from his own lips."

23 <sup>1</sup>THEN THEY GOT UP IN A BODY and conducted Him to Pilate, <sup>2</sup>and they started to accuse Him, "We found this fellow perverting our nation and forbidding them to pay taxes to Caesar, claiming that he himself is Messiah King."

<sup>3</sup>But Pilate asked Him, "Are you the king of the Jews?" He answered him, It is as you say. <sup>4</sup>Then Pilate told the chief priests and the crowd, "I find nothing criminal in this man!" <sup>5</sup>But they strongly insisted, "He stirs up the people by teaching all over Judea, starting in Galilee and all the way to here!"

<sup>6</sup>Hearing that, Pilate asked if the man were a Galilean and, <sup>7</sup>ascertaining that He came under Herod's jurisdiction, he remitted Him to Herod, who was himself in Jerusalem during those days.

<sup>8</sup>Herod was uncommonly pleased to see Jesus, for he had wanted for a long time to have a look at Him, and he hoped to see Him perform some miracle; <sup>9</sup>but though he questioned Him at length, Jesus never answered him. <sup>10</sup>Meanwhile the chief priests and scribes stood there, with all their might accusing Him. <sup>11</sup>Then Herod, with his soldiers, made light of Him and mockingly put a bright robe on Him, then sent Him back to Pilate. <sup>12</sup>But on that day Herod and Pilate, who had previously been at enmity, became mutually friendly.

<sup>13</sup>Pilate then summoned the chief priests and the rulers and the people, <sup>14</sup>to whom he spoke: "You brought me this man as inciting the people to rebellion. Here I have examined him in your presence and have found the man not guilty of any of your accusations against him; <sup>15</sup>neither, in fact, has Herod, for he sent him back to us. Observe that he has done nothing deserving death; <sup>16</sup>so, after a whipping I will let him go." <sup>17</sup>(For he had to release them one convict at the feast.)

<sup>18</sup>But they all shouted as one voice, "Away with him! Release Barabbas for us!" <sup>19</sup>He had been thrown in prison on account of a riot that had occurred in the city, and for murder. <sup>20</sup>Again Pilate, who wanted to release Jesus, called out to them; <sup>21</sup>but they roared, "Crucify, crucify him!" <sup>22</sup>For the third time he said to them, "What wrong then has he done? I find nothing in him that deserves death; so after a whipping I will let him go!"

<sup>26</sup>As they led Him away, they grabbed Simon, a Cyrenian,<sup>b</sup> who came from the field, and laid the cross on him to carry after Jesus. <sup>27</sup>A vast host of people followed Him and women, too, who beat their breasts and bewailed Him. <sup>28</sup>Turning to them Jesus said, Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for Me; instead, weep for yourselves and for your children, <sup>29</sup>for be sure the time is coming when they shall say, "Happy are the childless, the wombs that never gave birth and the breasts that never nursed babes!" <sup>30</sup>Then they will begin to say to the mountains,<sup>c</sup> "Fall on us!" and to the hills, "Hide us!" <sup>31</sup>For if they do this to the green wood, what will happen to the dry?<sup>d</sup>

<sup>32</sup>Two others, criminals, were also conducted with Him to be crucified. <sup>33</sup>And when they reached the place called (Calvary) a Skull, there they crucified Him and the criminals, one at His right and the other at His left. <sup>34</sup>But Jesus said, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do. And they distributed His clothes by casting lots.

<sup>35</sup>The people stood staring, while the leaders sneered, "Others he saved; let him save himself, if he is the Christ of God, His Chosen!" <sup>36</sup>The soldiers, too, made sport of Him, coming up and handing Him vinegar, <sup>37</sup>saying, "If you are the king of the Jews, save yourself!" <sup>38</sup>For there was an inscription above Him, "This is the king of the Jews."

<sup>39</sup>One of the criminals, that were hanged, mocked Him, "Are not you the Christ? Save yourself and us!" <sup>40</sup>But the other reproved him and told him, "Do you not fear God, when you are suffering the same punishment?

<sup>41</sup>We, however, are suffering justly; we are getting our deserts for our misdeeds; but He has done nothing amiss."

<sup>42</sup>He then said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom!"

<sup>43</sup>Jesus told him, I assure you, today you will be with Me in paradise!

<sup>47</sup>When the centurion saw what had happened, he praised God, saying, "This man was altogether innocent!"

<sup>48</sup>And when all the crowds, that had gathered for this spectacle, saw what had occurred, they went back, beating their breasts. <sup>49</sup>All His acquaintances, too, and the women who had come along with Him from Galilee, observed it all, standing at a distance.

<sup>50</sup>Now notice! There was a man named Joseph, a member of the council, a good and upright man, <sup>51</sup>who had not voted for the council's plan and action; a native of Arimathea, one of the Judean towns, who lived in expectation of the kingdom of God. <sup>52</sup>He went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus; <sup>53</sup>which he took down and wrapped in linen, then laid in a rock-hewn tomb where nobody had yet been laid.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>54</sup>It was Preparation day with the Sabbath drawing near, <sup>55</sup>so the women, who had accompanied Him in Galilee, and who had followed close behind, observed the tomb and how His body was laid; <sup>56</sup>then they went back to prepare spices and perfumes, and rested on the Sabbath in obedience to the commandment.

Sunday, April 9, 30 A.D.

24 NOW ON THE FIRST DAY OF THE week at early dawn they resorted to the tomb with the spices they had prepared; <sup>2</sup>but they found the stone rolled away from the tomb, <sup>3</sup>and going inside they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus. <sup>4</sup>Over this they were greatly perplexed, when, look, two men stood by them in bright clothing. <sup>5</sup>Frightened, the women bowed their faces to the ground; but the men said to them, "Why do you look for the living among the dead? <sup>6</sup>He is not here, but He has risen! Remember how He told you while He was still in Galilee, <sup>7</sup>that the Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men and be crucified and rise again on the third day!"

<sup>13</sup>That same day two of them were walking to a village called Emmaus, about seven miles from Jerusalem, <sup>14</sup>and they were talking to each other about all these occurrences. <sup>15</sup>During their conversation and discussion Jesus Himself caught up with them and walked along; <sup>16</sup>but their eyes were kept from recognizing Him. <sup>17</sup>He said to them, "What are these things you consider together on your walk? <sup>32</sup>They said to each other, "Did not our hearts glow within us while He was talking to us on the road and opened the Scriptures to us?" <sup>33</sup>Getting up at once, they went back to Jerusalem and found the eleven and their friends all congregated and <sup>34</sup>who said, "The Lord is risen indeed and appeared to Simon!" <sup>35</sup>Then they related their own experience on the road and how they had recognized Him in the breaking of the bread.

JOHN

1 IN THE BEGINNING WAS THE Word,<sup>a</sup> and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. <sup>2</sup>He Himself was in the beginning with God. <sup>3</sup>Through Him everything came into being and without Him nothing that exists came into being. <sup>4</sup>In Him was Life, and the Life was the Light of men. <sup>5</sup>The Light shines in the darkness and the darkness did not overtake it.

<sup>6</sup>There came a man named John, sent from God <sup>7</sup>for a witness to testify regarding the Light, so that everyone might believe through him. <sup>8</sup>He was not himself the Light; but he should testify regarding the Light.

<sup>9</sup>The true Light, that illumines every person, was coming into the world. <sup>10</sup>He was in the world and the world came into being through Him, yet the world did not know Him. <sup>11</sup>He came to His own and His own did not receive Him. <sup>12</sup>But to those who did receive Him, He granted ability to become God's children, that is, to those who believe in His name; <sup>13</sup>who owe their birth neither to human blood, nor to physical urge, nor to human design, but to God. <sup>14</sup>And the Word became flesh and tented among us, and we viewed His glory — such glory as an only son receives from his father — abounding in grace and truth.

said, 'He who comes after me ranks ahead of me because He was before me.'"<sup>16</sup>For from His abundance all of us have received one grace after another; <sup>17</sup>for while the Law was given through Moses, grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. <sup>18</sup>No one has ever seen God; the only-begotten Son who abides at the Father's bosom has made Him known.<sup>b</sup>

<sup>19</sup>And this is John's testimony when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to inquire of him, "Who are you?" <sup>20</sup>He admitted without denial and frankly confessed, "I am not the Christ!" <sup>21</sup>They asked him, "Then who are you? Elijah?" He said, "No, I am not!" "Are you the prophet?" He answered, "No!" <sup>22</sup>Then they said to him, "Who are you, so we may have an answer for those who sent us! What have you to say about yourself?"

b) These eighteen verses present a striking outline of the entire Gospel. c) Isa. 40:3.

JOHN 1, 2

Midsummer, 26 A.D.

<sup>28</sup>These things occurred at Bethany beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

Late February or early March 27 A.D.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>29</sup>Next day he saw Jesus approaching him and said, "Behold, the Lamb of God that takes away the sin of the world!" <sup>30</sup>He is the One of whom I said, 'After me comes a Man who ranks ahead of me for He was before me.'

<sup>31</sup>I did not recognize Him; but I have come to baptize with water so that He may be made known to Israel."

<sup>32</sup>John testified further, "I saw the Spirit come down from heaven like a dove and remain on Him, and although <sup>33</sup>I did not know Him, He who sent me to baptize with water told me Himself, 'On whom you see the Spirit descend and remain, He is the One who baptizes with the Holy Spirit.'

<sup>36</sup>when he looked at Jesus who was walking along, and he said, "Behold the Lamb of God!" <sup>37</sup>Hearing him say this, the two disciples followed Jesus. <sup>38</sup>Then Jesus turned and, noticing that they followed Him, said to them, What are you looking for? They said to Him, "Rabbi — translated, Teacher —, where do you stay?" <sup>39</sup>He told them, Come and see! They went and saw where He was staying and visited with Him that day — it was then about four in the afternoon.

<sup>40</sup>Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two who listened to John and who followed Him. <sup>41</sup>He first looked for his own brother Simon and told him, "We have found the Messiah" — translated Christ —, <sup>42</sup>and led him to Jesus. Looking at him, Jesus said, You are Simon, the son of John; you will be called Cephas,<sup>f</sup> — translated, Peter.

<sup>43</sup>Jesus planned to go out to Galilee next day, and found Philip, to whom He said, Follow Me! <sup>44</sup>Now Philip

Water Changed to Wine

Late February or early March, 27 A.D.

came from Bethsaida, the town of Andrew and Peter. <sup>45</sup>Philip found Nathanael<sup>g</sup> and told him, "We have found the one of whom Moses wrote in the Law, and the prophets did, too, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph."

<sup>46</sup>Nathanael said to him, "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" Philip replied, "Come and see!"

<sup>47</sup>Jesus noticed Nathanael approaching Him and said of him, There, truly, is an Israelite without deceit in him!

<sup>48</sup>Nathanael asked Him, "How do you know me?" To which Jesus replied, I saw you under the fig tree before ever Philip called you! <sup>49</sup>Nathanael rejoined, "Rabbi, you are the Son of God; you are the king of Israel!"

<sup>50</sup>Jesus further replied to him, Do you believe because I told you I had seen you under the fig tree? You will see greater things than that! <sup>51</sup>He then said to him, Truly I assure you all, you shall see heaven opened and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man.

March, 27 A.D.

2 ON THE THIRD DAY THERE WAS A wedding at Cana in Galilee, at which Jesus' mother was present, <sup>2</sup>and Jesus as well as His disciples was invited to the wedding. <sup>3</sup>As the wine gave out, Jesus' mother said to Him, "They are out of wine!" <sup>4</sup>Jesus said to her, Woman,<sup>h</sup> what is that between you and Me? My hour is not here yet! <sup>5</sup>His mother told the waiters, "Do whatever He tells you!"

<sup>6</sup>Now there were six stone water jars standing there for the Jewish rites of purifying; each would hold from eighteen to twenty-four gallons. <sup>7</sup>Jesus told them, Fill the jars with water! So they filled them to the brim. <sup>8</sup>Again He told them, Now take some out and carry it to the table manager! They carried it <sup>9</sup>and when the table manager tasted the water that had become wine, and did not know where it came from, — though the waiters who had drawn the water knew — <sup>10</sup>he called the bridegroom and told him, "Everyone serves the good wine first and the poorer when men have drunk freely; but you have retained the good wine until now."

April-May, 27 A.D.

<sup>13</sup>The Jewish Passover was near, so Jesus went up to Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup>There He found seated in the temple the dealers in cattle, sheep, and pigeons; also the money-changers; <sup>15</sup>so, making a whip out of cords, He drove them all out of the temple, as well as sheep and cattle, poured out the brokers' coins and overturned the tables. <sup>16</sup>And to the pigeon dealers He said, Take these outside; do not make My Father's house a sales shop.

<sup>17</sup>His disciples recollected that it is written, "Passion for Thy house shall consume me."

<sup>18</sup>The Jews then said to Him, "What sign<sup>1</sup> will you show us for your doing these things?" <sup>19</sup>To which Jesus replied, Destroy this temple and in three days I will erect it. <sup>20</sup>Then the Jews remarked, "This temple has been in process of building for forty-six years, and will you erect it in three days?" <sup>21</sup>But He was speaking about His bodily temple; <sup>22</sup>so, when He had risen from the dead, His disciples recollected that He had said this; — they believed the Scripture and the message which Jesus spoke.

<sup>23</sup>While He was at Jerusalem during the Passover feast, many who observed the signs which He wrought, believed in His name. <sup>24</sup>But Jesus would not entrust Himself to them, because He understood them all <sup>25</sup>and did not need any one's evidence about people, for He knew what was in the human heart.

3 AMONG THE PHARISEES THERE was a man named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews, <sup>2</sup>who visited Jesus by night and told Him, "Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher who has come from God; for no one can work the signs you work unless God is with him."

<sup>3</sup>Jesus answered him, Truly I assure you, unless a person is born from above he cannot see the kingdom of God.

<sup>4</sup>Nicodemus said to Him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter his mother's womb a second time to be born?" <sup>5</sup>Jesus replied, Truly I assure you, unless one's birth is due to water and Spirit,* he cannot enter the kingdom of God. <sup>6</sup>What is born of the flesh is flesh<sup>1</sup> and what is born of the Spirit is spirit.

<sup>7</sup>Do not feel surprised because I tell you, You need to be born from above. <sup>8</sup>The wind blows where it pleases and, though you hear the sound of it, you neither know whence it comes nor whither it goes. It is the same with everyone who is born of the Spirit. In response, <sup>9</sup>Nicodemus asked Him, "How is that possible?" <sup>10</sup>To which Jesus replied, You are a teacher of Israel and ignorant of this? <sup>11</sup>I truly assure you that we speak of what we know and we testify to what we have seen; but you do not accept our evidence. <sup>12</sup>If you do not believe in earthly matters I mention to you, how can you believe the heavenly things I might tell you?

<sup>13</sup>No one has gone up to heaven except He who came down from heaven, the Son of Man whose home is heaven. <sup>14</sup>And just as Moses lifted up the serpent in the desert, so the Son of Man must be lifted up, <sup>15</sup>so that whoever believes in Him may not perish but have life eternal. <sup>16</sup>For God so loved<sup>m</sup> the world that<sup>f</sup> He gave His only-begotten Son,<sup>n</sup> so that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. <sup>17</sup>For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world but to have the world saved through Him.

<sup>18</sup>He who believes in Him is not condemned; but he who does not believe is already condemned, because he has disbelieved the only-begotten Son of God. <sup>19</sup>And this is the verdict, that the Light has come into the world, and people have loved the darkness more than the Light; because their deeds were wicked. <sup>20</sup>For every one who practices evil, hates the light and keeps away from the light; else his activities would be exposed; <sup>21</sup>while one who practices the truth, wants light on it, so that it will be perfectly clear that he is working in union with God.

Summer-Fall, 27 A.D.

<sup>22</sup>After this, Jesus and His disciples came into the Judean district, where He tarried with them and baptized, <sup>23</sup>while John, too, was baptizing at Aenon near Salim,<sup>o</sup> for there was plenty of water there and people came to be baptized. <sup>24</sup>For as yet John had not been thrown into prison.

<sup>25</sup>A dispute then arose between some of John's disciples and a Jew about purification, <sup>26</sup>so they came to John and told him, "Rabbi, the one who was with you on the other side of the Jordan, for whom you gave testimony, notice, he baptizes, and they all flock to him."

<sup>27</sup>John replied, "No man is able to lay claim to anything unless it has been given him from heaven. <sup>28</sup>You personally bear me out that I said, 'I am not the Christ,' but that I am sent ahead of Him. <sup>29</sup>The one who has the bride is the bridegroom; but the bridegroom's friend, who stands near and listens to him, is very happy over the bridegroom's voice; so this joy of mine is complete. <sup>30</sup>He must grow stronger and I must wane."

above every one, while one who originates from the earth is earth-minded and speaks from an earthly standpoint. He who comes from heaven is higher than they all; <sup>32</sup>He testifies to what He has seen and heard; yet nobody accepts His testimony. <sup>33</sup>Whoever does accept His testimony definitely certifies that God is true; <sup>34</sup>for He whom God has sent speaks the words of God, who grants the Spirit in unlimited measure. <sup>35</sup>The Father loves the Son and has committed everything into His hands. <sup>36</sup>He who believes in the Son has eternal life; but he who disobeys the Son shall not see life; but God's indignation remains upon him.

4 WHEN THE LORD KNEW THAT THE Pharisees had heard, "Jesus is making and baptizing more disciples than does John," — <sup>2</sup>although Jesus Himself did not baptize, but His disciples did — <sup>3</sup>He left Judea and went away again into Galilee. <sup>4</sup>As He found it necessary to pass through Samaria <sup>5</sup>He arrived at a Samaritan town called Sychar, near the tract of land that Jacob had presented to his son Joseph. <sup>6</sup>And Jacob's well was there. So Jesus, wearied by His travel, dropped down just as He was by the well.<sup>q</sup>

<sup>7</sup>It was about noon, when a Samaritan woman came to draw water, to whom Jesus said, Let Me have a drink! <sup>8</sup>For His disciples had gone off into the town to buy food. <sup>9</sup>The Samaritan woman said to Him, "How is this that you, a Jew, should ask me, a Samaritan woman, for a drink?" For Jews do not associate with Samaritans.

<sup>10</sup>Jesus answered her, If you knew God's gift and who really asked you, Give Me a drink, you would have requested of Him and He would give you living water. <sup>11</sup>The woman said to Him, "Sir, you have no rope and bucket and the well is deep; where do you get that living water?" <sup>12</sup>You surely are not superior to our father Jacob who gave us the well, and he and his sons and his cattle drank from it?"

 13Jesus answered her, Whoever drinks from this water shall again be thirsty;
 14but whoever drinks the water I shall give him shall not thirst eternally,<sup>r</sup> but the water I shall give him shall become a well of water within him that bubbles up for eternal life.

15The woman said to Him, "Sir, give me this water, so that I will not get thirsty nor have to come all the way for drawing water." 16He said to her, Go, call your husband and come back here! 17To which the woman replied, "I do not have a husband." Jesus told her, You say correctly, "I have no husband," 18for you have had five husbands and the one you are now living with is not your husband; this you told in truth. 19The woman said to Him, "I perceive, Sir, that you are a prophet. 20Our fathers worshiped on this mountain, and you say that Jerusalem is the proper place to worship."

21Jesus told her, Believe me, woman, the time has come when you shall worship the Father neither merely in this mountain nor merely in Jerusalem. 22You worship what you do not know; we worship what we know, for the salvation comes from among the Jews. 23But the hour comes — and is now — when genuine worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth; for the Father is looking for such as His worshipers. 24God is a Spirit and His worshipers must worship in spirit and truth.

25The woman said to Him, "I know that the Messiah, called Christ, is coming, and when He arrives, He will make everything plain to us." 26Jesus told her, I, talking to you, am He.

27At this juncture His disciples came and felt surprised that He was talking with a woman; however, no one asked, "What are you inquiring?" or, "Why are you talking to her?" 28Then the woman left her pitcher and, going off to town, told the men, 29"Come, see a man who told me everything I have done! Is not He the Christ?" 30They came out of town and approached Him. 31Meanwhile, the disciples urged Him, "Rabbi, eat!" 32But He assured them, I have nourishment of which you have no idea! 33So the disciples talked together, "Surely, no one has brought Him anything to eat?" 34Jesus told them, My nourishment is that I do the will of My Sender and completely do His work. 35Do you not say, "Still four months and the harvest is here?" Look, I tell you, raise your eyes and observe the fields, how they are white for harvest. 36Already the reaper receives his wage and gathers the crop for life eternal, so that the sower and the reaper may be jointly glad. 37For the saying, "One sows and another reaps," is verified here; 38I sent you to reap a crop on which you have not worked; others toiled and you step in to benefit from their work.

39Numerous Samaritans from that town believed<sup>t</sup> in Him on account of the woman's testimony, "He told me everything I did." 40So when the Samaritans met Him, they invited Him to stay with them, and He remained there two days. 41A good many more believed on account of His personal message, 42and said to the woman, "We no longer believe just because of your story; for we have personally listened and we know that He truly is the Savior of the world."

43At the end of the two days He left for Galilee, 44for Jesus Himself affirmed: A prophet has no honor in his native town.<sup>u</sup> 45So, on His arrival in Galilee, the Galileans, who had seen everything He had done at the feast in Jerusalem, welcomed Him; for they too had attended the feast.

46Jesus went once more to Cana in Galilee, where He had made the water wine, and there a courtier, whose son

JOHN 4, 5    Heals Nobleman's Son; Sabbath Healing; Claims Divine Sonship

lay ill in Capernaum <sup>47</sup>and who had learned that Jesus had come to Galilee from Judea, came to Him and begged Him to come down and heal his son, who was at the point of death. <sup>48</sup>Jesus then told him, Unless you see signs and wonders, you will not believe at all. <sup>49</sup>The courtier replied, "Sir, do come down before my boy is dead."

<sup>50</sup>Jesus assured him, Go your way; your son lives! The man believed what Jesus told him and went his way. <sup>51</sup>But even on the way there, his servants met him and announced that his boy had recovered; <sup>52</sup>so he asked them at what time he began to improve. They told him, "Yesterday at one o'clock the fever left him." <sup>53</sup>Then the father knew it was the very hour when Jesus had said to him, Your son lives. And he and his entire household became believers.

April, 28 A.D.

5 LATER ON THERE WAS A FEAST OF the Jews<sup>v</sup> and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>Now there is in Jerusalem, by the sheepgate, a bathing pool called in Hebrew, Bethesda, with five entrances <sup>3</sup>in which a crowd of invalids, — blind, lame, paralyzed patients lay (waiting for the stirring of the water. <sup>4</sup>For at intervals an angel descended into the pool and stirred the water. Whoever got in first after the agitation of the pool enjoyed healing, no matter of what ailment he suffered).

<sup>5</sup>One man there had suffered from an infirmity for thirty-eight years. <sup>6</sup>When Jesus noticed him lying there, He asked him, knowing he had been there for a long time, Do you want to become well? <sup>7</sup>The invalid replied, "I have no one, Sir, to put me into the bathing pool right after it has been disturbed; while I am going there, another gets in ahead of me." <sup>8</sup>Jesus told him, Get up, pick up your mat and walk! <sup>9</sup>Instantly the man was well; he picked up his mat and walked. But that was on the Sabbath day.

<sup>10</sup>So the Jews remarked to the healed man, "This is the Sabbath and you have no right to carry the mat." <sup>11</sup>He told them, "The one who healed me, he himself said to me, 'Pick up your mat and walk!'" <sup>12</sup>They questioned him, "Who is the person that told you, 'Pick it up and walk?'" <sup>13</sup>But the healed man did not know who it was; for Jesus had withdrawn among the crowd around there. <sup>14</sup>Afterward Jesus came across him in the temple and told him, You are now enjoying health; quit sinning or something worse will happen to you! <sup>15</sup>The man went off and told the Jews it was Jesus who had healed him.

<sup>16</sup>For this reason the Jews persecuted Jesus (and sought to slay Him); He did things on the Sabbath. <sup>17</sup>But He answered them, My Father works till now and so I work. <sup>18</sup>For this the Jews were more eager than ever to kill Him, since He not only broke the Sabbath, but called God His own Father and thus made Himself equal to God. <sup>19</sup>Jesus then replied to them, I truly assure you, the Son is not able to do anything by Himself; but only what He sees the Father doing; whatever He does, the Son similarly does. <sup>20</sup>For the Father loves the Son and shows Him everything He Himself does, and He will show Him still greater deeds than these so that you will marvel; <sup>21</sup>for just as the Father raises the dead and makes them live, so the Son makes alive whom He wills. <sup>22</sup>The Father does not even sentence anyone, but leaves all judgment to the Son, <sup>23</sup>so that all may honor the Son, just as they honor the Father; in fact, whoever does not honor the Son, does not honor the Father who sent Him.

<sup>24</sup>Truly — or doubly — I assure you: He who listens to My message and believes My Sender has eternal life; he comes under no sentence but has passed over from death into life.

<sup>v</sup>) If this was a Passover, then our Lord's ministry lasted three years and three months; see Jn. 2:13; Jn. 6:4; Jn. 13:1, of which from April, 27 A.D., till January, 28, was spent in the earlier Judean ministry; then till September, 29, in and near Galilee; October to December in Judea, and December to March, 30 A.D., in Perea, east of Jordan.

April, 28 A.D.

<sup>25</sup>Doubly I assure you:<sup>w</sup> The hour comes — and it is here — when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear shall live.<sup>x</sup> <sup>26</sup>For as the Father has life in Himself, <sup>27</sup>so has He granted the Son to have life in Himself and has given Him authority to act as Judge, because He is the Son of Man.<sup>y</sup> <sup>28</sup>Be not surprised about this, for the time comes when all who are in the graves shall hear His voice <sup>29</sup>and shall come out, those who have done good for the resurrection of life, and those who have practiced evil for the resurrection of condemnation.

<sup>30</sup>I can do nothing independently; I judge as I am informed and My judgment is fair; for I am not looking out for My will, but for the will of My Sender. <sup>31</sup>If I testify about Myself, My testimony is not reliable; <sup>32</sup>but Another is testifying about Me and I know that His evidence on My behalf is valid testimony. <sup>33</sup>You sent to John and he bore witness to the truth; <sup>34</sup>however, I do not rest My claim on human testimony; I only mention this to have you saved. <sup>35</sup>He was a lamp, shining and burning, and for a while you were willing to be happy in his light; <sup>36</sup>but I have a greater witness than John, for the works which My Father has given Me to accomplish — the activities in which I am engaged — these are My evidence that the Father has sent Me. <sup>37</sup>And the Father who sent Me has Himself testified on My behalf; only, His voice you never yet heard; neither have you seen His form; <sup>38</sup>nor do you even have His message living within you, because you do not believe the One whom He personally sent.

<sup>39</sup>You investigate the Scriptures, because you suppose that you have eternal life in them, and yet they are the testimonies for Me; <sup>40</sup>yet you do not want to come to Me in order to have life. <sup>41</sup>I reach for no human fame, <sup>42</sup>but I know you, that you do not have the love of God in you. <sup>43</sup>I have come in My Father's name and you do not receive Me; if another comes in his own name, you will accept him. <sup>44</sup>How can you believe when you welcome the praise of others and do not seek the praise of the only God?

<sup>45</sup>Do not imagine that I shall accuse you before the Father; your accuser is Moses, in whom you are hoping. <sup>46</sup>For if you believed Moses, you would believe Me, since He personally wrote about Me. <sup>47</sup>But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe My teachings?

Near April, 29 A.D.

6 LATER ON JESUS WENT TO THE farther side of the Galilean sea, or sea of Tiberias.<sup>2</sup> <sup>2</sup>A great multitude followed Him, because they saw the signs He performed on the sick. <sup>3</sup>But Jesus went up the mountain and there sat down with His disciples. <sup>4</sup>The Passover, the Jewish feast, was near.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>5</sup>Looking up and observing a vast host coming to Him, Jesus said to Philip, Where shall we buy food, so they may eat? <sup>6</sup>But He said this to test him, for He knew what He was going to do. <sup>7</sup>Philip replied, "Fifty dollars' worth of bread would not suffice for each to receive even a little." <sup>8</sup>Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, one of His disciples, told Him, <sup>9</sup>"There is a lad here with five barley cakes and two fishes; but what are these for so many?" <sup>10</sup>Jesus said, Have the people sit down! Now there was plenty of grass in the place, so the men, numbering about five thousand, sat down.

April-May, 29 A.D.

<sup>11</sup>Then Jesus took the loaves, gave thanks, and had them served to those reclining, and the same with the fish, as much as they wanted. <sup>12</sup>When they were satisfied, He told His disciples, Gather up the scattered leftovers, in order that nothing may be wasted. <sup>13</sup>So they gathered them and filled twelve baskets with pieces of the five barley cakes left over from what they had eaten.

<sup>14</sup>As the people saw the sign He performed, they said, "This surely is the prophet who is to come into the world." <sup>15</sup>Then Jesus, aware that they intended to come and seize Him in order to make Him king, got away again into a mountain by Himself alone.

<sup>16</sup>As evening fell, His disciples went down to the sea, <sup>17</sup>boarded a boat and crossed the sea toward Capernaum. Darkness had overtaken them and Jesus had not yet come to them, <sup>18</sup>while the sea was mounting under a strong wind. <sup>19</sup>They had sailed about three or four miles when they saw Jesus walking on the sea and getting close to the vessel and they were afraid. <sup>20</sup>But He told them, It is I; have no fear. <sup>21</sup>Then they were quite ready to take Him into the boat and presently the boat was at the shore for which they were sailing.<sup>b</sup>

<sup>22</sup>Next day the crowd that was standing on the other side of the sea realized that there was only the vessel which the disciples had used and that Jesus had not gone along with them into the ship, but the disciples had left by themselves. <sup>23</sup>However, crafts from Tiberias did land near the place at which they had eaten after the Lord's thanksgiving; <sup>24</sup>so when the crowd noticed that neither Jesus nor His disciples were there, they themselves embarked in little boats and sailed for Capernaum in search of Jesus. <sup>25</sup>When they found Him across the sea, they asked Him, "Rabbi, when did you get here?" <sup>26</sup>Jesus answered them, Truly I assure you, you are not looking for Me because you saw signs, but because you ate of the loaves and were filled up. <sup>27</sup>Do not work for the food that must decompose; but for the food that lasts through life eternal, such as the Son of Man will furnish you; for God the Father has certified Him.

should we do to accomplish the works of God?"<sup>c</sup> <sup>29</sup>Jesus replied, This is God's work, that you believe in Him whom He sent. <sup>30</sup>They further said to Him, "What sign then will you work, so that we may see and believe you; what will you perform?" <sup>31</sup>Our ancestors ate manna in the desert as it is written, 'He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'" <sup>32</sup>So Jesus told them, Truly I assure you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven, but My Father gives you the real, heavenly food; <sup>33</sup>for what comes down from heaven and furnishes life to the world that is the Bread of God.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>34</sup>Then they said to Him, "Lord, give us this bread all the time!" <sup>35</sup>Jesus replied, I am the Bread of life. He who comes to Me will never hunger and he who believes in Me shall not suffer thirst any more. <sup>36</sup>But as I told you: You have seen Me and have not believed; <sup>37</sup>Every one whom the Father has given Me will come to Me, and I will certainly not cast out anyone who comes to Me; <sup>38</sup>for I came down from heaven not to do My will but the will of My Sender. <sup>39</sup>And this is the will of Him who sent Me, that of all He gave Me I shall lose nothing but shall raise them up at the last day. <sup>40</sup>For this is My Father's will, that every one who sees the Son and believes in Him shall have eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.

<sup>41</sup>The Jews grumbled about Him for saying, "I am the bread that came down from heaven." <sup>42</sup>They remarked, "Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? Now how can he say, 'I have come down from heaven?'" <sup>43</sup>Jesus replied to them: Stop your mutual mutterings! <sup>44</sup>No one is able to come to Me unless the Father who sent Me draws him, and him I will raise up at the last day.

<sup>45</sup>It is written in the Prophets, "And they shall all be taught of God." Every one who has listened to and has learned of My Father comes to Me. <sup>46</sup>Which does not imply that anyone has seen the Father except He who is from alongside of God; He has seen the Father. <sup>47</sup>Truly I assure you, the believer has eternal life. <sup>48</sup>I am the Bread of Life. <sup>49</sup>Your ancestors ate the manna in the desert and they died; <sup>50</sup>this is the Bread that comes down from heaven, so that anyone who eats of it may not die. <sup>51</sup>I am the Living Bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. And the bread which I will give for the life of the world is My flesh.

<sup>52</sup>Then the Jews wrangled with each other: "How can this person give us his flesh to eat?" <sup>53</sup>So Jesus told them, Truly I assure you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no inner life. <sup>54</sup>He who eats My flesh and drinks My blood<sup>e</sup> has eternal life and I shall raise him up on the last day; <sup>55</sup>for My flesh is genuine food and My blood is genuine drink. <sup>56</sup>He who eats My flesh and drinks My blood remains in Me and I in him. <sup>57</sup>Just as the life-giving Father sent Me and I live through the Father, so he who nourishes on Me shall live through Me. <sup>58</sup>This is the bread that came down from heaven; not such as your fathers ate and then died; he who eats this bread shall live forever.

<sup>59</sup>These sayings He uttered as He was teaching in a Capernaum synagogue. <sup>60</sup>So then many of His disciples<sup>f</sup> who were listening said, "This is a difficult message! Who can stand listening to it?" <sup>61</sup>Aware within Himself that His disciples were grumbling about it, Jesus told them: This irritates you? <sup>62</sup>Suppose you should see the Son of Man ascending where He was previously? <sup>63</sup>The Spirit is the life-giver; the flesh does not benefit at all. The messages I bring you are spirit and life; <sup>64</sup>but there are some of you who fail to believe. For Jesus knew from the start who were the unbelievers and who would be His betrayer. <sup>65</sup>He further said, For this reason I have told you that no one is able to come to Me unless it is granted him by the Father.

<sup>66</sup>From then on many of His disciples returned home and no longer walked with Him. <sup>67</sup>So Jesus said to the twelve, You do not want to leave, too? <sup>68</sup>Simon Peter answered Him, "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life, <sup>69</sup>and we have believed and have grown certain that Thou art the holy One of God." <sup>70</sup>Jesus answered them, Have I not chosen you twelve? Yet one of you is a devil. <sup>71</sup>He meant Judas, son of Simon Iscariot, for he, although one of the twelve, was going to betray Him.

Late summer, 29 A.D.

7 FOLLOWING THIS, JESUS WALKED up and down in Galilee; for He did not want to go around in Judea, because the Jews were trying to kill Him. <sup>2</sup>However, the Jewish Feast of Booths<sup>g</sup> was near, <sup>3</sup>so His brothers told Him: "Get away from here and go off to Judea, so your disciples will see the works you perform; <sup>4</sup>for no one who seeks to be in the limelight does things where they are not observed. Since you do these things, show yourself to the world!" <sup>5</sup>For his brothers had no faith in Him either.

<sup>6</sup>Jesus told them, My time has not yet arrived, but your time is always opportune. <sup>7</sup>The world cannot hate you; but it hates Me because I testify about it, that its works are wicked. <sup>8</sup>You go up to the feast; I do not yet go up to this feast, for My term is not yet completed.

October, 29 A.D.

<sup>9</sup>With these remarks to them He remained in Galilee; <sup>10</sup>but after His brothers had gone up to the Feast then He went, too; not with a caravan but by Himself.

<sup>11</sup>At the Feast the Jews were looking for Him and inquired: "Where is he?" <sup>12</sup>There was considerable dispute about Him, too, among the crowds, some saying, "He is good," and others, "No, but he misleads the people." <sup>13</sup>No one, however, expressed himself openly about Him, due to fear of the Jews.

<sup>14</sup>By the time the Feast was half over, Jesus went up to the temple and taught.

<sup>15</sup>Then the Jews were surprised; they said, "How does this person know literature without an education?" <sup>16</sup>Jesus replied to them, My teaching is not Mine but His who sent Me. <sup>17</sup>If anyone wills to do His will he shall understand the teaching, whether it is from God or whether I speak from Myself.<sup>h</sup> <sup>18</sup>He who speaks from himself seeks his own honor; but he who seeks his sender's honor is sincere and in him there is no deceit. <sup>19</sup>Did not Moses teach you the Law? Yet none of you practices the Law. Why do you try to kill Me?

<sup>20</sup>The crowd replied, "You have a demon! Who is trying to kill you?" <sup>21</sup>Jesus answered them, I have done a single deed and you all marvel about it. <sup>22</sup>Because Moses established circumcision among you — though it did not come from Moses but from previous ancestors — you circumcise a person even on the Sabbath. <sup>23</sup>If a person receives circumcision on the Sabbath so as not to have Moses' Law broken, are you enraged at Me for making a man entirely well on the Sabbath?<sup>i</sup> <sup>24</sup>Do not judge superficially, but judge fairly.

<sup>25</sup>Then some of the Jerusalemites said, "Is not he the one they try to kill?" <sup>26</sup>Here he stands talking in public and nothing is said to him. The rulers surely have not discovered that he is the Christ! <sup>27</sup>But we know where this person is from; when the Messiah comes no one will know where he is from."<sup>j</sup>

<sup>28</sup>So Jesus called out as He taught in the temple: Do you know Me and do you know where I am from? I have not come self-appointed; but He who sent Me is true. You do not know Him. <sup>29</sup>I know Him because I am from His presence and He personally sent Me.

<sup>30</sup>Then they<sup>k</sup> were anxious to arrest Him; but no one laid hands on Him; for His hour had not yet come. <sup>31</sup>Besides, many of the people believed in Him and said, "When the Christ comes, will He achieve more signs than this one does?"

<sup>32</sup>The Pharisees learned how the people under their breath said these things about Him, so the chief priests and the Pharisees dispatched attendants to arrest Him. <sup>33</sup>Jesus then said, I will be with you a little while longer and then I go to My Sender; <sup>34</sup>you will look for Me without finding Me and where I am then, you are not able to come.

<sup>35</sup>The Jews talked among themselves: "Where is he intending to go, so we cannot find him? He surely does not plan to visit the Dispersion among the Greeks and to teach the Greeks?" <sup>36</sup>What does he mean by saying, 'You will seek me and will not find me,' and 'Where I am you cannot come'?"

<sup>40</sup>Listening to these teachings there were those in the crowd who said, "This really is the prophet." <sup>41</sup>Others said, "This is the Christ," Others questioned, "But the Christ does not come from Galilee, does He?" <sup>42</sup>Does not the Scripture say that the Christ comes from the offspring of David and from Bethlehem town where David lived?" <sup>43</sup>So, on account of Him there was disagreement among the people <sup>44</sup>and some of them wanted to seize Him, but no one laid hands on Him.

<sup>45</sup>When the attendants of the chief priests and Pharisees returned, they were asked, "For what reason did you fail to bring him?" <sup>46</sup>The attendants re-

<sup>50</sup>Nicodemus, one of their number — who had previously called on Him — said to them, <sup>51</sup>"Our Law does not condemn a person without giving him a hearing and ascertaining his behavior, does it?" <sup>52</sup>They replied to him, "Are you also perhaps from Galilee? October-November, 29 A.D.

8 EARLY IN THE MORNING HE WENT <sup>2</sup>back to the temple and as all the people came to Him, He sat down and taught them.

<sup>6</sup>But Jesus stooped down and wrote with His finger on the ground, <sup>7</sup>and as they kept on questioning Him, He raised Himself and told them, Let the sinless one among you throw the first stone at her! <sup>8</sup>Stooping down again, He wrote with His finger on the ground. <sup>9</sup>But they, on hearing it, went away conscience-stricken, one after the other, beginning from the oldest to the last, until Jesus was left alone with the woman as she stood there.

<sup>10</sup>Jesus raised Himself and asked her, Woman, where are your accusers? Has no one condemned you? She said, <sup>11</sup>"No one, Lord!" So Jesus told her, Then I do not condemn you, either. Go, and from now on do not sin any more.)<sup>o</sup>

<sup>12</sup>Then Jesus spoke to them again, I am the Light of the world; My follower shall not walk around in darkness, but has the Light of life. <sup>13</sup>So the Pharisees said to Him, "You are witnessing to yourself; your testimony is not valid."

<sup>14</sup>Jesus answered them, Even if I do testify for Myself, My testimony is valid, for I know from where I come and where I go; but you neither know where I am from nor where I am going. <sup>15</sup>You judge by human standards; I judge no one, <sup>16</sup>and in case I do judge, My judgment is true, for I am not alone, but it is My Sender and I. <sup>17</sup>It is written in your Law that the evidence of two persons is valid; <sup>18</sup>I am a witness for Myself, and My Father who sent Me witnesses on My behalf.

<sup>19</sup>Then they said to Him, "Where is your Father?" Jesus replied, You know neither Me nor My Father; if you knew Me, you would know My Father as well.

<sup>20</sup>These words He uttered in the treasury, as He taught in the temple, and no one got hold of Him, for His time had not yet come.

<sup>21</sup>Once more He told them, I go away and you will look for Me; but you will die in your sin; the place to which I go you are not able to come. <sup>22</sup>So the Jews said, "He is not going to kill himself, is he, to say, 'Where I go you cannot come'?" <sup>23</sup>He further said to them, You are from below and I am from above. You are from this world; I am not from this world, <sup>24</sup>so I told you that you would die in your sins. For if you do not believe that I am He,<sup>p</sup> you will die in your sins.<sup>q</sup>

<sup>25</sup>They said to Him, "Who are you?" Jesus replied, I am exactly what I tell you: <sup>26</sup>I have much to say and to judge about you, but My Sender is reliable and what I have learned from Him I tell the world.

JOHN 8, 9

October-November, 29 A.D.

<sup>28</sup>so Jesus said, When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will realize that I am He, and that I do nothing of My own accord, but tell things just as the Father has taught Me. <sup>29</sup>My Sender is with Me; He does not leave Me alone, for I do invariably what pleases Him.

<sup>30</sup>As He said these things, many believed in Him; <sup>31</sup>so Jesus said to the Jews who had come to believe in Him, If you adhere to My teaching, you will truly be My disciples; <sup>32</sup>you will know the truth and the truth will set you free.

<sup>33</sup>They<sup>r</sup> retorted to Him, "We are Abraham's progeny, and we have never been slaves to anyone. What do you mean by, 'You will become freemen?'"

<sup>34</sup>Jesus answered them, Truly I assure you, every one who commits sin is a slave to sin. <sup>35</sup>But the slave does not forever stay in the home; the son remains forever. <sup>36</sup>So if the Son liberates you, then you are unquestionably free. <sup>37</sup>I know you are Abraham's offspring; but you look for means to kill Me, for you have no use for My teaching. <sup>38</sup>I relate what I have observed at the Father's side and you behave as you have learned from your father.

<sup>39</sup>They retorted, "Abraham is our father"; to which Jesus replied, If you were Abraham's children, you would do what Abraham did; <sup>40</sup>but here you are seeking to kill Me, a Man who has told you the truth which He learned from God. Abraham did not act that way. <sup>41</sup>You are doing your father's works. They said to Him, "We are not born illegitimately;<sup>a</sup> God is our one Father." <sup>42</sup>If God were your Father, Jesus rejoined, you would love Me, for I came out of and am here from God; neither did I come from personal motives, but He sent Me. <sup>43</sup>Why do you not understand My language? Because you cannot bear to listen to My message. <sup>44</sup>You have the devil for your father and you wish to practice the desires of your father; he was a murderer from the start and he could not stay in the truth because there is no truth in him. When he tells a lie, he talks naturally; for he is a liar and its father; <sup>45</sup>but because I speak the truth, you disbelieve Me. <sup>46</sup>Who of you convicts Me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe Me? <sup>47</sup>A person whose origin is God, listens to the words of God. Because you are not from God you do not listen.

<sup>48</sup>"Do we not say rightly," the Jews replied to Him, "that you are a Samaritan and have a demon?" <sup>49</sup>Jesus answered, I have no demon, but I honor My Father, and you dishonor Me. <sup>50</sup>I am not out for My glory; there is One who takes care of that and who judges. <sup>51</sup>With assurance I tell you, anyone who observes My teaching shall nowise taste death forever.

<sup>52</sup>Retorted the Jews, "Now we know you have a demon. Both Abraham and the prophets died and you say, 'If anyone observes My teaching he will nowise taste of death forever.' <sup>53</sup>You are not superior to our father Abraham, who died, are you? And the prophets died. Whom do you make yourself?" <sup>54</sup>To which Jesus replied, If I ascribed glory to Myself, My glory would be worthless. My Father, whom you call "our God," He ascribes glory to Me. <sup>55</sup>You do not know Him, but I know Him, and if I said, "I do not know Him," I would be a prevaricator like yourselves. But I know Him and observe His word.

<sup>56</sup>Your father Abraham was extremely happy in the prospect of seeing My day,<sup>t</sup> and he did see it and rejoiced. <sup>57</sup>Then the Jews addressed Him, "You are not yet fifty, and have you seen Abraham?" <sup>58</sup>Jesus said to them, Surely I confirm to you, before Abraham's birth I am.

<sup>59</sup>Then they picked up stones to hurl at Him; but Jesus got under cover and passed out of the temple.

Him, "Rabbi, who sinned, this fellow or his parents, so that he was born blind?"<sup>u</sup> <sup>3</sup>Jesus answered, Not that he has sinned or his parents; but that in him God's works should be displayed. <sup>4</sup>So long as daytime lasts we must practice the works of My Sender; a night approaches when no one shall be able to work. <sup>5</sup>While I am in the world, I am the Light of the world.

November-December, 29 A.D.

<sup>6</sup>This said, He spat on the ground and made mud with the saliva, daubed the mud on his eyes <sup>7</sup>and told him, Go out and wash them in the pool of Siloam, — translated, Sent. So he went and washed and returned enjoying sight.

<sup>8</sup>Then the neighbors and those who had seen him before as he begged, remarked, "Is not he the one who sat and begged?" <sup>9</sup>Some said, "Yes, he is the one." Others said, "No, but he looks like him." He himself said, "I am the one." <sup>10</sup>They asked him, "Then how were your eyes opened?" <sup>11</sup>He replied, "A man by the name of Jesus made some mud and daubed my eyes and told me to go to Siloam and wash; so I went and washed and I saw." <sup>12</sup>They asked him, "Where is he?" "I do not know," he said.

<sup>13</sup>They conducted the once-blind man to the Pharisees, <sup>14</sup>and the day on which Jesus had made the mud and opened his eyes was the Sabbath. <sup>15</sup>Then the Pharisees, too, asked once more how he came to see; but he told them, "He applied mud to my eyes, and I washed them and I see." <sup>16</sup>Some of the Pharisees then remarked, "This is not a man of God; for he does not observe the Sabbath." Others said, "How can a sinful man effect such signs?" So there was disagreement among them.

<sup>17</sup>Then they asked the blind man again, "What do you say about him, since he opened your eyes?" He said, "That he is a prophet." <sup>18</sup>The Jews, however, did not believe that he was the blind man who saw again, until they summoned his parents <sup>19</sup>and asked them, "Is this your son, whom you report as having been born blind? How is it that he now sees?" <sup>20</sup>His parents replied, "We know that this is our son and that he was born blind; <sup>21</sup>but we do not know how he now sees; neither do we know who opened his eyes. Ask him; he is of age; he will speak for himself." <sup>22</sup>His parents said this because they were afraid of the Jews; for the Jews had already agreed that every confessor of Christ should be debarred from the synagogue. <sup>23</sup>For that reason his parents said, "He is of age; ask him."

<sup>24</sup>So for the second time they summoned the man once blind and told him, "Give God the praise; we know that this man is a sinner."<sup>v</sup> <sup>25</sup>He then replied, "Whether he is a sinner I do not know. One thing I do know, that I was blind and now I see." <sup>26</sup>They asked him, "What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?" <sup>27</sup>He answered them, "I have already told you and you did not listen; why do you want to hear it again? You do not perhaps want to become his disciples, too?" <sup>28</sup>They abused him and said, "You are his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples."<sup>w</sup> <sup>29</sup>We know that God spoke through Moses; but this fellow — we do not know where he hails from."

<sup>30</sup>The man replied to them, "This is the marvel of it: You do not know where he hails from, yet he opened my eyes. <sup>31</sup>We know that God does not respond to sinners; but He does hear one who reveres Him and does His will. <sup>32</sup>Through the ages this has never been heard of, that someone opened the eyes of one born blind. <sup>33</sup>If he were not of God, he could do nothing."

<sup>34</sup>They retorted, "You, altogether born in sins, would you teach us?" And they threw him clear outside.

<sup>u</sup>) Ultimately all suffering is due to sin, including that of Christ on the cross for our sin. But from Job on we know we must not judge back from suffering to particular sins; nor do we trace it to a previous existence. <sup>v</sup>) Therefore not from God.

<sup>w</sup>) As loyal disciples of Moses they would enforce the Sabbath law as they interpreted and enlarged it.

November-December, 29 A.D.

<sup>35</sup>Jesus learned that they had expelled him and, encountering him, said, Do you believe in the Son of Man? <sup>36</sup>He answered, "Who is he, Lord, so I may believe in him?" <sup>37</sup>Jesus told him, You have looked at Him; in fact, He is talking with you now. <sup>38</sup>He called out, "Lord, I believe!" and worshiped Him.

<sup>39</sup>Jesus further spoke: For judgment I have come into this world, so that the sightless may see, and the seeing become blind. <sup>40</sup>Certain of the Pharisees near Him asked Him, when they heard that, "We are not blind, too?" <sup>41</sup>Jesus told them, If you were blind you would be blameless; but since you claim to have sight, your sin remains.<sup>x</sup>

December, 29 A.D.

10 TRULY I ASSURE YOU, HE WHO does not enter the sheepfold through the door, but climbs up from elsewhere, he is a thief and a robber; <sup>2</sup>but he who enters through the door is the sheep's shepherd. <sup>3</sup>To him the doorkeeper opens and the sheep listen to his voice; he calls his own sheep by name and leads them out. <sup>4</sup>When he has put out all that belong to him, he walks ahead of them and the sheep follow him; for they know his voice. <sup>5</sup>They do not at all follow a stranger, but run away from him, because they do not recognize the call of strangers. <sup>6</sup>Jesus told them this illustration; but they did not catch the meaning of what He said to them, <sup>7</sup>so Jesus spoke again, Truly I assure you, I am the door for the sheep. <sup>8</sup>All who came before Me<sup>y</sup> are thieves and robbers; but the sheep did not listen to them. <sup>9</sup>I am the Door. Whoever comes in through Me shall be saved; he will go in and out and find pasture. <sup>10</sup>The thief's only purpose in coming is to steal, to butcher and to spoil. I have come so they may have life and have it abundantly.

the sheep. <sup>12</sup>The hired man, who is not the shepherd, who does not own the sheep, deserts the sheep and runs when he sees the wolf coming; then the wolf tears and scatters them. <sup>13</sup>(The hireling flees) for he is a hireling; what does he care about the sheep?

<sup>14</sup>I am the Good Shepherd and I recognize My own. My own in turn recognize Me, <sup>15</sup>just as the Father knows Me and I know the Father, — and I lay down My life on behalf of the sheep. <sup>16</sup>I have other sheep, too, that are not in this fold; those I must guide as well and they will listen to My call, so there will be one flock, one Shepherd.

<sup>17</sup>For this reason My Father loves Me, because I lay down My life to receive it again. <sup>18</sup>No one snatches it from Me; but I voluntarily lay it down. I have authority to lay it down and I have authority to take it up again. I received this injunction from My Father.

<sup>19</sup>Once more a disagreement arose among the Jews due to these teachings. <sup>20</sup>Many of them said, "He has a demon; he is out of his mind; why do you listen to him?" <sup>21</sup>Others said, "These are not the remarks of a demoniac. A demon cannot open the eyes of the blind, can he?"

<sup>22</sup>The Feast of Dedication came on in Jerusalem.<sup>a</sup> <sup>23</sup>It was winter and Jesus walked inside the temple in Solomon's vestibule. <sup>24</sup>So the Jews encircled Him and asked Him, "How long will you keep our minds in suspense? If you are the Christ, tell us plainly!"<sup>b</sup> <sup>25</sup>Jesus replied to them, I have told you and you do not believe. The works that I achieve in My Father's name bear Me witness; <sup>26</sup>but you do not believe because you do not belong to My sheep. <sup>27</sup>My sheep listen to My call; I know them and they follow Me. <sup>28</sup>I also give them eternal life and they shall not perish at all forever, and no one shall snatch them out of My hand. <sup>29</sup>My Father who gave them to Me is mightier than all and no one can wrest them out of My Father's hand. <sup>30</sup>I and the Father are One.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>31</sup>Again the Jews picked up stones to stone Him. <sup>32</sup>Jesus answered them, I have shown you many of My Father's benevolent doings; for which of them would you stone Me? <sup>33</sup>The Jews replied, "We would not stone you for a good act but for blasphemy; because you, a human being, make yourself God." <sup>34</sup>Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your Law,<sup>d</sup> "I said, you are gods"? <sup>35</sup>If it calls them gods, to whom the word of God came — and the Scripture cannot be broken — <sup>36</sup>do you say to One whom the Father dedicated and sent into the world, "You blasphemel" because I said, I am God's Son? <sup>37</sup>If I do not accomplish My Father's work, do not believe Me; <sup>38</sup>but if I do, then, though you disbelieve Me, believe the things done, so that you may know and understand that the Father is in Me and I am in the Father.

January, 30 A.D.

<sup>39</sup>Then they tried again to get hold of Him, but <sup>40</sup>He escaped their hands and resorted once more to the place beyond the Jordan where John first baptized, and there He stayed. <sup>41</sup>Many came to Him and said, "While John wrought no sign, yet everything John said about him was true." <sup>42</sup>And many there believed in Him.

11 A MAN BY THE NAME OF Lazarus, of Bethany, the village of Mary and her sister Martha, was ill. — <sup>2</sup>The Mary whose brother Lazarus was ill, was the one who anointed the Lord with perfume and wiped His feet with her hair. <sup>3</sup>So the sisters sent Him a message: "Lord, behold, the one you love is ill." <sup>4</sup>Hearing it, Jesus said, This illness is not to culminate in death; but it is for the glory of God, so that through it the Son of God may be glorified.

<sup>5</sup>Now Jesus was a dear friend to Martha and her sister and Lazarus; <sup>6</sup>so when He heard that he was ill, He stayed at the place where He was two more days <sup>7</sup>and, with those ended, He said to the disciples, Let us go back into Judea. <sup>8</sup>The disciples told Him, "Rabbi, as it is, the Jews want to stone you, and you go back there?" <sup>9</sup>Jesus replied, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If one walks about during the day he does not stumble, for he sees the world's light; <sup>10</sup>but if he walks about during the night, he stumbles because in him there is no light.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>11</sup>He said this to them and then added, Our friend Lazarus is asleep, but I am setting out to wake him up. <sup>12</sup>The disciples remarked to Him, "Lord, if he is sleeping, he will recover"; <sup>13</sup>but Jesus had spoken of his death. As they supposed He spoke about the repose of sleep, <sup>14</sup>Jesus then told them plainly: Lazarus is dead, <sup>15</sup>and for your sakes I am glad I was not present, so that you may believe. However, let us go to him.

<sup>17</sup>When Jesus arrived, He found that he had already been buried for four days. <sup>18</sup>Now Bethany is near Jerusalem, about two miles distant; <sup>19</sup>so, many of the Jews had gone out to Martha and Mary to console them about their brother <sup>20</sup>As soon, then, as Martha learned that Jesus had come, she went to meet Him; but Mary was sitting in the house.

<sup>21</sup>Then Martha said to Jesus, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died, <sup>22</sup>and I know that even now whatever you ask of God, He will grant you." <sup>23</sup>Jesus said to her, Your brother will rise again. <sup>24</sup>Martha replied, "I know that he will rise again in the resurrection on the last day." <sup>25</sup>Jesus assured her, I am the Resurrection and the Life;<sup>f</sup> the believer in Me will live even when he dies, <sup>26</sup>and everyone who lives and believes in Me shall never, never die. Do you believe this? <sup>27</sup>She responded, "Yes, Lord, I have faith that Thou art the Christ, the Son of God, who was to come into the world."

<sup>28</sup>This said, she went off and called her sister Mary with the private message, "The Teacher is here and He calls you!" <sup>29</sup>Hurriedly Mary arose when she heard it and went to Him; <sup>30</sup>but Jesus had not yet entered the village; He was still at the spot where Martha had met Him.

<sup>31</sup>As the Jews, who were with her in the house to comfort her, noticed that Mary got up quickly and left, they followed her, supposing she went out to the tomb to weep there. <sup>32</sup>Mary, however, when she arrived at the place where Jesus was and saw Him, fell at His feet with the words, "Lord, had you been here, my brother would not have died." <sup>33</sup>Then Jesus, when He saw her weeping, as well as the weeping Jews that came along with her, was deeply indignant in spirit and disquieted.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>34</sup>He asked, Where did you lay him away? They told Him, "Lord, come and see!" <sup>35</sup>Jesus wept. <sup>36</sup>The Jews then remarked, "Notice how he loved him!" <sup>37</sup>But some of them said, "Could not he, the opener of the blind man's eyes, have prevented his death?"

<sup>38</sup>Again deeply moved inwardly, Jesus approached the tomb; it was a cave with a stone laid against it. <sup>39</sup>Jesus said, Remove the stone. Martha, sister of the deceased, said to Him, "Lord, by now there is an odor, for it is four days." <sup>40</sup>Jesus said to her, Did I not tell you, if you will believe you will see the glory of God? <sup>41</sup>So they removed the stone.

February, 30 A.D.

Then Jesus raised His eyes on high and said: Father, I thank Thee for having heard Me, <sup>42</sup>and I know that Thou always dost hear Me; but on account of the people around here I spoke, so that they may believe that Thou hast sent Me.<sup>h</sup>

<sup>43</sup>This said, He called out strongly, Lazarus, come out! <sup>44</sup>Out came the one who had died, feet and hands tied with bandages and his face wrapped in a towel. Jesus told them, Untie him and give him a chance to move.

<sup>45</sup>Then many of the Jews, who had visited Mary and had observed what He had done, believed in Him; <sup>46</sup>but some of them went off to the Pharisees and informed them of Jesus' activities. <sup>47</sup>So the chief priests and the Pharisees summoned the Sanhedrin and said, "What shall we do? For this man performs numerous signs. <sup>48</sup>If we let him go on this way, everyone will believe in him, and the Romans will come to take away from us both place and people." <sup>49</sup>But one of them, Caiaphas, that year's high priest, suggested to them, "You do not know a thing; <sup>50</sup>you do not reason out that it is preferable for you to have one person die on behalf of the people, rather than to have the whole nation ruined."

<sup>51</sup>He said this not from his own initiative but, being that year's high priest,<sup>i</sup> he foretold how Jesus was to die for the nation, <sup>52</sup>and not alone for the nation, but to gather into unison all the scattered children of God.

March, 30 A.D.

<sup>53</sup>From that day on, therefore, they laid plans to kill Him. <sup>54</sup>So Jesus no longer went around openly among the Jews, but withdrew to the country near the desert, to a town called Ephraim, and there He stayed with the disciples.

<sup>55</sup>The Jews' Passover was approaching, and many went up from the country to Jerusalem to consecrate themselves for the Passover; <sup>56</sup>so they looked for Jesus and remarked as they were standing together in the temple: "What do you think? Is he not coming to the Feast?" <sup>57</sup>But the chief priests and the Pharisees had given orders that, if anyone knew where He was, he should report so that they might get hold of Him.

Saturday, April 1, 30 A.D.

12 SIX DAYS PREVIOUS TO THE Passover, Jesus came to Bethany where Lazarus lived, whom Jesus had raised from the dead. <sup>2</sup>There they prepared a supper for Him<sup>j</sup> and Martha waited tables, while Lazarus was among those reclining with Him.

<sup>3</sup>Then Mary, procuring a pound of costly perfume, purest nard, anointed the feet of Jesus and dried His feet with her hair. So the house was filled with the fragrance of the perfume.

<sup>9</sup>Then a great crowd of Jews learned that He was there and came not merely on account of Jesus, but also to see Lazarus whom He had raised from the dead. <sup>10</sup>But the chief priests made plans to kill Lazarus, too; <sup>11</sup>for many of the Jews went out on his account and believed in Jesus.

Sunday, April 2, 30 A.D.

<sup>12</sup>Next day an immense body of people, who were coming to the Feast, heard that Jesus was on the way to Jerusalem, <sup>13</sup>so they took palm branches and went out to meet Him, shouting all the while: "Hosanna!

Sunday, April 2, 30 A.D.

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel!"<sup>1</sup> <sup>14</sup>And, finding a young donkey, Jesus rode it, as it is written, <sup>m15</sup>"Have no fear, daughter of Zion! See, your king is coming, seated on an ass' colt." <sup>16</sup>At first His disciples did not understand this, but when Jesus had been glorified, they remembered how this had been written of Him and how they had done this to Him.

<sup>17</sup>The people who were with Him when He called Lazarus from the tomb and raised him from the dead, bore witness about it, <sup>18</sup>and for that reason the crowd went out to meet Him; for they had heard that He had performed this sign. <sup>19</sup>Then the Pharisees said among themselves, "You see how you are getting nowhere! Look, the world is running after him!"

Monday

<sup>27</sup>Now My soul is disturbed, and what shall I say? Father, save Me from this hour? But for this I came to this hour. <sup>28</sup>Father, glorify Thy name!

Then a voice came from heaven, I have glorified it and shall glorify it again! <sup>29</sup>The people that stood and listened said, "It thundered!" Others said, "An angel spoke to him!" <sup>30</sup>Jesus replied, This voice did not come for

My sake but for yours. <sup>31</sup>Now is this world's sentence; now shall the ruler of this world be expelled, <sup>32</sup>and I, when I am lifted up from the earth, shall draw everyone to Myself.<sup>o</sup> <sup>33</sup>This He said signifying what kind of death He was to die.

<sup>34</sup>The people hurled back at Him, "We have learned from the Law that the Christ remains forever, and how can you say that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of Man?"

<sup>35</sup>So Jesus told them, For a little while the Light still shines among you; walk while you have the Light so that darkness may not overtake you. One who walks in darkness does not know where he is going. <sup>36</sup>While you have the Light, put faith in the Light so you may become sons of the Light.

Monday-Tuesday

After saying this, Jesus went away and hid from them. <sup>37</sup>But in spite of all the signs He had done in their presence, they put no faith in Him; <sup>38</sup>so that the saying of Isaiah the prophet was fulfilled:<sup>p</sup> "Lord, who has believed our report and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?"

<sup>39</sup>For this reason they could not believe, for again Isaiah said:<sup>q</sup> <sup>40</sup>"He has blinded their eyes and has calloused their hearts, so they may neither see with their eyes nor understand in their hearts and repent and I should heal them." <sup>41</sup>Isaiah said this, for he saw His glory and spoke of Him.<sup>r</sup>

<sup>42</sup>Nevertheless, many even of the leaders believed in Him but, due to the Pharisees, failed to confess it so they might not be put out of the synagogue; <sup>43</sup>for they preferred men's esteem to divine approval.

<sup>44</sup>But Jesus strongly called out: The believer in Me does not believe in Me but in My Sender, <sup>45</sup>and one looking on Me looks on My Sender. <sup>46</sup>I am come into the world a light, so that

God's Testimony; The Foot Washing

Monday-Tuesday

no believer in Me may remain in the dark. <sup>47</sup>And if anyone hears My teachings and fails to observe them, I pass no sentence on him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world. <sup>48</sup>He who rejects Me and does not accept My teachings has his judge: My spoken word shall sentence him on the last day. <sup>49</sup>For I have not spoken of My own accord, but the Father who sent Me, He gave Me orders what to declare and what to talk over. <sup>50</sup>I know, too, that His bidding means eternal life; so, what I relate I discuss, just as the Father has told Me.

Thursday evening

13 BEFORE THE PASSOVER FEAST, Jesus, aware that for Him the time had come to leave this world for the Father, showed His own whom He loved in the world that He loved them to the end. <sup>2</sup>At supper time, when the devil had already put the purpose into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray Him, <sup>3</sup>Jesus, conscious that the Father placed everything into His hands and that He came from God and was going to God, <sup>4</sup>rose from the table, put away His robe and, taking a towel, girded Himself. <sup>5</sup>Then He poured water into the basin and began to wash the feet of the disciples and to dry them with the towel with which He was girded.

<sup>6</sup>So He approached Simon Peter<sup>a</sup> who told Him, "Lord, You wash my feet?" <sup>7</sup>Jesus answered him, Just now you do not understand what I do, but you will know later on. <sup>8</sup>Peter rejoined, "You shall never, never wash my feet!" To which Jesus replied, If I do not wash you, you are not sharing with Me. <sup>9</sup>Simon Peter said to Him, "Lord, not only my feet but also my hands and my head!" <sup>10</sup>A bathed person, Jesus assured him, does not need to be washed further (than the feet), but is completely cleansed; and you are

<sup>r</sup>) In the vision of ch. 6? Whenever God reveals His being in the Old Testament we may best think of the Son of God, the Word, expressing God.

Thursday evening

cleansed — but not all of you. <sup>11</sup>For he knew His betrayer; so He said, Not all of you are cleansed.

<sup>12</sup>After washing their feet and re-dressing, He reclined again and told them, Do you understand what I have done to you? <sup>13</sup>You call Me "Teacher" and "Lord," and rightly so, because I am. <sup>14</sup>Then if I, your Lord and Teacher, wash your feet, you surely ought to wash one another's feet, <sup>15</sup>for I have set you an example so that you might do just as I did to you. <sup>16</sup>I assure you with all truth, a servant is not superior to his master nor a messenger to his sender. <sup>17</sup>If you grasp these teachings, blessed are you if you practice them.

<sup>18</sup>I am not speaking of you all; I know those I have chosen; but the Scripture is to be fulfilled, "The one eating my bread has raised his heel against me!" <sup>19</sup>Right now I tell you this, before it occurs, so that when it does occur you may believe that I am He. <sup>20</sup>With twofold assurance I tell you, He who welcomes whom I send, welcomes Me, and he who welcomes Me, welcomes My Sender.

we need for the Feast," or, "Give something to the poor!" <sup>30</sup>Then at once, after taking the bite of bread, he went out. It was then night.

<sup>31</sup>When he had left, Jesus said, Now the Son of Man is glorified, and in Him God is glorified. <sup>32</sup>If God is glorified in Him, then God will in Himself glorify Him and shall glorify Him at once. <sup>33</sup>Little children,<sup>u</sup> I am with you but a little longer. You will be looking for Me and, as I told the Jews so I tell you now, where I go you cannot come. <sup>34</sup>I give you a new command, That you love one another.<sup>v</sup> Just as I love you, so you should love one another. <sup>35</sup>By this everyone will recognize that you are My disciples, if you love one another.

<sup>36</sup>Simon Peter asked Him, "Lord, where are You going?" Jesus replied, Where I am going you cannot follow Me now, but later on you will follow. <sup>37</sup>Peter said to Him, "Lord, for what reason can I not follow You now? I will lay down my life for You!"<sup>w</sup> <sup>38</sup>Jesus replied, Will you lay down your life for Me? With twofold affirmation I tell you, The rooster shall not crow until you have thrice disclaimed Me.

14 LET NOT YOUR HEARTS BE troubled;<sup>x</sup> you believe in God, believe also in Me. <sup>2</sup>In My Father's house are many places. If this were not so, I would have told you. For I go away to prepare a place for you. <sup>3</sup>And when I have gone and have prepared a place for you, I will come again and take you along to Myself so that where I am, you also will be. <sup>4</sup>And where I am going, you know the way.

<sup>5</sup>Thomas remarked to Him, "Lord, we do not know where you are going; (and) how do we know the way?" <sup>6</sup>To which Jesus replied, I am the Way and the Truth and the Life; no one comes to the Father except through Me. <sup>7</sup>Had you recognized Me, you would have known My Father as well. From now on you do know Him; yes, you have looked at Him.

<sup>8</sup>Philip said to Him, "Lord, show us the Father and it is enough for us."

<sup>9</sup>Jesus replied, How long have I been with you without your recognizing Me, Philip! He who has looked on Me, has looked on the Father. What do you mean by saying, "Show us the Father"? <sup>10</sup>Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father in Me? The messages I relate to you all, I do not tell just from Myself; the Father, who dwells in Me, carries on His activities. <sup>11</sup>Believe Me, that I am in the Father and the Father in Me, and if not, then believe on account of the deeds themselves. <sup>12</sup>Doubly I assure you, the believer in Me shall himself do the deeds I do, and shall do greater things than these, for I go to the Father, <sup>13</sup>and I will bring about whatever you ask in My name, so that the Father may be glorified in the Son. <sup>14</sup>I will do whatever you may ask in My name.

<sup>15</sup>If you love Me, you will keep My commands, <sup>16</sup>and I will ask the Father and He will give you another Comforter<sup>z</sup> to stay with you forever, <sup>17</sup>the Spirit of Truth whom the world cannot receive, because it neither observes nor understands Him. You know Him, for He remains with you and will be within you.

<sup>18</sup>I shall not leave you orphans; I will come to you. <sup>19</sup>In a little while the world no longer sees Me; but you will see Me, for I live and you, too, shall live. <sup>20</sup>On that day you will recognize that I am in My Father, and you in Me and I in you. <sup>21</sup>He who has My orders and observes them, he loves Me and he who loves Me shall be loved by My Father. I, too, shall love him and show Myself to him.

<sup>22</sup>Judas — not Iscariot — asked Him, "Lord, how does it happen that you are going to show yourself to us and not to the world?" <sup>23</sup>Jesus answered him, If anyone loves Me, he will observe My message and My Father will love him and We will visit him and make Our dwelling with him. <sup>24</sup>One who does not love Me, does not observe My message — though the word you hear is not Mine, but the Father's who sent Me.

<sup>25</sup>I have been telling you this while I am still with you; <sup>26</sup>but the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, which the Father will send in My name, He will teach you everything and will remind you of all that I have told you.

<sup>27</sup>Peace I bequeath to you; My peace I give to you. I do not give you gifts such as the world gives. Do not allow your hearts to be unsettled or intimidated. <sup>28</sup>You heard how I told you: "I go away" and "I come to you." If you loved Me, you would be glad that I go to the Father, for the Father is greater than I.

<sup>29</sup>I have just told you this before it takes place so that, when it does happen, you may have faith. <sup>30</sup>I shall not talk over many things with you any more; for the world's ruler comes. He has no claim on Me; <sup>31</sup>but I act as I do in order that the world may learn that I love the Father and act in full agreement with His orders. Rise! Let us go away from here!<sup>a</sup>

15 I AM THE TRUE VINE AND MY Father is the Tiller. <sup>2</sup>Every branch in Me that bears no fruit He prunes away, and whichever bears fruit, He cleans so that it may bear more fruit. <sup>3</sup>You are already clean through the teaching I have talked over with you. <sup>4</sup>Remain in Me and I in you. Just as the branch cannot bear fruit by itself without staying on the vine, so you cannot without staying in Me. <sup>5</sup>I am the Vine, you are the branches. He who remains in Me — and I in him — bears rich fruit. Apart from Me, though, you can do nothing.

<sup>6</sup>Whoever does not remain in Me, is thrown away as a root-sprout and withers; they gather it, throw it into the fire and it burns. <sup>7</sup>If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, then you may ask what you want and it will take place for you.

<sup>8</sup>My Father is honored in this, that you produce rich fruit; then you will be My disciples. <sup>9</sup>Just as the Father has loved Me so I have loved you; continue in this love of Mine. <sup>10</sup>You will remain in My love, if you observe My instructions, just as I observe My Father's instructions and remain in His love.

<sup>11</sup>I have talked these matters over with you so that My joy may be in you and your joy be made complete.

<sup>12</sup>This is My instruction, that you love one another as I have loved you. <sup>13</sup>No one has greater love than this: to lay down his life for his friends. <sup>14</sup>You are My friends if you do what I command you. <sup>15</sup>I no longer call you servants, for a servant does not know what his master is working out; but I have called you friends because I have acquainted you with everything I heard from My Father. <sup>16</sup>You have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you and I have appointed you to go out and produce fruit and keep on producing so that whatever you may ask the Father in My name He may grant you. <sup>17</sup>These are My injunctions to you: Love one another!

<sup>18</sup>If the world hates you, consider that it hated Me first. <sup>19</sup>If you belonged to the world, the world would love its own;<sup>b</sup> but because you are not of the world and I have selected you from the world, therefore the world hates you. <sup>20</sup>Remember My suggestion to you: A servant is not greater than his master. If they persecuted Me, they will persecute you; if they observed My word, they will observe yours; <sup>21</sup>but they will do all this to you on account of My name, for they do not know My Sender.

Thursday night

<sup>22</sup>Had I not come and spoken to them, they would not be guilty; but now they have no excuse for their sin. <sup>23</sup>He who hates Me, hates My Father as well. <sup>24</sup>Had I not accomplished the works among them which none other ever accomplished, they would be blameless; but now they have seen and have hated both Me and My Father. <sup>25</sup>But so the saying in their Law should be fulfilled; "They hated Me without just cause."

<sup>26</sup>When the Comforter comes, whom I will send you from the Father, the Spirit of Truth which goes out from the Father, He will testify regarding Me; <sup>27</sup>but you too will testify, for you were with Me from the beginning.

16 I HAVE TALKED THESE MATTERS over with you, so you may not be trapped. <sup>2</sup>They will shut you out from the synagogue; in fact the time comes when whoever kills you supposes that he is rendering service to God. <sup>3</sup>And they will do these things because they know neither the Father nor Me. <sup>4</sup>So I tell you these things in order that, when the time comes, you may remember them.

I did not tell you this from the start, for I was with you; <sup>5</sup>but now I leave for My Sender. Yet, none of you asks Me, "Where are you going?"<sup>c</sup> <sup>6</sup>Instead, your hearts are filled with sorrow because I related these things to you. <sup>7</sup>However, I tell you the truth: My going is for your benefit; for if I do not leave, the Comforter will not come to you; but if I go, then I will send Him to you. <sup>8</sup>When He comes, He will convict the world regarding sin and righteousness and judgment<sup>d</sup> — <sup>9</sup>regarding sin on the one hand because they do not believe in Me; <sup>10</sup>regarding righteousness on the other, because I go to the Father and you see Me no more; <sup>11</sup>also regarding judgment because the ruler of this world is judged.

<sup>12</sup>I have still many things to tell you; but you cannot take them on you now. <sup>18</sup>When He comes, however, the Spirit of Truth will guide you into every truth; for He will not speak on His own account but will say whatever He hears — and He will make known to you what is to take place. <sup>14</sup>He will glorify Me, for He will take from what is Mine and will announce it to you. <sup>15</sup>Everything the Father has is Mine; so I said, He will take from what is Mine and announce it to you.

<sup>16</sup>Just a little while and you will see Me no longer; then again a little while and you will see Me. <sup>17</sup>Then the disciples said to one another, "What does he mean by saying to us, A little while and you will not see Me and again a little while and you will see Me, and I go away to the Father?" <sup>18</sup>So they said, "What does he mean by a little while? We have no idea what he is talking about!"

<sup>19</sup>Jesus knew that they wanted to ask Him, and told them, You are questioning among yourselves about My saying, "A little while and you will not see Me and again a little while and you will see Me"? <sup>20</sup>Truly I assure you that you will be weeping and moaning while the world feels glad; you will be grieved, but your grief will turn to joy.<sup>e</sup> <sup>21</sup>The mother in childbirth has anguish because her time is come, but when she has borne the child she no longer remembers her affliction, because a human being has been born into the world. <sup>22</sup>So you have grief at present, but I will see you again and your hearts will be glad — and no one shall be able to deprive you of that joy.

<sup>23</sup>At that time you will question Me on nothing. Truly I assure you, whatever you ask the Father, He will grant you in My name. <sup>24</sup>Thus far you have asked nothing in My name. Ask and you will receive, so that your joy may be complete.

shall no longer talk to you in figures but shall plainly inform you about the Father. <sup>26</sup>At that time you will pray in My name, and I do not say that I will make request of the Father on your behalf, <sup>27</sup>for the Father Himself loves you, since you have loved Me and have believed that I came from the Father. <sup>28</sup>I did come from the Father and have entered the world; again, I leave the world and go to the Father.

<sup>29</sup>His disciples said (to Him), "Now you are speaking plainly and not in figures; <sup>30</sup>now we know that you are acquainted with everything and do not need anyone to tell you. From this we believe that you came from God."

<sup>31</sup>Jesus replied, You believe just now? <sup>32</sup>[Note! The hour is coming and it has arrived, when you will be scattered each to his place and you will leave Me alone; but I am not alone, for the Father is with Me. <sup>33</sup>I have talked over these things with you so that in Me you may have peace. In the world you are under pressure; but be confident! I have overcome the world.<sup>f</sup>

17 JESUS SAID THIS, THEN RAISED His eyes toward heaven and said: Father, the hour is come. Glorify Thy Son, so that the Son may glorify Thee; <sup>2</sup>as Thou hast given Him authority over all humankind so that He may give eternal life to all whom Thou hast granted Him.

<sup>3</sup>And this is eternal life: To know Thee, the only true God and Jesus Christ whom Thou hast sent. <sup>4</sup>I have glorified Thee on the earth; I have completed the task Thou gavest Me to do; <sup>5</sup>now glorify Thou Me, Father, with Thine own glory which I had in Thy presence before the world existed. <sup>6</sup>I have made Thy name known to the persons whom Thou gavest Me from the world; they were Thine and Thou gavest them to Me and they have kept Thy word. <sup>7</sup>Now they have realized that all whom Thou hast given Me belong to Thee; <sup>8</sup>for I gave them the words Thou gavest Me, and they have accepted them and have really understood that I came from Thee and they have believed That Thou didst send Me.

<sup>9</sup>I pray for them. I do not pray for the world, but for those whom Thou hast granted Me, for they belong to Thee. <sup>10</sup>Yes, all who are Mine are Thine and Thine are Mine, and in them I am glorified. <sup>11</sup>My presence in the world is over, but these are in the world while I come to Thee. Holy Father, preserve in Thy name those whom Thou hast given Me, so that they may be one as We are.<sup>k</sup> <sup>12</sup>While I was with them I preserved and guarded in Thy name those whom Thou gavest Me and none of them perished except the son of perdition, so that the Scripture was fulfilled. <sup>13</sup>But now I come to Thee and say these things while still in the world, so that they may have My joy completed in their hearts.

<sup>14</sup>I have given them Thy word and the world has hated them, for they are not worldly, just as I am not worldly.

<sup>16</sup>As I am not worldly, so they are not worldly. <sup>17</sup>Sanctify them by the truth. Thy word is truth.

<sup>18</sup>As Thou hast sent Me into the world, so I have sent them into the world, <sup>19</sup>and on their behalf I consecrate Myself, so that they, too, may be consecrated by truth.

<sup>20</sup>I am not praying only for them, but also for the believers in Me through their teaching, <sup>21</sup>so that all may be one, as Thou Father in Me and I in Thee, so they may be in Us, and so that the world may believe Thou hast sent Me.<sup>h</sup> <sup>22</sup>I have given them the glory which Thou gavest Me, so they may be one as We are one — <sup>23</sup>I in them and Thou in Me, so that we may be completed into one; that the world may recognize that Thou hast sent <sup>24</sup>Father, I would have those whom Thou hast given Me, to be with Me where I am, so they may see My glory, which Thou gavest Me out of love before the founding of the world.

<sup>25</sup>Righteous Father, the world has not known Thee, but I know Thee continually, and these have realized that Thou hast sent Me. <sup>26</sup>I both have made known and will make known to them Thy name, so that Thy love for Me as well as I Myself may be in them.

<sup>4</sup>Then Jesus, aware of everything that would befall Him, went out and asked them, For whom are you looking? <sup>5</sup>They replied, "Jesus of Nazareth." Jesus told them, I am He. And Judas, His betrayer, was standing with them.

<sup>6</sup>When He said to them, I am He, they started backward and fell to the ground. <sup>7</sup>Once more He asked them, Whom do you seek? And they said, "Jesus of Nazareth." <sup>8</sup>Jesus replied, I told you that I am He, so if you are after Me, let these escape. <sup>9</sup>Thus the word He had spoken was verified, "None of those Thou gavest Me, I let go to destruction."

<sup>10</sup>Then Simon Peter drew the sword he had, and struck the high priest's servant, severing his right ear — the servant's name was Malchus. <sup>11</sup>But Jesus said to Peter, Sheathe your sword. The cup which My Father has given Me, shall I not drink it?

JOHN 18 Peter Follows and Denies; Jesus before Annas, Caiaphas and Pilate

Midnight of Thursday-Friday

<sup>12</sup>Then the detachment and the colonel<sup>k</sup> together with the Jewish attendants took hold of Jesus, bound Him <sup>13</sup>and conducted Him first to Annas, for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, that year's high priest — <sup>14</sup>the Caiaphas who advised the Jews that one man's death would benefit the people.

Friday, 3:00-6:00 A.M.

<sup>15</sup>But Simon Peter followed Jesus with another disciple,<sup>1</sup> and as that disciple was acquainted with the high priest, he entered along with Jesus in the high priest's courtyard, <sup>16</sup>while Peter stood outside by the door. Then that other disciple, the high priest's acquaintance, came out to speak to the portress and brought in Peter.

<sup>17</sup>The girl in charge of the door then said to Peter, "Are you not one of that man's disciples, too?" He replied, "I am not!" <sup>18</sup>But the servants and the attendants stood by a pile of burning coals they had made and warmed themselves, for it was cold. And Peter, standing with them, also warmed himself.

<sup>19</sup>Meanwhile the high priest examined Jesus regarding His disciples and about His teaching. <sup>20</sup>Jesus answered him, I have openly spoken to the world; I have been teaching right along in the synagogue and in the temple, where all the Jews gathered, and I have said nothing in secret. <sup>21</sup>Why do you examine Me? Examine those who heard what I told them; they know what I said.

warming himself, when they said to him, "Are not you a disciple of his?" He denied it and said, "I am not!" <sup>26</sup>One of the high priest's servants, a relative of the one whose ear Peter had cut off, said, "Did not I see you in the garden with him?" <sup>27</sup>Then Peter again made denial, and instantly the rooster crowed.

Friday morning, 6:00-9:00

<sup>28</sup>Then they conducted Jesus from Caiaphas to the praetorium.<sup>n</sup> But it was early morning and they did not personally enter the palace, so they might not be defiled but might eat the Passover. <sup>29</sup>So Pilate went out to them and asked, "What charge do you bring against this man?" <sup>30</sup>They answered him, "If he were not a criminal, we would not have committed him to you."<sup>o</sup>

<sup>31</sup>Pilate told them, "You take him and sentence him according to your law." The Jews then rejoined, "We have no right to execute anyone." <sup>32</sup>So the word of Jesus came true which He had spoken indicating the nature of His impending death.

<sup>33</sup>Then Pilate entered the palace again and summoned Jesus, whom he asked, "Are you the king of the Jews?" <sup>34</sup>Jesus replied,<sup>p</sup> Do you say this of your own accord or have others told you about Me? <sup>35</sup>Pilate answered Him, "I am not a Jew, am I? Your own nation and the chief priests have handed you over to me. What have you done?"

<sup>36</sup>Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world. If My kingdom were of this world, My attendants would have struggled to prevent My being delivered to the Jews. But really the source of My kingdom is not here. <sup>37</sup>Pilate then said to Him, "You are a king, then?" To which Jesus replied, You say correctly that I am a King.<sup>q</sup> For this purpose was I born and for this I entered the world, that I might testify to the truth. Everyone who loves the truth listens to My voice. <sup>38</sup>Pilate remarked to Him, "What is truth?"

With these words he went outside again to the Jews and told them, "I find him not guilty at all; <sup>39</sup>but it is your custom to have me set one free for you at the Passover; so, do you want me to liberate for you the king of the Jews?" <sup>40</sup>Then they shouted repeatedly, "Not this fellow, but Barabbas." Yet Barabbas was a robber.

19 THEREUPON PILATE TOOK JESUS and let Him be lashed. <sup>2</sup>Besides, the soldiers wove together a crown of thorns and set it down on His head; they also dressed Him in a purple robe, <sup>3</sup>stepped in front of Him and said, "Hail, King of the Jews!" And they slapped Him in the face.

Friday morning

<sup>4</sup>Once more Pilate came out and addressed them. "Notice! I bring him out to you, so you may know I find him not guilty." <sup>5</sup>Then Jesus came outside, wearing the thorny crown and the purple robe. Pilate said to them, "Behold the man!"<sup>r</sup>

<sup>6</sup>When the chief priests and their attendants saw Him, they shouted, "Crucify! Crucify!" Pilate told them, "You take him and do the crucifying, for I find no guilt in him!" <sup>7</sup>The Jews replied, "We have a Law and by that Law he ought to die, for he made himself God's Son."

<sup>8</sup>At hearing that word, Pilate felt still more alarmed. <sup>9</sup>Again he entered the palace and asked Jesus, "Where are you from?" But Jesus gave him no answer. <sup>10</sup>Pilate said to Him, "You do not talk to me? Do you not know that I have power to liberate you and I have power to crucify you?" <sup>11</sup>Jesus replied, "You have no power whatever of your own, but only what is granted you from above. For this reason My betrayer has greater sin than you have."

<sup>12</sup>From then on Pilate was anxious to set Him free; but the Jews kept shouting, "If you liberate him, you are no friend of Caesar's. Whoever makes himself king, rebels against Caesar!"

Friday morning,

<sup>13</sup>On hearing their words, Pilate led Jesus out and sat down in the judgment seat at a place called Mosaic Pavement, or in Hebrew, Gabbatha. <sup>14</sup>It was Passover Preparation, about twelve o'clock.<sup>s</sup>

He said to the Jews, "Behold! Your king!" <sup>15</sup>Then they cried out, "Away, away with him! Crucify him!" Pilate asked them, "Shall I crucify your king?" The chief priests answered, "We have no king except Caesar!" <sup>16</sup>Then he handed Him over to be crucified.

From near noon until 3:00 P.M. Friday

<sup>21</sup>Then the chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate: "Do not write, 'The king of the Jews,' but that he himself said, 'I am the King of the Jews.'" <sup>22</sup>Pilate answered, "What I have written, I have written."

<sup>23</sup>When the soldiers crucified Jesus, they took His clothes and divided them in four parts, a part for each soldier; the tunic, too, but as it was seamless, woven all the way from the neck down, <sup>24</sup>they said to each other, "Let us not tear it, but draw lots whose it will be." So that the Scripture was fulfilled,<sup>v</sup> "They divided my clothes among themselves and for my clothing they cast the lot." So then the soldiers did this.

mother, and His mother's sister,<sup>w</sup> Mary the wife of Cleopas, and Mary Magdalene. <sup>26</sup>Then Jesus, seeing His mother and the disciple whom He loved standing there, said to His mother, Woman, see your son! <sup>27</sup>Then to the disciple He said, See your mother! And from that moment the disciple took her into his keeping.<sup>x</sup>

<sup>28</sup>After this, since Jesus knew that everything was already completed to the fulfillment of the Scripture, He said, I am thirsty. <sup>29</sup>A vessel full of vinegar stood there; so they stuck a sponge soaked in vinegar to a hyssop stick and held it to His mouth. <sup>30</sup>When Jesus had taken the vinegar, He said, It is finished; then, bowing the head, He yielded up the spirit.

Between 3:00 and 6:00 P.M.

<sup>31</sup>Now since it was Preparation, the Jews, in order not to have the bodies remain on the cross over the Sabbath, which was a specially important day, requested Pilate to have the legs broken and the bodies removed. <sup>32</sup>So the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first and of the other who was crucified with Him; <sup>33</sup>but when they came to Jesus and saw that He was already dead, they did not break His legs. <sup>34</sup>However, one of the soldiers pierced His side with a spear and instantly blood and water came out. <sup>35</sup>The eyewitness<sup>y</sup> has testified and his testimony is true; he knows that he tells the truth in order that you may believe. <sup>36</sup>For these things happened so that the Scripture might be carried out, "Not a bone of his shall be broken."<sup>z</sup> <sup>37</sup>And once more another Scripture says, "They shall look on him whom they have pierced."<sup>a</sup>

Between 3:00 and 6:00 P.M. Friday

<sup>38</sup>After this, Joseph of Arimathea, a disciple of Jesus, but secretly so for fear of the Jews, asked Pilate if he might remove the body of Jesus, and Pilate gave permission; so he went and removed His body. <sup>39</sup>Nicodemus, who had earlier called on Him at night, also came and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pounds. <sup>40</sup>Then they took the body of Jesus and wrapped it with the aromatics in the linen clothes, as was the Jewish custom for burial.

<sup>41</sup>Now there was near the place where He was crucified a garden, and in the garden a new tomb in which none had ever yet been laid; <sup>42</sup>there they laid Jesus, because it was the Jews' Preparation, and the tomb was close by.

Sunday morning, April 9

20 BUT EARLY THE FIRST DAY OF the week, when it was still dark, Mary Magdalene came to the sepulchre and noticed the stone removed from the tomb. <sup>2</sup>Then she ran and went to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and told them, "They have taken the Lord out of the tomb and we do not know where they have laid Him."

<sup>3</sup>Then Peter and the other disciple came out and made their way to the sepulchre. <sup>4</sup>The two came running together; but the other disciple ran ahead, faster than Peter, and arrived at the tomb first.<sup>b</sup> <sup>5</sup>As he stooped, he saw the linen clothes lying; however, he did not go in. <sup>6</sup>Then Simon Peter came behind him, entered the tomb and saw the linens lying, <sup>7</sup>also the handkerchief<sup>c</sup> that had been around His head, not lying with the linens but wrapped by itself in its particular place. <sup>8</sup>Then the other disciple, who had reached the sepulchre first, entered in, too, and saw and believed — <sup>9</sup>for as yet they did not understand the Scripture that He must rise from the dead. <sup>10</sup>Then the disciples went home again.

<sup>11</sup>But Mary stood outside the tomb, weeping. While she was weeping, she stooped to look into the tomb <sup>12</sup>and saw two angels in white sitting, one at the head and the other at the feet where the body of Jesus had lain. <sup>13</sup>They said to her, "Woman, why are you crying?" She told them, "Because they have taken away my Lord and I do not know where they have placed Him."

<sup>14</sup>On saying this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing there, but she did not recognize Him. <sup>15</sup>Jesus said to her, Woman, why are you crying? Whom do you seek? Supposing He was the gardener, she told Him, "Sir, if you have carried Him off, tell me where you put Him and I will remove Him." <sup>16</sup>Jesus said to her, Mary! Turning completely round, she said to Him in Hebrew, "Rabboni," which means, "My Teacher."

<sup>17</sup>Jesus told her, Do not cling to Me, for I have not yet ascended to the Father; but go to My brothers and tell them: "I ascend to My Father and your Father, to My God and your God."

<sup>18</sup>Mary Magdalene went away, bringing the disciples news, "I have seen the Lord and He told me this."

Sunday evening

<sup>19</sup>When it was evening that same first day of the week, and, out of fear of the Jews, the doors were shut where the disciples met, Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them, Peace to you! <sup>20</sup>Upon saying this He showed them His hands and side; so the disciples were glad to see the Lord. <sup>21</sup>Then He said to them again, Peace to you! Just as the Father sent Me forth so I send you. <sup>22</sup>This said, He breathed on them and said, Receive the Holy Spirit! <sup>23</sup>If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; if you retain those of anyone, they are retained.<sup>d</sup>

Sunday evening, April 9, 30 A.D.

<sup>24</sup>But Thomas, called the Twin, one of the twelve, was not with them when Jesus came; <sup>25</sup>so the other disciples told him, "We have seen the Lord!" But he replied, "Unless I see in his hands the print of the nails and put my finger in the mark of the nails and thrust my hand in his side, I will not at all believe."

Sunday, April 16, 30

<sup>26</sup>A week later His disciples were again indoors and Thomas with them. Though the doors were shut, Jesus came and stood in their midst and said, Peace to you! <sup>27</sup>He then spoke to Thomas, Reach your finger here and see My hands; reach and thrust your hand into My side and become no unbeliever but a believer! <sup>28</sup>Thomas answered Him, "My Lord and my God!" <sup>29</sup>Jesus said to him, You have believed because you have seen Me. Blessed are those who believe without seeing.

<sup>30</sup>Many other signs Jesus wrought, indeed, with His disciples present, that are not written in this book; <sup>31</sup>but these are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that, believing, you may have life through His name.

April-May, 30 A.D.

21 AFTER THIS, JESUS SHOWED Himself again to the disciples, by the sea of Tiberias, and this was the way He appeared: <sup>2</sup>There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, called the Twin, and Nathaniel of Cana in Galilee, also the sons of Zebedee and two more of His disciples. <sup>3</sup>Simon Peter told them, "I go fishing!" They said, "And we are coming with you!"

So they went off and (at once) boarded the boat and that night they caught nothing. <sup>4</sup>Day had already dawned when Jesus stood on shore. The disciples, however, did not know it was Jesus. <sup>5</sup>Then Jesus said to them, Boys, have you nothing besides bread? <sup>6</sup>They answered Him, "No." <sup>7</sup>But He told them, Cast the net to the right of the boat and you will catch! So they cast, and could not draw up the net any more, due to the mass of fish.

<sup>7</sup>The disciple whom Jesus loved then said to Peter, "It is the Lord!" So Simon Peter, hearing, "It is the Lord!" wrapped his work jacket around him, for he was stripped, and flung himself into the sea. <sup>8</sup>The rest of the disciples came with the boat — for they were near shore, only about a hundred yards away — hauling in the net of fish.

<sup>12</sup>Jesus told them, You come and have breakfast! None of the disciples dared ask Him, "Who art Thou?" for they knew it was the Lord.<sup>f</sup> <sup>13</sup>Jesus came and took the bread and gave it to them and similarly the fish. <sup>14</sup>That was, indeed, the third time Jesus appeared to the disciples after rising from the dead.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>15</sup>When they had breakfasted, Jesus said to Simon Peter, Simon, son of John, do you love Me more dearly than these do? He said to Him, "Yes, Lord, Thou knowest that I love Thee as a dear friend!" He told him, Feed My lambs. <sup>16</sup>For the second time Jesus asked him, Simon, son of John, do you love Me dearly? He replied, "Yes, Lord, Thou knowest that I love Thee as a dear friend!" Jesus told him, Tend My sheep. <sup>17</sup>The third time He asked him, Simon, son of John, do you love Me as a dear friend?<sup>h</sup> Peter felt distressed because the third time He asked him, Do you love Me? and said to Him, "Lord, Thou knowest everything, Thou knowest that I love Thee as a dear friend!" Jesus told him, Feed My sheep. <sup>18</sup>Truly I assure you, when you were young you girded yourself and went about where you wished; but when you grow old, you will hold out your hands and another will gird you and conduct you where you do not want to go.

<sup>19</sup>He said this to indicate with what kind of death he would glorify God. On saying this to him, He added, Follow Me! <sup>20</sup>Peter turned around and saw following him the disciple whom Jesus loved, who at the supper had leaned at His bosom to say, "Lord, who is your betrayer?" <sup>21</sup>Noticing him, Peter asked Jesus, "Lord what about him?" <sup>22</sup>Jesus told him, If I want him to remain until I come, what is it to you? You follow Me!

<sup>23</sup>The word then went out among the brotherhood,<sup>i</sup> that that disciple would not die; however, Jesus did not say, "He shall not die!" but, "If I want him to remain till I come, what is it to you?"

<sup>24</sup>This is the disciple who testifies to these facts and has written them, and we know that his testimony is true.

<sup>25</sup>There are, besides, many other activities in which Jesus engaged, but if they were all described in detail, I suppose the world itself would not have room for the written volumes.

"Phileo" is more individualistic and emotional; it expresses our love for disciples. It was Peter's love. Our Lord graciously used Peter's own expression for the third question, for while Peter felt more than friendly toward Him, he loved Him as unsteadily as most of us do.

i) Brothers, used only here and Matt. 23:8 in the Gospels, to denote the unity of believers; but frequently in Acts and subsequent sacred Writings.

ACTS

OF THE APOSTLES

Written by Luke, probably 63 A.D.

1 THE FORMER NARRATIVE I COMPOSED, O Theophilus, regarding all that Jesus began to do and to teach <sup>2</sup>until the day of His ascension, after giving His orders through the Holy Spirit<sup>a</sup> to the apostles, whom He had chosen <sup>3</sup>and to whom He showed Himself alive after His suffering by many convincing proofs for forty days, appearing to them and discussing the interests of the kingdom of God.

<sup>4</sup>And as He met with them, He charged them: Do not leave Jerusalem, but await the Father's promise which you heard Me tell; <sup>5</sup>for while John baptized with water, after a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit.

<sup>6</sup>So those who were meeting asked Him, "Lord, dost Thou at this time restore the kingdom to Israel?" <sup>7</sup>He said to them, It is not your affair to know times or seasons such as the Father has placed under His personal authority; <sup>8</sup>but you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you will be My witnesses both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and in Samaria and to the remotest end of the earth.

Thursday, May 18, 30 A.D.

<sup>9</sup>Upon saying this and while they were looking on, He was taken up and a cloud carried Him up from their view. <sup>10</sup>And as they kept gazing intently toward heaven at His departing, look! two men in white clothing were standing by them, <sup>11</sup>who also said, "Men of Galilee, why do you stand gazing into heaven? This Jesus, who was taken up from you into heaven, will come again in the same manner in which you have seen Him entering heaven."

May 20-28, 30 A.D.

<sup>13</sup>And when they arrived they went up to the upper room where they usually met: Peter and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot, and Judas the son of James. <sup>14</sup>All these engaged constantly and with one mind in prayer, together with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with His brothers.<sup>b</sup>

Sunday, May 28, 30 A.D.

2 WHEN THE DAY OF PENTECOST had fully come, they were all unitedly in one place, <sup>2</sup>when suddenly there came a roaring from heaven like the driving of a mighty wind and it filled the whole house where they were sitting. <sup>3</sup>There appeared to them also tongues like flames that were distributed and that settled on each one of them. <sup>4</sup>And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak in foreign languages just as the Spirit granted them expression.

<sup>5</sup>And there were devout Jews staying at Jerusalem from every nation under heaven, <sup>6</sup>and when this sound was heard, the crowd collected and felt confused, for each one heard them speak in his native language. <sup>7</sup>Astounded and amazed, they said, "Are not all those who do the talking Galileans? <sup>8</sup>How is it then that we each hear them in our native speech in which we were

<sup>14</sup>Then arose Peter, representing the eleven, and raising his voice, he addressed them: "Jewish men and Jerusalem residents, you should all understand this, so take note of what I say. <sup>15</sup>These men are not drunk as you suppose, for it is only nine o'clock in the morning; <sup>16</sup>but this is what was spoken through the prophet Joel: <sup>17</sup>'It shall be in the last days, says God, I will pour out My Spirit upon all flesh. Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy and your youths shall see visions; your elders shall dream dreams, <sup>18</sup>and on My servants and My maids I shall in those days pour out of My Spirit and they shall prophesy.'<sup>g</sup> <sup>19</sup>I will present wonders, too, in heaven above and signs on the earth below, — blood and fire, and smoky mist. <sup>20</sup>The sun shall be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before that great and conspicuous day of the Lord arrives. <sup>21</sup>This, too, shall be: 'whoever shall call on the Lord's name shall be saved.'

<sup>22</sup>"Men of Israel, listen to these words: Jesus the Nazarene, a Man divinely accredited to you through mighty works and wonders and signs, which God wrought through Him in your midst, as you personally know, <sup>23</sup>who under the determined will and foreknowledge of God was betrayed by lawless hands and whom you killed by nailing Him to the cross, — <sup>24</sup>Him God raised up by unfastening the cords of death; for He could not be held in its grip. <sup>25</sup>For David says with Him in view,<sup>h</sup> 'I saw the Lord constantly before me; for He is at my right hand that I be not overthrown. <sup>26</sup>For this my heart is gladdened and my tongue is jubilant; my flesh,<sup>i</sup> too, shall still have rest in hope; <sup>27</sup>because Thou wilt not abandon my soul to the grave, neither wilt Thou permit Thy holy one to see corruption. <sup>28</sup>Thou hast acquainted me with the ways of life; Thou wilt fill me with good cheer in Thy presence!

<sup>29</sup>"Brother men, it is fitting that I speak plainly to you about the patriarch David, how he died and was buried, and his tomb is with us to this day. <sup>30</sup>So, being a prophet and knowing that God had sworn to him with an oath to seat one of his descendants on his throne, <sup>31</sup>he was looking ahead and spoke of the resurrection of Christ, that He would not be abandoned to the realm of the dead; neither would His flesh see corruption. <sup>32</sup>This Jesus, God has raised up; of this we all are witnesses.

<sup>33</sup>"So, lifted high by the right hand of God and receiving from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, He has poured out what you both see and hear. <sup>34</sup>For David did not ascend to heaven; but he says,<sup>j</sup> 'The Lord said to my Lord; Sit at My right hand <sup>35</sup>until I place your enemies for a footstool of your feet.'

<sup>36</sup>"Without a shadow of doubt, then, let the whole house of Israel acknowledge that God made Him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom you crucified."

<sup>37</sup>As they were listening, they<sup>k</sup> were moved to the depths of their hearts; so they said to Peter and the rest of the apostles. "Brother men, what should we do?" <sup>38</sup>Peter responded, "Repent and be baptized, each of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit; <sup>39</sup>for the promise is to you and to your children and to all those far away as many as the Lord our God may call."

<sup>40</sup>With more words and in different ways he charged them earnestly and warned them: "You be saved from this crooked generation." <sup>41</sup>Then those, who welcomed his message, were baptized, and there were added that day about three thousand souls.

<sup>42</sup>And they attended constantly to the apostles' instruction and to the fellowship in the breaking of bread and in prayers. <sup>43</sup>But awe fell on every soul, as many wonders and signs took place in Jerusalem through the apostles. 30-31 A.D.

3 NOW PETER AND JOHN WENT UP to the temple for the three o'clock hour of prayer<sup>n</sup> <sup>2</sup>when a man, lame from his birth, was carried by, whom every day they placed at the temple gate called Beautiful to beg alms from those frequenting the temple.

<sup>3</sup>As he noticed Peter and John at the point of entering the temple, he asked for charity; <sup>4</sup>but Peter fixed his eyes on him, and so did John, and said, "Look at us!" <sup>5</sup>So he watched them closely, expecting to get something from them; <sup>6</sup>but Peter said, "Neither silver nor gold is mine, but I will give you what I have: in the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene,<sup>o</sup> walk!" <sup>7</sup>And, gripping him by the right hand, he raised him up.

<sup>8</sup>Instantly his feet and ankles grew firm, he leaped up and stood, then walked about and entered the temple<sup>p</sup> with them, walking and leaping and praising God.

<sup>9</sup>When the people all saw him walking around and praising God, <sup>10</sup>and recognized him as the one who used to sit at the Beautiful Gate of the temple, they were completely overcome with awe and amazement at his experience. <sup>11</sup>And as he kept clinging to Peter and John, all the people ran crowding toward them at the vestibule called Solomon's. <sup>12</sup>And Peter, when he noticed it, addressed the people:

"Men of Israel, why are you surprised at this? And why are you staring at us as if we had made him to walk through our own power or piety? <sup>13</sup>The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified His Servant Jesus, whom you delivered up and disowned before Pilate, when he had decided to set Him free. <sup>14</sup>But you disclaimed the Holy and Righteous One and requested a murderer for your reward. <sup>15</sup>You killed the Prince of Life, whom God raised from the dead—of this we are witnesses. <sup>16</sup>By faith in His name this person, whom you see and recognize, His name has strengthened, and faith in Him gave him this perfect health you all observe.

<sup>17</sup>"Now I know, brothers, that you behaved ignorantly just as your leaders did; <sup>18</sup>but God has thus fulfilled what He made known beforehand through the lips of all the prophets, that His Christ<sup>q</sup> was to suffer. <sup>19</sup>So, repent and turn, so that your sins may be wiped away and that seasons of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, <sup>20</sup>as he sends Christ Jesus, who is designated for you, <sup>21</sup>whom heaven had to receive until the times of universal restoration of which God spoke through the ages by the lips of His holy prophets. <sup>22</sup>In fact Moses said:

<sup>r</sup>"The Lord God will raise up from among your brothers a prophet like me. Listen to everything he may tell you; <sup>23</sup>and every soul that will not listen to that prophet shall be utterly destroyed from among the people.'

<sup>24</sup>"So all the prophets that have spoken, from Samuel down, successively, have announced these times of ours. <sup>25</sup>You are the heirs of the prophets and of the Covenant that God established with our fathers when He said to Abraham, 'Through your posterity all the families on earth shall be blessed.'

<sup>26</sup>"For you primarily God raised up His Servant, whom He sent to bless you, as each of you turns from his evil ways."

4 WHILE THEY<sup>s</sup> WERE SPEAKING TO the people, the priests, the temple commandant and the Sadducees surprised them, <sup>2</sup>chagrined because they taught the people and preached the resurrection of the dead through Jesus. <sup>3</sup>They seized them and, as it was already evening, they put them in custody until next morning. <sup>4</sup>But many of those who had heard the message believed, and their number grew to about five thousand.

'The stone despised by you the builders, which became the head of the corner.' <sup>12</sup>And there is salvation through no one else; for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved."

<sup>13</sup>As they observed the freedom of speech on the part of Peter and John and took in that they were men without schooling or skill, they marveled and they recognized them as having been with Jesus. <sup>14</sup>Besides, looking at the man standing with them perfectly healed, they had nothing controversial to say. <sup>15</sup>But, ordering them to withdraw outside the Sanhedrin, they consulted together, <sup>16</sup>"What shall we do to these men? For that a notable sign has occurred through them is obvious to all the Jerusalem population and we cannot deny it. <sup>17</sup>However, not to have this spread further among the people, let us strongly warn them to speak no more to any person about this name."<sup>v</sup>

<sup>18</sup>So they summoned them and gave orders not at all to refer to or to teach in reliance on the name of Jesus. <sup>19</sup>But Peter and John replied to them, "Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God is for you to judge; <sup>20</sup>as for us, we cannot refrain from telling what we have seen and heard."

<sup>21</sup>But they threatened them still further and then freed them, as they saw no way to punish them, due to the people, for they were all praising God for what had happened. <sup>22</sup>For the man to whom this sign of healing had occurred was over forty.

<sup>23</sup>After their release they resorted to their own companions and related to them everything the chief priests and elders had said. <sup>24</sup>Then those who listened unitedly raised their voices to God and said: "Sovereign Lord, who hast made the heaven and earth, the sea and everything in them, <sup>25</sup>and who through the Holy Spirit said by the lips of our forefather David Thy servant, "Why do the Gentiles rage and the people devise vain things? <sup>26</sup>The kings of the earth got ready and the rulers mustered themselves against the Lord and against His Anointed —" <sup>27</sup>for they have actually gathered in this city against Thy holy Servant Jesus, whom Thou didst anoint—Herod and Pontius Pilate with the Gentiles and the tribes of Israel, <sup>28</sup>all doing what Thy hand and Thy purpose preordained to take place. <sup>29</sup>And now, Lord, notice their threats and endow Thy servants with fearlessness to speak Thy word <sup>30</sup>as Thou reachest out Thy hand to heal and to work signs and wonders through the name of Thy holy Servant Jesus."

<sup>31</sup>When they had prayed, their meeting place shook and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and fearlessly they gave utterance to God's message. <sup>32</sup>The host of believers were one in heart and soul; no one claimed his belongings just for himself,<sup>y</sup> but everything was theirs in common. <sup>33</sup>And with great power the apostles bore witness to the resurrection of Jesus Christ the Lord, and grace rested liberally on all of them. <sup>34</sup>Not one among them suffered need, for those who owned fields or houses sold out, brought the proceeds of the sale <sup>35</sup>and deposited them at the feet of the apostles. Then it was distributed to each according to his need.

<sup>36</sup>So Joseph, a Cyprian Levite, who was called Barnabas by the apostles, which translated means Son of Consolation, to whom a field belonged, <sup>37</sup>made a sale and brought the proceeds which he deposited at the apostles' feet.

ACTS 5

Deceit Creeps in with Fatal Results; a Second Arrest

nias, why has Satan filled your heart so that you would cheat the Holy Spirit<sup>a</sup> and covertly withdraw some of the field's price? <sup>4</sup>Could you not have kept the field for your own or, after the sale, have done with your proceeds as you pleased? How did you get such a thing in mind? You did not cheat men but God."

<sup>5</sup>Listening to these words, Ananias fell down and expired,<sup>a</sup> and great awe came over all who learned of it. <sup>6</sup>The young men then arose, wrapped the body and carried it out for burial.

<sup>7</sup>About three hours had passed when his wife came in, ignorant of what had occurred, <sup>8</sup>and Peter asked her, "Tell me, did you sell the land for so much?" She said, "Yes, for so much." <sup>9</sup>Peter then demanded of her, "How did you two happen to agree on trying the LORD's Spirit? Look! The feet of those who buried your husband are at the door; they will carry you out, too."

<sup>17</sup>But the high priest and all his connections, the Sadducee party, were aroused; they were insufferably jealous. <sup>18</sup>So they seized the apostles and put them in the public jail. <sup>19</sup>But an angel of the Lord opened the prison doors at night, conducted them out and said, <sup>20</sup>"Go, take your stand in the temple and tell the people all about this new life."

<sup>21</sup>Obediently they went into the temple at daybreak and taught. Now the high priest and his party summoned the Sanhedrin, even the whole senate of the sons of Israel,<sup>c</sup> and sent to the prison to fetch the men. <sup>22</sup>But when the attendants arrived they failed to find them in jail and went back to report: <sup>23</sup>"We found the prison very securely locked and the sentries posted at the doors, but on opening we found no one inside."

<sup>24</sup>As the temple commandant and the chief priests heard this report, they were completely at a loss how to account for it. <sup>25</sup>However, someone came along and announced to them, "The men you put in jail are standing here in the temple teaching the people." <sup>26</sup>Then the commandant went out with the attendants to fetch them; but not by force, for they were afraid the people might stone them.

<sup>27</sup>They brought them before the Sanhedrin, and the high priest examined them, <sup>28</sup>"Did we not strictly forbid you to teach in this name? And here you have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine and you want to bring upon us this man's blood."

<sup>29</sup>Then Peter and the apostles replied, "We must obey God rather than men. <sup>30</sup>The God of our fathers caused Jesus to rise, whom you put to death by hanging Him on a cross. <sup>31</sup>God uplifted Him, Leader and Savior, at His right hand, to bestow repentance and forgiveness of sin on Israel. <sup>32</sup>And not only are we witnesses to these facts, but also the Holy Spirit<sup>d</sup> which God bestows on those who obey Him."

<sup>33</sup>But as they listened, they grew furious and determined to destroy them. <sup>34</sup>Then a Pharisee named Gamaliel, a Law teacher who enjoyed the respect of all the people, arose in the Sanhedrin and ordered the men to be put outside for a few moments, <sup>35</sup>and then addressed them: "Men of Israel, be careful how you intend to treat these men; <sup>36</sup>for in earlier days Theudas appeared, claiming to be somebody and about four hundred men adhered to him; but he was killed and all his supporters were dispersed, and they vanished. <sup>37</sup>After him Judas the Galilean led an uprising at the time of the census, and raised a popular following, and he perished, too, and all his adherents were scattered. <sup>38</sup>So I advise you in this case: Do not touch these men but leave them alone; for should this plan or movement be merely human, then it will go to pieces; <sup>39</sup>but if its source is God, then you are unable to crush them. You might even find yourselves to be God-resisters."

<sup>40</sup>Persuaded by him, they called in the apostles, had them whipped, warned them not to talk about the name of Jesus and let them go. <sup>41</sup>Then they went out from the presence of the Sanhedrin happy indeed for being thought worthy to suffer disgrace for His name; <sup>42</sup>they never stopped for a single day to teach and to preach Christ Jesus in the temple and at home.<sup>e</sup>

that we should neglect the teaching of God's word to wait tables; <sup>3</sup>therefore, brothers, look around for seven men among you of good reputation and full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we shall appoint for this duty, <sup>4</sup>while we continue to devote ourselves to prayer and the ministry of the word."

<sup>5</sup>The suggestion pleased the entire assembly and they selected Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit; also Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus, an Antiochian proselyte. <sup>6</sup>These they presented to the apostles who with prayer laid hands on them.

<sup>7</sup>So the word of God kept on spreading. The number of Jerusalem disciples increased rapidly and even a large group of priests obeyed the faith.

36-37 A.D.

<sup>11</sup>Then they instigated men to say, "We have heard him speaking blasphemous words against Moses and God." <sup>12</sup>Thus they got the people wrought up as well as the elders and the scribes; they attacked and grabbed him and conducted him to the Sanhedrin. <sup>13</sup>They also produced false witnesses who said, "This man never quits uttering statements against the holy place and the Law; <sup>14</sup>for we have heard him say that this Jesus the Nazarene will demolish this place and will change the legal usages that were handed down to us by Moses."

<sup>15</sup>As all those seated in the Sanhedrin gazed at him, they saw that his face shone like the face of an angel. But the high priest asked, "Are these statements correct?"

7 THEN HE SAID: <sup>2</sup>"BROTHER MEN and fathers, listen. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia previous to his settling in Haran, <sup>3</sup>and told him, Get away from your country and your kin and come to the land I will show you. <sup>4</sup>Then Abraham went out from the Chaldean country and settled in Haran, and from there, after his father's demise, God transferred him to this land where you now live. <sup>5</sup>He gave him no heritable property in it, no not a foot of it, but promised to give it for a possession to him and his offspring after him, though at the time he had no child. <sup>6</sup>But God spoke as follows, Your offspring shall be alien in a foreign land and they shall subject and ill-treat them four hundred years.<sup>b</sup> <sup>7</sup>And the nation whom they serve, God says, I will sentence, and afterward they will get away and worship Me in this place.

<sup>8</sup>He also gave him the covenant of circumcision, and Isaac was born and he circumcised him the eighth day; so Isaac did to Jacob and Jacob to the twelve patriarchs.

<sup>9</sup>The patriarchs, jealous of Joseph, sold him into Egypt, and God was with him; <sup>10</sup>He rescued him out of all his straits and afforded him grace and wisdom in the presence of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, who appointed him governor over Egypt and over his entire household.

<sup>11</sup>Then a famine and great distress came over all Egypt and Canaan, so that our fathers failed to find nourishment; <sup>12</sup>but when Jacob learned that there was wheat in Egypt, he sent our fathers there on a trip. <sup>13</sup>And on their second trip Joseph made himself known to his brothers and Joseph's family was made known to Pharaoh.

<sup>14</sup>Joseph then sent and invited his father Jacob and the whole family, comprising seventy-five souls. <sup>15</sup>So Jacob came down to Egypt, where he and our fathers finished their course, <sup>16</sup>and they were brought to Shechem and laid in the tomb that Abraham had bought from the sons of Hamor at Shechem for a sum of money.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>17</sup>But as the promised time approached, which God had announced to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt <sup>18</sup>until another king, who knew nothing about Joseph, took the throne of Egypt. <sup>19</sup>He defrauded our race and abused our fathers, making them expose their infants, so they might not survive.

<sup>20</sup>In that period Moses was born, beautiful in God's sight, who was nurtured in his parental home three months. <sup>21</sup>And when he was exposed, the daughter of Pharaoh adopted him and brought him up to be her own son. <sup>22</sup>So Moses was educated in all the science and learning of the Egyptians, and had ability in discourse and in deeds. <sup>23</sup>When he was full forty he resolved to look after his brothers, the sons of Israel <sup>24</sup>and, seeing one treated unfairly, he defended him and vindicated the wronged person by slaying the Egyptian, <sup>25</sup>for he supposed his brothers would understand that God would grant them deliverance through him; but they failed to understand.

<sup>26</sup>"Next day he surprised them<sup>d</sup> as they were fighting, and urged them to have peace, saying, 'Men, you are brothers; why abuse each other?' <sup>27</sup>But the one who was abusing his neighbor, pushed him away with the words, 'Who appointed you ruler and judge over us?' <sup>28</sup>You want to kill me, perhaps, in the way you killed the Egyptian yesterday?"

<sup>29</sup>At this remark Moses fled and became an alien in the Midian country, where he got two sons. <sup>30</sup>And at the completion of forty years there appeared to him in the Mount Sinai desert an angel in the flame of a burning thornbush. <sup>31</sup>When Moses looked, he marveled at the view, and as he approached to investigate, the Lord's voice came: <sup>32</sup>I am the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Moses felt so shaken, he did not dare to investigate.

<sup>33</sup>"But the Lord said to him, Untie the sandals from your feet, for the place on which you are standing is holy ground! <sup>34</sup>I have certainly observed the abuse of My people in Egypt; and I have heard their groaning, and have come down to deliver them. So come now, I will send you into Egypt.

<sup>35</sup>"This Moses whom they disowned by saying, 'Who has appointed you a ruler and judge?' him God sent both for ruler and for redeemer with the help of the Angel who appeared to him in the bush. <sup>36</sup>It was he who led them out, performing wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, at the Red Sea and in the desert forty years.

<sup>37</sup>"This is the same Moses who told the sons of Israel, 'God will raise up from your brothers a prophet like me.' <sup>38</sup>This is the one who in the desert church was go-between with the Angel who spoke to him on Mount Sinai, and with our forefathers; he received the living word to impart to us. <sup>39</sup>To him our fathers did not want to submit; they pushed him aside and in their hearts turned back to Egypt, <sup>40</sup>saying to Aaron, 'Make us gods that shall go before us; for this Moses who led us out of Egypt, we do not know what has befallen him.' <sup>41</sup>They also made a calf those days and brought sacrifice to the image, and got into a happy mood over their handiworks.

<sup>42</sup>"But God turned and abandoned them to worship the host of heaven, as it is written in the book of the prophets,<sup>k</sup> O house of Israel, did you offer Me victims and sacrifices for forty years in the desert? <sup>43</sup>You carried Mo-

<sup>44</sup>"In the desert our fathers had the tent of testimony with them, just as it had been ordered by Him who told Moses to make it according to the pattern he had seen, <sup>45</sup>and our fathers received it and brought it in with Joshua into the territory of the Gentiles, whom God drove out before our fathers. This tent remained until the time of David, <sup>46</sup>who found grace before God and prayed that he might provide a house for the God of Jacob. <sup>47</sup>But Solomon built Him a house. <sup>48</sup>However, the Most High does not dwell in anything handmade; just as the prophet says,<sup>m</sup> <sup>49</sup>'Heaven is My throne but the earth a footstool for My feet. What sort of house will you build Me, says the Lord, or what is My resting place? <sup>50</sup>Has not My hand wrought all these things?'

<sup>54</sup>As they heard this, they were enraged at heart and gnashed their teeth at him; <sup>55</sup>but he, full of the Holy Spirit, looked up into heaven and saw the glory of God and Jesus standing at God's right hand, <sup>56</sup>and said, "I see the heavens opened and the Son of Man standing at God's right hand." <sup>57</sup>But they, shouting loudly and holding their hands to their ears, rushed upon him in a body <sup>58</sup>and dragging him out of the city, they stoned him.<sup>n</sup> And the witnesses placed their clothes at the feet of a young man named Saul.

<sup>59</sup>They stoned Stephen as he called upon the Lord, saying, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit!" <sup>60</sup>Falling on his knees, he called out loudly, "Lord, let not this sin stand against them." And with these words he fell asleep.

8 SAUL WAS ALTOGETHER AGREED to his murder, and at that time a severe persecution broke out against the church in Jerusalem so that all except the apostles were dispersed over Judean and Samaritan communities. <sup>2</sup>Devout men, however, took charge of Stephen's funeral and made grievous lamentation over him. <sup>3</sup>But Saul made havoc of the church, forcing himself into homes and dragging out men and women whom he delivered to prison.

<sup>4</sup>On the other hand, those dispersed went everywhere with the happy tidings of the Word. <sup>5</sup>So Philip<sup>o</sup> came down to the city of Samaria and preached Christ to them. <sup>6</sup>The crowds unanimously attended to the teachings of Philip as they listened to him and observed the signs he wrought. <sup>7</sup>For from many who were possessed, the unclean spirits went out, screaming with a loud voice, while many paralytics and lame, too, were healed; <sup>8</sup>so there was much rejoicing in that city.

<sup>9</sup>However, a man in that city, named Simon, had been astonishing the Samaritan nation by the practice of magic, claiming he was a remarkable person. <sup>10</sup>Everybody, young and old, paid attention to him and said, "He is what is called the Great Power of God." <sup>11</sup>The reason they attended to him was that for a long time he had kept them excited with magic arts.

<sup>12</sup>But when they put faith in Philip as he told the glad tidings of the kingdom of God and of the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, men as well as women. <sup>13</sup>Even Simon himself believed and upon baptism kept close to Philip, surprised at the signs and mighty miracles he saw occurring.

<sup>14</sup>When the apostles in Jerusalem learned that Samaria had welcomed the message of God, they sent them Peter and John <sup>15</sup>who, on coming down there, prayed for the believers to receive the Holy Spirit; <sup>16</sup>for thus far they had been baptized only into the name of the Lord Jesus; the Spirit had not yet fallen upon any one of them. <sup>17</sup>Then they placed their hands on them and they received the Holy Spirit.

<sup>18</sup>As Simon observed that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Spirit was conferred, he offered them money <sup>19</sup>and said, "Give me this power, so that the person on whom I lay hands may receive the Holy Spirit!" <sup>20</sup>But Peter told him, "May your money go to perdition with you, to imagine you can buy the gift of God for money; <sup>21</sup>you have neither share nor part in this message, for your heart is not straight in God's sight. <sup>22</sup>So, repent of this crookedness of yours and plead with the Lord to forgive you for what you had in mind. <sup>23</sup>For I see you are tending to be a gall of bitterness and a knot of crookedness."<sup>p</sup>

<sup>24</sup>But Simon answered, "You plead with the Lord for me, so that none of the things you mentioned may befall me!"

<sup>25</sup>Then after they had thoroughly testified and talked over the Lord's teachings, they went back to Jerusalem, preaching the Gospel to many Samaritan communities.

<sup>26</sup>But an angel of the Lord told Philip, "Rise up and about midday go down the road that runs from Jerusalem to Gaza,—a lonely road." <sup>27</sup>So he got up and went, and look! an Ethiopian eunuch, a high official of Candace, queen of Ethiopia, in charge of all her finances, who had come to worship in Jerusalem <sup>28</sup>and was on the way back, was sitting in his chariot reading the prophet Isaiah. <sup>29</sup>Then the Spirit said to Philip, "Go up and contact that chariot," <sup>30</sup>and as Philip ran up and heard him read the prophet Isaiah, he said, "Do you clearly understand what you are reading?" <sup>31</sup>He said, "How could I, unless someone guides me?" and invited Philip to climb in and to be seated with him.

<sup>32</sup>Now the Scripture passage he was reading was this: "As a sheep he was led to slaughter and as a lamb voiceless before his shearer so he does not open his mouth. <sup>33</sup>In his humiliation he was deprived of his trial. Who can tell the story of his offspring? For his life was reaped away from the earth,"

<sup>34</sup>The eunuch turned to Philip and said, "I beg of you, about whom does the prophet say this, of himself or of someone else?" <sup>35</sup>So Philip got ready to speak and, starting from that same Scripture, he preached Jesus to him.

<sup>36</sup>Proceeding on the road, they came to some water and the eunuch said, "See, here is water! What is to prevent my being baptized?" <sup>37</sup>(Philip assured him, "If you heartily believe, it is permitted." And he replied, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.") <sup>38</sup>So he ordered the chariot to halt, and both Philip and the eunuch went down into the water and he baptized him.

<sup>39</sup>But when they came up from the water, the Lord's Spirit hurriedly transported Philip, and the eunuch did not see him any more; so he went joyfully on his way. <sup>40</sup>Philip, however, found himself at Azotus and as he passed through all the cities, he brought the good tidings all the way to Caesarea.

BUT SAUL, STILL BREATHING OUT threat and murder against the LORD's disciples, called on the high priest <sup>2</sup>and requested of him letters to the Damascus synagogues, so that, if he should find there any men or women who were of "the Way,"<sup>a</sup> he might convey them shackled to Jerusalem.

37 A.D.

<sup>3</sup>But as he traveled and approached Damascus, a light from heaven suddenly beamed all around him. <sup>4</sup>He fell to the earth and heard a voice that spoke to him, Saul, Saul, why do you persecute Me? <sup>5</sup>He said, "Who art Thou, Lord?" He answered: I am Jesus, whom you persecute. (It is hard for you to kick against the pricks. <sup>6</sup>Trembling and astonished he asked, "Lord, what wouldst Thou have me do?" The Lord said to him,) But rise and enter the city and it will be told you what you ought to do.

<sup>8</sup>Saul got up from the ground, but when he opened his eyes he could see nothing. So they led him by the hand and conducted him into Damascus. <sup>9</sup>And for three days he remained blind and neither ate nor drank.

<sup>10</sup>Now there was in Damascus a disciple by the name of Ananias, to whom the LORD said in a vision, Ananias! He said, "Here I am, Lord!" <sup>11</sup>The Lord said to him, Arise and go into the street called Straight and inquire at the home of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus; for he is there praying. <sup>12</sup>And he has seen a man named Ananias entering and laying hands on him, so he may see.

<sup>17</sup>So Ananias set out and entered the house; then placing his hands upon him said, "Brother Saul, the Lord sent me,—Jesus who appeared to you on the road you traveled,—so that you may recover sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit.”<sup>18</sup> Instantly it was as if scales fell from his eyes; he saw again. He arose and was baptized; <sup>19</sup>then after eating something he regained strength.

For some time Saul remained with the Damascus disciples <sup>20</sup>and at once preached Jesus in the synagogues, that He is the Son of God. <sup>21</sup>All who listened were amazed and said, “Is not he the one who went ravaging those in Jerusalem that called on this Name, and who came here to bring them shackled to the chief priests?” <sup>22</sup>But Saul gained in strength all along and nonplused the Jews that lived in Damascus by proving: This is the Christ.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>26</sup>On reaching Jerusalem he made efforts to associate with the disciples, and they were all afraid of him; they did not believe he was a disciple. <sup>27</sup>But Barnabas took him in, presented him to the apostles,<sup>t</sup> and explained to them how Saul had seen the Lord on the road; how He had spoken to him, and how in Damascus he had fearlessly spoken in the name of Jesus.

<sup>28</sup>After that, Saul went in and with them in Jerusalem, <sup>29</sup>conversed boldly in the Lord's name, and specially talked and discussed with the Greek-speaking Jews; but they undertook to murder him. <sup>30</sup>So when the brothers learned of it, they conducted him to Caesarea and sent him off to Tarsus.

<sup>31</sup>Then indeed the church enjoyed peace all over Judea, Galilee and Samaria, strengthened within and progressing in reverence of the Lord. And through the encouragement of the Holy Spirit there was increase in numbers.

<sup>32</sup>As Peter was traveling all over, his visits took him to the saints that lived at Lydda. <sup>33</sup>There he came across a man by the name of Aeneas, a paralytic who had been bedridden for eight years. <sup>34</sup>Peter said to him, “Aeneas, Jesus Christ heals you! Rise and make your bed!” Instantly he got up, <sup>35</sup>and all the inhabitants of Lydda and Sharon, those who turned to the Lord, saw him.

<sup>36</sup>At Joppa there was a disciple named Tabitha, that is, translated, Dorcas,<sup>u</sup>—a woman bubbling over with helpful activities and practice of charities. <sup>37</sup>However, about that time she grew ill and died; so they bathed the body and laid it out in an upper room.

<sup>38</sup>Now since Lydda is near Joppa, the disciples, learning that Peter was there, dispatched two men to invite him: “Do come over to us without delay!” <sup>39</sup>So Peter got up and went with them. On arrival they conducted him to the upper room, where all the widows stood around crying and pointing at the undergarments and coats which Dorcas had made while she was with them. <sup>40</sup>But Peter put them all out, then bowed the knee and prayed and, turning to the body, said, “Tabitha, arise!” She opened her eyes and, seeing Peter, she sat up. <sup>41</sup>Giving her a hand, he lifted her up, then called in all the saints and the widows, to whom he presented her alive.

<sup>42</sup>This became known all over Joppa and many believed in the Lord. <sup>43</sup>So it came about that Peter remained at Joppa for some time, the guest of Simon, a tanner.

led a devout and God-fearing life. He practiced liberal benevolences among the people and worshiped God constantly.

<sup>3</sup>He clearly saw in a vision about three in the afternoon an angel of God coming in toward him and saying to him, "Cornelius!" <sup>4</sup>Gazing intently at him, he said in fear, "What is it, Lord?" He replied, "Your prayers and your alms have ascended as worthy to be remembered before God. <sup>5</sup>Now, then, send men to Joppa and have them call for Simon, surnamed Peter. <sup>6</sup>He is lodging with one Simon, a tanner whose home adjoins the sea."

<sup>9</sup>Next day, while they were on their journey and approaching the town, Peter went up on the roof about noon-time to pray. <sup>10</sup>However, he grew hungry and wanted to eat. But while they were preparing to serve, a trance came over him: <sup>11</sup>He saw heaven opened and a container coming down like a wide sheet let down to earth by the four corners. <sup>12</sup>In it were all sorts of quadrupeds and reptiles and wild birds. <sup>13</sup>And a voice came to him, "Rise, Peter, kill and eat!"

Peter was still pondering over the vision, the Spirit said to him, Notice, there are three men looking for you! <sup>20</sup>Rise and go below and travel with them unhesitatingly, for I have sent them. <sup>21</sup>So Peter went down and said to the men, "See, I am the one you are looking for. On what account are you here?" <sup>22</sup>They said, "Captain Cornelius, a just and God-fearing man, of good reputation among all the Jewish people, was instructed by a holy angel to have you brought to his house, and to hear what you have to say."

<sup>23</sup>Then he invited them in and entertained them. But next day he got up and traveled with them, and some of the brothers from Joppa, too, accompanied him. <sup>24</sup>And on the following day they entered Caesarea.

Expecting them, Cornelius had invited his relatives and intimate friends, <sup>25</sup>and as Peter entered, Cornelius met him, fell at his feet and paid him reverence. <sup>26</sup>But Peter raised him up with the words, "Rise, I am a human being, too." <sup>27</sup>Conversing with him, he went in and found a large gathering, <sup>28</sup>to whom he said, "You are aware how a Jew is not allowed to associate with or to visit one of another race; but God has shown me not to call any human being unhallowed or unclean.<sup>x</sup> <sup>29</sup>For this reason I have come unhesitatingly when sent for. May I inquire then for what reason you sent for me?"

<sup>30</sup>Cornelius said, "Four days ago about this time I was home for my three o'clock worship, when a man stood before me in dazzling attire <sup>31</sup>and said, 'Cornelius, your prayer has been heard and your charities are remembered before God. <sup>32</sup>Now then, send to Joppa and invite Simon, surnamed Peter; he is guest at the home of Simon the tanner by the sea.' <sup>33</sup>So I sent for you at once, and you acted nobly to have come along. Now then, we are all present here before God to hear everything in which the Lord has instructed you."

w) Our Lord's teaching, Matt. 15:11, "Not what goes into the mouth defiles a person" had not been understood; it seemed derogatory to God's own commands. Hence need of this special message. x) Peter did well to extend the principle to people. Unfortunately, he thought of it as a special case and did not enter the door of the Gentiles any further at this stage. Paul had to take that place.

<sup>34</sup>Peter then opened his lips and said: "I now thoroughly grasp the truth that God is not partial, <sup>35</sup>but in every nation he who reveres Him and practices righteousness is acceptable to Him. <sup>36</sup>He sent this message to the sons of Israel, when through Jesus Christ He made the good news of peace known to them — the same is Lord of all.

<sup>37</sup>"You know the things that occurred up and down Judea, beginning from Galilee after the baptism that John heralded, <sup>38</sup>how God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power; who traversed the land doing good and healing all that were overpowered by the devil; for God was with Him. <sup>39</sup>And we are witnesses of everything He wrought both in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem,—and Him they murdered, nailing Him to a cross.

<sup>40</sup>"But God raised Him on the third day and allowed Him to appear, <sup>41</sup>not to all the people, but to us witnesses previously selected of God, who ate and drank with Him after His resurrection from the dead. <sup>42</sup>And to us He gave orders to herald to the people and to bear solemn testimony that He is the God-appointed Judge of the living and of the dead. <sup>43</sup>To Him all the prophets have borne witness, that all who believe in Him shall receive forgiveness of sins through His name."

<sup>44</sup>While Peter was still saying these things, the Holy Spirit fell upon all who listened to the message. <sup>45</sup>And the circumcised believers who had come with Peter were surprised that the gift of the Holy Spirit was poured out upon the Gentiles; <sup>46</sup>for they heard them speaking in tongues and declaring the greatness of God.

<sup>47</sup>Peter then remarked, "Would anyone refuse the water for their baptism, since they have received the Holy Spirit like ourselves?" <sup>48</sup>So he directed them to be baptized<sup>y</sup> in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they begged him to stay a few days.

41 A.D.

11 <sup>BUT THE APOSTLES AND THE</sup> brothers who lived in Judea heard that the Gentiles had welcomed God's message, <sup>2</sup>so when Peter came up to Jerusalem, those insisting on circumcision disputed with him <sup>3</sup>on the charge, "You visited and ate with the uncircumcised." <sup>4</sup>Peter, however, undertook to put the whole matter plainly before them. He said:

<sup>5</sup>"I was in the town of Joppa in prayer, and in a trance I saw a vision, a container coming down like a large sheet let down from heaven by the four corners till it reached me. <sup>6</sup>Looking into it, I noticed the quadrupeds of earth and the wild beasts and the reptiles and the birds of heaven. <sup>7</sup>I also heard a voice saying to me, 'Rise, Peter, kill and eat!' <sup>8</sup>But I said, 'By no means, Lord, for nothing undedicated or unclean has ever entered my mouth.' <sup>9</sup>But for the second time the voice answered from heaven, 'What God has purified, you must not call unholy!' <sup>10</sup>This happened thrice; then everything was taken up into heaven again.

<sup>11</sup>"At that very moment three men, who had been sent to me from Caesarea, stood at the house where we stayed, <sup>12</sup>and the Spirit told me to go with them without any hesitation; so six of the brothers went with me and we entered the man's home. <sup>13</sup>Then he announced to us how he had seen the angel in his house, who stood and said, 'Send to Joppa to fetch Simon, surnamed Peter; <sup>14</sup>he will give you the message through which you and your home shall be saved.' <sup>15</sup>But in the beginning of my speech the Holy Spirit fell upon them just as on us at the beginning, <sup>16</sup>so I was mindful of the Lord's message, how He said, John did indeed baptize with water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit. <sup>17</sup>Now since God granted them a gift equal to ours who believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I and what my power to hinder God?"

down and glorified God, saying, "Then God has granted the Gentiles, too, the repentance that leads to life."

Early 50 A.D.

<sup>19</sup>Now those dispersed on account of the persecution that arose in connection with Stephen, made their way as far as Phoenicia and Cyprus and Antioch, telling the message to none except Jews. <sup>20</sup>However, there were some of the Cyprians and Cyrenians who arrived at Antioch and spoke to the Greeks as well, preaching the Lord Jesus.<sup>21</sup> The Lord's hand was with them and a great number believed and turned to the Lord.

<sup>22</sup>When word of it came to the attention of the Jerusalem church, they sent Barnabas to Antioch, <sup>23</sup>who, on arrival, was happy to observe the grace of God and who encouraged them all to remain loyal to the Lord with steady hearts,—<sup>24</sup>for he was a splendid man, full of the Holy Spirit and of faith,— and a considerable number were brought into fellowship with the Lord.

Summer, 43 A.D.

<sup>25</sup>He then made a trip to Tarsus to look for Saul <sup>26</sup>and, on finding him, brought him to Antioch, where for an entire year they conducted church meetings and taught a large group. At Antioch, furthermore, the disciples were first designated as Christians.

<sup>27</sup>About that time there came down prophets from Jerusalem to Antioch, <sup>28</sup>one of whom, named Agabus, stood up and revealed through the Spirit that a terrible famine was to come over the whole world—which occurred in the reign of Claudius.<sup>29</sup> So the disciples decided to send a contribution to the brothers who lived in Judea, in which each of them would take part according to his ability. <sup>30</sup>And so they did; they sent it to the elders by Barnabas and Saul.

the church members. <sup>2</sup>He slew James, the brother of John, with the sword <sup>3</sup>and, noticing that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded also to arrest Peter. That was during the Passover days. <sup>4</sup>Getting hold of him, he put him in prison and charged four squads of soldiers to guard him, intending to bring him out to the people after the Passover.

<sup>5</sup>So Peter on the one hand was guarded in prison, but from the church on the other hand prayer on his behalf was unceasingly made to God. <sup>6</sup>Then on the night before Herod intended to produce him, Peter slept between two soldiers, fastened with double chains, while sentries in front of the door guarded the prison.

<sup>7</sup>There of a sudden stood an angel of the Lord and a light beamed in the cell; then, touching Peter in the side, he roused him and said, "Get up at once." The chains dropped from his hands <sup>8</sup>and the angel told him, "Put on your belt and your sandals"; which he did. He added, "Put on your coat and follow me." <sup>9</sup>So he followed him out, having no idea that the angel's activity was real, but imagining he was seeing a vision.

<sup>10</sup>They passed the first guard and the second, then reached the iron gate leading into the city, and it automatically opened for them. Walking out, they went along one block, when suddenly the angel was absent from him. <sup>11</sup>As Peter recovered full consciousness, he said, "Now I know for certain that the Lord sent his angel and rescued me from the hand of Herod and from all that the Jewish people were looking for."

to announce that Peter stood at the gate. <sup>15</sup>However, they told her, "You are raving!" But she insisted up and down that it was so. Then they said, "It is his angel!" <sup>16</sup>Peter meanwhile kept on knocking, so when they opened, they saw to their astonishment that it was he.

<sup>17</sup>He motioned them with the hand to be silent and explained how the Lord had conducted him out of the prison; then said, "Let James<sup>c</sup> and the brothers know all this." He then left and went to another place.

<sup>18</sup>With break of day there was no little consternation among the soldiers as to what really had become of Peter; <sup>19</sup>I Herod was inquiring for him and failing to find him, had the guards executed after cross-examination. He then left Judea for Caesarea where he resided.

<sup>25</sup>Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem when they had finished their ministry there and brought along John, surnamed Mark.

13 NOW THERE WERE IN THE LOCAL Antioch church prophets and teachers, such as Barnabas, and Simon, known as Niger,<sup>e</sup> and Lucius of Cyrene; also Manaen, a childhood companion of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. <sup>2</sup>And as they were worshipping the LORD and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, Set Me apart Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them.<sup>f</sup> <sup>3</sup>Then, after fasting and prayer and laying on of hands, they sent them away.

<sup>4</sup>So then, as they were sent out by the Holy Spirit, they went down to Seleucia and from there they sailed to Cyprus.<sup>g</sup> <sup>5</sup>Arriving at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the Jewish synagogues. And they had John for their attendant.

<sup>6</sup>Traversing the entire island as far as Paphos, they came across a Jewish magician, a false prophet named Barjesus,<sup>h</sup> who was attached to the proconsul Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man who urgently invited Barnabas and Saul, seeking to hear the word of God. <sup>8</sup>But Elymas, the magician, for such is his name translated, opposed them by trying to keep the proconsul turned away from the faith.

<sup>9</sup>So Saul — that is, Paul — filled with the Holy Spirit, looked straight at him <sup>10</sup>and said,<sup>i</sup> "You son of a devil! You enemy of everything that is straight; full of every deceit and villainy, will you never stop plotting against the saving purposes of God? <sup>11</sup>Now then: The Lord's hand on you! And you will be blind, not enjoying the sunlight for a time."

Instantly there fell on him a mist of darkness, so he groped around in search of someone to lead him by the hand.

<sup>12</sup>Then the proconsul, who observed the occurrence, believed, for he was deeply touched by the doctrine of the Lord.

bath, they took their seats; <sup>15</sup>but after the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the synagogue leaders sent them the message: "Brother men, if you have any word of encouragement for the people, speak up." <sup>16</sup>So, Paul arose and, suggesting silence by a wave of the hand, said:<sup>1</sup>

"Men of Israel and all you who reverence God, listen! <sup>17</sup>The God of this people Israel selected our fathers and raised up the nation, when they lived as strangers in the land of Egypt; then with uplifted arm He led them out from there. <sup>18</sup>For about forty years He endured their behavior in the desert; <sup>19</sup>then, destroying seven nations in the land of Canaan, He distributed their land by lot — <sup>20</sup>all of which took about four hundred and fifty years.<sup>k</sup>

"After that He gave them judges until the prophet Samuel. <sup>21</sup>From then on they asked for a king and God gave them Saul, the son of Kish of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years. <sup>22</sup>After deposing him, He raised up David for their king, of whom He testified, I have found David, the son of Jesse, a man agreeable to My mind, who will carry out My whole program.

I am not He; but note that after me comes One whose sandals I am not fit to untie!'

<sup>26</sup>"Brother men, sons of Abraham's race and all among you who revere God, to us this message of salvation has been sent; <sup>27</sup>for the Jerusalemites and their leaders have not recognized Him and have fulfilled the voices of the prophets that are read every Sabbath, when they sentenced Him, <sup>28</sup>and although finding no crime that deserved death, they demanded of Pilate that He be executed. <sup>29</sup>And when ev-

July-October, 47 A.D.

<sup>42</sup>As they went out, the people begged to have the same things told them next Sabbath, <sup>43</sup>and when the synagogue was dismissed many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas, who talked to them and influenced them to entrust themselves to the grace of God.

<sup>44</sup>Next Sabbath nearly the whole city gathered to hear the word of God; <sup>45</sup>but when the Jews noticed the crowds, they became terribly jealous;<sup>o</sup> they contradicted what Paul had said, and talked abusively. <sup>46</sup>Paul and Barnabas on the other hand declared fearlessly: "To you first God's message must be told; but since you push it from you and do not consider yourselves worthy of eternal life, observe: we are turning to the Gentiles. <sup>47</sup>For such are the Lord's orders to us, 'I have set you for a light of the Gentiles, for salvation to the ends of the earth'."<sup>p</sup>

November, 47-May, 48 A.D.

<sup>48</sup>When they heard this, the Gentiles were glad; they eulogized the Lord's message and believed—as many as were appointed for eternal life. <sup>49</sup>And the word of the Lord was carried all over the country. <sup>50</sup>The Jews, however, stirred up the devout women<sup>q</sup> of wealth and the outstanding men of the city, and instigated persecution against Paul and Barnabas and drove them out of their territory. <sup>51</sup>But they shook the dust from their feet against them and went to Iconium, <sup>52</sup>while the disciples enjoyed fullness of grace and of the Holy Spirit.

14 THEIR ICONIUM EXPERIENCE was similar. They went into the Jewish synagogue and spoke so well that a large group both of Jews and of Greeks believed. <sup>2</sup>But the unpersuaded Jews stirred and embittered the minds of the Gentiles against the brotherhood. <sup>3</sup>So then they remained for considerable time, speaking freely with reliance on the Lord, who witnessed to the message of His grace by granting signs and wonders to occur through them.

<sup>4</sup>The population of the town was divided, some siding with the Jews and some with the apostles; <sup>5</sup>but when both Gentiles and Jews with their rulers created a movement to abuse and to stone them, <sup>6</sup>and they grew aware of it, they fled to the Lycaonian towns of Lystra and Derbe and their suburbs, <sup>7</sup>where they went on preaching the good news.

<sup>8</sup>At Lystra there was a man sitting who had no strength in his feet; he was lame from birth and had never walked. <sup>9</sup>He heard Paul speaking, who in turn looked straight at him and, noticing that he had faith to be healed, <sup>10</sup>spoke in a strong voice, "Stand up straight on your feet!" He sprang up and walked around.

<sup>11</sup>When the crowds saw what Paul had done, they shouted in Lycaonian, "The gods have come down to us in human form!" <sup>12</sup>So they called Barnabas Zeus and Paul Hermes, because he led the conversation. <sup>13</sup>In fact, the city priest for Zeus brought oxen and wreaths to the front gates to join the people in offering sacrifice.

<sup>14</sup>But when the apostles<sup>r</sup> Paul and Barnabas learned of it, they tore their clothes and dashed forward among the crowds, <sup>15</sup>shouting, "What is this you are doing, men? We are human, with emotions as yourselves. We are bringing you the good tidings to turn away from these nothingnesses to the living God who made heaven, earth, and sea, and everything they contain. <sup>16</sup>In days gone by He let all the nations go their own ways; <sup>17</sup>though not leaving Himself without evidence as Benefactor, for He gave you rain from heaven and fruitful seasons and supplied you nourishment and enjoyment to your hearts' content."<sup>s</sup>

<sup>18</sup>While speaking this way, they still had difficulty to stop the crowds from sacrificing to them. <sup>19</sup>But Jews arrived (there) from Antioch and Iconium,<sup>t</sup> who influenced the populace, so they stoned Paul, then dragged him out of the city under impression he was dead. <sup>20</sup>As, however, the disciples were encircling him, he got up and entered the city. And next day he left with Barnabas for Derbe.

September-December, 48 A.D.

<sup>21</sup>They brought the good news to that city and, after gaining numerous disciples, they went back to Lystra, to Iconium, and to Antioch, <sup>22</sup>reassuring the disciples spiritually and encouraging them to stand fast in the faith, and saying, "We must enter the kingdom of God by way of many afflictions."

<sup>23</sup>They also chose elders for them in each church, with the lifting up of hands, whom they committed with prayer and fasting to the Lord in whom they had come to believe."

January-April, 49 A.D.

<sup>24</sup>After traveling through Pisidia, they reached Pamphylia <sup>25</sup>and, when they had spoken the message at Perga, they went down to Attalia, <sup>26</sup>from whence they sailed for Antioch, the place at which they had been entrusted to the grace of God for the work they had accomplished.

Midsummer, 49 A.D.

<sup>27</sup>Upon their arrival, they called a church meeting and reported what God had done with them, and how He had opened a door of faith for the Gentiles. <sup>28</sup>So they spent a good, long time with the disciples.

Early 50 A.D.

15 <sup>SOME, WHO CAME DOWN FROM</sup> Judea, taught the brothers, "If you are not circumcised after the Mosaic custom, you cannot be saved."

<sup>2</sup>Since Paul and Barnabas had experienced no little dissension and debate with them, they arranged to have Paul and Barnabas and a few others of their number go up to the apostles and elders at Jerusalem about this dispute. <sup>3</sup>So then, fitted out for their trip by the church, they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria, where they narrated in detail the conversion of the Gentiles, and thus made all the brothers very happy.

<sup>4</sup>As they arrived in Jerusalem, they were welcomed by the church and the apostles and the elders, and they reported how God had wrought with them. <sup>5</sup>But some of the believers who belonged to the Pharisee party, took their stand to say: "They must be circumcised and ordered to observe the Law of Moses."<sup>v</sup>

<sup>6</sup>Then the apostles and the elders held a meeting to look into this question <sup>7</sup>and, after a lively debate, Peter arose and said to them: "Brother men, you will keep in mind that a good while back God made choice among you, that through my lips the Gentiles should hear the gospel message and believe, <sup>8</sup>and God, who knows all hearts, gave them evidence by granting them the Holy Spirit just as He did to us. <sup>9</sup>As he cleansed their hearts by faith, He did not at all discriminate between us and them. <sup>10</sup>Now then, why be a trial to God by placing a yoke on the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we have been able to carry? <sup>11</sup>Instead, we believe that we are saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus in the same way as they are."<sup>w</sup>

<sup>12</sup>The entire assembly kept quiet and heard Barnabas and Paul tell the story of the signs and wonders, which God had wrought among the Gentiles through them. <sup>13</sup>Then, after they were through, James made reply: "Brother men, listen to me! <sup>14</sup>Simcon has been telling how early God had in mind to gain out of the Gentiles a people for His name, <sup>15</sup>and the words of the prophets are in agreement with this, as it is written,<sup>x</sup> <sup>16</sup>'After this I will return and reconstruct David's tent that had fallen down and rebuild its ruins and restore it, <sup>17</sup>so that the rest of the people may search for the Lord, even all the Gentiles over whom My name has been invoked, says the Lord who does these things. <sup>18</sup>From eternity all His doings are known.'

<sup>19</sup>'It is my judgment, therefore, that those, who turn to God out of the Gentiles, be not harassed, <sup>20</sup>but that we direct them to abstain from what is contaminated by idols<sup>y</sup> and from unchastity, and from meat of strangled animals, and from blood. <sup>21</sup>For Moses has from earliest times in every city those proclaiming him, as he is read in the synagogues each Sabbath."

<sup>22</sup>Then it pleased the apostles and the elders as well as the whole church, to select some of their men to be sent to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas — Judas known as Barsabbas, and Silas, who were leaders among the brothers, <sup>23</sup>and they carried this letter:

"The apostles and the brother elders to the brothers from the Gentiles in Antioch, in Syria, and in Cilicia,<sup>a</sup> greeting. <sup>24</sup>Since we have heard that some, who came out there from among us but were not authorized by us, have troubled you with teaching and have unsettled your minds, <sup>25</sup>we have unanimously thought it well to send you outstanding men with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, <sup>26</sup>who personally have jeopardized their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>27</sup>So we are dispatching Judas and Silas, who will personally announce these things; <sup>28</sup>for it seems fitting to the Holy Spirit and to us to load you with no further burden except these essentials: <sup>29</sup>that you abstain from food offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled meat, and from unchastity. If you keep yourselves clear from these, you will get along splendidly. Farewell."

<sup>30</sup>So then, those who were dispatched arrived in Antioch and, after bringing the entire body together, they delivered the epistle; <sup>31</sup>and when they<sup>a</sup> had read it, they felt joy over the encouragement. <sup>32</sup>Both Judas and Silas, who were themselves prophets, encouraged and strengthened the brothers with numerous suggestions. <sup>33</sup>But when they had spent some time there, the brothers let them depart with peace to those who had sent them, <sup>34</sup>(though Silas decided to stay there.)

Antioch, teaching and preaching with many others the message of the Lord. <sup>36</sup>But some time later Paul said to Barnabas, "Let us go back and look in on the brothers in every city in which we have preached the word of the Lord, how they are getting on." <sup>37</sup>However, Barnabas wanted to take along John, called Mark, <sup>38</sup>while Paul considered it ill-fitting to have with them the one who had quit them in Pamphylia and had failed to accompany them for the work. <sup>39</sup>Irritation came to such a pass that they separated from each other, and Barnabas, taking along Mark, sailed for Cyprus,<sup>b</sup> <sup>40</sup>while Paul, selecting Silas, set out commended by the brothers to the grace of the Lord. <sup>41</sup>So, traveling through Syria and Cilicia, he strengthened the churches.

16 HE CAME DOWN TO DERBE AND to Lystra, where lived a certain disciple named Timothy, son of a believing Jewess and a Greek father,<sup>2</sup> and who was well recommended by the brothers in Lystra and Iconium. <sup>3</sup>Paul wanted him for travel companion, so he took and circumcised him, due to the local Jews who all knew his father to be a Greek.

<sup>6</sup>They traversed Phrygia and the Galatian country, since they were forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia.<sup>c</sup> <sup>7</sup>On reaching Mysia they tried to enter Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus did not permit them; <sup>8</sup>so, going alongside Mysia, they came down to Troas.

<sup>c</sup>) They were in Asia Minor all the while, but the New Testament Asia is that southwestern province of which Ephesus was the capital.

Late summer, 50 A.D.

<sup>10</sup>At once, when he had seen the vision, we<sup>d</sup> made attempts to enter Macedonia, for we concluded that God had called us to evangelize there. <sup>11</sup>So, sailing from Troas, we ran straight for Samothrace, and next day to Neapolis; <sup>12</sup>from there to Philippi, a colony and chief city of the Macedonian district, and in that city we stayed a few days.

<sup>13</sup>On the Sabbath day we went out beyond the gate by the riverside, where we knew there was a place of worship and, taking our seats, we talked to the women who had gathered.

<sup>14</sup>One woman, named Lydia, a purple-seller from the city of Thyatira, a worshiper of God, listened, and the Lord opened her heart to pay attention to Paul's messages. <sup>15</sup>So, when she and her family had been baptized, she begged us, "If you consider me faithful to the Lord, come to my home and stay with us." And she just made us come.

Autumn, 50 A.D.

<sup>16</sup>But it happened, as we were going to the prayer service, that a girl met us who was possessed of a clairvoyant spirit, whose fortunetelling brought in much money for her owners. <sup>17</sup>She followed Paul and us, shouting loudly, "These men are servants of the Most High God; they are announcing to you the way of salvation." <sup>18</sup>For many days she kept this up; then Paul felt annoyed and, turning to the spirit, said, "I order you in the name of Jesus Christ to get out of her!" And that moment it left her.

<sup>19</sup>When her owners became aware that their hope for gain was gone, they grabbed Paul and Silas and dragged them before the authorities in the market place <sup>20</sup>and, bringing them in to the magistrates, they said, "These men are Jews and they are creating disturbance in our city; <sup>21</sup>they are promulgating ways of behavior which as Romans we ought neither to welcome nor observe."

them, and the officials, after having them stripped, ordered them flogged; <sup>23</sup>then, after a severe beating, they threw them into prison, charging the jailor to guard them securely.<sup>e</sup> <sup>24</sup>In view of that charge he threw them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the stocks.

<sup>25</sup>But about midnight Paul and Silas were worshipping, as they sang hymns to God, and the prisoners listened to them. <sup>26</sup>Then suddenly a tremendous earthquake occurred, that shook the prison to its foundations. At one stroke all the doors sprang open and everyone's chains fell off.<sup>f</sup> <sup>27</sup>When the jailor awoke and saw the prison-doors standing open, he drew his sword and was about to kill himself, feeling sure the prisoners had escaped; <sup>28</sup>but Paul called out loudly, "Do not harm yourself, for we are all here!"

<sup>29</sup>Demanding a light, he leaped in and fell terror-stricken before Paul and Silas, <sup>30</sup>led them out and said, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" <sup>31</sup>They said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus and you will be saved, and your family too." <sup>32</sup>Then they told him, together with his whole family, the message of God.

<sup>33</sup>At that very hour of the night the jailor took them along and washed their wounds and was baptized then and there, he and all that were his.

<sup>34</sup>Then, taking them up to the house, he set the table for them and was extremely happy with his loved ones for believing in God.

<sup>35</sup>With break of day the magistrates sent their orderlies to say, "Let these men go"; <sup>36</sup>so the jailor announced the message to Paul, "The magistrates have sent to release you; now then you may leave in peace." <sup>37</sup>But Paul told them, "After flogging us publicly without trial, though we are Romans, they threw us in prison and now they will put us out secretly? Not at all. Instead, let them come personally and conduct us out."<sup>g</sup>

ACTS 16, 17 To Thessalonica and Berea; Among the Philosophers at Athens

Late 50 A.D.

<sup>38</sup>The orderlies reported these sayings to the magistrates, who grew alarmed at hearing they were Romans. <sup>39</sup>They came apologizing to them and, conducting them out, they begged of them to leave the city. <sup>40</sup>So they left the prison, called on Lydia where they saw the brothers whom they encouraged, and then they<sup>h</sup> went their way.

January-May, 51 A.D.

17 PASSING THROUGH AMPHIPOLIS and Apollonia, they arrived at Thessalonica where the Jews had a synagogue <sup>2</sup>and, as customary, Paul went to meet with them. For three Sabbaths he discussed with them out of the Scriptures, <sup>3</sup>which he opened up and from which he established that the Christ must suffer and then rise from the dead and, "This Christ is Jesus whom I preach to you."

<sup>4</sup>Some of them were persuaded, and associated themselves with Paul and Silas, a large group of devout Greeks, as well as a goodly number of prominent women. <sup>5</sup>But the Jews grew jealous; they got hold of some unprincipled loungers of the market place and formed a mob to disturb the city, then made attack on Jason's house with intent to bring them out to the mob. <sup>6</sup>And when they did not find them, they dragged Jason and some of the brothers before the city fathers, shouting, "These world revolutionists have come here too; <sup>7</sup>Jason has harbored them; they all oppose Caesar's ordinances, claiming there is another king—Jesus."

June-September, 51 A.D.

<sup>10</sup>At once the brothers dismissed Paul and Silas to Berea by night, where on arrival they attended the Jewish synagogue. <sup>11</sup>But these were of a nobler attitude than those in Thessalonica; for they most heartily welcomed the message and made a daily study of the Scriptures, whether these things were so. <sup>12</sup>Many of them, therefore, believed, including outstanding Greek women and a goodly number of men.

<sup>13</sup>But when the Jews of Thessalonica became aware that the word of God was being proclaimed by Paul in Berea too, they also came there to agitate and to stir up the crowds. <sup>14</sup>Then the brothers sent Paul off at once as far as the sea, but both Silas and Timothy stayed there. <sup>15</sup>Those who were conducting Paul took him to Athens and returned with instructions to Silas and Timothy that they should join him as soon as possible.

October-November, 51 A.D.

<sup>19</sup>They took hold of him, conducted him to the Areopagus<sup>1</sup> and asked, "Is it possible for us to learn what this new teaching is, about which you are talking?" <sup>20</sup>For you are bringing some strange matters to our ears; we want to know just what they mean." <sup>21</sup>For all the Athenians and the visiting foreigners applied their time to nothing else than to tell or to hear something novel.

<sup>22</sup>Standing in the center of the Areopagus, Paul said: "Men of Athens, I notice on every hand how deity-minded you are; <sup>23</sup>for as I went all over and looked carefully at your sacred objects, I found even an altar with the inscription, 'To an unknown god.' Now what you revere without knowing it, that I announce to you. <sup>24</sup>The God who made the world and all it contains, He as Lord of heaven and earth does not dwell in handmade temples; <sup>25</sup>neither is He served by human hands as if lacking anything — He, the Giver of life and breath and all things to every one.

<sup>26</sup>"He has made the whole race of men out of one,<sup>j</sup> to settle on the entire surface of the earth, definitely appointing the pre-established periods and the boundaries of their settlements, <sup>27</sup>so that they might seek for God — if only they would feel for and find Him — although He is not far from each of us; <sup>28</sup>for in Him we live and move and have our being. As some of your own poets<sup>k</sup> expressed themselves, 'For we are also His offspring.' <sup>29</sup>Now then, since we have our being from God, we certainly should not have the idea that the Deity resembles gold or silver or stone or anything humanly manufactured or invented.

<sup>33</sup>In this way Paul went out from among them. <sup>34</sup>But a few men associated with him and believed, of whom may be mentioned Dionysius the judge of the Areopagus; also a woman called Damaris, and others besides them.

At Corinth, November, 51-June, 53 A.D.

Rome. He called on them, <sup>3</sup>and, as they were of the same occupation, he stayed with them and worked with them; for they were tentmakers by trade. <sup>4</sup>But every Sabbath he discoursed in the synagogue and won over both Jews and Greeks.

<sup>5</sup>As Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia,<sup>m</sup> Paul was completely possessed by the message, strongly urging upon the Jews that Jesus is the Christ. <sup>6</sup>But since they kept opposing and abusing him, he shook out his garments against them and said to them, "Your blood upon your heads! I am innocent. From now on I go to the Gentiles."

<sup>7</sup>He then changed places and entered the house of a God-fearing man called Titus Justus, whose house adjoined the synagogue. <sup>8</sup>But Crispus, the synagogue leader, believed in the Lord with his entire family, and many of the Corinthians who listened did believe and were baptized. <sup>9</sup>So in a night vision the Lord said to Paul: Have no fear; but speak and do not keep still, <sup>10</sup>because I am with you and none shall assault you to your hurt; because I have much people in this city. <sup>11</sup>So he settled down among them for a year and six months, teaching the word of God.

Summer, 53 A.D.

gogue ruler Sosthenes and in front of the court gave him a beating; but Gallio paid attention to none of these things.

Spring, 54 A.D.

<sup>23</sup>After spending some time there, he took his leave and made his way successively through the Galatian country and through Phrygia, strengthening all the disciples.

<sup>24</sup>Now there was a Jew, named Apollos, a native Alexandrian, a man of learning and powerful in the Scriptures, who arrived at Ephesus. <sup>25</sup>This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord and with a burning spirit he talked and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus, although acquainted with the baptism only of John.<sup>q</sup> <sup>26</sup>He began to speak freely in the synagogue; but Priscilla and Aquila, after listening to him, drew him to them and explained the way of God more accurately to him.

<sup>27</sup>And as he planned to cross over to Achaia, the brothers wrote the disciples, urging them to give him a hearty welcome. On his arrival he proved of great benefit to those who through grace were believers; <sup>28</sup>for with force he came out ahead in his public discussions with the Jews, proving through the Scriptures that Jesus is the Messiah.

Summer, 54 A.D.

19 WHILE APOLLOS WAS IN Corinth, Paul, who had traveled overland, came down to Ephesus where he met some disciples, <sup>2</sup>whom he asked, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit on your becoming believers?" But they answered him, "Why, we have not even heard there is a Holy Spirit." <sup>3</sup>He asked, "In what, then, were you baptized?" They said, "In John's baptism." <sup>4</sup>So Paul added, "John baptized the baptism of repentance, all the while telling the people they should believe in the One who was to come after him, that is, in Jesus."

<sup>5</sup>On hearing this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. <sup>6</sup>And as Paul laid his hands upon them, the Holy Spirit came on them and they talked in tongues and prophesied. <sup>7</sup>Altogether there were about a dozen men.

<sup>8</sup>He also went into the synagogue and for three months he spoke with boldness, persuasively discussing the interests of the kingdom of God. <sup>9</sup>As, however, some became stubborn and refused to believe and denounced the Way before the people, he turned from them, withdrew the disciples, and went on holding daily discussions<sup>r</sup> in the schoolroom of Tyrannus. <sup>10</sup>This kept up for two years, so that the whole Asiatic population, Jews as well as Greeks, heard the word of the Lord.

<sup>11</sup>God wrought uncommon miracles, too, through the hands of Paul <sup>12</sup>to such an extent that people carried off to the sick, handkerchiefs or aprons he had handled, and their illnesses were removed, and the evil spirits were made to go.

<sup>13</sup>But certain traveling Jews who practiced exorcism<sup>s</sup> undertook to name over those that had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus by saying, "I adjure you by the Jesus whom Paul preaches!" <sup>14</sup>Seven sons of a certain Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, practiced this; <sup>15</sup>but the evil spirit replied to them, "Jesus I know and with Paul I have acquaintance, but you, who are you?" <sup>16</sup>Then the man in whom the evil spirit dwelt, leaped on them, overpowered both<sup>t</sup> of them and was so violent against them that, stripped and wounded, they escaped from that house. <sup>17</sup>This became known to all the Jews and Greeks who lived in Ephesus and awe fell on them all; and the name of the Lord Jesus was highly praised.

<sup>21</sup>With these aims accomplished, Paul settled by the Spirit<sup>u</sup> that he would travel to Jerusalem by way of Macedonia and Achaia, and said, "After I have been there, I must see Rome, too." <sup>22</sup>So he sent two of his assistants into Macedonia, Timothy and Erastus, while he remained for some time in Asia.

Around June, 57 A.D.

<sup>23</sup>But in process of time no little disturbance occurred regarding the Way. <sup>24</sup>For a certain Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Artemis<sup>v</sup> and provided the artisans with no small income, <sup>25</sup>called them together along with the workmen of the same trade and said, "Men, you understand that we are deriving a good living from this trade. <sup>26</sup>Now you observe and hear, how not only at Ephesus but well-nigh over all Asia this Paul is alienating many people by persuading them that manufactured gods are not real gods. <sup>27</sup>So there is danger not merely that our trade will come into disrepute, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will lose all respect and her magnificent glory will come to an end, — she whom all Asia and all the world worships."

<sup>28</sup>As they listened, they grew full of anger and they shouted, "Great is Artemis of Ephesus!" <sup>29</sup>Then the city was agitated from end to end and, after grabbing Gaius and Aristarchus of Macedonia, fellow travelers of Paul, they jointly stormed the theater. <sup>30</sup>When Paul wanted to enter the mob meeting, the disciples did not permit him <sup>31</sup>and even some of the Asiarchs<sup>w</sup> that were his friends, sent him warning not to risk himself in the theater.

<sup>32</sup>Some were shouting this and others that; for the mass meeting was just a tumult of which the majority had no idea why they had come running there. <sup>33</sup>Some of the crowd inferred it was Alexander, since he was pushed forward by the Jews,<sup>x</sup> and Alexander motioned with the hand, as he wished to make his defense to the mob; <sup>34</sup>but as soon as they recognized him as a Jew, the whole mob as with one voice broke into a shouting that lasted two hours, "Great is Artemis of Ephesus!"

<sup>35</sup>But the town clerk brought some order in the crowd and said, "Ephesian men, where is there a person who does not know that Ephesus is the temple guardian of the great Artemis and of her image that fell from heaven? <sup>36</sup>Since this is undeniable, you should compose yourselves and not do anything rashly. <sup>37</sup>For you have brought these men here, who are neither temple destroyers nor insulters of our goddess. <sup>38</sup>Now then, if Demetrius and his fellow craftsmen have a complaint against anyone, terms of court are conducted and proconsuls are available; let them enter charges on both sides. <sup>39</sup>But if you have further complaint, then let it be straightened out in the legal assembly. <sup>40</sup>For, mind you, we are in danger of being accused of riot on account of today's affair, since there is no reason whatever we can offer for this disorderly concourse." <sup>41</sup>And with these words he dismissed the gathering.

20 AFTER THE TUMULT HAD BEEN quieted down, Paul invited the disciples to see him, gave them encouragement, bade them farewell and left for Macedonia. <sup>2</sup>Then, after traveling through those parts and encouraging the brothers with many suggestions, he entered Greece, <sup>3</sup>where he spent three months. Just ready to sail for Syria, he decided to return by way of Macedonia, due to a plot against him on the part of the Jews.

Philippian Passover, early April, 58 A.D.

April, 58 A.D.

<sup>7</sup>As we were gathered for the breaking of bread on the first day of the week, Paul discoursed with them and since he intended to leave next morning he prolonged his message until midnight. <sup>8</sup>There were numerous lamps in the upper room in which we met; <sup>9</sup>and a youth named Eutychus<sup>a</sup> was sitting in the window and, while Paul kept talking on, the heaviness of sleep proved too much for him; so as he sagged down in his sleep, he dropped from the third story and was picked up lifeless. <sup>10</sup>However, Paul went down, stooped over him and embraced him, saying, "I have no anxiety, for his soul is in him." <sup>11</sup>Then going up again, he broke the bread and ate, conversed at length even until daybreak and left just as he was. <sup>12</sup>The boy they took home alive, for which they felt supremely cheered.

April, 58 A.D.

<sup>13</sup>We went on ahead to the ship and sailed to Assos to take Paul on board there; for such was his arrangement, while he planned to travel on foot. <sup>14</sup>So, when he met us at Assos, we took him aboard and reached Mitylene. <sup>15</sup>Next day we sailed on from there to a point facing Chios; the next we docked at Samos and (after stopping at Trogyllium)<sup>b</sup> the next day we arrived at Miletus. <sup>16</sup>For Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, so that he might lose no time in Asia, in as much as he hastened to be in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost if at all possible.

<sup>17</sup>From Miletus he sent an invitation to Ephesus for the elders of the church <sup>18</sup>and, when they made him their visit, he told them, "You are well acquainted with my behavior among you from the day I first set foot in Asia and all the while since; <sup>19</sup>how I have served<sup>c</sup> the Lord with all humility in tears and in trials that befell me, due to the plottings of the Jews; <sup>20</sup>how I never failed to tell you what was to your benefit and to teach you in meetings and in homes; <sup>21</sup>how I bore testimony to both Jews and Greeks that they should repent before God and have faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>22</sup>"And now, you notice, I am bound by the Spirit to go to Jerusalem, and what is going to happen to me I do not know; <sup>23</sup>except that the Holy Spirit in one city after another testifies to me that bonds and affliction await me. <sup>24</sup>However, I am not concerned about anything; neither is my life dear to me except to finish my course and the ministry which I accepted from the Lord Jesus to bear witness to the gospel of the grace of God.

<sup>25</sup>"And now, observe! I know that you all, among whom I have gone in and out as herald of the Kingdom, shall see my face no more.<sup>d</sup> <sup>26</sup>For this reason I bear you witness today that I am guiltless of the blood of all;<sup>e</sup> <sup>27</sup>for I have not <sup>32</sup>"And now, (brothers), I commit you to God and to the word of His grace, who is able to build you up and to grant you the inheritance among all those made holy.

<sup>36</sup>Having so spoken, he bowed his knees and prayed with them all. <sup>37</sup>They all wept freely; they fell on Paul's neck and fervently kissed him. <sup>38</sup>They were grieved especially over the remark he made, that they would not see his face any more. Then they escorted him to the ship.

our left, we sailed on to Syria and docked at Tyre, for there the ship had to discharge the cargo.

<sup>4</sup>We looked up the disciples and stayed there seven days. They advised Paul through the Spirit not to go on to Jerusalem; <sup>5</sup>but when the time was up, we left<sup>g</sup> and went on our journey under escort of all the believers with their wives and children, till we were outside the city. Kneeling on the beach, we prayed, <sup>6</sup>then embraced one another and embarked. But they went back to their homes.

<sup>7</sup>As we sailed from Tyre to Ptolemais, we completed our voyage and after paying our respects to the brothers, we visited with them for one day. <sup>8</sup>The following day we departed and arrived at Caesarea, where we called at the home of Philip, the evangelist, one of the seven,<sup>h</sup> with whom we were entertained. <sup>9</sup>He had four virgin daughters who prophesied.<sup>i</sup>

<sup>10</sup>We had stopped there for several days, when a prophet named Agabus came down from Judea and called on us. <sup>11</sup>He took Paul's belt and, tying his own feet and hands, he said, "Thus speaks the Holy Spirit, 'In this way the Jerusalem Jews shall bind the man who owns this belt and shall deliver him to the Gentiles.'"

<sup>12</sup>On hearing this, both we and those resident there urged him not to go up to Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>Then Paul replied,<sup>j</sup> "What do you achieve by weeping and by discouraging me? I am prepared not merely to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem on behalf of the Lord Jesus." <sup>14</sup>And as he could not be dissuaded, we contented ourselves and said, "The Lord's will be done."

<sup>15</sup>So when these days were over, we got ready for the trip and went up to Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup>Some of the Caesarean disciples, who went along with us, brought us to the home of Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple by whom we were to be entertained.

ACTS 21

Pentecost, Late May, 58 A.D.

<sup>17</sup>When we arrived in Jerusalem, the brothers welcomed us joyfully <sup>18</sup>and next day Paul and we called on James. All the elders were present and, <sup>19</sup>after greetings, he recounted to them step by step what God had wrought among the Gentiles through his ministry. <sup>20</sup>As they listened to him, they gave glory to God and then said to him, "You see, brother, how many myriads of believers there are among the Jews, and they all remain zealous for the Law. <sup>21</sup>But they have been informed about you that you are teaching all the Jews who live among the Gentiles to turn away from Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children, neither to observe the ancestral customs. <sup>22</sup>Now, how about it? In any event the congregation will meet, for they will learn that you have arrived. <sup>23</sup>So then, do as we suggest to you: we have here four men who have taken a vow; <sup>24</sup>take them along, be purified with them and take care of their expenses so they can have their heads shaved.<sup>k</sup> Then everyone will realize that there is no basis for the reports about you, but that you personally order your life in observance of the Law.

<sup>25</sup>"On the part of Gentile believers we have issued the resolution that they shall abstain from food offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled meat and from unchastity."

May-June, 58 A.D.

<sup>26</sup>The following day Paul took those men along and, after undergoing the purification ritual with them, he entered the temple to announce the completion of the purification period, which would be when for each of them an offering had been made.<sup>l</sup> <sup>27</sup>But when the seven days were about completed, the Jews from Asia, who had noticed him in the temple, stirred up the people and grabbed hold of him, <sup>28</sup>shouting, "You men of Israel, to our aid! This is the man who teaches everyone everywhere against our nation, the Law, and this place, and besides, he has brought Greeks into the temple and so defiled this holy place!" <sup>29</sup>For they had on an earlier date seen Trophimus of Ephesus with him in the city and surmised that Paul had brought him into the temple.

<sup>30</sup>So the whole city became agitated; there was a rushing together of the people and, seizing Paul, they dragged him outside the temple, and instantly the doors were shut. <sup>31</sup>They were trying to kill him, when report reached the commandant of the garrison<sup>m</sup> that all Jerusalem was in an uproar. <sup>32</sup>At once he marched soldiers and their officers double-quick down to the mob which, on seeing the commandant and the soldiers, stopped pommeling Paul. <sup>33</sup>The commandant then advanced, took charge of him, ordered him bound with two chains, and investigated who he was and what he had done.

<sup>37</sup>At the point of being brought into the fortress, Paul said to the commandant, "Am I permitted to have a word with you?" He said, "Do you know Greek? <sup>38</sup>Are not you the Egyptian who recently stirred up the rebellion and led out the four thousand cut-throats<sup>n</sup> into the desert?" <sup>39</sup>But Paul replied, "I certainly am a Jew; I am from Tarsus of Cilicia, a citizen of no insignificant city. I beg of you, please let me speak to the people." <sup>40</sup>With his permission Paul took his stand on the steps and motioned to the people and, when all had become quiet, he addressed them in the Hebrew language in these words:<sup>o</sup>

22 "BROTHER MEN AND FATHERS, listen to the defense I now make to you!" <sup>2</sup>As soon as they heard him address them in Hebrew, they were still quieter, so he proceeded, <sup>3</sup>"I am a Jew born and bred, a native of Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought up in this city. At the feet of Gamaliel I have been educated with exacting care in our ancestral Law, with a zeal for God such as you all have today.

<sup>4</sup>"As such<sup>p</sup> I persecuted this Way to the death, binding and delivering to prison both men and women, <sup>5</sup>as the high priest and the whole presbytery can bear me out. For from them I received letters to the brothers in Damascus for which I was heading to bring the believers there back to Jerusalem for punishment.

<sup>6</sup>"But as I was nearing Damascus in my travel, this happened to me: suddenly at noonday an intense light from heaven beamed around me, <sup>7</sup>and as I fell to the ground, I heard a voice saying to me, Saul, Saul, why do you persecute Me? <sup>8</sup>But I answered, 'Who art Thou Lord?' So He told me, I am Jesus the Nazarene, whom you are persecuting. <sup>9</sup>Now my companions certainly saw the light, but His voice as He spoke to me they did not hear.

<sup>10</sup>"I said, 'Lord, what shall I do?' Then the Lord said to me, Rise and go on to Damascus. There you will be told about all the work that has been laid out for you to do. <sup>11</sup>However, due to the brilliancy of that intense light, I was blinded, so I entered Damascus guided by the hands of my companions.

<sup>12</sup>"Then one Ananias, a man devoted to the Law and well spoken of by all the Jews who lived there, <sup>13</sup>called on me, presented himself and said to me, 'Brother Saul, recover your sight,' and instantly I looked up at him. <sup>14</sup>He further spoke, 'Our fathers' God<sup>q</sup> has prepared you beforehand to recognize His will, to see the Just One and to hear a message from His own lips; <sup>15</sup>for of what you have seen and heard you will give testimony for Him to everyone.<sup>r</sup> <sup>16</sup>Now then, why hesitate? Rise; be baptized and, calling on His name, be cleansed of your sins.'

<sup>17</sup>"Then when I returned to Jerusalem and was praying in the temple, this happened: I experienced an ecstasy <sup>18</sup>and saw Him as He said to me, Hurry, get out of Jerusalem quickly, because they will not welcome your testimony about Me. <sup>19</sup>I replied, 'Lord, they know well enough that it was I who imprisoned and manhandled up and down the synagogues those who believed in Thee <sup>20</sup>and, when the blood of Thy martyr Stephen was shed, I was personally on hand with approval and watched the clothes of those who killed him.' <sup>21</sup>And He said to me, Leave, for I will send you off to the Gentiles far away."

pose of finding out clearly why the Jews accused Paul, he unfastened him, ordered a session of the chief priests and the entire Sanhedrin, and had Paul brought down to face them.

23 SO, WITH A STRAIGHT LOOK AT the council, Paul spoke: "Brother men, I have behaved myself in the presence of God with an altogether clear conscience to this very day." <sup>2</sup>But the high priest Ananias ordered the attendants to strike him on the mouth. <sup>3</sup>Then Paul said to him, "God is about to strike you, you whitewashed wall! You, sitting here to judge me according to the law and ordering me to be struck contrary to the law?"

<sup>4</sup>The bystanders said, "You insult the high priest of God?" <sup>5</sup>To which Paul replied, "I did not know, brothers, that he is high priest!<sup>t</sup> for it is written,<sup>u</sup> 'You must not defame a ruler of the people.'"

<sup>6</sup>Paul, however, aware that one party was Sadducee and the other Pharisee, shouted, right in the Sanhedrin, "Brother men, I am a Pharisee, a son of a Pharisee; concerning the hope of the resurrection of the dead I am accused." <sup>7</sup>At this saying, a confused dispute arose between the Pharisees and the Sadducees and there was division in the meeting. <sup>8</sup>For the Sadducees maintain there is neither resurrection nor angel nor spirit, while the Pharisees confess the one as well as the other. <sup>9</sup>So the outcry grew deafening. Some of the scribes of the Pharisaic party got up and argued, "We find nothing bad in this man; perhaps a spirit or an angel has spoken to him. (Let us not fight God.)"

<sup>10</sup>But the discord grew so bitter, the commandant, afraid that Paul might be torn to pieces by them, ordered a detachment to march down and to snatch him from their midst; then to bring him into the barracks. <sup>11</sup>Yet that night the Lord stood by him and said,

May-June, 58 A.D.

Take heart! For as you have borne Me witness in Jerusalem, just so it is necessary for you to testify at Rome.

<sup>12</sup>At daybreak there were Jews, who formed a plot and pledged themselves with an oath that they would neither eat nor drink until they had killed Paul. <sup>13</sup>More than forty formed this conspiracy. <sup>14</sup>Some of them went to the chief priests and the elders and said, "We have sworn ourselves to liability of a curse to taste of nothing until we have killed Paul. <sup>15</sup>Now then, you, in cooperation with the Sanhedrin, send word to the commandant to have him conducted to you as if you wanted to determine more particularly about his affairs. Then we, if he comes anywhere near, are ready to do away with him."

<sup>16</sup>However, the son of Paul's sister got wind of the ambush,<sup>v</sup> so he came along and entered the barracks to inform Paul. <sup>17</sup>Then Paul, after calling in one of the captains, said, "Conduct this young man to the commandant, for he has something to tell him." <sup>18</sup>Accordingly, he took him to the commandant and said, "Paul, the prisoner, summoned me to request that I bring this youth to you, since he has something to tell you." <sup>19</sup>Then the commandant, taking him by the hand, stepped to one side with him privately and inquired, "What is it you have to acquaint me with?" <sup>20</sup>He said, "The Jews have agreed to ask you that you bring Paul down tomorrow before the Sanhedrin, as if they were to investigate more particularly about him; <sup>21</sup>but do not you give in to them, for more than forty of them are lying in wait for him and they have pledged themselves with an oath neither to eat nor to drink until they have destroyed him, and right now they are in readiness, only waiting for your assent."

<sup>22</sup>The commandant then dismissed the youth, cautioning him, "Divulge to no one that you informed me of this."

May-June, 58 A.D.

<sup>23</sup>He then summoned two of his captains and said, "Have two hundred soldiers ready by nine tonight to march to Caesarea; also seventy cavalry and two hundred lancers. <sup>24</sup>Provide animals, too, for mounts for Paul to ride and conduct him safely to governor Felix."<sup>w</sup>

<sup>25</sup>He wrote a letter, too, with the contents: <sup>26</sup>"Claudius Lysias to His Excellency Governor Felix—Greeting! <sup>27</sup>When this man was set upon by the Jews and was within an inch of being murdered by them, I was on the spot with my men and rescued him, for I learned that he is a Roman. <sup>28</sup>In the hope of discovering the reason for their accusation, I took him down to their Sanhedrin <sup>29</sup>and found that the complaint relates to questions of their law; but without accusation of crime that deserves death or prison. <sup>30</sup>But as information came to me that a plot was being concocted against this man, I have sent him to you at once and have directed his accusers to have their say to you. (Farewell)."

<sup>31</sup>So the soldiers took Paul, according to their orders, and conducted him by night to Antipatris. <sup>32</sup>The following day they returned to their barracks, leaving it to the cavalry to travel on with him. <sup>33</sup>When those men reached Caesarea, they delivered the letter to the governor and placed Paul before him.

<sup>34</sup>After reading it, the governor inquired from what province he might be and on ascertaining that he was from Cilicia,<sup>x</sup> <sup>35</sup>he said, "We shall give you a hearing whenever your accusers get here." He then gave orders to have him retained in Herod's judgment hall.

24 AFTER FIVE DAYS ANANIAS THE high priest with some of the elders and Tertullus, an orator, came down to present their evidence against Paul to the governor; <sup>25</sup>so, after Paul had been called in, Tertullus undertook to offer the complaint as follows:

<sup>3</sup>"Most illustrious Felix, we acknowledge with deep appreciation that we owe to you this remarkable peace we are enjoying, and that through your foresight wonderful improvements have been the nation's fortune in every way and everywhere. <sup>4</sup>However, not to take more of your precious time, I beg of you to listen by your courtesy briefly to us.

<sup>5</sup>"For we have found this man to be a veritable plague, stirring up all the Jews on earth as he does, and a ring-leader of the Nazarene heresy, <sup>6</sup>who even tried to defile the temple. So we got hold of him (and would have sentenced him by our Law; <sup>7</sup>but the commandant Lysias came and took him from us with great force. <sup>8</sup>He ordered his accusers to present themselves to you). If you will personally cross-question him, you will be able to discover on what counts we accuse him."<sup>y</sup>

<sup>9</sup>And all the Jews agreed, and declared that all he said was exactly so. <sup>10</sup>Then at a motion from the governor Paul made his answer:

<sup>11</sup>"Because I know that you have been judge to these people for many years, I find it easier to defend myself on these charges. It will be possible for you to ascertain that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for worship, <sup>12</sup>and neither did they find me discussing with anyone in the temple, nor raising a riot among the people, either in the synagogues or in the city. <sup>13</sup>Neither can they produce any evidence to substantiate these present charges.

<sup>14</sup>"I will confess this to you, however, that according to the Way which they call heresy,<sup>z</sup> even so I worship the God of my fathers, and I believe in all the writings of the Law and of the prophets; <sup>15</sup>for I possess that hope in God which they hold as their own, too, that there is to be a resurrection of the just and the unjust. <sup>16</sup>I therefore exert myself to have in all respects a clear conscience in my relations with God and with men.

<sup>17</sup>"After many years of this I was practicing charity for my people and was bringing offerings, <sup>18</sup>and with these they found me in the temple in process of purification; not at all with mobs or riots. <sup>19</sup>But there were some Asiatic Jews, who should have been here to complain if they knew anything tangible against me. <sup>20</sup>Or else let these men here say what wrong they found in me as I stood before the Sanhedrin, <sup>21</sup>unless it be that one remark I expressed in their presence: I am being tried by you today relative to the resurrection of the dead."

Summer, 59 A.D.

<sup>24</sup>After a few days Felix brought along his wife Drusilla, a Jewess, had Paul sent for, and listened to his presentation of the faith in Christ Jesus. <sup>25</sup>But when he discussed purity of life, the mastery of passions, and the coming judgment, Felix got frightened and responded, "You may go now. When I can spare the time I will send for you." <sup>26</sup>Meanwhile he was hoping he might obtain money from Paul; so he sent for him frequently and talked things over with him. <sup>27</sup>But after two years had gone by, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus and, to curry favor with the Jews, Felix left Paul imprisoned.

against Paul <sup>3</sup>and requested of him and begged it as a favor to them that Paul be sent to Jerusalem—they planning to form an ambush and to murder him on the road.

<sup>4</sup>To which Festus replied that Paul was under guard at Caesarea; but that he himself would shortly go there. <sup>5</sup>"Then," he went on, "your outstanding men may come along with me, and if there is anything unbecoming in the man, make your complaint against him."

<sup>6</sup>After spending at the most from eight to ten days among them, he went down to Caesarea, took his seat next day on the tribunal and ordered Paul to be brought in. <sup>7</sup>At his arrival, the Jews that had come down from Jerusalem collected around him and presented their charges—numerous and weighty, which they were not able to substantiate. <sup>8</sup>Then Paul made his defense: "I have committed nothing whatever wrong against the Jewish Law, or against the temple or against Caesar."

<sup>9</sup>Festus, however, desirous to curry favor with the Jews, answered Paul, "Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and there be tried before me on these complaints?" <sup>10</sup>But Paul said, "I take my stand at Caesar's tribunal, where I must be tried. I have in no respect wronged the Jews, as you understand well enough. <sup>11</sup>In case I am guilty and have committed anything deserving death, then I am ready to die; but if there is nothing to their charges against me, then no one can surrender me to them. I make my appeal to Caesar." <sup>12</sup>So, after conference with the council, Festus answered, "You have appealed to Caesar; to Caesar you shall go."

by Felix,<sup>16</sup> on whose account, as I got to Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews made their appearance with request for sentence against him.<sup>16</sup> I answered them that with Romans it is not customary to hand a man over gratuitously until the accused has faced the accusers and has been given an opportunity to defend himself against the charge.<sup>17</sup> So, when they jointly arrived here, I lost no time to occupy the judgment seat next day and to order the man brought in.<sup>18</sup> The accusers got up; but they brought in no criminal charges such as I expected;<sup>19</sup> but they had some controversies against him that concerned their own religion and about a certain Jesus who had died, of whom Paul asserted that he was alive.<sup>20</sup> As I felt uncertain about the proper investigation of such issues, I asked if he might care to go to Jerusalem and be tried there on those complaints;<sup>21</sup> but since Paul made appeal that his case be retained for examination by Augustus, I ordered him to be held until I send him on to Caesar."

<sup>22</sup>Agrippa remarked to Festus, "I should like to hear the man myself." And he assured him, "Tomorrow you will hear him."

<sup>23</sup>Accordingly, on the following day Agrippa and Bernice approached with great display and, accompanied by the chief military and the prominent citizenry, entered the audience hall. At Festus' order, Paul was led in<sup>24</sup> and Festus said: "King Agrippa and all you men here present with us, you are looking at the person on whose account the whole constituency of the Jews have made complaint to me both in Jerusalem and here, shouting that he ought not to live any more.<sup>25</sup> But I got hold of nothing he has done that deserves death, and since he appealed to the emperor, I have decided to send him.<sup>26</sup> I have nothing substantial to write His Majesty, and for this reason

I have brought him before you and particularly before you, King Agrippa, so that after due examination I may have something to report.<sup>27</sup> For it seems to me odd to ship a prisoner without signifying the charges against him."

26 AGRIPPA SAID TO PAUL, "You are permitted to speak on your own behalf."<sup>a</sup> Then Paul extended his hand and made his defense:

<sup>2</sup>"In view of all the charges against me by the Jews, I consider myself fortunate, O king Agrippa, that I am to defend myself before you;<sup>3</sup> for you are so thoroughly acquainted with all the Jewish customs and problems. So, please listen to me with patience.

<sup>4</sup>"All the Jews are acquainted with my behavior from my youth up, both among my own people<sup>e</sup> and in Jerusalem.<sup>5</sup> They are fully aware, if only they were willing to bear witness, how from the very first I have lived a Pharisee in agreement with the strictest sect of our religion.<sup>6</sup> And right now I am standing trial for the hope of the promise which God made to our fathers<sup>7</sup> and which our twelve tribes expect to realize with a devotion that continues night and day. For this very hope, O king, I am accused by the Jews.

<sup>8</sup>"What? Is it considered incredible among you that God raises the dead?<sup>9</sup> Fact is that I was possessed of the idea that I should in every way oppose the name of Jesus the Nazarene,<sup>10</sup> and so I did in Jerusalem.<sup>f</sup> Many a saint have I shut up in prison, furnished as I was with authority from the chief priests, and when they were executed, I cast my vote against them.<sup>g</sup><sup>11</sup> Up and down all the synagogues I often forced them by torture to deny their religion. <sup>12</sup>"With authority and approval of the chief priests I was traveling to Damascus, occupied in these activities,

ACTS 26, 27

<sup>13</sup>when on the road at noon I saw, O king, a light from heaven, more brilliant than the sun, shining around me and my fellow travelers. <sup>14</sup>And as we all fell to the ground, I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew language, 'Saul, Saul, why do you persecute Me? It is hard on you to kick against the goad'<sup>h</sup> <sup>15</sup>But I said, 'Who art Thou, Lord?' and the Lord said, I am Jesus whom you are persecuting. <sup>16</sup>But rise up and stand on your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you a minister and witness both of the things you have seen and of those in which I will still show Myself to you. <sup>17</sup>I will deliver you from your people and from the Gentiles, to whom I send you <sup>18</sup>for the opening of their eyes and their turning from darkness to light and from the authority of Satan to God, to obtain forgiveness of sins and their allotted portion among those made holy through faith in Me.

<sup>19</sup>From then on, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision, <sup>20</sup>but first to those in Damascus and in Jerusalem, and then all over Judea and on among the Gentiles I preached that they must repent and turn back to God and practice activities consistent with repentance.

<sup>21</sup>"On account of these facts the Jews grabbed me in the temple and made attempt to assassinate me. <sup>22</sup>So, as I have enjoyed the help of God until this day, I take my stand witnessing to both small and great, without saying anything, however, except what the prophets and Moses said would take place—<sup>23</sup>that Christ must suffer, and that He, as the first to rise from the dead, shall proclaim a light to our people and to the Gentiles."

replied, "Most illustrious Festus, I am not out of my mind, but am giving utterance to words of truth and sane thinking. <sup>26</sup>The king knows about these matters, so that I unreservedly address him. I do not believe any of these things are unknown to him, for they did not occur in a corner. <sup>27</sup>King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know you believe . . ."

<sup>29</sup>Then Paul, "I would pray to God that both by little and by much not you alone but all who are now listening to me today might be in my condition—not including these shackles."

<sup>30</sup>The king then stood up, also the governor and Bernice and those who had been sitting in their company <sup>31</sup>and, stepping to one side, they talked it over together and concluded, "This man has done nothing that deserves death or prison." <sup>32</sup>So Agrippa said to Festus, "This man could be set free, if he had not appealed to Caesar."

27 AS IT WAS DECIDED THAT WE<sup>k</sup> should sail for Italy, they committed Paul and some other prisoners to a captain of the imperial regiment, whose name was Julius. <sup>2</sup>Getting aboard an Adramyttian ship that would make the ports along the coast of Asia, we sailed away, and Aristarchus,<sup>1</sup> a Macedonian of Thessalonica, came with us. <sup>3</sup>Next day we docked at Sidon, where Julius, who treated Paul so courteously, allowed him to visit his friends and to enjoy their attentions.

September, 60 A.D.

<sup>4</sup>Launching out from there, we sailed along the south coast of Cyprus, as the winds were contrary; <sup>5</sup>then crossing the Cilician and Pamphylian waters, we landed at Myra in Lycia <sup>6</sup>and, as the captain found there an Alexandrian ship bound for Italy, he transferred us to that. <sup>7</sup>After many days of slow sailing, we arrived with difficulty off Cnidus; then, checked by the wind, we sailed south of Crete off Salmone, <sup>8</sup>and only with hard work did we keep off the shore and reached a place called Fair Havens, near which Lasea is located.<sup>m</sup>

October, 60 A.D.

<sup>9</sup>As the season was now well advanced and navigation had grown dangerous — for the autumn fast was already over<sup>n</sup> — Paul warned them: <sup>10</sup>"Men, I discern that this voyage will involve hardship and considerable damage not merely to the cargo and the ship, but to our lives as well." <sup>11</sup>However, the centurion put confidence in the helmsman and in the shipowner, rather than in Paul's suggestions, <sup>12</sup>and as the harbor was poorly situated for wintering, the majority favored the plan of setting out again, so they might possibly reach Phoenix and winter there—a harbor in Crete facing southwest and northwest.

our being saved was snatched away. <sup>21</sup>When, besides, they had gone without food for a long time, Paul took his stand among them and said, "Men, you should have listened to me and not have drawn this hardship and damage on you by putting to sea from Crete. <sup>22</sup>And even now I advise you to cheer up; for not a life of you will be lost—only the ship. <sup>23</sup>For this night there stood by me an angel of God, whose I am and whom I serve. <sup>24</sup>He said, 'Have no fear, Paul! You have to stand before Caesar, and be assured that God has granted you all that are sailing with you.' <sup>25</sup>So, be of good spirits, men; for I have faith in God that it shall happen in agreement with what was told me. <sup>26</sup>But we have to be stranded on an island."

<sup>30</sup>The sailors, however, tried to abandon the ship and, under pretense of going to cast anchor from the prow, they were lowering the lifeboat into the sea; <sup>31</sup>so Paul told the officer and the soldiers, "If these do not stay with the ship, you cannot be saved."<sup>q</sup> <sup>32</sup>Then the soldiers cut the boat's ropes and let her fall.

<sup>33</sup>With daybreak approaching, Paul urged them all to take some food. He said, "For fourteen days now you have uninterruptedly been on the alert without taking anything;<sup>r</sup> <sup>34</sup>so I implore you to eat something; it will sustain your health. For not a hair of your head will go to ruin."

<sup>35</sup>Having said this, he took bread, gave thanks to God in presence of them all and, breaking it, began to eat. <sup>36</sup>Then they all felt encouraged and partook of nourishment, — <sup>37</sup>all told there were 276 of us on board.

<sup>38</sup>When they had eaten to their satisfaction, they lightened the ship by dumping the wheat into the sea.

<sup>39</sup>When day arrived, they did not recognize the coast, but they noticed an inlet with a beach into which they wanted, if at all possible, to run the ship. <sup>40</sup>After severing the anchors and dropping them in the sea and meanwhile loosening the ropes that held the rudders, they hoisted the foresail to the wind and made for the beach.

<sup>41</sup>But as they hit a crosscurrent shoal they grounded the ship; so the prow settled and stayed immovable, while the stern broke under the force of the elements.

<sup>42</sup>It was then the soldiers' idea to kill the prisoners, so they might not swim away and escape; <sup>43</sup>but the officer, intending to save Paul, prevented their doing it. He ordered those who could swim to leap off first and make for shore, <sup>44</sup>and the rest, some on boards and some on fragments of the ship. And so they all reached shore in safety.

November, 60 A.D.

28 WHEN WE WERE QUITE SAFE, we learned that the island was called Malta. <sup>2</sup>The natives<sup>s</sup> showed us remarkable friendliness; for they lit a fire and welcomed all of us, because of the rain that was coming down on us and because of the cold. <sup>3</sup>But Paul having gathered a bundle of twigs and laid them on the fire, a viper crawled out on account of the heat and fastened to his hand. <sup>4</sup>When the natives observed the creature pending from his hand, they remarked to each other, "Unquestionably, this man is a murderer, whom, though saved from the sea, Justice<sup>t</sup> will not allow to live." <sup>5</sup>But he simply shook off the creature into the fire and felt no hurt. <sup>6</sup>They, of course, expected him at any moment either to swell up or to fall suddenly dead; so, after waiting for a long time and seeing nothing out of the way happen to him, they changed their minds and said, "He is a god."

November, 60-February, 61 A.D.

<sup>7</sup>Now in that part of the island there were properties that belonged to the chief of the island, named Publius, who took us in and for three days entertained us courteously. <sup>8</sup>It so happened that Publius' father was laid up with fever and dysentery; so Paul went to visit him and, laying hands on him with prayer, he healed him.<sup>u</sup> <sup>9</sup>When this had occurred, the rest of the islanders who suffered illness came and were healed. <sup>10</sup>They also showed us every kind of respect, and when we left they supplied all our needs.

Late February, 61 A.D.

<sup>11</sup>At the end of three months<sup>v</sup> we put to sea in an Alexandrian ship, that had wintered in the island and that had for its figure-head Castor and Pollux. <sup>12</sup>We docked at Syracuse and tarried three days; then detoured from there to Rhegium. <sup>13</sup>After one day a south wind came up and the following day we landed at Puteoli. <sup>14</sup>There we found brothers and were invited to stay with them for seven days.

<sup>15</sup>Then on to Rome we went, and when the brothers there heard about us, they came as far as Appii Forum and Three Tabernacles to meet us. As soon as Paul saw them, he gave thanks to God and took courage.

March, 61 A.D.

<sup>16</sup>When we arrived in Rome, (the officer delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard; but) Paul was allowed to live by himself with a soldier to guard him.

<sup>17</sup>After three days he invited all the leading Jews, to whom when they were together he said, "Brother men, although I have committed nothing whatever against our people or against the ancestral customs, yet I was delivered to the Romans, a prisoner from Jerusalem. <sup>18</sup>Upon examination, they wanted to set me free, because I am innocent of any act that deserves death; <sup>19</sup>but when the Jews objected, I was forced to appeal to Caesar,—not as if I harbored any complaint against my nation. <sup>20</sup>For this reason I begged to see you and to talk to you. Due to Israel's Hope I wear this encircling chain."

<sup>21</sup>They replied to him, however, "Neither have we received letters from Judea about you, nor have any of the brothers arrived with a bad report or gossip about you."<sup>w</sup> <sup>22</sup>But we think it fair that we should hear from you what you have in mind; for so far as this heresy is concerned, to our knowledge it is denounced everywhere."

<sup>23</sup>Arranging a date with him, they came to him at his lodgings in goodly numbers, and he explained to them the kingdom of God from personal testimony, attempting to persuade them about Jesus, both out of the Law of Moses and from the Prophets,—from morning until evening. <sup>24</sup>Some, indeed, were convinced by his reasonings, but others did not believe. <sup>25</sup>So, as there was no harmony among them, they left when Paul spoke this one utterance, "The Holy Spirit spoke rightly to your fathers through Isaiah the prophet: <sup>26</sup>'Go to this people and say, You will hear with your organs of hearing, but not catch the meaning. You will see with your organs of sight but not observe. <sup>27</sup>For this people's heart is calloused and their ears are waxed for hearing, and they have closed their eyes, so they may not see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with the heart and turn about and I should heal them.'<sup>x</sup> <sup>28</sup>Get this clear, then, that this salvation of God is sent to the Gentiles and they will listen."

<sup>29</sup>(After he had said this, the Jews went away and had considerable discussion among themselves.)

<sup>30</sup>But Paul remained for two whole years in his rented lodging and welcomed every one who came in to see him. <sup>31</sup>He preached the kingdom of God and gave instructions regarding the Lord Jesus Christ, altogether openly and without hindrance.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE ROMANS

From Corinth, winter of 57-58 A.D.

1 PAUL, A SERVANT<sup>a</sup> OF CHRIST Jesus, a called apostle,<sup>b</sup> set apart for the Gospel of God, <sup>2</sup>which in advance He promised through His prophets in the sacred Scriptures <sup>3</sup>regarding His Son, who as to His human nature was descended from David and according to the Spirit of Holiness <sup>4</sup>was openly designated as the Son of God with power when He was raised from the dead, even Jesus Christ, our Lord, —<sup>5</sup>through whom we have received the undeserved gift of apostleship, to promote among all the Gentiles a yielding in faith to His name, <sup>6</sup>you included too, invited as you are of Jesus Christ; <sup>7</sup>to all God's loved ones in Rome, called to be holy: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>8</sup>To begin with, I certainly thank my God<sup>c</sup> for you all through Jesus Christ, because your faith is being mentioned all over the world. <sup>9</sup>For God, whom I serve with my spiritual self in the Gospel of His Son, bears me witness how constantly I mention you whenever I am at my prayers, <sup>10</sup>pleading that if there be place for it in the will of God, I may some day be sped on my way to visit you. <sup>11</sup>For I am yearning to see you, so that I may bestow on you some spiritual gift for your confirmation;—<sup>12</sup>I mean that we may be mutually strengthened by your faith and mine.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>13</sup>But I do not want you to be unaware, brothers, that often I have planned to visit you, so that I might reap some harvest among you, just as I have among the other nations; but thus far I have been prevented. <sup>14</sup>To both Greeks and barbarians, to both learned and unlearned I am a debtor; <sup>15</sup>hence my deep-felt eagerness to preach the Gospel as well to you in Rome. <sup>16</sup>For I am not ashamed of the Gospel (of Christ) as it is God's power for salvation to every believer, to the Jew first and to the Greek as well. <sup>17</sup>For God's righteousness is disclosed in it through faith and leading to faith, as it is written, "But the just shall live by faith."

a) "Doulos," from "deo," I bind; hence here, bound in service to Christ.

b) Divinely appointed. Possibly intimating he was not among the original twelve.

c) Intimate and rarely used. Vs. 9 shows the source of Paul's feeling; his inner being is involved.

d) Not only Paul to help them, but they to help him, too.

e) Unwilling to reckon with God their Creator, as shown vs. 21.

in their useless speculations until their stupid<sup>f</sup> minds were all in the dark. <sup>22</sup>Claiming to be wise, they played the fool. <sup>23</sup>They even altered the glory of immortal God into images<sup>g</sup> in the form of mortal man and of birds, quadrupeds and reptiles.

<sup>26</sup>For this reason God abandoned them to shameful passions. Their women perverted natural functions for the unnatural, <sup>27</sup>and similarly the men forsook their natural relationships with women and burned up with their lust for one another, men committing shamelessness with men and so acquiring in their persons the penalty that was coming to them on account of their wrong behavior. <sup>28</sup>Just as they did not care to acknowledge God any more, so God gave them over<sup>h</sup> to perverted tendencies, to practice what is not decent, <sup>29</sup>until they are full of every sort of wickedness, immorality, depravity and greed; crammed with envy, murder, quarreling, deceit and malignity; <sup>30</sup>as gossips, slanderers, God-haters; insolent, proud, and boastful; inventors of evil; parent-despisers; <sup>31</sup>without conscience, fidelity, natural affection or pity. <sup>32</sup>While knowing God's ordinance, that those practicing such things deserve death, they not only practice them, but even give their approval to those who do them.<sup>i</sup>

2 SO, YOU CAN OFFER NO EXCUSE, O man,<sup>j</sup> whoever indulges in judging; for by passing sentence on another you condemn yourself, since you, who give sentence, practice the same things. <sup>2</sup>We know that God's sentence rests in all fairness on those who practice such wrongs. <sup>3</sup>But do you imagine, O man, who condemn those practicing such evils and do them yourself, that you will escape God's sentence? <sup>4</sup>Or do you underestimate His wealth of kindness and tolerance and enduring patience, unmindful of the fact that God's kindness directs you toward repentance?<sup>k</sup>

<sup>5</sup>But in line with your obstinacy and impenitence of heart you are treasuring up for yourself anger for the day of anger and the revealing of God's righteous judgment; <sup>6</sup>who will reward each person according to his doings: <sup>7</sup>To those who with insistent good behavior strive for excellence, genuine worth, and immortality, He awards eternal life;<sup>l</sup> <sup>8</sup>but to those who like to be different and will not yield to the truth but rather to wickedness, He awards indignation and fury. <sup>9</sup>Affliction and anxiety to every human soul who does evil, to the Jew first and to the Greek as well. <sup>10</sup>But distinction and honor and peace to all who do what is good, to the Jew first and to the Greek as well. <sup>11</sup>For God shows no favoritism.

<sup>12</sup>Those who sin without knowing the Law<sup>m</sup> will be lost without reference to the Law; while those who sin under the Law will be sentenced by the Law. <sup>13</sup>For not the hearers of the Law are righteous before God, but those who practice the Law shall be pronounced righteous. <sup>14</sup>So, when Gentiles who lack the Law do naturally practice it, they are for themselves a law, though they have none. <sup>15</sup>They show that the effect of the Law is written in their hearts. Their conscience witnesses in such a way that between their own reasonings they are condemned or defended, <sup>16</sup>and that against the day when God shall judge the secrets of men through Christ Jesus in agreement with the Gospel I preach.

h) Removed the divine restraint that keeps us from doing our worst, vs. 26.

k) Divine justice and mercy always in Paul's thoughts.

l) Works required as confirmation of faith, not as a means of salvation.

m) The Law revealed through Moses, particularly the Decalogue.

you rely on the Law and pride yourself in God <sup>18</sup>and know His will, and through education in the Law have an idea of the essentials, <sup>19</sup>and you believe yourself to be a guide to the blind, a light to those in darkness, a trainer of the simple, <sup>20</sup>a teacher of the immature, since you possess in the Law the embodiment of knowledge and truth; <sup>21</sup>then, you who teach another, do you not teach yourself? You who preach against stealing, do you steal? <sup>22</sup>You who forbid adultery, do you commit adultery? You who detest idols, do you commit sacrilege?<sup>n</sup> <sup>23</sup>You who boast in the Law, do you dishonor God by its violation? <sup>24</sup>For "God's name," as has been written, "is on your account maligned among the Gentiles."<sup>o</sup>

3 THEN WHAT ADVANTAGE HAS THE Jew, or what benefit has circumcision? <sup>2</sup>Considerable in every respect. Primarily, that they were entrusted with the utterances of God. <sup>3</sup>What if some failed to believe! Their unbelief surely does not nullify God's faithfulness? <sup>4</sup>Not at all. Rather shall it be: God must be true though every man be a cheat, as it is written, "That Thou mightest be vindicated in Thy sayings and mightest triumph when Thou art tried."<sup>r</sup> <sup>5</sup>But if our wrongdoing brings out so strikingly the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Surely not that God is wrong—I speak humanly—when He inflicts punishment? <sup>6</sup>No indeed! Then how could God judge the world? <sup>7</sup>But if by my falsehood the truth of God abounds the more for His glory, then why am I condemned as a sinner? <sup>8</sup>Why not say then, just as by some we are being slandered and charged with saying, "Let us do evil, so that good may result!" Deservedly are such talkers condemned.

<sup>9</sup>Then what? Do we come out ahead? Not at all. For we just previously charged both Jews and Greeks that they are all under sin's power, <sup>10</sup>as it is written,<sup>s</sup> "There is none righteous; not even one. <sup>11</sup>No one has understanding; no one is a searcher after God. <sup>12</sup>All have strayed aside; they have become utterly useless. There is none doing right, not even one. <sup>13</sup>Their throat is an open grave; with their tongues they deceive; venom of asps is behind their lips; <sup>14</sup>their mouth is full of malediction and bitterness. <sup>15</sup>Their feet are swift for shedding blood; <sup>16</sup>ruin and misery are in their ways <sup>17</sup>and of the path of peace they have no experience. <sup>18</sup>No reverence of God is before their eyes."

<sup>19</sup>We know, however, that whatever the Law says, it says to those under its control, so that every mouth may be shut and the whole world may become liable to divine retribution; <sup>20</sup>because not a single human being shall be made righteous in God's sight through observance of the Law.<sup>t</sup> Rather, through Law is awareness of sin.

<sup>21</sup>But now without Law<sup>u</sup> God's righteousness is revealed, as is witnessed to by the Law and the Prophets, <sup>22</sup>namely, God's righteousness through faith in Jesus Christ for all believers. For there is no distinction, <sup>23</sup>as all have sinned and fall short in being any glory to God. <sup>24</sup>We are justified freely by His mercy through the ransom that Christ Jesus provided; <sup>25</sup>whom God put forward as a reconciling sacrifice in His blood through faith. Which was for vindication of His righteousness in forgiving the sins that previously were committed under God's forbearance, <sup>26</sup>and to vindicate His righteousness in our present period, that He is just and that He accepts as just one who has faith in Jesus.

4 WHAT SHALL WE SAY, THEN, THAT Abraham, our human ancestor, experienced? <sup>2</sup>For if Abraham was justified on account of works, then he has something to brag about. But there is no such thing before God; <sup>3</sup>for what does Scripture say?<sup>x</sup> "Abraham believed God and it was accounted to him for righteousness." <sup>4</sup>Now, to a workman wages are not credited as a favor but as an obligation; <sup>5</sup>while to the person who has not worked by Law, but whose faith rests on Him who makes the ungodly righteous, to him faith is accounted for righteousness.<sup>y</sup> <sup>6</sup>Precisely as David mentions the blissfulness of the man without works, to whom God attributes righteousness: <sup>7</sup>"Blessed are they whose iniquities have been forgiven and whose sins have been covered up. <sup>8</sup>Blessed is the man of whose sin the Lord will take no account."

<sup>9</sup>Now, then, does this ascription of bliss apply only to the circumcised, or to the uncircumcised as well? For this is our statement: Faith was accounted to Abraham for righteousness. <sup>10</sup>Then how was it accounted? When he was circumcised, or when he was still uncircumcised? Not after, but before his circumcision, <sup>11</sup>and he received the mark of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness of the faith he had while still uncircumcised; so that he might be the father of all uncircumcised believers and that to them righteousness might be accredited, <sup>12</sup>and also the father of those circumcised who are not merely circumcised, but who walk in the footsteps of the faith our father Abraham had when still uncircumcised.<sup>z</sup>

<sup>13</sup>Mind you, the promise to Abraham or to his offspring to inherit the earth, came through no Law, but through righteousness produced by faith; <sup>14</sup>for if devotees of the Law are the inheritors, then faith is futile and the promise is abrogated. <sup>15</sup>Because the Law eventuates in indignation; but where there is no Law there is no transgression.

<sup>16</sup>For this reason it is a matter of faith, so that the promise may be made sure as a matter of grace to all his descendants; not only to the devotees of the Law, but also to the adherents of Abraham's faith, who is thus father to us all, — <sup>17</sup>as it is written, "I have appointed you a father of many nations."<sup>a</sup> All this in the presence of God in whom he believed, who makes the dead live and calls into existence what has no being. <sup>18</sup>For Abraham kept hoping in faith, when hope was gone, that he would be the father of many nations in agreement with the saying, "So shall your offspring be." <sup>19</sup>And there was no weakening of his faith, when he recognized the impotence of his own body at the age of one hundred, as well as Sarah's inability to bear.

about God's promise,<sup>b</sup> but, empowered by faith, he rendered praise to God <sup>21</sup>in the complete conviction that He was able to make good His promise. <sup>22</sup>For this reason it was accredited to him as righteousness.

<sup>23</sup>This, however, was not written for him alone, "It was accredited to him," <sup>24</sup>but for us as well, to whom it will be accredited as believers in Him who raised from the dead our Lord Jesus,<sup>c</sup> <sup>25</sup>who was handed over on account of our misdeeds and was raised for our justification.<sup>d</sup>

5 SINCE, THEN, WE ARE MADE righteous through faith, let us enjoy peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>2</sup>by whom we also obtain through faith entrance to this grace in which we stand firm, and exult in the hope of God's glory.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>3</sup>Not this alone, but we exult in afflictions as well; for we know that affliction produces patience, <sup>4</sup>and patience eventuates in a tried character, and character begets hope, <sup>5</sup>such hope as does not disappoint; for God's love is poured out into our hearts by means of the Holy Spirit which is given us.<sup>f</sup> <sup>6</sup>For when we were still helpless, Christ at the proper time died for the ungodly.

<sup>7</sup>Ordinarily, one would hardly die for a righteous person; but still, for a benevolent person someone might perhaps bring himself to die. <sup>8</sup>But God proves His own love for us by Christ's dying for us when we were still sinners.

<sup>9</sup>Now then, as we have been made righteous by His blood, how much surer is it that we shall be saved by Him from the indignation! <sup>10</sup>For if as enemies we were reconciled to God through the death of His Son, much more surely shall we, who have been reconciled, be saved by His life. <sup>11</sup>And not merely this, but we also exult in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation.

<sup>12</sup>It is therefore as follows: Through one man sin entered the world, and death through sin, and so death passed on to all persons in that all sinned. <sup>13</sup>To be sure, sin was in the world earlier than the Law; but, in absence of law, sin is not charged up.<sup>g</sup> <sup>14</sup>Death, however, held rule from Adam to Moses over those who sinned but did not transgress a command in the way Adam had done, — who foreshadowed the Coming One.

<sup>15</sup>With the free gift, however, it is by no means as it is with the fall; for if through the lapsing of one person many die, far more richly did the grace of God and His gift, that comes through the favor of one man Jesus Christ, overflow to the many. <sup>16</sup>Nor is the gift similar in effect to that one person's sin; for the sentence of one man brings condemnation, but divine grace led to justification out of many lapses. <sup>17</sup>For if, due to that one person's fall, death is king through that person, far more surely shall those, who receive the overflowing of grace and the gift of righteousness, reign as kings in the life they enjoy through the One, Jesus Christ.

<sup>20</sup>But Law came stealing in to make the trespass more serious; yet, where sin fills up, grace overflows the more, <sup>21</sup>so that as sin reigned in death, so grace might reign through Jesus Christ our Lord with righteousness that issues in eternal life.

6 WHAT THEN ARE WE TO SAY? Shall we remain in sin to let grace become more plentiful? <sup>2</sup>Not at all! How shall we, who have died to sin, still live in it? <sup>3</sup>Or do you not realize, that whoever of us have been baptized in union with Christ Jesus, were baptized in union with His death? <sup>4</sup>So we are jointly interred with Him in death<sup>j</sup> through the baptism in order that, just as Christ rose from the dead through the Father's glorious power, so we too shall conduct ourselves in a new way of living. <sup>5</sup>For if we have grown jointly with Him in experiencing a similar death, then the same must be true of our resurrection<sup>k</sup> with Him, <sup>6</sup>aware of this, that our old self has been jointly crucified with Him, so that the sin-controlled body might be devitalized and we no longer be slaves of sin. <sup>7</sup>For a corpse is considered guiltless of sin.<sup>l</sup>

<sup>8</sup>If, then, we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live together with Him, <sup>9</sup>well assured that Christ, once risen from the dead, shall not die any more; death holds lordship over Him no longer. <sup>10</sup>The death He died was once for all to sinfulness,<sup>m</sup> but the life He lives, He lives to God. <sup>11</sup>And similarly let us consider ourselves as actually dead to sinfulness, but in Christ Jesus living to God.

<sup>12</sup>Sin, then, must not be king in your mortal body, to have you yield to its passions, <sup>13</sup>neither must you offer the members of your body to serve sin as instruments of wickedness; but rather offer yourselves to God as living persons who rose from the dead, and present the members of your body to God as instruments of righteousness.<sup>n</sup> <sup>14</sup>Sin shall not be your master, for you are not governed by Law, but by grace.<sup>o</sup>

<sup>15</sup>Then what conclusion? Shall we sin because we are not governed by Law, but by grace? Be it far from us! <sup>16</sup>Do you not know that you are committed to obey as servants the one to whom you offer yourselves as obedient servants, whether that be to sin that leads to death, or to obedience that leads to righteousness? <sup>17</sup>But thanks be to God that, though you were servants of sin, you have become with all your hearts obedient to the standard of teaching to which you were introduced, <sup>18</sup>so that with deliverance from sin you were made bond-servants of righteousness.

<sup>19</sup>I speak in these human terms due to your human weakness. Just as you offered the members of your body in service of impurity in one lawlessness after another, so now offer your members in service of righteousness for holy living. <sup>20</sup>For when you were servants of sin, you were free from righteousness.<sup>p</sup> <sup>21</sup>And what good did you derive from things of which you are now ashamed? Death is their consequence. <sup>22</sup>But now, freed from sin and made servants of God, the good you derive leads to holiness<sup>q</sup> and the consequence is life eternal. <sup>23</sup>For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God in Christ Jesus our Lord is eternal life.

7 DO YOU NOT KNOW, BROTHERS, — for I address such as understand the Law — that the Law lords it over a person only during his lifetime? <sup>2</sup>The married woman is by law secured to the husband while he lives, but whenever the husband dies she is freed from the marriage law. <sup>3</sup>While her husband lives, she would be an adulteress in case she married another man, but if the husband dies, she is legally free and is no adulteress at all by joining another man.

<sup>4</sup>In similar way you, my brothers, have been deadened to the Law by means of the body of Christ, so as to belong to Another, to Him who was raised from the dead in order that we might yield God a harvest.<sup>r</sup> <sup>5</sup>For when we lived our mere earthly way, our sinful passions, aroused by the Law, were active in our bodily organs to yield death a harvest. <sup>6</sup>Now, however, we are released from the Law; we have been deadened to what once held us in its grip, so that now we serve in the new relationship of the spirit and not in the old relationship of literalness.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>7</sup>What, then, do we conclude? That the Law is sin? Far be it from our thoughts. Nevertheless, were it not for the Law, we would not know sin. For instance, I would not have known about covetousness had not the Law said, "Thou shalt not covet!"<sup>8</sup> But sin made that command a fulcrum that effected in me all sorts of covetousness. For without Law sin is unconscious.<sup>t</sup>

<sup>9</sup>I was once living in absence of a Law; but with the coming of the command, sin took on new life, — which to me meant death.<sup>10</sup> The command, that was aimed to give life, was found to mean death to me<sup>11</sup> because sin, by taking its incentive from the command, cheated me and killed me with it.<sup>u</sup>
<sup>12</sup>So then, the Law is holy and so is the command holy, just, and good.

<sup>13</sup>Did then what was good in itself become death to me? Not at all. Instead, it was sin that must be shown up as sin, by working fatally for me through something good, so that through the command sin might become immeasurably sinful.

<sup>14</sup>For we know that the Law is spiritual; but I am fleshly, sold under sin's control; <sup>15</sup>for I do not understand what I am working out. I practice not what I want to do but what I hate to do. <sup>16</sup>Now if I do what I do not want to do, I agree that the Law is good. <sup>17</sup>However, I am no longer the one who does the deed, but sin which is at home in me. <sup>18</sup>For I know that within me, that is within my flesh,<sup>v</sup> what is good is not at home; the personal will- ingness is there, but not the accom- plishing of what is commendable. <sup>19</sup>For I fail to do the good I want to do and I practice the bad I do not want to practice.

<sup>20</sup>But if I do what I have no desire to do, then I am no longer doing it myself, but rather sin<sup>w</sup> that makes it- self at home in me. <sup>21</sup>Consequently, I discover the Law by my willingness to do right, while wrong suggestions crowd in. <sup>22</sup>For in my inmost heart I admire God's Law; <sup>23</sup>but in my whole natural make-up I notice another law, battling against the principles which my reason dictates, and making me a prisoner to the law of sin that controls my bodily organs.

<sup>24</sup>Man of toils and troubles that I am, who will rescue me from this body doomed to death? <sup>25</sup>Thanks be to God because of Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, with my heart I serve God's Law, but my human nature is under sin's control.<sup>x</sup>

8 FOR THIS VERY REASON THERE IS now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus; (and behave in no flesh-governed way but in a spiritual way;) <sup>2</sup>for the life-giving principles of the Spirit have freed you in Christ Jesus from the control of the principles of sin and death. <sup>3</sup>For what the Law was unable to do, weakened as it was through the flesh,<sup>y</sup> that God did by sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and on account of sin; He condemned sin in human nature <sup>4</sup>so that the Law's rights might be completely met by us, who behave not in a fleshly but in a spiritual way.

<sup>5</sup>For those under control of the flesh are worldly minded, but those under control of the Spirit are spiritually minded, <sup>6</sup>and to be worldly-minded means death, while spiritual-minded- ness means life and peace. <sup>7</sup>Because worldly-mindedness is hostile to God; it is not submissive to God's Law; in fact it cannot be. <sup>8</sup>So, those controlled by the flesh are unable to please God.

the flesh, but by the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God is at home in you. If, on the other hand, anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ, he does not belong to Him. <sup>10</sup>But if Christ is in you, then the body is dead on account of sin, but the spirit is alive on account of righteousness. <sup>11</sup>If then the Spirit of Him who raised Jesus from the dead, dwells in you, then the Resurrector of Christ Jesus from the dead will through the Spirit that dwells in you make also your mortal bodies live.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>12</sup>It follows then, brothers, that we are obligated, but not to our earthly nature to live under its control; <sup>13</sup>for if you live in a fleshly way, death is in the offing. But if through the Spirit you put to death the practices<sup>a</sup> of the body, then you will live; <sup>14</sup>for as many as are guided by God's Spirit, they are sons of God. <sup>15</sup>Indeed, you received no spirit that would re-enslave you to fear; instead, you received the Spirit of sonship, by which we ejaculate, "Abba! Father!" <sup>16</sup>This Spirit bears witness jointly with our spirits that we are God's children; <sup>17</sup>but if children, then heirs too; in fact, God's heirs jointly with Christ, — presuming we suffer jointly, so that we may also enjoy glory jointly.

<sup>22</sup>For we know that the entire creation is to this day sighing and in throes in unison, <sup>23</sup>and not merely so, but we ourselves, who enjoy the Spirit's fruits that promise yet greater blessings, we, too, do sigh within ourselves as we await that right of sonship that involves our bodily redemption. <sup>24</sup>In this hope are we saved; but hope within sight is not hope, for who hopes for what he sees? <sup>25</sup>But if we hope for what we do not see, then we keep on patiently awaiting it.

<sup>26</sup>In similar way the Spirit joins in to help us in our weakness; for we do not know what and how we ought to pray, but the Spirit Himself intercedes on our behalf with sighs too deep for words.<sup>c</sup> <sup>27</sup>And the Searcher of hearts knows what the Spirit has in mind, for He pleads with God on behalf of saints. <sup>28</sup>But we know that for those who love God, for those called in agreement with His purpose, He cooperates in all things for what is good.

<sup>29</sup>Because those whom He knew beforehand, those He appointed beforehand to share the likeness of His Son, so that He might be the First-born among many brothers. <sup>30</sup>But whom He predestined, those He also called, and whom He called He also made righteous, and whom He made righteous those He also glorified.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>31</sup>Then what conclusion do we draw? If God is for us, then who is against us? <sup>32</sup>Who did not even spare His own Son but gave Him up on behalf of us all, what is to hinder His favoring us with everything along with Him? <sup>33</sup>Who will enter a charge against God's chosen? God is the Acquitter; <sup>34</sup>who is the condemner? Christ Jesus is He who died; what is more, who rose again; who is at God's right hand; who also pleads on our behalf.

<sup>35</sup>Who shall separate us from Christ's love? Affliction? Or distress? Or persecution? Or famine? Or destitution? Or danger? Or sword? <sup>36</sup>Just as it is written,<sup>e</sup> "On Thy account we are being killed all day long; we are considered sheep for slaughter." <sup>37</sup>But in all this we are more than conquerors through Him who loves us.

<sup>38</sup>For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor mighty ones, neither present nor future affairs, <sup>39</sup>neither powers of the heights nor of the depths, neither anything else created shall be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9 IN CHRIST I TELL THE TRUTH, I am not falsifying, as my conscience, fortified by the Holy Spirit, bears me witness, <sup>2</sup>when I say that I harbor in my heart intense grief and unceasing distress; <sup>3</sup>for I could wish myself banished from Christ for the sake of my brothers, my human kinsmen, <sup>4</sup>who are Israelites. Theirs are the sonship, the glorious Presence, <sup>5</sup>the covenants, the giving of the Law, the worship service and the promises. <sup>6</sup>Theirs are the fathers, and from them in human lineage sprang the Christ, He who is God over all, blessed forever. Amen.

<sup>10</sup>But this is not all; there is Rebecca as well. When she had conceived by our father Isaac, her one husband, <sup>11</sup>and before the children were born or had done anything good or bad, even then, in order that the purpose of God's choice might prevail, which rests not on works but on His calling, <sup>12</sup>it was told her, <sup>1</sup>"The older shall serve the younger." <sup>13</sup>As it is written, "To Jacob I was drawn, but Esau I repudiated."<sup>1</sup>

<sup>14</sup>Then what do we infer? That with God there is injustice? Perish the thought! <sup>15</sup>For He said to Moses, "I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will take pity on whom I will take pity." <sup>16</sup>So then, it is not a matter of man's willing or running, but of God's mercy. <sup>17</sup>As Scripture says to Pharaoh, <sup>k</sup>"For this very purpose I set you up high, to present in you the evidence of My power, so that My name may be famed over the whole earth." <sup>18</sup>So then, He pities whom He wills and He hardens whom He wills.

<sup>19</sup>Then you will ask me, "Why does He still complain; for who is resisting His will?" <sup>20</sup>O man! who are you, anyway, to talk back to God? The thing that is being moulded does not say to the moulder, "Why do you make me this way," does it? <sup>21</sup>Or does not the potter with the clay have the right to make from the same lump one utensil for noble use and another for ignoble use? <sup>22</sup>Then think of God, minded to show His indignation and to evidence His power, and yet with great patience enduring the agents that deserve wrath and are maturing for destruction, <sup>23</sup>so that He might make known the wealth of His glory to the recipients of mercy, whom previously He prepared for glory, <sup>24</sup>even us whom He has called not only from among the Jews but also from among the Gentiles.

<sup>25</sup>So, too, He says in Hosea, <sup>1</sup>"I will call 'My people' who were not My people, and her who was not loved, <sup>26</sup>'My beloved,' and in the place where it was said to them, 'Not My people!' there they shall be called sons of the living God." <sup>27</sup>Isaiah, too, exclaims regarding Israel,<sup>m</sup> "Even though the number of Israel's sons were as the sand of the sea, the remainder shall be saved; <sup>28</sup>(for He will finish the work and round it out in righteousness) for thoroughly and with dispatch the Lord will execute His decree on the earth." <sup>29</sup>As Isaiah further foretold,<sup>n</sup> "Unless the Lord of hosts had left us offspring, we would have become like Sodom and would have looked like Gomorrah."

<sup>30</sup>Then what is our inference? That Gentiles, who did not try to acquire righteousness, got hold of righteousness, that is, of the righteousness that comes through faith, <sup>31</sup>while Israel, pursuing a law for the securing of righteousness, failed to come up to it.<sup>o</sup> <sup>32</sup>And why? Because their principle was not faith, but works; they stumbled over the stone that occasions stumbling, <sup>33</sup>as it is written,<sup>p</sup> "See, I place in Zion a stumbling stone, a tripping rock, and the believer in Him shall not be shamed."

10 BROTHERS, THE KINDLY INTENT of my heart and my prayer to God for them is for their salvation; <sup>2</sup>for I will say for them, that they have enthusiasm for God, but not with correct understanding. <sup>3</sup>Ignorant of the righteousness that comes from God,<sup>q</sup> and trying to set up their own (righteousness) they have not submitted to the righteousness that is of God. <sup>4</sup>For Christ is to every believer the completion of the Law that brings righteousness.

<sup>5</sup>Moses does indeed describe Law-righteousness: "The man who practices it shall live by it." <sup>6</sup>Faith-righteousness, however, has this to say: "Do not say to yourself, 'Who shall ascend to heaven?' — which means, to bring Christ down; <sup>7</sup>or 'Who will descend into the depth?' which means, to bring up Christ from the grave."<sup>r</sup> <sup>3</sup>But what does it say? It is the message of faith, which we preach: <sup>9</sup>"If you confess with your lips the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved." <sup>10</sup>For with the heart one believes, so that he is made righteous, and with the mouth confession is made for salvation. <sup>11</sup>For the Scripture says,<sup>s</sup> "Whoever puts his trust in Him shall not be put to shame."

<sup>12</sup>There is then no distinction between Jew and Greek, for they all belong to the same Lord, all-sufficient for all who invoke Him; <sup>13</sup>for "Everyone who calls on the Lord's name shall be saved."<sup>t</sup>

<sup>14</sup>Now then, how shall they invoke Him in whom they have no faith? And how shall they believe in One of whom they have not heard? Again, how shall they listen without a preacher? <sup>15</sup>But how shall they preach unless they are sent? Just as it is written, "How lovely are the feet of those who publish the glad, good news!"<sup>u</sup>

<sup>16</sup>Not all, however, have listened to the Gospel, as Isaiah says, "Lord, who has believed our report?"<sup>v</sup> <sup>17</sup>Faith, then, results from hearing and hearing is through the message of Christ. <sup>18</sup>But I ask, have they not heard? Yes, indeed, "Their voice has gone forth over the whole earth and their words to the end of the world."<sup>w</sup> <sup>19</sup>I ask further, Did not Israel take note? To begin with, Moses says,<sup>x</sup> "I will make you jealous against what is no nation, and I will infuriate you against a senseless nation." <sup>20</sup>Then Isaiah boldly expressed it, "I have been found by those who did not seek Me; I have shown Myself to those who did not ask for Me."<sup>y</sup> <sup>21</sup>But to Israel He says,<sup>z</sup> "All day long I have held out My hands to an unyielding and contradicting people."

11 I SAY THEN, GOD HAS NOT REPUDIATED His people, has He? No, indeed! In fact, I am myself an Israelite, a descendant of Abraham and of Benjamin's tribe. <sup>2</sup>God has not repudiated His people whom beforehand He had in mind. Do you not know what the Scripture says in the Elijah incident, how he complains to God against Israel,<sup>a</sup> <sup>3</sup>"Lord, they have killed Thy prophets; they have razed Thine altars; I alone am left over and they are after my life?"

<sup>11</sup>I further say, their stumbling was not so that they might fall, was it? Not at all! Instead, through their misbehavior salvation has come to the Gentiles to arouse them to jealousy. <sup>12</sup>But if their misdemeanor means the world's enrichment, and their shortage is the Gentiles' gain, then how much more their full number!<sup>f</sup>

<sup>13</sup>But I tell you, Gentiles: for the very reason that I am an apostle to the Gentiles, I take pride in my ministry, <sup>14</sup>trying if possible to rouse my kin to jealousy and save some of them. <sup>15</sup>For if the rejection on their part means the world's reconciliation, what must their acceptance mean but life from the dead? <sup>16</sup>If the first piece of dough is dedicated, so is the whole mass, and if the root is dedicated, so are the branches.

<sup>17</sup>If some of the branches have been pruned away and you, a wild olive shoot, have been grafted in and are sharing the rich sap of the olive's root, <sup>18</sup>do not you boast against the branches, and if you do boast remember that you are not supporting the root; instead, the root supports you.

<sup>19</sup>You will reply, "The branches have been pruned away so that I may be grafted in." <sup>20</sup>Well said! Through lack of faith they were pruned away and through faith you keep in place. Be not haughty, but feel awe. <sup>21</sup>For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will He spare you. <sup>22</sup>So think of God's kindness and rigor,—on the one hand pruning applied to those who failed and on the other hand God's kindness to you, provided you keep on in His kindness; else you, too, will be cut away. <sup>23</sup>Besides, they, unless they go on in their unbelief, will be grafted in; for God is able to graft them in again. <sup>24</sup>And if you have been cut from a naturally wild olive tree and were grafted, contrary to nature, into a cultivated olive tree, then how much more readily shall these natural branches be grafted on their own original tree!<sup>g</sup>

<sup>25</sup>So that you might not be self-opinionated, brothers, I want you not to be ignorant of this secret: partial obtuseness has come over Israel until the full number of the Gentiles be entered in, <sup>26</sup>and thus all Israel shall be saved,<sup>h</sup> as it is written, "From Mount Zion a deliverer shall come; He will turn away ungodliness from Jacob, <sup>27</sup>and this is My covenant with them when I have taken away their sins."

<sup>28</sup>So far as the Gospel is concerned, they are enemies for your sakes;<sup>i</sup> but so far as the election is concerned they are beloved because of the fathers; <sup>29</sup>for God's gifts of grace and His call-

a) I Kings 19:10. b) Righteousness, but by their own behavior. c) Righteousness is God's gift. d) Isa. 29:10; Deut. 29:4. In each case retribution for willful disobedience. e) Ps. 69:22. f) The Jews' stubbornness drove Paul repeatedly to the Gentiles, but invariably Paul gave the Jews first chance because they had been favored.

g) As believers the Gentiles became "the children of Abraham."

h) This prophetic utterance inheres in the above suggestion of grafting. The promises of Ps. 14:7; Isa. 59:20 and 27:9 are claimed for Israel; it also asserts world evangelization.

i) Because of Jewish opposition, Gentiles were served sooner.

ing are irrevocable. <sup>30</sup>Just as you were once disobedient to God, but now have received mercy, thanks to their disobedience, <sup>31</sup>so they are now disobedient so that through the mercy you are enjoying they may now receive mercy. <sup>32</sup>For God has confined them all under the power of disobedience, so He might have mercy on them all.

<sup>34</sup>For who has understood the Lord's mind, or who has become His counselor? <sup>35</sup>Or who has advanced anything to Him and it shall be repaid him? <sup>36</sup>Because from Him, and through Him and to Him are all things. To Him be glory forever! Amen.

12 I BEG YOU, THEREFORE, BROTHERS, in view of God's mercies, that you present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God—your worship with understanding. <sup>2</sup>And do not conform to the present world scheme, but be transformed by a complete renewal of mind, so as to sense for yourselves what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God. <sup>3</sup>For through the grace that is granted me I warn each one among you not to value himself higher than he should, but to think in a humble way as God has measured out to each his portion of faith.

<sup>4</sup>For precisely as in one body we have many members, but not all the members have the same function, <sup>5</sup>so the many of us form one body in Christ, while each is related to all others as a member, <sup>6</sup>but possessed of varied talents according to the grace bestowed on us. If it is prophecy, it is in proportion to the measure of faith that God bestowed. <sup>7</sup>If it is practical service, then in such service: the teacher in his teaching; <sup>8</sup>the admonisher in his admonition; the contributor in his liberality; the leader in his deep interest; the practicer of charity work in genuine cheerfulness.<sup>1</sup>

13 LET EVERY PERSON RENDER obedience to the governing authorities, for there is no authority except from God and those in charge are divinely constituted, <sup>2</sup>so that the rebel against the authority is resisting God's appointment.<sup>m</sup> But such resisters will draw sentence on themselves.

<sup>3</sup>For magistrates are no dread to the person who does right; but to the wrongdoer. You do not want to fear the authority, do you? Do right, and you will earn its approval; <sup>4</sup>for it is God's agency for your welfare. But if

j) Saved by grace, we take part in kingdom service.

k) There must be no aiming at self-glorification.

l) Due to your well-doing, a burning sense of guilt for the wrong done to you.

m) Despite unworthy rulers such as Nero, the Christian must observe law and order. A particular administration may be so defective it must be changed, but government there must be.

you do wrong, then be alarmed; for it does not carry the sword without reason; it is God's agent to bring deserved punishment on the evildoer. <sup>5</sup>It behooves us, therefore, to be submissive not merely because of punishment, but also for conscience' sake.<sup>n</sup>

<sup>6</sup>For this reason you pay taxes; for they are God's agents that constantly attend to this task. <sup>7</sup>Pay all of them their dues: tax to whom tax is due; toll to whom toll is due; respect to whom respect is due, and honor to whom honor is due. <sup>8</sup>Owe no one anything except that you love one another; for the person who loves his neighbor has fulfilled the Law. <sup>9</sup>Because, "Do not commit adultery; do not kill; do not steal; do not covet," and whatever other commandment there is, it all heads up in one word, and that is, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." <sup>10</sup>Love works no harm to the neighbor, so love meets all the Law's requirements.

<sup>11</sup>Observe this in consideration of our times, because the hour has struck for us to wake up, for our salvation is now nearer than when we became believers. <sup>12</sup>The night is well advanced and the day approaches; so let us put off the works of darkness and let us put on the armor of the light. <sup>13</sup>Let us behave ourselves gracefully as befits the daytime,—not in carousing and drinking; not in prostitution and debauch; not in quarrel and jealousy. <sup>14</sup>Instead, be enveloped with the Lord Jesus Christ;<sup>o</sup> then you will not care to gratify the cravings of the flesh.

14 HOWEVER, WELCOME THE weak believer, and do not criticize his views. <sup>2</sup>One person has faith that allows him to eat everything, but a weaker one confines himself to vegetables.<sup>p</sup> <sup>3</sup>The eater should not feel contempt for the abstainer, nor should the abstainer censure the eater; for God has accepted him.<sup>q</sup> <sup>4</sup>Who are you to censure Another's servant? He will stand or fall with his own Master. But he will stand, for the Lord will enable him to stand.

<sup>5</sup>This person rates one day greater than another day, while that person rates all days alike. Each person should be convinced in his own mind. <sup>6</sup>He who observes the day, observes it with the Lord in view. So he who eats everything, eats with the Lord in mind; for he gives thanks to God. He who limits his eating, too, refrains for the Lord's sake and gives thanks to God.

<sup>7</sup>Because none of us lives to himself and no one dies to himself. <sup>8</sup>For in case we live, we live for the Lord and in case we die, we die as related to the Lord; so whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord.<sup>r</sup> <sup>9</sup>For this purpose Christ died (and rose) and became alive,—to be Lord both of the dead and of the living.

<sup>10</sup>But you, why do you find fault with your brother? Or you, why do you look down on your brother? For we shall all be placed at God's tribunal, <sup>11</sup>as it is written,<sup>s</sup> "As I live, says the Lord, to Me every knee shall bow and every tongue shall render acknowledgment to God." <sup>12</sup>Accordingly, every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

<sup>13</sup>So let us no longer censure one another; but let us rather decide this: Not to place a hindrance or a stumbling block in our brother's way. <sup>14</sup>In union with the Lord Jesus I know and am convinced that nothing is unclean in itself; it becomes unclean to the person who considers it unclean. <sup>15</sup>And yet, if your brother feels pained on account of your eating, then your behavior is no longer controlled by love. You would not by your eating ruin a person for whom Christ died, would you? <sup>16</sup>Do not then allow what is wholesome for you to become cause for reproach; <sup>17</sup>for the kingdom of God does not consist in eating and drinking, but in righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. <sup>18</sup>Whoever serves Christ this way affords pleasure to God and is approved by men.

<sup>19</sup>So then, let us definitely aim for everything that contributes to one another's peace and development. <sup>20</sup>Do not on account of food break down the work of God. While everything is clean, yet it is wrong for a man to eat what means a stumbling block. <sup>21</sup>It is well to eat no meat and to drink no wine, no, to do nothing that would make your brother stumble (or be offended or weakened).<sup>t</sup>

<sup>22</sup>You have faith? Have it personally in the presence of God. Happy the person who has no qualms of conscience in what he allows himself to do. <sup>23</sup>But the person who entertains doubts, and nevertheless eats, stands condemned, because he is not acting from faith, and every act that does not spring from faith is sin.

15 WE WHO ARE STRONG OUGHT to put on ourselves the weaknesses of those who lack strength.<sup>u</sup> <sup>2</sup>Instead of pleasing ourselves, each of us must please his neighbor for his welfare, to strengthen him. <sup>3</sup>For Christ, too, did not please Himself, but, as it is written,<sup>v</sup> "The abuses of those who abused you fell on Me."

<sup>4</sup>All those writings of long ago were written for our instruction, so that we by means of the steady and comforting power of the Scriptures might cherish hope. <sup>5</sup>And may the God of steadfastness and comfort grant you such mutual understanding in agreement with Christ Jesus <sup>6</sup>that unanimously as with one voice you shall praise the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>7</sup>Bid one another welcome, therefore,<sup>w</sup> just as Christ bade you welcome, to the glory of God. <sup>8</sup>For I say: Christ became a minister to the circumcised on behalf of God's truth, to verify the promises that had been made to our fathers, <sup>9</sup>and also that the Gentiles should praise God for His mercy, as it is written,<sup>x</sup> "For this I will give Thee praise among the Gentiles and sing psalms to Thy name." <sup>10</sup>And again it says, "Be glad, O Gentiles, together with His people," <sup>11</sup>and once more, "Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles, and greatly sing His praises, all you peoples." <sup>12</sup>Isaiah further says, "There shall be a sprout from Jesse, even He who shall stand up to rule the Gentiles; upon Him shall the Gentiles rest their hope."

<sup>13</sup>So may God, the fountain of hope, fill you with all joy and peace in your believing, so that you may enjoy overflowing hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.

<sup>14</sup>So far as my personal relationship to you is concerned, my brothers, I am convinced<sup>y</sup> that you are wonderfully goodhearted, amply furnished with knowledge, and competent to advise one another. <sup>15</sup>But I have undertaken to write you without reserve for the purpose to some degree of reminding you of the grace that God has granted me, <sup>16</sup>that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles, an active priest of the Gospel of God, whereby the Gentiles may become an acceptable offering, made holy by the Holy Spirit.

<sup>17</sup>In union with Christ Jesus, then, I take pride in some affairs related to God; <sup>18</sup>for I will not venture to speak of anything but what Christ has wrought through me toward persuading Gentiles by word and deed, <sup>19</sup>by the power of signs and wonders, and all by the power of the Holy Spirit, so that out from Jerusalem and all around as far as Illyricum,<sup>z</sup> I have in fullness preached the Gospel of Christ. <sup>20</sup>So I endeavored earnestly to preach only where the name of Christ was not yet known, in order not to build on the foundation of someone else, <sup>21</sup>but as it is written,<sup>a</sup> "Those who have never been told of Him shall see and those who never heard shall understand."

so frequently prevented from visiting you; <sup>23</sup>but now with no further engagements in these climes and with a longing extending over many years to visit you <sup>24</sup>whenever I might travel to Spain,<sup>b</sup> I do hope to see you with my own eyes on passing through, and to have an escort from you on the way, after first having enjoyed your fellowship for a while.

<sup>26</sup>Right now, though, I am on my way to Jerusalem<sup>c</sup> in a ministry for the saints; <sup>26</sup>for Macedonia and Achaia have decided to make some contribution for the needy among the Jerusalem saints. <sup>27</sup>So they have decided, and they certainly owe it to them; for if the Gentiles shared in their spiritual possessions, then they owe them their service in material things.

<sup>28</sup>This finished, and that donation securely made over to them, I will come by you on the way to Spain. <sup>29</sup>And I know that when I come to you I shall come in the abundant blessing (of the Gospel) of Christ.

<sup>30</sup>But I plead with you, brothers, for the sake of our Lord Jesus Christ and the love of the Spirit, that you agonize with me in your prayers to God on my behalf, <sup>31</sup>in order that I may be rescued from the unbelievers in Judea; also that my ministry to Jerusalem may be well received by the saints, <sup>32</sup>and that I may subsequently come to you with gladness by the will of God—and enjoy a good rest with you.<sup>d</sup> <sup>33</sup>And may the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

16 MAY I PRESENT TO YOU OUR sister Phoebe,<sup>e</sup> a deaconess of the Cenchreae church, <sup>2</sup>so that you may receive her in Christ's name as saints deserve, and that you may assist her in whatever matter she may need you; for she has been an assistant to many, including myself.

<sup>3</sup>Give my greetings to Priscilla and Aquila, my fellow workers in Christ

Jesus, <sup>4</sup>who risked their own necks to save my life,<sup>f</sup> and to whom not only I but all the churches of the Gentiles feel grateful. <sup>5</sup>And include the church that meets in their house.<sup>g</sup>

My greetings to my dear Epaphroditus, the first convert to Christ in Asia.<sup>h</sup> <sup>6</sup>Greet Mary, who went through much trouble for you. <sup>7</sup>Greet my kinsmen and fellow prisoners Andronicus and Junias; they have a good name among the apostles and were Christians before I was one.

<sup>8</sup>Greetings to Amplias, my dear friend in the Lord. <sup>9</sup>Greet Urbanus, our fellow worker in Christ, and my dear Stachys. <sup>10</sup>Remember me to Apelles, the tried and true in Christ, and to those of Aristobulus' family. <sup>11</sup>Greet my kinsman Herodion. Greet those of Narcissus' household that are in the Lord.

<sup>12</sup>My greetings to those strenuous Christian workers Tryphæna and Tryphosa. Greet that dear Persis,—unwearied worker that she is in the Lord. <sup>13</sup>Greetings to Rufus,<sup>i</sup> the chosen in the Lord, and to his mother, who is mine as well.

<sup>17</sup>But I warn you, brothers, to keep an eye on those who cause splits and obstacles, quite out of harmony with the doctrine you have been taught, and to keep away from them. <sup>18</sup>For people of that type do not serve our Lord Christ, but their own appetites, and by means of ingratiating talk and flattery they deceive the minds of the unsuspecting.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS

From Ephesus, spring of 57 A.D.

1 PAUL, CALLED BY THE WILL OF God<sup>a</sup> to be an apostle of Christ Jesus, and brother Sosthenes, <sup>2</sup>to the church of God at Corinth, those made holy in Christ Jesus and called to be saints,<sup>b</sup> together with all who in every place invoke the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, their Lord as well as ours. <sup>3</sup>Grace and peace to you from God our Father and from our Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>4</sup>Daily do I thank my God for you for the divine grace that has through Christ Jesus been granted you; <sup>5</sup>for in Him you have in every respect been enriched, with full power of expression and with adequate knowledge.<sup>c</sup> <sup>6</sup>In this way our witnessing of Christ has been confirmed in you, <sup>7</sup>so that you are falling behind in no Christian grace, while awaiting the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>8</sup>And He will establish you to the finish, so that no blame may be yours at the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>9</sup>God is reliable, through whom you were invited into the companionship of our Lord Jesus Christ, His Son.

<sup>10</sup>But in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ I beg of you, brothers, all to speak harmoniously, to eliminate factions among you<sup>d</sup> and to be agreeable mutually in mind and attitude. <sup>11</sup>For the Chloe family reports to me about you, my brothers, that there are wranglings among you. <sup>12</sup>I mean that each of you either says, "Paul certainly is my leader," or "But Apollos is mine," or "But Cephas is mine," or "But Christ is mine." <sup>13</sup>Is Christ dismembered? Paul was not crucified for you, was he? Or were you baptized in Paul's name?

<sup>14</sup>I am thankful to have baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, <sup>15</sup>so that none of you may claim baptism in my name. <sup>16</sup>O yes, I baptized the Stephanas family, too; but I do not remember baptizing anyone else. <sup>17</sup>For Christ sent me out, not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel and that not with verbal eloquence, so that the cross of Christ may not be emptied.

<sup>18</sup>For the message of the cross seems folly to those on their way to destruction, but to us, the saved, it is God's power, <sup>19</sup>as it is written, "I will render useless the wisdom of the learned and set aside the keenness of the sagacious!"<sup>e</sup> <sup>20</sup>What room is there for the philosopher or for the scholar<sup>f</sup> or for the investigator in secular affairs? Has not God shown the folly of worldly wisdom? In this way: <sup>21</sup>Inasmuch as in God's providence the world failed to know God by means of its wisdom, God was pleased to save the believers through the folly of the proclamation.<sup>g</sup> <sup>22</sup>And while Jews request signs and

a) Not ordained with the others during Christ's ministry. b) As he to apostleship.
c) Paul had "approach." He knew how to get his readers in an appreciative mood.
d) Factions were the fashion among Greeks of that time. e) Isa. 29:14.
f) The Greek philosopher or the Jewish scribe.
g) We can know God only insofar as He reveals Himself.

Greeks search for wisdom, <sup>23</sup>we on our part preach the crucified Christ; an obstacle to the Jews and folly to the Gentiles, <sup>24</sup>but to the called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ, God's power and God's wisdom. <sup>25</sup>Because the folly that has its source in God surpasses human wisdom and the weakness that springs from God surpasses human strength.

<sup>26</sup>Simply consider your own call, brothers; not many of you were wise, humanly speaking, nor many mighty, nor many of nobility; <sup>27</sup>but God has chosen the world's unschooled to shame the learned; and God has chosen the weak in the world to shame the strong. <sup>28</sup>God also has chosen the world's low-born and contemptibles and nobodies in order to annihilate what amounts to something, <sup>29</sup>so that all humanity may be boastless in the presence of God.

<sup>30</sup>But from Him you have your existence in Christ Jesus, who became for us divine wisdom and righteousness and holiness and redemption, <sup>31</sup>so that as has been written, "Let the boaster boast in the Lord."<sup>a</sup>

2 SO WHEN I CAME TO YOU, BROTHERS, I came with no distinction of eloquence or of wisdom, when I announced to you God's testimony; <sup>2</sup>for I wanted to know nothing in your midst except Jesus Christ and Him crucified. <sup>3</sup>And I was personally before you with a sense of weakness, with fear and considerable trepidation.

<sup>4</sup>My message and my preaching were not clothed in persuasive, learned oratory, but rather in evidence of Spirit and power, <sup>5</sup>so that your faith might not rest on human wisdom but on divine strength.

<sup>6</sup>We do, indeed, express wisdom among the mature, but neither the wisdom of this world nor of the rulers of this world, whose career is over. <sup>7</sup>Instead, we give expression to divine wisdom that is hidden as a mystery,<sup>1</sup> which God before all time designed for our glory. <sup>8</sup>None of this world's rulers has understood it, for had they understood, they would never have crucified the LORD of glory. <sup>9</sup>But as it is written, "What no eye has seen, what no ear has heard, neither has it come up in the human heart, that has God made ready for those who love Him."<sup>1</sup>

<sup>10</sup>Through the Spirit, however, God has revealed it to us; for the Spirit examines everything, even the deep things of God. <sup>11</sup>For among men who knows a person's thoughts, except the man's own inner spirit? Similarly, no one knows the thoughts of God, except the Spirit of God. <sup>12</sup>And we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit that comes from God in order that we may realize the graces that have come to us from God.

<sup>13</sup>Of these matters we make mention, not in speeches taught by human wisdom, but in words taught by the Spirit — spiritual language for spiritual things. <sup>14</sup>But the worldly-minded person does not accept things of the divine Spirit; to him they are folly and he cannot understand them, because they are estimated from a spiritual standpoint. <sup>15</sup>The spiritual person, on the other hand, judges the value of everything, while he is properly valued by none.<sup>k</sup> <sup>16</sup>For who has mastered the Lord's mind well enough to instruct Him? But our thoughts are those of Christ.

3 SO I WAS NOT IN POSITION, BROTHERS, to speak to you as to spiritual persons, but as to worldlings, as to babes in Christ. <sup>2</sup>I gave you milk to drink, not solid food, because you were not yet strong enough. Neither, in fact, are you strong enough now, <sup>3</sup>for you are still of a worldly attitude. Insofar as you entertain jealousy and quarreling, are you not worldly-minded and do you not behave like the unconverted? <sup>4</sup>When one says, "I hold with Paul," and another, "I with Apollos," are you not unchanged men? <sup>5</sup>Who is Apollos, anyway, and who is Paul, but ministers through whom, as the Lcrd gave each his task, you came to believe? <sup>6</sup>I did the planting; Apollos did the watering; but God caused the growth; <sup>7</sup>so that neither the planter nor the waterer deserves credit, but God the Grower.

<sup>8</sup>The planter and the waterer, however, work as one, while each will receive his own pay in agreement with his particular labor. <sup>9</sup>For we are God's cooperators. You are God's farmland; you are the building God is constructing. <sup>10</sup>Due to the grace of God which has been granted me, I have, as a skilled architect, laid a foundation on which another builds, and let each look out how he does the building! <sup>11</sup>For none is able to lay another foundation than the one already laid, which is Jesus Christ.

<sup>12</sup>In case one builds on this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble,<sup>1</sup> <sup>13</sup>each one's work will come to evidence, for the Day will bring it to light; by fire it shall be revealed. Of whatever quality each one's work may be, the fire will test it. <sup>14</sup>In case one's construction survives, he will receive pay. <sup>15</sup>In case one's work is burned down, he will be the loser; though personally he will be saved, yet only as passing through fire.<sup>m</sup>

<sup>16</sup>Do you not know that you are God's temple and that the Spirit of God dwells in you?<sup>n</sup> <sup>17</sup>If anyone ruins the temple of God, God will ruin him; for the temple of God is holy, and such are you.

<sup>21</sup>Let none, therefore, exult in men, for everything is yours, <sup>22</sup>whether Paul or Apollos, or Cephas, or the universe, or life, or death, or present things or future things, they are all yours, <sup>23</sup>while you are Christ's and Christ is God's.

4 <sup>1</sup>THEY SHOULD CONSIDER US AS servants of Christ and stewards of God's mysteries. <sup>2</sup>The prime requisite of stewards is fidelity. <sup>3</sup>To me it is of least importance to be judged by you or by any human court; nor do I even judge myself, <sup>4</sup>for I am not cleared because I am unconscious of wrong on my part. The One who judges me is the Lord. <sup>5</sup>So do not you pass premature judgment before the Lord comes, who shall bring to light the things hidden by darkness and shall reveal the inner motives. Then shall each one experience his due approval from God.

<sup>6</sup>These suggestions, brothers, I have for your sakes applied to myself and to Apollos, so that from our experience you may learn this: nothing beyond what is written,<sup>o</sup>—so you may not be arrogantly for one teacher against the other. <sup>7</sup>For who has made you distinguished? What have you that you have not received? But if you received it, why do you boast as if it were not received? <sup>8</sup>Are you already filled? Are you already rich? Are you without us on the throne? How I wish you had a kingdom, so we might reign with you!

<sup>9</sup>It seems that God has appointed us apostles last, as designed for death, for we have become an exhibition to the universe, to angels as well as to men. <sup>10</sup>On Christ's account we are fools, but in Christ you are intelligent; we are weaklings, but you are powerful. You enjoy honor, but we are despised.<sup>p</sup>

<sup>11</sup>Up to this very hour we are hungry and thirsty; we are ill-clothed, manhandled and homeless; <sup>12</sup>we toil to exhaustion with our own hands. Being slandered, we bless; being persecuted, we patiently endure; <sup>13</sup>being defamed, we bring comfort. To this moment we are considered the scum of the earth, the scrapings of everyone's feet.

<sup>14</sup>I do not write these things to shame you, but to advise you as my dear children. <sup>15</sup>For if you had a myriad of tutors in Christ, you nevertheless have not many fathers; because in Christ Jesus I became your father by means of the Gospel. <sup>16</sup>Hence my suggestion to you is that you imitate me. <sup>17</sup>For this reason I have sent you Timothy, my loved and faithful son in the Lord, who will remind you of my principles of behavior in Christ Jesus, such as I teach everywhere in each church.<sup>q</sup>

<sup>18</sup>Some have grown inflated with pride, as though I were not coming to you. <sup>19</sup>But, the Lord willing, I shall come to you shortly, and then learn, not the words of those conceited persons, but their force; <sup>20</sup>for the kingdom of God is not a matter of words, but of power.

<sup>21</sup>Which do you want? Shall I come to you to punish, or in love and in a spirit of gentleness?

5 IMMORALITY AMONG YOU IS POPULARLY reported, and that of a kind which does not occur among the Gentiles, — that a man has his father's wife.<sup>r</sup> <sup>2</sup>And you, instead of feeling sorry enough about it to remove the person who committed such a deed, are you still puffed up? <sup>3</sup>As for me, present in spirit although absent in body, I have already, as if present, passed sentence on the one who thus behaved, by the authority of the Lord Jesus, to this effect, that we meet together, you and my spirit<sup>s</sup> <sup>4</sup>with power of our Lord Jesus, <sup>5</sup>to hand over such a one to Satan for the ruin of the flesh<sup>t</sup> in order that the spirit may be saved on the day of the Lord Jesus.

<sup>6</sup>Your boasting is not admirable. Are you not aware that a little yeast leavens

the whole batch? <sup>7</sup>Purge out the old leaven, so you will be a fresh batch. You are in fact unleavened, for our Passover Lamb has been sacrificed (for us), even Christ. <sup>8</sup>Let us therefore celebrate, not with use of old yeast, certainly not with yeast of malice and vice, but with unfermented batches of purity and truth.

<sup>9</sup>I wrote you in that letter,<sup>u</sup> not to associate with the unchaste; <sup>10</sup>not that in a public way you must avoid the unchaste of this world, or the avaricious and grasping, or the idolatrous, for then you must get out of the world altogether. <sup>11</sup>So I write you now, that if a pretended brother is lewd or greedy or idolatrous or abusive or a drinker or a robber, you must not get intimate with him, nor even eat with one of that type.

<sup>12</sup>What business of mine is it to judge outsiders? Do you not have those within the church to judge? <sup>13</sup>But outsiders God will judge. Expel that wicked person from your own company.

6 WOULD ONE WHO HAS A CASE against someone else go so far as to seek judgment before a pagan court and not before the saints? <sup>2</sup>Are you not aware that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is committed to your judgment, do you not deserve to be judges of minor matters? <sup>3</sup>Do you not know that we shall judge angels, not to mention affairs of this life?<sup>v</sup>

<sup>4</sup>When, however, you do have a court-case of "mine and thine," do you appoint for judges those in the church who have no standing? <sup>5</sup>I say this to shame you: is there really not a single wise person among you who is capable of deciding between brothers, <sup>6</sup>instead of one brother going to law against another brother and that before unbelievers?

<sup>7</sup>It means loss to you at every point when you have lawsuits among yourselves. Why do you not rather suffer injustice; why not rather be defrauded?<sup>8</sup> Instead, you impose injustice and practice fraud and that on brothers.

<sup>9</sup>Do you not know that dishonest people shall not fall heir to God's kingdom? Be not misled; neither profligates, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor partakers in homosexuality, <sup>10</sup>nor thieves, nor the avaricious, nor drunkards, nor slanderers, nor robbers shall inherit God's kingdom. <sup>11</sup>And some of you were just that; but you were washed and you were made holy and you were made righteous by the power of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God.

<sup>12</sup>Everything is permitted me, but not everything is beneficial. Although everything is allowed me, I will not be mastered by anything. <sup>13</sup>Food for the stomach and the stomach for food, but God will end both of them. The body is not for lust, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body, <sup>14</sup>and as God raised up the Lord, so will He resurrect us through His power.

<sup>15</sup>Are you not aware that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ to make them members of a prostitute? No, never! <sup>16</sup>Or do you not know that one who unites with a prostitute is one body with her? For "The two," He says, "shall become one flesh." <sup>17</sup>But he who unites with the Lord is one spirit with Him.

<sup>18</sup>Shun unchastity. All other sin a person commits outside the body, but the unchaste sins against his own body. <sup>19</sup>Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, which you have from God, and that you do not belong to yourselves? <sup>20</sup>For you were bought and paid for; then give God the glory with your body.

7 TO COME TO THE SUBJECTS OF your correspondence,<sup>x</sup> it is well for a man to let the woman alone; <sup>2</sup>but because of prevailing immorality<sup>y</sup> let every man have his own wife and every woman her own husband. <sup>3</sup>The husband must render to his wife the obligations that are due her, and similarly the wife to the husband. <sup>4</sup>The wife has no exclusive control over her own body, due to the husband, and just so has the husband no exclusive control over his own body, due to the wife.

<sup>5</sup>Do not deprive each other, except by mutual agreement for a time to devote yourselves unhindered to prayer, and come together again, so that Satan may not tempt you on account of your lack of self-control.

<sup>6</sup>I say this by way of concession; not as a regulation. <sup>7</sup>I wish all men had my own attitude; but each person has his own gift from God, the one in this direction, the other in that.

<sup>8</sup>To the single and the widows I suggest that it is well for them to remain as I am; <sup>9</sup>but if they cannot restrain their passions, let them marry, for it is better to marry than to be consumed by passion.

<sup>10</sup>To the married couples I announce,—not really I but the Lord,—that the wife must not leave her husband, <sup>11</sup>and in case she does separate, she must either stay single or make up with her husband. And a husband must not divorce his wife.

<sup>15</sup>In case the nonbeliever wants to separate, let there be separation; the brother or the sister is under such circumstances not tied down. But God has called you to enjoy peace. <sup>16</sup>For how do you know, O wife, whether you will save your husband, or how do you know, O husband, whether you will save your wife?

<sup>17</sup>Certainly, as the Lord has assigned to each, as God has given each his calling, so keep on conducting yourselves; and this is my ruling in all the churches. <sup>18</sup>Was a circumcised person called? Let him not efface it. Was an uncircumcised person called? Let him not be circumcised. <sup>19</sup>Circumcision has no value, neither has noncircumcision;<sup>a</sup> but the observance of God's directions does count.

<sup>20</sup>Let each one stay in the vocation in which he received the call. <sup>21</sup>Were you a slave when called? Do not let that worry you; but if you can gain freedom, you should avail yourself of the chance. <sup>22</sup>It comes to this: The slave who is called in unison with the Lord is the Lord's freedman; similarly is the called freeborn a slave of Christ.<sup>b</sup> <sup>23</sup>You were dearly bought; do not become slaves to men. <sup>24</sup>Brothers, let each remain in the presence of God in the vocation to which he was called.

<sup>25</sup>Regarding the virgins I have no divine injunction; but as one who has received mercy from the Lord to be trustworthy, <sup>26</sup>I give my opinion. I consider, then, that in view of the impending distress it is well for a person to remain in his present situation. <sup>27</sup>Are you united to a wife? Do not seek release. Are you unattached to a woman? Do not seek a wife. <sup>28</sup>But in case you marry, you do not sin; nor does the virgin sin if she marries. Such, however, will experience physical trouble, and I would spare you that.

<sup>29</sup>I tell you this, brothers: the time has been shortening. From now on let those who have wives behave as if they had none, <sup>30</sup>and the mourners as if they were not mourning, and the joyful as if they did not rejoice; those who purchase as if they were not possessors, <sup>31</sup>and those who make use of the world as if they had no use for it;<sup>c</sup> because the present world order is transitory, <sup>32</sup>and I would have you unworried.

The single person is concerned with the Lord's affairs, how to please the Lord; <sup>33</sup>but the married person is concerned with things of the world, how to please the wife; he has divided interests. <sup>34</sup>As for the wife and the virgin, the unmarried woman is interested in the Lord's affairs, to be dedicated in body and spirit; but the married woman is concerned with things of the world, how she may please her husband.

<sup>35</sup>I mention this for your own interest, not to throw a noose over you, but to promote choice behavior and undisturbed devotion to the Lord. <sup>36</sup>If someone thinks he is not acting properly toward his virgin<sup>d</sup> in case she is passing the bloom of youth, and circumstances render it suitable, let him do as he pleases; it is no sin for them to marry. <sup>37</sup>But he whose mind stands firm and who is under no compulsion, who has power over his own will and has determined in his own heart to preserve his virgin as a virgin, is doing right. <sup>38</sup>So then, he who marries his virgin does well, and he who does not marry her does better.

<sup>39</sup>A wife is bound to her husband (by the law) as long as he lives; but in case her husband dies, she is free to marry whom she pleases,—only in a Christian way. <sup>40</sup>It is my judgment, however, that she will enjoy life better by remaining single. And I think that I, too, have God's Spirit.

8 RELATIVE TO FOOD THAT HAS BEEN offered to idols: we presuppose that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but love builds up. <sup>2</sup>If anyone fancies he knows anything, he does not yet understand as he should; <sup>3</sup>but if anyone loves God, that person is known to Him.

<sup>4</sup>Relative, then, to the food that has been dedicated to idols, we know that no idol really exists; that there is no

God but one. <sup>5</sup>In case there are so-called gods either in heaven or on earth,—such as there are gods many and lords many,<sup>e</sup> — <sup>6</sup>yet for us there exists one God, the Father, from whom all things come and who is our goal; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom all things exist and through whom we are.

<sup>7</sup>This knowledge, however, does not rest with everyone. There are those so accustomed thus far to think in terms of idols, that they eat food as offered to idols,<sup>f</sup> and their conscience, weak as it is, becomes contaminated.

<sup>8</sup>Of course, food does not recommend us to God; we are none the better for eating, nor any the worse for not eating; <sup>9</sup>but make sure that this mastery of yours does not become a hindrance to those who do not stand firm.

<sup>10</sup>For if someone sees you, with your right understanding, reclining at table in an idol temple, will not his conscience, uncertain as it is, be emboldened so that he will eat food offered to idols? <sup>11</sup>In consequence, this weak brother, on whose behalf Christ died, is ruined by your enlightenment. <sup>12</sup>But as you thus sin against your brothers and hurt their weak consciences, you sin against Christ. <sup>13</sup>Therefore, if my eating causes my brother to stumble, I shall eat no meat forever, so that my brother shall not be tripped up.<sup>g</sup>

9 AM I NOT FREE? AM I NOT AN apostle? Have I not seen our Lord Jesus? Are you not my work in the Lord? <sup>2</sup>If to others I am not an apostle, I certainly am to you; for in the Lord you are my certificate of apostleship. <sup>3</sup>My reply to those who investigate me is this: <sup>4</sup>Do not we have the right to eat and to drink? <sup>5</sup>Do not we have the right to take along a Christian wife with us on our travels as the other apostles do, and the Lord's brothers, and Cephas? <sup>6</sup>Or, are only Barnabas and I not entitled to freedom from manual labor?<sup>h</sup>

<sup>7</sup>Who serves as a soldier at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard and does not eat its fruit? Or who herds a flock and does not enjoy its milk? <sup>8</sup>Am I saying this purely from a human standpoint, or does not the Law mention these matters? <sup>9</sup>For in the Law of Moses it is written,<sup>i</sup> "You must not muzzle a threshing ox." Is God thinking in terms of oxen, <sup>10</sup>or does He speak altogether on our behalf? For our sakes it is written, because the plowman ought to plow in hope and the thresher thresh in expectation of his share.

<sup>11</sup>Inasmuch as we have sown spiritual seeds for you, is it remarkable for us to reap material benefits from you? <sup>12</sup>Since others enjoy the right to share with you, is not our title greater? True, we did not avail ourselves of this right; instead, we keep everything in the background so that we may furnish no obstacle to the Gospel of Christ.

<sup>13</sup>Are you not aware that those who conduct the temple service make their living from the temple, and that those who tend the altar share in the altar gifts? <sup>14</sup>In similar way the Lord directed that those who preach the Gospel should live from the Gospel. <sup>15</sup>But I have not availed myself of any of these rights; nor am I writing this to have it so realized on my part. I would rather die than have anyone rob me of this source of honor.

<sup>16</sup>For preaching the Gospel I claim no glory, for the urge is upon me. It is woe<sup>j</sup> to me if I do not preach the Gospel! <sup>17</sup>Doing this willingly is my reward; but if compulsory, it is an office with which I am entrusted. <sup>18</sup>What then is my compensation? This, that in preaching I may offer the Gospel without cost; that I do not exploit my privileges that inhere in the Gospel.

<sup>19</sup>Although I am free from every one, I have enslaved myself to all of them in order to win a larger number. <sup>20</sup>To the Jews I behave as a Jew to win Jews; to those under the Law as one under the Law,—although I am not under the Law,—to gain those under the Law. <sup>21</sup>To those without Law I am as without Law—although not lawless toward God but committed to Christ's Law—in order to win those without Law. <sup>22</sup>For the weak I have become weak to win the weak. I have become everything to everybody so that by all means I may save some.<sup>k</sup> <sup>23</sup>But I do it all to advance the Gospel, so that I may have a share in it (with you).

<sup>24</sup>Do you not know that those racing in the stadium all run, to be sure, but one receives the prize? So run your race that you may win it. <sup>25</sup>But whoever enters the contest, practices temperance in every detail; he, indeed, to receive a perishable, but we for an imperishable crown.

<sup>26</sup>Accordingly, I run that way, not without a goal; I box that way, not punching the air. <sup>27</sup>But I discipline my body and make it serve me, so that, while heralding to others, I may not myself be disqualified.

10 LET ME REMIND YOU, BROTHERS, that although our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea, <sup>2</sup>and all as companions of Moses were baptized by the cloud and the sea,<sup>1</sup> <sup>3</sup>and all ate the same spiritual food <sup>4</sup>and drank the same spiritual drink—for they drank from the attending spiritual rock, which rock was Christ—<sup>m</sup> <sup>5</sup>nevertheless God was not pleased with the majority of them; for they were struck down in the desert.

<sup>6</sup>These things occurred as examples for us, so that we may not lust after evil as they lusted. <sup>7</sup>Neither be idol-worshipers as some of them were, as it is written, "The people sat down to eat and to drink and got up to dance."<sup>n</sup> <sup>8</sup>Neither should we commit lewdness as some of them committed lewdness, when twenty-three thousand fell in one day.<sup>o</sup> <sup>9</sup>Neither should we become a trial to the Lord as some of them became a trial, and were destroyed by serpents.<sup>p</sup> <sup>10</sup>Do not grumble, either, as some of them grumbled, and they were put out of the way by the destroyer.<sup>q</sup>

<sup>11</sup>These experiences came to them as a lesson for us and were written as a warning to us, to whom the end of the age is imminent.<sup>r</sup> <sup>12</sup>Therefore let him, who feels sure of standing firm, beware of falling. <sup>13</sup>No temptation beyond human resistance has laid hold on you, and God is reliable, who will not permit you to be tempted beyond your ability, but will at the time of temptation provide a way out, so that you will be able to stand it. <sup>14</sup>For this reason, my dear friends, keep clear from idolatry.

<sup>15</sup>I appeal to your intelligence; judge for yourselves what I suggest. <sup>16</sup>Is not the blessed cup, which we consecrate, a fellowship in the blood of Christ? Is not the bread we break a fellowship in the body of Christ? <sup>17</sup>The many of us are one bread, one body, since we all participate in the one bread.

<sup>18</sup>Observe those physically the people of Israel! Are not those who eat the sacrifice sharers of the altar? <sup>19</sup>What then is my suggestion? That an idol offering amounts to anything, or that the idol itself is anything? <sup>20</sup>No, but that what they sacrifice, they are offering to demons and not to God, and I do not want you to fellowship with demons. <sup>21</sup>You cannot drink the Lord's cup and a demon's cup. You cannot participate in the Lord's table and in a demon's table. <sup>22</sup>Or shall we provoke the Lord to indignation? Are we mightier than He?

k) Waiving personal rights was his daily Christian practice.

l) Abandoning Egypt they committed themselves to God under Moses' leadership.

p) Num. 21:4-6. q) Num. 16:41. r) Of the Messianic Age.

s) Not everything allowed is helpful.

<sup>27</sup>In case an unbeliever invites you<sup>t</sup> and you wish to go, eat whatever is served you, without making conscientious inquiries; <sup>28</sup>but if someone informs you, "This is idol-offered food," then do not eat it, due to the one who reminded you and due to conscience, —<sup>29</sup>I mean not your own but the other person's conscience; for why should my freedom be arraigned before another person's conscience?<sup>u</sup> <sup>30</sup>When I partake with gratitude, why should I be denounced on account of that for which I give thanks? <sup>31</sup>So, whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all to the glory of God.

<sup>32</sup>So behave that you cause neither the Jews, nor the Greeks, nor the church of God to stumble, <sup>33</sup>just as I myself please everyone in every way, not seeking my own advantage, but that of the many, in order that they may be saved.

11 IMITATE ME, AS I IMITATE Christ. <sup>2</sup>I commend you for remembering me in everything, and for observing the suggestions I transmitted to you; <sup>3</sup>but I want you to understand that Christ is the head of every man; that the man is the woman's head, and God the head of Christ. <sup>4</sup>Any man who has his head covered while praying or prophesying dishonors his head; <sup>5</sup>but any woman who has her head uncovered while praying or prophesying dishonors her head, for it is the same as if she were shaved. <sup>6</sup>If a woman is not veiled,<sup>v</sup> let her hair be cut; but if it is disgraceful for a woman to have the hair cut or to be shaved, then let her be veiled.

token of authority on her head, due to the angels.<sup>w</sup> <sup>11</sup>Besides, in the Lord there is no woman without a man, nor a man without a woman, <sup>12</sup>for just as the woman is out of the man, so the man is through the woman, and they all have their origin from God.

<sup>17</sup>I must announce this, however, that I do not approve of your coming together not for your good but to your hurt. <sup>18</sup>For in the first place, I hear that as you meet in church session there are factions among you, and to some extent I believe it. <sup>19</sup>Indeed, there have to be dissensions among you, so that the tried and true may be recognized among you.

<sup>20</sup>So when you meet, you do not come to eat the Lord's Supper;<sup>y</sup> <sup>21</sup>for each prepares his own supper personally to eat it, so that this one stays hungry and that one imbibes too freely. <sup>22</sup>Do you not have homes for your eating and drinking? Or have you no respect for the church of God, and would you humiliate those who have nothing? What shall I tell you? Shall I commend you? Of this I do not approve.

<sup>23</sup>For I have received from the Lord<sup>z</sup> what I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus, in the night in which He was betrayed, took bread, <sup>24</sup>and when He had given thanks He broke it and said, "(Take, eat) This is my body, broken on your behalf; this do in remembrance of Me." <sup>25</sup>Similarly also (He took) the cup after they had supped, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in My blood. This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me." <sup>26</sup>For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you shall proclaim the Lord's death till He comes.

<sup>27</sup>Whoever, therefore, eats the bread, or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner, is a violator of the Lord's body and blood. <sup>28</sup>But let a person have a self-examination and in that spirit eat of the bread and drink from the cup; <sup>29</sup>for whoever eats and drinks without due appreciation of the body (of Christ), eats and drinks to his own condemnation. <sup>30</sup>For this reason many among you are invalid and sickly, and quite a number have fallen asleep.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>31</sup>If, however, we scrutinized ourselves, then we should not be sentenced. <sup>32</sup>And the judgments from the Lord serve to discipline us, so that we may not be condemned with the world. <sup>33</sup>Accordingly, my brothers, when you come together for the eating, wait for one another. <sup>34</sup>If anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, so that your meeting may not lead to judgment. The rest I will arrange on my arrival.

12 I DO NOT WANT TO LEAVE YOU in the dark, brothers, about the spiritual endowments. <sup>2</sup>You know how in your days of paganism you were thoughtlessly drawn away after dumb idols. <sup>3</sup>I therefore declare to you that no one who says, "Jesus be cursed!" is speaking by the Spirit of God; neither is any one able to say, "Jesus is Lord,"<sup>b</sup> except in the Holy Spirit.

<sup>4</sup>There are distinctive gifts of grace, but the same Spirit, <sup>5</sup>and there are distinctive ministries, yet the same Lord. <sup>6</sup>There also are varieties of things accomplished, but the same God does all the energizing in them all.

<sup>7</sup>To each is granted the evidence of the Spirit for the common welfare: <sup>8</sup>to one person is given by the Spirit a message of wisdom and to another the word of understanding it in agreement with the same Spirit; <sup>9</sup>to a third faith is granted by the same Spirit; to yet another the graces of healing by the one Spirit; <sup>10</sup>to another miraculous powers; to this one prophecy, to that one discrimination between spirits, to a third variety of tongues, and to yet another the ability to interpret tongues. <sup>11</sup>All these abilities one and the same Spirit energizes, distributing to each individual exactly as He pleases.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>12</sup>For just as the body is single and has many members, while all the numerous parts of the body compose a single body, so it is with Christ,<sup>d</sup> <sup>13</sup>For by one Spirit we have all been baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether slaves or free, and we have all been imbued with one Spirit.

<sup>14</sup>The body consists not of one, but of many members. <sup>15</sup>Should the foot say, "Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body," it would nevertheless remain part of the body. <sup>16</sup>Or should the ear say, "Because I am not the eye, I do not belong to the body," it is nevertheless part of the body. <sup>17</sup>If the entire body were eye, where would the hearing come in? Or if all were hearing, what of the smelling? <sup>18</sup>As it is, however, God has placed the members in the body, each particular one of them just as He saw fit.

<sup>19</sup>If they were all one member, where would the body be? <sup>20</sup>So there are many members to form one body. <sup>21</sup>The eye is not in position to say to the hand, "I do not need you"; nor again the head to the feet, "I do not need you." <sup>22</sup>What is more, those seemingly delicate members of the body are indispensable, <sup>23</sup>and on those that are considered ignoble we bestow additional honor. Our poor-looking members, too, receive extra adornment, <sup>24</sup>such as our good-looking members do not require. In fact, God has so constituted the body with the inferior members the more richly endowed, <sup>25</sup>that there

b) From the heart and thus accepting Him.

c) Every Christian, therefore, has his task in the church. Only a few important endowments are here enumerated.

d) In whom alone the church is one body, united and harmonious in multiplicity.

I CORINTHIANS 12-14

is no discord in the body but, instead, the members have mutual interests.<sup>9</sup> <sup>26</sup>When one member suffers, all the members share the suffering. When a member is honored, they all share the joy.

13 <sup>1</sup>EVEN THOUGH I SPEAK IN EVERY human and angelic language and have no love,<sup>1</sup> I am as noisy brass or a loud-sounding cymbal. <sup>2</sup>And although I have prophetic gift and see through every secret and through all that may be known, and have sufficient faith for the removal of mountains, but I have no love, I am useless. <sup>3</sup>And though I give all my belongings for nourishment (to the needy) and surrender my body to be burned, but I have no love, I am not in the least benefited.

Faith and Hope, with Love As Greatest

ing. <sup>9</sup>For our knowledge is fragmentary and so is our prophesying. <sup>10</sup>But when the perfect is come then the fragmentary becomes antiquated.

<sup>11</sup>When I was a child I talked as a child; I entertained child interests; I reasoned like a child; but on becoming a man I was through with childish ways. <sup>12</sup>For now we see indistinctly in a mirror;<sup>k</sup> but then face to face. Now we know partly, but then we shall understand as completely as we are understood.

14 <sup>1</sup>MAKE LOVE YOUR GREAT QUEST; then aim for spiritual graces, and specially that you may prophesy. <sup>2</sup>For whoever speaks in an (unknown) tongue does not speak to men but to God; no one catches the meaning; he is uttering secret matters in the Spirit; <sup>3</sup>but he who prophesies gives people a constructive, encouraging and comforting message.

<sup>4</sup>He who speaks in an (unknown) tongue improves himself; but he who prophesies builds up the church. <sup>5</sup>I wish you might all speak in tongues; but I would rather have you all prophesy. He who prophesies is more important than he who speaks in tongues, unless he should interpret so that the church may enjoy edification.

<sup>6</sup>If, for instance, I should come to you, brothers, speaking in tongues, what good would I do you, unless I presented to you some revelation or information or prophecy or instruction?<sup>m</sup> <sup>7</sup>Musical instruments, such as a flute or a harp, unless they produce distinct tones, how can listeners understand the playing of flute or harp? <sup>8</sup>In case the trumpet emits an indistinct call, who will get ready for battle? <sup>9</sup>Just so you, unless with your tongue you contribute an intelligent message, how will your speech be understood? You will be talking into empty space.

<sup>10</sup>There are who knows how many languages in the world, and none without meaning. <sup>11</sup>If, then, I do not catch the significance of an expression, I will seem a foreigner to the one who addresses me, and so will the one who speaks seem to me a foreigner. <sup>12</sup>And you are in a similar situation. Since you are eager for spiritual gifts, seek to excel for the upbuilding of the church.

<sup>13</sup>The person, therefore, who speaks in an (unknown) tongue, should pray for ability to interpret. <sup>14</sup>For in case I pray in an (unknown) tongue, my spirit prays, but my mind is unproductive.<sup>n</sup> <sup>15</sup>Then what about it? I shall pray with my spirit, but I shall pray also with my understanding. I will sing with my spirit, but I will sing also with my understanding. <sup>16</sup>Else, when you in spirit render thanks, how shall one not gifted with tongues say "Amen" to your thanksgiving, since he does not know what you say? <sup>17</sup>To be sure, you are giving thanks well enough, but the bystander is not edified.

<sup>18</sup>Thanks be to God, I speak in tongues more than all of you; <sup>19</sup>but in a meeting I would rather speak five words intelligently to instruct others than a myriad of words in an (unknown) tongue.

<sup>20</sup>Brothers, you must not be children in your thinking; although infants in wickedness, you should think maturely. <sup>21</sup>It is written in the Law,<sup>o</sup> "I will speak to this people through strange languages and through alien lips, and even so they will not listen to me, says the Lord." <sup>22</sup>So the tongues are for a sign, not for believers but for unbelievers, while the prophecy is not for unbelievers but for believers. <sup>23</sup>Suppose at a meeting of the whole church they should all speak with tongues, and uninitiated or unbelieving persons came in, would they not say that you are demented? <sup>24</sup>But suppose they all gave testimony, and some unbelieving or uninitiated person came in, he would be convicted by all; he would be called to account by all. <sup>25</sup>The secrets of his heart will be evidenced, and so, falling face down, he will worship God, declaring that in very truth God is among you.

<sup>26</sup>What further, brothers? When you have your meeting, each one contributes his part — a song, a lesson, a revelation, a tongue, an interpretation of it; everything shall be constructive.<sup>p</sup> <sup>27</sup>If someone speaks in an (unknown) tongue, let there be two or at the most three, each in his turn, and let one give an interpretation. <sup>28</sup>But in case there is no interpreter, let them keep still in church; let each speak for himself and for God. <sup>29</sup>So, two or three prophets may speak while the rest pay attention. <sup>30</sup>But when a revelation comes to another, who is sitting by, then let the first one be silent,<sup>q</sup> <sup>31</sup>for it is possible for all to give testimony, each in his turn, so that all may learn and all may receive encouragement. <sup>32</sup>And the spirits of the prophets are in subjection to the prophets; <sup>33</sup>for He is not the God of disorder, but of peace.

<sup>34</sup>As in all the meetings of the saints, the women shall keep silent in the churches, for they are not allowed to talk. Instead, they must, as the Law says,<sup>r</sup> take a secondary place. <sup>35</sup>If they wish to learn something, let them inquire of their own husbands at home; for it is improper for a woman to talk in meeting.<sup>s</sup> <sup>36</sup>Or did God's message get its start from you? Or did it come to you alone?

<sup>37</sup>If anyone considers himself a prophet or inspired, let him understand that what I write you is the Lord's injunction; <sup>38</sup>but if anyone disregards it, he is disregarded. <sup>39</sup>To conclude, my brothers, set your mind to prophesy, but do not hinder the speaking with tongues. <sup>40</sup>Let everything be done with propriety and in orderly fashion.

15 I WOULD FURTHER REMIND you, brothers, of the Gospel which I preached to you, which you welcomed, in which you take your stand <sup>2</sup>and by which you are saved, if you keep hold of my Gospel message to you — unless, indeed, you believed baselessly.

<sup>3</sup>First and foremost, then, I transmitted to you what I have received, that Christ died for our sins as the Scriptures foretold; <sup>4</sup>that also He was buried and that He rose on the third day in agreement with the Scriptures; <sup>5</sup>that also He was seen by Cephas, then by the twelve. <sup>6</sup>Later He appeared to more than five hundred brothers simultaneously, of whom the majority are still alive; but some have fallen asleep. <sup>7</sup>Afterward He appeared to James; <sup>8</sup>then to all the apostles <sup>9</sup>and last of all He appeared to me also — as to one whose birth was abortive; <sup>9</sup>for I am the least of the apostles, not deserving the name of apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.

<sup>10</sup>By divine grace, however, I am what I am, and His grace for me was not ineffective. In fact, I have worked harder than any of them, that is, not really I, but the grace of God that is joined with me. <sup>11</sup>So, whether I or they, such is our preaching and such is what you believed."

<sup>12</sup>But if Christ is preached, that He was raised from the dead, how is it that some of you claim there is no resurrection of the dead? <sup>13</sup>If there is no rising of the dead, then Christ has not arisen; <sup>14</sup>but if Christ has not arisen, then our preaching amounts to nothing and your faith is futile. <sup>15</sup>Then we are discovered to be false witnesses of God, because we have testified about God that He resurrected Christ, whom He did not raise in case no dead are actually raised; <sup>16</sup>for if no dead are raised, then neither is Christ raised up. <sup>17</sup>But if Christ is not raised, then your faith is futile; you are still in your sins, <sup>18</sup>and what is more, those who have fallen asleep in Christ are lost. <sup>19</sup>If we have hope in Christ for this life only, then of all people we are most to be pitied.

<sup>20</sup>The fact is, though, that Christ did rise from the dead, the first fruits of those who fell asleep; <sup>21</sup>for inasmuch as death came through a man, the resurrection from the dead, too, is through a Man. <sup>22</sup>For just as in Adam all die, so in Christ shall all<sup>v</sup> be made to live; <sup>23</sup>each, to be sure, in his turn: Christ first; then His own at His coming. <sup>24</sup>Then the completion,<sup>w</sup> when He hands over the kingdom to God the Father, after annulling every ruler and all government and power. <sup>25</sup>For He must be King until He puts all the enemies under His feet.

<sup>26</sup>The last enemy to be subdued is death; for <sup>27</sup>"He has put everything under His feet." But when it says, "All things are subjected," it is clear that the One who does the subjecting of all to Him is excepted. <sup>28</sup>However, once everything is subjected to Him, then the Son, too, shall subject Himself to the One whom all obey, so that God may be all in all.

the dead raised? And with what body do they come?" <sup>36</sup>Simpleton! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. <sup>37</sup>Nor is what you sow the body that is to be; it is a mere kernel, either of wheat or of some other grain. <sup>38</sup>But God gives it a body as He plans and to each seed its particular body. <sup>39</sup>All flesh is not the same; but one kind is human, another is animal, another is fowl and another fish. <sup>40</sup>There are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies, too; but the beauty of those heavenly is one kind and that of those earthly is another kind. <sup>41</sup>The sun is glorious in one way and the moon in another way; the stars in still a different way. So does one star differ in brilliancy from another.

<sup>50</sup>But I make this statement, brothers, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, neither does the perishable inherit the imperishable. <sup>51</sup>Take notice; I am telling you a secret. We shall not all fall asleep; but we shall all be changed, <sup>52</sup>in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet call. For the trumpet shall peal and the dead shall be raised imperishably, and we shall be changed. <sup>53</sup>For this perishable must put on the imperishable and this mortal must put on immortality. <sup>54</sup>And when this perishable has put on the imperishable and this mortal has put on immortality then shall the written word be fulfilled, "Death is swallowed up in victory. <sup>55</sup>Death, where is your victory? Death, where is your sting?"<sup>a</sup>

<sup>56</sup>Death's sting is sin, and sin's power is the Law.<sup>b</sup> <sup>57</sup>But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>58</sup>Consequently, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, at all times abundantly active in the Lord's service, aware that your labor in the Lord is not futile.

16 RELATIVE TO THE COLLECTION

<sup>5</sup>When I have crossed Macedonia, I shall make you a visit; for I shall pass through Macedonia; <sup>6</sup>but with you I am likely to stay a while, or even spend the winter, so that you may escort me wherever I may go. <sup>7</sup>For this time I do not want to see you merely in passing, but I hope, the Lord permitting, to stay with you for a while. <sup>8</sup>I remain in Ephesus, however, until Pentecost; <sup>9</sup>for a wide door is opening up for service — and many opponents.

<sup>10</sup>When Timothy arrives, see to it that his presence with you is free from embarrassment, for he does the Lord's work, just as I do. <sup>11</sup>So let no one slight him, and whenever he returns to

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS

From Macedonia, probably Philippi,
Summer of 57 A.D.

1 PAUL, BY THE WILL OF GOD AN apostle of Christ Jesus, and brother Timothy, to the church of God at Corinth, and to all the saints throughout Achaia: <sup>2</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, <sup>4</sup>who consoles us in our every trouble, so that we may be able to encourage those in any kind of distress, with the consolation with which we are divinely sustained. <sup>5</sup>For as we experience richly the sufferings of Christ, so we enjoy through Christ an abundance of consolation.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>6</sup>When we are troubled, it is for your comfort and salvation. When we are comforted, it is for the encouragement you experience in the enduring of the same sufferings we endure. <sup>7</sup>And our hope for you is unshaken in view of the fact that you are sharing as well in the sufferings as in the consolation.

<sup>8</sup>So we want you to know, brothers, about the trouble that came to us in Asia, how we were weighed down beyond all possible endurance, so that we really despaired of life. <sup>9</sup>Indeed, we personally passed the sentence of death on ourselves; but it was in order that we might not rely on ourselves but on

God, who raises the dead. <sup>10</sup>He rescued us from so perilous a death and will rescue; we hope in Him, for He will yet further deliver, <sup>11</sup>while you also cooperate by your prayer for us, so that from many Godward-turned faces thanks may be given on our behalf for the blessings that came to us through those many.

<sup>12</sup>The reason for our exultation is the witness of our conscience that we have behaved in the world generally, but specially toward you, with devout motives and godly sincerity; not with worldly wisdom but by divine grace. <sup>13</sup>For the meaning of what we write you is not different from what you read and understand perfectly, <sup>14</sup>just as you have partly understood us, to the effect that we are your reason for pride, as well as that you are ours in the day of our Lord Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>It was with this assurance that I planned to visit you first, so that you might enjoy a double blessing, <sup>16</sup>visiting you on the way to Macedonia<sup>b</sup> and again on the trip from Macedonia to you, and to be escorted from you to Judea. <sup>17</sup>Since I intended this did I act with fickleness; or did I plan in a worldly way what I had in mind, so that on my part "Yes, yes!" equals "No, no"? <sup>18</sup>As God is trustworthy, our word to you is not "yes, no"; <sup>19</sup>because Christ Jesus, the Son of God, whom we preached to you, myself and Silvanus

a) Not persecution from outsiders, but wranglings within the Corinthian church and neglect of the apostle's advice have troubled him. They have also helped him to appreciate God's tenderness more, vs. 3, 4.

and Timothy,<sup>c</sup> was not "yes and no," but with Him it is "Yes."<sup>20</sup>In Him all the promises of God are Yes. For this reason we also say through Him "Amen" to God for His glory through us.<sup>21</sup>But He, who makes us steadfast with you in joint fellowship with Christ and has anointed us, is God,<sup>22</sup>who also stamped His seal on us and gave us in our hearts the Spirit's security deposit.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>23</sup>I call upon God as my soul's witness, that to spare you I have delayed my coming to Corinth.<sup>24</sup>Not that we lord it over your faith; but rather that we work with you for your happiness, for by faith you stand firm.<sup>e</sup>

2 I HAVE MADE UP MY MIND NOT TO make you another distressing visit,<sup>2</sup>for if I grieve you, who may provide me enjoyment except those whom I grieve? <sup>3</sup>I put this matter in writing, so that, when I come, I may not be grieved by those who should make me happy; for I feel confident that my happiness is shared by every one of you.<sup>4</sup>For in deep distress and with a heart of anguish, yes, with many tears I wrote you, not in order to grieve you, but in order that you might feel the love I so richly bear you.

<sup>5</sup>If someone<sup>f</sup> has caused grief, he has not simply grieved me, but to some extent at least, not to exaggerate, all of you.<sup>6</sup>For such a one this censure by the majority suffices; <sup>7</sup>so, instead of further rebuke, you should forgive and comfort him, else he may be overwhelmed by despair.<sup>8</sup>I therefore beg of you to reinstate him in your affection.<sup>9</sup>For this purpose I wrote, to know your attitude, whether you were altogether agreeable.<sup>10</sup>But whom you forgive, him I too forgive, and what I do forgive is so forgiven for your sakes in the presence of Christ,<sup>11</sup>lest Satan should overreach us; for we are not ignorant of his schemings.<sup>g</sup>

opened for me in the Lord,<sup>13</sup>yet I enjoyed no peace of mind because I did not meet my brother Titus; so I left them to go out into Macedonia.<sup>14</sup>But thanks be to God, who invariably leads us on triumphantly in Christ<sup>h</sup> and who evidences through us in every place the fragrance that results from knowing Him.<sup>15</sup>For to God we are Christ's fragrance, for those who are being saved and for these who are perishing; <sup>16</sup>to these a fatal odor that brings death,<sup>i</sup> but to those a vital scent that brings life.

<sup>17</sup>And who is qualified for it? Are not we? For we do not, like so many,<sup>j</sup> peddle an adulterated message of God, but from the purest motives we speak in Christ from the divine source in God's presence.

3 ARE WE STARTING OUT AGAIN TO recommend ourselves? Or do we, like some people, stand in need of recommending letters to you or from you? <sup>2</sup>You are our epistle, written in our hearts, acknowledged and read by everyone; <sup>3</sup>rendering it obvious that you are Christ's epistle delivered by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God; not on tablets of stone but on human tablets of the heart.<sup>k</sup>

<sup>4</sup>In God's presence I have such confidence through Christ, <sup>5</sup>not because we possess self-sufficiency to form personal judgments; but because our sufficiency is God-given.<sup>6</sup>And He has qualified us to be ministers of a new covenant, not of written law, but of a spiritual nature; for the letter kills, but the Spirit makes alive.<sup>7</sup>Yet if the ministry of death, engraved in letters of stone, was inaugurated with such splendor that the sons of Israel were not able to gaze steadily at the face of Moses, due to his facial brilliance which after all faded away, <sup>8</sup>how much more glorious must be the ministry of the Spirit? <sup>9</sup>If there is glory in the administration that announces doom, how infinitely more glory must there be in the administration that fosters righteousness! <sup>10</sup>In view of the surpassing glory what was glorious by itself retains no glory at all.<sup>1</sup> <sup>11</sup>If what passed away had its splendor, how much more that which abides in glory!

<sup>18</sup>But we all, as with unveiled face we see the Lord's glory mirrored, are changed into the same likeness<sup>n</sup> from one degree of glory to another, derived as it is from the Lord's Spirit.

4 ENGAGED, THEREFORE, IN THIS service under divine mercy such as we have experienced, we are not despondent, <sup>2</sup>but we do eliminate underhanded ways of which one should be ashamed. We do not behave cunningly, nor do we falsify the word of God;<sup>o</sup> but by clear announcement of the truth we commend ourselves in divine presence to every human conscience. <sup>3</sup>If our Gospel has been obscured, it has been obscured in case of those perishing, <sup>4</sup>in whom the god of this world<sup>p</sup> has blinded their unbelieving minds, to prevent the illumination of the Gospel of the glorious Christ, who is the likeness of God, from penetrating.

<sup>5</sup>For we have not heralded ourselves but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves your servants for Jesus; <sup>6</sup>because God who said, "Out of darkness light shall shine," He has made it shine in our hearts so as to show forth the knowledge of glory divine in the face of Christ.

<sup>7</sup>This treasure, however, we possess within utensils of mere clay — an evidence that the unparalleled power is of God and not from us. <sup>8</sup>We are hedged in from every side, but we live no cramped lives; we suffer embarrassments but we do not despair; <sup>9</sup>we are persecuted but not deserted; struck down but not destroyed; <sup>10</sup>all the while bearing about in the body the deathmarks<sup>q</sup> of Jesus, so that by our bodies the life of Jesus may also be shown. <sup>11</sup>In the midst of life we are constantly handed over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may yet be evidenced through our mortal flesh. <sup>12</sup>Accordingly, death is active in us, but life in you.

<sup>13</sup>We have, nevertheless, that same spirit of faith that was recorded, "I have believed; therefore have I spoken."<sup>r</sup> We, too, believe and therefore we speak, <sup>14</sup>assured that He, who raised up the Lord Jesus, will raise us up with Jesus and will have us stand with you before Him. <sup>15</sup>For all this is taking place in your interest in order that the grace, multiplying with the thanksgiving of the many, may abound for the glory of God.

<sup>16</sup>For this reason we are not discouraged; but even though our outer nature suffers decay, our inner self is renewed day after day. <sup>17</sup>For this slight, momentary trouble is producing for us an everlasting weight of glory that exceeds all calculations, <sup>18</sup>granted we do not fasten our eyes on the visible but on the unseen; for the visible things are transitory, but the unseen things are everlasting.<sup>s</sup>

5 FOR WE KNOW THAT, IF OUR earthly tent dwelling should be dismantled, we have a God-given dwelling, a house in heaven not made by hands, that will last forever. <sup>2</sup>So it is that in this dwelling we sigh with longing to be clothed with our dwelling from heaven, <sup>3</sup>since with such covering we shall not be found coverless. <sup>4</sup>For we sigh deeply while in this tent, not because we want to be stripped of it, but rather to be invested with the other covering, so that the mortal may be absorbed by the real life.<sup>t</sup>

<sup>5</sup>For this experience God, who granted us the pledge of the Spirit, has prepared us; <sup>6</sup>so we always keep confident, knowing well enough that being at home in the body means being absent from the Lord; <sup>7</sup>for we walk by faith, not by sight. <sup>8</sup>But we have courage, and we prefer to be absent from the body and at home with the LORD. <sup>9</sup>So we make it our heartfelt aim to be pleasing to Him, whether absent or present; <sup>10</sup>for we must all be shown as we are before the tribunal of Christ, so that each may be requited for what he practiced while in the body, whether good or bad.

<sup>11</sup>Knowing therefore what it means to revere the Lord,<sup>u</sup> we seek to win people over. Our motives are clear to God and I hope they are made clear as well to your consciences. <sup>12</sup>This is no repeated recommending of ourselves to you, but it is providing you with an incentive to feel proud of us, so you may reply to those who on the surface are proud of us but not at heart.<sup>v</sup> <sup>13</sup>If we are beside ourselves, it concerns God. If we are thoughtful, it concerns you. <sup>14</sup>For the love of Christ impels us and brings us to this conclusion: <sup>15</sup>One died for all; so they all died, and He died for all so that all who live may no longer live for themselves, but for Him who died and rose for them.

<sup>16</sup>Consequently, from now on we think of no one in terms of his purely human nature. Even if we had thought of Christ that way, we now no longer know Him in terms of flesh.<sup>w</sup> <sup>17</sup>Accordingly, if any one is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old is gone.

Look! the new has come. <sup>18</sup>But all things come from God, who has reconciled us with Himself through Christ and has given us the ministry of reconciliation;<sup>x</sup> <sup>19</sup>which is: God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not counting up their sins against them, and committing to us the message of reconciliation.

<sup>20</sup>On behalf of Christ, then, we are ambassadors, God as it were making the appeal through us: We beg of you for Christ's sake, be reconciled with God. <sup>21</sup>Him, who knew no sin, He made sin on our behalf, so that we in Him might be made God's righteousness.

6 AS FELLOW WORKERS, HOWEVER, we further appeal to you not to accept the grace of God without using it; <sup>2</sup>for He says,<sup>y</sup> "At a welcome time I have heard you and on a day of salvation I have helped you." Observe that now is a specially welcome time; that now is the day of salvation — <sup>3</sup>and we put no obstacle whatever in anyone's way, so that our ministry may not be discredited. <sup>4</sup>Rather, we prove ourselves in every respect as assistants of God — by great endurance in afflictions, distresses and hardships; <sup>5</sup>in lashes, imprisonments and mobbings; in toils, sleepless nights and starvings; <sup>6</sup>through innocence, knowledge, and endurance of wrongs; through kindness by the Holy Spirit in unpretended love; <sup>7</sup>with a message of truth by the power of God; by means of the weapons of righteousness for attack and defense; <sup>8</sup>through honor and shame; through blame and praise; considered impostors when we are honest, <sup>9</sup>and unknown<sup>z</sup> when we are well known; thought of as dying when, you see, we are alive, and as disciplined but not done to death; <sup>10</sup>as deceived and yet always joyful; as indigent but making many wealthy; as having nothing and yet in possession of everything.

Generous to the Needy; Let Grief Lead to Repentance II CORINTHIANS 6-8

<sup>14</sup>Be not yoked up unequally with unbelievers;<sup>a</sup> for what common ground is there between righteousness and lawlessness or what association between light and darkness? <sup>15</sup>Or what harmony between Christ and Belial,<sup>b</sup> or what partnership between a believer and an unbeliever? <sup>16</sup>What agreement has God's temple with idols? For we are a temple of the living God, as God has said,<sup>c</sup> "I will dwell in them and walk around among them, and I will be their God and they shall be My people." <sup>17</sup>For that reason,<sup>d</sup> "Come out from their midst and be separate, says the Lord, and do not touch anything unclean. <sup>18</sup>Then I will receive you and I will be a Father to you, and to Me you shall be sons and daughters. The Lord Omnipotent speaks."

7 IN POSSESSION OF THESE PROMISES, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of flesh and spirit,<sup>e</sup> and complete our dedication by reverence of God.

<sup>2</sup>Allow us room! We have wronged no one; we have ruined no one; we have exploited no one. <sup>3</sup>I am not censuring you, for, as I previously said, you are in our hearts so as to die and to live with you. <sup>4</sup>My confidence in you is strong; my pride in you is great; I am satisfied with comfort; in all our trouble I am overjoyed.

<sup>5</sup>For as we reached Macedonia, our flesh<sup>f</sup> enjoyed no respite at all, but there was trouble at every turn, wranglings outside of me and fears within me. <sup>6</sup>But God, the Encourager of the downhearted, did console us by the arrival of Titus,<sup>g</sup> and not merely by his arrival, but by the encouragement he received from you, for he related how you are longing for us, your sorrow, your zeal for me, all of which turned out for my greater joy.

<sup>8</sup>If I have grieved you with my letter, I do not regret it, and in case I did regret it — for I observe how that particular letter did, though only momentarily, give you grief — <sup>9</sup>I am glad of it now, not because you were grieved but because your grief led to repentance. For your grief was related to God, so that you were not in the least damaged by us. <sup>10</sup>For the sorrow that relates the sorrower to God works out a repentance that leads to salvation such as is never regretted, while the world's sorrow<sup>h</sup> issues into death.

<sup>11</sup>For notice how serious this God-related grief has made you; how apologetic; how provoked; how alarmed; how longing for me; how zealous; how ready to vindicate me.<sup>i</sup> In every way you have proved yourselves cleared in the matter. <sup>12</sup>So, whatever I have written you was not on account of the offender or of the one offended, but for the sake of letting your care for us be made known among you in divine presence. <sup>13</sup>On this account we have been comforted.

Added to our own consolation, there was the enjoyment of Titus' happiness, because his spirit was soothed by all of you, <sup>14</sup>and I was not ashamed of my boasting about you; but just as everything we told you was true, so our boasting to Titus proved true. <sup>15</sup>His feelings go out to you the more as he remembers how you all heeded him, as with reverence and trembling you received him.<sup>j</sup> <sup>16</sup>I am glad I can have full confidence in you.

8 LET US TELL YOU FURTHER, brothers, of the divine grace that has been granted the Macedonian churches;<sup>k</sup> <sup>2</sup>how, under ordeal of terrible affliction, their superb happiness, combined with their deep poverty, has overflowed into a wealth of their generosity; <sup>3</sup>how up to their ability — yes, and I bear them testimony, beyond their ability — they voluntarily have given, <sup>4</sup>most urgently begging of us the favor of taking part in this service to the saints. <sup>5</sup>They did not merely what we hoped for, but they gave themselves first to the Lord and so, in keeping with the will of God, also to us.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>6</sup>This has enabled us to call upon Titus to complete this gracious arrangement among you, since he started it. <sup>7</sup>But just as you are ahead in everything, in faith, in expression, in knowledge, in diligence of every sort, and in your love for us, so be foremost in this gracious giving, too.

<sup>8</sup>I am not issuing an order, but I would test the genuineness of your love by the readiness of others.<sup>m</sup> <sup>9</sup>For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, how, when He was rich, He became poor for your sakes, so that you by His poverty might grow rich.<sup>n</sup> <sup>10</sup>Let me advise you in this matter; it is to your interest since you were a year ago not only the first to act but also to volunteer the initiative. <sup>11</sup>Now then, complete the enterprise, so that the readiness to will may be equalled by the task accomplished to the measure of your means. <sup>12</sup>For if there is present a willing mind, the gift is appreciated in proportion to what one possesses, not to what one does not possess.

and is so deeply interested in you that he went off to you by his own volition. <sup>18</sup>But we are sending the brother along with him,<sup>p</sup> whose commendable ways in the Gospel ministry are known through all the churches. <sup>19</sup>Besides, as appointee of the churches he travels with us in this ministry of grace for the Lord's own glory and for expediting our work. <sup>20</sup>We take this precaution, so that no one may find fault with us in our handling of this liberal collection; <sup>21</sup>for we intend to do the fair thing not only before the Lord but also before men.

<sup>22</sup>Along with them we are sending our brother<sup>q</sup> whose zeal we have frequently put to the test on various occasions and whose devotion is now at its best because he has so much confidence in you. <sup>23</sup>As for Titus, he is my associate and your fellow worker; as for our brothers, they are messengers of the churches, an honor to Christ. <sup>24</sup>Afford them proof, then, of your love and of our boastings about you, such as will be evidenced before the churches.

9 IT IS SUPERFLUOUS FOR ME TO write you further about this ministering to the saints, <sup>2</sup>for I know of your willingness, and I boast about you to the Macedonians, because Achaia<sup>r</sup> held itself in readiness from a year back — and your zeal has stirred up a goodly number. <sup>3</sup>I am sending these brothers, so that our pride in you may not in this instance be an empty boast, but that you may be as fully ready as I told them. <sup>4</sup>Else, if any Macedonians should come with me and find you unprepared, we would feel humiliated — not to say you — because of our feeling so sure. <sup>5</sup>I consider it therefore necessary to request these brothers to visit you in advance and to have your promised blessing all made up, so it will be ready to hand, a real thank offering and not something extorted from you.<sup>s</sup>

<sup>6</sup>Observe this: He who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, while he who sows liberally will reap also liberally. <sup>7</sup>Let each one give as in his heart he had planned, neither grudgingly nor by compulsion; for God loves a hilarious giver. <sup>8</sup>And God is able to pour out on you richly every possible grace, so that you will always and under all circumstances have plenty for your own need, and to spare for every good enterprise, <sup>9</sup>as it is written, "He has scattered abroad; he has given to the poor; his fairness never, never fails."<sup>t</sup>

<sup>10</sup>But He who provides seed to the sower shall also furnish food to eat and shall multiply your sown seed, and He will cause the fruits of your fair dealings to grow. <sup>11</sup>You will be enriched in every respect for all kinds of generosity, and your liberality, as it is worked out through us, will evoke thanksgiving to God.<sup>12</sup>Because the service this fund renders not only supplies amply the wants of the saints, but it also abounds in its causing many thanksgivings to God. <sup>13</sup>Due to your standing the test of this ministering, they are praising God for your loyalty to the Gospel of Christ which you confess, and for the liberality of your contribution for them and for all. <sup>14</sup>And they feel a yearning for you in their worship, because of the unusual measure of divine grace that has come upon you. <sup>15</sup>Thanks be to God for His unspeakable Gift!<sup>u</sup>

10 I, PAUL, APPEAL TO YOU PERSONALLY on the basis of Christ's gentleness and considerateness — I who am so meek when face to face with you and so bold toward you from a distance — <sup>2</sup>I beg of you not to force such boldness on me when I am with you as I intend to assume toward those few who entertain the notion that we behave in fleshly ways. <sup>3</sup>For while we spend our life in a body of flesh, we do not war with carnal weapons. <sup>4</sup>For the weapons of our warfare are not physical, but they are powerful with God's help for the tearing down of fortresses, <sup>5</sup>inasmuch as we tear down calculations and every height that is raised against the knowledge of God. And every mental perception we lead into subjection to Christ. <sup>6</sup>We are prepared also to administer justice upon all disobedience, when your obedience is fully shown.<sup>v</sup>

<sup>7</sup>Take a look at what you are facing. If someone is personally confident of his belonging to Christ, let him ponder this over in his mind, that we are Christ's as well as he. <sup>8</sup>Even if we do boast excessively about our authorization, which the Lord granted us for your establishment and not for your ruin, we shall not be put to shame; <sup>9</sup>neither would I appear as wanting to terrify you with my letters. <sup>10</sup>For, "His letters," they say, "are weighty and forceful, but his physical presence is insignificant and his speech is contemptible."<sup>w</sup>

<sup>11</sup>Let such people consider this, that what we are through the message of epistles when absent, that same are we in action when present. <sup>12</sup>For we do not venture to count ourselves in with, or to compare ourselves with some who commend their own qualities. However, when they make themselves their standard of measurement and judge their own value from personal comparisons, then they do not behave wisely. <sup>13</sup>On our part, we shall not boast extravagantly, but rather stay within the limit of the sphere which God has allotted to us, the boundary of which stretches far enough to include you.<sup>x</sup>

<sup>14</sup>We are not stretching so as to strain ourselves, when we reach out to you, for we were the first to reach you with the Gospel of Christ. <sup>15</sup>Neither are we unduly boasting about fields in which others are serving; but we entertain the hope that your growing faith shall enlarge our sphere of influence so greatly with your help, <sup>16</sup>that we may evangelize those beyond you, rather than brag over labor that has been accomplished in another's field. <sup>17</sup>The person who boasts, though, should boast in the Lord; <sup>18</sup>for not he who commends himself, but whom the Lord commends, stands approved.

11 PLEASE, PUT UP WITH A BIT OF foolishness of mine. Yes, you will have to tolerate me; <sup>2</sup>for I am zealous for you with a divine eagerness, because I gave you in marriage to one Husband — to present a pure virgin to Christ. <sup>3</sup>Only, I am afraid that, just as the serpent beguiled Eve with his cunning, so your ideals may be corruptively influenced away from the simplicity that tends Christward. <sup>4</sup>In fact, if someone comes along and preaches another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if you receive a different spirit from what you once received, or a gospel different from what you previously welcomed, you tolerate it right well.<sup>y</sup>

<sup>5</sup>Nevertheless I consider myself not inferior to the most eminent "apostles."<sup>z</sup> <sup>6</sup>Even if I lack skill in rhetoric, I certainly do not lack in knowledge, which we have in every way made perfectly clear to you all. <sup>7</sup>Or have I erred by humbling myself so that you might be exalted, when I preached to you the Gospel of God without compensation? <sup>8</sup>Other churches I have despoiled, taking pay from them toward the service I rendered you, <sup>9</sup>and when I was with you and ran short of funds, I imposed on none of you, for the brothers that came from Macedonia made up my needs. Thus I kept myself invariably from being hard on you, and so I plan to keep myself.

<sup>10</sup>As sure as Christ's truth is in me, this boast of mine shall not be stopped in the Achaia districts. <sup>11</sup>And why? Because I do not love you? God knows I do. <sup>12</sup>What I do, however, I shall do to eliminate the opportunity from those who want it to boast how they are recognized as equal with us.<sup>a</sup> <sup>13</sup>For they are sham apostles; deceptive workers, wearing the masks of Christ's apostles; <sup>14</sup>and no wonder, for Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light. <sup>15</sup>So it is nothing extraordinary if his servants masquerade as servants of righteousness — whose destiny will be in agreement with their actions.

<sup>16</sup>Once more I tell you, let no one consider me a fool; but if you do, then tolerate me as a fool, so that I too may do a bit of boasting. <sup>17</sup>What I say, I do not speak from the Lord, but in a foolish mood from this standpoint of boastfulness. <sup>18</sup>Since many boast in a worldly way, I too will boast; <sup>19</sup>for you, being so wise, will gladly tolerate fools. <sup>20</sup>You stand for it when someone enslaves you or imposes on you or exploits you or snubs you or slaps you in the face. <sup>21</sup>To my shame I admit that we were too lacking in force along those lines.

<sup>22</sup>But in whatever line someone may boast — I talk foolishly — I will match him: Hebrews they are? So am I. Israelites they are? So am I. Abraham's offspring they? So am I. <sup>23</sup>Ministers of Christ they are? Out of my wits I say it, I am more so, with measureless toils and imprisonments; with excessive floggings and facing death so frequently. <sup>24</sup>Five times I received from the Jews forty lashes minus one; <sup>25</sup>thrice I was cudged; once I was stoned; three times I was shipwrecked;<sup>b</sup> for a night and a day I have been adrift at sea. <sup>26</sup>In my many travels I have been in dangers of rivers and of robbers, of Jews and Gentiles, of city, desert, and sea; in dangers among sham brothers; <sup>27</sup>in wearying work and hardship through many a sleepless night; in hunger, thirst, and many fastings; in cold and lack of clothing.

<sup>28</sup>Besides these experiences from the outside, there is for my daily attention the care of all the churches.<sup>c</sup> <sup>29</sup>Who is weak without my being weak? Who is offended without my suffering grief?

<sup>30</sup>If there must be boasting, I will boast of matters that show my weakness.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>31</sup>The God and Father of the Lord Jesus (Christ), who is to be praised forever, knows that I am not falsifying.

<sup>32</sup>In Damascus the governor under king Aretas had the city of the Damascenes guarded to arrest me, <sup>33</sup>and through a window I was let down in a basket over the wall and escaped from his grip.

12 THERE HAS TO BE BOASTING, AL- though nothing is gained by it; so I will advance to visions and revelations from the Lord. <sup>2</sup>I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago<sup>e</sup>—whether in the body or out of the body I do not know, God knows—was personally caught up as far as the third heaven. <sup>3</sup>I also know of the same man—whether in the body or away from the body I do not know, God knows—<sup>4</sup>how he was caught up into Paradise and heard ineffable sayings which no human being is allowed to repeat.<sup>f</sup>

<sup>5</sup>Of such an instance I will boast, but not about myself—unless it be about my weakness. <sup>6</sup>Should I wish to boast, however, I would not be acting the fool, for I would be telling the truth. But I will refrain, so that no one may ascribe to me more than he observes in me or hears from me, including the superb fact of the revelations.

<sup>7</sup>So, in order that I might not swell with pride, there was given me a thorn in the flesh, a satanic messenger to maltreat me, so that I might not be too elated. <sup>8</sup>Thrice I invoked the Lord about this, to have it removed from me, <sup>9</sup>and He told me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for My strength comes to perfection where there is weakness." So I am happy to take pride rather in my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may abide upon me. <sup>10</sup>I delight, therefore, in weaknesses, in insults, in needy circumstances, in persecutions and dire calamities, all on account of Christ. For when I am weak, then I am strong.

<sup>11</sup>I have become a fool; you forced me to it, for I ought to be recognized by you. In fact, though I am nobody, I am not in the least inferior to the super-apostles.<sup>g</sup> <sup>12</sup>The tokens of my apostolate were realized in your midst by patience of every sort in the working of signs and miracles and acts of power. <sup>13</sup>In what respect, then, did you get the worse of the other churches, except that I was not personally a burden to you? Pardon me this unfairness.

<sup>14</sup>Notice how I am ready for my third visit to you,<sup>h</sup> and I shall be no incumbrance to you, for I am not after your possessions but after you. For the children should not accumulate wealth for their parents, but the parents for their children. <sup>15</sup>So, I will gladly spend and be spent on behalf of your souls. If I love you excessively, am I loved the less?

<sup>16</sup>But let that be! I have not burdened you. But being crafty I took you in by cunning?<sup>i</sup> <sup>17</sup>I have not exploited you through anyone I sent you, have I? <sup>18</sup>I summoned Titus and sent along the brother. Did Titus exploit you? Have we not behaved in the same spirit and walked in the same tracks?

<sup>19</sup>You have been supposing all the while that we are apologizing to you? We are speaking in the presence of God as Christ's representatives, and it is all done, dear friends, for your upbuilding; <sup>20</sup>for I am afraid that, perhaps, when I arrive I may not find you in the condition I should like to find you; neither may you find me as you might desire.

There may be strife, jealousy, ugly temper, sectarianism, slander, gossiping, conceit, disharmony. <sup>21</sup>So we fear lest on my return my God may humble me before you, and I may be saddened over many who have continued in their former sins and have not come to rue the impurity, the unchastity and the sensuality they have practiced.

13 THIS IS MY THIRD VISIT TO YOU. "In the mouth of two or three witnesses every statement shall be confirmed." <sup>2</sup>I said, while previously there on my second visit, and I say it before my arrival while still absent, to those who kept on in their old sins and to all the rest, that when I come once more I shall not spare, <sup>3</sup>since you are looking for proof of Christ's speaking through me, who is not feeble toward you but mighty in you. <sup>4</sup>For while He was crucified out of weakness, yet He lives through divine power, and we, too, are weak as joined in Him,<sup>1</sup> but we shall live with Him through the power of God that flows into you.

<sup>5</sup>Test yourselves, whether you are in the faith; give yourselves an examination. Or do you not recognize of yourselves that Christ Jesus is within you—unless you are counterfeits? <sup>6</sup>But I hope you will acknowledge that we are not counterfeits.

<sup>7</sup>But we make supplication to God that you may practice no wrong; and our purpose is not that our integrity shall be shown, but that you may behave well, even though we be classed as counterfeits. <sup>8</sup>For we have no ability against the truth; but only on behalf of the truth. <sup>9</sup>We are happy to be weak when you are strong. And this is the object of our prayer—your all-rounded completeness.

<sup>10</sup>For this reason I write this in my absence, so that, when present, I need not be severe in the exercise of the authority which the Lord has granted me for constructive and not for destructive purposes.

<sup>11</sup>To sum it all up, brothers, be joyful; be adjusted; receive admonition; agree in your thinking; preserve peace; and the God of love and peace will be with you.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE GALATIANS

From Ephesus, 55-56 A.D.

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE, SENT NEITHER from men nor by a man,<sup>a</sup> but by Jesus Christ and God the Father who raised Him from the dead,—<sup>2</sup>and all the brothers here with me, to the churches of Galatia: <sup>3</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and from the LORD Jesus Christ, <sup>4</sup>who gave Himself on account of our sins, to rescue us out of this present evil world in agreement with the will of God our Father, <sup>5</sup>to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>6</sup>I am amazed that you are so readily moved away from Him, who called you by the grace of Christ, to another gospel, <sup>7</sup>which really is not another; except that some are bewildering you and are minded to distort the Gospel of Christ. <sup>8</sup>But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach (to you) a gospel that differs from what we have preached to you—a curse on it! <sup>9</sup>As we said before and repeat right now, if anyone evangelizes you with a gospel that varies from what you have received—a curse on it!

<sup>10</sup>Am I here to gain men's favor, or God's? Or do I seek to please men? If I were still a men-pleaser, I would be no servant of Christ. <sup>11</sup>For I declare to you, brothers, that the Gospel, that is preached by me, is no human affair; <sup>12</sup>for neither did I receive it from a human being nor was I taught it, except through revelation of Jesus Christ.

<sup>13</sup>You heard of my previous career in Judaism, how extravagantly I persecuted the church of God and devastated it; <sup>14</sup>how in devotion to Judaism I went further than many of my age among my people, so fanatically zealous was I for the traditions of my ancestors. <sup>15</sup>But when it pleased Him, who from my birth had set me apart and had called me through His grace, <sup>16</sup>to reveal His Son in me, so that I might preach Him to the Gentiles, I did not speedily communicate with flesh and blood,<sup>b</sup> <sup>17</sup>neither did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before I was, but I went away into Arabia and came back to Damascus. <sup>18</sup>Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to get acquainted with Cephas<sup>c</sup> and stayed in his company for fifteen days; <sup>19</sup>but I saw no other apostle except James,<sup>d</sup> the brother of the LORD. <sup>20</sup>And what I am writing to you, observe in the presence of God that I am not falsifying.

a) Paul plunges at once into a chief reason for his writing—his apostleship has been denied to weaken the force of his teaching. b) Revelation came direct. c) Peter.

d) Half brother of Jesus and president of the Jerusalem church.

e) Paul, then, did active Christian work in and around Tarsus before Antioch's call.

2 LATER, WHEN FOURTEEN YEARS had gone by, I went up once more to Jerusalem along with Barnabas and taking Titus with us. <sup>2</sup>But I went up in response to a revelation and laid before them the Gospel I preach among the Gentiles, particularly before the leaders, so I might not be running my course uselessly or have run that way.

<sup>3</sup>But Titus, who was with me, while a Greek, was not at all obliged to be circumcised <sup>4</sup>to gratify the false brothers that got in underhandedly, who stole in to spy on our freedom which we enjoyed in Christ Jesus, and who planned to enslave us.<sup>f</sup> <sup>5</sup>Not for a moment did we yield in submission to them, so that the truth of the Gospel might continue for you.

<sup>6</sup>But from those who enjoyed reputation—whatever they then amounted to makes no difference to me; God does not regard human appearance—nothing additional was contributed to me by those of reputation. <sup>7</sup>On the contrary, when they observed that I was entrusted with the Gospel for the uncircumcised, as Peter was for the circumcised—<sup>8</sup>for He who actuated Peter for the apostolate of the circumcised did also actuate me for the Gentiles—<sup>9</sup>so, acknowledging the grace that had been given me, James<sup>g</sup> and Cephas and John, who were considered as pillars, gave me and Barnabas the right hand of fellowship; we to serve the Gentiles and they the circumcised. <sup>10</sup>Only, we must remember the needy, which I was personally eager to do.

<sup>11</sup>But when Cephas came to Antioch I opposed him to his face, because he deserved blame; <sup>12</sup>for until some arrived from James, he ate with the Gentile converts, but when they came, he withdrew and separated himself for fear of the circumcision party. <sup>13</sup>So the rest of the Jews played the hypocrite along with him, with the result that even Barnabas was carried away by their hypocrisy. <sup>14</sup>But when I saw that they were not walking straight in line with the truth of the Gospel, I said to Peter in everyone's presence, "If you, who are a Jew, live gentile fashion and not in a Jewish way,<sup>h</sup> how can you impose Judaizing on the Gentiles?" <sup>15</sup>We are naturally Jews and not sinners of the Gentiles; <sup>16</sup>but since we know that a person is not made righteous due to works of the Law but only through faith in Christ Jesus, we have believed in Christ Jesus in order that we might be made righteous by faith in Christ and not through works of the Law, for by works of the Law no flesh shall be justified.

<sup>17</sup>If then, seeking to be justified in Christ, we also are found to be sinners, is Christ a minister of sin?<sup>i</sup> Not at all! <sup>18</sup>Indeed, when I reconstruct the very things I have torn down, then I exhibit myself as a transgressor. <sup>19</sup>For through the Law I am dead to the Law in order that I may live to God; <sup>20</sup>I am crucified jointly with Christ; I no longer live as I, but Christ lives within me. So, the life I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who has loved me and gave Himself up for me. <sup>21</sup>I do not slight the grace of God; if righteousness were through Law, then Christ died to no purpose.

3 O THOUGHTLESS GALATIANS, WHO has bewitched you before whose eyes Jesus Christ was so graphically presented as crucified? <sup>2</sup>I want to learn from you only this: did you receive the Spirit from works of Law or from faith in the message? <sup>3</sup>Are you that foolish, that you would now complete with the flesh after beginning with the Spirit? <sup>4</sup>Have you experienced so much for nothing? If even for nothing!<sup>j</sup>

<sup>5</sup>Is then He, who endued you with the Spirit and effects wonder-working power among you, doing so due to your works of Law or due to your faith in the message? <sup>6</sup>Just as Abraham had faith in God and it was accredited to him for righteousness. <sup>7</sup>You notice, therefore, that those who are sons of Abraham are such from faith. <sup>8</sup>But in anticipation that God justifies the Gentiles through faith, the Scripture foretold the Gospel to Abraham in the promise, "In you shall all the nations be blessed,"<sup>k</sup> so that they are blessed through faith with the believing Abraham.

<sup>10</sup>Those who depend on Law performance live under a curse, for it is written, "Cursed is every one who does not abide by all that is written in the book of the Law so as to perform it."<sup>l</sup> <sup>11</sup>But that no one is made righteous in God's presence through the Law is evident, for, "Out of faith the just shall live."<sup>m</sup> <sup>12</sup>The Law, however, does not rest on faith, but, "He who does these things shall live by them."<sup>n</sup>

<sup>13</sup>Christ has bought us free from the curse of the Law inasmuch as He became a curse for us, for it is written, "Cursed is every one who is hanging on a beam," <sup>14</sup>in order that in Christ Jesus the blessing of Abraham might be realized for the nations and that we through faith might receive the promise of the Spirit.

<sup>15</sup>Speaking in terms of human relationships, brothers, no one sets aside or adds to a person's last will that has been ratified. <sup>16</sup>But the promises were spoken to Abraham and to his offspring. It does not say, "And to the offsprings," in the plural, but in the singular, "And to your offspring," which is Christ. <sup>17</sup>This is the point: the Law, that came 430 years later, cannot invalidate a covenant that has been ratified by God, so as to annul the promise. <sup>18</sup>If the inheritance is due to Law, then it is no longer due to promise; but God showed His grace to Abraham through a promise.<sup>p</sup>

<sup>19</sup>Where, then, does the Law come in? It was superimposed to show up sins in their true light, until the Offspring should come concerning whom the promise was made. It was ordained through angels by means of a go-between. <sup>20</sup>But there is no call for an intermediary in case of one, and God is One.

<sup>21</sup>Is then the Law contrary to the promises of God? Not at all! If the Law had been given as a power to produce life, then righteousness would in very truth have been due to the Law; <sup>22</sup>but the Scripture has everything completely imprisoned under sin,<sup>q</sup> so that the promise might be given the believers through faith in Jesus Christ.

<sup>23</sup>Before the faith came, we were guarded by the Law, awaiting in custody the faith that was yet to be revealed; <sup>24</sup>so that the Law served as our tutor<sup>r</sup> Christward, in order that we might be justified by faith. <sup>25</sup>But with the arrival of faith we are no longer under a tutor; <sup>26</sup>for through your faith in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God. <sup>27</sup>As many of you as have been baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. <sup>28</sup>No Jew or Greek there; no slave or freeman; no male or female, because you are all one in Christ Jesus. <sup>29</sup>But if you are Christ's, then you are an offspring of Abraham; you are heirs in agreement with the promise.

4 NOW I AFFIRM THAT SO LONG AS the heir is a minor,<sup>s</sup> he nowise differs from a servant although everything belongs to him; <sup>2</sup>but he is under guardians and trustees until the time that was prearranged by his father. <sup>3</sup>So is our situation. While we were minors, we were subservient to the world's elementary teachings; <sup>4</sup>but when the time was completed, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, <sup>5</sup>born subject to Law in order to buy free those under Law, and that we might receive the sonship adoption. <sup>6</sup>And because you are sons, God has sent forth the Spirit of His Son into our hearts, calling out, "Abba! Father!" <sup>7</sup>You are, therefore, a slave no longer,<sup>t</sup> but a son, and if a son, then by act of God an heir as well.

<sup>8</sup>Previously, however, when you did not know God, you were enslaved to gods that essentially are not gods. <sup>9</sup>But now, when you know God, or better yet, are known by God, how is it you turn back again to those weak and beggarly rudiments to which you want to be enslaved all over again? <sup>10</sup>You observe days and months, festivals and annuals. <sup>11</sup>You make me fear that perhaps I wasted my efforts on you.

<sup>12</sup>I beg of you, brothers, become like me, for I became as you are. You have in no respect wronged me. <sup>13</sup>But you know how that first time I evangelized you on account of physical infirmity,<sup>u</sup> <sup>14</sup>and though my physical condition was for you a trial, you neither scorned nor spurned me, but you welcomed me like an angel of God, like Christ Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>What has become of that blessed enjoyment? For I bear you witness that, if possible, you would have plucked out your eyes to give them to me.<sup>v</sup> <sup>16</sup>Did I become your enemy because I am sincere with you? <sup>17</sup>They busy themselves about you to no good purpose; instead, they want to isolate you from us so that you may be infatuated with them.<sup>w</sup>

<sup>18</sup>But it is well to be zealously sought after always for a good cause and not merely when I am present with you.<sup>x</sup> <sup>19</sup>My children, over whom I once more suffer birthpains until Christ is formed within you, <sup>20</sup>I wish I might be present with you right now and try a new way of speaking, for I am perplexed about you.

<sup>21</sup>Tell me, you who want to be subjected by the Law, do you not listen to the Law? <sup>22</sup>For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the servant girl and one by the freewoman; <sup>23</sup>but while the one by the servant girl was born in a fleshly way, the one by the freewoman came on account of the promise. <sup>24</sup>All of which is allegorical,<sup>y</sup> indicating two covenants, one from Mount Sinai that generates slavery and is Hagar—Mount Sinai in Arabia. <sup>25</sup>It corresponds to the present Jerusalem; for it and her children are in servitude.

5 FOR THIS FREEDOM CHRIST HAS liberated us. Stand firm, then, and be not held fast again by a yoke of servitude.

<sup>7</sup>You were coming along splendidly; who got in your way, so that you do not follow the truth? <sup>8</sup>That decoy note is not from the One who called you. <sup>9</sup>A bit of yeast raises the whole lump of dough.<sup>c</sup> <sup>10</sup>I put confidence in you in Christ that you will not be otherwise minded; but that troubler of yours, whoever he be, will have to bear the punishment.

<sup>11</sup>As for me, brothers, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted?<sup>d</sup> Surely, then, the offensiveness of the cross has been made meaningless. <sup>12</sup>I wish those who are unsettling you would also become eunuchs.

<sup>16</sup>It comes to this: behave in a spiritual way; then you will not carry out your fleshly cravings. <sup>17</sup>For the longings of the flesh are contrary to the Spirit, and those of the Spirit are contrary to the flesh; they are in opposition to each other, so that you will not do just what you like. <sup>18</sup>But if you are guided by the Spirit then you are not under the Law.

<sup>24</sup>Now, those who belong to Christ have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires.<sup>e</sup> <sup>25</sup>If we live by the Spirit, let us also be directed by the Spirit; <sup>26</sup>let us not become vain-glorious so as to compete with each other and to envy one another.

spiritual persons should set him straight in a humble spirit, looking at yourself, so you may not as well be tempted.

<sup>12</sup>Those who want to make a pleasing appearance in worldly fashion, are the very ones who would force circumcision on you, for the simple reason that so they may escape persecution on account of the cross of Christ. <sup>13</sup>For those who are circumcised do not themselves observe the Law; but they want to have you circumcised, so they may boast of your physical experience. <sup>14</sup>But for me, perish the thought that I should boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom the world has been crucified to me and I to the world. <sup>15</sup>For neither circumcision nor the lack of it is important, but a new creation counts, <sup>16</sup>and those who behave by this rule, peace and mercy be upon them, even on the Israel of God!

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE EPHESIANS

From Rome, 61 or early 62 A.D.

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE OF CHRIST Jesus by the will of God, to the saints that live in Ephesus, the faithful in Christ Jesus: <sup>2</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ!

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly spheres<sup>a</sup> through Christ, <sup>4</sup>even as He has chosen us in Him before the world was founded, to be holy and blameless in His presence. <sup>5</sup>In love He predestined us in Jesus Christ for His sonship, in agreement with the kind intent of His will, <sup>6</sup>for the praise of His glorious mercy with which He has graced us in union with the Beloved. <sup>7</sup>In Him and through His blood we enjoy redemption, the forgiveness of our trespasses to the measure of the wealth of His grace, <sup>8</sup>which He poured out on us with the gift of greatest wisdom and insight, <sup>9</sup>making known to us the secret of His purpose, <sup>10</sup>in keeping with His kind intent as He personally planned for the arrangement by which the times should reach their maturity, and everything in heaven and on earth should come to a head in Christ.

<sup>11</sup>In Him we, too, were made His heritage, as foreordained according to His purpose, who works out everything in agreement with the design of His own will, <sup>12</sup>so that we, foremost to put our hope in Christ, might bring praise to His glory. <sup>13</sup>In Him you also, after listening to the message of the truth, the Gospel of our salvation, have as believers in Him been stamp marked with the promised Holy Spirit, <sup>14</sup>who is the pledge-deposit of our legacy for the releasing of our deed of purchase,<sup>b</sup> and all to the praise of His glory.

<sup>15</sup>For this reason I, too, on hearing about your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all the saints, <sup>16</sup>never fail in giving thanks for you as I mention you in my prayers, <sup>17</sup>that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, might grant you a spirit of wisdom and of revelation for an understanding of Himself, <sup>18</sup>granting you illumined eyes of the heart, so you may know the nature of the hope for which you are called; <sup>19</sup>what a wealth of glory is the inheritance He grants among the saints, and how overwhelmingly great is His power for us believers. It is like the working of His mighty strength, <sup>20</sup>which He exerted when He raised Christ from the dead and seated Him in heaven at His right hand, <sup>21</sup>high above all government and authority, power and lordship<sup>c</sup> and every name that is named, not only in this, but also in the future world.

is His body, the completeness of Him who fills the universe at all points.<sup>d</sup>

2 YOU, TOO, WERE DEAD IN YOUR trespasses and sins, <sup>2</sup>in which once you conducted yourselves in line with the ways of this world system, controlled by the prince of the aerial powers, the spirit of the one now working in the sons of disobedience.<sup>e</sup> <sup>3</sup>Among them we all once walked, as we indulged our fleshly desires and carried out the inclinations of the lower nature and lower thoughts, and by nature we were objects of God's indignation, as were all the rest.

<sup>4</sup>But God is so rich in mercy that, on account of His great love with which He loved us, <sup>5</sup>He made us who were dead in trespasses, alive in unison with Christ. — By grace you have been saved. <sup>6</sup>And in Christ Jesus He caused us to rise, and He seated us with Him in the heavenly spheres, <sup>7</sup>so that He might show the immeasurable wealth of His grace, which through the future ages His goodness brings to us through Christ Jesus.

<sup>8</sup>For by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is God's gift. <sup>9</sup>It is not from works, so that no one may boast; <sup>10</sup>for we are His formation, created as we are in Christ Jesus for good works, which God previously prepared for us to enjoy life in them.

<sup>11</sup>Keep in mind, therefore, that once you were physically Gentiles and were called uncircumcision by the so-called circumcision that is made with human hands in the flesh; <sup>12</sup>that in those days you were away from Christ, aliens without the right of Israel's citizenship, and strangers to the covenants of promise; living in the world without hope and without God. <sup>13</sup>But now in Christ Jesus you, who were once far away, have been brought near by the blood of Christ; <sup>14</sup>for He is our peace. Breaking down the partition wall that separated,<sup>f</sup> He united the two sections. <sup>15</sup>By His own human nature He ended the feud and demolished the Law of commandments with regulations, so that in Himself He might create the two into one new person and thus make peace <sup>16</sup>and through the cross reconcile them both in one body to God, killing the feud by the cross.

God's Marvelous Revelation in Christ

<sup>17</sup>As He came, He preached peace to you far away and peace to those near; <sup>18</sup>because through Him we both have in one Spirit entrance to the Father. <sup>19</sup>So, you are no longer strangers and immigrants, but you are fellow citizens of the saints and members of God's household; <sup>20</sup>you are constructed on the foundation of the apostles and prophets of which the extreme cornerstone is Christ Jesus. <sup>21</sup>The whole building, harmoniously framed together in Him, rises into a temple that is holy in the Lord, <sup>22</sup>in whom you also are built up together for a dwelling of God in the Spirit.

3 THANKS TO THIS I, PAUL, AM THE prisoner of Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles. <sup>2</sup>You surely heard how the administration of divine grace to you was granted me;<sup>g</sup> <sup>3</sup>how by revelation the secret was made known to me, as briefly I wrote you before.<sup>h</sup> <sup>4</sup>A perusal of it will enable you to understand my insight into the mystery of Christ, <sup>5</sup>which was not made known to the sons of men in other generations as now it is revealed by the Spirit to His holy apostles and prophets: <sup>6</sup>that the Gentiles are in Christ Jesus through the Gospel joint inheritors, share the same body, and are participants of the promise in Christ Jesus through the Gospel, <sup>7</sup>of which I was made a minister by virtue of the gift of divine grace, that was granted me in agreement with the working of His power. <sup>8</sup>On me, the least of all saints, was this grace bestowed to preach to the Gentiles the fathomless wealth of Christ, <sup>9</sup>and to bring to light what arrangement was contained in the mystery, that had through the ages been hidden with God, the Creator of all.

<sup>13</sup>I pray, therefore, that I may not lose courage in these afflictions of mine for your sakes, and which serve to your honor. <sup>14</sup>Thanks to this, I bow my knees<sup>k</sup> before the Father, <sup>15</sup>from whom every family in heaven and on earth takes its name,<sup>1</sup> <sup>16</sup>that He may grant you, in keeping with the wealth of His glory, to be empowered with strength in the inner self by His Spirit; <sup>17</sup>that through faith the Christ may dwell in your hearts; that you may be rooted and grounded in love, <sup>18</sup>so that you may have power to understand fully with all the saints what is the breadth, the length, the depth, and the height, <sup>19</sup>in fact to know the all-knowledge-surpassing love of Christ; so you may be filled up to the whole fulness of God.

<sup>20</sup>Now to Him, who is able with the power that works within us, to do everything immeasurably far beyond what we pray or think of, <sup>21</sup>to Him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus through all generations for ever and ever. Amen.

4 SO I EXHORT YOU, PRISONER AS I am in the Lord, to conduct yourselves worthy of the calling you have received; <sup>2</sup>with unalloyed humility and gentleness in a loving way patiently to bear with one another, <sup>3</sup>making every effort to preserve the unity of the Spirit by the binding power of peace:

<sup>4</sup>one body and one Spirit, just as you received your calling, too, with one hope; <sup>5</sup>one Lord, one faith, one baptism; <sup>6</sup>one God and Father of all, who governs all and pervades all and is in us all.

<sup>7</sup>But to each individual of us the grace is granted and measured by the gift of Christ; <sup>8</sup>so it says,<sup>m</sup> "As He ascended on high, He led the captured away in captivity; He gave gifts to men." <sup>9</sup>But what does "He ascended" mean, except that He also went down into the nethermost parts of the earth? <sup>10</sup>The One who descended is the very One who ascended far above all the heavens to fill the universe.

<sup>11</sup>So has He given some to be apostles but others to be prophets; some to be evangelists but others to be pastors and teachers,<sup>n</sup> <sup>12</sup>to make the saints fit<sup>o</sup> for the task of ministering toward the building up of the body of Christ, <sup>13</sup>until we all may arrive at the unity of faith and that understanding of the Son of God that brings completeness of personality, tending toward the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. <sup>14</sup>As a result, we should no longer be babes, swung back and forth and carried around with every changing whiff of teaching that springs from human cunning and ingenuity for devising error; <sup>15</sup>but, lovingly attached to truth, we should grow up in every way toward Him who is the Head — Christ, <sup>16</sup>out of whom the entire body is harmoniously fitted together and closely united by every contributing ligament, with proportionate power for each single part to effect the development of the body for its upbuilding in love.

<sup>17</sup>So I tell you this and enter my testimony in the Lord: you must no longer behave like the Gentiles, whose lives are spent in the uselessness of their ways of thinking. <sup>18</sup>Their understanding is in the dark. Because of their complete inner ignorance and the obstinacy<sup>p</sup> of their hearts, they have grown estranged from the life divine. <sup>19</sup>Troubled by no compunctions, they are the sort that have abandoned themselves to sensuality, so as to practice with eagerness all kinds of impurity.

<sup>29</sup>Let no foul speech whatever come out of your mouth, but only what serves well to improve the occasion, so as to add a blessing to the listeners. <sup>30</sup>And never grieve God's Holy Spirit by whom you have been marked<sup>s</sup> against the day of redemption. <sup>31</sup>Get rid of every sore of bitterness among you — bad temper, anger, noisiness, abusive language and everything base. <sup>32</sup>Be kind toward one another, tender-hearted, mutually forgiving, even as God has in Christ forgiven you.

kind of impurity or greed should not so much as be mentioned among you; such is the proper way for saints. <sup>4</sup>Nor should there be indecency and foolish talking or low jesting; they do not come up to the mark. Instead, let there rather be thanksgiving. <sup>5</sup>For be sure of this, that none guilty of unchastity or of impurity or of greed — which is idolatry<sup>u</sup> — enjoys inheritance in the kingdom of the Christ and God.

<sup>6</sup>Let no one lead you astray with meaningless words;<sup>v</sup> — for on account of such things the indignation of God comes on the sons of disobedience; <sup>7</sup>so be not you their companions. <sup>8</sup>For once you were darkness but now in Christ you are light; live as children of light — <sup>9</sup>for the Light's fruition<sup>w</sup> consists in all goodness, righteousness and truth, <sup>10</sup>demonstrating what is pleasing to the Lord.

to their own husbands as related to the Lord. <sup>23</sup>For a husband is head of his wife as Christ also is Head of the church;<sup>z</sup> He is the body's Savior. <sup>24</sup>But as the church is submissive to Christ, so the wives must in every respect be to their husbands.

<sup>25</sup>You husbands, love your wives, even as Christ loved the church and gave Himself for her, <sup>26</sup>in order that by cleansing her according to the word of promise in the baptismal water, He may sanctify her,<sup>a</sup> <sup>27</sup>so He may present the church to Himself gloriously, having no spot or wrinkle or any of such flaws, but holy and blameless.

<sup>32</sup>There is a great, hidden meaning to this, but I am talking relative to Christ and the church. <sup>33</sup>Nevertheless, let each and every one of you love his own wife as much as himself, so that the wife may revere her husband.

<sup>4</sup>And you fathers, do not arouse your children's anger, but bring them up in the instruction and admonition of the Lord.

<sup>5</sup>You servants, render obedience to your earthly masters, with reverence and awe, with such unmixed motives

as you feel toward Christ. <sup>6</sup>Be no eye-servants as men-pleasers, but as servants of Christ carry out wholeheartedly the will of God, <sup>7</sup>rendering service with goodwill as to the Lord and not to men, <sup>8</sup>well aware that whatever good each one may do, whether a slave or a freeman, he will be recompensed by the Lord.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>9</sup>And you masters, treat your servants in the same way: dispense with threatening, as you keep in mind that their Master and yours is in heaven, and with Him there is no partiality.

<sup>14</sup>So stand your ground, with the belt of truth tightened around your waist, the breastplate of righteousness around the body, <sup>15</sup>the readiness of the Gospel of peace bound under your feet; <sup>16</sup>above all taking up the shield of faith, with which you will be able to extinguish all the fire-dipped darts of the evil one. <sup>17</sup>And take hold of the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit—which is the word of God—<sup>18</sup>praying in the Spirit on every occasion by way of ceaseless prayer and entreaty,<sup>g</sup> and constantly attentive to this: to pray with all perseverance and appeal for all the saints; <sup>19</sup>also for me, that, when I open my lips, the message may be given me so as to announce fearlessly the secret truth of the Gospel <sup>20</sup>for which I am an ambassador in handcuffs. Pray that I may present this Gospel freely as it is my duty to speak.

z) Husband and wife relationships date from Old Testament times as spiritual symbol of God and Israel. a) The bride of Paul's day underwent a ceremonial bath before marriage.

b) As one's soul cares for one's body. c) Only by divine authority may parents require obedience.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE PHILIPPIANS

From Rome, 63 A.D.<sup>a</sup>

1 PAUL AND TIMOTHY, SERVANTS of Christ Jesus, to all the saints in Christ Jesus that live at Philippi, with the overseers and deacons:<sup>b</sup> <sup>2</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>3</sup>Every time I think of you I thank my God. <sup>4</sup>Every time I pray I make my petition for all of you, with joyfulness <sup>5</sup>for your fellowship in furthering the Gospel from the first day to this moment. <sup>6</sup>Of this I am convinced, that He who has begun a good work in you will bring it to completion until the day of Christ Jesus.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>7</sup>It is quite appropriate for me to have you all in mind this way, because I have you in my heart, as all of you share with me in divine grace, whether it be in my imprisonment or in the defense and confirmation of the Gospel. <sup>8</sup>For God is my witness how I yearn for you all with the deep-felt affection of Christ Jesus.

<sup>9</sup>And this is my prayer, that your love may grow ever richer and richer in knowledge and keen discernment <sup>10</sup>so as to distinguish differences, that you may be unsullied and blameless in relation to anyone's stumbling, as you face the day of Christ; <sup>11</sup>abounding in such fruits of righteousness as come through Jesus Christ to the glory and praise of God.

ers, that my experiences have turned out for rather than against the advance of the Gospel, <sup>13</sup>so that throughout the imperial guard<sup>d</sup> and everywhere else my shackles have become known in union with Christ. <sup>14</sup>So the majority of the brothers in the Lord have been encouraged by my bonds to dare tell the divine message far more fearlessly.

<sup>18</sup>Well, what of it? Anyhow, in any event, whether from mixed or from pure motives, Christ is preached and I am glad of that; yes, and I shall be glad; <sup>19</sup>for I know that this will turn out for my safety<sup>f</sup> through your prayer and the supplying that comes from the Spirit of Jesus Christ. <sup>20</sup>For I eagerly desire and have hope not to be put to shame at all,<sup>g</sup> but that with perfect boldness as always heretofore so now the honor of Christ may be enhanced in my body, either through living or through dying. <sup>21</sup>For on my part to live is Christ and to die is gain.

<sup>22</sup>If, however, my being alive physically means for me fruitful service, then I cannot tell which to choose. <sup>23</sup>So

a) Near end of first Roman imprisonment. b) The church at Philippi is well organized.

c) The day of His return. d) Ten thousand picked men, of whom some took turns guarding Paul.

e) There is something in it for them. f) For my release from prison.

g) He would be ashamed if he failed speaking for Christ.

PHILIPPIANS 1, 2 Follow the Humbled, Suffering and Victorious Redeemer

I feel the pressure from both sides: I have a yearning to take my leave and to be with Christ, for that is by far the better part, <sup>24</sup>but on your account it is more necessary that I remain in the body. <sup>25</sup>And since I am confident of this, I know that I shall stay and keep near you all to promote your advancement and your enjoyment of the faith, <sup>26</sup>so that my being present with you again may serve to enhance your exultation in Christ in unison with me.

<sup>27</sup>Be sure to conduct yourselves as citizens of Christ<sup>h</sup> that are worthy of the Gospel, so that, whether I come and see you, or whether in my absence I hear about your interests, I may know that you are standing firm in one spirit and one mind, as you are joined in conflict for the faith of the Gospel, <sup>28</sup>not for a moment intimidated by the antagonists. For them this augurs destruction, but for you deliverance and that from God. <sup>29</sup>For you have been privileged on behalf of Christ not only to believe in Him, but also to suffer for Him; <sup>30</sup>so you are experiencing the same conflict you have seen me wage and of which now you learn regarding me.

2 IF, THEREFORE, IN RELATIONSHIP with Christ there is any encouragement,<sup>1</sup> if there is any persuasive appeal of love, if there is any fellowship in the Spirit, if any deep-felt affections and sympathies,<sup>j</sup> <sup>2</sup>then make my joy complete by your mutual identity of purpose, your common object of love, your fellowship of feeling and your harmonious thinking. <sup>3</sup>You will not act from factional motives or out of vanity, but with humble-mindedness each will regard the other superior to himself; <sup>4</sup>neither will each be looking out only for his own interests, but also for those of others.

<sup>5</sup>Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup>who, though existing in the form<sup>k</sup> of God, did not consider His equality with God something to cling to, <sup>7</sup>but emptied Himself<sup>l</sup> as He took on the form of a servant and became like human beings. <sup>8</sup>So, recognized in looks as a human being, He humbled Himself and lived obediently to the extreme of death; yes, death by the cross.

<sup>9</sup>God, therefore, has lifted Him high and has graced Him with a name that surpasses every name,<sup>m</sup> <sup>10</sup>so that in the name of Jesus every knee should bend, of those in heaven, of those on earth, and of those under the earth, <sup>11</sup>and that every tongue should confess to the glory of God the Father that Jesus Christ is Lord.

<sup>12</sup>Consequently, my beloved, just as you have always followed up my suggestions, not merely when I was with you but even better now that I am absent from you, with reverence and trepidation cultivate your own salvation, <sup>13</sup>for God is the Energizer within you, so as to will and to work for His delight.

<sup>14</sup>Do it all without grumbling and objections, <sup>15</sup>so you may become blameless and innocent, God's faultless children in the midst of a crooked and distorted generation among whom you shine like stars in the universe, <sup>16</sup>so attached to the word of life as to be my pride on the day of Christ, because I shall neither have run nor labored in vain. <sup>17</sup>In fact, even if my lifeblood must be poured out for a sacrifice to nurture your faith, I am glad of it and am glad together with you all. <sup>18</sup>Equally so will you be glad and share happiness with me.

<sup>19</sup>But, trusting in the Lord Jesus, I hope to send you Timothy shortly, so that I too may be cheered by news from you; <sup>20</sup>for I have no one else as near of my own attitude with such a genuine interest in your affairs. <sup>21</sup>They are all looking out for their own interests, not for those of Christ Jesus. <sup>22</sup>But you know his sterling worth, how as a son with his father he has served with me for the Gospel. <sup>23</sup>So I hope to send him, whenever I am through attending to these personal matters of mine. <sup>24</sup>But I have confidence in the Lord that soon I too shall come.

<sup>25</sup>I have considered it necessary to send you my brother, fellow worker and fellow soldier Epaphroditus, whom you sent to minister to my wants, <sup>26</sup>inasmuch as he is yearning for you all and feels distressed, because you heard that he was ill. <sup>27</sup>And he was ill, indeed, to the verge of death; but God took pity on him, and not only on him but on me as well, so that I might not experience one grief after another. <sup>28</sup>I have dispatched him, therefore, the more quickly, so that you may be glad to see him again and I may feel more relieved. <sup>29</sup>So, welcome him most warmly in the Lord, and appreciate highly those of his type, <sup>30</sup>for on account of the work of Christ he came to the brink of death and endangered<sup>n</sup> his life, to make up for the service you could not render me.

3 FURTHERMORE, MY BROTHERS, BE glad in the Lord. To repeat in my writing<sup>o</sup> is not irksome to me and for you it is reassuring: <sup>2</sup>Look out for those dogs, for those wicked workers, for the mutilation<sup>p</sup> faction; beware, beware! <sup>3</sup>For we, who worship by God's Spirit, and pride ourselves in Christ Jesus, and do not confide in the flesh, we are the truly circumcised.

<sup>4</sup>I have, however, some basis for confidence in the flesh. If anyone else imagines he may trust in the flesh, I am ahead of him: <sup>5</sup>Circumcised on the eighth day, a native Israelite of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews, as to the Law a Pharisee, <sup>6</sup>as to zeal a persecutor of the church, as to legal righteousness without blame.

<sup>7</sup>But everything, that was gain for me, I have considered loss for Christ's sake. <sup>8</sup>And, what is more, I regard everything as waste in comparison to the superb value of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For His sake I have given up all things and consider them rubbish, in order to gain Christ <sup>9</sup>and to be found in Him, not having my own righteousness, based on the Law, but through faith in Christ, the righteousness that comes from God, based on the faith <sup>10</sup>that knows Him and the power of His resurrection and the sharing of His sufferings becoming like Him in His death, <sup>11</sup>so that I might possibly achieve that resurrection from the dead.

<sup>12</sup>Not that I have already gotten hold<sup>q</sup> or already have reached perfection, but I am pressing onward in hopes of laying hold, because I have been laid hold on by Christ Jesus. <sup>13</sup>Brothers, I do not infer that I myself have laid hold; but one thing I do: forgetting what is behind and reaching out for what lies before, <sup>14</sup>I push on to the goal<sup>r</sup> for the prize of God's heavenly call in Christ Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>Let those then, who are mature,<sup>s</sup> have this in mind, and if your views differ in any respect, God will make this clear also to you. <sup>16</sup>However, where we have arrived, let us keep moving in the same direction (let us mind the same thing).

<sup>17</sup>Join with me as followers, brothers, and observe those who behave as you have it exemplified in us. <sup>18</sup>For many are living, of whom I have often told you and I say it now with tears, who are enemies of the cross of Christ, <sup>19</sup>whose ending is destruction, whose god is their stomach, whose boast is in their shame, whose interests are centered on earthly matters. <sup>20</sup>For our commonwealth has its capitol in heaven,<sup>t</sup> from which also we expect the Lord Jesus Christ as Deliverer; <sup>21</sup>who will change the fashion of our humiliated body so as to resemble His glorious body in the exercise of the power that enables Him to subject everything to Himself.

4 NOW THEN, MY BROTHERS, BE-loved and longed for, my joy and my crown, in this way stand firm in the Lord, dear friends. <sup>2</sup>I appeal to Euodia and I appeal to Syntyche to be agreeable in the Lord. <sup>3</sup>Yes, and I beg of you also, my genuine yokefellow, to lend those women a hand; for they struggled side by side with me in the Gospel, along with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the Book of Life.

<sup>8</sup>Furthermore, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is kindly spoken, whatever is lofty and whatever is praiseworthy, put your mind on these. <sup>9</sup>And what you have learned and mastered and heard and seen in me, that put into practice. And the God of peace be with you.

<sup>10</sup>I was uncommonly happy in the Lord because of late your thoughtfulness<sup>v</sup> toward me came to life again, a matter in which you were interested, but you lacked opportunity. <sup>11</sup>Not that I mention this in view of privation, for I have learned to make ends meet in whatever situation I am. <sup>12</sup>I know how to live simply and I know how to relish plenty; I am acquainted with all of it in every way, to be filled up and to be hungry, to enjoy abundance and to suffer privation. <sup>13</sup>I have strength for everything through Him who empowers me.

<sup>14</sup>At the same time you did well by sharing as companions with me in my trouble. <sup>15</sup>And you Philippians know, too, how in the early preaching of the Gospel, when we took our departure from Macedonia, not a single church except yourselves went into partnership with me as to expenses and receipts; <sup>16</sup>for even when I was in Thessalonica you more than once sent me something to meet my needs. <sup>17</sup>Not that I am after the gift, but I am after the fruition that is multiplying to your credit.<sup>w</sup>

<sup>18</sup>Now that I have received from Epaphroditus what you sent, a fragrant perfume, an acceptable offering that pleases God, I have enough and to spare; I am amply supplied. <sup>19</sup>But my God shall fully supply all your needs according to His abundant wealth so glorious in Christ Jesus. <sup>20</sup>And to God our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

u) The prayer of faith contains gratitude. See Christ's prayers, Matt. 11:25; Jn. 11:41.

v) In supporting him and his work. Paul's parents were not poor and at times he seems to have had personal resources available; but usually he was forced to make a living by working with his hands. This became impossible in prison.

w) Both here and in vs. 15, Paul employs mercantile terms; their giving opens a credit sheet for them and a debit sheet for him. What riches in Christ the prisoner enjoyed!

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE COLOSSIANS

From Rome, early 62 A.D.

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE OF CHRIST Jesus by the will of God, and brother Timothy <sup>2</sup>to the consecrated and believing brothers in Christ at Colossae: Grace to you and peace from God our Father (and the Lord Jesus Christ).

<sup>3</sup>We constantly give thanks to God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, as we are praying for you; <sup>4</sup>for we have heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and the love you cherish for all the saints,<sup>a</sup> <sup>5</sup>because of the hope that has its deposit for you in heaven. You first heard of this hope in the message of Gospel truth that reached you, <sup>6</sup>as it has come also to the whole world, with fruitful results and still spreading, as is the case among you ever since you learned of and tasted in truth the grace of God.

<sup>7</sup>So you learned from Epaphras, our dear fellow servant, who is a faithful minister of Christ for you, <sup>8</sup>and he has pointed out to us the love you cherish through the Spirit. <sup>9</sup>We have, therefore, from the day we heard it, never neglected praying and petitioning for you, that you might be so filled with all spiritual wisdom and insight as to understand His will clearly, <sup>10</sup>and to live in a way worthy of the Lord and to His entire satisfaction, by producing results in all sorts of good work, and by growing in the knowledge of God. <sup>11</sup>We pray that you be invigorated with complete power in accordance with His glorious strength, for the cheerful exercise of unlimited patience and perseverance, <sup>12</sup>with thanksgivings to the Father, who has qualified you for your share in the inheritance<sup>b</sup> of the saints in the Light.

<sup>13</sup>He has rescued us from the control of the darkness, and has transferred us into the kingdom of the Son of His love, <sup>14</sup>in whom we have redemption (through His blood), the forgiveness of sins; <sup>15</sup>who is the likeness of the invisible God, the first-born before all creation. <sup>16</sup>For by Him<sup>c</sup> all things were created in heaven and on earth, the visible and the invisible, whether thrones or lordships or rulers or authorities, they are all created by Him and for Him, <sup>17</sup>and He is Himself before all, and in Him all things are framed together.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>18</sup>He also is the Head of His body, the church; He is its beginning, the first-born from the dead, so that in every respect He might have first place. <sup>19</sup>For the Father was pleased to have all the fullness dwell in Him, <sup>20</sup>and through Him to reconcile all things to Himself, those on earth as well as those in heaven, as through Him He<sup>e</sup> made peace by means of the blood of His cross.

activities, <sup>22</sup>He has now reconciled in His human body through His death, to introduce you into His presence holy, blameless and unaccused—<sup>23</sup>presuming you remain grounded and settled in the faith and are not moved away from the hope inspired by the Gospel to which you listened, which has been preached to every creature under heaven<sup>f</sup> and of which I, Paul, became a minister.

<sup>24</sup>I am now glad amid my sufferings for you, and am making up in my own physique on behalf of His body, which is the church, what I am still lacking of Christ's afflictions. <sup>25</sup>I have become a minister of the church by divine appointment that was given me, to preach fully to you the word of God, <sup>26</sup>the secret that was hidden from the ages and the generations but which now has been revealed to His saints, <sup>27</sup>to whom God has chosen to make known what is the wealth of this glorious mystery for the Gentiles, which is, Christ in you, the Hope of glory.

<sup>28</sup>Him we proclaim, while warning every person and instructing every individual in the whole range of wisdom, so that we may present every person complete in Christ. <sup>29</sup>And for this I toil, wrestling with the energy with which so powerfully He energizes me.

2 FOR I WANT YOU TO KNOW IN what struggle<sup>g</sup> I engage for you and for the Laodicean brothers, and for those who have not met me personally, <sup>2</sup>so that their hearts may be cheered. We want you welded together in love and moving on to all the riches that the full assurance of insight brings with a knowledge of Christ, the mystery of God,<sup>h</sup> <sup>3</sup>in whom all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge lie hidden.

<sup>4</sup>I mention this, so that no one may confuse your thinking by specious argument; <sup>5</sup>for while I am physically absent, I am nevertheless with you in spirit, as I observe with enjoyment your well-ordered condition and the firmness of your faith in Christ.

<sup>6</sup>So, as you did accept Christ Jesus as Lord, live in union with Him, <sup>7</sup>rooted and built up in Him and confirmed in the faith, just as you have been taught. And be overflowing with the giving of thanks.

<sup>8</sup>Beware of anyone carrying you captive through philosophy and empty deceitfulness along lines of human tradition and the world's elementary principles,<sup>i</sup> and not according to Christ. <sup>9</sup>For in Him all the fulness of the Godhead dwells bodily,<sup>j</sup> <sup>10</sup>and in Him, who is the head of all principedom and authority, you are enjoying fulness of life. <sup>11</sup>In Him, too, you were circumcised, not with a physical circumcision, in which there is a stripping off from the physical body, but with Christ's circumcision, <sup>12</sup>when you were buried with Him in your baptism, and thereby raised to life with Him through the faith wrought of God, who raised Him from the dead.

<sup>13</sup>And you, who were dead in your trespasses and your fleshly lack of circumcision, you He made to live jointly with Himself, as He forgave us all our trespasses, <sup>14</sup>canceled our red ledger of regulations that was standing against us and took it out of the way, when He nailed it to the cross <sup>15</sup>and, disarming the princes and authorities,<sup>k</sup> He publicly exposed them to disgrace as He personally triumphed over them.

<sup>16</sup>Allow no one, therefore, to be your judge in regard to eating and drinking or the observance of a festival or a new moon or a Sabbath. <sup>17</sup>These are shadows of things to follow, but the body<sup>l</sup> is Christ. <sup>18</sup>Let no one defraud you of salvation's victory prize, no one who indulges in assumed humility and the cult of angel-worship;<sup>m</sup> who brags of visions and, though empty, is inflated by his worldly mind, <sup>19</sup>instead of keeping hold on that Head from which the whole body, gathering vigor and held together by ligaments and sinews, grows with God's increase.

<sup>20</sup>If with Christ you have become dead to the elementary principles of the world, why allow regulations to be imposed on you as if you were living under world-control: <sup>21</sup>Don't touch this! Don't taste that! Don't handle the other! <sup>22</sup>All these are destined to be ruined by wear; they are governed by human injunctions and instructions, <sup>23</sup>such as have, to be sure, a suggestion of wisdom by self-imposed worship and self-humiliation and unsparing severity of the body, but are of no value in combating fleshly indulgence.<sup>n</sup>

apart and enjoying His love, clothe yourselves with tenderness of heart, kindness, humble-mindedness, gentleness, patient endurance. <sup>13</sup>Bear with one another and forgive each other in case one feels a grievance against another. Just as Christ has forgiven you, so do you. <sup>14</sup>But cap it all with love, which is the perfect bond of union. <sup>15</sup>And let the peace of Christ, for which you were called in one body, be umpire in your hearts. Also become<sup>a</sup> thankful.

<sup>16</sup>Let the enriching message of Christ have ample room in your lives as you instruct and admonish one another in a wealth of wisdom with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, that are sung with a lovely feeling toward God in your hearts. <sup>17</sup>And whatever you may do by word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus,<sup>t</sup> through whom you are offering thanks to God the Father.

<sup>2</sup>Keep up strongly in prayer; attend to it diligently with the offering of thanks, <sup>3</sup>praying as well for us, that God may open for us a door to tell the message of the hidden truth of Christ on account of which I am in shackles, <sup>4</sup>so that I may make this clearly known as I am bound to tell it.

<sup>5</sup>Conduct yourselves wisely toward the outsiders, using your time to the best possible advantage. <sup>6</sup>Let your speech always be gracious and so well reasoned out that you will know how to reply to each individual.

<sup>7</sup>Tychicus, our beloved brother, faithful minister and fellow servant in the Lord, will tell you all about my affairs. <sup>8</sup>I have sent him to you for this very purpose, to let you know our circumstances, and to cheer your hearts. <sup>9</sup>As he is accompanied by Onesimus, our faithful and beloved brother who is one of your own, they will acquaint you with everything that is going on here.

<sup>10</sup>Aristarchus,<sup>w</sup> my fellow prisoner, sends you greeting; so does Mark, the nephew of Barnabas, about whom you received instructions—if he comes to you, welcome him. <sup>11</sup>Also Jesus who is called Justus. These are the only ones of the circumcision who serve as co-workers for the kingdom of God; they have become a comfort to me.

<sup>12</sup>Epaphras,<sup>x</sup> one of your own, a servant of Christ Jesus, wants to be remembered to you. He is always wrestling for you in his prayers, that you may stand firm, mature, and thoroughly convinced in all that concerns the will of God. <sup>13</sup>For I bear him witness how deeply concerned he is about you and the brothers at Laodicea and Hierapolis.

<sup>14</sup>Luke, the beloved physician, sends greetings, and so does Demas. <sup>15</sup>Extend our greetings to the brothers in Laodicea; also to Nympha and the church that meets at her home.

<sup>16</sup>When this epistle has been read in your presence, so arrange that it may also be read by the Laodicean church, while you read the epistle from Laodicea.<sup>y</sup> <sup>17</sup>And say to Archippus: Attend to the ministry which you have received in the Lord, so as to do it full credit.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE THESSALONIANS

From Corinth, late 51 A.D.

1 PAUL<sup>a</sup> AND SILVANUS<sup>b</sup> AND TIMOTHY, to the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.<sup>c</sup> Grace to you and peace.

<sup>2</sup>We offer thanks to God always for all of you as we make mention of you in our prayers <sup>3</sup>and without intermission recall your active faith, your labor prompted by love and your enduring hope, that rests on our Lord Jesus Christ in the presence of our God and Father.

<sup>4</sup>Brothers, beloved of God, we know His choice of you; <sup>5</sup>for our good tidings did not merely reach you in talk, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with sound conviction, as you well know in what way we conducted ourselves among you for your service. <sup>6</sup>You also became followers of ours and of the Lord, when with joy, derived from the Holy Spirit, you welcomed the message under great affliction,<sup>d</sup> <sup>7</sup>so that you became an example to all the believers in Macedonia and Achaia. <sup>8</sup>For not only did the Lord's message go out from you over Macedonia and Achaia, but the fact of your faith in God has been broadcast everywhere, so that we do not need to talk about it.

<sup>9</sup>For they voluntarily tell about us, what remarkable introduction we had to you and how you turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true

God <sup>10</sup>and to await His Son from heaven, whom He raised from the dead—Jesus who redeemed us from the coming retribution.<sup>e</sup>

2 FOR YOU ARE YOURSELVES AWARE, brothers, how our entrance among you was not futile; <sup>2</sup>but after the sufferings and maltreatments we experienced, as you know, at Philippi, we took great courage by the help of our God to tell you amid severe struggle the Gospel of God. <sup>3</sup>For our appeal springs neither from delusion, nor from impure motives, nor from deceit, <sup>4</sup>but precisely as we have been divinely approved to be entrusted with the Gospel so we tell it, not to ingratiate ourselves with men, but to please God, who tests our hearts. <sup>5</sup>For we never indulged in flattery, as you well know, neither were we under some pretext after money—to which God is witness—<sup>6</sup>neither did we seek plaudations from men, either from you or from others, though as Christ's apostles we were in position to claim authority. <sup>7</sup>Instead, we were mild-mannered in your circle, like a nursing mother tenderly fostering her own children. <sup>8</sup>So strongly drawn to you, we were joyfully willing not only to impart to you the Gospel of God but our own lives as well, because you had become dear to us.

<sup>9</sup>You will recollect, brothers, our hard and troubled labor as we worked night

a) Paul saw no reason for asserting his claim to apostleship, for it was not disputed.

b) Silas, with whom he had visited Thessalonica as well as with Timothy.

and day,<sup>f</sup> so we might be no burden to any of you while we heralded to you God's Gospel. <sup>10</sup>You are witnesses, and so is God, how pure, fair, and irreproachable was our behavior toward you believers. <sup>11</sup>You know how we, like a father toward his own children, <sup>12</sup>appealed to each of you and cheered you on and charged you to deport yourselves in a way worthy of the God who is calling<sup>g</sup> you into His own kingdom and glory.

<sup>13</sup>As for us, we too constantly thank God because, when you took hold of the divine message from us, you did not accept it as a human message but, as it truly was, a message from God, which also is effective in you who believe. <sup>14</sup>For you, brothers, have become followers in Christ Jesus of the churches of God that are in Judea;<sup>h</sup> because you, too, have suffered so at the hands of your own countrymen, just as they suffered from the Jews, <sup>15</sup>who put to death the Lord Jesus as well as the prophets, and persecuted us. They are displeasing to God and opponents of all people; <sup>16</sup>for they forbid us to tell the message of salvation to the Gentiles, so that they constantly fill up the measure of their sins. But divine indignation has at last overtaken them.<sup>i</sup>

<sup>17</sup>We, however, brothers, when we were deprived of you for a little while so far as presence goes but not in heart, we made the more intense efforts with great longing to see you personally. <sup>18</sup>So we wanted to come to you, I Paul indeed more than once, but Satan interfered with us.<sup>j</sup> <sup>19</sup>For who except you is our hope or happiness or prided crown in the presence of our LORD Jesus at His coming? <sup>20</sup>For you are our glory and joy.

3 SO, WHEN WE COULD NOT STAND IT any longer, we thought it best to be left alone at Athens, <sup>2</sup>and we sent

Timothy, our brother and God's minister in the Gospel of Christ, to confirm you in and to give you advice on matters of your faith,<sup>k</sup> <sup>3</sup>so that none may be disturbed by these distresses. For you know yourselves that for this we were appointed; <sup>4</sup>for when we were with you, we told you in advance, "We are going to have trouble," exactly as you know it happened.

<sup>5</sup>And for this reason, when I could no longer stand it, I sent to make sure about your faith, whether perhaps the tempter<sup>l</sup> might have tempted you, and the work should be useless. <sup>6</sup>Now, however, since Timothy has returned to us from you and has brought us the good message of your faith and love and how you retain us constantly in loving remembrance, how you are yearning to see us, just as we are to see you, <sup>7</sup>we have reason, brothers, to feel encouraged about you on account of your faith, spite of all our straits and troubles. <sup>8</sup>Because now we enjoy living, so far as you stand firm in the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>How can we ever repay God<sup>m</sup> with enough thanksgiving for you in view of all the happiness we are enjoying because of you in the presence of our God! <sup>10</sup>Night and day we keep praying so earnestly to see you personally and to adjust what needs advancement in your faith.

<sup>11</sup>May our God and Father Himself and our LORD Jesus<sup>n</sup> prepare our way to you! <sup>12</sup>May the Lord make your love for one another and for everyone abundant and running over, just as ours for you, <sup>13</sup>so that your hearts may be made so steadfast you will be spotlessly holy before God our Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all His holy ones. Amen.

4 TO GO ON THEN, BROTHERS, WE beg of you and strongly advise you in the name of the Lord Jesus to continue advancing in the ideal you caught from us, how to behave in a way that pleases God, and as you are behaving—to keep on doing still better. <sup>2</sup>For you are aware what instructions we gave you by authority of the Lord Jesus.

<sup>9</sup>It is not necessary to write you about brotherly love, for you have been personally taught of God to love one another, <sup>10</sup>and you are actually practicing it toward all the brothers throughout Macedonia. <sup>11</sup>But we appeal to you, brothers, to keep advancing in it and to cherish ambition for a peaceful way of living; to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands as we recommended to you, <sup>12</sup>so that your behavior toward the outsiders will be honorable and you need not depend on anyone.

<sup>13</sup>But we do not want to keep you in ignorance, brothers, about those who have fallen asleep, so you may not grieve as others do, who have no hope. <sup>14</sup>For if we believe that Jesus died and arose—well, in similar way God shall bring with Him those who have fallen asleep through Jesus.<sup>p</sup> <sup>15</sup>We tell you this on the Lord's own saying: We, the living who remain at the coming of the Lord, shall not at all take precedence over those asleep. <sup>16</sup>For with a shout, with the voice of an archangel and the trumpet of God, the Lord shall personally descend from heaven and those who died in Christ shall rise first. <sup>17</sup>Afterward we, the living who still survive, shall be caught up along with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we shall forever be with the Lord. <sup>18</sup>So then encourage one another with these words.

5 <sup>RELATIVE TO PERIODS AND DATES,</sup> brothers, you need no correspondence,<sup>q</sup> <sup>2</sup>for you are yourselves keenly aware how the day of the Lord shall come as a thief in the night. <sup>3</sup>When they shall say, "Peace and safety," then destruction unforeseen is on them like the birthpangs of a pregnant woman, and there will be no escape.

<sup>4</sup>You, however, brothers, are not in the dark, so that the day would surprise you like a thief; <sup>5</sup>for you are all sons of light and sons of the day; we belong neither to night nor to darkness. <sup>6</sup>Accordingly then let us not be asleep like the rest; but let us be on our guard and composed. <sup>7</sup>For the sleepers sleep at night and the drunkards are drunk at night. <sup>8</sup>But as we are day-folk, let us be sober, outfitted with<sup>r</sup> faith and love for our coat of mail, and the hope of salvation for a helmet.

<sup>9</sup>For God has not destined us for indignation, but for the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>10</sup>who experienced death for us so that we, whether awake or asleep, might live together with Him. <sup>11</sup>Encourage one another, therefore, and build up one the other, as in fact you are doing.

<sup>12</sup>We beg of you, brothers, to recognize the workers among you, both your leaders in the Lord and your advisers. <sup>13</sup>Because of their work, hold them lovingly in highest regard. Enjoy peace among yourselves.

<sup>14</sup>But we appeal to you, brothers: warn the disorderly; cheer up the fainthearted; give your support to the weak; exercise patience toward everyone. <sup>15</sup>See to it that no one pays back evil for evil; instead, you will always try to be helpful to one another and to all people.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE THESSALONIANS

From Corinth, early 52 A.D.

1 PAUL AND SILVANUS AND TIMOTHY<sup>a</sup> to the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father<sup>b</sup> and the Lord Jesus Christ: <sup>2</sup>Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>3</sup>We are always bound<sup>c</sup> to give God thanks for you, brothers, as is befitting, because your faith is growing so splendidly and your mutual love is increasing with each and every one of you, <sup>4</sup>so that we ourselves mention you with pride among the churches of God<sup>d</sup> for your endurance and faith amid all the persecutions and distresses under which you are holding up. <sup>5</sup>They are evidence of God's fair verdict to this effect, that you will be made worthy of the kingdom of God on account of which you are suffering, <sup>6</sup>inasmuch as God considers it just to repay with distress those who distress you, <sup>7</sup>and to give relief to you who are troubled along with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with His mighty angels in a blaze of fire.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>8</sup>He shall mete out retribution on those who ignore God and who pay no attention to the Gospel of our Lord Jesus. <sup>9</sup>They will pay the penalty of everlasting ruin away from the presence of the Lord and from His glorious power,<sup>f</sup> <sup>10</sup>whenever He comes to have His glory shown in His saints and to be admired in all the believers, on that day—because our witnessing among you was believed.

<sup>11</sup>For this purpose we constantly pray for you, that our God may render you worthy of His call, and by His power may fulfill every desire for goodness and every faith-inspired effort. <sup>12</sup>Then shall the name of our Lord Jesus be glorified in you and you in Him to the measure of the grace of our God and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 BUT WE BEG OF YOU, BROTHERS, relative to the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our meeting together with Him, <sup>2</sup>not to allow your minds to be readily unsettled or disturbed, either by a spirit or by a message or by a letter allegedly from us, as if the day of the Lord had arrived. <sup>3</sup>Let no one in any way deceive you; for the apostasy is to come first, and the man of sin is to be revealed, the son of doom, the adversary, <sup>4</sup>so proudly insolent toward everything called God or worshiped, as to seat himself in the temple of God with the acclaim that he himself is God.

<sup>5</sup>Do you not recollect how I told you this when I was still with you? <sup>6</sup>So you know now what impedes his being revealed at this time; <sup>7</sup>for the hidden principle of lawlessness is already at work; only, the one who impeded until

a) Silas and Timothy are still with him at Corinth. "We" is employed throughout the epistle.

b) Our sonship is through Christ in the Holy Spirit, Rom. 8:14, 15. c) As one in debt.

e) See Matt. 24:31; 25:31. f) Separation from God means hell, Matt. 27:46.

now must first be gotten out of the way.<sup>8</sup> <sup>8</sup>Then shall the lawless one<sup>a</sup> be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will remove with the breath of His mouth, and bring to an end by the breaking forth of His coming.

<sup>9</sup>The coming of the lawless one is according to Satan's working, with great power and signs and miracles, all of them false, <sup>10</sup>and with limitless deceit of wickedness for those who, because they did not welcome the love of truth for their salvation, are going to destruction. <sup>11</sup>And for this reason God visits them with a delusion that operates on them to believe the falsehood, <sup>12</sup>so that all who have not believed the truth but have taken pleasure in wickedness may receive judgment.

<sup>13</sup>But we are always bound to offer thanks to God for you, brothers, loved by the Lord as you are, because from the beginning God chose you for salvation by the Spirit's sanctifying work and by faith in the truth. <sup>14</sup>He called you for this purpose by means of our Gospel preaching, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>15</sup>So then, brothers, stand firm and hold on to the instructions you learned of us, whether orally or by letter.

<sup>16</sup>And may our Lord Jesus Christ Himself and God our Father, who has loved us and has graciously given us eternal comfort and well-founded hope, <sup>17</sup>encourage your hearts and strengthen you in every good work and word.

3 FURTHERMORE, BROTHERS, DO pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run its course and be glorified as it was among you, <sup>2</sup>and that we may be rescued from those unbalanced and malicious people;<sup>1</sup> for faith is not everyone's portion. <sup>3</sup>But the Lord is faithful, who will make you steadfast and will guard you from the evil one. <sup>4</sup>So, through the Lord we have confidence in you, that you practice and will practice what we suggested. <sup>5</sup>And may the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God<sup>1</sup> and into the patience of Christ.<sup>k</sup>

<sup>6</sup>But we charge you, brothers, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, to withdraw from every brother who, instead of observing the instruction you received from us, is walking out of step. <sup>7</sup>For you know yourselves how you should follow us, because we did not live neglectful of duty among you, <sup>8</sup>neither did we eat anyone's food without pay; instead, we did hard and heavy work night and day, so as not to impose on any of you. <sup>9</sup>Not that we did not have the right to it, but to furnish you ourselves as an example which you should follow.

<sup>10</sup>For while we were with you, we gave you this charge, "If anyone does not want to work, then he should not eat either."<sup>1</sup> <sup>11</sup>We are hearing, however, that some of you live neglectful of your duty, not busily working but busy in other folks' affairs. <sup>12</sup>Such persons we direct and charge in the Lord Jesus Christ that, doing their work quietly, they eat their own food.

<sup>13</sup>As for you, brothers, do the lovely thing without weakening. <sup>14</sup>But in case someone does not follow up our message in this epistle, note him; do not get mixed up with him, so he may grow ashamed. <sup>15</sup>And do not consider him an enemy, but warn him as a brother.

<sup>16</sup>And may the Lord of peace Himself grant you peace at all times under all circumstances. The Lord be with you all.<sup>m</sup>

<sup>18</sup>The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with all of you. (Amen.)

g) This seems to refer to the Roman empire, incarnated in the Emperor, who probably was just referred to as the "man of sin." Rome, after all, checked the Jews of the earlier period of the church from doing their worst. Like Antichrist, this picture repeats till Christ's coming.

h) Elsewhere Antichrist, who appears in various ways until the end.

i) Opposing Jews, such as had driven Paul and his companions from Thessalonica, Acts 17:5-9.

j) Divine love fostered in our hearts. k) Patiently awaiting Christ's return. Who knows when?

l) Expecting Christ's immediate return, some seem to have quit working for a living.

m) Not simply after His return but now, as promised, Matt. 28:20.

n) His handwriting guarantees genuineness. Ch. 2:2 suggests possible forgery.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TIMOTHY

To Ephesus; from Macedonia, late 63 A.D.

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE OF CHRIST Jesus by order of God our Savior and Christ Jesus our Hope, <sup>2</sup>to Timothy,<sup>a</sup> my genuine child in faith: Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord!

<sup>3</sup>As I asked you when on my way to Macedonia, do stay in Ephesus so that you may warn certain people<sup>b</sup> not to teach erroneously, <sup>4</sup>neither to pay attention to invented stories and interminable genealogies such as furnish disputes rather than acceptance by faith of God's administration. <sup>5</sup>The purpose of our instruction, however, is love that rises out of a pure heart, a clear conscience, and undisguised faith. <sup>6</sup>Swerving away from this, some are turned off into empty talk, <sup>7</sup>wanting to be law teachers without understanding what they say or about what they are making their strong assertions.

<sup>8</sup>But we know that the Law is admirable if one makes lawful use of it, <sup>9</sup>keeping this in mind that a law is not laid down for an honest person but for the lawless and the refractory; for the ungodly and sinful; for the impious and profane; for patricides and matricides; for homicides; <sup>10</sup>for the unchaste; for sexual perverts, kidnapers, falsifiers, perjurers and whatever else is contrary to the wholesome teaching

<sup>12</sup>I feel grateful to Christ Jesus our Lord who strengthened me; for He deemed me worthy and appointed me for service, <sup>13</sup>me who was formerly a slanderer, a persecutor and an oppressor. But I found mercy, for in unbelief I acted ignorantly,<sup>c</sup> <sup>14</sup>and the grace of our Lord has grown the mightier with faith and love that rest in Christ Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>Reliable is the message and deserving of wholehearted acceptance that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am foremost. <sup>16</sup>But I found mercy, so that to me, foremost, Jesus Christ might display His unlimited patience, to be an example to all who shall put their trust in Him for life eternal. <sup>17</sup>Now to the King of the ages, immortal, invisible, the only God be honor and glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>18</sup>I charge you with these instructions, Timothy my son, in agreement with the previous prophecies that bear on yourself,<sup>d</sup> so that you may with their aid put up a splendid fight, <sup>19</sup>possessed of faith and a clear conscience. For some have thrown these qualities overboard and have shipwrecked their faith; <sup>20</sup>for instance, Hymenaeus<sup>e</sup> and Alexander,<sup>f</sup> whom I have surrendered

a) While still young, Timothy had been converted at Lystra under Paul's ministry. With him on the second journey, and the third; in Rome. In charge of the Ephesus church; imprisoned and freed, Heb. 13:23. Greatly wanted by Paul during his second imprisonment; deeply sympathetic with his older friend. This letter between the two imprisonments.

b) Heretical Jews inside the church, speculating on angelic orders and claiming divine revelation on trivial subjects—Jewish "Knowers" or Gnostics.

c) With faith came mercy; there had been no purposed opposition to the Spirit.

to Satan, so they may be disciplined not to speak profanely.

2 FIRST OF ALL, THEN, I URGE THAT petitions, prayers, intercessions and thanksgivings be made for all people, <sup>2</sup>for kings and all who hold high positions, that with all reverence and dignity we may lead a quiet and undisturbed life.<sup>3</sup> <sup>3</sup>Such praying is wholesome and is welcome in the presence of God our Savior, <sup>4</sup>who wants all persons to be saved and to come to an understanding of the truth. <sup>5</sup>For there is one God, and one go-between of God and of men, the man Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup>who gave Himself a ransom for all, which was to be attested in due time. <sup>7</sup>For this I was appointed a herald and apostle—I am telling the truth; I do not falsify—a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and in truth.

<sup>8</sup>So it is my desire that men everywhere shall pray, as without anger and disputing they lift up dedicated hands. <sup>9</sup>In similar spirit the women shall dress themselves modestly and prudently in becoming attire, not adorned with braided hair and gold or pearls or expensive clothes, <sup>10</sup>but, as is appropriate for women who profess religion, with good works.

3 TRUSTWORTHY IS THE SAYING, "Whoever aspires to the office of overseer is out for a splendid task."

What and How to Pray; Use Your Gifts

qualified to teach; <sup>3</sup>neither a drunkard nor a fist-fighter, but genial, conciliatory, not after money; <sup>4</sup>presiding beautifully over his own home, with genuine dignity keeping his children under control. <sup>5</sup>For if a person does not know enough to manage his own home, how will he take care of God's church? —<sup>6</sup>Not a new convert, so he may not grow conceited and fall under similar sentence as the devil.<sup>j</sup> <sup>7</sup>He must also enjoy a favorable reputation among the outsiders, so he may not be involved in slander and get snared by the devil.

<sup>14</sup>I am writing you this in the hope of shortly coming to you so that, <sup>15</sup>in case I am delayed, you may know how folk should behave in God's household, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and support of the truth. <sup>16</sup>And, confessedly, the hidden truth of godliness is great:

Who was revealed in the flesh, vindicated by the Spirit,
seen by angels,
heralded among Gentiles,
believed in by the world, taken up in glory.<sup>l</sup>

4 BUT THE SPIRIT SAYS DISTINCTLY that in latter times<sup>m</sup> some shall fall away from the faith; they will yield to

g) The epistle is to all Ephesian Christians and further to all Christians.

h) Or, she shall be saved through the birth of the Child.

j) Pride turned an archangel into Satan, as was typified in Babylon's king, Isa. 14:4-17.

k) Deacons may grow into elders. 1) A brief Christian creed.

deluding spirits and demonic teachings<sup>2</sup> by hypocritical liars, whose own consciences are seared as with a branding iron. <sup>3</sup>They prohibit marriage and the enjoyment of foods, which God created for those who believe and understand the truth, to partake of with thanksgiving. <sup>4</sup>For God's whole creation is good and nothing to be rejected when gratefully received; <sup>5</sup>for it is consecrated through the word of God and through prayer.

<sup>6</sup>If you will present these matters to the brothers, you will be an excellent minister of Christ Jesus, while you continue nurturing on the messages of faith and the noble teachings to which you have been conforming your life. <sup>7</sup>But shun those unholy and old-womanish tales.<sup>n</sup>

<sup>8</sup>Train yourself for godliness, because while physical training is to some benefit, godliness is beneficial all around; it holds promise for this present and for the future life—<sup>9</sup>a trustworthy saying deserving the acceptance of all. <sup>10</sup>For this purpose we labor and wrestle, because we have placed our hope in the living God who is the Savior of all people, particularly of believers.

<sup>11</sup>Enjoin and teach these suggestions. <sup>12</sup>Let no one think little of you because of your youth; instead, become in speech, in behavior, in love, in faith, in purity, an example before the believers. <sup>13</sup>Till I arrive, go ahead with the public reading, the preaching and the teaching. <sup>14</sup>Do not neglect the gift in you that was prophetically<sup>o</sup> granted you with the laying on of hands of the presbytery.<sup>p</sup> <sup>15</sup>Cultivate these matters, live in them, so that your advance may be evident to everyone. <sup>16</sup>Look to yourself and to the teaching; keep right on in that; for, doing so, you will save yourself as well as your hearers.

5 DO NOT CHIDE AN OLDER MAN, BUT address him as a father, and those younger as brothers; <sup>2</sup>older women as mothers and the younger as sisters, with absolute purity.

<sup>3</sup>Honor widows who really are widows. <sup>4</sup>But if any widow has children or grandchildren, let them first learn to practice religion at home and so to return a remuneration for those who nurtured them, for so it is acceptable in God's sight.

<sup>9</sup>None but a widow over sixty shall be chosen,<sup>r</sup> who was the wife of one husband, <sup>10</sup>with a reputation for good works, who has reared children, has practiced hospitality, has washed the feet of the saints, has relieved the distressed and has been devoted to all kinds of good works.

<sup>11</sup>But turn down younger widows, for when, spite of Christ, they feel desire, they want to marry <sup>12</sup>and they become guilty of breaking their prime engagement. <sup>13</sup>Presently they acquire habits of idleness as they go around visiting the homes, and not merely are they idle but they are gossips and busybodies, saying things they should not.

<sup>14</sup>So I would have young widows marry again, bear children, manage a home, and afford the opponent no incentive whatever for slandering. <sup>15</sup>For even now some of them have been turned after Satan. <sup>16</sup>If any believing woman has widowed relatives, let her take care of them, so that the church may not be burdened and the needy widows be looked after.

<sup>17</sup>The elders who conduct their office well are worthy of double honor, particularly those who labor in preaching and teaching; <sup>18</sup>for the Scripture

n) As in vs. 3 that physical things are evil and not from God.

q) Like the eternal existence of the unsaved; they are dead and in ruin but they continue existence.

says, "Do not muzzle the threshing ox," and, "The worker deserves his wage."

<sup>19</sup>Do not entertain a charge against an elder unless it is supported by two or three witnesses. <sup>20</sup>In the presence of all, correct those who went wrong, so that the rest may be awed.

<sup>23</sup>Do no longer drink water only, but use a little wine for the good of your stomach and your recurring illness.

6 <sup>v</sup>THOSE WHO ARE UNDER THE YOKE of slavery shall regard their masters deserving of all respect, so that the name of God and the teaching may not be calumniated. <sup>2</sup>But those who have believing masters must honor them no less because they are brothers;<sup>v</sup> instead, they should serve them better because those who benefit by their helpful service are believers and are loved.

<sup>3</sup>Teach and urge these matters. Whoever teaches differently and does not adhere to the wholesome sayings of our Lord Jesus Christ and to the teaching that fosters godliness, <sup>4</sup>is conceited without understanding, with a morbid craving for controversy and a war of words, such as result in envy, wrangling, slander, bad suspicions, <sup>5</sup>perpetual contention between people of depraved minds and defrauded of the truth, who think of godliness in terms of acquisition.

<sup>11</sup>But you, O man of God, shun these things and go after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, gentleness. <sup>12</sup>Fight the good fight of faith; take hold of that eternal life to which you were called as you made a beautiful confession in the presence of many witnesses.

<sup>13</sup>In the presence of God, who causes all things to live, and of Christ Jesus, who witnessed the noble confession before Pontius Pilate,<sup>x</sup> <sup>14</sup>I charge you to keep the principles<sup>y</sup> stainless and irreproachable until the appearance of our Lord Jesus Christ; <sup>15</sup>which in due time He shall show forth, the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, <sup>16</sup>who alone possesses immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light, whom no human being has ever seen or is able to see. To Him be honor and dominion forever. Amen.<sup>z</sup>

<sup>17</sup>Enjoin upon those who are rich in this present world not to set their minds on their elevation, neither to put their hope in the uncertainty of wealth, but in God who so richly provides us with everything for our enjoyment. <sup>18</sup>Urge them to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous givers, to practice sharing, <sup>19</sup>and to treasure up for themselves a sound foundation for the future, so as to lay hold on the real life.

s) New Testament writers follow our Lord in the assurance that angels are all about us.

t) As would be the case when ordaining unworthy members to eldership.

u) Therefore investigate character carefully before ordaining.

v) This sense of brotherhood issued ultimately in emancipation.

w) Fostering selfishness, pride, cruelty, separation from people and from God.

x) Jn. 18:33-38, of a kingdom not of this world, and of divine truth which finally triumphs.

<sup>20</sup>O Timothy, guard the deposit.<sup>a</sup> Keep away from the irreligious and

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TIMOTHY

From Rome, September, 67 A.D.

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE OF CHRIST Jesus by the will of God for the announcing<sup>a</sup> of the life that is in fellowship with Christ Jesus, <sup>2</sup>to Timothy my dear son: Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord!

<sup>3</sup>I feel grateful to God whom, in line with my ancestors, I worship with clear conscience as without omission I remember you night and day in my prayers. <sup>4</sup>I yearn to see you, when I remember the tears you shed, that I might be perfectly happy. <sup>5</sup>I bring back to mind your unalloyed faith that lived first in your grandmother Lois and in your mother Eunice<sup>b</sup> and, I am convinced, in you as well.

<sup>6</sup>On account of this I would remind you to keep alive the flame of God's gracious gift<sup>c</sup> that is in you through the imposition of my hands. <sup>7</sup>For God has not given us a spirit of cowardice, but of power and love and self-control. <sup>8</sup>Feel no shame, therefore, about bearing witness to our Lord or about me His prisoner, but share my suffering for the Gospel by virtue of the power of God, <sup>9</sup>who has saved us and called us with a call for dedication, not due to any doings of ours, but due to His own purpose and the grace that has been granted us in Christ Jesus before time began. <sup>10</sup>But now it has been realized through the appearance of our Savior Christ Jesus who on the one hand rendered death ineffectual and on the other brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel — <sup>11</sup>for which I am appointed a herald and apostle and teacher.

<sup>12</sup>On this account, too, I suffer this way; but I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed<sup>d</sup> and am convinced that He is able to guard safely my deposit, entrusted to Him against that Day.

<sup>15</sup>Of this you are aware, that all those of Asia have deserted me—Phygelus and Hermogenes among them.<sup>f</sup>

<sup>16</sup>May the Lord grant favor to the Onesiphorus family,<sup>g</sup> for he often refreshed me and was not ashamed of my being a prisoner. <sup>17</sup>Instead, on arriving in Rome, he eagerly searched for and found me. <sup>18</sup>The Lord grant him to find grace with the Lord on that Day! And what services he rendered in Ephesus you know very well.

2 SO YOU, MY SON, MUST GAIN strength by means of the grace that is in Christ Jesus. <sup>2</sup>And what you have a) "Epaggelia"—protevangel, promise, first hinted Gen. 3:15.

b) Without help from Timothy's father, who was a pagan, mother and grandmother had given the youth excellent training. c) God-given qualities remain alive only when used. I Tim. 4:14; II Tim. 1:6.

d) Not intellectual knowledge, but personal acquaintance. e) The truth of God's saving grace.

f) The more reason for sadness. g) That family seems to have formed Timothy's headquarters.

Beware of the Selfish and False; We Live and Die with Him II TIMOTHY 2, 3 learned from me with the help of many witnesses, this you commit to reliable men such as shall be qualified to teach others as well.

<sup>3</sup>As a noble soldier of Christ Jesus share our hardships. <sup>4</sup>No enlisted recruit gets involved in enterprises for making a living, so he may please the officer who enlisted him. <sup>5</sup>Again, whoever competes in a game does not get crowned unless he competes fairly. <sup>6</sup>The toiling farmer must have first share of the produce.<sup>h</sup>

<sup>7</sup>Consider what I say, for the Lord will help you to understand it all. <sup>8</sup>Keep in mind Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, descended from David according to my Gospel preaching <sup>9</sup>in which I suffer punishment like a criminal even to shackles; but the word of God is not shackled. <sup>10</sup>I endure all this on behalf of the elect, so that they, too, may gain possession of the salvation which union with Christ Jesus affords, with eternal glory.

<sup>11</sup>It is a trustworthy message:<sup>i</sup> If we died together with Him, we shall also live together with Him. <sup>12</sup>If we endure, then we shall also reign with Him. If we go back on Him, then He will also personally go back on us. <sup>13</sup>If we play Him false, He will Himself remain faithful; for He cannot play false to Himself.

<sup>14</sup>Remind them of these facts and charge them in the presence of God to indulge in no wars of words; it helps no one and it completely upsets the listeners. <sup>15</sup>Do your utmost to present yourself to God approved, a workman who has no cause to be ashamed, correctly analyzing<sup>j</sup> the message of the truth. <sup>16</sup>But keep away from those unholy, empty discussions, for they lead people further on into godlessness, <sup>17</sup>and their<sup>k</sup> teaching spreads like gangrene. Hymenaeus and Philetus<sup>l</sup> <sup>18</sup>are of that group that have missed out on the truth when they say that the resurrection has already occurred, and they are playing havoc with the faith of some.

<sup>20</sup>But in a large house there are not only gold and silver utensils, but wooden and earthen, too, and some are indeed for noble but others for ignoble service. <sup>21</sup>So, whoever will cleanse himself from these things, will be a utensil for noble use, set apart and useful for the Master, prepared for good service of every sort.

h) Three choice illustrations from so many occupations.

i) Like I Tim. 3:16, a brief creed which probably was sung. j) "Orthotomeo," cut straight.

k) "Their" points to the group declaimed in the next sentence.

l) Both mentioned here only; both from Ephesus or near it.

m) The church stands firm in God, witness Num. 16:5, 26 and Isa. 52:11, specifically in Christ, I Cor. 3:11. n) Between Christ's ascension and His return, always imminent.

o) Such as the group already mentioned.

II TIMOTHY 3, 4     Apply the Inspired Word; Crown Awaits Loyal Warrior

<sup>6</sup>For some of that ilk sneak into the homes and captivate weak-natured women loaded down with the consciousness of sin and controlled by all sorts of impulses, <sup>7</sup>forever getting information and never able to reach an understanding of the truth.

<sup>8</sup>Just as Jannes and Jambres<sup>p</sup> opposed Moses, so do these men oppose the truth, corrupt thinkers as they are and counterfeits so far as faith is concerned. <sup>9</sup>However, they will not get very far, for their shallowness will be obvious to everyone, as was the case with those mentioned.

<sup>10</sup>But you have adhered to my teaching, my conduct, my purpose, my faith, my steadfastness, my love, my patience, <sup>11</sup>my persecutions, my sufferings—all that happened to me in Antioch, in Iconium and in Lystra, such persecutions as I underwent and from all of which the Lord rescued me. <sup>12</sup>In fact, all who want to live devotedly in Christ Jesus will be persecuted. <sup>13</sup>But wicked men and impostors will go on from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived.

<sup>14</sup>You, however, must remain faithful in what you have learned and of which you are convinced,<sup>q</sup> well aware from whom you learned, <sup>15</sup>and how from infancy you have known the sacred Scriptures, that are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. <sup>16</sup>All Scripture is inspired of God and is profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for training in righteousness, <sup>17</sup>so that the man of God may be well-fitted and adequately equipped for all good work.

4 I CHARGE YOU IN THE PRESENCE of God and of Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead; I charge you by His appearing and His kingdom: <sup>2</sup>Herald the message; be at it when it is and when it is not convenient; confute, exhort, rebuke with unqualified patience and willingness to teach.

<sup>6</sup>For I am already being poured out as a drink offering and the time of my setting sail is near.<sup>r</sup> <sup>7</sup>I have fought the grand fight; I have finished the race; I have kept the faith. <sup>8</sup>There is further laid away for me the crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will reward me in that Day, and not to me alone, but to all who have loved His appearing.

<sup>9</sup>Make haste to visit me soon, <sup>10</sup>for Demas has deserted me for love of the present world and has gone to Thessalonica; Crescens has gone to Galatia; Titus to Dalmatia. <sup>11</sup>I, Luke alone is with me. Get hold of Mark<sup>s</sup> and bring him along, for he is helpful to me in service. <sup>12</sup>I have sent Tychicus to Ephesus.

<sup>14</sup>Alexander, the metalworker, has displayed considerable ill will toward me. The Lord will pay him back to the measure of his doings. <sup>15</sup>You, too, beware of him, for he strongly opposed our messages.

<sup>16</sup>In my first defense no one supported me; instead, they all deserted me. May it not be counted against them! <sup>17</sup>But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might listen. And

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS

Late autumn, 66 A.D.; from near Nicopolis

1 PAUL, A SERVANT OF GOD, AND AN apostle of Jesus Christ for promoting the faith of God's elect and for an understanding of the truth that effects godliness, <sup>2</sup>based on the hope of eternal life, which the never-falsifying God promised before time began <sup>3</sup>and has at the proper time revealed as His message by the preaching entrusted to me by order of God our Savior—to Titus, a true son<sup>a</sup> by our common faith: Grace and peace from God the Father and from Christ Jesus our Savior.

<sup>5</sup>I left you behind in Crete for this reason, that you might straighten out unfinished business and appoint elders in each town, as I gave you directions:

<sup>6</sup>If a person is above reproach, the husband of one wife, has believing children that are not charged with being incorrigible or unruly. <sup>7</sup>For the overseer must, as God's steward, be irreproachable, not self-willed or hot-tempered, or a drunkard, or pugnacious, or greedy of dishonest gain.

<sup>8</sup>Instead, he must be hospitable, in love with what is good, sensible, fair, of holy life; self-controlled. <sup>9</sup>He must hold to the trustworthy message of the doctrine, so he may be able to encourage by his wholesome teaching, as well as to refute those who raise objections.

<sup>13</sup>This testimony is true. For this reason correct them sternly, so they may be sound in the faith <sup>14</sup>instead of applying their minds to Jewish fables and to injunctions of people who turn their backs on the truth. <sup>15</sup>To the pure everything is pure, but to the contaminated and the unbelieving nothing is pure; but even their mind and their conscience are polluted. <sup>16</sup>They profess to know God but by their practices they deny Him. They are detestable and disobedient and unfit for any good enterprise.

2 BUT YOU MUST UTTER WHAT falls in line with wholesome doctrine: <sup>2</sup>That the older men shall be temperate, venerable, sensible, sound in the faith, in the love and in the patience.<sup>c</sup> <sup>3</sup>Similarly, that the older wom-

a) Converted under Paul's ministry, from paganism, Gal. 2:3, delegated with Paul and Barnabas by the Antioch church to Jerusalem, Acts 15:2; sent by Paul from Ephesus to Corinth to correct abuses, II Cor. 2:13 ff; brought back good news, ch. 7:6, 13, 14, and took II Cor. to the church there. Was Paul's deputy in Crete after Paul's first Roman imprisonment. Told to rejoin Paul at Nicopolis, he was during Paul's second Roman imprisonment sent to Dalmatia. Must have followed the apostle to Rome. Dalmatia is now much of Yugoslavia.

b) Judaizers, insisting on Jewish observances for gentile converts, gave Paul and the church much trouble.

c) Of Christ, Paul seems to imply; patience identified with hope, and with faith and love forming the three excellencing Christian qualities.

en shall be reverent in their behavior, neither gossips nor slaves to drink. <sup>4</sup>They should be teachers of what is noble, so they may wisely train the young women to be loving wives and mothers, <sup>5</sup>sensible, chaste, good housekeepers, good-natured, submissive to their own husbands, so that the word of God may not be slandered.

<sup>6</sup>Urge the younger men as well to behave prudently, <sup>7</sup>and offer in your own person an all-round example of doing what is lovely, of teaching what is unadulterated and dignified — <sup>8</sup>a wholesome, unobjectionable message that will shame the opponent because he has nothing mean to say about us.

<sup>9</sup>Tell servants to be submissive to their own masters; to please them in every way; not to talk back; not to pilfer, <sup>10</sup>but to evidence such complete reliability, that altogether they shall beautify the teaching of God our Savior.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>11</sup>For the saving grace of God has appeared for all people; <sup>12</sup>it has trained us to renounce godlessness and worldly passions, and to live discreet, upright, and godly lives in this present world <sup>13</sup>with expectation of that blessed hope, even the glorious appearance of our great God and Savior Christ Jesus, <sup>14</sup>who gave Himself for us to redeem us from all iniquity, and to purify for Himself a people all His own that is eager to do good works.

<sup>15</sup>Mention these matters and exhort and reprove with full authority. Allow no one to think little of you.

3 REMIND THEM TO BE SUBJECT TO the ruling authorities; to be obedient; to be prepared for every good activity, <sup>2</sup>not to slander anyone; not to be quarrelsome but lenient, showing unqualified mildness toward all people. <sup>3</sup>For once we ourselves were thoughtless, disobedient, deluded, slaves to passions and pleasures of all sorts; wasting our time in malice and envy; detestable, and hating one another.

<sup>4</sup>But when the goodness of God our Savior was shown and His love of men was evidenced, <sup>5</sup>not due to righteous works that we have done, but in agreement with His mercy, He saved us through a bathing of regeneration and a renewing by the Holy Spirit,<sup>e</sup> which <sup>6</sup>He has poured out richly on us through Jesus Christ our Savior,<sup>f</sup> <sup>7</sup>so that, counted righteous by His personal grace, we might be made heirs in agreement with our hope of eternal life.

<sup>8</sup>The message is trustworthy and I would have you assert these suggestions strongly, so that those who have become believers in God may be minded to apply themselves to good works; which is excellent and beneficial for all people.

<sup>9</sup>But keep aloof from foolish controversies, pedigrees, strife, and wranglings about the Law, for they are futile and purposeless. <sup>10</sup>Let go of a factious person after a first and second warning, <sup>11</sup>well aware that such a person is distorted and is, when he sins, his own condemner.

<sup>15</sup>All those with me are sending you greetings. Greet those who love us in faith.

<sup>16</sup>May grace be with you all! (Amen.)

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON

From Rome, early 62 A.D.

1 PAUL, A PRISONER OF CHRIST Jesus, and brother Timothy, to Philemon, our beloved fellow worker, <sup>2</sup>and to our sister Apphia<sup>a</sup> and to our fellow soldier Archippus,<sup>b</sup> and to the church that meets at your home: <sup>3</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>4</sup>I always offer thanks to my God when I mention you in my prayers, <sup>5</sup>for I hear of the love and the faith you practice toward the Lord Jesus and to all the saints. <sup>6</sup>I pray that by an understanding of all the good you enjoy among yourselves, the sharing of your faith may become effectual for Christ. <sup>7</sup>For I have enjoyed much pleasure and comfort over your love, because through you, brother, the hearts of the saints have been refreshed.

<sup>8</sup>Therefore, although in Christ I feel very free to give you directions as to your duty, <sup>9</sup>I prefer to make my appeal on the basis of love. Here I am, then, as Paul the old man,<sup>c</sup> yet now a prisoner of Christ Jesus, <sup>10</sup>appealing to you on behalf of my son, Onesimus, to whom I became father while in my chains. <sup>11</sup>Once he was useless to you, but now he is helpful both to you and to me.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>12</sup>I am sending him back to you and my heart with him. <sup>13</sup>I should like to retain him for myself, so he might serve me instead of you during my imprisonment for the Gospel; <sup>14</sup>but I do not wish to do anything without your consent, so that your kind action may not be compulsory but voluntary. <sup>15</sup>For he was parted from you for a while perhaps for this very reason, that you might have him forever; <sup>16</sup>no longer as a servant, but better than a servant, a beloved brother, unquestionably to me, but how much more so to you both personally and in the Lord.

<sup>17</sup>So, if I am your partner, then welcome him as you would me. <sup>18</sup>And if he cheated you at all, or is in debt to you, put it down against me. <sup>19</sup>I, Paul, am writing with my own hand, I will refund it—not to mention that, over and above, you owe me your very self. <sup>20</sup>Yes, brother, I should like to make some profit<sup>e</sup> out of you in the Lord: buoy up my deepest feelings in Christ.

<sup>21</sup>I am writing you, confident that you will listen to me, and knowing you will do more than I request. <sup>22</sup>Meanwhile, you may prepare entertainment for me,<sup>f</sup> for I hope through your prayers to be restored to you.

THE EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS<sup>a</sup>

From Italy. If to Palestinian Jews, then before 70 A.D.

1 AFTER GOD HAD OF OLD SPOKEN TO our fathers at various times and in many ways by means of the prophets, <sup>2</sup>He has at the end of these days<sup>b</sup> spoken to us in His Son, whom He has appointed Heir to all things and through whom He made the worlds. <sup>3</sup>As the reflection of God's glory and the true expression of His being, He sustains the universe by His almighty word. And when He had effected our cleansing from sin, He took His seat at the right hand of the Majesty on high.

<sup>4</sup>He became<sup>c</sup> as much mightier than the angels as the name He inherited was superior to theirs. <sup>5</sup>For to whom of the angels did God ever say,<sup>d</sup> "Thou art My Son; today I have begotten Thee"? And again, "I will be a Father to Him and He will be a Son to Me"? <sup>6</sup>Once more, when He introduces the First-born into the world, He says, "And let all God's angels fall before Him." <sup>7</sup>Referring to the angels He says, "Who makes His angels spirits and His ministers flames of fire"; <sup>8</sup>but as to the Son, "Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever, and the scepter of Thy kingdom is a scepter of absolute fairness. <sup>9</sup>Thou hast loved righteousness and hast hated injustice; therefore God, Thy God, has anointed Thee with gladdening oil over Thy companions."

<sup>13</sup>Besides, to which of the angels did He ever say, "Be seated at My right hand until I put down your enemies for a footstool of your feet"? <sup>14</sup>Are they not all ministering spirits, sent out for the assistance of those who are to inherit salvation?

2 WE SHOULD THEREFORE PAY THE more careful attention to what we have heard, so we may nowise drift by.<sup>e</sup> <sup>2</sup>For if the message that was spoken by angels<sup>f</sup> has held true, and every transgression and disobedience received its just retribution, <sup>3</sup>how shall we escape in case we neglect so great a salvation? It had its origin when the Lord spoke; it was confirmed to us by those who heard it; <sup>4</sup>then it was additionally corroborated by God with signs and wonders and a great variety of miraculous powers, as distributed by the Holy Spirit according to His will.

<sup>5</sup>For He did not subject the future world of which we are talking under control of angels, but someone has

a) Much in this letter, especially toward the end, suggests Paul; but ch. 2:3 ascribes to human information what Paul, Gal. 1:1 and 2:2, ascribes to revelation. b) Since the Messiah came.

c) There was a "becoming" in His becoming man; exalted He is the God-man.

d) See, in order, Ps. 2:7; 2 Sam. 7:14; Ps. 97:7; 104:4; 45:6, 7; 102:25-26; 110:1.

somewhere testified: <sup>6</sup>"What is man that Thou art mindful of him, or a son of man that Thou lookest after him? <sup>7</sup>For a little while Thou hast ranked him lower than the angels; with glory and honor hast Thou crowned him; <sup>8</sup>all things hast Thou subjected underneath his feet."<sup>g</sup>

In thus subjecting all things to him, nothing is left out that is not subjected; but at present we do not yet see all things subjected to him. <sup>9</sup>But we see Jesus, ranked lower than the angels for a little while, crowned with glory and honor through the sufferings of death, in order that by divine grace<sup>h</sup> He might taste death for everyone. <sup>10</sup>For it befitted Him, for whom and through whom the universe exists, to perfect the One, who led many sons<sup>i</sup> into glory, the Leader of their salvation, by means of sufferings.

<sup>11</sup>For the One who makes holy and those who are being made holy all spring from One, for which reason He is not ashamed to call them brothers, <sup>12</sup>when He says, "I will announce Thy name to My brothers; in the midst of the church I will sing Thy praise," <sup>13</sup>and again, "I will put My trust in Him," and once more, "Here am I and the children God has given me."<sup>j</sup>

<sup>14</sup>Since, then, the children share flesh and blood, He personally shared it with them, so that by means of His death He might neutralize the one who wields the power of death, namely the devil, <sup>15</sup>and set free those who throughout life were held in slavery by fear of death.

<sup>16</sup>For not at all to angels<sup>k</sup> did He reach out to help, but to the offspring of Abraham;<sup>l</sup> <sup>17</sup>so He had to be made like His brothers in every respect, in order to become a merciful and faithful High Priest in things related to God for the atonement of the people's sins. <sup>18</sup>For insofar as He personally suffered in being tempted,<sup>m</sup> He is able to bring aid to those who are tempted.

3 SO THEN, MY BROTHERS IN HOLINESS and sharers in the heavenly invitation, take notice how faithful Jesus, the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, <sup>2</sup>was to Him who appointed Him, just as Moses was in the whole household of God.<sup>n</sup> <sup>3</sup>For He is entitled to greater honor than Moses to the degree in which the builder of a house enjoys more honor than the house itself. <sup>4</sup>Of course, every house is built by someone; but the Builder of all things is God. <sup>5</sup>And while Moses was faithful in his whole household as an attendant, to bear witness to things that were to be announced, <sup>6</sup>Christ was faithful as a Son in charge of His own household. And we are that household, if to the very end we firmly maintain the confidence and sense of triumph which our hope inspires.

<sup>7</sup>Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says, "Today if you will hear His voice, <sup>8</sup>do not harden your hearts as in that provoking situation at the time of the desert ordeal, <sup>9</sup>where your fathers for forty years tried Me by putting Me to the proof and saw what I did. <sup>10</sup>So I became sorely displeased with that generation and said, 'Their hearts are always off the track; they have not recognized My paths.' <sup>11</sup>So in My indignation I swore, 'They shall not enter into My rest.'"<sup>o</sup>

<sup>12</sup>Look out, brothers, so there may not be a wicked, unbelieving heart in any of you, that would lead you to fall away from the living God. Instead, <sup>13</sup>give daily warning to one another so long as we may speak of "today,"<sup>p</sup> so that not one of you may be hardened in the delusion of sin.

<sup>14</sup>For only if we maintain firmly to the very end that original assurance,<sup>q</sup> then have we become sharers of Christ, <sup>15</sup>with this in mind, "Today, if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts as in that provoking situation."

<sup>16</sup>For who heard and yet provoked I Him? Had they not all gotten out of Egypt under Moses? <sup>17</sup>And with whom was He grieved for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose corpses fell in the desert? <sup>18</sup>And to whom but the disobedient did He swear, "They shall not enter into My rest?" <sup>19</sup>So we see that on account of unbelief they were not able to enter in.<sup>r</sup>

4 LET US THEN BE ON OUR GUARD so that, while the promise of entering into His rest still holds, none of you may be found to be delinquent, <sup>2</sup>for we are enjoying the good tidings as well as they did. But the message they heard did not benefit them, because it had not by faith grown together with those who heard it.<sup>s</sup> <sup>3</sup>For only as believers do we enter into His rest, as it is said, "As I swore in My anger, they shall not enter into My rest"; although His works had been accomplished from the founding of the world. <sup>4</sup>For He says this somewhere<sup>t</sup> about the seventh day, "And God rested on the seventh day from all His works," <sup>5</sup>and again in this passage. "They shall not enter into My rest."

<sup>6</sup>Since, then, it is reserved for some to enter it,<sup>u</sup> and those who previously got the good news did not enter because of disobedience, He fixes a new <sup>7</sup>"Today," as He says in David so much later, and as we mentioned heretofore, "Today, if you will hear His voice, do not harden your hearts."

<sup>11</sup>Let us then exert ourselves to enter into that rest, so that none may fall on account of such disobedience as they exemplified; <sup>12</sup>for the word of God<sup>x</sup> is living, effective and sharper than any two-edged sword. It penetrates even to the dividing line of soul and spirit, of joints and marrow, and is skilled in judging the heart's ponderings and meditations. <sup>13</sup>Not a creature exists that is hidden from Him; but all things lie bare and exposed before the eyes of Him with whom we have to reckon.

<sup>14</sup>Inasmuch then as we have Jesus, the Son of God, the great High Priest who has passed through the heavens,<sup>y</sup> let us hold firmly to our confession. <sup>15</sup>For ours is not a High Priest who cannot sympathize with our weaknesses, but One who was in every respect tempted as we have been—without sin. <sup>16</sup>Let us then approach the throne of grace with assurance, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in time of need.

5 FOR EVERY HIGH PRIEST, CHOSEN as he is from among men, is appointed to represent the people in matters related to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. <sup>2</sup>And he can bear gently with the ignorant and the wayward, since he is himself liable to weakness. <sup>3</sup>For this reason he is obliged to present offerings for his own sins as well as for the people. <sup>4</sup>Besides, no one appropriates the honor for himself, but he is called of God, just as Aaron was.

<sup>5</sup>So, too, Christ did not glorify Himself with the high priesthood, but He did, who said to Him, "Thou art My Son; today I have generated Thee," <sup>6</sup>and as He says elsewhere, "Thou art a Priest forever after the order of Melchizedek."<sup>z</sup>

<sup>7</sup>In the days of His flesh He has offered prayers and petitions with strong crying and with tears to Him who could save Him from death, and in response He was eased from His dread. <sup>8</sup>Although a Son, He learned obedience by what He suffered, <sup>9</sup>and, when perfected, He became the Author of eternal salvation for all who obey Him;

<sup>10</sup>so He was addressed by God as "High Priest of Melchizedek's order."

<sup>11</sup>There is much to say about this, and it is difficult to explain, since you have grown hard of hearing; <sup>12</sup>for while by this time you ought to be teachers, you stand again in need of someone to teach you the elementary beginnings of God's lessons; you have come to need milk and not solid food. <sup>13</sup>Of course, anyone who feeds on milk is inexperienced in the doctrine of being righteous,<sup>a</sup> for he is an infant. <sup>14</sup>But solid food is for the mature, for those whose faculties have been trained by practice to distinguish between good and evil.<sup>b</sup>

6 SO, LET US LEAVE BEHIND THE elementary teachings of Christ, and advance toward maturity. Let us not again be laying the foundation—of repentance from dead works,<sup>c</sup> and faith in God, <sup>2</sup>of teachings on baptisms and the laying on of hands, of resurrection from the dead and eternal punishment. <sup>3</sup>God permitting we shall make this advance.

<sup>4</sup>For it is impossible to bring anew to repentance those who have once for all been illumined, have tasted the heavenly gift, have become participants of the Holy Spirit,<sup>d</sup> <sup>5</sup>have felt the ennobling word of God and the powers of the world to come, <sup>6</sup>and have fallen away; for they repeat so far as they are concerned the crucifying of the Son of God and are exposing Him to public disgrace. <sup>7</sup>For the land that drinks the often falling rain and grows vegetation useful to those for whom it is tilled, receives a blessing from God; <sup>8</sup>but if it produces thorns and thistles, it is considered worthless; it is facing a curse and ends up with being burned.

<sup>9</sup>Even though we speak this way, dear friends, we feel confident of better things about you that mean salvation. <sup>10</sup>For God is not unfair so as to forget what you did, and the love you showed for His name as you have ministered to the saints, and are still ministering.<sup>e</sup> <sup>11</sup>It is our deep desire, however, that each of you shall evidence the same earnestness all the way through, to enjoy the full assurance of your hope to the limit, <sup>12</sup>so you may not grow disinterested, but behave as those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

<sup>13</sup>For when God made His promise to Abraham, He swore by Himself—since He could swear by none greater—<sup>14</sup>and said, "I certainly will bless you with blessings and multiply you abundantly."<sup>f</sup> <sup>15</sup>So it was that after patient waiting he realized what had been promised.

7 FOR THIS MELCHIZEDEK, KING OF Salem, priest of the Most High God, who met Abraham as he returned from the defeat of the kings and who blessed him, <sup>2</sup>to whom Abraham also apportioned a tithe of all the spoil,<sup>i</sup> was first of all, as the name explains, king of righteousness and then king of Salem, which means, king of peace. <sup>3</sup>Without father or mother or pedigree,<sup>j</sup> with no beginning of days or ending of life, made to resemble the Son of God, he remains a priest in perpetuity.

first fruits. <sup>5</sup>Those sons of Levi, who are charged with the priestly office, are enjoined by law to tithe the people, which means their own brothers, although they have sprung from Abraham's loins. <sup>6</sup>But a person without their pedigree did tithe Abraham and blessed the possessor of the promises. <sup>7</sup>Yet, the lesser is unquestionably blessed by the greater.

<sup>8</sup>Furthermore, in this instance mortal men receive tithes, but in that case one of whom it is witnessed that he lives. <sup>9</sup>And one might say that through Abraham also Levi, the tithe receiver, did pay the tithe, <sup>10</sup>for he was still in his forefather's loins when Melchizedek met Abraham.<sup>k</sup>

<sup>11</sup>Now, if anything final had come about by means of the Levitical priesthood—for on its basis the people received the Law—why was it required to have another Priest appointed of the Melchizedek order instead of choosing one of the Aaronic order? <sup>12</sup>For when the priesthood is changed, there comes necessarily a change of law. <sup>13</sup>He, of whom this was said, belongs to a different tribe, no member of which officiated at the altar; <sup>14</sup>for obviously our Lord sprang from Judah, regarding which tribe Moses never mentioned priests. <sup>15</sup>Which is still much plainer when another Priest arises who resembles Melchizedek, <sup>16</sup>who has become such, not by law of some physical injunction but by the power of an indestructible life. <sup>17</sup>For it is witnessed "Thou art a Priest forever of the Melchizedek order."<sup>l</sup>

<sup>18</sup>So, a previous regulation is set aside because of its ineffectiveness and its uselessness—<sup>19</sup>for the Law brought nothing to perfection — and a better hope is introduced through which we draw near to God. <sup>20</sup>And it was not without an oath. <sup>21</sup>For the Levites became priests without an oath, but He with an oath by the One who said to Him, "The Lord has sworn and will not rue it, Thou art a Priest forever (of the Melchizedek order). <sup>22</sup>And to the degree of the oath's greater validity, Jesus became surety of a better covenant.

<sup>23</sup>And those priests<sup>m</sup> were numerous because they were prevented by death from continuing; <sup>24</sup>but He, because He remains forever, holds a priesthood that is never transferred. <sup>25</sup>Hence, too, He is able to save to the uttermost those who come to God through Him,<sup>n</sup> living as He does forever to intercede for them.

<sup>26</sup>For such a High Priest also suited our need—holy, innocent, spotless, in a different class from sinners and lifted high above the heavens. <sup>27</sup>He does not, like those high priests, have daily need to offer sacrifices, first for his own sins and then for those of the people, because this He did once for all when He brought Himself as an offering.<sup>o</sup> <sup>28</sup>For the Law appoints weak, human beings to the priesthood, but the word of the oath, that comes after the Law, appoints the forever-perfect Son.

8 NOW THE MAIN POINT OF WHAT we have been saying is this: We have such a High Priest, who is seated at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, <sup>2</sup>as Administrator of things holy; yes, of the real tabernacle which not a man, but the Lord pitched.<sup>p</sup>

<sup>3</sup>For every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices; so, this One, too, must have something to present. <sup>4</sup>If, then, He were still on earth, He would not be a priest at all, for here they offer the gifts as prescribed by Law, <sup>5</sup>that serve as a copy and shadow of heavenly things; just as Moses was instructed when about to build the complete tabernacle. "See to it," He said, "that you make everything according to the pattern that was shown you in the mountain."<sup>q</sup>

<sup>6</sup>But now He has acquired a ministry as far superior as the covenant He mediates is better, enacted as it is upon more excellent promises. <sup>7</sup>For if that first covenant had been flawless, no place would have been sought for a second. <sup>8</sup>But, finding fault with it, He says, "The days are coming, says the Lord, when I shall conclude a new covenant for the house of Israel and for the house of Judah, <sup>9</sup>not like the covenant I made with their fathers the day I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they did not remain faithful to My covenant. So I let them alone, says the Lord.

<sup>10</sup>"For this is the covenant on which I will agree with the house of Israel after those days, the Lord says, I will fix My laws into their minds and will write them on their hearts, and I will be God to them and they shall be My people. <sup>11</sup>No longer shall each citizen be teaching his neighbor and each person his brother, saying, 'Get acquainted with the Lord,' because they shall all know Me from their least up to their greatest. <sup>12</sup>For I will be merciful toward their wrongdoings, and their sins I will no longer remember."

9 THE FIRST COVENANT HAD, TO BE sure, its worship regulations and its earthly sanctuary; <sup>2</sup>for the first tabernacle was thus furnished: in what is called the Holy Place were the lampstand and the table and the presentation of the loaves.<sup>1</sup> <sup>3</sup>Behind the second curtain was the tent called Holy of Holies, <sup>4</sup>containing the golden altar of incense<sup>u</sup> and the ark of the covenant completely covered with gold; inside it the golden jar of manna, Aaron's rod that sprouted,<sup>v</sup> and the tablets of the covenant. <sup>5</sup>Above it were cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat —about which we cannot now go into detail.

conduct the (divine) services; <sup>7</sup>but into the second the high priest alone enters once a year—not without blood, which he offers for himself and for the thoughtless sins of the people.

<sup>8</sup>Through this the Holy Spirit evidences that the way into the Holiest<sup>w</sup> was not yet disclosed with the first tent still standing. <sup>9</sup>This was a symbol for that current time, at which those gifts and offerings that were presented could not render the worshiper's conscience perfect, <sup>10</sup>as they consist only of food and drink and various ablutions —physical regulations that maintain until the time of rectification.

<sup>11</sup>But when Christ arrived as High Priest of promised blessings, He passed through the greater and more perfect tent, not made with hands; no part, that is, of material creation. <sup>12</sup>And not with blood of goats and calves, but through His own blood He entered once for all into the Holy Place, procuring eternal redemption. <sup>13</sup>For if the blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer, as it sprinkles those who were stained, does render them holy so far as physical purity is concerned, <sup>14</sup>how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the Spirit Eternal offered Himself a flawless sacrifice to God, cleanse your conscience from lifeless works for the service of the living God!

<sup>15</sup>For this reason He is Mediator of a new covenant, so that, with a death occurring for atonement of the transgressions under the first agreement, those who have been called may receive the eternal heritage that was promised.<sup>x</sup>

<sup>16</sup>For where there is a testament, the death of the testator needs to be announced; <sup>17</sup>a will is effective at death; it is not valid so long as the testator lives.

y) Symbolic of Christ's blood yet to be shed.

took the blood of calves and goats along with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled it on the Book and on all the people, <sup>20</sup>saying, "This is the blood of the covenant which God has enjoined upon you."<sup>2</sup> <sup>21</sup>He similarly sprinkled the tabernacle and all the service utensils with blood.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>22</sup>According to the Law almost everything is purified by blood, and without bloodshedding there is no forgiveness. <sup>23</sup>So it was necessary that the copies of the heavenly things be purified by these sacrifices; but the heavenly things themselves require nobler sacrifices than these. <sup>24</sup>For Christ is not entered into a sanctuary made by hands and a copy of the real, but into heaven itself to appear on our behalf in the presence of God—<sup>25</sup>by no means to present Himself repeatedly for an offering, as the high priest enters annually into the sanctuary with blood not his own; <sup>26</sup>for if so, He must have suffered repeatedly since the world began. But as it is, He has shown Himself once for all at the close of the ages<sup>b</sup> to eliminate sin by His self-sacrifice.

<sup>27</sup>And as it is reserved for men to die once for all with judgment following, <sup>28</sup>so shall Christ, sacrificed once for all to bear the sins of many, show Himself the second time, with no reference to sin, to those who are eagerly looking for Him, and that for their salvation.

10 FOR WHILE THE LAW FORE-shadowed the promised blessings without expressing them in reality, it can never make perfect those who annually approach with the same sacrifices in perpetuity. <sup>2</sup>Else, would they not have quit bringing their offerings, since the worshipers, cleansed once for all, would no longer have any consciousness of sin? <sup>3</sup>But in those sacrifices there is an annual reminder of sins; <sup>4</sup>for the blood of bulls and of goats is powerless to take away sins.

<sup>5</sup>As He enters into the world, He therefore says,<sup>c</sup> "Sacrifice and offering Thou hast not desired, but a body Thou hast prepared for Me."<sup>d</sup> <sup>6</sup>In burnt and sin offerings Thou takest no pleasure. <sup>7</sup>Then I said, 'Here I come—it is written of Me in the roll of the Book—to do Thy will, O God.'<sup>e</sup>

<sup>8</sup>Saying as He does above, "Thou dost neither desire nor art pleased with sacrifices and offerings and burnt and sin offerings," all of which are offered according to Law, <sup>9</sup>and then saying, "Here I come to do Thy will," He takes away the first in order to establish the second; <sup>10</sup>by which divine will we are being made holy by means of the offering up once for all of the body of Jesus Christ.

<sup>15</sup>The Holy Spirit, too, affirms it to us, for after the saying, <sup>16</sup>"This is the covenant I will conclude with them after those days," the Lord says, "I will place My laws upon their hearts and inscribe them on their minds, <sup>17</sup>and their sins and their lawbreakings I will no longer remember."<sup>g</sup> <sup>18</sup>Now, where sins have been forgiven there are no further offerings for them.

<sup>19</sup>As, therefore, we have confidence, brothers, to enter the Holiest<sup>20</sup> through Jesus' blood by a new and living way, so recently made for us straight through the hanging curtain—that is (to say) through his flesh—<sup>21</sup>and as we have so great a Priest in charge of God's house, <sup>22</sup>let us draw near with honest hearts and with unqualified assurance of faith, our hearts sprinkled clean<sup>h</sup> from an evil conscience, and our bodies bathed with pure water. <sup>23</sup>Let us hold unwaveringly our grip on the hope we confess, for He who promised is faithful.

<sup>24</sup>Let us also be mindful to stimulate one another toward love and helpful activities, <sup>25</sup>not neglecting our own church meeting,<sup>i</sup> as is habitual with some, but giving mutual encouragement, and all the more so since you see the Day approaching. <sup>26</sup>For if willfully we go on sinning after acquiring the knowledge of the truth, there is no more sacrifice for sins in store,<sup>j</sup> <sup>27</sup>but some dreadful anticipation of sentence and of a burning indignation that is to devour the opposers.

<sup>28</sup>The person who rejects the Law of Moses is put to death without mercy on evidence of two or three witnesses. <sup>29</sup>How much worse, do you suppose, will be the punishment he is judged to deserve, who tramples on the Son of God and who considers the blood of the covenant, by which it was made holy, something unholy, and who has outraged the Spirit of grace? <sup>30</sup>For we know Him who said, "Retribution rests with Me; I will pay back", and also, "The Lord will judge His people." <sup>31</sup>It is dreadful to fall into the hands of the living God!

<sup>32</sup>Call to mind those previous days when, after enjoying the light,<sup>k</sup> you endured sufferings that involved great struggle. <sup>33</sup>On the one hand you were publicly exposed to insults and violence, and on the other you made common cause with those who were so treated. <sup>34</sup>For you sympathized with the prisoners and you accepted cheerfully the plundering of your property, knowing well that (in heaven) you personally have better and lasting possessions.

<sup>35</sup>So, do not throw away your confidence; it carries a rich reward. <sup>36</sup>For you need patience to gain the promised blessing upon accomplishing what God wills.<sup>l</sup> <sup>37</sup>"For a little while, so little, and The Coming One shall come and will not delay; <sup>38</sup>but He whom I find righteous shall live by faith, and if he shrinks back, My soul is not pleased with him." <sup>39</sup>However, we are not of those who shrink back so as to perish, but of those who by faith preserve the soul.

11 BUT FAITH FORMS A SOLID ground for what is hoped for, a conviction of unseen realities.<sup>m</sup> <sup>2</sup>The men of old gained approval by it.

<sup>3</sup>By faith we understand that the worlds were put in order at God's command so that what we now see did not come from visible things.

<sup>4</sup>By faith Abel brought God a sacrifice superior to that of Cain,<sup>n</sup> and on account of faith he was witnessed to as being righteous; for God acknowledged his gifts, and though he died, by faith he is still speaking.

<sup>5</sup>By faith Enoch was transferred, so that he did not see death, and was not found because God transferred him; for previous to his passing over, so it is recorded, he was pleasing to God. <sup>6</sup>But without faith it is impossible to give Him pleasure; for he who comes to God must believe that He exists and that He becomes the Rewarder of those who search for Him.<sup>o</sup>

<sup>7</sup>By faith Noah, when divinely instructed about things that were not yet in sight, devoutly constructed the ark for the saving of his family; by which faith he passed sentence on the world,<sup>p</sup> while he fell heir to the righteousness that springs from faith.

<sup>8</sup>By faith Abraham obeyed, when he was called to go out to a place which by and by he was to receive for an inheritance, and he migrated without any idea where he was going. <sup>9</sup>By faith he lived around in the land of promise as in a foreign country, lodging in tents, as did Isaac and Jacob who were joint heirs with him of the same promise. <sup>10</sup>For he was looking for the city with solid foundations, whose Architect and Builder is God.

<sup>11</sup>Also by faith Sarah personally received potency for conception and that when past the normal age, because she regarded the Promiser trustworthy. <sup>12</sup>And so from one person, and he already impotent, there were born descendants as the stars of heaven in numbers and countless as the sand on the seashore.

<sup>13</sup>Controlled by faith all these went to their death without realizing the promises, but scanning and hailing them from a distance, all the while confessing that they were guests and visitors on the earth.

<sup>14</sup>Now, people who make such remarks make it plain that they are looking for a home country, <sup>15</sup>and if they had in mind that country from which they came away, they would have had a chance to return. <sup>16</sup>But now they are longing for a better, that is, a heavenly country; accordingly, God is not ashamed of them — of being called their God. In fact, He has gotten a city ready for them.

was hid by his parents for three months because they saw he was a well-formed babe and they were not awed by the king's order.

<sup>27</sup>By faith he took his leave from Egypt, unawed by the king's anger,<sup>t</sup> for he held on to the Invisible as seeing Him.

<sup>29</sup>By faith they crossed the Red Sea as on dry land — and when the Egyptians tried it, they were swallowed up.

<sup>30</sup>By faith the walls of Jericho fell down after they had been circuted for seven days.

shackles and prisons, too.<sup>y</sup> <sup>37</sup>They were stoned; they were tempted to sin; they were sawed in two; they were murdered with the sword. In sheepskins and in goatskins they roamed about, destitute, oppressed, maltreated — <sup>38</sup>the world was not worthy of them,<sup>z</sup> those wanderers in deserts and mountains and caverns and fissures of the earth.

12 SO THEN, ENCIRCLED AS WE ARE with such a great cloud of witnesses<sup>b</sup> all about us, let us get rid of every impediment and our besetting sin, and let us run steadily the course mapped out for us, <sup>2</sup>with our eyes on Jesus, the Cause and Completer of our faith who, in view of the joy that lay ahead for Him, submitted to the cross, thought little of the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. <sup>3</sup>Compare your experience with His, who was willing to stand so much contradicting from the sinners against Himself, so that your souls may not wear out with despondency.

<sup>9</sup>Now, if we were corrected by our human fathers and respected them, shall we not far rather submit to our spiritual Father and enjoy life? <sup>10</sup>For while they for a few days disciplined us as they saw fit, He does it for our benefit, so that we may share in His holiness. <sup>11</sup>Of course, all discipline seems at the time not enjoyable but painful; later on, however, it affords those schooled in it the peaceful fruitage of an upright life.

<sup>18</sup>In fact, you have not come up to something tangible, a blazing fire and gloom, darkness and storm, <sup>19</sup>to trumpet sound and audible words, the hearers of which implored that no further message be brought them, <sup>20</sup>for they could not bear the injunction, "Even if an animal touches the mountain it must be stoned."<sup>i</sup> <sup>21</sup>And the phenomenon was so dreadful that Moses said, "I am terrified and trembling."<sup>j</sup>

<sup>22</sup>Instead, we have come up to Mount Zion, the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, to ten thousands of angels in festal gathering, <sup>23</sup>and to the church of the first-born<sup>k</sup> whose names are enrolled in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of the righteous who have reached perfection,<sup>l</sup> <sup>24</sup>and to Jesus, the

<sup>25</sup>Be careful not to reject the Speaker;<sup>n</sup> for if those people did not escape, who rejected the teacher of God's will on earth, how much less shall we, if we discard the Speaker from heaven.

<sup>26</sup>His voice then shook the earth, but now it is announced, "Once more I will shake, not only the earth, but heaven as well."<sup>o</sup> <sup>27</sup>This phrase, "Once more," indicates the final removal of everything shaken — made things, so that the unshaken things may remain.<sup>p</sup>

<sup>5</sup>Let your conduct be free from the love of money. Let what there is suffice, for He has said, "I will neither give you up nor ever at all desert you,"<sup>q</sup> so that we are to say boldly, "The Lord is my Helper, I will not fear! What can man do to me?"

<sup>7</sup>Bear in mind your leaders, who spoke to you God's message; observe how they closed a well-spent life, and copy their faith: <sup>8</sup>Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today, and forever.<sup>r</sup>

<sup>9</sup>Be not moved from your moorings by all sorts of strange teachings; for it is well to have the heart strengthened by grace, rather than by ritualistic meals from which devotees derived no benefit. <sup>10</sup>We have an altar<sup>r</sup> of which those that worshiped in the tabernacle have no right to eat; <sup>11</sup>for the bodies of those animals, whose blood was carried by the high priest into the Holiest for sin, were burned outside the camp.

<sup>12</sup>So Jesus, too, suffered outside the gate, so that He might sanctify the people by His own blood. Accordingly, <sup>13</sup>let us go out to Him outside the camp, bearing His disgrace — <sup>14</sup>for we have here no permanent city; instead, we are seeking the future one. <sup>15</sup>Let us then through Him at all times present a praise offering to God, which is the fruit of lips that make confession in His name.

<sup>16</sup>Do not forget the benevolences and contributions; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

<sup>17</sup>Obeey your leaders and yield to them, for they are attentive about your souls as they must give account. Have them do so joyfully and not with regrets, for that would be hurtful to you.

<sup>18</sup>Pray for us, for we are confident of having a clear conscience. In every respect we want to behave nobly. <sup>19</sup>I beg of you to do this now specially so that I may be the sooner restored to you.<sup>s</sup>

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JAMES

From Jerusalem, probably not before 50 A.D.

1 JAMES,<sup>a</sup> A SERVANT OF GOD AND of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes in the Dispersion,<sup>b</sup> Greeting.

<sup>2</sup>Consider it wholly joyful, my brothers, when you get involved in all sorts of trials, <sup>3</sup>well aware that the testing of your faith brings out steadfastness. <sup>4</sup>But let steadfastness have full play, so that you may be completed and rounded out with no defects whatever.

<sup>5</sup>If any one of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives to everyone without reserve and without faultfinding, and it will be granted him. <sup>6</sup>But he should ask in faith with never a doubt; for one who doubts resembles a wave of the sea that is driven and tossed by the wind. <sup>7</sup>Let not that man imagine he will receive anything from the Lord; <sup>8</sup>a double-minded man he is, unsteady in all his ways.

<sup>11</sup>The sun rises with its glowing heat and withers the herb; its flower drops off and its lovely appearance is ruined. So shall the wealthy waste away in his pursuits.

<sup>12</sup>Blessed is the man who stands up under trial; for when he has stood the test, he will receive the crown of life that is promised to those who love Him. <sup>13</sup>Let no one who is tempted say, "I am tempted of God," for God cannot be tempted by evil, and He tempts no one. <sup>14</sup>But each person is tempted when he is drawn away and enticed by his own lusts. <sup>15</sup>Then, when the passion has conceived, it gives birth to sin, and the sin, when it reaches maturity, produces death.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>16</sup>Be not misled, my dear brothers. <sup>17</sup>Every beneficent gift and every perfect present is from above; it descends from the Father of lights, with whom no variation occurs nor shadow cast by turning. <sup>18</sup>Voluntarily I He gave us birth by the word of truth,<sup>f</sup> so that we might be a kind of first fruits of His creatures.

<sup>19</sup>Get this, my dear brothers: Let everyone be quick to listen, slow to talk, slow to get angry; <sup>20</sup>for man's anger does not promote God's righteousness. <sup>21</sup>So, get rid of everything vile and the outgrowth of evil, and in a gentle heart have the word implanted that contains the power to save your souls. <sup>22</sup>But become doers of the word,<sup>g</sup> and not deluders of yourselves by merely listening; <sup>23</sup>for whoever hears the message without acting upon it, is similar to the man who observes his own face in a mirror; <sup>24</sup>he takes a look at himself and goes off, then promptly forgets how he looks. <sup>25</sup>But whoever looks seriously<sup>h</sup> into the perfect law of liberty and is faithful to it, who is not a forgetful listener but an active worker, that person will be blessed in his practice.

<sup>26</sup>Whoever supposes he is religious without bridling his own tongue, but instead deluding his own heart, that person's religion is useless. <sup>27</sup>Pure and unsoiled religion in agreement with God the Father is this: To look after orphans and widows in their trouble and to keep personally free from the smut of the world.<sup>i</sup>

2 MY BROTHERS, DO NOT COMBINE faith in Jesus Christ our glorious Lord with partiality. <sup>2</sup>For should there enter into your meeting a gold-ringed man in splendid clothes, and there enter also a poor man shabbily clad, <sup>3</sup>and you pay attention to the one well-dressed and say, "Have a good seat here!" and to the poor one you say, "You stand there" or, "Sit down on the floor by my feet," <sup>4</sup>are you not discriminating among your own and become judges with evil deliberations?

<sup>5</sup>Listen, my dear brothers! Has not God chosen the poor in the world to be wealthy in faith, and to be heirs of the kingdom He has promised to those who love Him? <sup>6</sup>But you have dishonored the poor. Do not the rich dominate you and personally drag you into the courts? <sup>7</sup>Do they not slander the noble name by which you are distinguished? <sup>8</sup>If you really observe the royal law according to the Scripture, "You must love your neighbor as yourself," you behave beautifully. <sup>9</sup>But if you show partiality, then you are practicing sin; you stand convicted by the Law as culprits.

<sup>10</sup>For whoever observes the whole Law, but slips in one point, becomes guilty in every respect.<sup>j</sup> <sup>11</sup>For He who said, "Do not commit adultery," also said, "Do not kill." So, in case you commit no adultery, but you kill, you have become a breaker of the Law. <sup>12</sup>Speak and act in such a way as befits people who are to be judged by the law of liberty. <sup>13</sup>For the judgment is merciless to those who have practiced no mercy,<sup>k</sup> whereas mercy triumphs over judgment.

<sup>14</sup>What is the use, my brothers, for anyone to say he has faith, if he fails to act on it? His faith cannot save him, can it? <sup>15</sup>If a brother or sister is poorly clad and lacks the day's nourishment, <sup>16</sup>but one of you says to them, "Go away in peace; get warmed and get fed," without supplying them with their bodily needs, what is the use? <sup>17</sup>Exactly so the faith that issues in no works is in itself dead.

<sup>18</sup>Someone, however, may say, "You have faith and I have works." Show me your faith without its practices and I will show you my faith through the practices.<sup>l</sup> <sup>19</sup>Do you believe there is one God? Very well; the demons believe, too, and they shudder. <sup>20</sup>But do you want to know, O unproductive man, how faith without works is delinquent? <sup>21</sup>Was not our father Abraham made righteous due to his works when he offered up his son Isaac on the altar? <sup>22</sup>You see how his faith cooperated with his works and how faith reached its supreme expression through his works. <sup>23</sup>So the Scripture came true that says, "Abraham believed in God and it was accounted to him for righteousness" and he was called God's friend.<sup>m</sup>

<sup>24</sup>You see that a person is pronounced righteous due to his works and not on account of faith alone. <sup>25</sup>Similarly, too, was not Rahab the innkeeper accounted righteous due to her works, when she entertained the messengers and sent them off by a different road? <sup>26</sup>For as the body is dead without the spirit, so faith also is dead without works.

3 NOT MANY OF YOU SHOULD BECOME teachers, my brothers, for you know we are assuming the more accountability; <sup>2</sup>because we all make many a slip. Whoever makes no slip of the tongue is certainly a perfect man, able as well to control his entire body. <sup>3</sup>When we put the bits into horses' mouths to make them obey us, we guide their whole bodies. <sup>4</sup>Notice the ships, too, big as they are and driven by violent winds, how they are steered by a small rudder wherever the helmsman's whim determines. <sup>5</sup>So the tongue is a small organ and can talk big.

Think how great a forest an ever so small spark sets on fire. <sup>6</sup>The tongue also is a fire, a world<sup>n</sup> of wickedness. Among the members of our body the tongue is situated where it taints the whole body and sets on fire the whole machinery of existence,<sup>o</sup> while it is kindled by Gehenna.

<sup>7</sup>Every kind of animal, of bird, of reptile and of sea creature is tamed and has been tamed by human genius, <sup>8</sup>but no human being is able to tame the tongue — this undisciplined mischief so full of deadly poison. <sup>9</sup>We praise the Lord and Father with it; we also curse men with it who were made in the likeness of God. <sup>10</sup>From the same mouth blessing and cursing proceed.

This is not right, my brothers; it must not be that way. <sup>11</sup>The spring does not well up sweet and bitter water from the same cleft, does it? <sup>12</sup>Nor is it possible, is it, my brothers, for a fig-tree to bear olives, or for a vine to bear figs? Neither can salt produce fresh water.<sup>p</sup>

4 WHERE DO CONFLICTS AND FIGHTINGS among you originate? Do they not spring from your passions that are at war in your organs?<sup>s</sup> <sup>2</sup>You covet and you do not acquire; you murder<sup>t</sup> and you quarrel and you cannot get hold; you fight and you battle and you do not possess, because — you do not pray. <sup>3</sup>You ask and you do not receive, because you ask wrongly; you want to spend it on your dissolute pleasures.

<sup>4</sup>Do you not realize, you apostates, that the friendship of this world means enmity toward God? So, whoever determines to be a friend of the world takes his stand as God's enemy. <sup>5</sup>Or do you suppose the Scripture speaks to no purpose? The Spirit, which took up His abode in us, yearns jealously over us.<sup>u</sup> <sup>6</sup>But He affords the more grace, for it says, "God opposes the haughty, but He grants grace to the humble-minded."

<sup>7</sup>So then submit yourselves to God. Resist the devil and he will flee from you. <sup>8</sup>Draw near to God and He will draw near you. Clean your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you of divided interests. <sup>9</sup>Feel your misery and grieve and cry. Let your laughing be turned to sorrow and your enjoyment to dejection. <sup>10</sup>Take a low position before the Lord and He will set you high.

<sup>11</sup>Do not malign one another, brothers. One who maligns or criticizes his brother, maligns the Law and criticizes the Law<sup>v</sup> but if you criticize the Law you are not its practitioner but its judge. <sup>12</sup>There is one Lawgiver and Judge—He who has power to save and to destroy. But who are you to be judging your neighbor?

<sup>13</sup>Come on, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we will go into this or that city and spend a year there to transact business and to make money," <sup>14</sup>when you have no idea about tomorrow. What is your life? A vapor you are, that appears for a little while and disappears. <sup>15</sup>Instead you ought to say, "If the Lord wills and we live we shall do this or that." <sup>16</sup>But as it is, you boast in your presumptions; all of which boasting is wicked. <sup>17</sup>So, then, to the person who knows enough to do right and fails to do it, to him it is sin.

5 COME ON YOU WEALTHY,<sup>w</sup> WEEP with loud wailings about the miseries that are coming upon you. <sup>2</sup>Your hoarded wealth is ruined and your clothes have become moth-eaten; <sup>3</sup>your gold and silver are covered with rust<sup>x</sup> and their rust will be evidence against you. As fire that you have stored up against the last days,<sup>y</sup> it will consume your flesh.

<sup>4</sup>See, the pay of the workmen that mowed your fields, which you have withheld from them, is crying mightily, and the cries of the reapers have entered the ears of the Lord of Hosts. <sup>5</sup>You have been living an easy life in the land; you have given yourselves up to pleasures; you have fattened your hearts for the day of slaughter.<sup>z</sup> <sup>6</sup>You have condemned, you have murdered the upright without his resisting you.

<sup>9</sup>Do not complain against one another, brothers, so you may not come under judgment. See, the Judge has stationed Himself at the doors. <sup>10</sup>Take, brothers, for your example of ill-treatment that was patiently endured, the prophets who spoke in the Lord's name, <sup>11</sup>whom we call blessed for their way of enduring. You have learned of Job's patience and have noticed what conclusion the Lord effected; because the Lord is deeply sympathetic and merciful.

<sup>12</sup>Above all, my brothers, do not swear, either by heaven or by the earth or any other oath; but let your yes be yes, and your no, no; so you may incur no judgment.

<sup>13</sup>Is any of you suffering trouble? Let him pray.<sup>b</sup> Is anyone feeling cheerful? Let him sing psalms. <sup>14</sup>Is anyone of you ill? Let him call in the elders<sup>c</sup> of the church and let them pray over him and in the name of the Lord anoint him with olive oil.<sup>d</sup> <sup>15</sup>The prayer of faith will restore the sick one and the Lord will raise him up. And in case he has committed sin, it will be removed from him.

<sup>16</sup>So, confess your sins to each other and pray for one another, that you may be cured.<sup>e</sup> The earnest prayer of a righteous person has great effect. <sup>17</sup>Elijah was a man of similar weakness with us and he prayed an earnest prayer that it should not rain; then there fell no rain on the ground for three years and six months. <sup>18</sup>Again he prayed earnestly and heaven gave rain and the soil yielded its produce.<sup>f</sup>

<sup>19</sup>My brothers, in case one of you strays from the truth and someone brings him back, <sup>20</sup>let him be assured that he who turns a sinner back from the wandering of his way does save his soul from death and covers up a great number of sins.<sup>g</sup>

w) All rich Hebrews are addressed and not converts only. Isaiah and Habakkuk are freely quoted. x) The coveted enjoyment eludes you. y) Just preceding Christ's return, see vs. 8.

z) As animals are fattened, not for their own enjoyment, but for the butcher.

a) The converts are specially in mind again. b) Instead of swearing.

c) The spiritual leaders who, if Christlike, will deeply sympathize with suffering members and who also have power with God.

d) So at Christ's suggestion the disciples did, Mk. 6:13. Oil is medicinal, Isa. 1:6; Lk. 10:34. But heartfelt prayer must accompany its application.

e) Discord was and is a source of illness; removal of it fosters healing. Obviously, wrong done another must be acknowledged to the one wronged. No confession to a priest or to a group is here intimated.

f) We Christians feel therefore encouraged to include atmospheric conditions in our prayers; but considering general rather than personal needs.

g) More important than physical healing, hence more deserving our prayer.

THE FIRST GENERAL EPISTLE OF PETER

From Babylon, or from Rome, 64-65 A.D.

1 PETER, AN APOSTLE OF JESUS Christ, to the pilgrims<sup>a</sup> of the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia,<sup>b</sup> <sup>2</sup>chosen in agreement with the foreknowledge of God the Father, and consecrated by the Spirit to be obedient to Jesus Christ,<sup>c</sup> and to be sprinkled with His blood: Grace to you and peace in increasing measure.

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,<sup>d</sup> who with His ample mercy has given us new birth into a life of hope, due to the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead — <sup>4</sup>a birth into an immortal, unsullied and unfading inheritance that is kept safely in heaven for you, <sup>5</sup>who by the power of God are protected through faith for a salvation that is ready to be revealed in the closing period.

<sup>6</sup>Be cheerful on this account, although now for a little while, if it must be, you are distressed by various trials, <sup>7</sup>so that your tested faith, far more precious than perishable gold that is tested by fire, may prove to be for praise and glory and honor, when Jesus Christ is revealed, <sup>8</sup>whom having not seen, you love. In Him you have faith, though now you do not look at Him, and you exult with inexpressible and heavenly joy, <sup>9</sup>while you procure the salvation of your souls as the goal of your faith.

<sup>10</sup>About this salvation the prophets, who prophesied of the blessing intended for you, <sup>11</sup>made inquiry and research to find out to whom or to what time the Spirit of Christ within them pointed, when it predicted the sufferings that were destined for Christ, and the glories along with them. <sup>12</sup>To them it was disclosed that they were rendering their ministries not for themselves, but for you — the announcements that are now made to you by those who through the Holy Spirit sent from heaven have been bringing you the good news, such as angels long to stoop and look into.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>13</sup>Bracing up, therefore, your minds for action and perfectly composed, fix your hope altogether on the grace that will be coming to you when Jesus Christ is revealed.<sup>f</sup> <sup>14</sup>As obedient children do not shape your lives by the passions that controlled you in your previous ignorance; <sup>15</sup>instead, as the One who called you is holy, so should you personally become holy in all your conduct; <sup>16</sup>for it is written, "You shall be holy, because I am holy!"<sup>g</sup>

age,<sup>h</sup> <sup>18</sup>well aware that you have been ransomed from your useless ways such as traditionally came down from your forefathers, not with perishables such as silver or gold, <sup>19</sup>but with the precious blood of Christ as that of a flawless and spotless lamb — <sup>20</sup>provided, to be sure, before the foundation of the world, but disclosed at the end of times<sup>i</sup> for your sakes, <sup>21</sup>who through Him are believers in God, who raised Him from the dead and gave Him glory. So your faith and hope rest in God.

<sup>22</sup>With your souls purified by obeying the truth that issues into unpretended love of the brotherhood, you should most cordially and consistently love one another. <sup>23</sup>For you have been born again, not from a perishable, but from an imperishable sperm through the living and lasting message of God;<sup>j</sup> for, <sup>24</sup>"All flesh is as grass and all its glory as a grass flower; the grass withers and the bloom drops off, <sup>25</sup>but the Word of the Lord endures forever." And this is the message that has been preached to you.

2 SO, AS YOU LAY ASIDE ALL VICE and all deceit, all pretenses, envies and slanderings, <sup>2</sup>you will, like newborn babes, be thirsty for the unadulterated, thought-nourishing milk, so that by its use you may grow up to salvation — <sup>3</sup>presuming you have tasted how helpful the Lord is.

<sup>4</sup>Coming to Him, a living Stone rejected, it is true, by men, but elected of God and precious, <sup>5</sup>be yourselves built up as living stones into a spiritual house, a dedicated priesthood, so as to offer spiritual sacrifices that through Jesus Christ are well-pleasing to God.

<sup>6</sup>It is therefore contained in Scripture, "See, I place in Zion a chosen, honored cornerstone, and he who believes in Him shall never be put to shame."<sup>k</sup> <sup>7</sup>To you, then, who believe,

He is precious, but to the unbelieving, "The stone which the builders rejected, this has become the main cornerstone," <sup>8</sup>and "a stone to stub against and a rock to stumble over."<sup>l</sup> They stub their toes because they disbelieve the message; they are set that way.<sup>m</sup> <sup>9</sup>But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a dedicated nation, a people of His acquisition, so that you may broadcast the perfections of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light — <sup>10</sup>you who once were no people, but are now the people of God; who once experienced no mercy but are now enjoying mercy.

<sup>11</sup>I implore you, dear friends, as visitors and travelers to refrain from sensual urges such as war against the soul. <sup>12</sup>Conduct yourselves honorably among the Gentiles so that, although they may defame you as criminals, they may see your good works and glorify God in the day of visitation.<sup>n</sup>

<sup>13</sup>Be submissive to every human institution for the Lord's sake, whether to the king as supreme, <sup>14</sup>or to governors as commissioned by him to bring criminals to justice and to encourage the well-behaved. <sup>15</sup>For this is God's intention, that by behaving well you should silence the foolishness of thoughtless people. <sup>16</sup>Enjoy liberty, not by employing freedom to cover up wickedness; but as servants of God. <sup>17</sup>Treat everyone honorably; have love for the brotherhood; revere God; respect the king.<sup>o</sup>

<sup>18</sup>You domestics<sup>p</sup> should with unqualified respect be submissive to your masters, not only to the kind and considerate, but also to those unfair; <sup>19</sup>for this is grace, if with consciousness of God<sup>q</sup> one endures the pain of unjust sufferings. <sup>20</sup>For what merit is there in standing a beating for doing wrong? But if you bear patiently with suffering when you are doing right, this is pleasing to God.

I PETER 2, 3 Spiritual Woman's Adornment; Good Will the Christian's Mark

<sup>21</sup>To such experience you have been called; for Christ, too, suffered for you and left behind an example, so that you might follow on in His footsteps: <sup>22</sup>Who committed no sin, neither was deceit found in His mouth, <sup>23</sup>who did not return the insult when He was insulted; who did not threaten when abused, but committed it to the Righteous Judge; <sup>24</sup>who personally in His own body carried our sins onto the cross, so that we might abandon our sins and live for righteousness. By His trickling bruises you are healed.

<sup>25</sup>For then you strayed like sheep, but now you have returned to the Shepherd and Guardian of your souls.

3 IN SIMILAR WAY<sup>r</sup> YOU WIVES should be submissive to your own husbands, so that in case some husbands will not be persuaded by the message, they may without argument be won over by the conduct of their wives, <sup>2</sup>as they observe your chaste and respectful behavior. <sup>3</sup>Your adornment should not be on the outside — braided hair, putting on gold trinkets, or wearing attractive dresses;<sup>s</sup> <sup>4</sup>instead, the inner personality of the heart with the imperishable qualities of a gentle and quiet spirit, something of surpassing value in God's sight.

<sup>5</sup>For in this way the holy women who fixed their hope on God did of old adorn themselves, submissive as they were to their own husbands. <sup>6</sup>Sarah, for instance, obeyed Abraham, whom she called "master." Her genuine daughters you become insofar as you do right and are not terrorized by any fear.

<sup>7</sup>By the same token you men need to live understandingly with your wives as the weaker vessel and rendering them honor as joint heirs with you of the grace of life — so that your praying may not be disturbed.<sup>t</sup>

ous, sympathetic, loving as brothers, deeply compassionate, humbleminded, <sup>9</sup>returning no evil for evil or vituperation for vituperation. Quite to the contrary you will be blessing, because you are called for this, so as to inherit a blessing. For,<sup>u</sup> <sup>10</sup>"He who wants to enjoy life and to see happy days must silence his tongue from evil and his lips from uttering deceit. <sup>11</sup>He must turn away from vice and do right; he must search for peace and keep after it. <sup>12</sup>For the Lord's eyes are on the righteous and His ears are attentive to their prayer; but the Lord's face is set against those who practice evil."

<sup>13</sup>And who can hurt you if you become eager for the right? <sup>14</sup>But even in case you suffer on account of righteousness, you are blessed. Be neither terrified nor troubled by their threat; <sup>15</sup>but revere Christ in your hearts as LORD and be always ready to give a logical reply to everyone who asks you for a reason of the hope that is within you; but do it gently and respectfully. <sup>16</sup>Maintain a clear conscience so that, in case you are slandered,<sup>v</sup> those who falsely accuse your good Christian conduct may grow ashamed; <sup>17</sup>for it is better, if it be God's will, to suffer for doing right than for doing wrong.

<sup>18</sup>For Christ, too, once died for sinners, the just on behalf of the unjust, so that He might lead us up to God, put to death as He was physically but made alive spiritually. <sup>19</sup>Thus He<sup>w</sup> went and preached to the spirits in prison, <sup>20</sup>who were disobedient at the time when God's patience was delaying while Noah was constructing an ark in which a few, in fact eight souls, were brought safely through the water.

<sup>21</sup>Its counterpart, baptism, saves you nowadays, not by removal of physical filth, but by the earnest seeking of a conscience that is clear in God's presence, which is due to the resurrection of Jesus Christ, <sup>22</sup>who is at God's right hand; for He went to heaven, and angels, authorities and powers are made subject to Him.

4 SINCE CHRIST, THEN, HAS SUFFERED physically, you also must arm yourselves with the same attitude; for he, who has suffered physically, has gained relief from sin; <sup>2</sup>so that he no longer lives for human passions, but for the rest of his natural life he lives by what God wills. <sup>3</sup>For to have been practicing the ways of the Gentiles heretofore is quite enough — indulging in unbridled lusts, in passions, in drinking bouts, in carousings, in dissipations and forbidden idolatries.

<sup>4</sup>They are surprised that you are not running with them the same course of unbridled dissipation and they are abusing you for it; <sup>5</sup>but they must render account to Him who stands ready to judge the living and the dead. <sup>6</sup>For this reason the Gospel was preached to the dead,<sup>x</sup> so that, while judged with men physically, they might live with God spiritually.

<sup>12</sup>Be not surprised, dear friends, at the fiery test that is being applied to you, as if you were experiencing something odd. <sup>13</sup>Instead, be cheerful for sharing to some degree the sufferings of His Christ, so that at the revealing of His glory you may be triumphantly cheerful. <sup>14</sup>If you are defamed for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory, yes, the Spirit of God, is resting on you.

<sup>15</sup>Of course, none of you should suffer as a murderer or a thief or a criminal or a meddler in others' affairs; <sup>16</sup>but if you suffer as a Christian, do not feel ashamed; but honor God with that name. <sup>17</sup>For the time has come for judgment to begin with God's household,<sup>z</sup> and if it starts with us, what will be the destiny of those who disobey the divine Gospel? <sup>18</sup>And if the righteous is saved with difficulty,<sup>a</sup> what chance have the impious and sinful?

<sup>19</sup>Accordingly, let those who are suffering in line with the will of God, entrust their souls to God, the faithful Creator, while practicing what is right.

5 SO, AS A FELLOW ELDER AND A witness of Christ's sufferings, a sharer, too, in the glory that is to be revealed, <sup>2</sup>I appeal to the elders among you: shepherd God's flock that is with you,<sup>b</sup> not because you have to, but because with God you want to; not out of greed for gain, but eagerly; <sup>3</sup>not lording it over your charges, but becoming examples to your flock. <sup>4</sup>And with the appearing of the Chief Shepherd you will be awarded the never-fading crown of glory.

<sup>5</sup>So, too, the younger men shall defer to the older, while you all put on the service apron of humility toward each other,<sup>c</sup> because, "God sets Himself against the arrogant, but He grants grace to the humble." <sup>6</sup>Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God, so that He may in due time raise you up. <sup>7</sup>Throw all your anxiety onto Him, for His concern is about you.

THE SECOND GENERAL EPISTLE OF PETER

If from Rome, then 68 A.D.

1 SIMON PETER,<sup>a</sup> A SERVANT AND apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who through the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ have been allotted a faith as precious as ours;<sup>b</sup> <sup>2</sup>Grace and peace be yours in abundance through intimate acquaintance with God and with Jesus our Lord.

<sup>3</sup>For His divine power has bestowed on us every requisite for life and godliness, through knowing Him who called us to His own glory and virtue.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>4</sup>Through these there have been granted us great and precious promised blessings, so that by means of them you might become sharers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption in the world that arises from passion.

<sup>10</sup>Exert yourselves the more then, brothers, to confirm your calling and election,<sup>d</sup> for if you practice these things you will never stumble at all; <sup>11</sup>for so an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ will be liberally provided for you.

<sup>12</sup>I will, therefore, take care always to remind you of these matters, even though you are aware of them and are steady-minded in the truth now available. <sup>13</sup>Still, I think it my duty, so long as I remain in this bodily tent, to keep you wide-awake by reminding you; <sup>14</sup>for I know that shortly my body will be put off, as our Lord Jesus Christ made clear to me.<sup>e</sup> <sup>15</sup>Besides, I will make every effort to enable each one of you to keep these things in mind after I am gone; <sup>16</sup>for when we acquainted you with the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ we were not accepting the authority of cleverly devised fables. On the contrary, we were eyewitnesses of His majesty, <sup>17</sup>for as He was receiving honor and glory from God the Father, such a voice was borne to Him from the supreme glory, "This is My Son, My Beloved, in whom I am delighted." <sup>18</sup>And we heard this voice borne to us from heaven, when we were with Him on the sacred mountain.<sup>f</sup>

a) There is no strong evidence that the second century church used this letter, but Origen, the outstanding Christian scholar at the beginning of the third century, evidences it was then accepted and used. b) Including therefore all believers through the ages. c) To be like Christ, hence the need of following up faith with the virtues suggested in vs. 5-7. ## II PETER 1, 2

False Teachers and Their Followers Doomed

reaffirmed,<sup>5</sup> to which you do well to pay attention as you would to a light that shines in a dark place until the day dawns and the Daystar arises in your hearts,<sup>20</sup> with this most clearly understood, that no prophetic Scripture can be explained by one's unaided mental powers.<sup>21</sup> Because no prophecy ever resulted from human design, instead, holy men from God spoke as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit.

2 BUT THERE WERE ALSO FALSE prophets among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you; the kind that will shrewdly introduce ruinous heresies, even denying the Master who bought them, and so bringing on themselves swift destruction.<sup>2</sup> Many will follow along in their shameless ways, on whose account the way of truth will be maligned.<sup>3</sup> Motivated by greed, they will exploit you with their counterfeit arguments.

From of old their sentence has been hanging over them and their destruction has not been dormant.<sup>4</sup> For if God did not spare sinning angels, but committed them to the black dungeons of Tartarus<sup>h</sup> to be kept for judgment,<sup>5</sup> neither spared the old world, but preserved Noah, a preacher of righteousness, and seven with him, when He brought a flood upon a godless world,<sup>6</sup> and as He condemned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah by turning them to ashes — an example to show the godless what is to happen to them —<sup>7</sup> and rescued upright Lot, wearied as he was by the immoral behavior of the lawless —<sup>8</sup> for day after day as that righteous man lived among them, his upright soul was tortured at seeing and hearing their lawless doings —<sup>9</sup> then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from temptation and to keep the wicked under chastisement against the day of judgment.

polluting passions and despise authority. Bold, headstrong as they are, they have no qualms at libeling glorious beings;<sup>11</sup> whereas angels, far superior to them in strength and might, bring no defaming charge against such before the Lord.<sup>12</sup> These, however, like irrational brutes that are naturally born to be caught and killed, while maligning what they do not know, will also be destroyed by their own corruption;<sup>13</sup> they will be rewarded by their own wickedness.

Gluttony during the day is their idea of enjoyment; they are foul blots and blemishes that stuff themselves at your tables by means of their deceptions.<sup>14</sup> They have their eyes full of adultery and never-satisfied sin. They lure unsteady souls. Their hearts are practiced in greed — children of a curse! <sup>15</sup>Leaving the straight path, they have strayed as they have followed in the tracks of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of wickedness.<sup>16</sup> But he was convicted by his own misdeed; a dumb beast of burden, speaking with human voice, restrained the prophet's madness.

<sup>17</sup>These are waterless wells, whirlwind-driven fogs for which the gloom of darkness is reserved.<sup>18</sup> For as they utter arrogant nonsense, they entice, through appeal to immoral passions of the flesh, those who have hardly escaped the company of the misbehaving.<sup>19</sup> While they promise them liberty, they are themselves slaves of corruption; for a person is slave to whatever overpowers him.

<sup>20</sup>For if those, who have escaped the contaminations of the world through a knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, are again entangled and overcome by them, then their last condition becomes worse than the first.<sup>21</sup> For it would be better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than, after knowing it, to turn back from the sacred injunction that was imparted to them.<sup>k</sup> <sup>22</sup>In their case the

3 THIS, DEAR FRIENDS, IS NOW THE second letter I am writing you, to revive your unsullied mind by way of reminding, <sup>2</sup>so you may be mindful of the sayings that were spoken beforehand by the holy prophets and, through your apostles, also of the commands of the Lord and Savior.

<sup>3</sup>First of all you should understand that in the last days scoffers will come on the scene with their scoffing, behaving in line with their own lusts, <sup>4</sup>and saying, "What about His promised coming? For ever since the forefathers fell asleep, everything has remained as it was from the beginning of creation."

<sup>5</sup>They willfully ignore the fact that from of old there were heavens, and an earth standing partly above and partly amidst water by the word of God, <sup>6</sup>by means of which the then existing world was destroyed, deluged as it was by water. <sup>7</sup>At present, however, the heavens and the earth are by the same command stored up for burning, and reserved for the day of judgment and the destruction of the godless people.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>8</sup>Do not overlook this one fact, however, dear friends, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day.<sup>m</sup> <sup>9</sup>The Lord is not dawdling about His promise as some think of dawdling; instead, He is exercising patience with you, desiring as He does that none should perish, but that all should come to repentance.<sup>n</sup>

<sup>10</sup>But the day of the Lord will come like a thief. Then with a tremendous crash the heavens will pass away; the burning elements will be dissolved; the earth too and the works in it shall be burned up.

<sup>11</sup>Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, how consecrated and reverent your behavior should be, <sup>12</sup>as you are expecting and hastening on the coming day of God, on whose account the blazing heavens will be dissolved and the burning elements melted. <sup>13</sup>But we are, in agreement with His promise, looking for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness is at home.<sup>o</sup>

<sup>14</sup>Accordingly, dear friends, as you have these expectations, do your utmost to be found at peace with Him—spotless and blameless. <sup>15</sup>Consider, too, the continued patience of our Lord for your salvation, as our dear brother Paul too has written you according to the wisdom that has been granted him, <sup>16</sup>and as well in all the letters in which he mentions these subjects.<sup>p</sup> Some statements in them are hard to think through.<sup>q</sup> The untaught and unsteady twist those writings as they do the other Scriptures<sup>r</sup>—to their own ruin.

<sup>17</sup>You, therefore, dear friends, forewarned as you are, be on your guard so that you may not be carried away by the stray wanderings of the lawless, and slip from your own moorings; <sup>18</sup>but grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, to whom be glory now and to the day of eternity. (Amen.)

l) Forgetting the Creator, they are unmindful of the Judge; insisting on license, they get themselves enslaved. So Isa. 66:15 and Dan. 7:9 intimate. m) Ps. 90:4, freely used.

n) Grace, not judgment, is the leading note in God's music.

o) Where righteousness is attained, all else of good is added, Matt. 6:33.

p) Silas was with Peter when Peter's first letter was written and may well have acquainted Peter with Paul's correspondence. Obviously, the recipients of Peter's letters had also read some of Paul's.

q) Paul's natural intellect and his education were brought to bear on new covenant principles, which he worked out to logical conclusions.

r) The New Testament is here deservedly ranked with the Old as "Scriptures."

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF JOHN

From Ephesus to the Asia churches, after 70 A.D.

1 WE ANNOUNCE TO YOU ABOUT THE Word of Life; He was from the beginning;<sup>a</sup> we have heard Him; we have seen Him with these eyes; we have looked at Him and our hands have touched Him. <sup>2</sup>Yes, the Life has been revealed and we have seen and are witnessing and are announcing to you the Life Eternal, who existed with the Father and has been revealed to us. <sup>3</sup>We saw Him and we heard Him and are telling you, so you too may enjoy fellowship along with us. And this fellowship of ours is with the Father and with His Son Jesus Christ. <sup>4</sup>This we are writing you so that our joy may be complete.

<sup>5</sup>The message we heard from Him and announce to you is this: God is Light and in Him there is no darkness whatever. <sup>6</sup>If we say that we enjoy fellowship with Him while we are walking about in the dark, we are falsifying and we are not practicing the truth. <sup>7</sup>If, however, we walk about in the light, as He Himself is in the light, then we enjoy mutual fellowship, and the blood of His Son Jesus cleanses us from all sin.

<sup>8</sup>If we say, "We have no sin," we are deluding ourselves and the truth is not in us.<sup>b</sup> <sup>9</sup>If we confess our sins, He is so faithful and just as to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. <sup>10</sup>In case we say, "We have not sinned," we make Him out to be a liar and His word is not within us.<sup>c</sup>

2 MY CHILDREN, I WRITE YOU THESE things so you may not sin, and if anyone does sin, we have a Counsel for defense in the Father's presence, Jesus Christ, the Righteous. <sup>2</sup>He is Himself an atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not for ours only but also for those of the whole world.

<sup>3</sup>By this token we recognize that we know Him, if we observe His commands. <sup>4</sup>He who says, "I know Him," and does not keep His commands, is a liar and the truth is not in him. <sup>5</sup>But whoever observes His message, in him the love of God has truly reached maturity. In this way we recognize that we are in Him: <sup>6</sup>one who claims to remain in Him ought personally to live the way He lived.

<sup>7</sup>Dear friends, I am writing you no new command, but only the old command which you have had from the beginning. The old command is the message you have heard. <sup>8</sup>In turn I write you a new command,<sup>d</sup> realized in Him and in you, inasmuch as the darkness is passing and the true light is already shining. <sup>9</sup>He who claims to be in the light and hates his brother is in darkness all the while. <sup>10</sup>He who loves his brother is continually in the light and

a) Jn. 1:1, not just a message but the Person Christ, expressive of God.

b) Light, life, sinlessness, all alike are God's and not ours, except as His gifts.

c) Because divine grace in Christ presupposes universal human sinfulness.

d) A fresh presentation of the eternal principle, love, without the practice of which life, light, and sinlessness are inconceivable.

there is nothing within him to occasion stumbling. <sup>11</sup>But the brother-hater is in the dark and moves in the dark; he does not even know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

<sup>12</sup>I am writing you, children, because for His name's sake your sins have been forgiven you. <sup>13</sup>I am writing you, fathers, because you know Him who is from the beginning. I am writing you, young men,<sup>e</sup> because you have conquered the evil one. I have written you, children, because you have come to know the Father. <sup>14</sup>I have written you, fathers, because you have learned to know Him who is from the beginning. I have written you, young men, because you are vigorous; God's message stays in your hearts and you have conquered the evil one.

<sup>15</sup>Neither love the world nor the things in the world.<sup>f</sup> Whoever loves the world has not the Father's love in his heart, <sup>16</sup>because everything in the world, the passions of the flesh, the desires of the eyes and the proud display of life have their origin not from the Father but from the world. <sup>17</sup>And the world with its lust passes away, but he who does the will of God remains forever.

<sup>18</sup>Children, the final hour is here and, as you have heard, "Antichrist is coming," even now many antichrists have arisen;<sup>g</sup> from which we gather certainly that it is the last hour. <sup>19</sup>From us they went out, but they never belonged to us; for had they been ours, they would have remained with us. But it had to become clear that not all belong to us. <sup>20</sup>Besides, you hold your anointing<sup>h</sup> from the Holy One and you all know.<sup>i</sup> <sup>21</sup>The reason I wrote you was not that you do not know the truth, but that you know it and that from truth nothing false originates.

<sup>22</sup>Who is the liar if it is not the denier that Jesus is the Christ? He is the Antichrist who denies the Father and the Son. <sup>23</sup>No one who denies the Son has the Father.<sup>j</sup> Whoever acknowledges the Son has the Father as well.

<sup>24</sup>What you heard from the beginning, let that stay with you. If what you heard from the beginning stays with you, then you will remain in union with the Son and with the Father. <sup>25</sup>And this is the promise which He Himself has promised us, the life eternal.

<sup>26</sup>I have written you these things about those who mislead you. <sup>27</sup>As for you, the anointing you have received from Him remains within you and you stand in no need of teaching from anyone;<sup>k</sup> but as His anointing instructs you about everything and is true and is no falsehood, so keep in union with Him just as it was taught you.

<sup>28</sup>And now, dear children, remain in Him so that when He appears we may have confidence and may not in shame shrink from Him at His coming. <sup>29</sup>If you know that He is righteous, you also recognize that everyone who practices righteousness has been born of Him.

3 SEE WHAT A WEALTH OF LOVE THE Father has lavished on us, that we should be called God's children. And we are. For this reason the world does not recognize us—it did not know Him.

<sup>2</sup>Loved ones, we are God's children now, and what we shall be has not yet been shown; but we know that when He has been revealed we shall resemble Him, for we shall see Him as He is. <sup>3</sup>And everyone who has this hope resting on Him, purifies himself as He is pure.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>4</sup>Everyone who commits sin practices lawbreaking; sin is lawbreaking. <sup>5</sup>You know, too, that He came in visible form to take away sin, and in Him there is no sin. <sup>6</sup>No one who remains in Him commits sin.<sup>m</sup> Whoever prac-

k) Christians have assurance; certainly no false teachings are needed.

l) The Spirit purifies; we cooperate.

times sinning has neither looked on Him nor known Him.

<sup>7</sup>Dear children, no one should deceive you. He who practices righteousness is righteous, just as He Himself is righteous. <sup>8</sup>He who practices sin belongs to the devil, for from the beginning the devil sins. For this purpose the Son of God appeared, to break up the works of the devil.

<sup>9</sup>No one who has been born of God commits sin, for a sperm divine remains within him; having been born of God, he cannot practice sinning. <sup>10</sup>By this the children of God and the children of the devil are distinguished: Anyone who does not practice righteousness, or who does not love his brother, is not from God. <sup>11</sup>For this is the message you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another; <sup>12</sup>not be like Cain, whose motivation was from the evil one and he murdered his brother. And for what reason did he murder him? Because his own deeds were wicked and those of his brother were virtuous.

<sup>13</sup>Do not be surprised, brothers, if the world hates you. <sup>14</sup>We know that we have made the transfer out of death into life, because we love the brothers. <sup>15</sup>One who is not loving remains in death. <sup>16</sup>Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life continuing within him.

<sup>16</sup>We understand the meaning of love from this, that He laid down his own life on our behalf, and we ought to lay down our lives on behalf of the brothers. <sup>17</sup>Whoever possesses the world's resources and notices that his brother suffers need and then locks his deep sympathies away from him, how is the love of God lodging in him?

<sup>18</sup>Dear children, let us not be loving in word and tongue, but in deed and truth. <sup>19</sup>In this way we shall become fully aware that to the truth we owe our lives,<sup>o</sup> and in His presence our hearts shall be at peace. <sup>20</sup>For if our hearts condemn us, God is greater than our hearts, and He knows everything.

<sup>21</sup>Loved ones, in case our hearts do not condemn us, then we draw near to God with confidence, <sup>22</sup>and whatever we may ask we receive from Him, for we observe His injunctions and practice what is pleasing in His sight. <sup>23</sup>And this is His injunction, that we put our faith in the name of His Son Jesus Christ and that we love one another as He enjoined us. <sup>24</sup>He who obeys His commands remains in Him and He in him. By this we know that He remains in us—through the Spirit which He has given us.

4 <sup>1</sup>LOVED ONES, DO NOT PUT FAITH IN every spirit, but put the spirits to the test whether they are from God; for many false prophets have been let out into the world. <sup>2</sup>By this we recognize the Spirit of God: <sup>3</sup>Every spirit that acknowledges Jesus Christ as having come incarnate is from God; while every spirit that does not acknowledge Jesus is not from God; it is the spirit of Antichrist of whose coming you have heard. Right now he is in the world.

<sup>4</sup>You are from God, dear children, and have defeated them,<sup>p</sup> because the One in you is greater than the one in the world. <sup>5</sup>They are from the world, so they talk from a worldly point of view and the world listens to them. <sup>6</sup>We are from God. Whoever has acquaintance with God, listens to us. Whoever is not from God does not listen to us. In this way we distinguish the spirit of truth from the spirit of error.

<sup>7</sup>Beloved, let us love one another, because love springs from God and whoever is loving has been born of God and knows God.<sup>q</sup> <sup>8</sup>He who is not loving does not know God; for God is love. <sup>9</sup>As for us, the love of God was revealed by the fact that God sent His Son, His Only-begotten, into the world, so that through Him we might live; <sup>10</sup>which love exists in this, not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins.

<sup>11</sup>Loved ones, if God loved us so

n) A never-failing criterion by which we do well to test our discipleship.

o) Convicting of sin and showing salvation. p) The antichristian teachers.

q) Ch. 3:14 shows that love of "the brothers" is under consideration throughout the epistle. Of course this does not exclude others.

much, we ought to love one another too.

<sup>12</sup>No one has ever seen God. In case we love one another, God remains in us and His love runs its full course in us. <sup>13</sup>From this we know that we remain in Him and He in us, that He has imparted to us of His Spirit. <sup>14</sup>Besides, we ourselves have seen and we are bearing witness that the Father has sent the Son as the world's Savior.

<sup>15</sup>Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, with him God remains in union and he with God. <sup>16</sup>We both know and put faith in the love which God cherishes in us. God is love, and he who continues in love continues in God and God continues in him.

<sup>17</sup>On our part love comes to completion in this, that we face the judgment day confidently because we are living His way in this world. <sup>18</sup>Love has no fear in it; instead, perfect love expels fear, for fear involves torture; so, he who fears has not reached love's perfection. <sup>19</sup>We love because He first loved us.

<sup>20</sup>If someone says, "I love God," while he hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen, is not able to love God whom he has not seen. <sup>21</sup>And this command we have from Him that the lover of God shall love his brother too.

5 EVERYONE WHO HAS FAITH THAT Jesus is the Christ<sup>r</sup> has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father will love the one born of Him. <sup>2</sup>This is the way we know that we love God's children: when we love God and practice His commands. <sup>3</sup>For true love of God means this, that we observe His commands, and His commands are not irksome. <sup>4</sup>Because everyone who has been born of God, conquers the world, and this is the victory that has triumphed over the world — the faith we have. <sup>5</sup>Who is the world's victor, if not he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?<sup>s</sup>

<sup>6</sup>That One is Jesus Christ who came by water and blood; not by the water only but by the water and in the blood. The Spirit bears witness as well, because the Spirit is the truth. <sup>7</sup>So there are three witnesses, (in heaven, the Father, the Word and the Holy Spirit,<sup>t</sup> and these three are one, <sup>8</sup>and there are three witnesses on the earth,) the Spirit, the water and the blood, and the three are in unison.

<sup>9</sup>If we accept human testimony, God's testimony is stronger, and God's witness is this which He testified regarding His Son: <sup>10</sup>The believer in the Son of God possesses the witness within himself.<sup>u</sup> He who disbelieves God, makes Him out to be a liar, because he has put no faith in the evidence God has adduced regarding His Son. <sup>11</sup>And this is the evidence: God has granted us eternal life and this life is in His Son. <sup>12</sup>He who has the Son has that life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have that life.

<sup>13</sup>I have written you this to have you see that you, who have faith in the name of God's Son, do have eternal life. <sup>14</sup>And this is the confidence we have resting on Him, that if we petition anything in agreement with His will, He hears us, <sup>15</sup>and if we know that He listens to us whatever we may petition, then the requests we ask of Him are assured us.<sup>v</sup>

<sup>16</sup>In case someone sees his brother commit a sin, not fatal, he will petition and will obtain life for him — presuming it is no mortal sinning. <sup>17</sup>There is a sin that means death;<sup>w</sup> I advise no prayer for that. Every wrong is sin<sup>x</sup> and there is sin which does not involve death.

r) A faith that appropriates Him as Savior and Lord.

s) John remembers, "I have overcome the world," Jn. 16:33.

t) True as the insertion is, of Father, Word, and Holy Spirit, it is not needed; for such is the clear teaching of the whole New Testament.

u) His love toward God and toward his brothers is certainly one marked witness.

v) As Jesus standing by the grave of Lazarus prays, "Father I thank Thee that Thou hast heard Me." Jn. 11:41.

w) In agreement with our Lord's teaching. Matt. 12:31,32, continuous and wilful denial of the Spirit's appeal.

x) Which seems obvious, but repeatedly disciples have seen plausible reasons for doing wrong.

I JOHN 5

Brotherly Love an Assurance of Childhood and Life

<sup>18</sup>We know that everyone, who has been born of God practices no sin-ing;<sup>y</sup> instead, he whose birth is from God retains hold on him and the wicked one does not get a grip on him.

<sup>19</sup>We know that, while the whole world lies under the dominance of the wicked one, we belong to God. <sup>20</sup>We further know that the Son of God has come and has given us insight to recognize the true One. And we are in union with the true One, with His Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and life eternal.

<sup>21</sup>Dear children, guard yourselves from the idols. (Amen.)

y) See ch. 3:6 and 9. Certainly as a new creature in Christ he does not habitually sin.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF

JOHN

From Ephesus, around 80 A.D.
Or to Ephesus from exile

1 THE ELDER TO THE ELECT LADY<sup>a</sup>
with her children whom I truly love — and not I alone but all those who recognize the truth — <sup>2</sup>for the sake of the truth that remains in us and will be with us forever: <sup>3</sup>Grace, mercy and peace be with us from God the Father and from Jesus Christ, the Father's Son, in truth and in love.

<sup>4</sup>I feel extremely happy to have found among your children those who live in a true way just as we received instruction from the Father. <sup>5</sup>And now I beg of you, lady, not by way of writing you a new injunction, but instead the one we had from the beginning, that we love one another. <sup>6</sup>And this love consists in our behaving in agreement with His suggestions, the very same command, to behave exactly the way you heard from the first.

<sup>7</sup>Because many impostors have gone out into the world, who do not confess Christ as having come incarnated. That kind is the misleader and the anti-christ. <sup>8</sup>Look out for yourselves, so you may not lose the results of what we wrought; instead, make sure of a full reward.

<sup>9</sup>Whoever assumes leadership, and does not remain in the doctrine of Christ,<sup>b</sup> does not have God. He who keeps moving in the sphere of His teaching, he has both the Father and the Son. <sup>10</sup>In case anyone approaches you who does not bring the same doctrine, do not receive him in your home, nor extend him your greeting; <sup>11</sup>for he who bids him welcome makes himself a sharer of those wicked works of his.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>12</sup>Although I have many things to write you, I would rather not use paper and ink, but I hope to have a visit with you and to talk with you by word of mouth, so that our happiness may be complete.

a) As ecclesia or church is feminine, and the church is thought of as the Bride of Christ, Lady probably means a local congregation, or perhaps the church at large. The possibility remains, however, that Kyría is the name of a choice woman of John's acquaintance. b) Jn. 7:16, 17. c) A sensible warning. To this day subversive teachings are encouraged by misplaced hospitality, when entertainment of Spirit-led workers would bless home and community.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN

From Ephesus, around 80 A.D.
Or to Ephesus from exile

1 THE ELDER TO THE ESTEEMED
Gaius, whom I truly love.

<sup>2</sup>Beloved friend, I pray that you are getting along well in every way and are enjoying health, just as your soul is prospering. <sup>3</sup>For I felt extremely happy when the brothers arrived and gave testimony about your fidelity to the truth, as indeed you are living the true life. <sup>4</sup>Nothing affords me more enjoyment than to hear that my children are leading the true life.

<sup>5</sup>Beloved friend, you are acting faithfully when you do anything for the brothers, and specially for the strangers.<sup>a</sup> <sup>6</sup>They have testified before the church about your friendship. You will do well to forward them on their journey in a way befitting God's service, <sup>7</sup>because on behalf of that Name they have gone out without accepting anything from the Gentiles. <sup>8</sup>So we ourselves ought to support such people in order to be fellow workers with them in the truth.

<sup>9</sup>I have written something to the church, but Diotrephes,<sup>b</sup> who loves to be prominent among them, will not accept our suggestions. <sup>10</sup>For that reason I shall on my arrival call attention to his activities, casting reflections on us as he does with insinuating language. And not satisfied with that, he does not himself welcome the brothers, and he hinders those who are willing to do so, and expels them from the church.

<sup>12</sup>Demetrius<sup>d</sup> enjoys a good reputation from everyone and from truth itself. We add our testimony too and you know that our testimony is true.

<sup>13</sup>I had many things to write you, but I do not wish to write you with pen and ink. <sup>14</sup>But I hope to see you shortly and we shall talk face to face. Peace to you. The friends send you greetings. Remember me to the friends personally.

a) Rom. 16:23, Paul testifies similarly of a Gaius at Corinth. See I Cor. 1:14.

b) Unfortunately the church still has her Diotrephes in smaller and in wider circles.

c) A criterion that holds forever.

THE EPISTLE OF

JUDE

Used by 2nd Peter, so probably 65-66 A.D.

1 JUDE,<sup>a</sup> A SERVANT OF JESUS Christ and a brother of James, to those who have been chosen, loved by God the Father and kept by Jesus Christ: <sup>2</sup>Mercy, peace and love be increasingly granted you.

<sup>3</sup>Dear friends, while I am making every effort to write you about the salvation we have in common, I find it necessary to write you an appeal, that you vigorously defend the faith<sup>b</sup> which was once for all delivered to the saints. <sup>4</sup>For certain people have sneaked in, of whom in the long ago this condemnation was set forth in advance, impious ones, who pervert the grace of our God into unbridled lust and deny Jesus Christ, our only Master and Lord.

<sup>5</sup>So I desire to remind you, since once you were quite familiar with all the facts, how the Lord, after rescuing the people from the land of Egypt, destroyed at the next occasion those who practiced no faith. <sup>6</sup>Then, too, the angels<sup>c</sup> who did not maintain their own office, but abandoned their proper dwelling, He has reserved in everlasting chains under densest darkness for the judgment of the great day. <sup>7</sup>Similarly, Sodom and Gomorrah with their neighboring towns, who in like fashion abandoned themselves to sexual immorality and were bent on perverted sensuality, are placed before us as a warning by suffering the punishment of eternal fire. Nevertheless, <sup>8</sup>in that same way these deluded dreamers besmear the body too; they reject authority and libel "glories."<sup>d</sup>

<sup>9</sup>Yet, the archangel Michael, when in his encounter with the devil he argued about the body of Moses, did not venture to pronounce sentence on his blasphemies, but said, "The Lord rebuke you!"<sup>e</sup> <sup>10</sup>These people, however, sneer at anything they do not understand, while whatever they do know sensually as reasonless brutes, by those things they are corrupted.

<sup>12</sup>These are the stains in your lovefeasts,<sup>g</sup> as in your company they shamelessly gorge themselves; rainless clouds they are, carried along by winds; fruitless autumn trees, twice dead and uprooted; <sup>13</sup>wildly raging sea waves that foam up their own disgrace; straying stars for whom the gloom of darkness is forever reserved.

<sup>14</sup>Enoch, seventh generation from Adam, prophesied about them too when he said, "Behold, the Lord has come with His myriads of holy ones <sup>15</sup>to execute judgment against all, and to convict all the ungodly for all their impious activities which in their godlessness they have practiced, and for all the rude words those godless sinners have spoken against Him."<sup>h</sup>

<sup>16</sup>These are the grumblers, complaining of their lot, who go along in accord with their passions, and whose mouths give vent to arrogant remarks, while they flatter to one's face in hope of gain.

<sup>17</sup>But you, dear friends, remember the suggestions that were given heretofore by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>18</sup>for they told you, "In the final period there will be scoffers, whose lives are guided by their own impious passions."<sup>19</sup>These are the agitators, the worldly, who lack the Spirit.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>20</sup>You, however, beloved, as you build yourselves upon your most holy faith and are worshiping by the Holy Spirit, <sup>21</sup>keep yourselves in the love of God, all the while awaiting the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ for eternal life. <sup>22</sup>Convince certain ones who separate themselves, but save others by snatching them from the fire; <sup>23</sup>on still others have pity mingled with great caution, loathing even the clothing that has been polluted by their sensuality.

<sup>24</sup>Now to Him who is able to keep you from stumbling and to present you faultless in the presence of His glory with abounding joy, <sup>25</sup>to the only (wise) God our Savior, be glory, majesty, power and dominion through Jesus Christ our Lord, before all time, and now, and forever more. Amen.

THE REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST

Patmos and Ephesus, 96 A.D.?

1 THE REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST, which God granted Him to show His servants what must shortly take place. So through His angel He sent the communication to His servant John, <sup>2</sup>who vouches for everything he saw as the message of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ.

<sup>4</sup>John to the seven churches in Asia: Grace and peace to you from Him who is and who was and who is coming, and from the seven Spirits<sup>c</sup> that are before His throne, <sup>5</sup>and from Jesus Christ, the trustworthy Witness, the First-born from the dead and the Commander of the kings of the earth.<sup>d</sup> To Him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by His own blood, <sup>6</sup>and has made us into royalty, into priests of God, even His Father, to Him be the majesty and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>7</sup>Behold, He is coming on the clouds and every eye, even of those who pierced Him, shall see Him, and all the races of the earth shall beat the breast over Him. Truly so, Amen.

<sup>8</sup>I am the Alpha and the Omega, says the Lord God, who is and who was and who is coming, the All-Sovereign.

<sup>9</sup>I, John, your brother and fellow sharer in the distress and (in) the kingdom and the endurance of Jesus, was in the island called Patmos on account of the message from God and the testimony for Jesus. <sup>10</sup>On the Lord's day I became Spirit-possessed and heard behind me a voice as mighty as a trumpet, <sup>11</sup>that said, "Write what you see in a book and dispatch it to the seven churches — to Ephesus, to Smyrna, to Pergamum, to Thyatira, to Sardis, to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea."

<sup>12</sup>I turned to see whose voice was addressing me, and on turning I saw seven golden lampstands<sup>e</sup> <sup>13</sup>and in the center of the lampstands One like the Son of Man, dressed in a robe that reached to the feet and girded across the breast with a golden girdle; <sup>14</sup>His head and hairs white as wool, as white as snow; His eyes like a flame of fire; <sup>15</sup>His feet like precious ore as it glows in the furnace and His voice like the sound of many waters.<sup>f</sup> <sup>16</sup>In His right hand He held seven stars; from His mouth there issued a sharp, two-edged sword and His face shone as when the sun shines in its full strength.

<sup>17</sup>When I saw Him, I fell at His feet as dead. Then He laid His right hand on me and said, Do not fear! I am the First and the Last <sup>18</sup>and the Living One, I experienced death and behold, I am alive forever and ever, (Amen), and I possess the keys of death and of its realm.<sup>19</sup> So, write what you have seen, both what is now and what shall occur hereafter.<sup>20</sup> As to the mystery of the seven stars you saw upon My right hand, and of the seven golden lampstands — the seven stars are angels<sup>21</sup> of the seven churches, and the seven lampstands are the seven churches.

2 TO THE ANGEL OF THE CHURCH IN Ephesus write: He, who holds the seven stars in His right hand and who walks between the seven golden lampstands, says this: <sup>2</sup>I know your activities, your fatiguing toil and your endurance, and how you cannot tolerate the wicked; how you have put to the test those who call themselves apostles though they are not, and you have found them to be impostors. <sup>3</sup>All the while you were exercising patience and have been bearing up because of My Name, and you have not been exhausted.

<sup>4</sup>But I hold against you that you have given up your first love.<sup>5</sup> So, call to mind from what grade you have declined, and repent and practice what you did previously; or else, if you do not change your mind, I will visit you and remove the lampstand from its place.

<sup>6</sup>You have this, however, that you hate the doings of the Nicolaitans,<sup>1</sup> which I hate too. <sup>7</sup>Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.<sup>1</sup> I will grant the victor to eat from the tree of life that stands in the paradise of God.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>8</sup>To the angel of the church in Smyrna write: This says the First and the Last, who tasted death and became alive. <sup>9</sup>I know your distress and your poverty — but you are rich — and the insolence of those who call themselves Jews but are instead a synagogue of Satan.<sup>1</sup> <sup>10</sup>Do not dread what you are to suffer. True, the devil is going to throw some of you into prison, so you will be tested, and for ten days you will have trouble.<sup>11</sup> Be loyal, though it means your death, and I will give you the crown of life.

<sup>11</sup>Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. The victor will suffer no hurt from the second death.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>12</sup>To the angel of the church in Pergamum write: This says He, who wields the sharp, double-edged sword: <sup>13</sup>I know where you live; Satan's throne<sup>3</sup> is there. And you are holding onto My Name; you have not renounced faith in Me even in the days when My faithful Antipas, who witnessed for Me, was put to death in your environs where Satan dwells.

<sup>14</sup>I hold a few things against you, though; for you have those there who hold to the doctrine of Balaam, who instructed Balak to throw a stumbling block before the sons of Israel — to eat idol offerings and to practice lewdness. <sup>15</sup>Besides, you have as well those who in similar way adhere to the doctrine of the Nicolaitans.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>16</sup>So, repent! Otherwise I will shortly visit you, and make war on them with the sword of My mouth. <sup>17</sup>Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the victor I will give some of the hidden manna and I will give him a white stone and engraved on the stone a new name, which no one knows except the recipient.<sup>5</sup>

feet like white-hot metal: <sup>19</sup>I know your doings, your love and faith and service and endurance, and that of late you are accomplishing more than at first. <sup>20</sup>But I hold against you that you tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess and teaches my servants deceitfully to practice unchastity and to eat idol offerings.<sup>r</sup>

<sup>24</sup>But I say to the rest of you in Thyatira, who neither adhere to this doctrine nor have explored the hidden things of Satan — as they put it<sup>t</sup> — I will impose no further burden on you <sup>25</sup>except that you hold on to what you have until I come. <sup>26</sup>To the victor and the observer of My ways to the finish I will grant authority over the Gentiles. <sup>27</sup>He will shepherd them with an iron staff as clay jars are beaten into a pile of shivers, just as I received authority from My Father. <sup>28</sup>I will also give him the morning star.<sup>u</sup> <sup>29</sup>Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

3 TO THE ANGEL OF THE CHURCH IN Sardis write: This says He who has the seven Spirits of God and the seven stars: I know your doings, that you are said to live, but you are dead. <sup>2</sup>Be awake and invigorate remainders that are at the point of dying; for I have found none of your works meeting the requirements of My God.

<sup>3</sup>Call to mind, then, what you have received and heard; observe it and repent. In case you do not keep wide-awake, I will come like a thief and you will have no idea at what hour I will come upon you.

<sup>4</sup>You have a few persons in Sardis, however, who have not soiled their clothes;<sup>v</sup> they shall walk with Me in white, because they are deserving. <sup>5</sup>Similarly shall the victor be dressed in white robes and I will not erase his name from the Book of Life; I will confess his name before My Father and before His angels.<sup>w</sup> <sup>6</sup>Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

I will make those of the synagogue of Satan, who claim to be Jews but are instead impostors; indeed I will make them come and bow at your feet and acknowledge that I have loved you.<sup>z</sup>

what the Spirit says to the churches.

<sup>14</sup>To the angel of the church in Laodicea write: This says the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the Beginning of the creation of God:<sup>e</sup> <sup>15</sup>I know your doings, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were either cold or hot. <sup>16</sup>So, because you are lukewarm and neither hot nor cold, I am going to spew you out of My mouth.

<sup>17</sup>For you say, "I am rich; I have grown wealthy; I need nothing," and you do not know that you are wretched, pitiable, poor, blind and naked.

<sup>18</sup>I advise you to buy fire-tested gold from Me, so you may be wealthy, and white clothes to put on, so that the shame of your nudity may not be shown, and salve to put on your eyes,<sup>d</sup> so you may see.

<sup>19</sup>The ones I love I correct and discipline; so burn with zeal and change your attitude. <sup>20</sup>Behold I stand at the door and knock. If anyone listens to My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and dine with him and he with Me.

<sup>21</sup>As for the victor, I will grant him to sit beside Me on My throne, as I also conquered and sat down beside My Father on His throne.

4 AFTER THIS I LOOKED AND SAW A door standing open in heaven, and the voice I had first heard speaking to me like a trumpet,<sup>e</sup> said, "Come up here, and I will show you what must take place hereafter."

<sup>4</sup>Also surrounding the throne there were twenty-four thrones with twenty-four elders sitting on them, clad in white robes and with golden crowns on their heads.

<sup>5</sup>Out from the throne issued lightnings and rumblings<sup>h</sup> and thunder-peals. And seven lighted lamps were burning before the throne; which are the seven Spirits of God. <sup>6</sup>Also in front of the throne it was like a glassy sea transparent as crystal.

Around the throne, in the center of each side, there were four living beings<sup>i</sup> full of eyes in front and behind; <sup>7</sup>the first living being like a lion, the second like a bullock, the third with a manlike face and the fourth like a flying eagle. <sup>8</sup>Each of the four living beings had six wings around and underneath him, full of eyes. Neither by day nor by night do they cease saying, "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, who was and who is and who is coming."

<sup>9</sup>And whenever the living beings render praise and honor and thanksgiving to the Occupant of the throne, who lives forever and ever, <sup>10</sup>the twenty-four elders fall down before the One seated upon the throne and worship Him who lives forever and ever, and they cast their crowns<sup>j</sup> before the throne, saying, <sup>11</sup>"Thou art worthy, our Lord and God, to receive the glory and the honor and the dominion, because Thou hast created all things and by Thy will they were and have been created."

5 I ALSO SAW UPON THE RIGHT HAND of Him who was seated on the throne a scroll<sup>k</sup> with writing inside and outside, sealed down with seven seals. <sup>2</sup>I further saw a mighty angel, who was exclaiming in a loud voice, "Who is worthy to open the book and to break its seals?" <sup>3</sup>And no one, either in heaven or on earth or under the earth, was able to open the book or to inspect it.

<sup>4</sup>So I cried bitterly because none was found worthy to open the book or to inspect it. <sup>5</sup>And one of the elders said to me, "Do not weep. You see, the Lion out of the tribe of Judah, the Offspring of David, has conquered, so as to open the book and (to loose) its seven seals."

<sup>6</sup>And I saw, standing midway between the throne and the four living beings and amidst the elders, a Lamb as having been sacrificed. It had seven horns and seven eyes,<sup>1</sup> which are the seven Spirits of God<sup>m</sup> dispatched over the whole earth. <sup>7</sup>He came and accepted the book from the right hand of Him who was seated on the throne <sup>8</sup>and when He took the book the four living beings and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each of them having a harp and golden bowls full of incense — which are the prayers of the saints.<sup>n</sup>

<sup>9</sup>And they sing<sup>o</sup> a new song, saying, "Thou art worthy to receive the book and to open its seals, because Thou wert sacrificed and hast bought them for God with Thy blood, out of every tribe and tongue and people and nation, <sup>10</sup>and hast made them royalty and priests for our God, and they shall reign over the earth."

<sup>11</sup>Then I looked, and I heard the voice of many angels around the throne and of the living beings and of the elders, and they numbered myriads of myriads and thousands of thousands, <sup>12</sup>affirming with a loud voice, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive the power and wealth and wisdom and strength and honor and glory and blessing."

<sup>13</sup>Then I heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth and on the sea, and everything comprised by these, exclaiming, "To Him who is seated on the throne, and to the Lamb be blessing and honor and glory and dominion forever and

<sup>14</sup>The four living beings said, "Amen," and the elders fell down and worshiped.

6 I FURTHER SAW WHEN THE LAMB opened the first of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living beings say with a voice like thunder, "Come!" <sup>2</sup>Then I looked and saw a white horse, and its rider holding a bow. To him a crown was presented,<sup>p</sup> and he went out conquering and to conquer.

<sup>3</sup>And when He opened the second seal, I heard the second living being say, "Come!" <sup>4</sup>Then another horse, fiery red, went out, and its rider was empowered to take the peace away from the earth, so that people would butcher one another, and a huge sword was given him.

<sup>5</sup>When He opened the third seal, I heard the third living being say, "Come!" Then I looked and saw a black horse, and its rider had a pair of scales in his hand. <sup>6</sup>I also heard something like a voice in the center of the four living beings, that said, "A quart of wheat for a day's wage<sup>q</sup> and three quarts of barley for a day's wage, and do not damage the oil and the wine."

<sup>7</sup>When He opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living being say, "Come!" <sup>8</sup>Then I looked and saw an ash-colored horse. The name of its rider was Death, and Hades followed him closely. Authority was granted them over a quarter of the earth, to kill with the sword, with famine, with plague and by means of the wild beasts of the earth.

<sup>9</sup>When He opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar<sup>r</sup> the souls of those who had been slaughtered for the sake of the word of God and the witness they bore. <sup>10</sup>With a loud voice they cried out, "Until when, O holy and true Sovereign, wilt Thou refrain from judging and from requiring our blood from the inhabitants of the earth?"

<sup>11</sup>And to each of them was given a long white robe<sup>s</sup> and they were told to wait quietly for a little while longer, until the number of their fellow servants and of their brothers, that were to be killed as they had been, should be complete.

<sup>12</sup>When He opened the sixth seal, I saw a tremendous earthquake occur. The sun turned as black as sackcloth and the full moon became like blood.<sup>t</sup>

<sup>13</sup>The stars of heaven fell to the earth as when a fig-tree, shaken by a violent wind, drops its unripe fruit.

<sup>14</sup>The sky retreated like a scroll that is being rolled up and every mountain and island was dislodged.

<sup>15</sup>Then the kings of the earth and the nobles, the generals, the wealthy, the powerful, yes, everyone, slave and free, hid themselves in the caves and in the mountain rocks, <sup>16</sup>and called to the mountains and to the rocks, "Fall on us and hide us from the presence of the One who is seated on the throne, and from the indignation of the Lamb; <sup>17</sup>for the great day" of Their retribution has come, and who is able to stand it?"<sup>v</sup>

7 FOLLOWING THIS,<sup>w</sup> I SAW FOUR angels stationed at the four corners of the earth, restraining the four winds of the earth, so that no wind might blow on land or sea or on any tree. <sup>2</sup>I also observed another angel ascending from the sunrise, holding a seal from the living God. He shouted with a loud voice to the four angels, who had been empowered to injure the earth and the sea: <sup>3</sup>"Injure neither the earth nor the sea nor the trees, until we have sealed the servants of our God upon their foreheads."

<sup>4</sup>I then heard the number of those sealed out of every tribe of Israel's sons, 144,000.<sup>x</sup> <sup>5</sup>Of the tribe of Judah 12,000 were sealed; of the tribe of Reuben 12,000; of the tribe of Gad 12,000; <sup>6</sup>of the tribe of Asher 12,000; of the tribe of Naphtali 12,000; of the tribe of Manasseh 12,000; <sup>7</sup>of the tribe of Simeon 12,000; of the tribe of Levi 12,000; of the tribe of Issachar 12,000; <sup>8</sup>of the tribe of Zebulon 12,000; of the tribe of Joseph 12,000; of the tribe of Benjamin 12,000 were sealed.<sup>y</sup>

<sup>9</sup>After this I looked and there was a vast host, that no one could count, out of all nations and tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed in long, white robes and with palm branches<sup>z</sup> in their hands. <sup>10</sup>And they shouted with a loud voice: "The salvation is due to our God, who is seated on the throne, and to the Lamb."

<sup>11</sup>Then all the angels stood surrounding the throne, the elders and the four living beings, and fell on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, <sup>12</sup>saying, "Amen! The blessing and the glory, the wisdom and the thanksgiving, the honor, the dominion and the power be to our God forever and ever. Amen."

<sup>13</sup>Addressing me, one of the elders then asked, "These robed in long, white robes, who are they and from where?" <sup>14</sup>I said to him, "My master, you know." Then he told me, "These are the ones who have come out of the great tribulation,<sup>a</sup> and they have washed their robes and have made them white in the blood of the Lamb. <sup>15</sup>For this reason they are before God's throne, and day and night they serve Him in His temple,<sup>b</sup> while He who sits on the throne spreads His tent over them. <sup>16</sup>They shall nevermore either hunger or thirst, nor shall the sun or any heat whatever beat upon them; <sup>17</sup>for the Lamb, who has ascended the center of the throne, shall shepherd them and shall lead them to

8 WHEN HE<sup>d</sup> OPENED THE SEVENTH seal, there came a silence in heaven for half an hour.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>2</sup>Then I saw the seven angels who were stationed before God, and they were given seven trumpets. <sup>3</sup>Also another angel with a golden censer came and took his stand at the altar. A vast quantity of incense was given him, so that he might place it with the prayers of all the saints<sup>f</sup> on the golden altar before the throne. <sup>4</sup>And the smoke of the incense arose from the angel's hand with the prayers of the saints before God. <sup>5</sup>Then the angel took the censer and filled it with fire from the altar and poured it on the earth, and there followed thunderpeals, rumblings, lightning flashes and an earthquake.

<sup>6</sup>Now the seven angels with trumpets got themselves ready to blow them. <sup>7</sup>The first (angel) blew the trumpet, and there came hail and fire mixed with blood, that was poured onto the earth, so that one-third of the earth and of the trees was burned up and all the green grass.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>8</sup>Then the second angel blew the trumpet, and something like an immense mountain ablaze with fire was hurled into the sea, so that one-third of the sea turned to blood, <sup>9</sup>and a third of the creatures that enjoyed life in the sea came to their death, and a third of the ships were wrecked.

<sup>10</sup>The third angel also blew the trumpet, and a huge star, blazing like a torch, fell from the sky and came down on one-third of the rivers and on the water springs.<sup>h</sup> <sup>11</sup>The star's name is Wormwood and one-third of the waters turned to wormwood. Many people died from using the water, because it had turned bitter.

<sup>12</sup>When the fourth angel blew the trumpet, a blight fell on one-third of the sun, of the moon, and of the stars, so that a third part of them was darkened<sup>i</sup> and a third of the daylight itself might not shine, and the same as to the night.

<sup>13</sup>Then I looked, and I heard a lone eagle flying in midheaven, who cried with a loud voice, “Alas, alas, alas, for the inhabitants of the earth, because of the remaining trumpet blasts of the three angels who are about to sound.”<sup>j</sup>

9 THE FIFTH ANGEL SOUNDED, AND I saw a Star<sup>k</sup> that had come down on the earth from heaven, to whom was given the key to the pit of the abyss. <sup>2</sup>He opened the pit of the abyss and smoke whirled upward from the pit like the smoke of a gigantic furnace, so that the sun and the air were darkened by the smoke from the pit.

<sup>3</sup>Out of the smoke locusts went forth on the earth, and such power was granted them as the earth's scorpions possess. <sup>4</sup>They were told not to damage the earth's herbage, neither any grass, nor any tree, but only the persons who do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup>Power was granted them, not to kill them but for five months to torture them, and the torture was like that of a scorpion that stings a person. <sup>6</sup>During those days people will seek death without finding it; they will be anxious to die, but death evades them.

<sup>10</sup>They also have tails with stings like scorpions, and power in their tails to hurt mankind for five months. <sup>11</sup>They have as king over them the angel of the abyss, whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon and in Greek Apollyon.<sup>n</sup> <sup>12</sup>The first calamity is past; two woes are still to follow.

<sup>13</sup>The sixth angel blew the trumpet, and I heard a solitary voice from the four horns of the golden altar<sup>o</sup> before God, <sup>14</sup>saying to the sixth angel with the trumpet, "Release the four angels that are shackled at the great river Euphrates." <sup>15</sup>So the four angels, who were in readiness for that hour and day and month and year, were set free to kill one-third of mankind. <sup>16</sup>The number of their divisions of cavalry was two hundred millions. I heard their number.

<sup>18</sup>By these three plagues one-third of mankind was killed — by the fire, by the smoke, and by the sulphur that streamed out of their mouths. <sup>19</sup>For the horses' power lies in their mouths and in their tails; their tails are like serpents; they have heads and with them they do damage.<sup>p</sup>

<sup>20</sup>But the rest of humanity, who were not killed by those plagues, did not turn with regret from the works of their hands, so as to cease worshiping the demons and the idols of gold, silver, brass, stone and wood, that can neither see nor hear nor walk. <sup>21</sup>Nor did they repent of their murders or of their magic arts or of their unchastities or of their thievings.<sup>q</sup>

but his left on the land, <sup>3</sup>while with a loud voice like the roar of a lion he gave a shout. And as he shouted, the seven thunders raised their voices.

<sup>4</sup>When the seven thunders had spoken, I was going to write; but I heard a voice from heaven that said, "Seal up what the seven thunders have spoken and do not write it."

<sup>5</sup>Then the angel, whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land, lifted his hand heavenward <sup>6</sup>and swore by Him who lives forever and ever, who created the heaven and what it contains, also the earth and what is in it, and the sea with everything it comprises: "There shall be no further delay; <sup>7</sup>but in the days of the seventh angel's peal, when he is at the point of blowing, the mystery of God shall reach completion in agreement with the good tidings I gave His servants the prophets."

<sup>8</sup>Then the voice from heaven, which I heard, addressed me again and said, "Go off and accept the little, opened scroll that is in the hand of the angel, who is standing on the sea and on the land." <sup>9</sup>So I went off to the angel, asking him to give me the little scroll.

He told me, "Take and eat it! It will be bitter in your stomach, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey."<sup>s</sup>

<sup>10</sup>So I received the little scroll from the angel's hand and ate it, and in my mouth it was as sweet as honey, but when I had eaten it, it felt bitter in my stomach. <sup>11</sup>Then he told me, "You have to prophesy again to many peoples and nations and tongues and kings."

11 THERE WAS THEN GIVEN ME A reed like a measuring rod, with the words:

"Rise and measure the temple of God and the altar, and count<sup>t</sup> those worshiping in it, <sup>2</sup>but omit the outer court of the temple; do not measure it, because it has been given to the Gentiles. They will for forty-two months<sup>u</sup> trample the holy city under foot. <sup>3</sup>And I will allow My two witnesses to prophesy for 1260 days, clad in sackcloth.

<sup>4</sup>"These witnesses are the two olive trees and the two lamps that are standing before the Lord of the earth.<sup>v</sup> <sup>5</sup>If anyone wants to harm them, fire issues from their mouth and will consume their enemies; should anyone wish to injure them, he must be killed just that way.

<sup>6</sup>"These two have power to shut up the sky,<sup>w</sup> so that no rain may fall during the days of their prophecy; they also have power over the waters, to turn them into blood;<sup>x</sup> also to scourge the earth with every kind of plague as often as they desire.

<sup>7</sup>"When they shall have finished their testimony, the monster<sup>y</sup> that comes up from the abyss shall make war against them, and shall conquer them and kill them. <sup>8</sup>Their dead bodies shall lie in the streets of the great city<sup>z</sup> that is spiritually called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. <sup>9</sup>And they of the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations shall gaze at their dead bodies for three and a half days; they will not allow the bodies to be entombed. <sup>10</sup>Those dwelling on the earth will exult over them and will celebrate; they will send one another gifts, because the two prophets had been vexing the dwellers on the earth."

<sup>11</sup>And after the three and a half days the breath of life entered them from God, so they rose to their feet, and those who looked at them were subjected to great fear. <sup>12</sup>The two heard a loud voice calling to them out of heaven, "Come up here." So, in a cloud they ascended into heaven while their enemies looked at them.

<sup>13</sup>At that very hour there was a tremendous earthquake; one-tenth of the city collapsed and seven thousand persons were killed in the earthquake. Then the survivors grew awe-stricken and ascribed glory to the God of heaven.

<sup>15</sup>The seventh angel blew the trumpet, and strong shoutings arose in heaven: "The kingship of the world has become that of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign forever and ever."

<sup>19</sup>Then the temple of God in heaven was opened, and the ark of His covenant was shown in His sanctuary,<sup>d</sup> and there were lightning flashes, rumblings, peals of thunder, an earthquake and a terrific hailstorm.

12 AN ILLUSTRIOUS PORTENT THEN appeared in heaven: a woman, robed with the sun, with the moon under her feet and a crown of twelve stars on her head, <sup>2</sup>was pregnant, and as she agonized in the pangs of her delivery, she cried out.

REVELATION 12, 13 Dragon and Angels; The Dragon's Beast From the Sea

<sup>4</sup>His tail swept away a third of the stars of heaven and hurled them to the ground.

The dragon then stationed himself in front of the woman, who was about to give birth, so he might devour her child as soon as it was born.

<sup>5</sup>She did give birth to a son, a male child, destined to shepherd all nations with an iron staff.<sup>b</sup> Her child was then snatched away up to God and to His throne, <sup>6</sup>while the woman fled into the desert, where God had a retreat prepared for her to be cared for there during 1260 days.

<sup>7</sup>Then war developed in heaven — Michael and his angels battling against the dragon, and the dragon with his angels waging war; <sup>8</sup>but they were not strong enough; nor was room found for them any more in heaven; <sup>9</sup>so the great dragon, the serpent of old, called the devil and Satan,<sup>c</sup> the deceiver of all humanity, was forced out and hurled to the earth, and so were his angels flung out along with him.

<sup>10</sup>I then heard a strong voice proclaiming in heaven, "Now has come<sup>d</sup> the salvation, and the power and the kingship of our God and the authority of His Christ; for the accuser of our brothers, who kept accusing them day and night in the presence of our God, has been thrown out. <sup>11</sup>And they have conquered him by means of the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony;" they have not loved their lives in face of death. <sup>12</sup>Be joyful, therefore, you heavens and those who dwell in them! Alas for the earth and the sea, because the devil has come down to you with raging anger, well aware that he has but a short season."

<sup>13</sup>When the dragon noticed that he had been hurled to the ground, he went in pursuit of the woman who had given birth to the male child; <sup>14</sup>but to the woman were granted two wings of a giant eagle, so that she might fly to her desert retreat where, away from the presence of the serpent, she was cared for during a period, periods, and a half period.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>15</sup>The serpent vomited water like a river out of his mouth after the woman, so she might be swept away by the stream, but the earth came to the woman's aid; <sup>16</sup>the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river which the dragon had disgorged from his mouth. <sup>17</sup>So the dragon, enraged at the woman, went off to wage war against the rest of her offspring<sup>f</sup> that observe the commands of God and adhere to the testimony of Jesus.

13 AS I STOOD ON THE SANDY SEASHORE, I saw a beast coming up out of the sea with ten horns and seven heads. <sup>2</sup>The beast I saw resembled a leopard and his feet were like those of a bear and his mouth like that of a lion. The dragon invested him with his power and his throne and great authority; <sup>3</sup>yet, one of his heads seemed fatally wounded. His mortal wound was healed, however, and the whole earth followed the beast in wonder. <sup>4</sup>They worshiped the dragon, because he had bestowed authority on the beast; they also worshiped the beast, as they exclaimed, "Who matches the beast and who is able to war against it?"<sup>h</sup>

<sup>5</sup>It was also given a mouth to talk big, to utter blasphemies, and authority was granted it to operate for forty-two months. <sup>6</sup>So it opened its mouth to utter blasphemies against God, to blaspheme His name and His abode and those who dwell in heaven. <sup>7</sup>It was further allowed to make war against the saints and to conquer them, and authority was given it over every tribe and people and dialect and nation.

<sup>8</sup>All those who live on earth, whose names are not recorded in the Book of Life of the Lamb that was slain from the founding of the world, shall worship it. <sup>9</sup>Whoever has an ear, let him hear. <sup>10</sup>Whoever makes captives, he will be led into captivity; whoever kills with the sword, he must be killed by the sword. In this way the saints exercise their endurance and their faith.

<sup>11</sup>Then I noticed another beast,<sup>i</sup> that came up from the land. It had two horns like a lamb and it spoke like a dragon. <sup>12</sup>It exercises the full authority of the first beast in its presence, and it makes the earth and those living in it worship the first beast, whose mortal wound had been healed.<sup>j</sup> <sup>13</sup>It also performs impressive miracles; for instance, it causes fire to descend from heaven onto the earth in the presence of the people. <sup>14</sup>By means of the wonders it is allowed to perform in the presence of the first beast, it leads those living on the earth astray, telling the earth's inhabitants to erect a statue to the beast that had the sword-wound and revived.

<sup>15</sup>It was further permitted to infuse breath into the beast's statue, so that the beast's image might speak;<sup>k</sup> also to bring it about that those, who did not worship the beast's statue, should be killed. <sup>16</sup>It also compelled all, the small and the great, the rich and the poor, the freemen and the slaves, to get a mark put on their right hands and on their foreheads, <sup>17</sup>so that no one might be able to buy or sell unless he bore the mark of the beast's name or the number corresponding to his name. <sup>18</sup>Here intelligence comes in. Let him who has the mind for it, calculate the number of the beast, for it is a man's number and his number is 666.<sup>l</sup>

14 THEN I LOOKED AND SAW THE Lamb standing on Mount Zion,<sup>m</sup> and with Him 144,000,<sup>n</sup> who had His name and His Father's name inscribed on their foreheads. <sup>2</sup>And I heard a voice from heaven like the sound of many waters and like the peals of loud thunder. I then heard the music as of harpists playing on their harps.

<sup>3</sup>They were singing a new song before the throne and in the presence of the four living beings, and of the elders, and none was able to sing the song except the 144,000 that were purchased from the earth. <sup>4</sup>They are those not contaminated in relations with women,<sup>o</sup> for they are celibates. They are those who follow the Lamb wherever He may lead. These were purchased from among mankind's first fruits for God and for the Lamb. <sup>5</sup>No lie was ever found on their lips; they are faultless.

<sup>6</sup>Then I saw another angel, flying in mid-air with an everlasting Gospel to proclaim to those living on the earth—to every nation and tribe and tongue and people. <sup>7</sup>With a mighty voice he said, "Revere God and ascribe Him glory, for the hour of His judgment has arrived; so worship the Maker of heaven and earth and sea and watersprings."

<sup>8</sup>Another, a second angel, succeeded him, who said, "She is fallen, fallen, Babylon the great, who made all the nations drink of the wine of her passionate unchastity."

<sup>9</sup>Then another angel, a third, followed them, who said with a mighty voice, "Whoever worships the beast and its statue and receives the mark on his forehead or on his hand, <sup>10</sup>he shall drink of the wine of God's indignation that has been mixed undiluted in the cup of His anger, and he shall be tortured with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb." <sup>11</sup>The smoke of their torture ascends forever and ever, and the worshippers of the beast and of his statue, as well as anyone with the mark of his name, shall enjoy no rest day or night.<sup>p</sup>

<sup>12</sup>Here comes in the endurance of the saints who observe the commands of God and keep their faith in Jesus.<sup>q</sup>

<sup>13</sup>I further heard a voice from heaven that said (to me), "Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on." "Yes," says the Spirit, "so they may rest from their labors;<sup>r</sup> for what they wrought follows with them."

<sup>17</sup>Again, another angel came out from the heavenly temple, who likewise had a sharp scythe. <sup>18</sup>Yet another angel came forth from the altar,<sup>u</sup> who had authority over the fire, and he called with a mighty voice to the one with the sharp scythe, "Thrust in your sharp scythe and harvest the clusters of earth's vine, for its grapes are overripe."

<sup>19</sup>So, the angel swung out his scythe on the earth and stripped the earth's vine and threw it into the great winepress of God's indignation. <sup>20</sup>Outside the city the wine press was trodden and blood flowed out of the wine press, so that for two hundred miles it came up to the horses' bridles.<sup>w</sup>

15 I ALSO SAW ANOTHER PORTENT in heaven, great and marvelous

—seven angels with seven plagues;<sup>x</sup> the last seven, because with them God's indignation was completed.

<sup>2</sup>And I saw something like a glassy sea mixed with fire, and those coming off victorious from the beast and from its statue and from the number corresponding to its name, those I saw standing on the sea of glass,<sup>y</sup> holding the harps of God. <sup>3</sup>They sang the song of Moses,<sup>z</sup> the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb:<sup>a</sup> "Great and marvelous are Thy works, Lord God the Omnipotent; just and true are Thy ways, O King of the nations. <sup>4</sup>Who will not revere and glorify Thy name, O Lord? For Thou alone art holy. For all the nations shall come and worship before Thee, because Thy sentences of judgment have been made known."

<sup>5</sup>After this I looked, and out of the sanctuary <sup>6</sup>came the seven angels holding the seven plagues. They were clad in pure, resplendent linen, and wore golden girdles around the breast.

<sup>7</sup>One of the four living creatures then handed the seven angels seven golden vials<sup>b</sup> full of the wrath of God who lives forever and ever, <sup>8</sup>and the tabernacle became filled with smoke from the glory and the power of God. And no one was able to enter the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels were finished.

16 THEN I HEARD A MIGHTY VOICE from the temple say to the seven angels, "Go your way and pour out on the earth the seven bowls of God's indignation." <sup>2</sup>So the first departed and emptied his bowl upon the earth. Then a loathsome and malignant ulcer attacked the men who bore the mark of the beast and worshiped its statue.

<sup>3</sup>The second poured out his bowl upon the sea, so it turned to blood as of a corpse, and every living creature that was in the sea met its death.

the rivers and the springs of waters, so they turned to blood. <sup>5</sup>And I heard the angel of the waters say, "Thou who art and who wert, the Holy One, art just in these decisions. <sup>6</sup>Because they have poured out the blood of saints and prophets, Thou also hast given them blood to drink. They deserve it." <sup>7</sup>And from the altar I heard a response, "Yes, Lord God Almighty, Thy judgments are just and true."

<sup>8</sup>The fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun, and it was permitted to scorch humanity with heat. <sup>9</sup>People were scorched with terrific heat and they blasphemed the name of God, who has control over these plagues; they did not repent so as to give Him glory.

<sup>10</sup>The fifth emptied his bowl upon the throne of the beast; its kingdom was plunged in darkness and people gnawed their tongues from pain. <sup>11</sup>They blasphemed the God of heaven for their sufferings and their sores, and they did not repent of their practices.

<sup>12</sup>The sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the Euphrates, and its waters dried up, so that the highway of the kings from the rising sun might be made ready.

<sup>17</sup>The seventh then emptied his bowl upon the air, when a mighty voice came out of the sanctuary from the throne,<sup>f</sup> saying, "It is done!" <sup>18</sup>Then there followed lightning flashes, rumblings and thunder-peals and such a tremendous earthquake as had never occurred since man existed on the earth, so extensive and so severe. <sup>19</sup>The great city split into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell. God had in mind the great Babylon, to hand her the wine cup of His furious indignation.

<sup>20</sup>Then every island fled<sup>g</sup> and mountains could not be found. <sup>21</sup>Hailstones, big as hundredweights, fell down from the sky onto the people. And the people blasphemed God for the plague of the hail because its torment was so fearful.

17 ONE OF THE SEVEN ANGELS with the seven bowls then came and talked with me. He said, "Come this way! I will show you the doom of the great harlot<sup>h</sup> who is seated on many waters. <sup>2</sup>The kings of the earth have committed lewdness with her and the inhabitants of the earth have become intoxicated from the wine of her unchastity."

<sup>3</sup>So he carried me away in the Spirit into a desert.<sup>i</sup> And I saw a woman seated upon a scarlet beast covered with blasphemous titles. It had seven heads and ten horns. <sup>4</sup>The woman had been robed in purple and scarlet, and gilded with gold, precious stone and pearls. In her hand she held a gold cup, full of the offenses and impurities of her lewdness. <sup>5</sup>On her forehead a symbolic title was inscribed,<sup>j</sup> "Babylon, the great, the mother of the harlots and of the atrocities of the earth."

<sup>6</sup>I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints and with the blood of those who witnessed for Jesus, and on seeing her I was utterly amazed. <sup>7</sup>Then the angel said to me, "Why are you amazed? I will tell you the mystic meaning of the woman, and of the beast with the seven heads and the ten horns, that carries her. <sup>8</sup>The beast you saw, was and is not,<sup>k</sup> and it is to ascend from the abyss and to go on to destruction. The dwellers of the earth, whose names are not inscribed in the Book of Life from the founding of the earth, will be amazed when they look at the beast that was and is not and is coming.

<sup>9</sup>"Here is something for the intelligent to ponder. The seven heads are seven hills on which the woman is seated. <sup>10</sup>They also are seven kings; five have gone down, one is reigning, the other has not yet come, and when he does come, he must stay for a little while. <sup>11</sup>The beast that was and is not, is himself an eighth king; he springs from the seven and goes on to ruin.

<sup>12</sup>"The ten horns you saw are ten kings,<sup>l</sup> who have not as yet received kingship; but for one hour they will receive royal authority along with the beast. <sup>13</sup>These have one purpose; they render power and authority to the beast. <sup>14</sup>They will war against the Lamb, and the Lamb shall conquer them, for He is Lord of lords and King of kings; while those with Him are called, picked, and loyal."

<sup>15</sup>He further said to me: "The waters you noticed, where the harlot sits, are peoples and crowds and nations and dialects. <sup>16</sup>The ten horns you saw and the beast,<sup>m</sup> these will hate the harlot and will render her isolated and stripped; they will consume her flesh and will burn her up with fire. <sup>17</sup>For God has put into their hearts to work His purpose, and to act harmoniously in handing their kingdom to the beast until the words of God shall be fulfilled. <sup>18</sup>And the woman you saw is the great city that holds kingship over the kings of the earth."

18 THEREUPON I SAW ANOTHER ANGEL descending from heaven,

possessed of great authority, and the earth was illuminated by his splendor. <sup>2</sup>With a mighty voice he shouted out: "She is fallen, fallen, Babylon the great! She has become a resort for demons; a fort for every unclean spirit; a refuge for every filthy and detested bird."<sup>n</sup> <sup>3</sup>For all the nations have drunk of the wine of her passionate unchastity, and the kings of the earth have committed lewdness with her, and the merchants of the earth have grown rich on her excessive luxury."

<sup>4</sup>I then heard another voice from heaven<sup>o</sup> say, Come away from her, My people, so you may not participate in her sins, neither be visited by her plagues; <sup>5</sup>for her sins have piled up to reach heaven and God has remembered her crimes. <sup>6</sup>Repay her as she has paid; give her even double for what she has done; in the cup she mixed, do mix her a double potion. <sup>7</sup>As she has glorified herself and has luxuriated, to that measure impose on her torture and grief. Because in her heart she says, "I sit as queen;"<sup>p</sup> I am no widow, and I shall never see sorrow," <sup>8</sup>therefore on a single day her plagues will be upon her, death, sorrow and famine, and with fire she shall be burned up. For the Lord God, who has judged her, is mighty.

<sup>14</sup>The ripe-fruit delicacies, on which you set your mind, are out of your reach; all the elegance and the glitter you enjoyed are lost to you and never again will they be experienced.

<sup>15</sup>The merchants of these products, who grew rich from her trade, standing a long way off in terror of her torture, are lamenting and grieving, <sup>16</sup>and exclaiming, "Alas, alas, for the great city that was dressed in fine linen, purple and scarlet and gilded with gold and precious stone and pearl, <sup>17</sup>for in a single hour all this wealth is wiped out."

Every helmsman,<sup>u</sup> too, and all who sail the seas, mariners and all who work the sea for their living, stood at a distance <sup>18</sup>and cried out as they looked at the smoke of her conflagration, "What city was as great as this?" <sup>19</sup>"They threw dust on their heads" and shouted as they lamented and grieved, "Alas, alas, for the great city through which with her extravagance all who had ships at sea grew wealthy! For in a single hour she has become a desert."

<sup>20</sup>Celebrate over her, O heaven, and you saints and apostles and prophets, for on your behalf God has decided sentence against her.

<sup>21</sup>One powerful angel then threw a stone like a big millstone and hurled it into the sea with the words, "With such violence shall Babylon, the great city, be hurled down and shall never again be found. <sup>22</sup>The music of harpists and musicians and flute players and trumpeters shall not be heard in you any more; neither shall a skilled artisan be found in you any more; nor shall the grinding of the millstone be heard in you any longer. <sup>23</sup>No light of a lamp shall further shine in you nor shall the voices of bridegroom and bride evermore be heard in you.*

"For your merchants were the earth's prominent men; by your magic charms all the nations were led astray. <sup>24</sup>In her, too, was found the blood of prophets and of saints and of all who have been slaughtered on the earth."

19 AFTER THIS I HEARD WHAT sounded like the voice of a great throng in heaven that said, "Hallelujah! The salvation, the glory and the power belong to God, <sup>2</sup>because His judgments are true and just. For He has sentenced the great harlot, who corrupted the earth with her lewdness, and He has required from her hand retribution for the blood of His servants." <sup>3</sup>And a second time they shouted "Hallelujah! And her smoke shall ascend forever and ever."

<sup>4</sup>Then the twenty-four elders and the four living beings fell down to worship God, who is seated upon the throne, exclaiming, "Amen! Hallelujah!" <sup>5</sup>And a voice came forth from the throne that said, "Render praise to our God, all His servants who revere Him, both small and great!"

<sup>6</sup>And I then heard, like the voice of a mighty throng, like the sound of many waters, like the roar of terrific thunders, "Hallelujah, for the Lord our God, the Omnipotent has become sovereign King. <sup>7</sup>Let us be joyful and let us celebrate and let us ascribe glory to Him, because the wedding banquet of the Lamb has eventuated<sup>v</sup> and His bride has gotten herself ready. <sup>8</sup>It has been given her to dress in pure, resplendent linen." For the fine linen is the righteous living of the saints.

<sup>9</sup>He then said to me, "Write: Blessed are those who are invited to the wedding banquet of the Lamb." He further told me, "These are the true words of God."

<sup>10</sup>So, I fell at his feet to worship him, but he told me, "No, be careful! I am a fellow servant of yours and of your brothers who adhere to their witnessing for Jesus. Worship God."

<sup>15</sup>Out of His mouth issues a sharp sword with which to smite the nations. He will shepherd them with an iron staff and He treads the winepress of the furious indignation of God the Almighty. <sup>16</sup>On His robe and on His thigh He has His name inscribed: King of kings and Lord of lords.

<sup>17</sup>I then saw a solitary angel stationed in the sun who shouted with a mighty voice to all the birds that fly in mid-air, "Come, get together for God's great banquet, <sup>18</sup>to feast on the flesh of kings, of commanders, of mighty men, of horses and of their riders, on the flesh of everyone, free and slave, small and great."<sup>d</sup>

<sup>19</sup>Then I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies mustered to wage war against the One mounted on the horse and against His army. <sup>20</sup>And the beast was seized, and with it the false prophet<sup>e</sup> who performed miracles in its presence, by means of which he led astray those who received the mark of the beast and who worshiped its statue. Both of them were flung alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulphur. <sup>21</sup>The rest were put to death with the sword that issued from the mouth of the One mounted on the horse. And all the birds gorged themselves on their bodies.

20 I ALSO SAW AN ANGEL DESCENDING from heaven, holding in his hand the key of the abyss and an enormous chain. <sup>2</sup>He overpowered the dragon, the serpent of old, who is the devil and Satan,<sup>f</sup> and bound him for a thousand years. <sup>3</sup>He hurled him into the abyss, which he shut and sealed above him, so he might lead astray the nations no more<sup>g</sup> until the thousand years are completed. After that he must be released for a little while.

<sup>4</sup>I also saw thrones that were occupied by such as received power to pass sentence. I also saw the souls<sup>h</sup> of those who had been slain for their testimony to Jesus and for God's message; also the souls of those who had not worshiped either the beast or its statue, nor had received the mark on the forehead and on the hand. They lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

<sup>5</sup>The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were completed. This is the first resurrection. <sup>6</sup>Blessed and holy is he who shares in the first resurrection.<sup>i</sup> Over them the second death exerts no power; instead, they will be priests of God and of Christ and shall reign with Him a thousand years.

<sup>7</sup>When the thousand years have ended, Satan will be released from his prison <sup>8</sup>and will go out to lead astray the nations in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog,<sup>j</sup> to muster them for the battle. Their number is as the sand on the seashore.

<sup>9</sup>They marched up over the breadth of the earth and surrounded the encampment of the saints as well as the beloved city. And fire came down from heaven and consumed them. <sup>10</sup>The devil, who was leading them astray, z) Inspired preaching is a mode of prophecy. This puts the angel and John on a level as servants of God. a) Messiah. b) Ch. 1:14. c) They are not armed; Christ does the conquering.

d) So Ezek. 39:17-20. e) Again, as in 16:13, shown identical with the second beast of ch. 13. f) Already conquered by Christ.

g) The nations had been destroyed just previously, if we take these events in chronological order; but that would be a serious mistake.

h) No bodies mentioned, hence no resurrection as yet.

i) Their spiritual resurrection had (Col. 2:12; 3:1) occurred as with all Christians at their regeneration.

j) As in Ezek. 38:2, 14, these names refer to all forces that oppose God; Gog is leader, Magog his people.

was flung into the lake of fire and sulphur where also the beast and the false prophet are, and they shall be tortured day and night forever and ever.

<sup>11</sup>Then I saw a great white throne and One seated upon it, from whose presence earth and heaven fled so far, no room was found for them. <sup>12</sup>I further saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Another book too was opened, that of life, and the dead were judged according to their conduct from the entries in the books. <sup>13</sup>The sea too gave up the corpses it contained, and death and Hades gave up the dead in them, and each person was judged according to his actions. <sup>14</sup>Then were death and Hades hurled into the lake of fire. This is the second death — the lake of fire. <sup>15</sup>And whoever was not found recorded in the Book of Life was cast into the lake of fire.<sup>k</sup>

21 THEN I SAW A NEW HEAVEN AND a new earth;<sup>l</sup> for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away and no longer was there any sea.<sup>m</sup> <sup>2</sup>I also saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem,<sup>n</sup> descending out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride beautified for her husband. <sup>3</sup>And I heard a strong voice from the throne say, "Behold, God's dwelling place is among men and He will dwell with them; they shall be His peoples, and God will personally be with them <sup>4</sup>and shall wipe away every tear from their eyes. Death shall be no longer, nor grief, nor crying, nor any further pain, because the first things have passed away."

<sup>5</sup>Then He who was seated upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. He further said, Write! for these words are trustworthy and true. <sup>6</sup>And He told me, It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. As for the thirsty, I will give him without charge from the fountain of the water of life. <sup>7</sup>The victor shall inherit all this; I shall be God to him and to Me he shall be a son. <sup>8</sup>As for the cowardly, however, and the unbelieving, and the depraved, the murderers, the lewd, those practicing magic arts, and idolaters, also all the liars — their lot is in the lake that burns with fire and sulphur. This is the second death.

<sup>9</sup>One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven final plagues, came to talk with me and said, "Come this way. I will show you the bride, the Lamb's wife!" <sup>10</sup>He then conveyed me in spirit to a great and lofty mountain and showed me Jerusalem, the holy city, coming down out of heaven from God <sup>11</sup>with the glory of God.

Her luster resembled a most precious jewel, a jasper stone as clear as crystal. <sup>12</sup>It had a large, high wall with twelve gates and at the gates twelve angels, and on the gates the names inscribed of the twelve tribes of Israel's sons; <sup>13</sup>three gates on the east side, three gates on the north side, three gates on the south side and three gates on the west side. <sup>14</sup>And the city wall had twelve foundation stones and engraved on them were the twelve names of the Lamb's twelve apostles.<sup>o</sup>

<sup>15</sup>The one talking with me had a golden measuring rod to measure the city with its gates and its wall. <sup>16</sup>The city is laid out as a quadrangle with its length equal to its width. With the rod he measured the city, fifteen hundred miles — the length, the width and the height exactly equal. <sup>17</sup>He measured its wall too, seventy-two yards<sup>p</sup> by human measure, which was the angel's.

<sup>18</sup>Its wall's composition is jasper, and the city is of gold as pure as transparent glass. <sup>19</sup>The foundation stones of the city wall are ornamented with every kind of precious stone: The first

k) Obviously not physical, for death and Hades are not physical; neither is the devil, although he is personal. Satan was bound ever since Christ died for us. Only by divine permission could he still deceive. This ends with the judgment. l) One great realm of righteousness, II Pet. 3:13. m) The sea has always been symbolic of nations unruly and troubled. This has now ceased forever. Seas must remain, for there is a river; but the old order is ended, vs. 4. n) Earth has become like heaven; it is once more God's home, as it was in part wherever His children dwelt. o) Cf. Ezek. 48:31-34. p) The wall's thickness; for its height is 1500 miles, symbolic of immensity.

REVELATION 21, 22 Water of Life; Tree of Life; the Redeemed Serve God

foundation stone is jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, white agate; the fourth, emerald; <sup>20</sup>the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprase; the eleventh, jacinth and the twelfth, amethyst.

<sup>21</sup>The twelve gates are twelve pearls, each separate gate made of one pearl, and the city's main street is of gold as pure as translucent glass. <sup>22</sup>I saw no temple in it, for the Lord God Omnipotent is its temple, and so is the Lamb. <sup>23</sup>The city has no need of the sun or of the moon to shine on it, because God's glory illumines it and the Lamb is its light. <sup>24</sup>By its light the nations shall walk and to it the kings of the earth will convey their splendor.<sup>q</sup> <sup>25</sup>Its gates shall not at all be daily closed, for there shall be no night. <sup>26</sup>Into it they shall carry the splendor and the wealth of the nations. <sup>27</sup>But nothing unclean nor one practicing lewdness and falsehood shall enter it at all; but only those whose names have been recorded in the Lamb's Book of Life.

22 HE THEN SHOWED ME A RIVER of water of life, clear as crystal, flowing forth from the throne of God and of the Lamb, <sup>2</sup>and running through the middle of the street; and on this side and that of the river, the tree of life, bearing twelve crops, yielding its fresh crop every month. And the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations.<sup>r</sup>

<sup>6</sup>He further said to me, "These words are trustworthy and true. The Lord God of the spirits of the prophets has sent His angel to show His servants what must shortly take place. <sup>7</sup>See, I come quickly." Blessed is he who observes the words of the prophecy of this book.<sup>t</sup>

<sup>8</sup>I myself, John, am the one who saw and heard these things, and when I had heard and seen, I bowed down to worship at the feet of the angel who was showing me all this. <sup>9</sup>But he told me, "Be careful! I am a fellow servant of yours and of your brothers the prophets and of those who observe the messages of this book. Worship God!"

<sup>10</sup>He further told me, "Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is near. <sup>11</sup>Let the wrongdoer still do wrong, and let the filthy still defile himself; let the righteous too keep practicing righteousness and let the saint grow ever more holy."

<sup>12</sup>"Behold, I am coming soon and My reward is with Me, to render to each according to his doings. <sup>13</sup>I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End. <sup>14</sup>Blessed are those who wash their robes, so they may have their right to the tree of life and to enter through the gates into the city. <sup>15</sup>Outside are the dogs and those who practice magic and the unchaste and the idolaters and those who fabricate and love lies.

<sup>16</sup>"I, Jesus, have sent My angel to witness these things to you for the churches. I am Myself both the Root and the Offspring of David, the brilliant Morning Star."

<sup>17</sup>The Spirit and the bride<sup>v</sup> say, "Come!" Let the listener too say, "Come!" And let the thirsty come; he who longs for it, let him take freely the water of life.

<sup>18</sup>I personally warn everyone who listens to the words of the prophecy of this book: If anyone adds to them,

q) Jerusalem, the Lamb's bride, began with the first believers and is completed with the full number. Nations receive benefits; kings contribute.

r) The acme of perfection, far beyond earthly experience. See Ezek. 47:12. s) For they are His.

t) This seems John's comment. The book itself is epitomized in our Lord's saying, Jn. 16:33, "In the world you are under pressure; but be confident! I have overcome the world."

u) As in Matt. 25:10: "And the door was shut." No more repentance or forgiveness.

v) The Spirit and the Church unitedly, for the believers are moved by the Spirit.

God will add to him the plagues that are described in this book, <sup>19</sup>and if anyone detracts from the words of this prophetic book, God will detract his share in the tree of life and in the holy city as described in this book.<sup>w</sup>

<sup>20</sup>He who affirms this says, "Yes, I am coming very soon!"<sup>x</sup>

Amen. Come, Lord Jesus!

w) Altering God's message invites doom. The warning refers to this book but is equally true regarding all divine revelation.

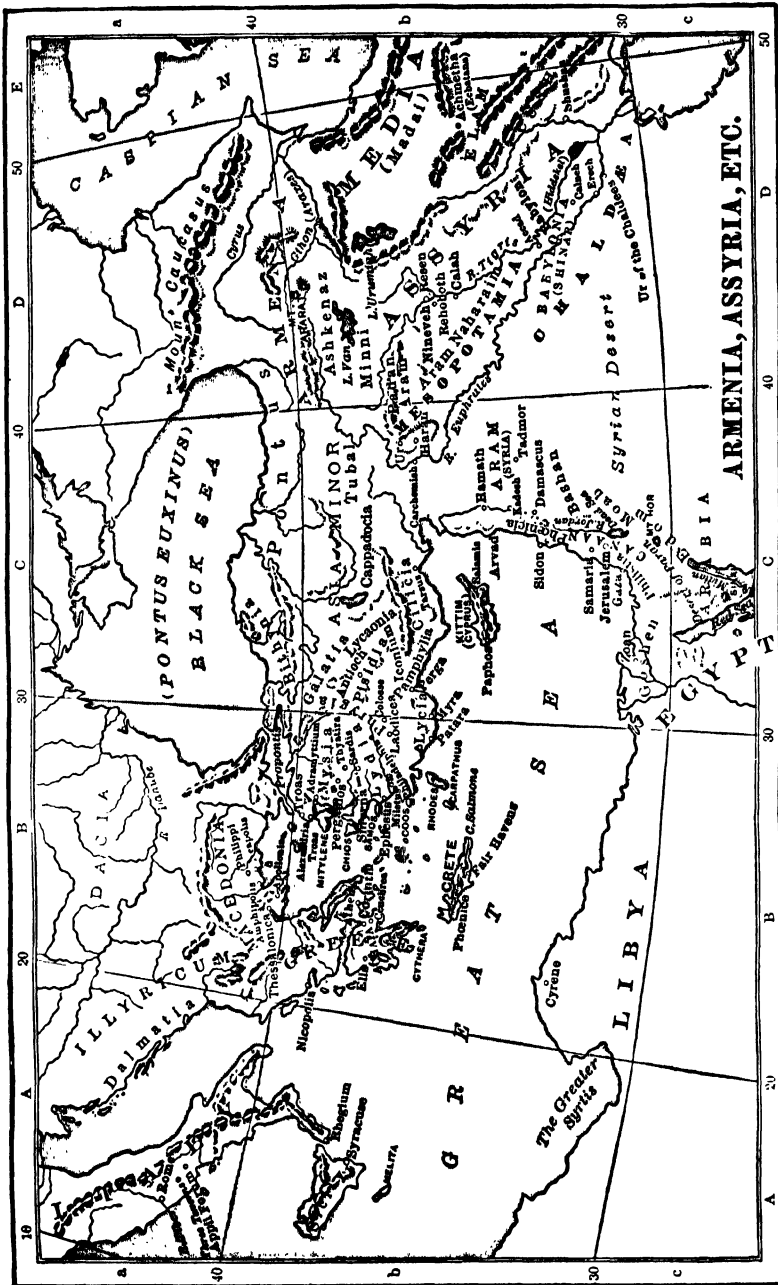

x) Christ and the Church are agreed in desiring each other's company.
